LES BOIS
The 1942
Les Bois
of The Boise Junior College
DEAR STUDENTS:

You, who are today building a foundation for future leadership, are faced with grave responsibilities. In this great war effort, you, as students, must play your part, not only upon the battlefields, but in the classrooms of your school and within the confines of your communities. The leadership in the days of reconstruction and rehabilitation will also be your responsibility. I know that you will face the problems of war and peace with determination and dignity.

Sincerely yours,

CHASE A. CLARK,
Governor.
TO THE DEANS

Of women and men, Boise Junior College, we, the staff of the 1942 Les Bois, dedicate this, the tenth annual publication to Mrs. Ada Poirier Burke and Dr. Francis Haines, who in their untiring efforts to help the college youth of Boise, have helped to make our new school a great success. May they continue in the future as they have in the past.
Student Union Building, "The Corral," is an addition to the campus this year.

The Auditorium is another building completed during 1941-42.

Administration
Eugene B. Chaffee has been with Boise Junior College since its beginning in 1932. In 1936 he was appointed President of the college.

Because of his pleasing personality, his kind, informal manner, and his interest in the school and the students, he is a friend of everyone.

Much of the improved campus is through his efforts.
Boise Junior College’s Board of Trustees consists of a group of public-spirited Boiseans who are interested in college youth of Boise and southern Idaho and want the best in facilities for these students. They devote their time and efforts to improve the conditions of the young people under their care.

Through the generosity of these trustees, Junior College students were able, this year, to have a Student Union Building equal to any in the State of Idaho, where they can spend their spare time and enjoy themselves.

Student Body Vice-President
Student government, in practice since the first year of Boise Junior College's inception, was carried on this year by a capable group of students. Bill Hillman, elected in the spring of 1941 for the office of vice-president for 1942, took over the presidency when Bob Pyper, president-elect, did not return to school. Tom Collins was appointed vice-president for the first term.

At the election in December, Hilton Dick and Earl Mathews were elected president and vice-president for the winter and spring terms. Winnie Butler and Merrill Barnes were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. Patricia Scovell and Don Day, freshmen; and Jolene Leggat and Bart Brassey, sophomores, were elected to represent their classes on the board.

The budgeting and spending of the funds collected from student body activity tickets, and the supervision of all activities which the student body sponsors were the duties of these students.
Marjorie Bailey, Tom Brooks, and Theron Roberts were appointed to supervise all student-body elections this year. These students were selected from the sophomore class by the Executive Board.

Acting as a judicial body over Boise Junior College's student government is the Tribunal, composed of three members of the sophomore class and one faculty member appointed by the Executive Board. This year's Tribunal was composed of Annette Stewart, Carl Davis, Paul Azcuenaga, and Mr. Merritt Nash.
To the three large buildings on our campus when school began in 1940 have been added two others: the Student Union and the Assembly Hall. The care of these buildings as well as the care of the one hundred-acre campus, which has been much improved by lawns and shrubbery, is the responsibility of the custodians, "Charlie" Brown, Monroe Wilson, Delmar Savell and David Grout, and Engineer Guy Tarleton, assisted by fifteen N.Y.A. students.

Classes
The Class of 1942, under the leadership of Duff Ross, Maxine Craven, Martha Richardson, and Jean Anderson, this year has shared many happy hours as well as difficult times together. Beginning two years ago as young out-of-high-school students, they have become, for the most part, adult-college young people. Don Smith, Barbara Caine, Kenneth Berquist, and Helen Ganz managed the group its first year.

The annual Christmas dance was given by the sophomores and the Graduation dance was given for them. Annual sophomore sneak was held May 22 at Dagget Creek.

Members of this class made up the Valkyries and quite a few Intercollegiate Knights. Basketball, football, and baseball teams as well as intramural games were played with the help of sophomore students.

Scholastic training was also emphasized, and the class graduated June 4, as the first class of Boise Junior College to graduate in the new Assembly Building.

After a few weeks of sightseeing and getting acquainted, the freshmen elected Bill McFarlane, president; Bethine Clark, vice-president; Norma Field, secretary, and Ruth Marie Curtis, treasurer for their class. Pat Scovell and Don Day were elected to represent the class on the executive board. Ray Wagoner, Chuck Richards, Helen Hendren, and Mary Jane Goodwin assisted the chairman on the social committee.

The B-Cubes functioned under the leadership of President Margaret Badgley and climaxed their year with the gay "Cotton Swing." Twenty-five freshman girls were voted into the Valkyries' organization.

Athletics would have been slackened without the able help of the many freshmen on all the teams. The "Campus Frenzy" dance, and the inauguration of an annual exchange assembly with Boise High School were only a few of the many activities these students entered during their first year of college.

Organizations
To coordinate certain all-girl activities is the aim of the Associated Women Students of Boise Junior College. Each girl in school is given a chance to participate in projects of the organization.

Among the various activities sponsored by the Associated Women this year past are the Big Sister Tea which was given September 19, the Sweetheart Ball, on February 14, candy-selling in the main hall every day until the Student Union Building opened March 3, the selling of defense stamps every Wednesday of school after war was declared in December, and various other money-making projects.

Officers who ably led the women of Boise Junior College during the year were: president, Betty Mathews Thompson; vice-president, June Coffin; secretary, Betty Bush; treasurer, Regina Garmendia; social chairman, Jolene Leggat; advisor, Mrs. Ada Poirier Burke.
“Boost the Broncs—Boost B.J.C.—Boost Boise" are the aims of the B-Cubes, freshman girls' service organization. The club unites the freshman girls, gives them an interest in the college, and helps them become better adjusted to college life.

Their social activities began with a chili supper. Later in the fall, they sponsored a cooked food sale and a card party. During the winter term, the organization arranged for a skiing instructional movie which was given at one of the student body assemblies. The most important event of the spring was the "Cotton Swing" dance. Another project of the B-Cubes was the fashion show early in the term.

B-Cube officers for this year were: president, Margaret Badgley; vice-president, Shirley Kroeger; secretary, Ruth Hill; treasurer, Shirley West; advisor, Mrs. Pearle Reberger.
The Valkyries is a sophomore women’s honorary service organization for the school and the community. The name is derived from the middle ages legend of the women who carried wounded knights from the battlefield and administered first aid to them.

Each year the club awards scholarships to students of Boise Junior College. This year scholarships were given to Jean Gardner, Dorothy Deary, Norma Gimlin, and Leona Belnap.

Ushering at college functions, serving for A.A.U.W., selling candy at ball games, selling forget-me-nots for V.F.W., selling Christmas seals, Christmas party for underprivileged children of Boise, and the Valkyrie-of-the-Day schedule are some of the activities which these girls conducted.

Dances, teas, and initiation ceremonies spotlight the social functions of the Valkyries.

Officers were: president, Maxine Craven; vice-president and treasurer, Annette Stewart; secretary, Claribel Perry; advisor, Mrs. Clark Hatch.
The Women's Athletic Association during its first year of organization has made a splendid record, which will be a challenge to students for the years to come. The aim of this club is to further the interest of girls in better physical education activities in Boise Junior College.

Throughout the year seasonal sport activities have been held. During the fall term speedball, archery, and tennis were played. Basketball was the outstanding sport of the winter term. This sport was topped off with two exchange play-days with the College of Idaho. The spring activities consisted of softball, tennis, and archery.

A coeducational playnight which was very well attended was given by the W.A.A. during the winter. On April 1 a banquet was given in honor of the new officers for the next year.

Women's Athletic Association officers for 1941-42 have been: president, Joan Arriola; vice-president and treasurer, Bettye Smitchger; secretary, Betty Bush; commissioner of sports, Marjorie Priest; advisor, Miss Helen Lewis.
This year marks the second milestone in the history of the Golden Plume Chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights. Service, sacrifice, and loyalty lay the foundation upon which this men’s service organization is founded.

Ushering, taking tickets at football and basketball games, and supporting civic sponsored projects all help the club to realize its objectives.

To begin the year’s activities, the Knights sponsored the first Boise Junior College student directory ever published for the students’ use. Their second annual formal dance was high-lighted by the crowning of Jolene Leggat as Golden Plume Duchess. “The Half and Half Dance” was given in cooperation with the Valkyries. A student body assembly sponsored by the group proved to be a big success.

The year’s officers were: duke, Tom Brooks; scribe, Clary Frazer; chancellor of the exchequer, Bob Cushing; historian, Dick Steele; advisor, Mr. Stanley Mittelstaedt.
German

The outstanding activity of the German Club this year was the presentation of a Christmas play, “Stille Nacht.” The club aims to promote a better understanding of German through the use of conversation and literature.

Officers were: president, Greta Lindstedt; secretary, Art Johnston; treasurer, Dorothy Giesler; advisor, Dr. Robert de Neufville.

French

The major project of the French Club this year has been to help the Quakers in their French War Relief program. Funds were raised for this purpose by showing a French movie. The annual French play was “L’Homme Qui Espousa Une Femme Muette,” “The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife.”

Club officers were: president, Inez Miniely; secretary, Betty Marley; treasurer, Annette Stewart; program chairman, Harold Thiederman; advisors, Mrs. Camille B. Power and Dr. Robert de Neufville.
Spanish

La Liga Hispanoamericana is an organization of second and third year Spanish students. The most important project of the club is an annual presentation of a Spanish play, which this year was "Rosina Es Fragil," presented in the assembly building April 11, and at the College of Idaho April 23.

The officers are: president, Carol Burnham; vice-president, Shirley Kroeger; secretary, Ruby Amillategut; treasurer, Charles Jensen; advisor, Mrs. Roland Power.

Pre-Medic

The Pre-Medic Club was organized by students as a means of promoting further interest in medicine. A Red Cross First Aid course was sponsored by the group during the spring term. They also visited the State Laboratories. An annual picnic was held at the close of the school year.

Officers were: president, Alvin Randall; vice-president, Bill McFarlane; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Prescott; advisor, Mr. Dale Avery.
To create a closer relationship between club members and Forest Service officials and to provide summer employment in the forests for the members are the aims of the Forestry Club. Social activities included a picnic in the fall, a skiing party, and a barbecue in the spring.

Officers include: president, Duff Ross; vice-president, James Gray; secretary and treasurer, Dale Carringer; sergeant at arms, Densol Young; advisor, Robert Latimore.

The Associated Engineers of Boise Junior College was organized for the purpose of bringing together the freshman and sophomore engineering students to study the practical aspects of their future profession. Social activities included a picnic and the Engineers’ Ball. During the spring term an assembly was sponsored by the group.

Their officers were: president, Lee Miller; vice-president, Merrill Barnes; secretary and treasurer, Spencer Shortridge; advisor, Mr. Robert E. Baird.
The Home Economics Club, Eta Epsilon, was organized last year to promote further interest in the study of home problems. Any student enrolled as a Home Economics major is eligible to join. The club's two major projects for the year have been sewing for the Red Cross and making garments for the Children's Home.

Officers were: presidents, June Coffin and Mary Scovell; vice-presidents, Evelyn Wilmot and June Coffin; secretaries, Betty Jean Wilson and Myrtle Nesbitt; and treasurers, Jean Anderson and Connie Prout.

The Eugene B. Chaffee Chapter of Future Teachers of America was organized in 1940 for the purpose of bringing about a more professional attitude among cadet teachers. The club received national recognition for increasing its enrollment ten per cent over that of the previous year.

Officers were: president, Mary Margaret McGrath; vice-president, Joan Arriola; secretary and treasurer, Margaret Roush; advisor, O. D. Cole.
Photography

New to Boise Junior College is the Photography Club, organized this year for the purpose of bringing together camera fans of the school in order that they might exchange ideas and further develop their skill in this art. Their main project for the year was the sponsoring of a snapshot contest to get pictures for the Les Bois.

Officers were: president, Lee Miller; vice-president, Robert Gruber; secretary-treasurer, Betty Wallace; advisor, Dr. R. M. Myers.

C.P.T. Flyers

As well as earning Junior College credit, these students are learning to fly under the program set up by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and sponsored by Boise Junior College in connection with Webb’s Flying Service. At the end of the primary flying course, a private pilot’s license is issued to the students. Some of them are now taking their secondary course, and will be finished with this at the end of the school year. Most of the fellows will enter some division of the armed forces this summer to do their part in helping America fight her foes.

Under the leadership of Gertrude Gillespie and Phil Thornburg, respective editors during the year 1941-42, the Roundup staff adopted a progressive policy which included new type styles, larger size paper, and a greater variety of news material. Interesting and novel methods of newspaper makeup and features were introduced to arouse the interests of the students and faculty.

John Kepros, business manager, efficiently handled the finances of the Roundup, and with the cooperation of Bob Cushing and John Givens, advertising managers, enabled the paper to partially support itself rather than be entirely dependent upon student body appropriations, and to be issued once in every two weeks.

Managing editors during the year were Bettye Smitchger and Theron Roberts, while Betty Mathews Thompson and Jolene Leggat determined the editorial policy.

Sports Editors Bob Reed, Jack Radtke, Merrill Barnes, and Bettye Smitchger, and Columnists Charlotte Gianunzio, Hilton Dick, Bill Hillman, Shirley West, and Gloria Williams covered games and social functions.

Beth Fails and Mary Margaret McGrath were in charge of alumni news; Mildred Prescott handled exchanges; and Alice Buck edited art work. Feature material was provided by Foster Cronyn and Phil Thornburg.

Circulation of the papers was taken care of by Betty Bush, Irene Quarles, and Grant Haworth. News was gathered and written by reporters Joan Arriola, Doris Oliason, Leslie-Schweibert, Glenn Beatty, Phyllis Clark, Shirley Kroege, Rosemary Keenan, Marjorie Potter, Inez Mintely, Vauda Sloan, Betty Mulvihill, Ray Wagoner, and Marcia Sigler.

A night session at "The Statesman"
On December 2, 3, 4, and 5, dramatic students of Boise Junior College presented their second annual penthouse production, "George and Margaret," under the direction of J. Roy Schwartz, dramatic coach, and starring Bethine Clark and Grant Haworth with Betty Matthews, Bill Hillman, Eugene Perkins, Leila Hinton, Leslie Schweibert and Doris Oliason.

Junior College students were given a preview the first night, and the following night the cast held its formal opening with light refreshments served during the evening.
Debate has become an accredited course this year under the direction of Mr. Fred Livesay. This class offers new opportunities to the students for speech and reference works. These students have debated at the College of Idaho at Caldwell, Carbon College at Price, Utah, for men’s service clubs and women’s organizations of Boise. An assembly was presented on February 6, in which the debaters challenged Northwest Nazarene College.

Bill Hillman won the Utah-Idaho Extemporaneous Speech cup at Carbon College this spring. Bethine Clark was debate manager.
Foreign Language Plays
On April 11 the Spanish and French students presented their tenth annual Romance Language Night. The Spanish play, under the direction of Mrs. Camille B. Power and J. Roy Schwartz, was "Rosina Es Fragil." Featured were Pat Scannell, Robert Mitchell, Ruby Amillatequi, Marvin Munyon, Ernest Bedford, Alice Ayres, and Bart Brassey. This play was given in a repeat performance at the College of Idaho on April 22.

On November 29, the German students presented the Christmas story, "Stille Nacht," under the direction of Dr. Robert de Neufville. The cast included Margery Potter, Francis Haines, Gertrude Gillespie, Robert Reed, Greta Lindstedt, Sally Gladieux, Frank Mather, Clinton Ballou, John Hepler, and Ruth Marie Curtis.
The A Cappella Choir has had a very good year, in spite of reduced membership due to the college men being called to the armed forces, and the women students taking jobs.

The annual candle-light service was presented at St. Michael's Cathedral on December 14. The choir also appeared on numerous occasions, including Music Week and the Commencement Week programs.

The annual choir trip took these singers to Pocatello and eight other southern Idaho towns during the week of March 22, where they were enthusiastically received at each appearance.

James L. Strachan directs the choir of thirty-two members.

The Pep Band, composed of fourteen members, has played an important part in the 1941-42 school year. They have been present at the home football and basketball games and even accompanied the basketball team to Baker, Oregon. They may be given credit for much of the pep of the Junior College student body during the athletic seasons.

On March 13 the Pep Band presented its annual concert and dance, to raise money for its part of the music department's annual tour.
The Trio and the Women's Ensemble are composed of picked voices from among Junior College women under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Tavey Forter. These girls have sung for various clubs, conventions, and in school assemblies.

The Boise Junior College Symphony Orchestra is composed of college students, faculty members, and Boise valley musicians. Under the able direction of Mrs. Kathryn Eckhardt Mitchell, it has increased in size and quality this year.

Practices have been held weekly and the culmination of many months of work on the part of these musicians was beheld April 27, when they presented their annual spring concert.

In this year—1942—all emphasis has been, and is being concentrated on those activities which have direct bearing on VICTORY. War has come again to bring a new set of values. But just as surely as we now have war, we will again have peace and again values will shift.

Art, like many other subjects and endeavors right now, seems of little consequence. These things, it would appear, are things that can wait. To some extent this is true.

To win the war, machines are essential and engineers are essential. But, this is not all! These alone could never achieve the victory we must have. This is total war; it must be total Victory!

This is not only a war of machines and of engineering. This is a war of ideas and ideals; a war of social, economic, and cultural ideologies.
Merely a military Victory would be next to no Victory at all. It must be total Victory, and in that the arts and sciences, in fact everything that goes to make what we know as our “American Way of Life,” must play its strategic role.

Art at Boise Junior College offers a complete curriculum in its field. Courses may be had in oil painting, water color, pastels, still life, landscape, portrait painting; in lettering, design, textile decoration, block printing, stenciling, and ceramics.

Trips to the Boise Art Gallery were made by various classes; and 220 pieces of student work were exhibited at the gallery during the annual art exhibit.

There were twelve art majors and ninety students enrolled during the year. Mr. Conan Mathews heads the art department.
Boise Junior College Gymnasium
Athletics
Sports

Sports at Boise Junior College were like the activities at other schools in being considerably changed by the Nation's All-Out war efforts. Many students either didn't come back this year or else quit early in the year; as well as B.J.C.'s Coach Harry "Jake" Jacoby, who was called to the Army in October—right in the midst of the football season.

"Jake's" duties were assumed by George "Stub" Allison, former Baker, Oregon, high school coach.

Carrying on in a true fighting spirit, Allison and his charges came forth with a fine record, considering the difficult circumstances.

Much of the school spirit and pep was due to the yell leaders, who added vitality as well as color to the football and basketball games. Selected by the student body were Jack Wilson, king; Charlotte Gianunzio, queen; Marvin Munyon, duke; and Betty Lou Higby, duchess.
Football

B.J.C. 0 . . . Carroll College 6

Boise Junior College Broncs journeyed to Helena, Montana, for their opening football game of the 1941 season against Carroll College, and though neither side scored a touchdown, the Broncs dropped the contest by a 6-0 count.

The oddity in scoring resulted from three safeties, all taking place in the first half.

B.J.C. 0 . . . Eastern Oregon Normal 7

In the Broncos' first home game of the year, a powerful second quarter drive by the strong Eastern Oregon Normal eleven netted a touchdown and gave the Jaycees their second defeat.

Coach Harry Jacoby's boys played a bang-up game, proven by the fact that they gained an 11-8 advantage in first downs. However, all of the Broncos' offensive gains were made in midfield, and once they were in scoring position they either bogged down or were completely bottled up.

B.J.C. 15 . . . Albion Normal 0

An inspired fighting Bronco eleven won its first gridiron victory of the season by turning back a highly rated Albion Normal team in an impressive 15-0 attack. It was the Jaycees' Homecoming game, and the Broncos furnished 1800 fans at Chaffee Stadium with plenty of thrills as the Boise team defeated the southern Idaho gridders for the first time since the two squads began their rivalry.

Pre-game ratings favored the visiting Panther squad, but the Broncos settled all doubts as to which was the superior team as they ran up 12 first downs to their opponents three. Boise also had a decided advantage in yardage gained by scrimmage and passing.
called by the United States Army for active duty at Fort Warren, Wyoming. Simultaneously "Stub" Allison, Baker High School mentor for the past six years, was appointed athletic director at B.J.C.

The Broncos were leading 6-0 midway in the final stanza by virtue of Carl Barr's touchdown, when the winning Logger thrust was made.

B.J.C. 0 . . . Idaho Southern Branch 34

"Stub" Allison's debut as B.J.C.'s new athletic director was spoiled by a savage Bengal onslaught, which tamed the Broncos, 34-0.

Junior College's only real scoring threat, which came late in the fourth quarter as the Broncos marched to the Bengal's 15-yard line, was stopped by the gun.
B.J.C. 25 . . . Carbon Junior College 6

Carbon Junior College was faced by a completely rejuvenated Bronco squad when the Boise eleven invaded Price, Utah.

The Boise Jaycees solved their opponents' defense in the second quarter and left the field at the half in the lead 6-0. The Broncos scored twice in the third period, and Shaw returned a kick-off through the entire Carbon team for B.J.C.'s final score.

Not until the fourth quarter, when Carbon scored its only touchdown, did the Eagles' "T" formation offer a threat to the stout Bronco line.
The Gowen eleven opened up with a passing attack in the final period which carried them to one touchdown and forced the Broncos to play "heads-up" football all the time. McCluskey turned in a splendid performance at fullback for the soldiers.

B.J.C. 14 . . . Gowen Field 6

Playing one of their best games of the year, the Broncos downed the Gowen Field Goshawks 14-6 on Armistice Day. The holiday crowd at Chaffee Stadium saw the Jaycees unleash a withering attack in the first half, which gave them a 14-0 lead, and then stave off the desperate attempts by the soldier eleven to get back in the game.
Basketball

Facing a tough thirty-one game schedule, Coach "Stub" Allison, with Collins, Storey, and Dana the only returning lettermen, was able to put a basketball team which averaged 43.1 points per game on the floor. The Broncos, not content to stay in their own backyard, traveled over the entire state and parts of Oregon in search of foes.

One of the highlights of the season came when the Junior College squad played Eastern Oregon Normal at Coach Allison's homecoming in Baker, Oregon. The Broncos took a 30-29 lead at half-time and were ahead 53-52 with two minutes of playing time left. It was then that Rostock, the nation's highest collegiate scorer, came through with a pair of baskets for E.O.N. to give the Mountaineers a 59-53 victory over the Broncos.

On the first of two barnstorming tours, January 27-29, the Jaycees defeated the McCall Townies, 36-32, and split a pair of games with Lewiston Normal: B.J.C. 54-40; Lewiston 52-45.
After a week of rest the Broncos took to the road again, this time making its first stand at Rexburg, where the Ricks Vikings made it two straight over the Broncs, 62-53 and 47-46. Next, the Jaycees moved on to Albion, where they were welcomed by a 40-27 drubbing administered by the Panthers. Regaining some of their old pepper the following night, the Broncs trampled Albion 38-18 to even up the series.

Barnstorming Willamette, a Northwest Conference School, showed B.J.C. followers some fancy basketball December 22, but were unable to outplay the Broncos, who defeated the Bearcats 29-21.

The Toads, championship team at Gowen Field, invaded the Junior College gymnasium one evening, only to have the collegians drub them soundly and send them back to the air base on the short end of a 77-39 score. The skill and endurance of the Bronco squad were too much for the soldiers.

Against the quintets of four-year institutions the Jaycee five won four and lost ten. But the Broncos fared better against brother two-year schools by defeating their opponents eight times and dropping only four contests. Independent squads had no luck against the college five, losing five games to the Broncos.

The orange and blue-clad casba artists of B.J.C. were led in scoring by Tom Collins, who tossed 328 points through the hoop. Hort Storey with 244 points and Art Williamson with 208 counters were two big factors in the Broncos' winning 17 games for the season.
 Nazarene Series

The Crusaders handed B.J.C. a 54-32 setback in the first game of the season. The next time the two teams met the Bronco five avenged its early defeat 41-33. The Nazarenes won again in their gymnasium, 43-28, but the Broncos evened the series at two apiece with a 59-39 victory. Chal-fant, N.N.C. high scoring forward, was a constant threat to the Jaycees throughout the series.

Weiser Series

The Weiser Vocational School squad was unable to outscore the fast-stepping Bronco five in their two meetings. The Broncos laid down a barrage of baskets to win the first game 65-17. In the second contest a Weiser rally started too late to overtake the Broncos, as the Boise quintet won 30-25.

College of Idaho Series

College of Idaho basketballers had the Indian sign on the Jaycee squad and did something no other school was able to do all year—swept the four-game series with B.J.C. The Coyotes took the Broncos 52-32 and 53-39 in the Caldwell gym. On their home floor the Junior College squad fared little better, losing both games, 46-34 and 33-26.

Y.M.C.A. Tournament

Once a year the Boise Y.M.C.A. is host to Boise valley college and independent basketball teams in a Christmas tournament. This year the Broncos brushed aside all of the other teams entered and won the holiday game series.
Lewiston Normal Series

Lewiston Normal was able to salvage only one game of the four-game series with the hard-playing Bronc quint. The Broncos overwhelmed the Loggers in their first appearance in Boise, 57-36, but only a last-minute splurge by the Jaycees gave them a 38-37 victory over the northern Idaho quintet the following night. The B.J.C. five traveled to Lewiston and defeated the Loggers 54-40. The Normal chalked up its only win over the Boise five by a score of 52-46.

Albion Normal Series

In the first game with Albion the Broncos took an early lead and held it through the game to win 46-42. In their second appearance on the Boise floor, the Panther's turned the tables on the Junior College and came out on top 57-47. Although the Broncos held the lead at the rest-period, they were able to score only one basket in the second half while the Albion team poured in the points to win the third game 40-27. In the final game of the series the Broncos came back with a vengeance to wipe out a 19-15 half-time deficit and even the series with a 38-28 victory.

Ricks Series

Playing two games in Boise and two in Rexburg against Ricks College, the Broncos lost the series to the Vikings, three games to one. In Boise the Broncos took the first game 53-50, and the Vikings the second, 57-46. On their barnstorming tour through southern Idaho, the Jaycees were swarmed under by Ricks, 64-53. After a nip-and-tuck battle the Vikings staved off a Bronco rally in the waning seconds of the game to win the fourth contest, 47-46.

Southern Branch Series

An invading Bengal pack from University of Idaho, Southern Branch, clawed a 44-36 victory over the Broncos in their first game. However, the Broncos turned the tables on the Southern Branch quint in the second game. It was the Jaycees' last game of the year, and they lost no time in gaining a 32-16 lead at half-time. The Broncos matched the Bengals basket for basket in the final half to bring their '42 season to a successful close, 53-37.
Intramural . . .

Shortly after the beginning of the winter term, basketball enthusiasts at the college split themselves into eight teams and played a round-robin schedule. Victors of the tournament were the Drizzle Drips, who came through with seven victories and no defeats. No sooner were the basketball champs crowned than interest turned to the out-of-doors and baseball. Four softball teams were organized, and play started late in April.

Boxing was a popular minor sport at B.J.C. this year, and Coach Joseph Spulnik had his hands full with the job of turning novices into experienced fighters. After a preliminary training period, the Jaycee pugilists twice encountered a tough Gowen Field squad. The collegians and the soldiers split the first match with two victories apiece and one draw. In their second meeting the college boxers won four bouts and lost three to get the edge over the Air Base. Merrill Barnes, Bart Brassey, Bill Adams, Harry O’Neill, Tom Wakefield, Theron Roberts, Bill Farley, Nat Adams, and Dan Cahill fought on the ’42 squad.
Baseball . . . Tennis . . .

After a lapse of several years, baseball returned to the lineup of Boise Junior College spring sports. A new diamond was constructed on the campus, and the cry "play ball" sounded April 3. With only a few experienced players on the squad, Coach "Stub" Allison was faced with the problem of whipping together a starting nine. The Bronco diamond warriors had about the same batting power as their opponents, but they lost their first five games through errors. During the season the Junior College nine met teams from the College of Idaho, the Nampa Nazarene College, Gowen Field, Boise and Nampa High Schools, and the Idaho State Penitentiary.

Windy spring weather and a lack of opponents limited the activities of the tennis team. However, Francis Haines kept his charges hard at work perfecting their strokes and managed to arrange two matches, both of which the Jaycees lost, with the Nampa Nazarene racquet wielders. Don Barry was seeded first on the squad, followed by Bart Brassey, Bob Ross, Bob Cushing, Dean Jones, Gordon Kinney, Francis Haines and John Kepros. The doubles teams were Brassey-Ross and Barry-Cushing.
Women's sports activities at Boise Junior College began in the fall term with classes in speedball, archery, and tennis. These sports were under the supervision of Miss Helen Lewis, head of the women's Physical Education department.

In the W.A.A. fall tennis tournament, Shirley Kroeger defeated Hermie Kroeger in the final round to capture first place.

During the winter term, basketball, volleyball, and badminton offered keen competition for the various classes.

Such spring sports as tennis, softball, archery, and golf were taken up in the different groups during the spring term.

Swimming and life-saving classes were held each term at the Y.M.C.A. under the supervision of the Physical Education department, with Mrs. Francis Good as the instructor.

The Physical Education department has had a very successful year, due mostly to the new B.J.C. gymnasium, which was ready for use at the beginning of the year.

EDUCATION

. . . . . Mightiest of American Structures

We who are building a powerful America with steel and stone and timber and sand pay fitting and constant tribute to those who are building a mightier America with books and science and intellect and study.

Though we both build toward a finer America, construction's job is one of TODAY. Ours is the task of harnessing the mighty rivers; spanning the nation with highways and airports; uniting cities with bridges; building the ships of trade and the structures of commerce.

Education's job is one of the future. It is shaping the minds which will know better than we how to fully utilize what we have built; instilling the will to continually improve and expand; stimulating the courage to accomplish the seemingly impossible; fostering the pride of country that will carry America to victory over all.

Educational institutions such as Boise Junior College bespeak the fact that America's future is in good hands.
