PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

We’re already into February! The holiday break is behind us and before we know it, it will be spring. We have several events planned for the months ahead. I hope everyone joins us for our February meeting. Guest speaker, Jerri Mizrahi, will be talking about “Creating New Possibilities for “Be-ing”.

The IAEOP Annual Spring Conference, scheduled for April 3 - 4; it will be held in Idaho Falls. Suzan Raney, CEOE, will be installed as IAEOP president at this year’s conference. For more information, please visit their website at http://www.idahoaeop.org/. BSUAOP members interested in applying for a scholarship to attend the conference should check our website for instructions and the application form at http://www.boisestate.edu/bsuaop/scholarship_instructions.htm.

We are planning a used book sale (to include vhs tapes, dvd’s, cd’s) which will also take place in April. I will be sending an email with specific drop off locations on campus that you can take your books to so please keep us in mind this spring when you’re re-organizing and cleaning at home.

Planning for this year’s Bosses Breakfast is well under way. It will take place on May 8th. And last but not least …As many of you may know, this is the time of the year when BSUAOP elects their board members for upcoming 2009-2010 year. BSUAOP is your professional association and we would like you to be a part of our TEAM.

I look forward to seeing everyone at the February 17th meeting! I can be reached at 426-1996 or sucanthonich@boisestate.edu.

WHAT IS BOSSES’ BREAKFAST?

“Name things that start with ‘B’ that employees do for their supervisors,” asked Alex Trebec of his panel of three braniac contestants. DING! “What is Bosses’ Breakfast?” said contestant #2. Oh yeah…

The 2009 version of BSUAOP’s Bosses’ Breakfast is, “Jeopardy: Bronco Style!” Alex Trebec will be “played” by Dr. Richard Klautsch of the Theatre Department. A list of possible contestants is being formulated now. The BB committee is hard at work on the food, the layout of the room, the script and all the other little details of the event.

The annual Idaho Association of Educational Office Professionals’ conference is April 3-4 at the Shilo Inn in Idaho Falls. The slate of keynote speakers and workshop presenters have all been confirmed for this exciting and informational event. One of our keynote speakers, Scott Hinschberger, will discuss the importance of self-discovery and how it is the driving force behind being successful. The other keynote speaker is Overt Skye. He is the author of the Level Thumps series. One of his books is currently being made into a movie.

District Attorney, Doug Nelson, will hold a Q & A session for all attendees on School Law. Whether you work in higher education, state education or K-12, we all need to be cognizant of the privacy laws of our students and teachers. This will be a very informative session for all.

There are a range of topics for workshops including: Reality Check: What Makes Us Do What We Do and How to Change the Things We Don’t Want to Do, Organizing Tips for Your Life and Office, Self-Defense, Ergonomics in the Workplace and Power School (hands-on training).

This will be a great conference with personal and professional training and offers something for every one. We hope you can join us in Idaho Falls.

Suzan Raney, CEOE, President-Elect, IAEOP

Do you want to meet people, get inspired, AND gain new knowledge and learn new skills? If your answer is ‘Yes” then BSUAOP is for you!

Creating New Possibilities for "be-ing" - Jerry Mizrahi

February 17th, 11:30 - 1:00, Barnwell Room, SUB

This one hour session will provide an opportunity for us to transform how we look at events in our lives and create opportunities for new behaviors and relationships with others. We will identify our strong suits (winning strategies that we use in our lives) as well as rackets (ways we justify our behaviors that may inhibit us from really achieving what we really want). Come prepared to expand your window into yourself and let some

JANUARY SPEAKER

How to Create Interactive Forms with Adobe Acrobat (and easily import data into Excel or Access)

Marian Graham, featured presenter for our January meeting has been with Boise State University for over 20 years. She has held many offices in BSUAOP including President, PSP Chair and Scholarship Chair.

Each time one enters data from one source to another, there are opportunities for errors and loss of data. Creation of a form, from which data could be easily imported without re-typing, is a time saver, prevents errors in processing and allows the data to be compiled swiftly and accurately.

Walking the group through the process of creating a form in Adobe Acrobat, Marian demonstrated initiating the form design, setting the parameters and properties and publishing the result.

After questions from the group, she demonstrated importing the gathered data into an Excel spreadsheet or Access database.

The workshop was a great success!
