

FACTS ABOUT

Boise
State University

2003-04

is Idaho's metropolitan university, located in the state's population center and capital city, a hub of government, business, the arts, health care, industry and technology. The university offers a variety of undergraduate, graduate and technical programs to serve the diverse needs of the area.

The university offers courses in eight colleges: Applied Technology, Arts and Sciences, Business and Economics, Education, Engineering, Graduate Studies, Health Sciences, and Social Sciences and Public Affairs.

In addition to its main campus less than one mile from downtown Boise, the university operates education centers in Canyon County, Mountain Home Air Force Base, Gowen Field and Twin Falls. A new satellite campus — Boise State-West in Canyon County — is in the construction stages.

The university delivers classes via the Internet, compressed video, microwave, cable, computer conferencing and radio. The university has an extensive evening program at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and the summer session is the state's largest.

Boise State is accredited by the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges. Several individual programs are accredited by professional accrediting associations.

Through all of its programs, Boise State University is fulfilling its commitment to the citizens of Idaho by providing quality teaching, research and public service.

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

The International Programs Office offers educational opportunities abroad for university faculty and students and brings outstanding students from around the world to Boise State's academic community. Included in the IPO are Study Abroad/National Student Exchange, international student services and recruitment, and the Intensive English Program. The IPO also coordinates opportunities for faculty and staff to engage in international professional development and for faculty to teach abroad or participate in a faculty exchange.

BROADCAST SERVICES

The Knowledge Network is the Boise State television network. Courses, course resources, and other educational programming are broadcast to community sites and individual homes via wireless cable and standard cable television by Academic Technologies. Academic Technologies also operates a standards-based two-way videoconferencing system to locations throughout the state and the world. Reception of satellite programs and uplinks to satellite can also be arranged through Academic Technologies.

The Boise State Radio Network, affiliated with both National Public Radio and Public Radio International, includes 91.5 FM all-news service, 90.3 FM arts and performance service and 730 AM jazz service broadcast through southern, south-central Idaho and parts of Oregon and Nevada on a network of 20 stations and translators. Studios are located at Boise State and the College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls.
