Green Room Gossip - Facts about Theatre at BSU

Tonight's production is one of more than three hundred performed on campuses across the country as part of the American College Theatre Festival. The Festival celebrates the diversity of American theatre . . . unified to bring the highest standards of writing, performing, and producing to audiences everywhere in the country. As a salute to the colleges that make this truly national theatre possible, the Festival sponsors thirteen regional events throughout the nation and then brings ten productions to Washington, D.C. for presentation at the John F. Kennedy Center in the spring. With this background in mind, we offer the following sponsorship credit.

This is an American College Theatre Festival production presented by The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, The Alliance for Arts Education, The Smithsonian Institution. Sponsored by Amoco Oil Company.
