Green Room Gossip

At the recent Idaho Invitational Theatre Arts Festival, over 40 high school seniors from all over the state competed for six BSU scholarships. Students receiving the scholarships are Larry Hibbert from Sugar City, Danster Kinikini from Nampa, Lori Eller from Nez Perce, Lisa Holmes from Wood River, Linda Kirtley from Pocatello, and Vicky Perez from Caldwell. The Festival was student directed by Ann Bittleston (tonight's Mrs. Manningham), who was assisted by Kathy O'Neil, "Angel Street's" stage manager and assistant to the director.

The Theatre Arts Department is happy to have Roger Bedard back with us after a two-year leave to pursue his doctorate. Mr. Bedard is teaching a class this semester in touring theatre to the elementary school (his specialty), and excitement is running quite high. He is producing "Aesop's Fables," a rock musical for children of all ages. The cast and musicians are busy rehearsing. Watch for engagements at an elementary school near you!

For the past two years Boise Little Theatre has offered scholarship competition to area theatre people for the furthering of theatre education. This year former BSU student Jon Irwin and present BSU student Ann Bittleston received scholarships from BLT, and wish to express their gratitude.
