Questions and Answers

*“There is a Hold on my BroncoAccount called ‘Check in with IPO Warning.’
What is it and how does it affect me?”*

This message is a reminder to new students that they must attend New Student Orientation. If this message is on your account and you did attend orientation, please contact Merrillou and she will remove the hold from your account. If you didn't attend the orientation, or meet with Christy in an alternate session, please contact Merrillou to see if any other action is needed.

It is very important to attend the orientation, but this Hold does not negatively impact your account.

What are you looking for?

Returning international student is looking for a female roommate with a room to share. If you are a serious student looking for a roommate who is also focused on her studies, please contact Merrillou at the ISS office regarding Jeemoon Pak. She will arrive in Boise the second week of January. “I would like to hang out with friends but don't want to make home a party place. :) I also look for studious, laid-back person. I hope to find a room around campus (can be accessed by walking or bike). And it would be great to live with international student, too.”
