BOISE STATE UNIVERSITY

SPRING COMMENCEMENT • MAY 15, 2010
PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

Welcome to Boise State University’s 2010 Spring Commencement. This ceremony, in your honor, is our University’s finest hour. Your years of hard work and dedication have paid off. The challenges set before you have been met after enduring countless late nights, lectures and exams. Another impressive class of Broncos is ready to make its mark on the world.

To the graduates, we are very proud of you and your accomplishments, and we are committed to continually improving the academic profile of Boise State to ensure that you take pride in your alma mater. Boise State University is on the map and on the move. The value of the degree you will receive today will grow along with our reputation as a metropolitan research university of distinction.

To the loved ones of the graduates, take pride in the accomplishments being recognized today given the supporting role you have played in the lives of our graduates. Without your love and support, this celebration may not have been possible at all.

Finally, let us all remember that learning does not stop with graduation. The noble, lifelong pursuit of knowledge, enrichment and enlightenment is critical to a full and meaningful life.

Thank you for placing your trust in Boise State University for your higher education aspirations. On behalf of the faculty, alumni, staff and students, let me be the first to offer a heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for a bright future.

Go Broncos!

Sincerely,

Bob Kustra
President
Boise State University
With record student enrollment, new academic buildings, additional degree programs and an expanding research portfolio, Boise State University is The New U Rising. Growth in all these areas has been the defining characteristic in recent years for the largest university in Idaho.

Boise State is in the midst of a transformation that nurtures its traditional teaching strengths while expanding its capabilities in research and scholarly activity. This is not a revolution, but instead an evolution that reflects the integral part Boise State plays in contributing to the quality of life in the Treasure Valley and beyond.

The campus community has embraced this opportunity to grow, change and flourish. Boise State is establishing itself as a university distinct in the West with the implementation of its Charting the Course strategic vision, Campus Master Plan for facilities, and Initiative for Athletic Excellence.

Boise State has embarked on a mission to become a metropolitan research university of distinction. Its efforts are focused on:

- Providing a quality undergraduate experience
- Offering more graduate programs
- Enhancing and expanding its research mission
- Forging partnerships that contribute to regional growth and development
- Providing a center for cultural and intellectual exchange that enriches the community

Boise State’s broad range of undergraduate programs and several highly regarded programs at the graduate level make it an institution that can meet the educational needs of many. Boise State features academic programs in seven colleges: Arts and Sciences, Business and Economics, Education, Engineering, Graduate Studies, Health Sciences, and Social Sciences and Public Affairs. Students can study abroad, participate in one of the largest internship programs in the Northwest and work with professors on cutting edge research in a variety of fields.

With an enrollment of nearly 20,000 students, Boise State is a progressive learning-oriented, student-focused university dedicated to excellence in teaching, innovative research, leadership development and community service. These students are benefiting from a renewed emphasis on the undergraduate experience and reaching graduation day better prepared for the challenges of the 21st century.

VELMA V. MORRISON is a nationally recognized philanthropist and one of the most prominent women in Idaho. Among her extensive accomplishments is her work with the Harry W. Morrison Foundation and the distribution of millions of dollars to various foundations and institutions throughout the state of Idaho.

Mrs. Morrison was born in Tipton, California, to Earl and Gladys Mitchell. She learned about hard work as a child on a farm that sustained her family during the Great Depression. Later, as a public health nurse in Alaska, she traveled by dogsled to deliver tuberculosis vaccines to residents of the subarctic. During World War II, her notions of hard work and perseverance led her to become a real-life “Rosie the Riveter” — a journeyman boilermaker.

After the war, she became involved in the hospitality industry, starting as a waitress and eventually opening her own restaurant in Bakersfield, California. It was there that she met and later married Harry W. Morrison, co-founder of Morrison Knudsen Company, Inc., and the man who would inspire her to devote her life to sponsorship of performing arts and philanthropy.

It was in April 1984, long after Harry’s death, that Mrs. Morrison saw the completion of one of his long-time dreams: a center for the performing arts in Boise. Working closely with Boise State University President John Keiser, Mrs. Morrison combined her husband’s vision with Boise State’s need for a performing arts academic building. Today, the Velma V. Morrison Center for the Performing Arts hosts performance artists from all over the world, proving to be the herald of an era of artistic excellence in our capital city.

Mrs. Morrison has been a trustee for the American Council for the Arts in New York and Washington, D.C., and she has served on multiple boards, including the Boise State University Foundation, the President’s Advisory Council for the Kennedy Center, and the American Red Cross. She has been the recipient of countless awards and honorable recognitions. In 1984, she received Boise State University’s Silver Medallion. In 2000, she was inducted into the Idaho Hall of Fame, awarded both the College of Idaho and the University of Idaho President’s Medallion, and last year became a L’Oreal Paris Women of Worth nominee.

Mrs. Morrison continues to give her time, efforts and passion to numerous projects throughout the country. Her tireless ambition, vision and generosity have impacted countless lives and will continue to do so for years to come.
STUDENT SPEAKER

Bright, appreciative, driven, kind, detail-oriented, intelligent, personable, confident, humble – those are words Eric Landrum, a psychology professor uses to describe BRAD SMITH. Leader, researcher, Marine and scholar are a few more.

By academic measures, Mr. Smith has few equals. In his time at Boise State, he never failed to make the Dean's List. His bachelor's degree in psychology comes with the highest honors.

However, it is Mr. Smith's work and contributions to Boise State outside of the classroom that truly set him apart.

As an undergraduate student, Mr. Smith already is listed as author or co-author of three peer-reviewed academic publications and has presented the results of eight research projects at three national conferences or invited symposia. As a Psychology 101 teaching assistant, he taught class sessions to hundreds of students.

A former U.S. Marine and veteran of the Iraq War, Mr. Smith has focused some of his scholarship and research on the experiences of veterans. Mr. Smith also was the first to hold an undergraduate psychology internship at the Boise Veterans Affairs Hospital, where he taught a seminar to veterans on post-traumatic stress disorder avoidance and combat mindset resilience.

As a member of Psi Chi, the international honor society in psychology, he was selected to be the only undergraduate member of the organization's steering committee for the 80th annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Psychological Association in 2010. He also was selected as the only undergraduate assistant to the vice president of the Rocky Mountain region chapter of Psi Chi and served as the Boise State chapter treasurer in 2009-2010.

Mr. Smith served as chairman of the Psi Chi induction committee in 2008-2009 and liaison officer for the group's fund-raising committee in 2009-2010. He was also appointed to represent Boise State's Psychology Department as a member of the Student Advisory Board of the Dean of the College of Social Sciences and Public Affairs. He is a member of the Rocky Mountain Psychological Association, Phi Kappa Phi and Gamma Beta Phi, as well as a member of the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Smith will be attending Columbia University's Social-Organizational Psychology Doctoral program this fall in New York City.

Top Ten Scholars are chosen from among the top 10 percent of Boise State's graduating class of more than 3,000 students for 2009-10. They are selected based on academic performance, recommendation from college deans, and extracurricular and research activities. Each student also honors a Boise State professor who was particularly influential to his or her success.

This year’s award winners, in alphabetical order, and their honored professors are:

REGAN CHARLTON, Inkom, Idaho, is a political science major with a philosophy minor. She is a four-year member and current captain of the Boise State speech and debate team, where she has been recognized as a speech and debate All-American. She is a member of the Honors College, the Pre-Law Society, and the Political Science Association.

Charlton’s research endeavors include performing a multiple regression analysis on international political rights scores. She will present her findings at the Boise State Undergraduate Research Fair on April 20. In addition to her academic activities, she has given volunteer service to many organizations, including judging high school forensics tournaments, sending care packages to troops overseas, raising funds for organizations like the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure and the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, and providing presents for needy families during Christmas through Boise State’s Adopt-a-Family program.

SHATAKSHI GOYAL, Roorhee, India, is an 18-year-old, electrical engineering major and applied mathematics minor. She has received the prestigious Barry Goldwater Award (a first in Boise State’s College of Engineering), Micron Technology and National Science Foundation scholarships, and the coveted National Society of Collegiate Scholars merit scholarship given to the top 50 outstanding undergraduate juniors in the nation. As president of the campus Indian Student Association, she helped raise funds for cancer and AIDS research, and as president of the Engineering Honor Society, she organized two cookie-bake events for troops. Goyal presented a petition at the Tau Beta Pi national convention that resulted in the installation of the Idaho Gamma Chapter of Tau Beta Pi. Her academic interests are in the field of image processing.

BIANCA JOCHIMSE, Rodgau, Germany, is an international business major with a minor in marketing. She is a student athlete, having received an athletic scholarship to play tennis for Boise State. She recently was the Student Spotlight in Marketing for the months of February and March and was named to the Western Athletic Conference All-Academic Team. Jochimsen also was selected as a scholar athlete for the Western Athletic Conference and the Intercollegiate Tennis Association. She has participated in many extracurricular organizations, including the Idaho Wheelchair Association, the Make-A-Wish Foundation and the Student Athlete Advisory Committee. Her academic experiences include interning with the Tourism Division of the Idaho Department of Commerce, where she updated various databases, wrote articles and press releases, and translated documents into German.
CINDY McCrea, Meridian, Idaho, is a psychology major with a minor in Chinese language. She is a McNair Scholar, which has allowed her to conduct original research as a participant in the McNair Summer Research Institute. Her research was presented at the 2009 Western Psychological Association Conference and the 2009 Rocky Mountain Psychological Association Conference. In addition, she developed a program for a local Boys and Girls Club that uses a behavioral approach to encourage children to eat nutritiously. McCrea is a member of Psi Chi, Phi Kappa Phi and the Chinese Club. She has raised money to help pay supply costs for rural Chinese schoolchildren, assisted in food drives and mentored high school students through an economic forum held on the Boise State campus.

MARTHA MENDOZA, Cordoba, Mexico, is an elementary bilingual/ESL education major with a minor in Spanish. She is a participant in the McNair Scholars Program, which has helped her prepare for graduate work and research. Some of her publications and presentations include “Critical Literacy: Changing the World Through the Word” and “Imagining the Mexican Heroín in Children’s Chicano Literature: Super-Heroínas and Social Change.” Her many volunteer experiences include working as an English teacher for elementary students in Antigua, Guatemala, teaching an ESL summer course, serving as a classroom aide, and creating a Web site translation of a Martin Luther King, Jr. Celebration. She also participated as a teaching assistant for the Introduction to Multiethnic Studies course.

BONNIE POWERS, Boise, Idaho, is a nursing major. She has earned her Registered Nurse license and Advanced Cardiac Life Support certification. She has participated in many volunteer and research activities, including teaching classes at a psychiatric clinic, helping develop a diabetes education Web site for the Garden City Community Clinic, and conducting research that resulted in best-practice recommendations for the Southwest Idaho Area Agency on Aging. She also has volunteered in several extracurricular settings, including the World Special Olympics, Fairmont Jr. High School, Capital High School, West Boise Little League, Boise Capitals Baseball, and as the vice-president and recruiter for the Student Nurses’ Association. She is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society, the American Legion and the Idaho Capital City Kennel Club, in addition to serving as membership chair of Mu Gamma, the Boise State nursing honor society.

NATHAN SPANN, Boise, Idaho, is a philosophy and psychology major graduating through the Honors College. His extensive research experience has resulted in publication of three original articles. As a Melville Edition intern in the Department of English, he has participated in two departmental presentations, has been published in Leviathan: A Journal of Melville Studies, won the 2009 Phi Kappa Phi writing award, and received a nomination to present at the National Undergraduate Literature Conference. Spann also has participated in many volunteer endeavors, most prominently with Mothers Against Drunk Driving. His leadership and club experiences include serving as treasurer for the Association of Psychology Students, tutoring student athletes in sociology and philosophical logic, participating in Psi Chi, the national honor society for psychology students, and contributing to Philosophy Club meetings.
ERIC STANDLEY, Boise, Idaho, is a German and chemistry major. While participating in a year-long study abroad program in Germany, he successfully completed the DSH-3 examination, which is required in order to study as a matriculated student at any German university. He also has extensive research experience, some of which is being prepared for publication in the journal Inorganic Chemistry. His research presentations at two symposia on organic chemistry received honors and awards, and he received multiple travel awards to present his research at conferences across the nation. Standley's extracurricular activities include involvement with the Boise State Chemistry Club, where he served as an officer and assisted in the planning and execution of activities that included demonstrations at elementary schools in the Treasure Valley and on campus.

Walters has participated in, conducted and presented her research at many conferences, including the American Geophysical Union’s Fall 2009 meeting. She was selected to manage a passive seismic station for a project in Chiang Mai, Thailand. In addition, because of her research project “Seismicity Associated with Geothermal Systems,” she has been able to communicate with scholars and professionals about the relationship between seismic activity and geothermal energy production. Her leadership experience includes serving as vice president for the Boise State Geophysics Club and events coordinator for the Boise State Geology Club. Walters also served as a teaching assistant to a combined Introduction to Engineering and Pre-Calculus course.

LISA YOUNG, Boise, Idaho, is a chemistry major with a minor in environmental studies. In addition, she helped organize Boise State’s first Holiday Chemistry Demo Show in 2008 and again in 2009, which brought many area children and parents to campus to witness chemistry experiments and perform hands-on science activities. Young also is a founding member of the Boise State Sustainability Club, which helped organize the university's first on-campus “Local Market” during Earth Week. She has participated in many educational endeavors, including research in organic synthesis and electrochemical polymerization, as well as analytical protein separation and instrumental design.

CEREMONIAL TRADITIONS

The Commencement exercise is a fitting conclusion to a successful academic career and earning of a university degree. The ceremony is based on 800 years of academic tradition handed down from European universities of the Middle Ages. Commencement ceremonies, with their academic gowns, mortarboards, tassels, hoods and maces, are colorful, festive and dignified. It is a ceremony recognizing the successes of the University and the students who merit degrees.

ACADEMIC PROCESSION
The academic procession is a featured part of the commencement program – a symbolic declaration that all members of the academic community are bound by a common purpose and shared commitment to the ideals of higher education, including the search for meaning, truth and understanding.

The presidential party – the president, the provost, the vice presidents, and deans – is led by a mace bearer, who is a faculty member and the president of the faculty senate.

THE MACE
The mace, generally made of wood and clad in metal, was used as a weapon during the Middle Ages. The mace has evolved into a symbol of authority and is carried at commencement and at ceremonies where honors or degrees are to be awarded.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE
The caps, gowns, and hoods in the processional are symbolic of the Middle Ages. Because universities developed from church schools, both faculty and students were regarded as part of the clergy and wore clerical clothing based on monastic dress.

The traditional hat developed from the skull cap worn in cold weather. In Europe, a bonnet with tassel is still worn, but in America it has been replaced by the mortarboard cap or tam with tassel. The bachelor's gown, with its long, pointed sleeves, is worn closed. The master's gown has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist; the rear section is square cut. The doctor's gown often was furred, a decoration that survives today as the velvet on the front and sleeves.

The tassel colors seen in the processional correspond to the field of study.

THE MASTER'S HOOD
The academic hood was originally worn over the head in bad weather. Now, it is added to the apparel of those with master's and doctoral degrees.

The colors on the hoods represent two things: the wearer's Alma Mater and the department of learning. The lining of silk is in the colors of the college or university granting the degree. The trimming of velvet is the color that represents the departments of learning in which the degree was obtained.

The master's hood presented by Boise State University's Graduate College, displays a blue and orange chevron, denoting the University's colors. The color of the velvet border represents the field of study in which the degree is awarded.

OUR JOURNEY TO DESTINATION DISTINCTION

Destination Distinction: The Campaign for Boise State University is Boise State’s $175 million fundraising initiative launched in August 2007. The comprehensive campaign will transform Boise State into a metropolitan research university of distinction, providing unparalleled opportunities for students, solving problems locally, nationally and globally and improving the quality of life for all Idahoans.

The campaign focuses on three areas: People, places and programs. Boise State’s students, faculty and staff (people) are our motivation and our most critical resource. New buildings, labs and other facilities (places) will enable us to impart knowledge and share in discovery. Exceptional academics and an enhanced research agenda (programs) will help us to achieve distinction.

Meeting these goals requires a broader base of support. Achieving and sustaining this level of greatness requires a commitment from our alumni, supporters and community partners.

Destination Distinction: The Campaign for Boise State University is spearheaded by University Advancement and the Boise State University Foundation. A nonprofit Idaho organization, the Foundation serves as the custodian for donations to the university and assists with fundraising. With generous help from individuals, corporations and foundations, we can achieve the goals of Destination Distinction and take Boise State to unprecedented heights.
