BOISE COLLEGE
INTER-FaITH COUNCIL

PRESENTS

AN
EASTER SERVICE

APRIL 8, 1966

Good Friday
PROGRAM

Processional

Invocation . . . . . . . . . . . Carl Waite

Choir

Vos Onnes . . . . . . . . . Perti
I am a Poor Wayfaring
Stranger . . . . . . . . . C. G. Bratt
Soloists: Janet Vetter
Sherry Rogers
Listen To The Lambs . . . Dett

Motherhood . . . . . . . . . Paul Lewis

Introduction . . . . . . . . . Dr. Chatburn

Easter Message . . . . . . . . Dr. Rotz

Recessional

President of Interfaith Council - Nancy Garrett
Publicity Chairman - Donna Hughes
Program Chairman - Carl Waite
Easter is a sweet reminder
Of hope and faith and love
It comes to us at springtime
Bringing blessings from above

The ills and suffering of yesterday are past. The darkness and fear are gone; the cold and gloom too have passed. In the beauty of a spring dawn the miracle of the resurrection which stirs the earth each year bringing loveliness and beauty. The resurrection makes our lives blossom and bloom with spiritual fruitage. Easter is ever present. "I am the Resurrection and the Life," said the Lord.

Ring the bells of Easter
Ring them out once more,
Let them tell the story
They have told before.

Let them greet the sunrise
Of this Easter Day
With the glad announcement...
The stone is rolled away.

Let their notes of triumph,
At this joyful time,
Sounds the Resurrection
In each golden chime.

Then may hope and gladness
Come to every heart,
As we catch the message
Easter bells impart.
Christ’s passion and death made reparation to God for all the sins of men. But, in suffering the scourging, he was atoning especially for the sins of the flesh that men of all ages would commit. It is helpful, therefore, to think of the frightful suffering, the sharp and stinging pain endured by Christ. The enormity of this torture can help us realize the enormity of the sins of the flesh, which are often presented to us today as attractive experiences that no one can be expected to forego.