Editor, the ARBITRE
I would like to take this opportunity to appoint Assistant Executive to the President, for his consistent and embattled conduct on the Board of Supervisors. He has worked long and hard to bring about a more responsible and accountable group of students to govern the university. I commend him for his dedication and perseverance in this endeavor.

Assistant to the president thanked

Editor, the ARBITRE
I hereby tender my resignation from the position of Assistant to the President of the Student Senate. I would like to thank all the students who helped with my campaign. The position was a challenging and rewarding experience. I learned a great deal and gained valuable insights into the workings of the Senate. I wish the best of luck to my successor in this important role.

Supreme Court rears its ugly head

Political scandal seems to be the word of the decade, with college student candidates for office running the gamut from high school to college. The 1975-76 Student Union Programs Board Chairman, John Hansen, was recently appointed to the position of Assistant to the President. He is the first person in this position, and it's an honor for him to do so.

Follow the Yellow Brick Road

And so we near the finale of yet another year of the heart-jerking series. For many of us, this writer, we will bid a fond farewell to the controlled environment of BSU and seek to find our fortune in a world we were so recently secluded from within the four-walled classrooms. As my final rollick, I would like to indicate the ideas contained to those who understand and seek; those who can see and think beyond our own Yellow Brick Road at BSU.

"We've off to see the Wizard, the Wonderful Wizard of Oz!" Remember these words sung by the Judy Garland in the 1939 cinema. In my mind, the viewing of this production has become much like baseball and hot dogs, but to those who understand a different interpretation is gathered. For you and me, the Wizard of Oz is alive and well at BSU-a U of students, staff, and faculty who have complained to Herb Menger and others, but to no avail.

Student attitude scorned

Editor, the ARBITER

Lately, it has become more and more apparent that minor radical factions have become gathering power on this campus. Their "morality" and attitudes have been affecting the peaceful atmosphere that we Boisians have learned to love so dearly.

I feel I should point out some of these superfluous occurrences: the proposition of the "Students for Students" policy is the big folly of the year. Just what makes these people think they are more responsible or more mature than students in past years? The rise in drugs and attitudes have been affecting the state of affairs.

The dorms on campus are in moral chaos. Just walking in the halls one can get stored on marijuan! The solution to this is not enforcement of smokeless halls, but to look at the root causes of the problem. The overall attitude toward elected officials in trending toward disrespect. I have heard several people being sarcastic about the re-ASRU People. A honest endeavor to get a job and become an upright citizen. It truly is a sad state of affairs.

I would like to congratulate the ARBITER on their excellent job of underlining these movements and keeping them in a second seat.

Also, I am glad to see your staff channelling our young energies to healthy activities such as sports. It's nice to know at least some people still have respect for the true heroes of this campus: the athletes. This small, but strong, group is the academic backbone of our campus. It is ultimately because of their intelligence ability that the rest of us non-athletic endowed people can maintain such a high GPA.

If we could all follow the examples set by these young people, we might be more deserving of the title BSU.

I have decided to award this year in writing letters (probably more than most students) about things that may concern us, somebody ought to know, but I'm sad to say, to borrow a phrase from an article by my friend George Shannon, "should be appointed the editor of this paper next year." You have given me a year that I will never forget."

This is true for a number of the people who have read these dear students, the year of 74-75 in review: It comes a time in everyone's life when they should look back and laugh at the many mistakes they made from mouth that they did. The same is true, I think, of the 74-75 year. It will be fast coming to a close. So, I may reflect upon the year and make some comments.

1. Evil Weevl Jump: Some people thought it would be nice to have a fun so that they decided to have a jump across a ditch (which has since been covered) so they did and the money went into a scholarship fund. No, I thought at the time, and still do, that the money could've been raised in a different way.

2. This event took two years to come true. Have you heard of the 1973-74 year? It came out in 1975? It already had 200 pages missing due to a very small, error! Well, they say it's very hard to forgive is is...

3. The X and R films (which this reader didn't write on) - What Mr. Scott Lerner (the main spokesman) failed to pay for was that the X and R films were being used to buy these films, and that was the main point of the students with the petition had in mind.

4. And last, was that two friends of mine who decided to have an open fire and they should be able to govern themselves, which is a good idea, but I thought it would be nice to have a fire so they decided to have a jump across a ditch (which has since been covered) so they did and the money went into a scholarship fund. Now, I thought at the time, and still do, that the money could've been raised in a different way. "since this is my last letter for this interesting year, I would like to again thank this paper for printing many interesting things about them, go and look them up, they won't hurt you.

Pop Films Chairman thanks persons involved

Editor, the ARBITER

I would like to take advantage of this column, in my way to thank the many people who helped me as chairman of the Pop and Experimental Film Committee. It has been a very good year and I am due to the many people who contributed their time and energy to make this possible.

First of all, I would like to thank Doris Hollissey and all those who helped me with "The Way" project. Their patience with an inexperienced chairman was unbelievable. Next, many thanks to those people who helped me make the opening of the Sunday night movie: John Edgerton, Rich Fulton, Ed Selby, Carl the DJ, Max Perce, and a few others. Scott Gormley and many others.

A very special thanks goes to two people who made this show work: Bill Doug and his 'snapshnit' camera. My special thanks go to my managers, Mark Allan. Due to his creativity and capacity for innovation we had innumerable improvements including pop, house music, and a much more professional film showing. Many Thanks....

Coed complains

Editor, the ARBITER

One of those overlooked items on campus took up status but not credit during these past months. Rain, snow, and April never realized it was here but has been acting like an extension of March. Walking from the south side of College Boulevard through the "Devil's Strip" or on the paved entrance-ways of the faculty parking area in front of the Ad building, one had the choice of slip-sliding through the mud (once it was a grassy area), gingerly balancing on the concrete curb, or sloshing through the three to four foot wide areas of water accumulated in the non-draining parking lot.

There are a number of us students, staff and faculty who have complained to Herb Menger and others, but to no avail.

Was God at your wedding?

by Alea Falchek

Burton J. Albertson, a local author, has released a new book titled "Was God At Your Wedding?" This is his first book which deals with the theological and psychological problems of divorce.

This book is written from a devout man's point of view, but it is not theologically opposite of "prostitution", "social outcasts" and so on. Only two of his examples made any sense whatsoever.

Burton J. Albertson seems to be trying mainly to justify divorce in the face of religion. He has done this to alleviate the guilt caused by the church because of divorce. If this phenomenon bothers you, then by all means read Was God At Your Wedding?

Albertson calls on another philosopher, Aristotle, to further his concept of sexual morality, he should have used a dictionary, not a thesaurus. "Sinful" is not the opposite of "prostitution", "sinful" is not the opposite of "social outcasts" and so on. Only two of his examples made any sense whatsoever.

Ho-bo's net $10,000

With approximately 70 per cent of the 500 vo-tech students participating, the annual HoBo March collected an estimated $10,000 which used for scholarships last Friday. The March has been held annual since 1955 when vo-tech students collected $400.

In order to collect the money, BSU students dress as hobos and approach cars and people in Boise and ask for donations. According to Chie Quinowski, "We give thanks to the Boise residents for their cooperation and continued support of the HoBo March."

Presidential appointments and the continuing consideration of the ASBSU 1975-76 budget were the major orders of business at the April 29 and May 1 student senate meetings.

Two presidential appointments were challenged Tuesday when ASBSU President Nate Kim passed on the senate the Personnel Selection committee's recommendations for the positions of Arbitrator, Public Editor and Publications director.

Barb Bridwell, senior political science major and former lay-out editor for the Arbiter, was the committee's selection for Arbitrator, according to John Steph, Personnel Selection chairman. During discussion of the appointment, John "Buck" DeMotte, former associate editor for the Arbiter, sat in for the editor position, objected to the appointment on the grounds that Steph had manipulated the committee votes. DeMotte charged that since only two of the six members voted plus the chairman, the decision they arrived at was not a fair one.

Steppe explained that three members of the committee disqualified themselves for reasons of interest. Helen Christensen and Scott Harmon, both members of the Senate, sat in for the editor position, but did participate in the interviews. Bridwell, also a committee member, did not vote and was not present during the other candidate interviews. Since one other member was absent, Douglas Ousen and Tony Wilson were the only voting members, therefore the chairman voted.

After a lengthy discussion, the senate cleared the chambers for a three-minute executive session. When the members of the gallery were called back in, Bridwell was made editor in a 2-0, 2-0 ab-stention vote.

The senate also approved Dennis Jonas, Personnel Selection Committee's recommendation for Public Relations director. Jon Adamson, another candidate for the position, asked the senate to reconsider Jonas' appointment on the grounds that Kim and Athletic department and that Athletics should fund Chessers from the fund, but the senate was not sold.

The Senate approved the following budget recommendations as of May 1 include Chuck White and Benjer, Financial Advisory Board, Ron Buchanan-chairperson, Bob Hoppin, Student Programming Board chairman, Rod Brown, Senate Student Union Board of Governors; and Mike Hepner, about-to-be Senator.

Massachusetts Mutual presents honors

At the recent Idaho Eastern Oregon Agency Sales Builder Meeting in Idaho Falls, Massachusetts Mutual, two Boise agents were outstanding honors.

Rick A. Thompson of Boise received the Premium Leader of The Year award for the agency and Dennis L. Ward received the Freshman of The Year award.

The course studying Nez Perce War offered

Boise State University has announced a course in the literature of the Nez Perce War of 1877 that will be offered during the first summer session that begins June 21.

The course will be a combination of study and field observation, said instructors Glenn Selander and Dovis Burmaster. Students in the class will investigate the history, legend, and fiction which came from the Nez Perce attempt to escape into Canada in 1877.

In field trips the students will travel to areas where the Nez Perce went.

One goal of the class, said the instructors, is to "acquaint students with the historical accounts and fiction of the events that filled the fine line between the two." To do that, the students will go on field trips each year to the places where the Nez Perce went. As the instructors view points the students will read novels, journals, biography, legends, and word-of-mouth versions.

One topic they will investigate will be the figure of Chief Joseph. "We will not try to discredit Joseph, but attempt to open up a more enlightened view of the role he played," says Selander.

The idea of the course, which is the first of its kind to be offered at BSU, began when Selander and Burmaster began comparing their notes on the Nez Perce. Both professors have been interested in the literature surrounding the Indians, and last summer they traced the 1877 route from Whitebird to Yellowstone.

The trip was very worthwhile because in many places they were able to hear personal accounts from persons who had their own version of the Nez Perce War. This word-of-mouth account gave them new insights that are not covered in written accounts, explained Selander.

Students in the course, which is offered under the English department, will be required to take one field trip to central Idaho June 22-23. They will bus to the Whitebird Battlefield to view the site where Selander says the "first battle in the war took place.

On that same trip the group will tour another battlefield on the Clearwater River, and view the Nez Perce museum at Lapwai.

The second field trip, which is required for only those taking the class for upper division credit, will be to the Cansa Prairie Battlefield near Dubois and to the Big Hole Battlefield in Montana. It will be July 21-22.

The instructors said the cost of these field trips is in addition to the BSU fees. They added that interested students can contact the English department, phone 385-3426, for more information.

The Boise Police plain clothesmen, the Ada County Sheriff's Department, and various other law enforcement officers patrolled the streets and sidewalks of downtown Boise and other areas throughout the evening. Some officers, in full uniform, were told to "scatter." This meant that officers were not to form a group but were to be on the lookout for any signs of trouble.

As the curfew hour approached, officers began to leave the area. Some of them were not happy with the outcome of the curfew hour.

Housing Act guarantees loans

That "dream home" you've been thinking about for so long can now become a reality.

The Veterans Housing Act of 1971, signed into law by the President, boosts the amount of VA guarantees on various types of home loans, including mobile homes and condominiums. This speeds the processing time for loan applications.

Provisions of the new law are:
1. Increases the maximum amount of the government home loan guarantee. The maximum amount of the guarantee is increased from $12,500 to $17,500.
2. Boosts the maximum loan guarantee for mobile homes from $10,000 to $12,500 for a single-wide home, from $15,000 to $20,000 for a home and an undeveloped lot, and from $7,500 to $20,000 for the purchase of a home and a developed lot. For double-wide mobile homes the loan guarantee need to $20,000 and up to $27,600.

BSU summer school offers travel-study

BSU News Bureau

When the 1975 Boise State University summer session begins June 9, students will have the opportunity to explore topics ranging from prehistoric ruins to space travel.

Robert Gibb, BSU assistant summer sessions and organizer of many of the trips, says they are a "world trip, a trip with travel and earn college credits at the same time". He added that Boise State offers a number of study-travel opportunities that "all students have to find a topic of interest".

The BSU geography department is sponsoring two tours that combine study and travel. One will go to the Southwest to examine the Apollo-Soyus spacelaunch program. Many veterans have been purchasing mobile homes in response to tax, VA benefits, and low interest in the price of single-family dwellings.

3. Authorizes the VA to guarantee loans for the purchase of a condominium.

Under the old law veterans were ineligible to buy a condominium unless the development had been approved by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development and at least one unit had been purchased by a loan insured by the federal government. The new law eliminates that restriction and greatly expands the number of units available a veteran could buy.

4. Increases the maximum loan guarantee for severely disabled veterans who must have specially-adapted housing. To assist in adapting these "wheelchair" homes to 30 years and 32 days.

Backpacking and camping course will take you to Cape Canaveral, Florida to witness the historic Apollo-Soyus space launch. While in Florida the group will also study other space missions and tour the Kennedy Space Center.

For students who want to stay closer to home, increased grant is to $25,000 up from the present grant of $17,500.

5. Expands the number of financial institutions that can make "automatic" loans, those made available to veterans who submitted to VA for prior approval. The new law extends the automatic guarantee to the three major financial institutions under the examination and supervision of a federal or state institution. The automatic guarantee lenders who qualify under standards so established by the Administrator, and thus speeds the processing time for new loan applications.

6. Restores loan entitlement if obligations on a veteran's original loan are met. This means that 29 million vets now and in the future can easily finance moving into new homes or homes in different cities and towns. This provision should spur a depressed housing industry.

7. Extends the maximum term of home loans to 30 years and 32 days.

The Veterans Housing Act of 1975, several national Baha'i communities have developed plans for participation.

"We have during International Women's Year an excellent opportunity to cooperate with the United Nations in promoting the equality of men and women," said the Baha'i International Community in a recent statement. Boise is one of the basic tenets of the Baha'i Faith is the equality of men and women. The establishment of universal human rights, full economic and social development of all peoples and the attainment of world peace are all principles promoted by Baha'i's throughout the world.

The display key (DSP) lets you choose between fixed decimal and scientific notation and lets you control the number of places displayed. (The HP-21 always uses all 10 digits internally.)
If a number is too big or small for fixed decimal display, the HP-21 switches automatically to scientific. It never confuses a smaller number with zero.
Finally, if you give the HP-21 an impossible instruction, the Display spells ERROR.

RPN logic system
Here’s what this unique logic system means to you:
*You can evaluate any expression without copying, parentheses, worrying about hierarchies or re-structuring beforehand.
*You can solve all problems your way—the way you work when you use a slide rule.
*You can solve all problems—no matter how complex—one step at a time. You never have to write down two numbers at once.
*You see all intermediate answers immediately. The HP-21 executes each function immediately after you press the function key.
*You can easily backtrack when you err. The HP-21 performs all operations sequentially.
*You can re-use numbers without re-entering them. The HP-21 becomes your scratch pad.

The Blaine County Art Festival committee is inviting fine artists and skilled craftsmen to participate in the annual festival for the arts and crafts on July 4, 5 and 6 in Hailey. The Committee chose these dates to coincide with the famous Days of the Old West Celebration which draws 10,000 people from around Idaho. This celebration includes three days of rodeos, parades, old fashion shoot outs, and the famous Days of the Old West Barbeque.

The Blaine County Art Festival committee, made up of active businessmen, artists and craftsmen is an outgrowth of the Halley Chamber of Commerce. There is a growing population of artists and craftsmen in the Wood River valley, the home of Hailey, Ketchum, and world famous Sun Valley.

Music Feast at Julia Davis

Saturday, May 10 heralds Boise's Starting at 1 p.m. in the bandshell of Julia Davis Park the musical groups Manna, Utenol and Children of the Son will entertain with modern gospel music. The featured speaker is Dr. Barry Asmus, Economics professor voted outstanding BSU educator by the student body. Well known Las Vegas performer, Chico Holiday will testify through music to the message that Jesus has worked in his life.

There will be no charge for the afternoon's entertainment and food. Boise valley merchants and residents have contributed food and supplies for the lunch. This is to provide much of the takings. Groups Manna, Union and Children of Employment, Vocational Rehabilitation, Mako Migrant Council, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Talent Search, and BSU Veterans Representatives attended the day-long seminar.

The workshop is designed to educate them primarily on Federal Financial Aid and Basic Grants. The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program, which then began providing funds to BSU students two years ago, is an increasingly important part of financial aid available to students who have not been enrolled in a post-secondary school prior to April 1, 1972. Under its provisions next year's freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are going to be recipients of this "direct" aid.

In 1973-74, 99 BSU students received $22,560 or average of $228. In 1974-75, $34 students will receive 8210, 34 at an average of $578.

In 1975-76, an early estimate is that the Basic Grants for BSU students will be $377,750 an an average of $550 to at least 905 full-time students.

That estimate was prepared last fall. 19 per cent of the 2,031 Idaho students now eligible are here at Boise State University.

Since that time the Congress has authorized the Office of Education to begin providing Basic Grants to part-time students (6 to 11 credit hours). This opens up a whole new field of eligible students, which Career and Financial Aid Services at BSU will be able to counsel and direct.

The Basic Grants workshop, in its second year, is a nationally sponsored program. Five other such sessions will be held throughout Idaho over the year.

Kathy McCullough, State Training Officer for Boise Grant Program was at the workshop along with Ralph Fry, Instructor for the program, to discuss the counselor's role in guiding students and parents with the various programs available for financial aid. Ms. McCullough has just recently been named President of the Idaho Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators.

Physicist supports UFO theory

by Barth Bridwell

"After 16 years of investigation, evidence is overwhelming that we are being visited by extra-terrestrial vehicles," said Dr. Stanton Friedman, a nuclear physicist who spoke last week at the College of Idaho. Friedman is director of an extensive study on UFO's and UFOlogy.

Friedman classifies UFO sightings into three categories:
1. Reports of phenomena which observers can't identify but which competent people in the field can, also known as unidentified flying objects.
2. Reports of objects where there is not enough information to make an identification.
3. Reports of competent people's identification of phenomena which cannot be identified by experts but which appear to be manufactured off of earth and are being controlled by intelligent beings.

Every large scale study produced a report on phenomena coming to Friedman. One of the largest studies ever undertaken was in 1955 by the Astronautical Institute in Columbus, Ohio. Batelle was under contract to the Air Force through their website, according to Friedman's Project Blue Book No. 14.

Reports 1-12 were classified according to Friedman. Reports 13 is available from the government incorporated into report 14. Friedman cited figures on UFO studies. Of 219 sightings, 434 or 19.7 percent were listed as unexplained.

VETERAN'S BENEFITS REMAIN FOR LIMITED TIME

Less than 120 days remain for veterans discharged since 1970 to take advantage of the new low-cost Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI). Applications and first premiums must be received before August 2, 1974.

It applies to all veterans who were discharged between April 3, 1970 and August 1, 1974.

The new program offers up to $20,000 for a monthly premium of only $2.40 for veterans under 35, and for those 35 and over, the maximum coverage is $6.80 per month. It is a non-renewable policy designed as interim protection during readjustment to civilian life.

Another important advantage of buying VGLI is that it reinstates the veteran's right to convert his Serviceman's Group Life Insurance Policy to an individual policy at standard rates regardless of his health or physical condition. Normally, this privilege terminates 120 days after discharge. The coverage by VGLI can convert on termination of the five year VGLI policy.

A pamphlet prepared by the VA insurance center in Philadelphia gives complete information on the program. The pamphlet and application forms can be obtained from your local VA office, the Office of Veterans Affairs, Room H14, Administration Building, or the Vet-Rep on Campus, Room 110, Administration Building.

Baseball team takes turnabout, heads back to win column

by Bob Landgren

Starting off the season in a fashion that was less than spectacular, the Boise State baseball team apparently has taken a turnabout and is heading back toward the win column.

Sporiting three victories in their last five games, Coach Ross Vaughn was optimistic about his team's sudden success. "I just hope these past couple of weeks have been an indication of the direction we're headed," commented Vaughn. "We got off to a bad start this season and this has been the first time the guys have really played together. They're playing more aggressively now," he added. "The players have confidence in themselves now and they're just starting to jell."

Boise State was off to a rough start in conference action when they faced the top two teams, but Vaughn did let slip that second place Conference time in the 880 yards long and 700 feet wide. He started Vaughn, "We got off to a bad timing," he added. "There were times when we don't have a senior on the field." Vaughn said, "It's hard on the guys to play as a cohesive unit when there are many freshmen and junior college transfers who haven't had much time to learn each other's style and timing," he added.

As it is, Vaughn has only six returners for next year's squad, with three of those on the pitching staff. When asked if any player had been more consistent than others of the team, Vaughn said, "I can't really single out any one individual, head and shoulders over anyone else; it wouldn't be fair."

Vaughn did let slip that second baseman Chris Chinn was tops on the team with the bat with a .350 average and .550 in conference play.

Last week, the Broncos took a game from the College of Idaho 9-3. At the University of Idaho last weekend, BVIS split a four-game series after protesting a bad call by the empire. They replayed the next day at the point of protest and Boise State went on to win.

In upcoming baseball news, the Broncos host Northwest Nazarene College here Monday at 3:30 and then travel to Pocatello State for a pair of doubleheaders on Friday and Saturday.

Hockenberry wins award

Howard Hockenberry received a scholar-athlete award from the Big Sky Conference. His 3.00 GPA in Physical Education and second place Conference time in the 880 yard run made him eligible for this award.

Hiking and climbing have become so popular in the past few years that it might seem like nothing that is new has been discovered.

But Boise State University geology student Bruce Otto has proven otherwise. He is sure his true discovery is no routine snowfield, but is pushing a glacier's surr. The story about Bruce Otto's unusual discovery began three years ago when he was climbing Mr. Borah, a mountain now called a 'peculiar formation'. Last September, Otto and Wilson decided he would take a closer look at what he thought to be an unusually large snow field.

But on his second trip he fell into a huge crevasse, and began to realize that what he had been studying was not ordinary snowmass, he put it, "You just don't have 40 foot crevasses in a permanent snow field.

He noticed that the glacier's surface was covered with rocks. "They are not too big, but it did fool me at first because I didn't realize how big it was," Otto said.

He feels that no one has discovered the glacier because it is partially hidden. But it is not on the "tourist route" up Mr. Borah, and thus is seldom seen. Although it is not a difficult climb he says you have to "know where it is", and there is no trail into the area.

Otto and Wilson say they plan to lead a research team next summer that will take a closer look at ice flow, thickness measurement, and surface features. To help them transport the delicate geophysical equipment they are now looking for a helicopter.

Both Otto and Wilson cautioned that the glacier could be dangerous to hikers, especially in the summertime when the huge crevasses are still partially covered with snow, which does not cover them carefully if they go onto the snow field itself, warned Wilson.

Otto is most interested about the discovery that will put him in the pages of Idaho's geological history books. Glacial geology is named by their discoverer, but Otto says he is going into the guide book before going that far. Right now he just says he is "thrilled" with his accomplishment and he hopes that the glacier can still remain unspoiled as long as the public hears about it.

In the meantime, this summer and fall Otto plans several independent trips on Mr. Borah and will become even more familiar with his new discovery.
Team handball evolves into ‘super sport’ at BSU

by Bolee Christensen

“Water polo without water” or Team Handball, an Olympic game originating in Scandinavia, is the newest sport offered at BSU, according to Doug Gochnour, Team Handball captain and club president.

Beginning as a physical education class, Team Handball has evolved into a recognized campus organization with the acceptance of their constitution during the last senate meeting. Gochnour stated the team organized in order to promote the sport with the hope of eventually forming a Treasure Valley League. Currently the closest teams are at Williamette and Washington State. There are also several armed service teams.
