Boise State Room Shortage

Termed Acute
by Donald S. Smith
BSU, as we all know, has an acute classroom shortage. We have a 12 per cent usage of classrooms, and 92 per cent usage of basement space. Between the hours of 7:40 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., the building is in constant use. But we all know what happens near the starting of the school year, a four story education complex will be started next the the school year a four story education complex will be started next fall.

Reporter Helen Christensen may have felt an erroneous impression in the minds of some regarding Boise State's commitment to eliminate sex discrimination. She quotes me as saying that there is a difference in salaries that could only be tied to sex, which is not true.

The new science building and an addition to the Vo-Tech building are in the starting stages. In the 79-80 school year a four story education complex will be started near the new science building and completed by protected walkways. This new Science Education complex.

The work study program regulates here on campus by the financial aid office. It has been going for this university. This program provides minimum or near minimum wages for the student while providing the university with an almost endless pool of inexpensive laborers. It creates, however, a problem in labor relations. Employees hired by the state of Idaho are full time, career oriented individuals. They have worked over the years of service and have developed a relationship which does not in fact imply a cause and effect relationship. It is not unusual for people to remain with BSU.

Thank you for the article on the Buckley Amendment. It is important that the students’ right to privacy be called to the attention of all persons connected with the University. On numerous occasions, FBI and other government and business officials have contacted individual faculty members for information about particular students and former students. These requests always seem innocuous enough, but the aftermath of Watergate and the mysterious ways of bureaucratic procedure ought to make us ever alert to the privacy rights of students and the possible misuse of information about them.

I was very recently contacted about a former student by Veteran’s Administration representatives purporting to conduct a “survey”. I readily and unthinkingly gave the requested information. The important point is — I was probably breaking the law. Thank you for calling this to my attention. Hopefully, I will use the Buckley Amendment to stiffen my backbone next time around.

Citizen’s arrests suggested

Editor, the ARBITER

Congratulations to Bob Davis for finding a new and refreshing approach to the inequities in enforcement of drinking laws at BSU stadium. Let’s admit, however, that a seasonal Arbiter editorial and Senate protest just haven’t gotten the job done.

Considering that some positive action is called for, and remembering that “the best way to change a bad law is to enforce it”, particularly among the rich. Might I suggest that students purchase general admission tickets and ever they see a violation in the section? One such student would not be effective. One hundred, such as an out-of-season track or basketball team, would have policy makers in, to use the vernacular of journalism, a foot.

ASBSU fails to allocate money

Editor, the ARBITER

Do you know that your senators in the ASBSU have failed to allocate $20,000 for student programs? This is money that each full-time student pays out of the $181.00 for fees per semester.

Have you been asked by your senator, or have you taken the time to visit your senator and make your feelings known as to what kind of programs you wish to be funded?

Unless you talk to your senator, the yearbook, which in the past, has been almost the only concrete return on your investment free to any full-time student, will now be yours only if you pay an extra assessment for it. This is not fair to you the student because money that could insure you a valuable record of your college year free of cost is now going to sit unused or be dribbled into minimum use programs at the discretion of the ASBSU senate.

Stand up for your right to receive an annual report. Otherwise, the next program to go could be the newspaper or the program board. Your $18 should buy you more than the opportunity to pay for concerts and special events.

State Board denies AK Psi deferment request

by Barb Bridwell

The State Board of Education last weekend denied a request by Alpha Kappa Psi to defer a ruling on the fraternity's sex discrimination suit. BSU chapter president David Schroeder had requested a deferment because of a bill currently in Congress to exempt Alpha Kappa Psi from Title IX, a Health and Welfare ruling on sex discrimination.

Board member Ed Benoit originally moved that the request be deferred until July, after Congress has the opportunity to vote on the exemptive measure. Fellow Board member J. P. Meason opposed this move saying Benoit was "avoiding the issue."

State Board of Education members Roy Troy, A. L. Alford and Milton Small. University of Idaho student body president David Warnick received a letter reprimanding him from the State Board of Education last week following a letter he wrote to Governor Cecil Andrus. Warnick had attempted to get an investigation of university administrators. Board member Ed Benoit of Twin Falls told Warnick in the Board meeting that his attempt and use of the press were "juvenile, rude and in extremely bad taste."

 Warnick wrote the personal letter to Andrus after a meeting where Andrus requested he do so. Warnick later said he probably wouldn't have written the letter if he known it would be made public. He also later said that the charges against the administration must be serious since the Board's reaction was so violent.

ASBSU President Nate Kim was not allowed to speak on the subject of naming the Special Events Center at last weeks State Board meeting.

Student Leaders Discuss Alcohol

Student leaders from various colleges and universities met with the State Board over the weekend as an informal rap session. One of the topics discussed was alcohol on campus. The board was questioned on their policy of not allowing alcohol on state campuses. Board member John Swartley also moved that the request be deferred until July, after Congress has the opportunity to vote on the exemptive measure. Fellow Board member J. P. Meason opposed this move saying Benoit was "avoiding the issue."

Unclaimed scholarships listings available

Unclaimed Scholarships, a Portland, Maine based firm, has recently made available a list of sources for unclaimed scholarships, grants, aids, and fellowships.

This list of sources was researched and compiled as of September 5, 1975, and may be purchased for $12.95 from Unclaimed Scholarships, 369 Allen Avenue, Portland, Maine 04103.

The firm, Unclaimed Scholarships, is a member of the Greater Portland Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Credit Bureau of Greater Portland, and is registered with the Maine State Consumer Council.

The advisory board, recommended that the senate appropriate $3,530 for service awards and supplies for the Les Bois yearbook and that the yearbook publication costs be paid by student subscriptions and advertising revenues, and if this does not cover minimum costs the senate should fund the balance.

Health Science Senator Howard Welsh made a motion asking that the senate approve the FAS recommendations with the stipulation that all additional expenditures require approval from the senate.

Les Bois editor Margo Hansen told the senate that it was unfair to require students to purchase a subscription for the Les Bois. “A yearbook is one of the few tangibles a student receives from his ASBSU fees,” she stated.

The senate also voted to table a motion to approve the budgetary request of the Student Action Committee. They had requested $1,900 for an educational-political film series.

“We’re making a hell of a mistake if we don’t fund this program,” stated Hertling. The motion can be reconsidered at a future senate meeting.

Tom Moore, Assistant Student Union Director, informed the senate of the Student Union Board of Governors’ plans to build a SUB annex. He stated that the building could mean a possible $9 to $10 increase in student registration fees. “We would like to have some input from the students on this plan,” said Moore.

The next senate meeting will be held Oct. 7 at 4:30 p.m. in the Senate Chambers on the second floor of the Student Union Building.

BSU budget, WICHE considered by regents

The advisory committee suggested investigating a similar agreement with the University of Idaho and WICHE.

Board member J. P. Musson stated that “We have to make a decision on medical education four years, we’ll be spending $1.2 million on WAMU. The medical education commitment of the state will soon be $1.75 million.”

Dr. L. S. McCall, Chairman of the medical education advisory committee, reported to the board that the universities participating under the WICHE program won’t be as willing to take Idaho students without the benefit of the program.

McCall also said that medical education is unique because of the severe competition for seats, the cost and benefits to the state and the improvement in quality of care by community clinical units.

“Because of these factors, medical education cannot be fooled with or compared with other graduate education,” Musson reminded the board that they must also keep in mind the law school, which is now having accreditation difficulties. “We can invest that medical money into 200 or so law students instead of 30 medical students. If we start investing this kind of money into 30 or 40 physician classes, we still face the problem of our law students,” he said.

The man to make one drool

A Loyola University psychologist has surveyed women to find the type of male body most likely to set them drooling.

From the results, Psychologist Paul Lavrakas has determined the most exciting male figure. The perfect male, Lavrakas claims, has thin hips, a medium-wide chest and medium-thin hips.

The “Alfred Hitchcock pears-shaped look” - a thin chest and large stomach and hips - is the least attractive male figure, according to women surveyed.

The motion passed with the benefit of the program.

Student Health Services answers questions

Q. Is there a cure for the flu? A. No. There are vaccinations for the flu but they are preventative; not curative and cannot be administered when you are ill.

Q. Can I get a flu shot at the Health Centers? A. Yes. Influenza Virus Vaccinations are now available for a fee of $12.00.

Q. Who should have these vaccinations? A. Annual vaccination is recommended for persons with heart disease, asthma, chronic bronchitis, diabetes, chronic kidney disease, and chronic metabolic disorders.

Q. Who should not have these shots? A. Everyone! Vaccines are protein, because influenza vaccine is prepared in embryonated eggs. Some people have had severe reactions to the vaccine.

Q. When should I get a flu shot? A. Influenza vaccine should be administered by mid-November. Q. What are the chances of having a reaction to the vaccine? A. Influenza vaccines are highly purified and should produce few severe adverse effects. Soreness and redness at the site of the injection are common, however. Q. Didn't you give a series of two flu vaccinations in the past? A. Yes, the first should have been traditional. However, in recent years more potent vaccines have been available, and for high-risk groups second dosage would provide little additional benefit. Q. I'm pregnant — should I get a flu shot? A. Pregnancy is not an indication for or against influenza vaccination.
Veteran's educational benefits diminishing

Education benefits for veterans may soon be a thing of the past if the House of Representatives votes to eliminate GI benefits on October 6 to repeal the GI Bill.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee recently voted to end GI benefits. Some committee members said they want to terminate the current educational adjustment program, the Veterans Affairs Committee report said.

GI benefits have been bolstered by several education organizations and veterans groups. "Eliminating the veterans' programs is a slap in the face of every low-income veteran who couldn't afford college on his own," said a spokesman for the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

"We are totally against that bill," added the Veterans Affairs Committee. "It is a serious threat to the concept of voluntary armed services.

Veterans Affairs urged all veterans to make their positions on the issue known to their congressional representatives immediately.

"Chick." We must be assaulted with that term hundreds of times each day. It is such a subtle put-down that many of us - female as well as male - never give it much thought.

But really, what is a "chick," that word so often used to describe a woman? The answer, of course, is that a chick is a fluffy little yellow bird. On the other hand, a woman is a human being. Women beings are not baby birds. Women are not chicks. It is important to begin pointing out that simple distinction. A lot of people seem to be misinformed!

Serious, responses to other sexist words and situations are not always as easy to come up with. It is no accident that the emotions which accompany the first step towards liberation is, for most women, anger. Anger is a natural and healthy reaction to the injustices and insults of a second-class status. It is an assertiveness of self-worth.

Tutors asked to file "tutor's information card"

All prospective tutors will be asked to file a tutor's information card with the Office of Veterans' Affairs. No person, regardless of his credentials, will be recognized as a qualified tutor until he has been authorized by the Department Chairman from the area in which he plans to tutor.

A veteran attending Boise State University under the G. I. Bill, on at least a half-time basis, may be eligible for up to $720 of VA tutorial entitlement.

You may ask no more than $60 per month of tutorial entitlement and may pay the tutor no more than $5.00 per hour. The rate per hour and method of payment must be agreed upon by both you and your tutor. Both must sign the Tutorial Assistance Form (9900), verifying that the hours tutored and rate paid are correct. The Office of Veterans' Affairs may periodically check it to verify that the tutorial entitlement is being received as stated.

If you are expecting difficulty in any subject required for the satisfactory pursuit of your major and the instructor of the course is willing to certify your deficiency. the Office of Veterans' Affairs will assist you in finding a qualified tutor and completing the proper paperwork to receive VA tutorial entitlement.

Public Relations conference scheduled

The first Intermountain Public Relations Association conference is scheduled for October 25 on the Brigham Young University campus in Provo, Utah. All business and communication students from BUU are invited to attend the conference and workshop.

Philip Leslie, author of The People Factor, will be the guest speaker. Numerous professionals from the intermountain area will be on hand to confer with students in the various facets of public relations. For further information contact BUU's Department of Journalism.

'Women are not chicks, or, what do you say when...?'

Sometimes we mutter a quiet response to an obviously sexist comment. Other times we feel strong enough to shout a triumph, 'I am a woman!' But can't we think of some more creative and educational expressions of our anger? For instance, what DO you say when...

Scene 1: You're a student. In their lectures, your instructors make it clear that they are not talking to the women in the room. "For those of you who can't type your own term papers, perhaps you can get your wives or girlfriends to do it for you."

Scene 2: You are a student. In their lectures, your instructors make it clear that they are not talking to the women. "Women. Instead, they discuss the "rational man" or the history of mankind" or "the role of the public office holder as a father."

Scene 3: You have a B. A. and are looking for a job. Each prospective employer asks how fast you can type and take shorthand.

Scene 4: You have a job. Your kids are in school. Your boss calls you "girl."

Scene 5: You are an instructor. You overhear two male students talking about your ass.

"Brilliant in performance and extraordinary in accomplishment... It's work is remarkable and its achievements rare, for it manages to translate the apocalyptic tragedy of our century into human terms and to do so with laughter and tears, with anger and compassion, and with simple beauty of truth... Totally without pretension, with two great performers creating unforgettable portraits, it stands as one of the few films of our time, for all time."

This deadly canal silently meanders through a 3-mile housing area containing more than 1000 children 12 years of age or younger. Two elementary grade schools are within 3 blocks of its unrestricted banks. With a twelve foot depth, smooth concrete sides and bottom, swift 8-mile-per-hour current and unpredictable undertows, it has lured children near, and has taken the lives of about one each year.

Crowd Large at SFS Amendment Proceedings

by Bob Davies

The Students For Students amendment, it was decided, had to be submitted to three readings. Each reading would be held at a different senate meeting. The first reading was conducted at the first meeting when the amendment was proposed. The senate decided to hold the second reading at the following meeting.

The second meeting was held in the Big Four room because of the crowd expectations.

The crowd at the second meeting proved to be even larger than that at the first one. The Society of Silly Goose was on hand to video tape the proceedings. Interest in the amendment was spreading rapidly.

The Students For Students representatives had secured a copy of the State Board Policy Manual. When recognized by the senate, they read a clause dealing with amendments. The clause stated that all amendments had to be approved by the State Board. The administrative assistant to President Barnes was on hand with his own copy of the manual. In it he had found a clause that stated that the university president was a representative of the State Board. He also claimed that because of this, the amendment had to be approved by the State Board Policy Manual.

The amendment was then read for the second time and the senate was finally able to move on to other business. The debate preceding the reading had gone on for over two hours. It appeared to many that the amendment was gaining headway. Later that week, the committee to study the amendment met for the first time. Several members of the SFS movement were on hand and the debate continued.

Huck Hovey stated that the meeting was a waste of time since no new information would come out of it. He further said that the senate would not be making a decision for or against the amendment by placing it on a ballot but would only be giving it to their constituents to decide.

One of the major gries the senators had was that of giving voting privileges to part-time students. They said that the part- timers did not pay ASBSU fees and would probably be against being forced to pay them. Travis Updyke pointed out that it would be no problem for the school to place a card in everyone's pocket during registration which would allow each individual to decide whether he/she wanted to pay the fees.

Those who marked "no" would not have to pay them and would get a part-time activity card. Those who marked nothing would receive a special "voting" card which would allow them to vote and participate in all ASBSU activities. The full- time students would still get their regular card which would allow them to vote and attend sporting events. The senators were still undecided about what to do even though they did admit that it was a good idea.

It was decided to adjourn the meeting and wait for the legal advice requested by the senate. It voting privileges to part-time students. The senators were still undecided about what to do even though they did admit that it was a good idea.

NEXT WEEK: Undermining tricks and attempts to block the SFS Amendment.

The Country Wife to open at Subal Theatre

William Wycherley's Restoration comedy, The Country Wife, will open Thursday, October 9, for a run at Subal Theatre, Curtain time is 8:15.

Telephone reservations for tickets to The Country Wife may be made by calling the Subal Theatre box office (285-1622) between 3 and 6 p.m. daily through October 18.

Freshman and transfer students are reminded that admission to The Country Wife is free with a current activity ticket. However, due to the limited seating of the Subal Theatre, telephone reservations are highly recommended for guaranteed seating.

Director, Dr. Charles Lauterbach, commented that "it is rare for a student to see a Restoration comedy and even rarer still for them to see one of such color, vibration, and hilarity."

Acting and design are all reaching that final polish. This season's opener promises to be a delightful evening of theatre.

Homecoming Candidate

Deadline Set

All recognized student organizations wishing to nominate candidates for Homecoming Queen and Mr. Bronco, the deadline is 4 p.m. October 15. These may be picked up in the Programs Office, located on the 2nd floor of the SUB. It is also the responsibility of each candidate to supply a 4" x 5" black and white photo for the Homecoming Magazine. These should also be turned in at the Programs Office.

Sourdough Cooking Made Easy

by Naomi Aman

Just the mention of sourdough cooking suggests delicious pastries which are a rare treat. To most people it also suggests a complicated process, of which a basic starter must first be given to you by a neighbor or friend.

Actually, sourdough hootcakes, donuts, and biscuits can be made by anyone — even those short on time — with a rather minimum effort. One of the simplest sourdough starters is made by mixing 2 cups of flour, 2 cups of lukewarm water, and a package of dry yeast or a yeast cake. This mixture should be placed in a warm place overnight and the next morning it will be bubbly and have the pleasant smell of yeast. It is also ready to be the basis of the morning's hootcakes. Mix 1 cup of the starter with 1 cup of flour, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon of cooking oil, 1/2 cup of instant or evaporated milk. Blend in 1 teaspoon of salt, 1 teaspoon of soda, and 2 tablespoons of sugar. The mixture should be allowed to bubble and foam a little before it is ready to be dropped on a hot griddle.

This week's special, two secrets of good sourdough cookery are: avoid mixing the batter too much because while still digesting gasses from the dough, needed for the rising process. He says, "It's best just to throw it together and let it go at that."

The second secret is to use a little higher heat than you normally would.

Shoulder starter should be kept in a glass or pottery container, which have been boiled to destroy bacteria and stored in a cool place. It should never be stored in metal containers.

Sourdough buns are reminded to never put anything back into the starter pot except for the basic bacteria which has started to ferment. The starter will be spoiled if bater which has been mixed with sugar, salt, eggs, soda, or cooking oil is put back in the storage pot or jar.
Students Warned Against Fraudulent Business Practices

by Shavon Freeman

Caveat Emptor - Let the buyer beware! The old Roman adage is now more necessary than ever, especially for students. Students are one of the most popular groups of people to go after as far as "selling a bill of sale". Hardly a day goes by when we do not encounter some type of fraudulent business practices.

In the age of the half-truth - advertising by omission. There are hundreds of outright fraudulent schemes in every aspect of business. Students can suffer sizeable financial loss and embarrassments from being taken in by shoddy or illegal practices. Students are supposedly in a time of change, turmoil and "looking for something". The business world sees the group as vulnerable and susceptible to all kinds of schemes.

The outright swindler counts on the consumer's desire to get something for nothing. He plays on the victims vanity, gullibility and ignorance.

Consumer protection agencies give the following advice to avoid unnecessary frauds:

Never buy in haste. Compare prices and take your time.
Don't deal with fly-by-night merchants. Deal with reputable merchants who have been in business for some time.
Find people who have dealt with them and get their reactions. Check with the Better Business Bureau.
Don't be "bargain blinded" or shop by price alone. Watch out for "once in a lifetime bargains", "discounts", and "wholesale items". Quality is an important value.
Don't be high pressured or overwhelmed by slick salesmen. Look at all the facts. The original verbal agreement.

A salesman my promise or say anything verbally to get you to sign a contract. He can then sell the contract at a discount to a finance company to which you will be forced to pay heavy interest, despite the original verbal agreement.

If you're an outstanding engineering graduate like Will Frick, or someone who can master advanced technology, you may qualify for one of our top programs. Nuclear engineering. Our Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate Program wants men with a solid foundation in math and physics. You'll learn nuclear propulsion plus theory and operation. And you'll solve problems by applying fundamental engineering principles. Set your sights high. Go Navy.

Always check the credentials of a door to door salesman. Make sure he is who he says he is, representing the company he claims to be representing. Never pay a door to door salesman in cash.

To contracts Parsons. Don't sign a contract before you read and understand it. Read all the fine print.

Keep important receipts, tags, sales checks, and guarantees in a safe place.

Don't accept an incomplete bill for your merchandise. Make sure the service contractor spells out what provides what and for how much. Don't make unreasonable financial commitments. Make sure you can comfortably afford what you buy. Educate yourself to consumer fraud and sources of consumer help.

As so many things today are going into the category as "the big rip off" it is important to educate yourself on what you can do about it. Your greatest protection to this problem is becoming an alert and aware consumer.

The Boise Gallery of Art, in conjunction with Boise State University, presents Mr. John Haines, noted Montana poet, in a public reading Thursday, October 9 at 8 p.m. at the Gallery. Mr. Haines is scheduled through 1975-76 with KAAD-TV, Boise State University, and the Boise Gallery of Art for readings dealing with "Scales of Presence: Man's Place in the Four Environments".

Haines's selection of poetry reading will be "The Wilderness", reflecting the years he has spent in the wilds of Alaska. Publications he presently has in print are Level Lyric (Kaysi), Twenty Poems (Unicorn Press), The Stone Harp (Weisley University Press) and The Wild (Weisley University Press). Regular hours at the Gallery in Julia Davis Park are Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 12 noon to 5 p.m. The Gallery is closed Mondays.

Arbiter Interview With William Wycherley

Said to be influenced by Molière, William Wycherley has attained a position of note as a Restoration dramatist whose comedies, though risqué and often frankly ribald, show so much strength and savagery in attacking the vices of the day that their author has been labelled 'a moralist at heart'. He was educated in France and at Oxford and has developed a style which has an individuality seldom found in other writers of his time.

His first play was Love in a Village; or St. James Park (1671) followed by The Gentleman Dancing Master (1672). His best known work is The Country Wife (1675). William Wycherley died in 1676. His latest play, The Country Wife, was published in 1678.

His latest play, The Country Wife, was published in 1678.

Reactions sought in rock concerts problem

9. What is your reaction to the statement made by the pop concerts chairman, that there will be no more hard rock concerts because of the smoking problem and the disorderly crowd at the Edgar Winter concert?

TINA LARSEN
I think they should still have them. I don't know of the cause of the problem is smoking and drinking, but I know there is a lot of it going on inside there. It doesn't bother me anyway.

LYNN FROSS
I feel he is right as far as the smoke goes and I think a college should have a little more behavior. As far as hard rock goes, I'm not really into it.

RANDY GIDLEY
I thought neither were obvious. I didn't think they existed at all. I thought they weren't that disorderly. Everybody seemed to be getting into it.

MARGARET COMER
I thought it was kind of ridiculous. I don't think it's smoking or drinking. There is no matter where you are going to be you can have some disorderly people.

JOE DIAZ
I've seen the problem a lot worse, like at Elvin Bishop... they ought to build a place where we can have good concerts.

TOM FLY
The lack of facilities is what the problem is, the crowds can be handled.

TINA LARSEN
I don't know the problems is looking down. I know there is a lot of trouble. The Campus Store will distribute Line-O-Credit extended

The Idaho First National Bank has agreed to extend Line-O-Credit to Boise State students purchasing H.P. Calculators or tool kits, according to Betty Brock, manager of your Campus Store. Normally, according to Brock, Line-O-Credit is for a minimum of $2,000, but has been reduced to accommodate students wishing to purchase these items. "Many students have been asking us to sell these items to them on a time payment basis, which is not feasible," Brock said.

The Campus Store will distribute Line-O-Credit extended applications to students requesting them. Students will fill out the application and take it to the Idaho First National Bank. The Campus Store will accept the bank's check for the purchase.

The ruling came in a court case in which two Seattle women were accused of lewd behavior by sunbathing topless in public places. Defense Attorney Don Terczow argued that the city ordinance banning bare-breasted women in public was unconstitutional, since it applied unequally to women only.

Judge Wanick agreed, and cited a state Supreme Court ruling of last week banning sexual dissemination on high school football teams. So far, the city hasn't indicated any intentions of appealing the ruling. And anyway, as one local observer noted, "With a wet and cold winter coming on, the full effect of the decision won't be visible for quite a while."

The women of Seattle, Washington are reportedly still wearing full clothing in public but not because they have to.

According to a decision handed down this week by Seattle Municipal Court Judge Barbara Wanick, women have as much right to appear topless in public as men do.
Broncos Slide by Montana 35-34

by Melissa Schad

Another episode in the continuing saga of "Cardiac Seizure in the Stands" occurred in Bronco Stadi um Saturday night, as the Boise State Broncos pulled still another victory out of the fire, slipping past Montana State 35-34 with 31 seconds left in the game. The win gave the Broncos a season-con cussive win at home, while boosting their BIG Sky record to 2-0 and their overall tally 4-0.

The first scoring attempt by the Broncos came with 5:03 left in the first quarter. Starting quarterback Greg Scharf opened an 80-yard drive on passes to Mike Holton and Ron Renner, plus three keepers for 20 yards. The drive was capped by a 12-yard pass to John Smith for the touchdown. An Asi Rife conversion was good to put the Broncos on the board 7-0.

The next series saw Montana move from their own 28 yard line to the Bronco 23 in nine plays, but in second and nine, the Bobcats were penalized a loss of down for an illegal forward pass. Kicking specialist Keith Swenson made good a 41-yard field goal to make the score 7-3.

Right at the start of the second period, the Broncos scored once again, this time with John Smith taking it in from the seven for the score. Rife's PAT was no good, and the score stood at 7-7. The Bobcats came right back, however, and on second and goal from the one, quarterback Mike Hodel bullied his way over for the TD. A PAT by Pat Bolton was good, and the Bobcats trailed by just three, 10-7.

Boise State turned around and scored once more in the second quarter, this time with Stern running it in from the five. Rife's conversion attempt was again good, and the Broncos led 20-10 with 3:10 left in the half.

Montana State's first half drive ended with a 52-yard field goal by Bolton, making the score 20-13 at the end of the first half.

Third quarter action opened with centerback Gary Roushlish intercepting a Bobcat pass, putting the Broncos first and ten on the Bobcat 21 yard line. Stern, then handed off to fullback Bob Cleveland, who took it in for the score. Rife's PAT was good, and Boise State then led 27-13.

The next series saw Montana State bounce right back. The Bobcats scored on two plays, capped by an 81-yard drive down the left sideline to Brian Flagg. Holder's two point conversion attempt was good, and the Bobcats narrowed the Broncos lead to just 29-27.

Montana State wasn't finished, however. Four series later, the Bobcats threatened again. After the Bobcat drive was stopped short at their own 35, the ball was pun ted away to the BSU one, where it was tucked by Flagg and taken by Montana State. Holder then carried it in for the touchdown, followed by a PAT by Bolton that was no good. The Bobcats tied the score at 27 all.
The fourth quarter was something else again. With 1:51 left in the game, Montana State scored on a 4-yard run by Holder, capping a drive of 77 yards. The PAT was good, and the Bobcats took the lead 34-27. What was set to come could easily be considered a small miracle. The next series, Lee Hurley came in the game to replace Stern.

After three plays, Hurley's pass intended for Holton was intercepted on the BSU 38-yard line, and things looked hopeless for the Broncos.

But not for Gary Roushlish. Holder ran the ball on a keeper, but to his surprise, Roushlish grabbed the ball right out of his hands and turned it back over to the Broncos.

Defense U of I

Boise State's field hockey team scored the season's seventh win by defeating the University of Idaho 4-0.

Corner tubler scored a goal in the middle of the first half giving the Beavers an early lead. The momentum continued until the 4-0 win.

Hame Elliott knocked the second goal for the Beavers and Idaho State at 2:20 at the half. Elliott struck again for the 1-0 win in the second half, insuring the win for Boise State.

le Women's volleyball to host CSI

The BSU women's volleyball team is optimistically awaiting the start of the 1975 season. The team has only three returning players from last year's JV team, with the majority of players made up of freshmen.

Coach Ginger Farabon commented on the team's progress, saying: "We are working with a 6-2 offense, a variation of the 4-2 offense. The 6-2 is new to our team but using this offense gives the team four permanent spikers and two spikers who double as setters. We don't really have a tall team but they are handling the ball effectively." By this time, the BSU volleyball team will be opening their season Tuesday evening at 7:00, by hosting a team from the College of Southern Idaho.
