Arbiter, April 12

Associated Students of Boise State University
The Boise State University School of Vocational-Technical education will soon have two new buildings. The new buildings will be located to the east of the present buildings. In 1974 the Idaho state legislature appropriated $800,000 to build and equip two new buildings. The Idaho Permanent Building Fund Advisory Council approved plans for the new buildings last week.

The new buildings will provide facilities for heavy duty diesel mechanics classes. Up to now these classes have been held in rented space off campus. This new building will provide space for 25 new students, bringing the total to 40 students.

The other building will house the food services training program. Until now this program has been working out of the Boise Interagency Fire Center. The architect for the project will be Palmer Putnam.

Boise State Vo-Tech plans expansion

The library this past year has received many requests for changes and extensions of hours. The library serves the needs of all campus users and programs and we would like to include as many of your suggestions as possible. Although our resources are quite limited and we don't know yet whether we can add any additional hours of service next year, many of your needs indicate that we should extend our services to satisfy your needs.

The library has traditionally cut staff during vacations and breaks to finance longer hours during the term. After we assess what needs to be done, we will make funds available for increased hours. Present library hours are:

- School term and summer
  - Monday-Thursday: 7:00 a.m. - 11:00 p.m.
  - Friday: 7:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
  - Saturday: 9:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.
  - Sunday: 2:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m.
- Thanksgiving vacation: closed
- Christmas vacation: closed

Student assistant job opening available

This is to announce a vacant position which will be occurring within the Office of Student Residential Life for the position of Student Assistant in the Residence Coordinator. This is a part time job involving approximately 10 hours per week for ten months. The Student Assistant to the Director of Student Residential Life should be a student of upperclass standing who has a minimum 2.00 GPA.

The position involves working with residence hall students and faculty. It includes assisting in the physical operation of residence hall staffing, implementation of an ongoing maintenance program, and the general development of training library student staff to manage on-campus properties. The Student Assistant is expected to attend evening meetings, but the schedule of work hours is generally set up to the student.

Applicants should apply at the Office of Student Residential Life in room S110 of the Administration Building. Deadline is April 23.

New concept—cooperation

Later this week, a new concept in journalism in higher education will be distributed on campuses throughout the state of Idaho. This concept is an informative newspaper put together by the Idaho Collegiate Press Association.

The ICPA is an organization formed several years ago to further journalism in the state's institutions of higher learning, but up to now it has not accomplished what it set out to do: coordinating journalistic effort. To correct this, the editor of various college papers in the state endeavored to put out a paper which would be informative and at the same time be a public relations tool.

Since this is the first time this has been attempted, there were many problems in organization but these were made up for by the sense of compatibility, not rivalry, between the papers. This is a step in the right direction for schools in Idaho.

Also in the planning stages is an exchange of feature stories and news articles of interest to students all over the state. The ICPA feels that rivalry on the football field is fine, but can be a detriment in other areas. It will be up to the students of the state, however, to determine whether this is a viable alternative to the types of news presently available on the various campuses. A statewide news magazine could very possibly become a tradition.

Beautifully conceived is a statewide news magazine which would unify all journalism in the state's institions of higher learning. To correct this, the Idaho Collegiate Press Association has made an effort toward assistance. President Ford has also asked that an across-the-board 30 per cent on income be charged for the stamps. "There are those who can't afford 15 cent per cent of their income. What are we going to do about them?" Casey asked.

"The program now is efficient because you pay what you can afford to pay."

Casey, who has provided extensive information to the Congress, said the President is highly concerned in what he called "a maneuver that smacks of a pre-Watergate ploy."

"The President's direction is totally misguided," he said. "It appears to be an attempt to put overtime on our conscience and say 'we've got a program for the hungry while actually saving bucks at the expense of the needy.'"

He added that the administrative savings in implementing the new regulations won't be significant. "The only savings come in eliminating needy participants."

In addition to the standard deduction and the 30 cent per price, the President's plan calls for 90-day income averaging, which would force many unemployed persons to wait three months before becoming eligible for food stamps. Casey said the income averaging would have drastic effects on migrants, the temporarily unemployed and those who have an immediate need.

"I don't know if anything can stop this rush to the altar with the sacrificial lamb," Casey said. He told the group that, "even so, he urged questions and suggested everyone concerned to write Idaho's congressional delegation."

Casey said he will be making similar remarks to other organizations in Boise and the surrounding area. He said he was becoming frustrated because distortions seem to be winning out over the true story.

Casey added that he is available for comment and requests for information at El-Ada Community Action Agency.

The National Arbiter

'A step in the right direction'

Editor, the ARBITER

I realize that your recent April Fool's issue of Arbiter was meant as a farce and to be taken lightly, but it did not come off that way in my opinion. It certainly was amusing, but I felt that it finally had a few things to say that were worth reading. It seems unfortunate that it took the guise of a not-so-serious issue to make sense of this university system. Or at least it was a step in the right direction (especially enjoyed Stepppe as Student Leader).

As you can see, the Arbiter has long held the dubious title of "ARBITER". A university paper should reflect a little more than a glorified compilation of the campus news. I don't think I am alone in this opinion. We shouldn't be so afraid to "say" something. With regards to the recent issue of the Arbiter, I say, more, more! Cheryl Weber

Women

A right to decide on what they want out of life

Editor, the ARBITER

The women of today have achieved many opportunities, one of which is the right to decide on what they want as individuals out of life. Life is full of many decisions and today's woman is free to decide which road she wishes to take. That is one of the great ideals of our society, the right of each woman to decide her life. She is free as in no other time in history to enter a controversial beauty pageant or to protest it. However, I feel that we, as women, owe each other the right to make these individual decisions. We have come too far to let conflicting views between ourselves take away our individuality. I do not condemn nor do I condone action taken against the Miss BSU pageant, for each woman should express herself as an individual. I felt I did this through my talent, others through protesting. It is an awakening thought, however, to know that anyone, if they look hard enough, can find something in life that they disagree with. A beauty pageant being no exception. The pageant to me was a great opportunity to express myself as an individual and to meet other women who expressed themselves differently, whether it be twirling a baton, singing, dancing... or carrying a protest sign.

In closing, I can only hope that we as women allow each other the right to individual decisions and individuality afforded by our society which each woman, so deserves.

Valdez thanks supporters

Editor, the ARBITER

I'd like to thank all those who supported my candidacy. It was a learning experience for me. However, my greatest joy would be to see more minority representation in student government. Since I have been at BSU, Nate Kim is the only minority figure involved with student politics, and he has done a tremendous job.

Contestant comments on Boise State pageant

Editor, the ARBITER

In the last few weeks, much has been written to the Arbiter in regard to the Boise State Pageant as seen from the picket line. Little, however, has been printed from the standpoint of an audience and eight contestants.

It is unfortunate that the two women sponsored by Women's Alliance withdrew prematurely from competition. They left with a considerable number of half-truths and misconceptions which could have been removed with a minimum of effort. For instance, the swimsuit competition remained part of the program as a result of a majority vote by the women involved. We were neither afraid nor ashamed to show that health and physical fitness are as important to our well-being as they are to a professional athlete. Adequately few scholarships for women! To call the contest an example of prostitution is slanderous and totally unfounded.

The new Miss BSU, Barbara Shewey, is a capable and intelligent human being. Her ambitions and grades speak for themselves, but she is equally capable of speaking for herself and representing Boise State to the public on the students' behalf. I believe the Miss BSU Pageant is an opportunity for all young women to express themselves with dignity and character. Nothing after the fact can change that.

Summer parking rules in effect May 17

Effective May 17, 1976, Boise State University will change parking regulations for the summer months. There will be no reserved parking spaces during the summer sessions. All vehicles, however, will require a campus parking decal, which will entitle people to park in any legitimate parking space. The City of Boise will still enforce "no parking" areas, and will issue tickets for non-decked vehicles not in visitor spaces.

Persons presently holding reserved spaces will have the option to re-purchase the same space from August 3 through August 13, 1976, at the Parking Control Office, Room 205.

Beginning August 16th, the balance of reserved spaces will be for sale on a first come, first served basis. Regular $2.00 decals will also go on sale August 16th for those wishing to park on campus in other than reserved spaces. Any reserved spaces left after September 15th will be sold as regular $2.00 spaces.

Some minor changes will be made in the parking spaces, which will be announced at a later date.

For your body's sake

With warm weather come favorite American pastimes: camping, hiking, and back packing; also the possibility of contacting Rocky Mountain spotted Fever. In spite of its name, it appears throughout the U.S. Although usually a mild disease, it can be severe, and early treatment is important.

It is transported to man by the bite of an infected tick; usually in late Spring or Summer. Incubation period is 4 to 6 days. Onset is generally abrupt with chills, loss of appetite, headache, muscle and joint pains. Rash is the most characteristic symptom and may be confused with measles. First the rash appears on the ankles and wrists, and within 2 to 3 days spreads to most of the body and the more prominent extremities. The disease may be prevented by chemical repellents and clothing to cover most of the body. Even if bitten, a person may prevent the disease. The tick must be attached 4 to 6 hours before intracellular organisms (rickettsiae) bearing the disease inside the body. People in hazardous areas should inspect themselves, especially hair covered areas, and their clothing carefully and frequently for removal of ticks. Do not smash or touch the tick with your bare hands. Do not rub the bite. The area of the bite should be disinfected immediately. Removal of the entire tick is essential.

Preventive vaccination is recommended only for persons with heavy (daily) exposure.

Boise State debaters succeed at Reno

Boise State debaters closed out their forensic season with an impressive performance at the Nevada Great Western tournament, held April 2-3 at Reno, Nevada.

The team of Chris Schultheis and Bob Barracough won third place in debate competition, beating one team from Brigham Young University in quarterfinal eliminations and then losing to another BYU squad in the semi-finals.

Both Schultheis and Barracough were recognized as top speakers at the tournament, with Barracough tying for third place and Schultheis tying for first speaker position. Only one speaker point separated the first and third positions, which were determined from among over 80 contestants.

The tournament was the last of approximately 30 meets featuring Cross-Examination Debate Association (CEDA) style debate, and sweepstakes awards were presented to schools with outstanding overall performance in CEDA competition during the season.

Boise State won a sixth place trophy, and received a special commendation from Dr. Jack House, forensic director at California State Long Beach and founder of CEDA debate. Other schools in the top 10 had competed at all or most of the CEDA meets, he noted, while Boise State won its sixth place standing after competing at only 3 CEDA tournaments. Those meets were at the University of Utah, University of Arizona, and University of Nevada-Reno.

SAC invites public to Pioneer meeting

by the Student Action Committee

The BSU Student Action Committee is issuing an invitation to the public, the press and the Ada County Commissioners to attend a meeting to be held Tuesday, April 13, from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. in the BSU Student Union Building Big Four Room.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the reasons why the commissioners have declined to put the Pioneer Power Plant question on the May Primary ballot if the commissioners fail to appear, members of the Committee to put Pioneer on the ballot have promised to attend and will answer all and any questions relating to their campaign.

This public installation follows a private invitation which the commissioners declined. In their reply to the installation, the commissioners stated that they felt that "information concerning their position in government" is a "issue for the public. We respect the public's right to know."

The meeting will be held Thursday, April 15 at 10 a.m. in the Boisean Lounge of the USB on the Ada County Commission.

We sincerely hope that the commissioners will decide to appear at this public meeting. Their continued refusal to appear at the public assembly, to discuss their position on the Pioneer question, can indicate only two things: 1) that they have no opinion on the subject, or 2) that they don't want the people of Ada County to hear what the people elected them to do.

The twelfth thousand for hundred residents in Ada County who have voted the petition to put Pioneer in the ballot deserves their questions answered. We hope the commissioners agree.

Senate Report

Administration could control KBSU

by George Nett

Nate Kim, ASBSU President, informed the Senate last Tuesday that the radio station, funded by the ASBSU, could be controlled by the BSU administration. The station, expected to go into operation the latter part of this year, would be placed under the auspices of the Communication Department. The station would be student staffed.

The control by the administration was forwarded by the action of the FCC in granting the radio charter. Kim recommended the Senators look for some other means of control, "As the Communication Department will have complete jurisdiction of our funds." Howard Welsh, Health Sciences, proposed that the Senate send a copy of the student chartering to the President and show him that the Senate retains the "power" of means of control, "As the President and show him that the Senate Report Publishing Board," he stated.

In another part of his report, Kim announced that the radio station, currently 528 is channeled into scholarships, and "$2 for the yearbook cost 52.50 to be printed." He also reported on the "S2,520 scholarship parking lots be diverted into" the upcoming weeks are: Pop Concerts and unique expenses S2,520. Kim also announced that the Finance Management Board approved a system which would help stop the administration from affecting student funds. He stated that the funds obtained from the scholarship parking lots be diverted into a fund supporting faculty scholarships. These monies would be paid by the faculty, not by the students.

The Senate, he said, should come up with a more responsibile program. Kim also reported on the Senate Report Publishing Board proposed a restructuring of the Athletic Board of Control. At routine meetings fifty per cent of the members would be students. When a vote affecting student funds occurred the students would have a guaranteed voting right. They are presently invited to the board.

Nate Kim pointed out that at the State Board meeting the board had "almost a unanimous vote against that, against the students." He proposed that an interscholastic committee be established, similar to the athletic suit be instituted.

The motion was committed to Student Affairs.

The minutes of the Financial Advisory Board were presented with the Les Bois budget and the Broadcast Board budget requests. The Les Bois asked for $4,875 to produce the yearbook, which would be sold for $2.50. The yearbook cost $4 for part-time students.

The Broadcast Board requested $31,095. Supplies would be S2,755; equipment, $1,399; maintenance and repair, $1,000; salaries, S50,500; and unique expenses S2,520.

Howard Welsh proposed that a committee be established which would form a student Bill of Rights. This would allow the student to know what he could expect and demand from the university community. The committee would be a joint committee including members of this year and next years senates. Welsh, Mike Hoffman and Scott Whipple volunteered for inclusion on this committee.

The motion passed on a voice vote.

Acts from the Downtown
SUPB presents rock opera

April 20 through the 24, the BSU Programs Board will present the rock opera Demons and Wizards based on the album of the same name by Uriah Heep.

The presentation of this opera has a long history. It was originally conceived as a senior project to be presented this year in the theatre arts department. The production that was to done was Tommy. When the motion picture came out however, the rights to produce the play were withdrawn and it could not be done.

Earlier in the year this production of Demons and Wizards was adapted. No other rock programs available seemed right, so the directors chose to adapt the concept albums of Uriah Heep into a theatrical production. Music was taken from all the Uriah Heep albums and arranged to represent a plot. To tie it together, some original material was written, and music was adapted from other sources.

The production, slated for the Subal theatre next week, will be absolutely free to all BSU students.

Burrows to present 'Children'

Broadway actress Vinie Burrows will present her one-woman show, "Walk Together Children", at 8:00 p.m., April 20, at Boise High School.

The presentation is a collage of poetry, song and prose evoking the black journey from the auction block to contemporary times. Ms. Burrows uses the words of ex-slaves, historical figures, and key works by June Jordan, Imamu Baraka, Robert Hayden, Don Lee, and more than a dozen gifted black writers in her portrayal.

Burrows is a native born New Yorker and a graduate of New York University. She made her broadway debut with Helen Hayes in "The Wisteria Trees" and has appeared in six other Broadway shows with the likes of Ossie Davis, Raymond St. Jacques, Mary Martin, Ethel Kirt, Godfrey Cambridge and others.

"Walk Together Children" has been performed worldwide and the critical acclaim has been ecstatic. Clare Burris of the New York Times has called her "a magnificent performer". The New York Post describes her as funny, gutsy, diverse, colorful, ironic, and apocalyptic.

Any profits from the event which is endorsed by the Boise State University Bicentennial Committee and Boise City Bicentennial Commission will be used for a minority scholarship fund at Boise State University.

Tickets are $1.50 for students with I.D., $2.50 General, $1.00 for elementary and high school students. Tickets are available at Observer Books, Allied Arts Booth and SUB Information Booth.
KYME provides listeners with unique programming

by Rich Landacre

Several weeks ago I made a stop at the radio station KYME, specifically FM, not having evolved into a sophisticated medium. I still believe that to be true, however, I feel justified in presenting a positive side of the situation, that being in my view an AM station. KYME.

The station has been in existence for approximately twenty years and has run the gamut of format change, experienced success to near death due to financial and audience losses, and has survived to become what is probably the most unique station in the area. It is also the lowest powered broadcasting with five hundred watts, as compared to fifty-thousand watt KBOI. That is due to change, most likely within the next six to eight months.

According to Tom Hotchkiss, co-owner of KYME, the station is expecting approval from the FCC to allow a ten kilohertz move from 1320 to K740. That is a move to the area's only FM station, 106.7.

If KYME were allowed to broadcast after sundown, its signal would be affected by the phenomenon known as wave propagation causing the signal to bounce across several states possibly obstructing other broadcasts on 740 in the process.

Hotchkiss, now 50, is a 35 year veteran of radio. Formerly he was the announcer for the Kete Smith Hour. Three years ago Tom saw the station as a dying entity, with a declining audience, and suffering a quarter of a million dollars in losses. He became co-owner and immediately initiated a change in operations, which developed into their present concept of broadcasting, described by Hotchkiss as a "magazine format." One of the qualities involved is the absence of the DJ with the imposition of his personality.

"People who listen to KYME," stated Hotchkiss, "are quite selective. The axiom of the station if not what it has, its what's missing: there are no DJ's shouting the time, the temperature, and their name at you. We did a serious study of what announcers were doing to an audience. I recall monitoring one who exhausted 27 minutes of his program with banalities, analyties, and ingenious infectious remarks that had no redeeming social significance whatsoever."

"When you look at any product on the market," added station manager Steve Oliver, "you have to know what the demand is, and what it is going to be. We looked at what the other stations in the area were doing, and tried to fill the little niche that wasn't being served. That is how we developed, through the process of elimination."

The station is totally receptive to its audience, and is considered by the staff, through their efforts, to be a "personal station." "We try to be personal to the person who is listening," stated continuity director Lynne Curtis.

As a listener would observe, there exists a positive approach to the news, public affairs and service in KYME's format.

Program director Andy Peters spends a good portion of his day researching and writing "radio pictorials," a pleasantly diversified alternative to a usual newscast. Rather than repeating the news that is heard on other stations in the area, KYME's belief is that "people are interesting," which is the basis for its news reports.

Items that are often overlooked or considered trivial by some newpeople, contain the germ for some fascinating stories, as well as being thought programmable and educational. One is not apt to be jaded by this type of reporting, which is "reported in the format... as opposed to an hourly schedule. Also in the positive approach is the "Sunday Supplement," a vehicle for presenting interesting and philosophical thoughts and ideas that are popular with the listener.

As for the music, I have yet to hear any of the muzak played and continually repeated, as on the "adult contemporary stereo" FM stations in the area. Instead I find a wide variety of rock, jazz-rock and contemporary vocalists that are not programmed through a computerized brain which spews out a tune interrupted with an announcement.

I retract my statement about the lack of sophisticated radio in the area. It's disappointing however, that KYME is not on the FM frequency; but as Mick Jagger says, you can't always get what you want, but you find you can get what you need.

Radio will endure... The paradox is that when times are bad, ad budgets that can't afford to go into TV often go into radio.

Radio enjoyed a 10 per cent increase in revenues overall in our worst recessionary year.

Tom Hotchkiss, co-owner KYME-radio

Versatile Lynne Curtis serves not only as the station continuity director, but writes copy, prepares the ad spots, and handles the ad work. Like all the staff, she has been indoctrinated with the station's unique format and has become a master in understanding the concept. Everyone is involved in most facets of the operation. There are no specialists, and with that type of organization in effect, there is a pithy phrase for the smooth operation of this growing station. "You can't get there from here..."

Lynne has traveled a good portion of the world, and spentsometime in Viet Nam as a freelance writer and lived a period of time in San Francisco working in a similar capacity for station KTOM.

Radio will endure... The paradox is that when times are bad, ad budgets that can't afford to go into TV often go into radio.

Radio enjoyed a 10 per cent increase in revenues overall in our worst recessionary year.

Lee Jackson, KYME's production manager, came to the station two months ago after a two year absence from radio. He started out as a DJ in high school in Preme, Idaho, with stations KEEG and KKIX. He then moved on to Salt Lake stations KBBS and KWIC. In 1968, Lee moved to KINS AM-FM in Buxa, California and from there came to Boise. After spending almost three years as program director at KAD, he left but continued to do sales over the air, production from time to time, and finally returned to the airwaves on KYME.

Radio will endure... The paradox is that when times are bad, ad budgets that can't afford to go into TV often go into radio.

Radio enjoyed a 10 per cent increase in revenues overall in our worst recessionary year.

Auto exhibit, rally slated for April 24

The Student Union Program Board is sponsoring an antique auto exhibit and rally on Saturday, April 24. The exhibit is open to everyone and all entrants are welcome to contact the Student Union Program Board at 385-1223. The rally will begin at 12:30 p.m. and will be conducted by the Southwest Idaho Sports Car Club.

Several beautiful trophies will be offered and it is hoped that the students will represent an organization so that the new traveling trophy can be held by the student who is sponsoring the organization for one year.

Plaques and trophies are also offered for the driver and his sponsoring club. The exhibition will begin at 10:00 a.m. and will last until 4:00 p.m.

Everyone wants to know about the Superstars. This fun competition will be provided by the SUB Game Room. Students can participate in these events starting on April 20th through April 22. These activities are still in organizational form and any interested student should again contact the Program Board for further information.

Hoyt Axton will be appearing in concert for two shows at the SUB ballroom on April 17.

Writer-performer Hoyt Axton comes to Ballroom April 17

Recently featured on his own NBC television special, Hoyt Axton will give two performances with his right piece band on Saturday night, 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., April 17, in the SUB Ballroom. Also appearing with him will be Katy Moffitt, the latest Columbia release, “I Can Almost See Houston From Here” is climbing high on the charts.

Hoyt gained inspiration as a songwriter back in ’55 when his mother wrote Elvis Presley’s hit single “Heartbreak Hotel.” Seven years later in 1962 Hoyt Axton co-wrote “Greenback Dollar” - an instant hit by the Kingston Trio. Since then he has written dozens of songs and recorded a dozen albums, his most recent one, “Fearless,” on the A & M label. In 1969-70 he traveled with Three Dog Night as their opening act and wrote two hits for the group, “Joy To The World” and “Never Been To Spain.” From his second album on the A & M label Hoyt triumphed with two country & western hits, “When the Morning Comes,” and the funny “Booey Fingers.” And I need to mention that it was Axton who wrote “No No Song” that Ringo Starr did so nicely with.

He has been described as a “nice farm boy/Okie, to a rowdy Ripple-drinking hick.” His songs have been recorded by the top artists in the business, from Joan Baez to the Jazz Crusaders.

This man has a lot of character, and as his songs prove, his soul is in his music. Definitely some fine entertain-ment will be happening Saturday evening.

Ford's budget squeezes student aid

By Curt Koehler

(CPS) - Students stand to lose more than $1.1 billion in federal financial aid under President Ford's proposed new federal budget that slashes, jabs and snips current student aid programs.

Ford asked Congress for a two-year, $2 billion spending cut for programs administered by the regular Office of Education student aid programs and called for the phase out of all Office of Social Security and Veterans educational benefits. The combined effect of these proposals could be the loss of some 1.2 million grants, loans and jobs for students.

While Congress will undoubtedly reject many of the President's proposals, the budget nonetheless marked the opening salvo in Washington's annual battle of statistics between the President and Congress, Republicans and Democrats, military hardliners and social activists.

Battle In The Office of Education

The attention of education budget-watchers is traditionally focused on the Office of Education student aid programs administered by the Department of Health Education and Welfare's Office of Education (OE). Under Ford's proposals, these programs would be cut $3.4 billion, resulting in a potential loss of 603,000 grants, loans and work-study jobs.

Ford once again chose to follow the Nixon higher education plan of concentrating funds in Basic Education Grants and new funds for National Direct Student Loans. Two other programs, Guaranteed Student Loans and State Student Aid, would be maintained at their present levels. Unlike Nixon, whose College Work Study would be cut by more than one-third of its current budget, Ford would cut all.

The Basic Grants Squeeze

Due to the spiraling costs of the Basic Grants program, Congress' traditional pet project of dividing OE's funds among all the education programs may no longer be possible.

It is estimated that for only $1.1 billion Ford would fund an estimated 1.27 million Basic Grants for the '77-'78 academic year. But Ford's estimates of the number of students who would be using Basic Grants and the amount this would cost for the '77-'78 academic year are highly suspect. As a result, thousands of students and millions of dollars could be cut.

The estimated 1.27 million students would receive Basic Grants during the '77-'78 academic year. But Ford's estimates of the number of students using Basic Grants and the amount this would cost for the '77-'78 academic year are highly suspect. As a result, thousands of students and millions of dollars could be cut.

Education analysts are predicting Basic Grants use that year somewhere between 1.5 and 1.6 million students.

To make matters worse, if certain changes in the Basic Grants program which are now being considered by Congress are adopted, the cost for the '77-'78 academic year could skyrocket to a total of $2 billion. Consequently Basic Grants alone could grow to 2.7 million students-usually allocated for all OE student aid programs.

More bad news comes in Ford's proposals for Supplemental Grants which heretofore abound for about 445,000 students with an average of $690 per student up to a maximum of $1,500. The Supplemental Grants are designed to give extra cash and aid, to help in keeping students with "exceptional need" who Ford sees them as overlapping the function of Basic Grants and he therefore proposed that they be terminated.

Unfortunately the Basic Grants do not show an increase in funding in keeping to plug up the slack that would be left by the elimination of the current $230 million allocation for Supplemental Grants. Furthermore, the $1.27 billion Ford has for Basic Grants means that students who could have received $2,000 or more in student aid programs would now be re- sented to a total grant of $1,400.

The Loan Crunch

Because Ford believes that the National Direct Student Loans are "implicated" of Guaranteed Student Loans, he proposed no new funds for this program which provides schools with funds to make student loans at a three percent interest rate.

The result of this cut of $200 million would be 329,000 fewer loans to students. But because of repayments already made by students to the program, $250 million would nonetheless be available to finance 505,000 loans even without additional new funding.

Guaranteed Student Loans, which unlike National Direct Loans are administered almost entirely through private lenders like banks and credit unions, were slated to replace the National Direct Loans but additional funds to pick up the $329,000 lost National Direct Loans were not budgeted.

And in another small squeeze for students, Ford proposed raising Guaranteed Loan interest rates from 5 to 8 percent to make the loans more profitable for private lenders. Ford predicted cutbacks in Collegiately, from $390 million to $250 million would result in a loss of 245,000 jobs. Work study money is currently matched $1 to 3 percent contribution from the school. Ford has proposed raising the institutional share to 50 percent state year where appropriate.

A Slash At Social Security

The Office of Education programs distribute only 26 percent of all Social Security and Veterans educational benefits passing out most of the money. Therefore, proposed eliminations of these programs—which now provide $3.5 billion in aid to some 2.7 million students—constituites the greatest threat to funds specifically earmarked for education.

In what one education lobbyist called a "particularly mean" proposal, Ford asked to phase out Social Security education benefits for the survivors or dependents of deceased, retired or disabled workers. The budget requests approximately $1.06 billion in Social Security student aid, a reduction of $283 million from the estimated $1.3 billion the program would cost without the new benefit. By re-directing Ford's proposal, the phase-out would be completed around 1980.

Although the budget statement argues that education benefits are "implied" by other programs more appropriately be provided under regular OE grant and loan programs, no new funds were budgeted to replace the proposal. The argument is on the basis of Social Security benefits. Thus the cut could potentially cost students up to $1.3 billion in lost aid.

The Battle Over GI Benefits

Veterans educational benefits, currently providing $4.6 billion in student aid to more than two million students, would also be squeezed out over the next 15 years or so. The House has already agreed to scaling with the President in cutting out GI benefits.

Advocates of the cutbacks argued that GI benefits should be restricted to combat soldiers in wartime and claim that new military pay scales are high enough to eliminate the need for specifically targeted educational aid anyway.

Opponents of the change claim GI benefits are an important recruitment tool for the military and provide a unique and substantial mechanism for creating educational opportunites that would otherwise not attend college. And because many veterans attend public colleges, particularly community colleges, GI benefits fund a substantial share of income for these schools.

Reductions in the number of eligible students for GI benefits are reflected in the $1.3 billion reduction in GI benefit spending. While exact figures are not available, calculations based on figures for total GI benefit spending indicate that some $6 billion of the $1.3 billion in reduced spending would be the result of cutbacks.

The House has already passed a bill phasing out GI educational benefits, the fate of the measure in the Senate is unclear.

Applications remain open thru April 23

Student applications are still being accepted for the 1976 INSTITUTE ON COMPARATIVE POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC SYSTEMS at George Town University, Washington, D.C. from June 11 through July 31, 1976.

This unique educational program for college students in our Nation's Capital combines coursework at Georgetown University with internships on Capitol Hill and an evening lecture series. The American Foreign Policy Forum, Institute attendees take two courses—Comparative Political Systems and Comparative Economic Systems, carrying a total of six credit hours. All students are placed as volunteer interns in Senate and Congressional offices during the afternoon working hours.

FULL AND PARTIAL SCHOLARSHIPS TO THE 1976 SUMMER INSTITUTE are available to qualified students from the Charles Edison Mem- orial Youth Fund, which sponsors the program. SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE UPON REQUEST at the below address.

Students who have completed their freshman year of college and are in good standing at their institution may apply. The selection deadline has been EXTENDED TO APRIL 23, 1976. For additional information and application forms, see enclosed brochure. Requests for additional brochures should be sent to:

Dr. Lev E. Dobrinally, Director Institute on Comparative Political and Economic Systems, 2212 P St., N.W., Suite 222, Washington, D.C. 20037, Phone: 202/669-9122

Interdisciplinary courses may come to Boise State

Faculty members from the humanities' departments have submitted to the National Endowment for the Humanities a grand proposal for a program which would fund interdisciplinary, team-taught courses in the humanities.

Courses funded through the grant will be offered under the existing humanities course structure at Boise State, supplemented by Department of English. Once the core course has been modified to a firm format, it would be introduced into the curriculum as a regular offering.

It would be available to students as a general education requirement as a means of fulfilling Area I requirements.

Two kinds of classes will be developed. First will be a two-semester, 12 credit course designed for non-humanities majors. The core course, "Humanities: Aspects of the Nature of Man," will be traditional.

The total cost for the program will be $1,276,215, with $749,215 contributed by the National Endowment for the Humanities and $500,138 contributed by Boise State.

Question: What did you think of THE NATIONAL ARMBITER, and do you think we should do something like it again?

Bill Hanson, senior—I think it was good. A lot of the guys really liked it.

Linda Turner, sophomore—I think you should do it again. It was interesting and different. Most of the people I've talked to seem to have enjoyed it.

Pam Simons, sophomore—Yes, I liked it. It was pretty funny.

Carol Green, faculty—Yes, I liked it. It was amusing, and you should do it again.

Gurti Arnold, junior—It was kind of funny for a change, but I wouldn't do it all of the time.

Dan Montasterio, sophomore—I liked it. I thought it was humorous. It added incentive and I think it would be real good if you did it again.

Unidentified—No, I don’t think you should do it again. I didn’t really like it, it was kind of subjective.

Unidentified—Yes, I thought it was very funny.

Cathy Downs, graduate student—It was interesting to me, especially for April Fool's.

Denise Blakeslee, freshman—Well, I thought the idea was good, but it didn't come across as good as it should have. It seems a lot like The National Lampoon, but not really as good. It came across like something from my high school, and I'm from Nampa, so that's kind of bad.

Unidentified—liked it. It was pretty funny. It added incentive and I think it would be real good if you did it again.

Carol Green, faculty—Yes, I thought it was amusing, and you should do it again.

Gurti Arnold, junior—It was kind of funny for a change, but I wouldn't do it all of the time.

Fencing team to host eight team tourny

The Boise State University Fencing Team is sponsoring a fencing tournament Saturday, April 17 in the BSU gym. The competition begins at 9 a.m. on Saturday. The competition will include both novice and advanced fencing categories. Entrants to the competition include both men and women fencers from Washington State University, University of Montana, Montana State University, Western Oregon College, the Pierce Fencing Club and the members of the BSU Fencing Team.

This competition is open to all BSU fencers, regardless of age or ability. The public is invited to attend at no charge. Further information can be obtained from the BSU fencing coach, Dr. Max Callas, who is also an Assistant Professor of Psychology at BSU, or Mrs. Jean Boyle, physical education and fencing instructor at BSU.

For further information, contact Steve Acker at 376-7135 or Carol Antinahala at 344-0743.

Visiting teams will bat one hour before home time for 30 minutes.

Ground rules will be posted in dugouts and copies supplied to Nor-Pac coaches and umpires and filed with Nor-Pac commissioner. Every attempt must be made to play the games as scheduled. However, common courtesy demands traveling teams be notified if fields definitely are unplayable. Alternate field sites should be considered by home coach in advance.

If teams have not travelled, games will be rescheduled by the commissioner. All midweek rainouts should be rescheduled at first open date of both teams.

Weekend rainout priority (visiting team has travelled): If both games are rained out first day (Friday or Saturday), second-day schedule will be kept (Saturday or Sunday), and first-day games played following day (Sunday or Monday); if second day games rained out, they will be played following day; if all four regularly scheduled games rained out, second-day games will be played following day.

Protests must be communicated to the commissioner as soon as possible to expedite rulings. Delay negates any purpose in even considering the protest.

Rain Race is coming
BSU’s John Smith chosen by Dallas

by Marty Most

Last fall Tony Knap called John Smith “the finest running back in the West.” Thursday the National Football Seagulls’ Dallas Cowboys justified Knap’s statement by picking Smith in the third round of the annual college draft. The flashy halfback was the first Division II running back chosen and was second only to California’s highly-touted Chuck Muncie among Western runners. Smith was chosen first-team All-American by the American College Football Coaches All-American team and honored as the Big Sky Offensive Player of the Year in 1975. These facts, coupled with dozens of scouting reports and statistics sheets lead to Smith’s selection by Dallas’ complex and unique computer system, rated the best in the NFL, by most scouts, coaches and general managers.

Smith also holds eight Bronco records including most touchdown, career (431), most points, career (252), most points scored in a season (102 in two consecutive years 74-75) most touchdowns in a season (17 in both 74-75) and most points scored in a game (24 BSU vs. Montana, 1974). Equally impressive are Smith’s individual stats which include 1623 career yards rushing for a 6.2 average (both school records 89 career passes for 1060 yards (an 18.1 yards per catch average) and 24 touchdowns. That means that every forth time Smith caught a pass he carried it in for a touchdown, a fact that would suprise few Big Sky defensive backs. Bronco fans will have a chance to see Smith perform in BSUs uniform May 1 in the annual Varsity-Alumni game.

Undoubtedly one of the best running backs in the history of Boise State football. John Smith is now on his way to the Dallas Cowboys.

Cramer said that the offensive line is lacking in size but has fine athletic ability and aggressiveness. The three top wide receivers in the spring have been Mike Holton, Terry Hutt, and Clarence Smith. The BSU defense has been slowed by freak injuries, just one of which has been contact related.
