4-10-1978

Arbiter, April 10

Associated Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
Three gubernatorial candidates advocate reordering of educational priorities

A reordering of educational priorities was once change advocated by three Republican gubernatorial candidates during a meeting held at Boise State last Friday. The three candidates, Butch Otter, Jay Amyx and Allen Larsen, were on campus to address an open meeting of students, sponsored by Omnicron Delta Epsilon, the BSU economics club.

Asked to address priorities in higher education, Otter, a former state legislator, said that "public bucks should be spent on education," and not only marginally related activities. He criticized the low faculty salaries at BSU and advocated changing the state constitution in the area of higher education.

Allen Larsen, state legislator from Blackfoot, said that the constitution should not be blamed for priorities in education and that strong leadership was necessary from the governor to make sure true education came first in the state's higher education program.

"I know how to get the proper management" to solve the problem was the concept stressed by Jay Amyx, a former Boise mayor, in addressing problems at the state's colleges and universities. Amyx characterized himself as "an American that listens to all sides" in order to develop solutions to problems. Amyx said that his record as Boise's mayor showed that he knows how to "get government to have a heart" and how to solve problems locally, rather than relying on the federal government.

In the area of growth and environment, Amyx said that compromises were necessary to keep both businesses and government in a healthy condition.

Otter stressed, "The federal government is buying control over us with our own money" and that it was time to bring the control over Idaho's resources back to Idaho instead of letting decisions be made by "a bureaucrat who thinks BLM is a foreign gun."

Larsen said that jobs and a quality environment were opposites, and that by properly managing the state's resources both could be preserved.

Larsen applauded nuclear energy as "the type we should go for" to keep a good environment.

Questions answered on pre-registration

by Sally Thomas

Now that students are actually engaged in the pre-registration period, and numerous questions are being discussed around the coke machines, Suzanne Holz, Registration at Boise State, offered answers below to some of the questions most frequently asked by students.

Q: Is there any priority basis for scheduling of classes next fall, or are the classes awarded on a first come, first serve basis?

A: The system is set up to read the cards in this order: graduate student, senior, junior, freshman, and finally, undergraduate special. AS LISTED ON THE BOTTOM OF THE WHITE DEMOGRAPHIC CARD being turned in with the pre-registration form.

Q: What does the term, "undergraduate special," mean?

A: It defines the students who have not yet fully matriculated. If a student received a letter to that effect a few weeks ago, and took whatever steps were necessary to complete their satissation, yet their card still shows "undergraduate special," they should notify the registrar's office.

in Boise State University to go back and investigate alternative proposals to pavilion

On Friday, April 7 Idaho's State Board of Education directed the administration of Boise State University to go back and investigate alternative proposals to pavilion project for BSU.

The direction came after discussion in the Board's executive committee session about the proposed $50 staggered fee increase to fund half the costs of the structure. The board member Janet Hay suggested that between 700-800 would be put together that would effect a few weeks ago, and took whatever steps were necessary to complete their satisfaction, yet their card still shows "undergraduate special," they should notify the registrar's office.

BSU to investigate alternative proposals to pavilion

On Friday, April 7 Idaho's State Board of Education directed the administration of Boise State University to go back and investigate alternative proposals to pavilion project for BSU.

The direction came after discussion in the Board's executive committee session about the proposed $50 staggered fee increase to fund half the costs of the structure. The board member Janet Hay suggested that between 700-800 would be put together that would effect a few weeks ago, and took whatever steps were necessary to complete their satisfaction, yet their card still shows "undergraduate special," they should notify the registrar's office.

Delegates gather to discuss future of ISA

 Representatives from five colleges and universities in Idaho met to discuss the future of the Idaho Student Association (ISA) on Friday, April 7 in Pocatel. Delegates from Idaho State University, University of Idaho, Northwest Nazarene College, Lewis and Clark State College, and Boise State University gathered to outline their needs and desires for the formation of an ISA type organization.

All members appeared to agree that the structure of the organization would require a change to facilitate the desires of all the institutions involved. What that change will be has yet to be decided. The majority of delegates attending said that the future of the ISA should take some basic structure proposed by their own respective governing bodies. Most wanted to sound out the feelings of others and set up their own particular desires to such an organization.

No date was made for further discussion of the issue.
BSU students attend other universities under NSE

Twenty-seven students from Boise State will be attending other universities around the nation under the auspices of the National Student Exchange program (NSE) according to Maureen O’Keefe, NSE student coordinator.

Twenty-nine students from other universities will be attending Boise State during the course of the '78-'79 academic year. The exchanges were made at the annual NSE coordinators' conference in Chicago on March 14 and 15. The conference also featured workshops and an exchange of opinions on the problems NSE coordinators and programs face in the areas of recruiting, administrative cooperation, and future growth of the NSE organization as a whole.

The NSE program itself is unique in that it allows students the opportunity to attend another member university without paying out-of-state tuition for the year or semester the student is at the host institution. Those students scheduled to leave BSU and the schools they will be attending are: U of Oregon-Janet Bates, Robert Gossett; Kathleen Robinson Mary Strahs; Colleen Brennan. Jeanette Wilson; North Carolina State Kathy Burgess; Indiana Purdue-Clink Clark, Jaquie Larson; West Chester-Tim Deau, Tim Lamott; Kristin Mose, Susan Stingley, Julie Woodall; Towson State-Donald Dunn; U Delaware Robert Gossett, Tim Lamott; U of Utah-Lynn Laughe; Fort Hayes-Tammy Lynch; U of Meas at Asbur/Webytimore Mi- nor, Pattie Paulson, Andy Dan- iels; Rutgers- Robert Moore, Denise Tracy; U of Hawaii at Manoa-Cindy Smutsery, Julie Tracy; U of Wisconsin at Green Bay-Kathy Van Lish, Greg Hill. Applicants applying during the spring of '79 are now being accepted. For further information contact the NSE office on the second floor of the SUB or call 385-1280.

Nursing programs get accreditation

The Associate Degree program in Nursing at Boise State University and a cooperative nursing education program between BSU and Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, have been granted continuing accreditation through the Fall of 1985 by the National League for Nursing.

According to Dr. Jodan Vahay, BSU Chairman of the Department of Nursing, the accreditation by the NLN Board of Review certifies that the program has attained the highest level (see page 12).

Young Democrats urged to attend meeting

All students interested in forming a Young Democrats student organization are urged to attend the second meeting on Tuesday, April 11, at 9:00 pm in the Bannock room of the SUB. Guidelines for an organizational constitution will be drawn up at the meeting.

by Chuck Buso

"We were somewhere around Barstow, sick of the edge of the desert when the drugs began to take hold... and suddenly there was a terrible roar all around us and the sky was full of what looked like huge, all swirling and scraping re- round the car, which was going about a hundred miles an hour with the top down to Las Vegas... and a voice was screaming: 'Holy Jesus! What are these goddamn animals!' " -Hunter Thompson, in Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas

Use and Abuse of Drugs is a new course which will be offered this fall by the Health Sciences Department. The instructor will be Dr. Victor Duke, head of the department, and a pharmacologist. Although the course has not been previously offered at BSU, Dr. Duke has taught it before at Montana State where it was quite popular.

The two credit course will focus on the physiological and psychological effects of "recreational" drugs. The effects of commonly used and abused drugs, marijuana, LSD, halluci- nogenics, oxycodone, etc., will be covered.

According to Dr. Duke, the purpose of the course is purely informational. He has no philo- sophical or as to compelling the use of drugs. While noting that he believes there is "no such thing as a victimless crime," and that society must protect the "uninformed," he agrees that criminal prohibi- tions of all kind of drugs generally do more harm than good.

Use and Abuse of Drugs is designed to be comprehensible to any student; Dr. Duke states that "you don't have to be a Biology major" to understand the material he'll present. The course number of Use and Abuse is H-109. Two sections will be offered, one on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 10:40 to 11:30 am, the other on Thursday evenings from 7:00 to 9:00 pm. There is no limit on enrollment.

Alpha Kappa Psi to hold annual spring banquet April 22

The Alpha Kappa Psi Professional Business Fraternity will hold an annual spring banquet on the evening of Saturday, April 22, at the Holiday Inn. Two prominent businessmen will be present to speak at this affair. Mr. Victor Duke, President of Sales and Marketing for the Ore-Ila Foods, will speak on "what employees should expect from their employers," and Thomas H. Allen, senior executive vice-president for Idaho First National Bank, will speak on "Finance." Several awards will be presented to worthy recipients.

Betty Feeny, Griffin, owner and operator of Betty Feeny's Decorator Shop, the Annex I, and the E. C. Barstow Company will receive the "Entrepreneur of the Year" award, and Fred Norman, Director of the BSU Student Union Building, will receive a civic award for his outstanding public service.

Tickets for the Alpha Kappa Psi Spring Banquet are $6.00 each. For further information, contact Miren Totoricas (342-7881) Jim Buchanan (345-2476), or Robert Stingley (342-2895). R.S.V.P. by April 20.

Guzie named recipient of music scholarship

Boise State Senior Music student, Andy Guzie, has recently been named the recipient of the new $200 composition scholarship award by the Tuesday Musical Club of Boise. The Scholarship was awarded on the basis of the knowledge of strict harmonic writing skills, formal structures, originality, creative process and talent. The decision was made on the basis of a chorale arrangement and an original piece, Scherzo for piano. The latter work was prepared by Prof. Carroll Meyer at Guzie's senior composition recital last December.

Mr. Guzie has also won consecutive first and second place composition awards from the National Federation of Music Clubs (CFMC) winner of Compton's Composition Con- test in 1976 and in 1977. Charles Barstow, also a senior composition major, received first runner up in the Tuesday Musical Club of Boise, his chorale and piano piece Fourth of July.

Andy and Charles are composition students of Dr. C. Griffith Bufe (centerpiece) and J. Wulfs Bratt.
Brown Bag Forum continues in April

Advising coordinators for pre-registration announced

The Women's Program Committee of Boise State University continues with the Brown Bag Forum, the topic for April is Women and Economics. There are many questions about the impact of women working and potential problems facing both women and men. What are the career choices? What resources do women have in making those choices? These issues will be discussed during the Brown Bag Forum, Tuesday, April 11, in the Clearwater Room, S.U.B. at Noon, hear from Cindy Wher, Manager of Professional Staffing, Boise Cascade Corporation.

The Peter Principle; our AAUW President, Dr. Marjorie Bell.

This is the first time the system has been used at BSU.

The coordinators will be available to assist faculty advisors in the pre-registration steps for Fall Semester. Students will register according to the following timetable: April 3-14 Pre-registration and

Workshop to explore wildlands of Alaska

This is the year of Alaska. The Boise State University Outdoor Activities Center is sponsoring a local workshop on Alaska that will explore the wildlands of Alaska and the decisions that are being made about them.

This program will feature two outstanding color slides: One Man's Alaska and Land in the Balance. Guest speaker will be Paul Lowe, executive director of the Alaska Center for the Environment. Accompanying Lowe will be John Adams, Caldecors, coordinator of Northern Rockies Group of the Alaska Coalition.

This workshop is one of nine being held throughout Idaho to acquaint citizens with legislation before Congress that would protect about 95 million acres of public lands in Alaska, as new national parks, wildlife refuges, forests and wild rivers.

"Congress must decide the fate of these magnificent federal wildlands this year," Lowe said.

"The question before our national representatives is not whether these lands will be national or state lands, but what status the federal lands will have, parks and refuges or national forests and time, Nancy Jarvis, Business Management Assistant of the U.S. Small Business Administration will discuss SBA's role in assisting women in business.

Position open for Student Assistant

The Office of Student Activities is accepting applications for the position of Student Assistant to the Assistant Director.

The position is for the academic year 1978-79, and is a 10-month job involving approximately 20 hours per week, including evenings and weekends, paying $300 per month. Individuals applying must be Juniors or Seniors during the 1978-79 academic year, with no less than a 3.0 GPA.

Duties for this job involve working with student organizations; initiating and coordinating new projects, coordinating with the development and implementation of social, recreational and educational programs within the student activities framework; conducting correspondence with other educational institutions regarding the status of their extracurricular activities and competitions; preparing newsletters, bulletins, manuals and informational brochures.

Contact: page 6

New lunchroom open to public

- BSU's Food Service Technology division of the Yo-Tech school opened its new lunchroom two weeks ago. The lunchroom is open to the public between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m.; breakfast is served from 7 a.m. until 11 a.m., and lunch is served from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The food served is good, as is the service, and prices are low - for example, coffee costs 15 cents (with free taffies), and a breakfast of two eggs, hash browns, and biscuits cost only 60 cents.

The lunchroom is located at 1311 University Drive (by the stadium parking lot). It will be open through the end of this semester, and will be closed over the summer. It will re-open at the beginning of the fall semester.

Advising coordinators for pre-registration announced

This is the year of Alaska. The Boise State University Outdoor Activities Center is sponsoring a local workshop on Alaska that will explore the wildlands of Alaska and the decisions that are being made about them.

This program will feature two outing color slides: One Man's Alaska and Land in the Balance. Guest speaker will be Paul Lowe, executive director of the Alaska Center for the Environment. Accompanying Lowe will be John Adams, Caldecors, coordinator of Northern Rockies Group of the Alaska Coalition.

This workshop is one of nine being held throughout Idaho to acquaint citizens with legislation before Congress that would protect about 95 million acres of public lands in Alaska, as new national parks, wildlife refuges, forests and wild rivers.

"Congress must decide the fate of these magnificent federal wildlands this year," Lowe said.

"The question before our national representatives is not whether these lands will be national or state lands, but what status the federal lands will have, parks and refuges or Bureau of Land Management." In Boise, the workshop will be held on Monday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the BSU Student Union Big Four Room. The program is free and the public is invited.

The same week, workshops will be held in Sandpoint, Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene and Moscow.

WANTED

Amiable CALM
& Rational People To Sell Ads
for the BSU Arbiter (Regular) And Possibly Next)
A) Experience Preferred
B) We Pay

Apply Now in the
BSU Arbiter
Minidoka Room, 2nd Floor at the SUB or call 385-1464

April 10 1978 / ARBITER / Page 3
AN AMERICAN SUCCESS STORY

by Chuck Bufe

South Korean businessman, and reputed Korean CIA operative, Yongon Park testified before the House Ethics (sic) Committee, last week, that he made payments to 30 congressmen totaling $800,000. Park, who is 43, maintained that he was a "young man" when he began lining the pockets of congressmen (Park's involvement with certain congressmen ended two years ago), and said that, "It is retrospective. I wish I had not done certain things that I did." According to Park, he was acting merely as a private businessman, not as a KCIA agent, when he made the nearly $1 million in payments. He stated that: "I'm sure I made some mistakes. I have no problem admitting that. But I want to tell you what I have done... constitutes an American success story on a small scale."

Special Counsel Leon Jaworski apparently agrees with Park (this should come as no surprise to those familiar with Jaworski's conduct as Watergate special prosecutor). Monday, during a television interview, Jaworski said: "It's not an issue of innocence or guilt. It is faced with the possibility of the Justice Department charges, because he admitted in the following statement (for a moment or two), he believed that in "some instances... people accepted money innocently."

Picture this scenario: Park (preferring an envelope containing $10,000): "A token of my esteem for your services, Jaworski." Jaworski (in the Space Dog): "Why... why, you. You wouldn't want something for this, would you?"

Park: "You silly boy... why would I want anything in return for such trifles?"

Probable? No. But on the frontiers of free enterprise, anything is possible.

GEORGE ORWELL WOULDN'T YOU PLEASE COME HOME

A charity outfit identified by the acronym CHEAR has been running ads lately on KEX news radio. The following is an excerpt from one of their spots: "Often, hearing loss is not detected at birth. This lessens the chances for early detection."

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

On a lighter note, Gene Mauch, manager of the Minnesota Twins, made an interesting comment when he called the term "doubleshink." If anyone thinks that I'm making a case for skyjackers, s/he should rest assured that I most certainly am not. Most of those referred to as "terrorists" in the media are no better than the Schmidt, Carters, Hays, and any other clow.... world. Both groups, the official terrorists (heads of state) and the unofficial terrorists, are equally ready and willing to use the lives of innocent people as pawns in their political power games.

EDITORS: Mary Struby
SPORTS EDITORS: Terry McGaule
LAYOUT EDITOR: Freddie Vincent
AD SALES: Dean Clark, Brad Martin, Terry McGaule
AD LAYOUT: Kevin Merrill
COLUMNISTS: Chuck Bufe, Jean King, Mike Hughes, Sally Thomas
REPORTERS: Bud Humphrey, Bob Brutt, Bud Humphrey, Chuck Bufe
BUSINESS OFFICE: MS-3401
ADVERTISING: 385-1464

PHOTO BUREAU: Ron Ferguson, Dick Selby, Patti Quong, Bob Williams, Andrea Douglas

Established May 1968, the ARBITER is a weekly publication of the Associated Students of Boise State University. Articles and letters to the editor must be submitted to the ARBITER office prior to 5pm the Thursday before each publication, must be typewritten and must bear a legible signature. Letters must be limited to 350 words.

The ARBITER reserves the right to edit for libel and taste. The ARBITER will not be responsible for unsolicited material. Opinions expressed in the ARBITER are those of the author and not necessarily those of the ARBITER editors or the Associated Students of Boise State University. The Associated Students of Boise State University is the legal owner of and subscriber to College Press Service, College Headlines and United Features Syndicate.

The offset of the ARBITER is located on the second floor of the Student Union Building, Boise State University, 1910 University Drive, Boise, Idaho, 83725.
President thanks AKP

Editor, the Arbiter:

I would like to be recorded as having served as President of AKP this term. It is pleasing to note that this group of individuals is one of the most dynamic on the Boise State Campus.

AKP had a very productive year. The members became involved in community and professional activities. Some of the community activities that highlighted the past year were: Phantom Ball for MSTI, donation of $500.00 to MSTI for Shenandoah, Valet parking for the MSTI fund-raising dinners, and various community activities. AKP certainly did its part to help MSTI.

In addition, AKP members became involved with many professional activities, both as professional speakers and as professional attendees of professional meetings, and a general professional attitude of members. For instance, AKP members assisted in coordinating the Buckeye lecture and assisted in chauffeuring business law professors to and from the airport for a business law conference.

Most importantly, members participated in fraternity events that expanded their awareness and understanding of business. Such committees were: regional convention, Spring Banquet, Audit & Finance, Alumni & Faculty, Professional Speaker, Fund Raising, and Membership, Pledge & Social Committees. Consequently, the members learned how to invest our monies, work with the outside business world, plan, organize, and function as professional business people.

In summary, Alpha Kappa Psi members are hard working, motivated, aspiring, and intelligent business people. They are active in many facets of business with diverse perspectives of the business world. In my college career I have served on many committees and participated in many organizations. I have traveled extensively and met many professional business people. However, I must say that the members of Alpha Kappa Psi are impressive people. I wish all members the best in their future. I have many learning experiences as a member of Alpha Kappa Psi has been one of the best, and one I will not forget.

In U and I, Shane Bengoechea
President, Alpha Kappa Psi

American success story

Cont. from Page 4

The next Senate meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 11, at 4:00 in the Student Union Building on the second floor. There will be a meeting of the '77-'78 Senate, which will be followed by the swearing in of all newly elected ASB officers for '78-'79. A short business meeting of those Senators newly sworn in will follow that ceremony. All students are invited to attend and participate in this process.

Cost of a smoking habit

As an Arbiter columnist put forth a modest proposal last week: that the amount of tar and nicotine in cigarettes be increased so as to kill off smokers faster. That's a good idea, but it simply doesn't go far enough. Sterner measures are needed to combat the hordes of pulmonary rapists. (smokers) who term is justified because smokers, like rapists, assault the bodies of others -- respire- systems in the case of smokers -- in the course of satisfying their own sick needs.

One partial solution to the present situation would be to pass legislation mandating that every hundred thousand cigarette manufactured be impregnated with a deadly poison. A desire for revenge against smokers would dictate that a poison such ,as bulbion toxin, which produces a slow, agonizing death, be used instead. There would be at least some advantages in using cyanide -- if you were sitting in a restaurant, and an incompetent slob pulled out a ciggie, you could at least hope that as soon as the cigarette touched the creep's lips, he'd be face down in the lettuce and thousand island, rather than breathng in the air you're breathing with a foul smelling carcinogen.

I know this will never come to pass, but what's life all about if you can't dream?
Entire Music Department goes on tour at one time in the past, the large individual musical ensembles, such as the Meistersingers or the Symphonic Band, were accustomed to touring separately. This year the BSU Music Department went on tour all at one time. "It was a new project for us..." commented Wilber Elliott, Chairman, "... touring as a full department as opposed to touring in individual groups." Elliott believed that on the whole, the tour was very successful. "There are problems, of course, that come up anytime you try something new." Poor attendance during the evening performances seemed a common occurrence. Whether the small crowds were due to a lack of publicity or a lack of communication, no one really knew. "We started working on the plans for the tour way back in the fall," Elliott said. "Most of the information was finalized by the end of January." The tour was scheduled on the basis of responses to a letter the department sent out to various schools in the area. "The letter said something similar to this," explained Elliott. "The following groups will be in your area on such-and-such a day. Would you request in your order of priority whether you would like a clinic or concert and if so, which groups and what time of day, etc." The groups that went on tour during the week of March 27 to April 1 were the Meistersingers, a choral group of approximately thirty-six members, directed by Wilber Elliott; the Symphonic Band, directed by Melvin Shelton; the Percussion Ensemble, directed by Dr. John Baldwin and the Jazz Ensemble directed by Michael Samblth. All performances begin at 8:15 p.m.

The groups went on tour at one time...
BSU Programs Board presents
Special Events Week

Monday April 10
Tom Scott in concert
8:00 p.m. at the Ada
Theatre
$4.00 stud $5.50 gen

Tuesday April 11
‘The Gong Show’
8:00pm SUB
Ballroom
FREE

Wednesday April 12

Thursday April 13
World Frisbee Champion
Victor Macafronte
Lecture Demonstration
11:30 - 12:30 Clinics
follow all day in the Quad

Mon. April 10
Tom Scott in Concert - $4.00 Students - $5.50 General
8:00 p.m. -- Ada Theatre
Pinball Tournament -- Games Area

Tue. April 11
‘The Gong Show’ — 8:00 p.m.
SUB Ballroom—FREE!
Croquet — 10:00 a.m.- 3:00 p.m. — Quad
Pinball Tournament — Games Area

Thur. April 13
Same as Wednesday
Frisbee Tournament - 10:00 a.m. - on, SUB lawn
Pinball Tournament — Games Area
Pinochle Tournament - 7:00 p.m., w/trophies

Fri. April 14
ROTC Repelling the Special Events Center All afternoon
Picnic, Julia Davis Park. 4:00 p.m. Live Bands
All students, faculty, and staff welcome
Prices to be announced.
International Films — “Smiles of a Summer Night”
7:00 p.m., Boisean Lounge
Pinball Tournament — Games Area

Sat. April 15
I.K. Spring Fling - Roby Creek - 2:00 p.m.
[FOOD and BEER] - Price to be announced
Mel Brooks Film Festival
50¢ Students — $1.00 General
2:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. - Boisean Lounge
TRAVELING LIGHT

by Donn Clark

"Hot L Baltimore" was one of the two longtime prestigious hotel but lives with it anyway. Obviously Katz is the immaturity is revealed by her jacket before ducking behind a rain falls and the skies are grey. Spring, when it's raw in the morning and cold at night; when fruit blooms reaches 100 percent for days without end, completes' ugliest time of the year. The other Hotel Baltimore oldster, is the ghosts that she knew and into ghosts and spirits of the past. She knew a slave, strange the conditions (either too hot or too cold) at the hotel. Each minute of the play changes a cherished beauty just can't pull enough together to get involved. Other members of the cast wandered on stage and stayed, or just passed through. (Steve Welker) the night clerk, looks like someone out of the late 50's. He lives well with the residents, enjoys the other's excitement, and probably in - again to a tired where after a hard day's work. Jacky (Ginger Scott) is a fast talking, scheming young lady who has plans. Unfortunately the ideas had no end result, the goals were never accomplished. (Jamie DaPin) is Jacky's younger brother. Jamie was spot. He is just present, being told what to do or not to do. After hours of playing checkers with Mr. Morse, they end in a physical fight. Suzy (Victoria Holloway) is another prostitute residing at the hotel. This energetic, hyper, lively lady in the prime of her career. Unfortunately this scut- terbrained beauty just can't seem to accomplish anything. What is there to say about the next offering? Reading the billing itself and Book. A Grand Pas De Deux in a more modern idol with an oriental flair, this reviewer scarcely knew what to anticipate. So it turned out that the billing was even stranger. Once or twice it seemed as though the mechanics so neces- sary, (cont. on page 15)
ONE PLANET

ONE PEOPLE

Bahá’í Faith

"The earth is but one country; and mankind its citizens."

— Bahá’u’lláh
A Religion Dedicated to Building Unity

BAHA’I:
World Faith for Modern Man

Nature and Purpose

The Baha’i Faith is a new, independent, universal religion, whose goal is to revital the barriers between peoples, and to lay the foundation for a unified world society based upon principles of justice and love.

The Faith recognizes that the major problem of our age is the resolution of a series of deeply ingrained conflicts which are interrelated and penetrate various levels of society: conflicts between ideolo gies, nations, religions, races, and classes.
Such conflicts, when combined with the
weapons of annihilation our age has pro duced, threaten the future of civilization
as we know it. They misdirect the efforts of science and technology at a time when man is beginning to discover the myster ies of interplanetary space and harness
new sources of power. They consume an inordinate proportion of our productive energies and divert attention from the
levels of society: conflicts between ideolo
gies, nations, religions, races, and classes.
Such conflicts, when combined with the
weapons of annihilation our age has pro duced, threaten the future of civilization
as we know it. They misdirect the efforts of science and technology at a time when
man is beginning to discover the myster
ies of interplanetary space and harness
new sources of power. They consume an inordinate proportion of our productive
energies and divert attention from the
The main stumbling block to religious unity has been the insistence of each major faith that its Founder and Prophet possesses some degree of exclusive author ity or finality. The Baha’i Faith teaches that this traditional division has resulted from a misinterpretation of the spiritual words of these great spiritual figures. In the Baha’i view, the unknowable force which is responsible for all creation, guides and assists the apex of His creation, mankind, by periodically sending an Edu cator. This Educator, a man physically like other men, has been selected by God divinely inspired to carry out three functions: (1) to restate the eternal spir tral truths, such as the Golden Rule, which are to be found in most religious Teachings; (2) to bring laws and teachings which apply to the needs of society at His particular time but which are not nec essarily meant to be permanent; and (3) to release throughout the world a spiritual force intangible but very measurable in its effects, which eventually causes mil ions of people to respond to the Prophet and His Teachings, recognizing both as being from God and enabling the new religion to be the major impetus for the next cyclical upsurge in civilization.

The key to the Baha’i interpretation of the meaning of religion in the develop ment of society is its emphasis on the periodic, evolutionary nature of this in fluence of God. If God chooses to guide mankind at all, it is logical that He would do so from the very beginning of man’s exist ence and use a means and continue this help indefinitely. And since change and orderly progress are characteristic of all other aspects of our lives, why should they not also apply to our spiritual development?
By regarding God’s Messengers as divinely inspired, speaking the Word of God, occu pying a level of existence well above that of ordinary man, Baha’is revere Them in Their exalted position of spiritual leader ship and as a source of man’s knowledge of God, but they do not worship these Messengers as God incarnate. By accepting the Revelations of the ancients and the founders of the world’s great religions
Krishna, Buddha, Zoroaster, Moses, Jesus Christ and Muhammad, as equally occu pying the station of Manifestations of God, and recognizing the religions
They established as being genuine and true ex pressions of God’s message, the Baha’i view reconciles the basic concepts of these faiths without requiring that loyalty to their belief in the divinity of the Founders of any of them be repudiated. Wide dif ferences in Their Teachings today can be explained by the alterations made by suc cessive Prophets in the laws applicable to the changing needs of society, and by the fact that many of the current teachings of the orthodox churches stem, not from the original words of the Prophets, but from an subsequently added dogma and interpretations of fallible church leaders.
In effect the Baha’is regard all of these major faiths as being a part of the same evolving religion, which has been restated and reinvigorated periodically by the com plicity in the development of our world and become the dominant problem of our time. If the lessons of the past it will come, there is no doubt of a great new spirit from the new reli igious institutions that
And that is exactly Baha’is as the Prophet possessed of the same spiritual dynamic as Moses, and the other faiths to the world as well.
promised the appearance who will unite mankind.

The oneness of mankind: "Ye are the leaves and fruit of one tree, the flowers of one garden, the waves of one sea."

Individual investigation of the truth: "Man must seek the reality himself, forsaking imitation and adherence to mere hereditary forms."

Common foundation of all religions: "Every true Prophet hath regarded his message as fundamentally the same as the Revelation of every other Prophet."

Harmony of science and religion: "Should a man try to fly with the wing of religion alone he would quickly fall into the quagmire of superstition, whilst on the other hand, with the wing of science alone he would also make no progress, but fall into the despairing slough of materialism."

Equality of the sexes: "The chief cause of the mental and physical inequalities of the sexes is due to custom and training, which for ages past have molded woman into the ideal of the weaker vessel."

The world in the past has been ruled by force, and man has dominated over woman by reason of his more forceful and aggressive qualities both of body and mind. But the scales are already shifting — force is losing its weight and mental alertness, intuition, and the spiritual qualities of love and service, in which woman is strong, are gaining ascendancy. Hence the new age will be an age less masculine, and more permeated with the feminine ideals — or, to speak more exactly, will be an age in which the masculine and feminine elements of civilization will be more properly balanced.

Universal education: "To acquire knowledge is incumbent upon all, but of those sciences which may profit the peoples of the earth, and not such sciences as begin in mere words and end in mere words."

International auxiliary language: "Generally speaking, the whole people of the Orient are not fully informed of events in the West, neither can the Westerners put themselves in sympathetic touch with the Easterners; their thoughts are entrenched in a casusalt — the international language will be the master key to open it."

Abolition of extremes of wealth and poverty: "One should not live in excess while another has no possible means of existence."

Universal peace upheld by a world government: "The well-being of mankind, its peace and security, can never be achieved unless and until its unity is firmly established."

The National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the United States reflects the diversity of the American Baha'i community.
No need to ask in Whose presence I stood, as I bowed myself before One Who is the object of a devotion and love which kings might envy and emperors sigh for in vain: because of continued persecutions by the Islamic hierarchy and the Persian and Turkish governments, Bahá'u'lláh and His close followers were kept prisoners until Bahá'u'lláh's death in 1892 and for sixteen years thereafter. The last years of Bahá'u'lláh's life were spent in the Holy Land, at the fortress city of 'Akka and at nearby Bahájí. During all these years of imprisonment He actively worked to establish a firm foundation for the new Faith through copious and inspired Writings and through administering its affairs by correspondence and contact with a stream of visitors. His strong letters to the reigning monarchs of that time accurately foretold the trend of modern history. His spiritual Writings represent the Scriptures of the Bahá'í Faith, in which for the first time the Holy Book of a major religion is available in the authenticated handwriting of its Founder, or signed by the Founder if in the handwriting of a secretary. These Writings are accepted by Bahá'ís as the Word of God for this age, and an important portion of them are now available in English.

In His Will, Bahá'u'lláh appointed His eldest son, 'Abdu'l-Bahá, the central figure in the Faith after His passing. 'Abdu'l-Bahá is in no sense of the word considered to be a divinely inspired Prophet like Bahá'u'lláh and the Bahá'ís; but He is regarded as a perfect exemplar of the spirit of Bahá'u'lláh's Teachings as applied to one man's life, and His explanations of the meanings of these Teachings, written in a somewhat more westernized style than His Father's, are accepted as authentic. He was a saintly man and was loved and revered by all who came in contact with Him.

'Abdu'l-Bahá and His entourage were freed from prison by the Young Turks Revolution in 1908. He moved to Haifa, and today the international headquarters of the Faith are there on Mount Carmel, where a beautiful series of Shrines and gardens have been constructed. 'Abdu'l-Bahá visited Europe in 1911 and Europe and America in 1912, where He spoke to audiences from coast to coast. He was knighted by the British Commonwealth in 1920 for his humanitarian activities during World War I. He died in 1921.

'Abdu'l-Bahá's Will established the institution of the Guardianship and appointed His grandson, Shoghi Effendi, as a Guardian. For thirty-six years Shoghi Effendi labored strenuously to strengthen and develop the Bahá'í Administrative Order. His own writings, many of them in English, have expanded the horizons of the Faith and have given it direction during an exceedingly difficult period in its history. His vision of the Faith, his understanding of world conditions, and his superior abilities as an administrator have been considered by Bahá'ís as the product of divine guidance granted to him in his position as Interpreter of the Bahá'í Teachings.

On November 4, 1957, Shoghi Effendi passed away in London of a heart attack. At the time of his passing, there were twenty-seven persons known as the Hands of the Faith who had been appointed by Him to carry on the unified teaching work and to protect the interests of the Faith. Through their efforts the first Universal House of Justice was elected in 1963 by the fifty-six National Spiritual Assemblies (the nationally elected administrative boards) existing at that time, in accordance with explicit provisions in the Writings of Bahá'u'lláh and 'Abdu'l-Bahá for the election of this supreme institution of the Bahá'í Faith. While democratically elected, the Universal House of Justice, functioning as an entity, is the recipient of divine guidance as assured in the Writings of Bahá'u'lláh. It acts as the supreme legislative body in the Bahá'í world, applying the Teachings of Bahá'u'lláh to specific conditions and problems, and providing the necessary adaptability to new circumstances essential in this fast-changing age.

The Bahá'í Faith is a religion, a society, and a way of life. It reorders spiritual truths the world needs but from which it has turned away, and it provides laws for regulating society that are necessary and suited to the requirements of our own age.

In the words of Shoghi Effendi: "The principle of the Oneness of Mankind... represents the consummation of human evolution—an evolution that has had its earliest beginnings in the birth of family life, its subsequent development in the achievement of tribal solidarity, leading in turn to the constitution of the city-state, and expanding later into the institution of independent and sovereign nations.

"The principle of the Oneness of Mankind, as proclaimed by Bahá'u'lláh, carries with it no more and no less than a solemn assertion that attainment to this final stage in this stupendous evolution is not only necessary but inevitable, that its realization is fast approaching, and that nothing short of a power that is born of God can succeed in establishing it."

Baha'is live in more than 70,000 localities throughout over 310 countries and territories around the world. They come from all different classes, cultures and religious backgrounds, finding in the Bahá'í Faith a basis of unity which appreciates the richness and value of diversity.

Bahá'ís at Boise State University invite you to investigate the promise of the Bahá'í Faith: firesides (informal discussions) are held the first and third Saturdays of each month at 2116 Madison St., Boise at 8 p.m., or you can write for information to the BSA Bahá'í Association, c/o Student Activities Office, 1910 University Drive, Boise, Idaho 83725, or the Information Office at the National Bahá'í Center, 112 Linden Ave., Wilmette, Illinois 60091.

Bahá'í students at BSU will present a literature display in the SUB lobby on Wednesday and Thursday, April 12 and 13, from 9:30 to 3:00. Feel free to drop by and offer any questions.
Presidents give interviews

by Bad Humphrey

On Tuesday, April 11, a student government will be replaced by a new one; and a new contingent will take its place. Whether the new board will be eager to start shaping and accomplishing positive, resulting in a singular unity to get a few overdue term accomplishments, understanding makes for a lot of different people, and a standard faculty evaluation program. "The flexibility of the (evaluation) system is great -- the teacher can evaluate himself in the areas he wants to evaluate himself. In addition to this, it provides standard questions to be asked across the university, and gives us a better idea as to what instructors are most responsive to student needs."

Potential students' reactions to the pavilion question (recently shelved by the State Board) showed Hoffman, said, a healthy interest in what is being done with student government. "I'm happy about the fact the people got together to put together a petition ... it shows someone cares about something," he said of the recent circular protesting the ASB's information campaign on the structure. "I think the trend's been toward being less selfish at the Boise State level," he remarked on the hobby efforts in the Idaho legislature. "Boise State's been a leader in unifying the students of Idaho. We haven't played isolationist -- we've tried to go out and compromise, to make people aware of the importance of a unified effort among students in the state."

The ASB's mistakes this year can be learned from, assured Hoffman. "Some people think the way we handled the pavilion issue was a mistake ... We made a big mistake in trusting the ISA, someone who wasn't trustworthy, and lost a lot of money," he said, referring to Bob Lemmon, former director of the Idaho Student Association, who was convicted of missing ISA funds during his brief directorship last year. Hoffman noted that procedures in the university business office have been tightened as a result.

[cont. on page 10]
Rob Perez, unlike Hoffman who had served as senator and vice-president of the ASB before being elected president, had not been involved in the core of ASBSU government until his election. His first surprise involving the body has been the number of people attending to positions of power.

"I felt they'd hold off for awhile," he said of those who had approached him for spots as department heads well before he was due to take office, and even before he was elected. "I wasn't aware that there were so many people seeking so many positions. I've been kind of busy listening to people talking about why they want the job. I've been listening to all kinds of rhetoric about why they're the person to choose.

"I thought I'd be spending more time on issues, that type of thing. How much has he yet done as far as making decisions on issues with information he's gathered since he was elected? "At this point," he said, "nothing. At this point, I've been talking along with Mike ... talking about personnel in cabinet positions."

Perez has been attending many presidential functions with Hoffman, and has tasted a few of the complexities, roadblocks and bottlenecks involved in the job's decisions. "We dealt with some health insurance matters yesterday -- students may have to experience a five-dollar (per year) increase in fees due to an increase in health insurance costs. We've talked to the athletic department to see if they can absorb some of that increase," he said. "It also sat in on the university budget hearings, where the heads of the school's ... gave proposed budgets, and talked about proposed cuts."

The budget of the ASBSU itself is what Perez sees as the major deterrent to the progress of the student government. "This year, we just haven't had any money -- in the past, things have been more lucrative; we had the money and we could develop some programs. Now the programs have been developed and the money's less. I hesitate to cut back on the programs, but there's nowhere else to go."

"It's a kind of thing where you're cutting off your nose to spite your face," he said of the supposedly "frustrating" job of determining priorities for budget cuts. "We had $353,000 in requests, and we had to cut it down to around $185,000, which we didn't quite do. We budgeted quite optimistically.

"One step toward making the ASBSU able to function with less money, Perez feels, is a consolidation of programs to eliminate duplication of services. "Publicity, public relations ... will take place through the Public Relations Department," he said. "All films and programs ... that will take place through the Programs Board. Say Athletics for Christ ... the Minority Cultural Board wanted a film ... they'd have to go through Programs Board."

Perez noted that due to the financial shortage, films and other programs had to be cut out of the budgets outside of the SUPB. Perez and Steve Buttimer, vice-president-elect, have taken it upon themselves to keep in better touch in the future with the dozens of ASBSU executive committees and university boards with student members.

"I'm assuming they don't feel their capacities are very significant ... we are having a big turnover, people quitting," he noted. "I think that has a great bearing on how the administration perceives the students. I think it's crucial they see us as responsible people."

In general, what Perez wants to accomplish first is "publishing off what's already started" -- "we're going to have to find a way to keep Student Services functioning in a way where we don't have to reinvent the wheel every year, I'd like to look into a dental care program -- right now that's not feasible because of the cost, but I'd like to look into a minor dental care program," he said.

Another high priority on his list is "to get a lot of stuff done" with the help of the communication and sociology departments, to be used as needed by the Programs Board, student lobbyists or the ASB in general, he said. "It would give the students a lot more understanding of ASB, and somehow get some information pertinent to what we're doing." Another project in the works is making brochures on student government to continuing students during the summer to activate interest, he noted.

"The trend I'm trying to combat right now is the same people always frequenting this place, always the same people applying for the different jobs," Perez said. "Anyone ... can have access here, can feel comfortable about coming here, though they're not a part of the people that are always around."

What to take place, he said, is "realization" of the value of the student government, that "we can make a difference here." "One big problem I see is just look out the window, and I see a lot of people who really don't have a clue about what goes on up here."

Because of, for one thing, the ASB's control of money for various extracurricular programs. Perez feels that it has a "Great impact on the educational experience. This year ... since we're not going to have a lack of a lot of money to work with, we're going to be turning down a lot of requests ... I'm going to have to be held accountable to a greater degree, I think, than any other student body president for a long time."

Some pitfalls. But does he expect an enjoyable term of office? Without hesitation: "I do."

Answers on page 12 by Mark C. Brough

1. In what Hitchcock film is a cigarette ground out in a fried egg?
2. What group in 1968 turned the children's game "Simon Says" into a hit?
3. In the television series "Star Trek," what was Dr. McCoy's nickname?
4. "Fatso Judson" was played by whom in "From Here to Eternity?"
5. What song by Jefferson Airplane is based on Alice in Wonderland?
6. Name both pitchers who recorded at least 3,000 strikeouts in their career.
7. Whom did Walter Cronkite replace when he became CBS nightly anchorman for the news in 1963?
8. Errol Flynn portrayed what historical figure in the 1941 film "They Died with Their Boots On?"
9. Who was Captain America's sidekick?
10. Who was the host of "Hollywood?"
Pat Thomason, Senator, speaks out

by Sally Thomas

"In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

There have been comments made about the poll taken at registration. The votes taken were made toward polling the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase. It was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

There have been comments made about the poll taken at registration. The votes taken were made toward polling the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase. It was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

There have been comments made about the poll taken at registration. The votes taken were made toward polling the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase. It was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

There have been comments made about the poll taken at registration. The votes taken were made toward polling the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase. It was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.

In the past, several efforts were made toward polling the students to get input as to how they felt about the pavilion. None of the previous methods used were felt to be adequate because there was a lack of information as to the benefits to be received by the students from the pavilion. In order to get a valid input from the students concerning the pavilion and the accompanying fee increase, it was necessary to instigate an information campaign. We wanted the students to be fully aware of all the ramifications of accepting the pavilion with its accompanying fee increase.
Pre-registration

Office in order to have their card processed in the correct order. Question: What difference will it make if I register for a few credit hours and someone else registers for a lot of credit hours?

- The system will consider seniors, for example, who have registered for the largest number of hours before it reads the cards of those who have registered for fewer hours.

- The more hours you register for, then, the better chance I will have to get my classes?

- There is no built-in safeguard in the system to prevent overscheduling of credit hours. However, each student who signs up for more than eight hours must obtain the signature of their advisor and we certainly think an advisor would not encourage an academically unsound practice.

- If we find that the system is being abused in this respect, we will certainly take steps to correct that abuse in the future.

- Q: What if the computer screws my schedule up?

- A: We will separate those cards. Q: You may not return the payment are seeing on the cards?

- A: There will be a drop/add period in the fall, much as there is now.

- Q: What if I don't pre-register?

- A: There is no penalty for pre-registering. If a student decides he doesn't want to continue in the fall, all he needs do is not return the payment form this summer. If a student does not pre-register and decides to add or drop at the fall, there will be open registration August 29.

- Q: About alternate selections?

- A: The alternate listed from the one class is the only one that will be considered for that class, however, an alternate can be listed more than one time.

- Q: Who is eligible to pre-register?

- A: All full or part-time, day or evening, continuing students. The only requirement is that a student must be enrolled in the current spring semester.

- Q: What about paying for classes?

- A: Payment is due in August. It is VERY IMPORTANT THAT THE ADDRESS ON THE WHITE DEMOGRAPHIC CARD BE CORRECT AND BE ONE WHERE THE STUDENT CAN REACHED IN JULY. If a student fails to return payment prior to the due date, their registration will be cancelled and they will have to register all over again in the fall. We cannot take responsibility for the student who says, "I didn't get my card in the mail!"

- Q: Where do the Vo-Tech students register?

- A: Due to the unusual nature of Vo-Tech, we will handle their registration in a more traditional way. They know what they need and they are set up for their own programs.

- Q: What is the major error you are seeing on the cards?

- A: Students are putting in as alternate, another section of the same course, rather than another course. This is unnecessary as the computer will scan their requested schedule to see if another section of that course is open to the student.

- Q: If I have any more questions?

- A: Come to the Registrar's office and check with myself, Jack Bugge, Debbie Christiansen, or another member of the staff. If the student will take the time to read the instructions on page 5 of the Full "Fall Schedule" booklet and go through the mock-up on page 6, a lot of their questions will be answered.

Hot L Baltimore

The Hot L Baltimore will play through April 15th at the Theater in a Trunk, 1625 W. Bannock Street in Boise.

Student Input

Cont. from page 12

viewing the technique that they incorporated in getting signatures, I could honestly say I could turn around, use the same technique and at least double any number of signatures they could come up with. The reason I make this statement is because I'm very experienced in the communications field and in my opinion the technique they used for getting the said signatures relies more on emotional response to the fee increase rather than the benefits to be derived by the students from the facility itself.

As a final point, I resent the personal attack Mr. Martinzale made in last week's Arbiter on President Hoffman and the student senate, referring to their capabilities in registering the student body of BSU in this issue. To my knowledge, no one person from the senate, nor Mike Hoffman, is out to make a name for him or her self from the pavilion issue. The charge that Mike Hoffman wants to make one big splash for himself before he goes out of office is a manifestation of the emotional technique used by Mr. Martinzale and his petition drive.
by Joe Friday

Saturday was not a good day for the Vandals. They came to Boise hoping to take a doubleheader, but came away humiliated instead. All that was missing was an on-side kick. The Broncos took the first game 7 to 4. BSU's offense was led by pitcher Jim Dawson who provided 3 RBF's with a homer and sacrifice fly by shortstop Dale Baldwin and right fielder Wally Foster also had good days. Baldwin went three for four, scored two runs and drove in one. while Foster went two for four, scored two runs and drove in two runs with a triple. Mark Pederson went the distance for the Broncos, allowing only three hits. one earned run, and three unearned runs on one walk. The Vandals sent thirteen batters to the plate and collected nine runs on only four hits—Vandals batters walked six Broncos in the inning; center fielder Kent Hollingsworth earned two RBF's with a triple; Dale Baldwin slugged two hits in the innings, one an RBI producing triple; and third baseman, Rick Marchello also made it on base twice in the first with a walk, and RBI single. In the second, Wally Foster and first baseman Bill Rorius, both slugged solo home runs. That completed the Broncos' scoring for the afternoon.

The Vandals scored three times in the second game, all three runs resulting from bases-empty homers; in the third inning, shortstop Rick Brot hit a round-tripper, and in the fourth right fielder Kelly Davidson and left fielder Bill Rorius slammed back-to-back home runs.

Tom Williams turned in a complete game for BSU and allowed three runs on six hits, while walking four and striking out eight. Lesser Tim Martin worked two-thirds of an inning, allowing six earned runs on one hit, walked six, and struck out none. Scott Morse finished the game for the Vandals and allowed nine hits and five earned runs; he walked three and struck out two. The final score of the second game was BSU 11, Vandals 3.

The Vandals scored three runs resulting from bases-empty homers; in the inning; center fielder Kent Hollingsworth earned two RBF's with a triple; Dale Baldwin slugged two hits in the innings, one an RBI producing triple; and third baseman, Rick Marchello also made it on base twice in the first with a walk, and RBI single. In the second, Wally Foster and first baseman Bill Rorius, both slugged solo home runs. That completed the Broncos' scoring for the afternoon.

The Vandals scored three times in the second game, all three runs resulting from bases-empty homers; in the third inning, shortstop Rick Brot hit a round-tripper, and in the fourth right fielder Kelly Davidson and left fielder Bill Rorius slammed back-to-back home runs.

Tom Williams turned in a complete game for BSU and allowed three runs on six hits, while walking four and striking out eight. Lesser Tim Martin worked two-thirds of an inning, allowing six earned runs on one hit, walked six, and struck out none. Scott Morse finished the game for the Vandals and allowed nine hits and five earned runs; he walked three and struck out two. The final score of the second game was BSU 11, Vandals 3.

The second favorite of this year's three-year olds is Calumet Farm's Alydar. Calumet Farm has won eight of the previous Kentucky Derbys, and would like to make in with Alydar. Alydar has impressive enough credentials, with wins In seven of his 12 career starts. Four of those losses however, came at the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length. times last year, and Affirmed the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six Alydar has impressive enough credentials, with wins In seven of his 12 career starts. Four of those losses however, came at the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length. times last year, and Affirmed the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length.

The second favorite of this year's three-year olds is Calumet Farm's Alydar. Calumet Farm has won eight of the previous Kentucky Derbys, and would like to make in with Alydar. Alydar has impressive enough credentials, with wins In seven of his 12 career starts. Four of those losses however, came at the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length. times last year, and Affirmed the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length.

The second favorite of this year's three-year olds is Calumet Farm's Alydar. Calumet Farm has won eight of the previous Kentucky Derbys, and would like to make in with Alydar. Alydar has impressive enough credentials, with wins In seven of his 12 career starts. Four of those losses however, came at the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length. times last year, and Affirmed the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length.

The second favorite of this year's three-year olds is Calumet Farm's Alydar. Calumet Farm has won eight of the previous Kentucky Derbys, and would like to make in with Alydar. Alydar has impressive enough credentials, with wins In seven of his 12 career starts. Four of those losses however, came at the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length. times last year, and Affirmed the hands of Affirmed. The two raced against each other six times last year, and Affirmed won four of those and the national championship for two-year-olds. The two times that Affirmed won however, were very impressive. Alydar won the Champagne Stakes by a length.
PART-TIME SCHOOL BUS driver, male or female, age 21 and over. Must have good driving record. Apply at School Bus Company. 341-0159.

FOR SALE

SERVICES

PROFESSIONAL, ACADEMIC AND BUSINESS typing, resumes. Competitive rates. Phone 342-2873.

ACADEMIC RESEARCH

10,000 TOPICS QUALITY GUARANTEED! SEND $1.00 FOR YOUR 22-O PAGE ORDER CATALOG. 11322 IDAHO AVE., 206-110 AGHLIS, CA. 90025 213-477-4747

INSTRUCTION

It's your own hand. Use it to examine your breasts once a month. If you should find a lump or thickening, see your doctor. Remember the earlier the diagnosis and treatment, the better the chances of cure.

Early Warning Device

American Cancer Society
No side seam, just smooth fit from waist to flare leg bottom. This 100% cotton denim, dark blue jeans is a real treat for spring and summer wear.

Duke

THE BON