11-7-1979

Arbiter, November 7

Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
Grants Available

BSU-Boise State University Center for Research, Grants and Contracts identifies monies available for research projects and assists in the development of proposals for grants. This service is available to both faculty members and students. Dr. Gerald Reed, Coordinator of Grants and Contracts, states that there are several million dollars from various federal agencies alone to be distributed to those presenting a "viable proposal." He further states that the old cliché "nothing ventured; nothing gained" still holds true. Funds are available through federal agencies, private family corporate foundations, and local corporate foundations, and local

Vo-Tech Proves Vital

By Jeff Suter

Chief Academic Officer Gilbert "Din" Miler stated that the Vo-Tech School remains as much a part of the Boise State campus, physically separating it from the main secretary or respiratory therapy, as it is conceptually. "Nothing ventured, nothing gained" still holds true.

The Vocational-Technical School serves basically the same function as any other school in the university, according to Director Miler. "A student preparing in Elementary Education is just as specific and just as limited as a vocational student. The only difference is that one requires a baccalaureate degree and the other does not." While this does not apply to all academic degrees, Director Miller states that it is a different role that does not mean that it is excluded from the rest of the university. As far as the programs, Director Miller serves on the Board of Education, President's Cabinet. All Vo-Tech students have the same rights and responsibilities as a BSU student, technical education, training and preparation, as well as the same responsibilities as any other student.

CONTINUED TO PAGE 5

The University of Bozeman

November 7, 1979

BOISE, IDAHO

VOLUME XII, NUMBER 10

Sports

Broncos get their revenge over NAU Lumberjacks. Na na na, na na na, na na na...

page 12

News

All-American Sue Orner sings her way to fame and fortune by taking first place in the Homecoming talent shows...

page 6

Entertainment

Last week, The Life of Brian. This week, Life of Jesus. And our critics reverse their ratings...

page 14

Volumn 12 Number 10

CONTINUED TO PAGE 3

College education as preparation to gain employment. Still, vo-tech students do not have the same flexibilities as some of their academic counterparts do. Because of the more specific vocational training, the range of possibilities in the job market is more limited.

CONTINUED TO PAGE 5
ORGANIZATIONAL NEWS

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority will be having a rummage sale on November 10, 1979 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. North 8th in the old Alexanders Building. There will be furniture, clothes, appliances, dishes, toys, and many more items for sale. The money will be used all proceeds from this sale to buy an "audio-reading" device for the Sunset Nursing Home.

The BSU Travel Club will be holding their next meeting on November 14 at 8:30 in the upstairs lounge in the SUB. Plans for their first trip which is set for Seattle will be discussed and out'd. Ideas are needed, so if you are interested in fun vacations at low rates stop by the meeting for more information.

This Saturday, Nov. 10, the members of BSU's Leadership bureau, Beta Sigma Lambda Eta, will be sponsoring their first "Funshop". Areas to be covered include policy procedural procedures, communication skills, public speaking, and much more. All campus organizations are encouraged to attend.

ASBSU NEWS

Appointments for the October 31 Senate meeting were Chris Beld and Seneca Marcus to the Course Evaluation Committee. James Weaver to Education Senate, Alan Kibbee to Senate Promotion, Tim Campos to the International Student Committee, Michael Gollaher, Stephen Condou, and Karl Knapp to the Admission's Office and Sylvia Buckey as Vo-Tech Senator.

Ed Lock, Editor
Mary Jane Oresik, Lab technician

EDUCATIONAL NEWS

The admissions office of BSU will be giving the Test of Standard Written English (TSWE) during the month of November. Tests may be taken by appointment only, so do not call 385-3903, or stop by A-103.

The Recreation Law Review of the Northwestern School of Law at Lewis and Clark Law College is sponsoring a symposium on alteration of water resources in the Columbia River Basin to be held November 9 and 10 at 8:30 am in the Council Chambers at the College. For more info, call 355-244-1181, ext. 700.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Student Residential Life announces a vacancy for a Resident Advisor position in Morrison Hall, effective second semester. This opening is for a woman who must be of upperclass standing with a GPA of 2.0 or above. Remuneration for the position includes room and board, plus $25 per month. Application should be made to the Office of Student Residential Life, Room 110, Ad. Building. Deadline for application is November 23, 1979.

Student Residential Life has announced that there are several 2-bedroom apartments available now in our Married Student and Family Housing units. So, if you are looking for reasonably priced housing close to campus, come on in to SRL, 110 Ad. Building.

Applications for the position of Student Assistant to the Dean of Student Advisory and Special Services are being accepted for the 1979-80 spring semester. This is a part-time job which requires a block of four hours per day, Mon.-Fri., for scheduled office hours. The student will work approximately 20 hours per week for $500 per month. Qualifications for the position are upper-class standing with a cumulative GPA of 2.5. Interested students should contact the Student Advisory and Special Services Office, Room 114 of the Ad. Building. Deadline for application is November 30, 1979.

Eighteen Boise State Students have been selected for inclusion in the 1979-80 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. They are:

-Stephen Burker
-James Barnes
-Lori Crane
-Steven Harris
-Frank Hill
-Donald Franzhler
-Kathleen Greif
-Donovan Guzman
-Steven Buckner
-Berne Jackson
-Donna Geer
-Lois Harris
-Bernie Hare
-Carla Lindsley
-Karl Knapp
-Joy McLean
-Kathleen Kennedy
-Deanna O'Flaherty
-Mary Van Decar
-Carol Williams

A Little Rock-A-Billy-Boogie on Wednesdays:
Dress for the Old West,
2 for 1 Highballs, Calls & Pounds
Country Rockin On the Dance Floor
9-12
Vo-Tech

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1

Inability to transfer vo-tech credits is a problem.

To alleviate this situation, several committees were recently formed to study the possibility of earning a Bachelor of Applied Science degree from the School of Vocational-Technical Education.

This would not apply to the specialized programs, such as electrical linemen, but the more technical-drafting, for instance, would include baccalaureate degree programs.

Director Miller stated, "the more technical the program, the more closely they are aligned with the academic program."

To gain the Bachelor of Applied Science, the student would go through what is sometimes referred to as the "upside-down" curriculum.

The student would first major in his technical field in a two-year program. With the successful completion of his major he would receive an Associate of Applied Science degree. The student would then go on and take the required core electives and other electives to receive the Bachelor's degree.

As of yet, the core requirements have not been determined. A Vo-Tech Core Committee has been formed to examine the educational needs of the student. Director Miller expects this program to be implemented in the fall of 1980 but the program has yet to be fully developed and approved.

Other Vo-Tech programs include an adult trade extension program. This program is directly related to the adult's daily occupation that is intended for upgrading...or to allow them to keep up with new advances in their occupations," Director Miller said.

Apprenticeship programs can be found in vo-tech where the student learns his occupation on the job working with an employer. The apprentice also receives instruction in campus classes in theory which is not received on the job.

Vo-Tech School's concern for the student's preparation for employment does not stop with training at BSU. The school also operates a placement service for the Vo-Tech student.

The instructor in this case serves as the "first line and prime mover" in the placement program. Since instructors come from the industry that they teach, they already have close contact with the industry. Often, industry officials call the instructors informing them of available jobs and needs.

One of the four full-time counselors working on the vo-tech staff coordinates the placement effort.

His purpose is to work with the instructors and students to maintain placement files. Follow up on the students after employment, as required by state law, is also one of his functions.

Eighty-five to 100 percent of those students seeking employment find it. Director Miller said that those are not enough students to fill industry needs in some areas.

The day's schedule for previews in each of the schools will be available to visitors at the 9 a.m. opening session. Representatives from each school will present their individual previews during late morning and early afternoon sessions lasting about 50 minutes. Confirmation-of-attendance cards will be available at the information booth in the Student Union Building after 1:30 p.m. for those who need them to attend Preview Day.

Information concerning financial aid and career opportunities will be available from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Administration Building, room 114.

The Student Advisory and Special Services office will provide information concerning opportunities for the handicapped, minority group programs, veterans G.I. Bill benefits, and tutorial and study skills from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Administration Building, room 114.

Student residential life information will be available from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the Administration Building, room 114. The Student Health Center will be open the same hours, providing tours and free blood pressure checks. The center is located at 2103 University Drive.

The Visitors Center, Library Learning Center and Varsity Center will be open for tours and information from 10:00 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. Information on rushing and the costs and facilities on campus will be available in the Student Union Building from 10:45 a.m. until 2:30 p.m.

Beta Sigma Lambda will sponsor a Leadership Fun Shop from 12:40 p.m. until 1:30 p.m. in the Senate Chambers of the Student Union Building. The workshop will be repeated at 1:30 p.m. The session will include small group exercises, leadership techniques, public relations, public speaking and graphics.

The Warren Miller ski film "Winter Fever", filmed this year, will be shown in the Special Events Center at 8 p.m. General admission will be $1.

Photo by Debbie Gilbertson
ASBSU Board Involves Students

by Michelle Harrell
Associate Editor

BSU-The ASBSU Programs Board is the most effective unit of student government in getting students involved. The Programs Board is behind each concert, lecture, film and special event on campus.

The director of the Programs Board is Gladis Williams. Serving with Williams are Sue Shankweiler, chairperson of films; Brian Harris, chairperson of concerts; John Scott in charge of lectures and Tina Gustafson, chairperson of Special Events. Total the Programs Board has 13 staff members.

The Programs department attempts to have at least one, if not more events sponsored each week. All contracts, advertising and arranging is done through each chairperson. Williams, as director, keeps the department going by helping where help is needed.

Williams also has the power to sign contracts so that the student money, which funds the P.B., will be well managed. Williams stressed, "We squeeze out the most we can from a dollar."

A day in the life of BSU's Programs Board is full of chaos, but with good staff working with Williams many possible disasters are handled with ease.

A recent incident of averted disaster dealt with the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band concert in October. The Band made it to Boise but all of their sound equipment was in Utah. Brian Harris, Concert Chairperson promptly called a local sound system store in Boise and the show went on.

Williams said, "It was really great working with the Dirt Band. They were really down to earth and willing to make a go of things with the equipment provided."

Each semester the Programs Board has at least two big lectures and two concerts. This year for the first time in recent history, films have been shown twice a week, giving more students the opportunity to see them. Special Events include Homecoming and other activities that fall under films, lectures or concert.

Upcoming events will include the Faculty Lectures on subjects ranging from "Inflation" to the "Interactions of the Nuclear Family." An upcoming program will include, psychokinelists Uri Geller, the man with the ability to bend things with his mind.

Creative Writings

Needed for cold drill

BSU-if you write poems, essays, plays, or short stories and would like to see them published in the national award-winning B.S.U. literary magazine, the cold drill, you have until December 15 to submit work for the forthcoming issue.

Typed or handwritten manuscripts should have author's name and address on them and should be turned in to the Department of English (Library Arts building room 228) on campus.

Authors whose work is selected for publication will be notified by mail by December 20th. Material not selected for publication will not be returned unless the author has attached a stamped, self-addressed return envelope with their manuscript.

Publication in the Department of English magazine entitles cold drill authors to a free copy of the magazine prior to its public sale in March—and commensurate glory.

Besides numerous regional honors and awards, the cold drill was named as best university literary magazine in the United States in 1983 by the Coordinating Council of Literary Magazines in New York City. In 1996, 1977 and 1979 the BSU magazine was selected by the Columbia University School of Journalism as "Gold Medal" publication, the highest award in their annual magazine competition.

The 1977 issue was also selected to be in the University and College Designers Association's travel exhibit which displayed throughout the United States and Canada.

Creative Writings

Needed for cold drill

BSU-if you write poems, essays, plays, or short stories and would like to see them published in the national award-winning B.S.U. literary magazine, the cold drill, you have until December 15 to submit work for the forthcoming issue.

Typed or handwritten manuscripts should have author's name and address on them and should be turned in to the Department of English (Library Arts building room 228) on campus.

Authors whose work is selected for publication will be notified by mail by December 20th. Material not selected for publication will not be returned unless the author has attached a stamped, self-addressed return envelope with their manuscript.

Publication in the Department of English magazine entitles cold drill authors to a free copy of the magazine prior to its public sale in March—and commensurate glory.

Besides numerous regional honors and awards, the cold drill was named as best university literary magazine in the United States in 1983 by the Coordinating Council of Literary Magazines in New York City. In 1996, 1977 and 1979 the BSU magazine was selected by the Columbia University School of Journalism as "Gold Medal" publication, the highest award in their annual magazine competition.

The 1977 issue was also selected to be in the University and College Designers Association's travel exhibit which displayed throughout the United States and Canada.

Creative Writings

Needed for cold drill

BSU-if you write poems, essays, plays, or short stories and would like to see them published in the national award-winning B.S.U. literary magazine, the cold drill, you have until December 15 to submit work for the forthcoming issue.

Typed or handwritten manuscripts should have author's name and address on them and should be turned in to the Department of English (Library Arts building room 228) on campus.

Authors whose work is selected for publication will be notified by mail by December 20th. Material not selected for publication will not be returned unless the author has attached a stamped, self-addressed return envelope with their manuscript.

Publication in the Department of English magazine entitles cold drill authors to a free copy of the magazine prior to its public sale in March—and commensurate glory.

Besides numerous regional honors and awards, the cold drill was named as best university literary magazine in the United States in 1983 by the Coordinating Council of Literary Magazines in New York City. In 1996, 1977 and 1979 the BSU magazine was selected by the Columbia University School of Journalism as "Gold Medal" publication, the highest award in their annual magazine competition.

The 1977 issue was also selected to be in the University and College Designers Association's travel exhibit which displayed throughout the United States and Canada.
BSU to Remodel

BSU—Several residential housing units at Boise State University will be remodeled this year in a project designed to save energy and lower heating costs.

Most of the work will be done on the University Courts, a complex of 70 apartments that was built after World War II. About 200 students and their families live in the units.

Remodeling will include replacement of all windows with thermopane glass, new insulation in attics, and tighter fitting in hallways to eliminate air drafts.

But most important, according to assistant director of student residential life Dave Boerl, each apartment will receive its own temperature control. The units are now controlled by a central system, and cannot be regulated individually.

Smaller remodeling projects are also scheduled for Chaffee and Towers dormitories, where another set of doors will be installed in some lobby areas to prevent drafts.

Contractor for the $23,019 project is Pete Rhin Construction, Boise. Architects are from the firm of Leathan, Krohn and Timmerman.

Funds for the project come from a 40-year, three percent loan granted BSU from the federal Office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

In addition to the remodeling project, Boerl said the university is near the end of “extensive” repairs to its steam heating system at University Courts. Before the repairs, heat was being lost through several leaks that developed in the system, he explained.

Student Awarded

BSU—Former Boise State University student David Harris, Hailey, has received a fourth place award of $250 from the James F. Uccollin Award, Cleveland, Ohio, for his entry in the foundation’s annual arc welding awards program.

The award was for the design and construction of a pair of decorative jewelry store aluminum gates. Harris received a certificate of completion in the BSU welding program in 1978.

Grants

CONTINUED FROM COVER

While Dr. Reed encourages faculty members to take advantages of those funds available to them, he also cautions that the proposals be “viable.” BSU and the State Board of Education frown on proposals that would obligate the state legislature to appropriate funds when the federal dollars have run out.

Reed’s office will screen proposals submitted and aid in developing proposals. This office also takes care of internal administrative tasks that would allow a faculty or staff member to get started on his/her project once it has been accepted.

The Center for Research, Grants and Contracts is not solely for the benefit of faculty members. There are also funds available for students who are interested in doing research on a special project. Dr. Reed stated that he realized not many students who are carrying a full load of credits could take on the added responsibility of extra research. But he stated that he does encourage students who wish to pursue a project to get in touch with this office.
"Animal House"
Can't Stop Rush

(CPS)-Membership in the nation's fraternities and sororities continued to climb this fall, despite some random fears that films like Animal House might sully Greeks' image enough to keep some students from rushing.

"In fact, if some greeks are right, the film might have even helped draw more students into rush. "The film certainly sparks people's interest," Sigma Pi Epsilon Mark Rester told the Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville Collegian. "The first impression is probably negative, but when people find out what fraternity life is really like, they become interested."

Jack Anson, executive director of the National Interfraternity Council, adamantly reassures questioners that there's little relation between the Deltas of Animal House and the typical greek house. "I think there is a rather slight correlation between the popularity of the film and the rising popularity of the greek system."

"The movie's gained popularity because of the increased popularity of the fraternities, not vice versa."

But Sigma Pi's Brad Lewis told the Collegian that "Animal House certainly improved our rush." "I didn't think about joining a sorority until I saw Animal House," Roula Rigas told the paper.

Homecoming festivities featured the second annual "Great American Talent Show," which saw Sue Croner walk away with first place honors.

Photo by Debbie Gilbertson
Grades Harder to Attain

(CPS) — "Winning just as hard as last year," complains a University of Virginia law student, "but last year I was A student, and this year I'm a B student."

The student, who requested anonymity for "getting a bad reputation" among prospective employers, isn't alone. Last year a third of his classmates were A students. This year, after the law faculty resolved to fight grade inflation, only 10 percent of any class can now score above A.

While academicians applaud such anti-inflationary measures as essential means of restoring grades' credibility, students are beginning to worry that grade deflation might make it harder to get jobs.

"When I see my grades from next spring," explains the Virginia student, "I have to explain why my grades are lower. I doubt many employers even realize the explanation fully,"

Carolyn Jutz of the College Placement Council in Bethlehem, Pa., says that "quite a number of employers" have expressed concern over both grade inflation and deflation. The concern, she says, arises because grading standards "vary so much" from college to college that employers who recall nationally end up selecting too many bad graduates and missing so many good prospects.

Jutz says that cumulative grade point averages have risen from 2.3 in 1969 to 2.5 today. Other measures of how easy it is to get good grades are more dramatic. Four out of every five Harvard students currently graduate with honors. Almost two-thirds of the University of North Carolina class of 1997 had a three-point or better, while the number of A's granted doubled from 1962 to 1972. The freshman National Honor Jukus of Michigan State's Learning and Evaluation Service found college GPAs going from 2.4 in 1965 to 2.8 in 1974.

Employers have generally tried to adjust by attaching less weight to grade point averages than before. "Many employers are concerned that an old measuring stick is not as valid as it once was," observes John Shingleton, placement director at Michigan State. But grade point averages are "very elusive things. Employers who use it — if that all they use — are making a mistake."

Shingleton has witnessed a certain selective disregard for GPAs among many employers. Just when employers began adjusting to grade inflation, however, academicians began imposing tougher grading standards. The number of A's granted at the University of Texas, for example, has fallen every year since 1974, and last spring fell to the lowest level. Dartmouth has dramatically cut the number of Phi Beta Kappa II graduates by applying a new percentile formula.

There are some studies that show that faculty efforts to deflate grades are beginning to take hold. The Michigan State study suggests that the rise in college GPA's fell to 2.7 last year, from 2.8 in 1974. The deflation at Texas was achieved through strongly-worded but unofficial directives to department heads. Elsewhere, efforts at grade deflation have been more formal. Administrations mandate that grades are distributed according to a strict formula. New rules at St. Andrews University in Missouri, for example, mandate that no more than six percent of each senior class can graduate with high honors.

Yet all methods of stopping grade inflation are threats to students' chances of getting jobs. Virginia's mandated approach to lowering grade levels inspired a small rally and a published protest just after the first set of grades were distributed in early October.

To compensate, the university's placement office put a paper explaining the new grading standards in each student's transcript. But "paper or not, it still looks like I'm not doing as well as I used to," observes the Virginia student.

The student's weekly said the placement office was inundating in "philosophical naivete" in believing its notice would convince employers that deflation is a pattern of declining grades.

The problem of deflation is so few, though, new placement offices have come up with alternative ways of successfully explaining the new grading standards to employers.

The College Placement Council's Carolyn Jutz means that grade deflation's effect on students' job prospects is "a hot topic" among placement officers, but that "there's no research that says what the effect is."

Michigan State's Shingleton thinks the best way to solve the problem is to have employers understand "the parameters in which grades are given."

He helps by providing "quarter ranking" for each student. The rankings simply tell the employer which quarter of the class a student falls into. "Smart placement directors will see that employers get the rankings. Not all directors do, but they should."

Yet grades were first given so that faculty members could rank students. Don't such rankings mean that placement directors are taking the job from administrators and faculty members?

"I think that's true," Shingleton says. "But it's happening in other areas than grades, too. Universities used to be mother and father to the student. The dean of students used to kick a student with a can of beer off campus. The same reasons the dean can't do that anymore are tied in with why there's grade inflation."

Colleges Win Inflation War

Campus Digest News Service

Operating costs at most universities and colleges were below the general inflation rate during the past year. The government's consumer price index indicated a general inflation of 9.4 percent, but costs at most higher-education institutions rose 7.6 percent in the 1979 academic year.

The higher-education price index, which measures the changes in prices that colleges and universities pay for goods and services, show that figures for campus utilities have doubled in five years due to rising energy costs. The figures for fringe benefits for college and university employees have also increased sharply. But the rise in professional salaries are not as rapid as other parts of the total operating costs, which rose by 6.1 percent last year, compared with the overall increase of 7.8 percent.

The prices of books and periodicals have doubled in eight years and last year's index showed an 11 percent increase for U.S. periodicals and 11.5 percent increase for hardcover editions.
The job was advertised in the campus publication that announced the arrival of a little astilett next to the notice, meaning that there was an "inside" candidate being considered for the position. No formal advertisement had been as was the first time around.

Several other young male professors were in the applicant pool. They got the picture and decided to try to improve their standing. Perhaps they knew that there were always other opportunities for ambitious young professors.

Mr. Miles, a male professor called up. The dean was a bit chilly, but she said that she'd like to be considered for the position. She told him that she'd be contacted about the possibility of being promoted to associate professor. She was new in a formal application, so there was no documentation. The dean was reluctant to comment on the subject of the interview, which was never mentioned.

The spirit of the affirmative action movement was clearly violated, although the letter of the law may possibly have been respected. It was clear that a new job was created especially for the woman as a means of getting her to take a step. None of the ambitious young women in the community understood this completely. Even the tiny handful of women who were reluctant to protest or investigate further were faced with the fact that she was expected to do it just as a matter of course. But the dean was not just an assistant professor, but the dean is still a real old boy.

Dr. Meister is a nationally syndicated columnist.

Those of you who listened to Ralph Nader recently were treated to an in-the-middle of highways, the common people. The “pushing” of non-nutritional examples, companies need people who will train employees to get the products and labeling right. Nader and consumer oriented companies are made up of good people available, but in the dean decided not to do it all himself. Nobody was hired.

Meanwhile back in the laboratories there was a young male professor whose name wasn’t going to wait. He thought it over and decided that nobody had been promoted as an assistant professor. To test the idea, he went to the dean and volunteered to do something. He did very well and the dean decided that he would do it all himself. Nobody was hired.

The job was advertised in the campus publication that announced the arrival of a little astilett next to the notice, meaning that there was an "inside" candidate being considered for the position. No formal advertisement had been as was the first time around.

Several other young male professors were in the applicant pool. They got the picture and decided to try to improve their standing. Perhaps they knew that there were always other opportunities for ambitious young professors.

Mr. Miles, a male professor called up. The dean was a bit chilly, but she said that she’d like to be considered for the position. She told him that she’d be contacted about the possibility of being promoted to associate professor. She was new in a formal application, so there was no documentation. The dean was reluctant to comment on the subject of the interview, which was never mentioned.

The spirit of the affirmative action movement was clearly violated, although the letter of the law may possibly have been respected. It was clear that a new job was created especially for the woman as a means of getting her to take a step. None of the ambitious young women in the community understood this completely. Even the tiny handful of women who were reluctant to protest or investigate further were faced with the fact that she was expected to do it just as a matter of course. But the dean was not just an assistant professor, but the dean is still a real old boy.

Dr. Meister is a nationally syndicated columnist.
PEACE CORPS and VISTA EXPERIENCE GUARANTEED

Peace Corps and VISTA Volunteers are people pretty much like you. People with commitment and skills who have decided there must be more to life than just holding down a job.

The problems that our volunteers deal with both overseas and here at home aren't new. Such as the cycle of poverty that traps one generation after another because they're too busy holding on to get ahead.

Peace Corps and VISTA Volunteers are people pretty much like you. People with commitment and skills who have decided there must be more to life than just holding down a job.

The problems that our volunteers deal with both overseas and here at home aren't new. Such as the cycle of poverty that traps one generation after another because they're too busy holding on to get ahead.

Peace Corps and VISTA Volunteers are people pretty much like you. People with commitment and skills who have decided there must be more to life than just holding down a job.

The problems that our volunteers deal with both overseas and here at home aren't new. Such as the cycle of poverty that traps one generation after another because they're too busy holding on to get ahead.

Peace Corps and VISTA Volunteers are people pretty much like you. People with commitment and skills who have decided there must be more to life than just holding down a job.

The problems that our volunteers deal with both overseas and here at home aren't new. Such as the cycle of poverty that traps one generation after another because they're too busy holding on to get ahead.

Peace Corps and VISTA Volunteers are people pretty much like you. People with commitment and skills who have decided there must be more to life than just holding down a job.

The problems that our volunteers deal with both overseas and here at home aren't new. Such as the cycle of poverty that traps one generation after another because they're too busy holding on to get ahead.

Peace Corps and VISTA Volunteers are people pretty much like you. People with commitment and skills who have decided there must be more to life than just holding down a job.

The problems that our volunteers deal with both overseas and here at home aren't new. Such as the cycle of poverty that traps one generation after another because they're too busy holding on to get ahead.
Jody and Judy Smith, the twins from Ontario, will be representing Boise State in the AIAW Nationals at Tallahassee, Florida on November 17.

Both girls qualified by finishing in the top 15 at the NCAA Regionals on Saturday in Spokane.

Jody finished a very respectable third in the 5,000 meter event with a time of 19:14 and her sister Judy finished 11th with a 19:47 clocking.

This will be Jody's second trip to the Nationals. Judy barely missed qualifying last year and she says she is really looking forward to running with her sister in Florida.

Jean Corbin of Seattle-Pacific University won the race in 17:39 with her teammate Gail Volk finishing second in 18:51.

Also finishing for the Broncos were Cherry Gardner 27th, Cindy Blazer 31st, Beth Rupprecht 35th, Terri Johnston 39th and Lisa Johnston 36th.

"I had hoped to do better as a team," said Head Coach Basil Dahlstrom. "But I'm naturally very happy that Jody and Judy will be competing for BSU in the Nationals."

Coach Dahlstrom and the Smith twins will head for the AIAW Nationals on November 15th which will be hosted by Florida State University.

Harriers Head for Championship

(BSU—The Boise State men's cross-country team will travel to Provo, UT to participate in the Big Sky Conference District 7 championships on Nov. 10. The race will be run over a rugged 10,000 meter course.

Scott Blackburn, Karl Knapp and Dave Steffens will lead the way for the Broncos against some of the toughest competition of the year. Tom Rothenberger and Howard Conley will round out the BSU team in the conference championships.

Northern Arizona University and the University of Nevada-Reno will be the favorites in the meet, along with the University of Idaho.

In recent issue of Harrier magazine NAU was ranked 15th in the nation, Idaho 16th and Nevada-Reno was 20th in the poll.

The University of Oregon led the balloting and UTEP was second.

Northern Arizona's Art Menchaca leads the way for the Lumberjacks. Menchaca has the fastest 10,000 meter time in the Big Sky this fall, covering the distance in 30:45.5 seconds.

Nevada-Reno with its strong contingent of foreign runners could be the team to strip the Lumberjacks of their conference crown in 1979, but it will take a great effort, as the Lumberjacks have compiled some impressive statistics in the early going. The Axers placed third in the tough San Diego State University Invitational in early October.

"NAU, Nevada-Reno and Idaho look like the teams to beat this year," said BSU Cross-Country Coach Ed Jacob.

"We haven't run anywhere near our potential thus far in the season, but we hope to get good performances from Scott (Blackburn), Karl (Knapp), and Dave (Steffens)," Jacob said.

X-C Qualify for Nationals

by Paul Rossi
Arbiter Staff

Our reg. 20.00
Comfortable 100% cotton corduroy pants in two styles. Check out the Scopelit western style or front pleat style with 14 top pockets. In brown, navy, grey, camel, or beige.

Our reg. 24.00
Two great looking styles in rugged 14-ounce blue denim. Choose from the traditional 5-pocket western styling or plain front with two coin pockets. Sizes 28-38.

Our reg. 11.90
Long sleeve woven flannel shirts in a variety of plaids and solids.

Our reg. 12.00
Comfy cotton flannel shirts for men in a variety of plaids and solids. Sizes S-M-L-XL.

Open Weekdays
9:30 to 9:00
Saturday 9 to 7
Sunday 11 to 6

GUY'S DENIM JEANS
$12.88
Two great looking styles in rugged 14-ounce blue denim. Choose from the traditional 5-pocket western styling or plain front with two coin pockets. Sizes 28-38.

GOLDEN BEAR FLANNEL SHIRTS
$5.99
Comfy cotton flannel shirts for men in a variety of plaids and solids. Sizes S-M-L-XL.

Van Heusen Men's Woven Flannel Shirts
$9.88
Our reg. 11.90
Long sleeve woven flannel shirts are as comfortable as they are classic. 100% cotton, perma- press in a variety of plaids and solids.

VAN HEUSEN MEN'S CORDUROY PANTS
$12.88
Our reg. 20.00
Comfortable 100% cotton corduroy pants in two styles. Check out the Scopelit western style or front pleat style with 14 top pockets. In brown, navy, grey, camel, or beige.

VAN HEUSEN MEN'S CORDUROY BLAZER
$18.88
Our reg. 30.00
Classic two button, 100% cotton corduroy blazer features front patch pockets and narrow lapels. Choose pinwale or widewale cord in brown, navy, camel, or beige.

Fall Fashion Savings
Rich-looking cords, wools and denims reduced to really save you money!

STORES Boise: Corner of Fairview & Curtis
Corner of 3rd & Main
Nampa: 1031 Nampa-Caldwell Blvd.

X-C Qualify for Nationals

by Paul Rossi
Arbiter Staff

Jody and Judy Smith, the twins from Ontario, will be representing Boise State in the AIAW Nationals at Tallahassee, Florida on November 17.

Both girls qualified by finishing in the top 15 at the NCAA Regionals on Saturday in Spokane.

Jody finished a very respectable third in the 5,000 meter event with a time of 19:14 and her sister Judy finished 11th with a 19:47 clocking.

This will be Jody's second trip to the Nationals. Judy barely missed qualifying last year and she says she is really looking forward to running with her sister in Florida.

Jean Corbin of Seattle-Pacific University won the race in 17:39 with her teammate Gail Volk finishing second in 18:51.

Also finishing for the Broncos were Cherry Gardner 27th, Cindy Blazer 31st, Beth Rupprecht 35th, Terri Johnston 39th and Lisa Johnston 36th.

"I had hoped to do better as a team," said Head Coach Basil Dahlstrom. "But I'm naturally very happy that Jody and Judy will be competing for BSU in the Nationals."

Coach Dahlstrom and the Smith twins will head for the AIAW Nationals on November 15th which will be hosted by Florida State University.

Harriers Head for Championship

(BSU—The Boise State men's cross-country team will travel to Provo, UT to participate in the Big Sky Conference District 7 championships on Nov. 10. The race will be run over a rugged 10,000 meter course.

Scott Blackburn, Karl Knapp and Dave Steffens will lead the way for the Broncos against some of the toughest competition of the year. Tom Rothenberger and Howard Conley will round out the BSU team in the conference championships.

Northern Arizona University and the University of Nevada-Reno will be the favorites in the meet, along with the University of Idaho.

In recent issue of Harrier magazine NAU was ranked 15th in the nation, Idaho 16th and Nevada-Reno was 20th in the poll.

The University of Oregon led the balloting and UTEP was second.

Northern Arizona's Art Menchaca leads the way for the Lumberjacks. Menchaca has the fastest 10,000 meter time in the Big Sky this fall, covering the distance in 30:45.5 seconds.

Nevada-Reno with its strong contingent of foreign runners could be the team to strip the Lumberjacks of their conference crown in 1979, but it will take a great effort, as the Lumberjacks have compiled some impressive statistics in the early going. The Axers placed third in the tough San Diego State University Invitational in early October.

"NAU, Nevada-Reno and Idaho look like the teams to beat this year," said BSU Cross-Country Coach Ed Jacob.

"We haven't run anywhere near our potential thus far in the season, but we hope to get good performances from Scott (Blackburn), Karl (Knapp), and Dave (Steffens)," Jacob said.
Womens' V-Ball

Last Tournament Stated

(UA)-With a year's experience and high hopes for future seasons, the freshman-dominated BSU volleyball team heads for its last tournament of the year at the University of Idaho this weekend, after narrowly missing a chance for post-season regional play.

The Bronco women now have a 12-10 record, and with two wins this weekend could secure their 12-10 record, and with two wins last tournament of the year at the State junior varsity, Eastern Washington, and Eastern takes the lackluster conference, and have only to beat two teams in earlier season competition.

"The team was nervous in the WAU match and did not play well," said coach Darlene Bailey.

Playoff Pictures Puzzles

by Jerry Richards

Arbiter Staff

About this time of year, 1-AAA college football watchers naturally start turning their minds toward the playoffs for national championships. This year the picture would be relatively clear-cut - if the regular season were already over. Unfortunately, there's another two weeks before the post-season starts, and that muddies things.

The Mini-Division playoffs feature four teams, one from each of four areas: west, southwest, southeast, and north.

The Western team, it seems, will probably be Montana State, since the Bobcats are Big Sky champs and the Big Sky is the only western conference. Besides, no eligible squad will have any fewer than three overall losses after BSU does what they'll do to Idaho.

Our course, we all know who the show-in-would-be if the Big Sky hadn't forced this year's Bronco season to account for last year's maneuvers.

Move across the country and the picture gets hazier. Grambling, which has improved since losing two of its first four games, could have the Southwestern conference steered up if they beat Southern in the last game of the season. It'll be a shame if Jackson State were left out because of one loss at the wrong time. On the other hand, it'd be as much of a shame as if Grambling were steered out before their game with Southern happens to be scheduled on Dec. 1.

Murray State is the Cinderella story of the division. Last year 4-7, they're currently 6-1-1 and undefeated in the Ohio Valley Conference, and have only to beat Western Kentucky for the confirmed title. Trouble is, Western's strong team is fading for a spoiler weeks after losing to Eastern Kentucky, which can take the crown if Western beats Murray and Eastern takes the lackluster Missouri State on Nov. 17.

Confused? Of course.

Boston U. should easily dispatch Connecticut and clinch the Yankee crown and the Northeast title.

On the West Coast, against Idaho, Washington State Junior varsity, Eastern Washington and Spokane Falls CC.

Last Saturday Boise State dropped two matches in the Interstate Playoff Poses Puzzles,

"Complete Weight Training for Serious Athletes, Both Men and Women."

Featuring equipment by Stephen DeWitt, Jackson and Nautilus.

RATES:

- Adults: $39
- Students: $32

CONTRACTS:

- One month: $98
- Three months: $239
- One year: $89

HOURS:

- Monday-Friday 8 am-9 pm
- Saturday 8 am-5 pm
- Closed Sundays

CONTRACTS:

- One month: $98
- Three months: $239
- One year: $89

Come in for free workout.
This issue of National Lampoon contains some pretty spicy material. Some people unused to such spicy humor had to drink glass after glass of water while reading the love issue. You can learn alot about all kinds of love from the November issue. If you're really ignorant, you can learn one hell of a lot.

But don't take our word for it. Pick up a copy at your bookstore or newsstand today. And if you get some kind of a disease, don't blame us. You picked up the magazine. It's your fault.

Jefferson 345-2564 Mon-Sat 9-5:30 and if you get some kind of a disease, don't blame us. You picked up the magazine. It's your fault.

Field Hockey Team Off to Qualifying Tourney

by Mike Replinger

Arbiter Staff

In an emotionally packed contest, the BSU women's Field Hockey team scored a tremendous triumph when they beat Western Washington University 1-0. This win enabled the Broncos to gain the number one seed in the Qualifying tournament which takes place next week in Eugene, OR.

The winner of the qualifying tournament will represent the Northwest in AIA National Tournament in Princeton, New Jersey, Nov. 30-Dec. 1.

The Broncos also shut out Villanova University and Central Washington University by identical 4-0 scores. These wins brought Boise State's record up to 12-6-1 for the season and 8-1 in Division II play.

"The game against WU was an exhibition of outstanding field hockey. Both teams fought hard, but we were a little more effective," said Coach Jayne Van Wassenhove.

"Sue Schenk again led the scoring for BSU this weekend, breaking in five goals. She also tallied the lone goal which decided the BVWU contest. Her 27 goals for the season is only six behind the total accumulated by the Broncos during the entire season last year.

"Sue is an outstanding player. She's goal-hungry and a terrific competitor," said Van Wassenhove. "But the improved play of our offense has really helped Sue. We've got an excellent attack which does an excellent job of settling the goals up," added Van Wassenhove.

Join Pittsaway scored three goals and Amy Bryant added one to Neal's goal in the bout. Laura Rotello earned two assists, bringing her team total to 46 on the season.

"Our offense really got it together and is showing how well it can play," said Van Wassenhove. "Our offense continues to play well much this weekend. It was a lot of pressure off the defense.

The Broncos' defense has played superbly all season long and has earned an amazing 11 shutouts compared to only three for the BSU.

"Our defense has really been strong all season. They've given the offense time to gain confidence of themselves and to really play well," said Van Wassenhove. "Now our entire team is playing as a single unit. As a result, we're really starting to build field hockey.

Boise State will play the winner of a match between Northwest Nazarene college vs. Oregon College of Education this weekend. The winner of the BSU match will advance into the finals and will take on the winner of the University of Idaho and Western Washington University match."

"I'm really pleased with the play of this team. They are really pulling together and giving it all that they've got," said Van Wassenhove. "Anything can happen in this tournament, and I've beaten every team in it so I think we can pull it off.

The Broncos have a tough road ahead of them. The game against NAU was a hard-fought match and BSU will have to be at their best to advance to the finals.

"Our offense really got it together and is showing how well it can play," said Van Wassenhove. "Our offense continues to play well much this weekend. It was a lot of pressure off the defense.

The Broncos' defense has played superbly all season long and has earned an amazing 11 shutouts compared to only three for the BSU.

"Our defense has really been strong all season. They've given the offense time to gain confidence of themselves and to really play well," said Van Wassenhove. "Now our entire team is playing as a single unit. As a result, we're really starting to build field hockey.

Boise State will play the winner of a match between Northwest Nazarene college vs. Oregon College of Education this weekend. The winner of the BSU match will advance into the finals and will take on the winner of the University of Idaho and Western Washington University match."

"I'm really pleased with the play of this team. They are really pulling together and giving it all that they've got," said Van Wassenhove. "Anything can happen in this tournament, and I've beaten every team in it so I think we can pull it off.
Flanner Poetry Released

BSU – Boise State University's Ahsahta Press recently released Hildegarde Flanner's The Hearkening Eye as the thirteenth volume in its series of publications of works of modern and contemporary poets of the West.

Flanner was an ardent conservationist who has been writing poetry since 1924, also had her work published in the Ahsahta Press 1976 anthology, Women Poets of the West.

Her conservation interests became evident in the poems contained in The Hearkening Eye, where a remembrance of all things natural seems to invade her style. In Letter to an Old Home, her favorite, she writes:

You'll surely tell me if the whip-poor-will Still whistles his beak at dusk, rips out a song.

How I remember in the treedining
Old woods the uncanny tongue
so wild and strong.

That bird can sing a most devoured note,
Can sing you clean without a pause for grace...

Her love of nature also extends into the printing of her poetry. Her husband, Portland-architect Frederick Mosshoff, illustrated several of her books. Others were printed under the direction of Porter Gamett, well known typographic designer and printer. Among those volumes are If There Is Time, New Directions, 1940; In Native Light, James E. Beard, 1910; This Morning, F. Stay, 1922; Thème, Proélès, Macmillan, 1905; A Tree in Bloom, Lannan Press, 1921; and Young Girl, H. H. Cooker, 1906.

Flanner, who lives in Calistoga, Calif., was born near Indianapolis, Ind., in 1889, and educated at Sweet Briar College, Va., and the University of California at Berkeley. She is the sister of the late Janet Flanner, of the New Yorker staff.

In an introductory letter to A. Thomas Trusty, who selected and edited poems for The Hearkening Eye, Flanner discusses her work, which she says, harks "back to my childhood," and describes her own style as "a singleness in pursuit of several meanings."

"Clearly what a poem starts with," she says, "is amorphous, however potent. It must be concentrated, even made solid although plain, given a good shake to slough off what is a lyrical mechanism."

The Hearkening Eye may be ordered for $2.25, including postage, from Ahsahta Press, 1910 University Drive, Boise State University, Boise, Idaho 83725.

Prather to Speak

Hugh Prather, author of the best-selling book "Notes to Myself," will be at Boise State University November 13-15 for a public lecture and meetings with community and student groups.

Prather will speak to the theme "There is a Place Where You Are Not Alone" on Tuesday, November 13 at 7:30 p.m., in the BSU Student Union Ballroom. Admission to the public is $1.

During his three day stay in Boise, Prather will also visit with groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous, Rape Crisis Center, Mountain States Tumor Institute, and BSU students in communication and social work.

Prather published "Notes to Myself" in 1970. Even though the book wasn't advertised, it eventually worked its way to the top of the New York Times best seller list. Today over a million copies have sold, and the book is published in Japan, South America, and Europe.

Two of his other books, "I Touch the Earth, the Earth Touches Me," and "Notes on Love and Courage" are frequently used as college textbooks in the fields of psychology and communications.

A resident of Santa Fe, New Mexico, Prather works closely with Dr. Gerald Jampolsky, the founder of the Center for Attitudinal Healing. He and Jampolsky, have frequently lectured together on the subject of nonmedical treatment of children with catastrophic illness.

Prather has also served as consultant for centers for battered wives, rape victims, and patients with terminal illness.

His lecture and visit to Boise is sponsored by the Boise State communication department.
Our panel of critics rates a film a week, even a week to every week. One to two hours is high. A should movie warrant it, it's essential for less than an hour viewing to keep the audience on its toes. Our reviews are of three tighten our audience and introduce the movie. A Mountie faculty member who steering for real smart.

This week our intrepid reviewers saw Jesus, now playing at the Vista.

Anthony Burt ( ) The theater's marquee and newspaper ads proclaim, "USPS, the man you thought you knew." After viewing this tedious and unimaginative film, you'll be glad you didn't. His boring and as given to lecturing at you as your English Comp instructor. The movie's principle, after Star Wars, would move even Darth Vader to tears. The script's a slapstick patchwork of scripture. The Russell Gould ( ) Acting is the key to this new film based on the Gospel according to Luke. It couldn't have relied on spectacle (a la Cecil B. deMille) because of its lower budget.

Alice Jensen ( ) I don't care if it rains or freezes. Long as I got my plastic Jesus Riding on the dashboard of my car.

The one college Rallye you shouldn't miss.

THE 1980 FORD PINTO RALLYE.

Compare this sporty version of what may be America's best small car value.

| PRICE START AS LOW AS $3781 |

The 1980 Pinto is packed with 40 standard features like steel-belted radials, bucket seats, tinted glass and rear view mirror. The '80 Pinto Rallye also get a Sports Package which includes tachometer, ammeter and front and rear spoilers. And our student discount will help you, too.

CHECK OUR COLLEGE GRADUATE FINANCE PLAN.

Rallye around the 1980 Pinto at...

Bob Rice Ford
3150 Main
342-6811

Camearnow's pedestrian—consisting primarily of jogging alongside the platitude-spouting Messiah as he ambles through various scenarios. Only the crucifixion scene almost works. Except the nails, glued to His arms with ketchup, keep wigglng.

Thecameron's car."

characters are so well portrayed that they bring the show above the level of a standard, ho-hum production. The use of narration in the third person could have been done more effectively. The voice kept the production in the realm of 'B' movies. Go to it knowing what to expect and you should find it most enjoyable.

Charles Wright Poetry Series Continues

by Joelyn Fannin Information Services

Poet Karen Swenson, now in residence at the University of Idaho, Moscow, will give a free public reading from her works at Boise State University Nov. 14. The second writer in the Charles David Wright Poetry Series this year, Swenson will appear in the Lookout Room of the BSU Student Union Building at 8 p.m.

Swenson is the subject of a ten page interview, "Your Own Material," in the April 1979 issue of Bennington Review, where three of her poems also appear. Her poetry has also been published in Saturday Review, Poetry, the Nation, Prairie Schooner, and Virginia Quarterly Review, as well as several other periodicals and poetry reviews.

In recent years she has given poetry readings for the Academy of American Poetry, the American Library at Tehran, Iran, the International Poetry Forum, and several colleges and universities including Purdue, and the University of Idaho.

Other writers scheduled to read during the year include poets Mark Strand, Nov. 28-29; Donald Hall, Jan. 23-24, and Philip Levine, Feb. 13-14.

Will Jocelyn Fannin

The University

The Arbiter

365-1464

NOVEMBER 7, 1979

ENTERTAINMENT

The Talkies:
A Film Buy-Line

WANTED:

Responsible, interested BSU student to work as Associate Editor in Charge of Features. Prior journalism experience preferable but not necessary. Apply 8:30 to 4:30 Mon thru Friday.

CUSTOME DELI SANDWICHES...

Your choice of sandwich from the Garden Deli & Bakery. Just check your choice of meats, cheese and roll on your convenient forms. Design your own "wild & crazy" sandwich for just

$4.00

Also—try our new Tillamook Avocado Submarine. It's a vegetarian delight! Breads, rolls and sweet goods. Baked fresh daily. Available individually or by the dozen.

GARDEN DELI & BAKERY

1102 North 8th
Boise, Idaho 83702

New!

CUSTOM DELI SANDWICHES...
Wednesday Nov. 7
Pre-registration
International Student Night Ballroom
Cabinets: Fund raiser for Idaho Shakespeare Festival. 8:00 pm.
Old World, 1921 Federal Way. Ticket: 343-4251 or 381-3900.
Student medium, Cora Hope, Hypnosis, Idaho, 8:00 pm, Boise, 8:00 pm.
Acta/Vista, Peace Corps: raise up for the United States Peace Corps.
Test of Standard Written English: by Appointment, A105, 385-3903.
Arbitrator: issue 14.

Thursday Nov. 8
Pre-registration
Jazz ensemble and Lab chorus concert: 8:00 pm. Spokane.
The Ethics: Music at Manhattan, 8:00 pm. Old World, 1921 Federal Way. Ticket: 343-4251 or 381-3900.
Sub. Sign up for Interviews at CRAS, A105.
Test of Standard Written English: by Appointment, A105, 385-3903.
Test of Standard Written English: by Appointment, A105, 385-3903.

Friday Nov. 9
Pre-registration
Advanced first line supervisor workshop. 2:00-9:00 pm, LA 107.
According for the small businesses workshop, 2:00-5:00 pm.
FRIDAY ACT ION/Vista.
Wednesdoy Nov. 7
Pre-registration
Voluntary Olympic Volleyball at Moore.
Investigation of a Citizen Above - suspension: A105, 8:00 pm, Spokane.
The Effect of Gammex Rays on Man-in-handphone: Investigate the effects of gamma rays, Idaho Public Theater, 8:15 pm, 343-0050.
Lab OB Annual Christmas Sale: sponsored by the Idaho Gamma Ray Club. Affiliated with the Idaho Alliance, allows cash in equity: 12 noon-3:00 pm, 3:00-6:00 pm.
BEEC. lab equipment sale: sponsored by the Idaho Gamma Ray Club.
Test of Standard Written English: by appointment, A105, 385-3903.

Saturday Nov. 10
Invitation to a Citizen Above - Suspension: A105, film, 8:00 pm, Spokane.

Sunday Nov. 11
Investigation of a Citizen Above Suspension: A105, film, 8:00 pm, Spokane.
Monty Nov. 12
Voter's Day: Idaho. 8:00 pm.
Pre-registration
9th Annual American Indian Institute:
BAA Lecture Series: 11:45 am, SUB Lookout Room.
"The Promised Valley": 8:00 pm, Spokane.
Women's volleyball: Boise City Rec. Oike, indoor fun and power league-registration begins at 9:00 pm, Fort Boise Community Center. Fee $40.00, 343-2580.
BEEC. lab equipment sale: sponsored by the Idaho Gamma Ray Club.
Test of Standard Written English: by appointment, A105, 385-3903.
Wednesday Nov. 13
Hugh Prather: lecture by author of Noise to Myself, BSU Pre-registration
9th Annual American Indian Institute:
BBA Lecture Series: 11:45 am, SUB Lookout Room.
"The Promised Valley": 8:00 pm, Spokane.
Test of Standard Written English: by appointment, A105, 385-3903.
"The Promised Valley": 8:00 pm.
Advanced first line supervisor workshop. 2:00-9:00 pm, LA 107.
Monty Nov. 14
Hugh Prather: forum featuring author of Noise to Myself, BSU Pre-registration
BSU Pre-registrations
9th Annual American Indian Institute:
BBA Lecture Series: 11:45 am, SUB Lookout Room.
"The Promised Valley": 8:00 pm, Spokane.
Test of Standard Written English: by appointment, A105, 385-3903.
"The Promised Valley": 8:00 pm.}

---

PEANUTS® by Charles M. Schulz

Homerun King Mark Aaron will present a lecture Wednesday, November 7, in the SPEC Center.

---

For Sale
One way flights, Boise-S.F. 800 before
Dec. 15, 350-811089. morning.

---

WHILE THE GANG'S ALL HERE
Philosopher Hugh Prather, author of Notes to Myself, will be at Boise State as a series of lectures and workshops. Prather will lecture from 9:30 to 11:00 on Wednesday, November 13, in the SUB Ballroom. Admission is one dollar.

---

PASTE THAT JOB, GOOD pay, flexible hours, training and on the job experience in the business world. If you qualify, come in anytime, 3:00-9:00, North Western Mutual Life, 317-9210.

---

PASTE THAT JOB, GOOD pay, flexible hours, training and on the job experience in the business world. If you qualify, come in anytime, 3:00-9:00, North Western Mutual Life, 317-9210.

---

WHILE THE GANG'S ALL HERE
Philosopher Hugh Prather, author of Notes to Myself, will be at Boise State as a series of lectures and workshops. Prather will lecture from 9:30 to 11:00 on Wednesday, November 13, in the SUB Ballroom. Admission is one dollar.

---

WHILE THE GANG'S ALL HERE
Philosopher Hugh Prather, author of Notes to Myself, will be at Boise State as a series of lectures and workshops. Prather will lecture from 9:30 to 11:00 on Wednesday, November 13, in the SUB Ballroom. Admission is one dollar.
The Dept. of Communication presents
Philosopher
Hugh Prather
Author of:
Notes to Myself: My Struggle to Become a Person
Notes on Love & Courage 1 Touch the Earth, The Earth Touches Me
November 13, 14, 15, 1979

Special Lecture Forum:
"There is a Place Where You Are Not Alone"
Date: November 13, 1979  Time: 7:30-9:30 p.m.
Place: SUB Ballroom  Tickets: $1.00 Donation
Available at Comm. Dept. Office (A218)
And SUB Foyer

All other scheduled events are free!

Contact the Dept. of Communications for Additional Details
Co-Sponsors: ASESU  Dr. John Kelson, President, BSU,
Dr. William Keplzer, Dean of Arts & Sciences

Hugh Prather's Books Are Available at the BSU Bookstore

"Children's Books 49¢ to $1.00"

Share the Joy of Reading - Give a Book
Special Edition Book Collections

The BOOKSTORE
Boise State University