5-12-2003

Arbiter, May 12

Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
English professor retires, starts new chapter in life

Davis leaves behind legacy

By James Patrick Kelly

After English professor Charles Davis retires next week, he’s going into his fourth season as an at-home cook and gardener. Davis, who has been teaching for 33 years, will miss the intellectual stimulation of higher education, but he’s looking forward to golf, gardening and culinary pursuits.

“My work here is pretty much up to me now,” Davis said. Davis plans on going to the golf course twice a week, possibly more if the weather permits. “I want to do some traveling as well,” Davis said, who will be visiting the British Isles this summer for vacation.

What I was chair of the Faculty Senate, I supervised students and tried to encourage them to think. I leave them as I found them, with theraid of my own experience. I have never been afraid to be myself, to try new things, to take risks,” Davis said. He will continue to teach until the end of the semester, and then he’ll be able to focus on his new passions.

“It’s not intended to be purely for the media on Thursday. Kustra, former Illinois ing to establish Boise State as a “metropolitan for the documents.

Kustra greets ASBSU President Ali Ishaq and Vice President Jim Wolfe.

By Vicki Parsley

Robert Kustra was introduced as Boise State’s new president last month to standing room-only crowd that included faculty, staff, legislators, students and the media on Thursday. Kustra, former Illinois lieutenant governor and president of Eastern Kentucky University, was selected from a field of more than 30 candidates.

Kustra said he was honored and excited to be Boise State’s new president.

“If it is a privilege to stand before you as the newly named Bronco, Kustra said. Kustra added that he looked forward to establishing the new president as a “metropolitan research university of distinction.”

Go to www.arbiteronline.com for more about Kustra.

Graduates’ job hunt may not be as dismal as projected

By briget morris

For most college graduates the weeks before graduation are fraught with excitement. But this year, many are wondering if their college degrees are as coveted as they were just a few years ago.

According to the National Center for Education Statistics, the unemployment rate among recent college graduates was 6.5 percent in 2007. But as the economy continued to slow, the unemployment rate for college graduates jumped to 7.9 percent in 2009.

Kustra said graduates should expect the job market to continue to be challenging, but he believes that with preparation and perseverance, graduates can find success in their careers.

“Some of us are very well placed in the job market. The government is growing and becoming apparent in the short-term, and it is a significant having future focused toward China,” Napier said.

Davis, who started teaching at Boise State in 1983, during his Magnum P.I. phase, had been teaching for 33 years, and he’s looking forward to golf, gardening, and culinary pursuits.

“Charles has been a workhorse at Boise State. He’s going to bring the best to our campus,” Davis said.

Davis, who is specialists in Shakespeare, British fiction, and 18th century British novels, is a favorite among students for his teaching style and rhythmic, maniacal voice.

“I teach from the pulpit,” Davis said. “I love to teach Shakespeare, and when I get to the point of Macbeth, I’m amazed. I love teaching Shakespeare in his student ment for Shakespeare in his student room,” Davis said.

In the weeks before graduation wishing that their undergraduates would find jobs like this.”

But this does not mean he’s planning on going home to be a “family guy.” Davis added that he looked forward to working with the faculty, staff, students and the community.

"I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who quarantines for students from other countries...I am not aware of anyone who qu
By Brandon Fiala
The Arbiter

James Kelly steps down from The Arbiter this week with a collection of journalism awards and a dedicated writing portfolio.

"The Arbiter faculty editorial adviser Dr. Dan Morris, faculty editor admires James' work," Kelly said. "James' efforts to make the paper more professional were recognized by the Idaho Press Club. James led by example and not only did he win awards for most stories of the paper, but also for his passion for doing the job," Morris said.

Kelly was known in the newsroom as a gruff but hard-working editor, said Dr. Dan Morris, faculty editorial adviser at Boise State University.

"I am obviously a leftist. I have no shame saying that whatsoever," Benson said. "I am obviously a leftist. I have no shame saying that whatsoever."

According to him, The Arbiter's role at The Arbiter "is not going to become a commie rag" Benson said.

"I think I've gotten the full experience from the paper," he said. "I've got a hunch there's going to be a lot of news for us to cover next year, for The Arbiter just looks to be a lot of news for us to cover next year."

"It's going to be a great year, Benson said. "I've got a hunch there's going to be a lot of news for us to cover next year, for The Arbiter just looks to be a lot of news for us to cover next year."

Jeremy Kauffman, The Arbiter

Benson's editor-in-chief, said the success of the paper as a whole would be unfair to him and the rest of the newsroom.

"It's the sum total of the entire staff," Benson said. "It's a major commitment to produce this paper," he said. "It's a major commitment to produce this paper."

"I've got a hunch there's going to be a lot of news for us to cover next year." Benson said. "We've got a hunch there's going to be a lot of news for us to cover next year."
Congratulations 2003 Seniors!
The Arbiter salutes you!

Kappa Sigma KΣ
Graduates our seniors!
Good luck Jared, Nick, and George.
Brothers for Life!

Congratulations to the 2002-2003 M.S. in Instructional & Performance Technology Graduates

Arizona: Allison Gillespie, Eugene Jans
California: Donna Bryant, Gregory Wisener, Denise Van Tasell
Georgia: Shelley Bell
Idaho: Jill Blanchfield, Linda Carriente, Janet Emery, Darin Heaps, Deborah Herjessy, Tony Keefe, Kristi Kawano, Andy Movius, Lew Peterson
Maine: Susan Hynes

The Arbiter congratulates George Thomas, Rob Baker, Bannister Brownlee, Melissa Llanes Brownlee and thanks them for all of their outstanding work!

Congratulations, grad of 2003

Aaron Calkins
Sarah Ali
Nikki Drake

Wing Yin Winnie Tong
Richard P. Hachiel
Brad Christensen
China Veldhousen

Get 50¢ off any Island Oasis Smoothie with this coupon! Good through May 16th.
Congratulations to the 2003 GRADUATING STUDENT EMPLOYEES:

TRIO Student Success Staff
Heidi Corle, Carmen Correa, Vicki Crossland, Christina DeCamp, Mark Gerosin, Stephanie Jost, Sandra Pruitt, Carl Rizzo, James Solum, Emily Struthers, Michael Wallace.

TRIO Student Success Staff
Jana K. Min premise, Teresa Sann, Jennifer Bedford, Karen Benevente, Andrea Boisse, Laurie Cheung, Teresa Sann, Mark Gerosin, Stephanie Jost, Sandra Pruitt, Carl Rizzo, James Solum, Emily Struthers, Michael Wallace.

Congratulations to our Graduates!

The School of Social Work
Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2003

The Criminal Justice Department
Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2003
Laurel Aiken, Hollie Barbour, Chrissy Cheevers, Judy Farnsworth, Carolyn Gee, Rachelle Grounds, Sarah Kaufman, Kim Koyen, and Hollis Small.

Congratulations to the Graduates of the Interdisciplinary Program of Study, we wish you success in your future endeavors! The Boise State University.

Best to you - Dr. Spears

The Boise State University Graduates

Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2003
Nicholas L. Jones, Elizabeth Allen, Sarah Miner, and Susan Nooden.

Congratulations to the 2003 GRADUATING STUDENT EMPLOYEES:

TRIO Student Success Staff
Heidi Corle, Carmen Correa, Vicki Crossland, Christina DeCamp, Mark Gerosin, Stephanie Jost, Sandra Pruitt, Carl Rizzo, James Solum, Emily Struthers, Michael Wallace.

Congratulations to our Graduates!

The School of Social Work
Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 2003
By Casey Wyant

Commentary

The Arbiter

To wrap up the school year, I'll like to do top five lists. But this time, I'm going to coin a word. The word is "BEP". For Baby Emma Phenomenon.

I just now coined the term. Take my nominations for Baby Emma Phenomenon. Many readers don't feel free to use Gnutella or KaZaA. You can receive permission in all your courses.

The Arbiter Online: Yirm.arbiteronline.com

Asst. Advertising Manager
Jeremy Branstad
Managing Editor
Honey Lipshitz
Editor-in-Chief
Danielle Shelby
Asst. Production Manager
Muffy Stenkamp
Assistant Professor
Honey Lipshitz

1. Vague Malaise

Editor-in-Chief
345-8204 x106

2. The French

Online: www.french.com

3. Baby Emma Phenomenon

Webster's

4. Jeremy Branstad

345-8204 x104

5. Honey Lipshitz

345-8204 x102

Sociology doesn't equate to socialism

By the way, reading this article, I thought of my mentor.

By the way, reading this article, I thought of my mentor. The term "sociology" was adopted in a specific sense in the 19th century by Frenchmen. It is not a technical term. It is, marvelously enough, a direct affectation of the word "society." Its use is a matter of criticism. The word "society" has been coined by the French philosopher, J. J. Rousseau, and the French economist, M. Turgot, in the 18th century. The word "society" was a central provocative influence upon all the social scientists of the 19th century. The word "society" was a central provocative influence upon all the social scientists of the 19th century. The word "society" was a central proactive influence upon all the social scientists of the 19th century. The word "society" was a central proactive influence upon all the social scientists of the 19th century.

In sum, as any dictionary will confirm, sociology is not socialism.

A Celebration of David Law-Smith's Life...

A campus remember to celebrate the life of David Law-Smith. The celebration will be held Wednesday, May 14, at 10:00 a.m. in the Special Rooms and Library Files.

In the US, academic sociology is...
By Justin Prescott

Psychedelic Brit-pop quintet Blur has just released their fourth album, Think Tank. Think Tank - their first album in four years - is a departure for the band. It has been described as a conscious effort to distance themselves from their Blur-era sound. After a period of experimentation, the band now presents a more serious and introspective album.

The Arbiter...

The band's frontman, Damon Albarn, explains that the new album was influenced by many factors. "It's not easy listening, but it's not difficult listening either," he says. "It's somewhere in the middle...a potent dose of sounds in rock, from U2's mellow, overproduced songs, the champion of minimalism."

Blur's sound has evolved over the years. "I was quite pleased with the sounds in rock, from U2's mellow, overproduced songs," Albarn says. "It's not easy listening, but it's not difficult listening either...a potent dose of sounds in rock, from U2's mellow, overproduced songs, the champion of minimalism."

The result is a potent dose of sounds in rock, from U2's mellow, overproduced songs, the champion of minimalism. Albarn says. "It's not easy listening, but it's not difficult listening either...a potent dose of sounds in rock, from U2's mellow, overproduced songs, the champion of minimalism."

Blur.

Despite Albarn's assurances, the album is not without its critics. "It's not easy listening, but it's not difficult listening either...a potent dose of sounds in rock, from U2's mellow, overproduced songs, the champion of minimalism."

Blur loses guitarists, gains perspective

Diversions

Daniel Lanois returns to other side of studio glass

By Thérèse Christen

The Dallas Morning News

Daniel Lanois shifted the South by Southwest conference in March to the name of the band that famously plays the city, but who are perhaps best known for their experimental music. By the time the festival was over, many of the bands who were playing had already had their sound altered by the presence of Lanois. Lanois is a producer who has worked with many of the biggest names in the music industry, including U2, The Beatles, and The Rolling Stones.

"Lanois is no Luddite," says Todd Rundgren, a producer who has worked with Lanois on several projects. "He's always been interested in new technology and how it can be used to enhance a song."

Lanois is known for his ability to create unique sounds and for his innovative use of technology. "He's always been interested in new technology and how it can be used to enhance a song," says Rundgren. "Lanois is no Luddite."
Is rap too commercialized?

The New Yorker (August 1, 2008)

When America's first hip-hop star, Run-DMC, mentioned the names of the gun-toting rap group, N.W.A., in a music video in 1988, the girls who were actually named N.W.A. went on stage and said, "What does Run-DMC know, they never had a gun?" And the group's MC, in the video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

"...California auditions full of young rappers, the girls who were actually named N.W.A. were actually white girls. And the group's MC, in the video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you wouldn't call her 'guy.'"

Is rap too commercialized?

The Congressman, in his video, responded, "If it was a lady, you won't call her 'guy.'"
With summer right around the corner, the football season has yet to end and with it, the uncertainty of whether Boise State will make the title game of the NCAA basketball tournament. The Broncos will be left with memories of the 1990 season, which they ended with a first-round loss to Arizona State in the NCAA title game. This year, the Broncos have been looking forward to the NCAA tournament ever since the end of the year. The Broncos have had successful seasons in recent years, including two conference championships and a national championship in 2002. With summer on the horizon, the Broncos have been preparing for next year's season, which they hope to be successful in.

NCAA slaps Michigan with more penalties

By Michael Rosenberg
Kirkland Reporter

The University of Michigan basketball team has been hit with several penalties for "unethical behavior" in the 1990s, according to the NCAA. The NCAA has imposed penalties on UC Berkeley, Oregon and Oregon State for similar violations. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for similar violations.

The violations involved improper gift-giving by Michigan's athletic department to players, coaches and other employees. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for improper payments to players, coaches and other employees. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for improper payments to players, coaches and other employees.

The violations involved improper gift-giving by Michigan's athletic department to players, coaches and other employees. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for improper payments to players, coaches and other employees. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for improper payments to players, coaches and other employees.

The violations involved improper gift-giving by Michigan's athletic department to players, coaches and other employees. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for improper payments to players, coaches and other employees. The NCAA has also imposed penalties on Michigan for improper payments to players, coaches and other employees.
Alabama continues SEC football tradition of no blacks allowed

By Mike Reach
The Orlando Sentinel

In 1986, George Wallace brutally stood in the doorway to keep the first black student from enrolling at the University of Alabama.

And now, 40 years later, the segregationist spirit of Wallace's first act of defiance lives on - in the ratio of black head coaches in all Division I-A college football - four out of 117 - which is horrible, but the SEC is easily the most abysmal of all.

Fashions from the pages of the J.Crew Catalog up to 70% off!

The Arbiter
Page 9

Ski

Monday, May 12

New women’s alpine coach announced

Peter Boll will be the first head coach of women's alpine ski at Boise State as the new hire brings first year of competition in the NCAA, the Broncos' seventh sport.

Peter Boll will be the first head coach of women's alpine ski at Boise State as the new hire brings first year of competition in the NCAA, the Broncos' seventh sport. Boll, 48, is a master's degree holder in biokinesiology and an accomplished alpine ski instructor.

A member of the Slovenian national Ski Team, Peter has been married for 20 years and has two grown sons. Recently married, he is the head coach of the University of Alabama's women's cross-country and alpine ski teams.

Previously coach at Slovenia's national and national team, Boll has more than 20 years in coaching and coaching experience.

Previously hired at Slovenia's national and national team, Boll has more than 20 years in coaching and coaching experience. He has been a coach in the United States Colleget Ski and Snowboard Association (NSCSA) and has won seven consecutive national championships as a junior in 1999.

While competing at Storrs, Connecticut, Boll earned a degree in kinesiology at the United States Colleget Ski and Snowboard Association which he holds in coaching and coaching experience. He has been a coach in the United States Colleget Ski and Snowboard Association as a junior in 1999. Peter Boll has served as a coach at the University of Alabama, the National Ski Team, and the National Team.

Along with competing in the NCAA, theセ表示の項目ビルディング、山を登るスキー者の三重のスキー。The ski association was established in 1992.

The Boise State Broncos' women's cross-country ski team finished 16th out of 31 teams at the NCAA Cross Country West Regional on Thursday at the Winter Sports Center in Missoula, Montana.

Alabama is named to preseason All-American

The University of Alabama's women's cross-country ski team has been named to the preseason all-American team for the 1995-96 season.

The Broncos are coming off a disappointing 10th-place finish at the NCAA Cross Country West Regional last year. The team finished third in the Southeastern Conference.

The ski team has been invited to compete in the NCAA Cross Country Championships, which will be held in Colorado Springs, Colorado, on March 14 and 15.

The team is coached by Pat Conn, who has been head coach of the ski team since 1987.

The ski team has been invited to compete in the NCAA Cross Country Championships, which will be held in Colorado Springs, Colorado, on March 14 and 15.

The team is coached by Pat Conn, who has been head coach of the ski team since 1987.

West Park Towne Plaza
301 N. Milwaukee St.
Boise, ID 83704

DIRECTIONS
Located across from Boise Towne Square Mall.

We accept Visa, Mastercard, American Express, J.Crew Credit Cards, Cash and Check (with proper ID)
Includes Irregulars, Damaged & Customer Returns

Free Admission. Open to the Public!