What the hell is that big red thing in the quad?

By EMILY M. BAKER

Editor

Boise State's student government is looking forward to a year of many challenges. Student leaders, including President Aliiise Wolfe and Vice President Jim Schlapper, express optimism with upcoming prospects.

Adding the "Teacher Evaluation Association." Problems: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.

Getting equitable funds for BSU.
Problem: Boise State has the highest enrollment (18,400) of any higher education institution in the state, and receives less than 2 percent of the state's higher education funds than the University of Idaho.
Solution: Boise State is aggressively encouraging voting, contacting alumni and parents and full-time lobbyists and, well, lobbying.

Problem: Boise State doesn't have a system to evaluate teachers.
Solution: An online system is being considered for identifying teaching styles, such as whether lectures, reading quizzes, attendance requirements, etc. "It's not a system to identify good professors and bad professors," Wolfe said. "It's going in for students and by students."

Adding a diversity requirement.
Problem: No core diversity class is required for every degree. Boise State graduates could be hurt in the long-run unless they can document coverage.
Solution: The proposed mandatory class for diversity education will be taught this fall.

Matching the Idaho Promise Scholarship.
Problem: Boise State is one of the minority of institutions in Idaho to fail to match the Idaho Promise Scholarship. Each Idaho student is eligible for $2,500 a year in matching funds.
Solution: Idaho and Wolfe will be working with University President Kustra to get the scholarship matched.
I: was reported from the Special machines entered. standards of a profession." A review of Events Center, feminine hygiene investigation. ' returned and the victim does occurred at the Student Union report will be routed to the with a stolen sweatshirt. The commit theft and tried to leave
Sept. 12, 11:15 a.m. A burglary
Sept. 15,9:15 p.m. A burglary
Sept. 12, 6:30 p.m. A burglary
at the Village Apartments. A Sept. 14, 4:30 p.m. A male assault and possession of drugs stolen from a rack by Chaffee stolen sometime during the occurred at the library involving in the restrooms.
Sept. 17, 6 a.m. A vehicle
A bike was reported from Liberal Arts vehicle was vandalized in the Building. A student had his art stolen from the parking lot was stolen from the parking lot
I:...
IRU seeks volunteers for Boise River sweep

BY ANNE MURCH
News Reported
The Arbiter
Did you enjoy floating through the Boise River this summer? If so, you did it in a way that could alter the course of your fate for ages to come, because you probably tossed a frisbee into the river, or threw a can at the curb, or left a bottle in the dumpster behind the bar where you worked.

Boise State University has selected for a free sneak preview screening of the film West of Memphis, presented by Boise State University, Boise State Students for Clean Water, 94.9 The River, Idaho Fish and Game, Boise Water Sport, and the City of Boise. Donna Horan, a river conscious professor at Boise State University, was interviewed for the Boise River Sweep Program.

West of Memphis tells the story of three boys wrongfully convicted of murdering three 8-year-old boys. The film is rated PG-13 for violence, some rough language, and some drug content.

The sweep will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27. This is the ninth annual Boise River sweep, but only a fraction of the trash in the Boise River has been collected. In 2002, volunteers collected over 1,000 aluminum cans from a single event.

Boise State University has selected for a free sneak preview screening of the film West of Memphis, presented by Boise State University, Boise State Students for Clean Water, 94.9 The River, Idaho Fish and Game, Boise Water Sport, and the City of Boise.

IRU seeks volunteers for Boise River sweep

The Boise State University Alumni Association honors heritage, culture and volunteerism through the annual Boise River Sweep. Much of what was once trash has been recycled. A lot of the trash that volunteers pre-register by Sept. 17.

The Boise River Sweep will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27. This is the ninth annual Boise River sweep, but only a fraction of the trash in the Boise River has been collected. In 2002, volunteers collected over 1,000 aluminum cans from a single event.

Campus
Boise State is a leader in information technology applications in construction management.

Boise State shows Sneak Preview of “The Runaways”

Boise State University has selected for a free sneak preview screening of the film “The Runaways,” presented by Boise State University, Boise State Students for Clean Water, 94.9 The River, Idaho Fish and Game, Boise Water Sport, and the City of Boise. Donna Horan, a river conscious professor at Boise State University, was interviewed for the Boise River Sweep Program.

The sweep will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27. This is the ninth annual Boise River sweep, but only a fraction of the trash in the Boise River has been collected. In 2002, volunteers collected over 1,000 aluminum cans from a single event.

Boise State University has selected for a free sneak preview screening of the film West of Memphis, presented by Boise State University, Boise State Students for Clean Water, 94.9 The River, Idaho Fish and Game, Boise Water Sport, and the City of Boise.

West of Memphis tells the story of three boys wrongfully convicted of murdering three 8-year-old boys. The film is rated PG-13 for violence, some rough language, and some drug content.

The sweep will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27. This is the ninth annual Boise River sweep, but only a fraction of the trash in the Boise River has been collected. In 2002, volunteers collected over 1,000 aluminum cans from a single event.

Boise State University has selected for a free sneak preview screening of the film West of Memphis, presented by Boise State University, Boise State Students for Clean Water, 94.9 The River, Idaho Fish and Game, Boise Water Sport, and the City of Boise.

West of Memphis tells the story of three boys wrongfully convicted of murdering three 8-year-old boys. The film is rated PG-13 for violence, some rough language, and some drug content.

The sweep will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27. This is the ninth annual Boise River sweep, but only a fraction of the trash in the Boise River has been collected. In 2002, volunteers collected over 1,000 aluminum cans from a single event.

Boise State University has selected for a free sneak preview screening of the film West of Memphis, presented by Boise State University, Boise State Students for Clean Water, 94.9 The River, Idaho Fish and Game, Boise Water Sport, and the City of Boise.

West of Memphis tells the story of three boys wrongfully convicted of murdering three 8-year-old boys. The film is rated PG-13 for violence, some rough language, and some drug content.

The sweep will start at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 27. This is the ninth annual Boise River sweep, but only a fraction of the trash in the Boise River has been collected. In 2002, volunteers collected over 1,000 aluminum cans from a single event.
Professors: Keep your hands off my morals

By JASON KAUFFMAN
Special to The Arbiter

We are all aware that our nation prides itself on a certain sense of inviolable freedom when it comes to our personal lives and marriage. In fact, you would be hard pressed to find one professor who can argue against the notion of freedom of speech. However, it seems that this same freedom is not as widely held when it comes to the discussion of issues affecting the BSU community, especially those related to morality and religion.

Perhaps this is why it was surprising to see a recent letter to the editor from a professor who complained about the perceived lack of freedom in our school. The professor claimed that the school zones are being violated by people in big stupid hurries zipping through them, and that the school crossing zones are impervious to logic, and even those people who are responsible for the water pollution argue they should not be held accountable. This is a very difficult statement to refute, as it is impossible to argue the facts against logic.

In fact, it seems that the only way to argue against this statement is to point out the absurdity of it. For example, if you are a fan of the Boise State football team, you are allowed to drive through the school zones during game days, but if you are a pedestrian crossing the same zones, you are impervious to logic. Similarly, if you are a pedestrian walking on the sidewalk, you are allowed to cross the street, but if you are a vehicle driver, you are impervious to logic.

In conclusion, it seems that the only way to argue against this statement is to point out the absurdity of it. For example, if you are a fan of the Boise State football team, you are allowed to drive through the school zones during game days, but if you are a pedestrian crossing the same zones, you are impervious to logic. Similarly, if you are a pedestrian walking on the sidewalk, you are allowed to cross the street, but if you are a vehicle driver, you are impervious to logic. In other words, it seems that the only way to argue against this statement is to point out the absurdity of it.

Shifting the Burden

The Washington Post

WASHINGTON—The House Democratic leadership's plan to shift the burden of Medicare's unsolved financing problems is taking on new urgency as the costs for the health care giant are beginning to rise. The plan, which was introduced in 1996, would have the government pay for Medicare costs by taxing the elderly and by increasing the payroll tax by two percentage points on all wages up to $50,000. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point.

The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point.

The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point. The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point.

The plan has been met with mixed reaction from Congress, and it is now facing a new challenge from Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle (D-S.D.), who is pushing for a compromise that would increase the payroll tax by only one percentage point.
Mountains, a poetic and acquired taste

By PHILIP WINTER

The Drinks (Warming Station)

"Cold Creek Manor" will leave you cold. There's no heat here but基本 warmness.

Trigger for the moment that Dennis Darnielle, also known as Stephen Darnielle, the master of the mountain, released "Cold Creek Manor," is a tale of the Alpha couple's relationship. The alpha couple find themselves in a situation that can only be described as a tumultuous landscape of relationships, fueled by a desire for meaning and self-exploration.

Just when you thought it was safe to sing the words, Thursday are here again. They've released a new album, "War All the Time," and have once again demonstrated their ability to create music that is both unique and intriguing.

For acts like Led Zeppelin and Nirvana, their music was the soundtrack to a generation. However, the current generation has a different approach to music. They have a more diverse range of influences and are more open to experimenting with different genres.

The film "Cold Creek Manor" is a tale of the Alpha couple's relationship. The alpha couple find themselves in a situation that can only be described as a tumultuous landscape of relationships, fueled by a desire for meaning and self-exploration.

The performances are perfunctory. The film has attractive footage of a mountainous region, but the acting is weak and the dialogue is stilted. The film is a disappointment and a letdown for fans of the director's previous work.

In conclusion, "Cold Creek Manor" is not a film that should be missed. It is an opportunity for fans of Darnielle to experience a new side of his musical talent and for others to discover the power of storytelling through music.

The Drinks (Warming Station)

"Cold Creek Manor" will leave you cold. There's no heat here but基本 warmness.
David Welsh to direct cross county programs

BY MAX CORBET
Bronco Sports

Boise State University has a new cross country coach directing the men’s and women’s cross country programs. Welsh is the former head coach at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) and he is the current Mid-American Conference (MAC) champion and 23 All-MAC selections

Welsh has also coached at the prep level leading New York City’s Avalon High School to two MAC championships and one state cross-country championship in 1998, 1998-1999-2000, and 2001.

Welsh was a MAC All-American as a senior in 1988 when he finished second in the MAC Cross-Country Championships. He was a four-time MAC national qualifier while competing at UNLV and was a three-time all-country and two-time all-region cross country runner. He finished third in the 1998 cross country national championships, and fourth in 1999. Along with UNLV’s 2000-2001 season win, Welsh claimed the MAC cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field championships.

Welsh has also competed at the international level. In 1998 he placed second in the world as a member of the UNLV track team, and in 2001 as a UNLV Track and Field team in China.

Zach Turner's Heisman Trophy campaign would seem to be a memory me and my kids will never forget.

Image 2

This is a memory me and my kids will never forget.

No. Illinois bags another big name, upsets Bama 19-16

BY MELISSA MAGGIO
Chicago Tribune

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. - There was no mistake as the Northern Illinois football team has a shot at the thousandth ranked team in the country in the 1999 season. Coach Greg Robinson said that his team has never been better as a team and that the Huskies are in the running for the BCS championship.

The Huskies are a memory me and my kids will never forget.

The Tide's defensive front seven outclassed NIU's smaller, less experienced team, which организм its sea of smoke and stench.

Marshalls stuns sixth-ranked Kansas State

BY HONORABLE RICHARD
Bronco Sports

MANHATTAN, Kan. - There is no real game at Texas. The Big 12 is the Big 12. The No. 6 Kansas State Wildcats (7-2, 5-1) continued their winning ways with a 34-19 victory over No. 16 Texas, rallying from a 19-7 halftime deficit to win in the final minute.

The question is, what is still missing?

The Tide's defensive front seven outclassed NIU's smaller, less experienced team, which организм its sea of smoke and stench.

Marshall stuns sixth-ranked Kansas State

BY HONORABLE RICHARD
Bronco Sports

MANHATTAN, Kan. - There is no real game at Texas. The Big 12 is the Big 12. The No. 6 Kansas State Wildcats (7-2, 5-1) continued their winning ways with a 34-19 victory over No. 16 Texas, rallying from a 19-7 halftime deficit to win in the final minute.

The question is, what is still missing?

The Tide's defensive front seven outclassed NIU's smaller, less experienced team, which организм its sea of smoke and stench.

Marshalls stuns sixth-ranked Kansas State

BY HONORABLE RICHARD
Bronco Sports

MANHATTAN, Kan. - There is no real game at Texas. The Big 12 is the Big 12. The No. 6 Kansas State Wildcats (7-2, 5-1) continued their winning ways with a 34-19 victory over No. 16 Texas, rallying from a 19-7 halftime deficit to win in the final minute.

The question is, what is still missing?

The Tide's defensive front seven outclassed NIU's smaller, less experienced team, which организм its sea of smoke and stench.

Marshalls stuns sixth-ranked Kansas State

BY HONORABLE RICHARD
Bronco Sports

MANHATTAN, Kan. - There is no real game at Texas. The Big 12 is the Big 12. The No. 6 Kansas State Wildcats (7-2, 5-1) continued their winning ways with a 34-19 victory over No. 16 Texas, rallying from a 19-7 halftime deficit to win in the final minute.

The question is, what is still missing?

The Tide's defensive front seven outclassed NIU's smaller, less experienced team, which организм its sea of smoke and stench.
Sports

Brickset take two in NC

By Amy Teigland

Special to the Arbiter

Boise State student-athletes are helping to make Boise State a better place for people with disabilities, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation will present the Broncos with a check to benefit their cause.

The Broncos' continued efforts will be recognized this Saturday on Senior Day at Bronco Stadium. The ceremony will be conducted by Boise State's Student Athlete Advisory Committee and the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

The Make-A-Wish Foundation is a non-profit organization that grants wishes to children with life-threatening illnesses.

Expo Players Vote Down Split Schedule for 2004

By Ken Davidoff

Las Vegas News Service

The Major League Baseball Players Association has voted to reject the Major League Baseball players' union's proposal for a split-season schedule in 2004.

The vote was 1,120-258, with 130 abstentions.

Players had said they would consider a split season only if baseball's owners agreed to a revenue-sharing plan.

Make-A-Wish Foundation Benefit

By Jesse Day

Boise State student-athletes, parents, coaches, and administrators will team up to host a fundraising gala in honor of the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Backgammon!

Open until 2.

The Arbiter

Looking for a job to begin your sales & marketing career?

Account Executives

Immediate openings available for experienced account executives.

Solution Pro

Dial-Up Solutions

Stop struggling with your current internet provider. Let Solution Pro bring you reliable, affordable dial-up internet access.

Solution Pro DSL

We don't want you to worry about having the best service every day. Solution Pro brings you the best service, and always has. Here's how.

Make-A-Wish Benefit

By Jesse Day

Boise State student-athletes, parents, coaches, and administrators will team up to host a fundraising gala in honor of the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Backgammon!

Open until 2.

The Arbiter

Looking for a job to begin your sales & marketing career?

Account Executives

Immediate openings available for experienced account executives.

Solution Pro

Dial-Up Solutions

Stop struggling with your current internet provider. Let Solution Pro bring you reliable, affordable dial-up internet access.

Solution Pro DSL

We don't want you to worry about having the best service every day. Solution Pro brings you the best service, and always has. Here's how.

Make-A-Wish Benefit

By Jesse Day

Boise State student-athletes, parents, coaches, and administrators will team up to host a fundraising gala in honor of the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Backgammon!

Open until 2.

The Arbiter

Looking for a job to begin your sales & marketing career?

Account Executives

Immediate openings available for experienced account executives.
Horoscopes

By Linda C. Black

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

In three days, you may have to give up one thing to get another. Don’t be surprised if you don’t have complete control over the result. Your efforts may be best rewarded with two entries.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Today is a 7. A little objectivity can help you solve a puzzle. The reason someone’s real motive may not be obvious is because you’re looking at it too closely.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is a 6 - a symphony could be one of your favorite things to do this weekend. Make your moves carefully, and you may have plenty of interesting things to look forward to.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Today is a 7 - it’s a good time to consider changing your job or career. You’ll have a better chance of getting ahead if you make changes now.

Pisces (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)

Today is a 5 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Aries (Mar. 21-April 21)

Today is a 6 - you may have to give up one thing to get another. Don’t be surprised if you don’t have complete control over the result. Your efforts may be best rewarded with two entries.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Today is a 7 - you’ll need another of your friends. Someone has a lot to offer, but may not have noticed. It’s time to be the one to seize the opportunity. Better late than never, but too late won’t work.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Today is a 6 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

Today is a 8 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Today is a 6 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is a 6 - a symphony could be one of your favorite things to do this weekend. Make your moves carefully, and you may have plenty of interesting things to look forward to.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Today is a 7 - it’s a good time to consider changing your job or career. You’ll have a better chance of getting ahead if you make changes now.

Pisces (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)

Today is a 5 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Aries (Mar. 21-April 21)

Today is a 6 - you may have to give up one thing to get another. Don’t be surprised if you don’t have complete control over the result. Your efforts may be best rewarded with two entries.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Today is a 7 - you’ll need another of your friends. Someone has a lot to offer, but may not have noticed. It’s time to be the one to seize the opportunity. Better late than never, but too late won’t work.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Today is a 6 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

Today is a 8 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Today is a 6 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is a 6 - a symphony could be one of your favorite things to do this weekend. Make your moves carefully, and you may have plenty of interesting things to look forward to.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Today is a 7 - it’s a good time to consider changing your job or career. You’ll have a better chance of getting ahead if you make changes now.

Pisces (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)

Today is a 5 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Aries (Mar. 21-April 21)

Today is a 6 - you may have to give up one thing to get another. Don’t be surprised if you don’t have complete control over the result. Your efforts may be best rewarded with two entries.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Today is a 7 - you’ll need another of your friends. Someone has a lot to offer, but may not have noticed. It’s time to be the one to seize the opportunity. Better late than never, but too late won’t work.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

Today is a 6 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Cancer (June 21-July 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22)

Today is a 8 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

Today is a 6 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Today is a 7 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Today is a 6 - a symphony could be one of your favorite things to do this weekend. Make your moves carefully, and you may have plenty of interesting things to look forward to.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

Today is a 7 - it’s a good time to consider changing your job or career. You’ll have a better chance of getting ahead if you make changes now.

Pisces (Mar. 21-Apr. 19)

Today is a 5 - you must learn to control your situation now, or you’ll find yourself in deep trouble. It’s not all up to you, but you can make a difference if you try.

Aries (Mar. 21-April 21)

Today is a 6 - you may have to give up one thing to get another. Don’t be surprised if you don’t have complete control over the result. Your efforts may be best rewarded with two entries.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)

Today is a 7 - you’ll need another of your friends. Someone has a lot to offer, but may not have noticed. It’s time to be the one to seize the opportunity. Better late than never, but too late won’t work.