BC Student Senate Ponders Problems New Status Brings

By MARCI McKEETH

The governing body of Boise College, the Student Senate, is composed of representatives from approximately 30 campus organizations. These students vote on the various issues concerning the affairs of this school, and these decisions are carried out by the executive board, a coalition of the student body officers and the class officers.

According to President Frank Frantz, the main objective of the senate is to build interest in school activities and to encourage loyalty on the part of the students for their college. He also stated that school spirit is not a problem peculiar to Boise College. However, this is aggravated by two facts: (1) a majority of the students are involved in part-time work, and (2) ours is primarily a home town school which keeps students near to many other interests.

Already this one-year-old body is faced with revamping its constitution to meet the needs of a rapidly expanding four-year college. With the addition of a third class, the executive board grew to an unwieldy size. Every proposed solution to this problem brings protests from one faction or another. This problem will be resolved only with the help and understanding of the student body.

Student Senate meetings are held on alternating Monday nights at 7:30 in the SUB Ballroom. All collegians are urged to attend and to voice their opinions on all matters concerning the college.

Marriage Consultant To Speak at Assembly

Dr. Paul Popenoe, well known marriage consultant, will be the guest speaker at a special assembly to be held at Boise College on Thursday, Oct. 21 at 9:45 a.m. The assembly, sponsored by the Marriage Institute and the YWCA is in connection with the annual "Marriage-Go-Round," to be held Oct. 19, 20 and 21 at 8:00 p.m. in the First Christian Church, across from Boise College.

Sessions are free to students.

Campus Calendar

Thurs., Sept. 23—Final day to change class schedules. 3 p.m. deadline for AWS petitions to be in Dean's office.

Fri., Sept. 24—Freshman representatives for AWS election, all day in SUB. Dance sponsored by the IK's in the SUB from 9 to 12 p.m.

Mon., Sept. 27—Preferential bidding for Valkyries, Golden Z's. Meeting of Phi Beta Lambda at 12 noon in the SUB ballroom.

Tues., Sept. 28—Phi Rho Pi election of officers, 4 p.m., L-212.

Wed., Sept. 29—Young Republicans Mixer, discotheque, 9 p.m., in the SUB.

CHOSEN TO LEAD THE CHEERS

THE 1965 CHEERLEADERS, chosen by the Student Senate, are: (kneeling) Carol Seeger, from Caldwell and Lea Griat, Meridian; (center row) Carol Purcell, Nampa and Joan Bouton, Lewiston; (back row) Jackie Heieren, Lewiston, and Gayle Steinick, Carmichael, Calif. The two Lewiston coeds are sophomores and the others are leading the Bronco cheering section for the first time.

Coed Cheerleaders Selected by Senate

Six coeds have been chosen from a field of ten to represent Boise College as cheerleaders for the fall. The election was held at a special Senate meeting Wednesday night, due to the shortage of time and lack of available facilities for a Student Body election.

Serving as cheerleaders for the second year at Boise College are Jackie Heieren and Joan Bouton, sophomores, both from Lewiston. The other four members of the pep team are Carol Seeger from Caldwell; Carol Purcell, Nampa; Lea Griat, Meridian and Gayle Steinick, Carmichael, Calif. — all freshmen.

They made their first appearance at the Coed Football Assembly last Thursday, and later performed at the Pep Rally Friday and at the Saturday night football game.

Homecoming Chairman

KAY GARVIN

PREPARATIONS ARE UNDER WAY for Homecoming, which will be on October 30. Kay Garvin is chairman of Homecoming Week, aided by social chairman Julie Mills. Students with ideas for a theme or activities should submit them to any club president, who will in turn relay suggestions to the committee. This should be done as soon as possible in order to begin preparations in earnest.

Mansion Converted to Dormitory Holds Adventure for Coed Tenants

By Kathryn Simpson

The next time you are riding down Warm Springs avenue, watch for a rather ghostly-looking house. If you can find it (and we don't think you could miss it), you have located the new residence for 33 female ghosts now attending school at Boise College.

Besides the normal requirements for a haunted house such as a gonging doorbell, creaking steps, and ancient wrought iron gate, Chapman House has a few added attractions: a blue room, a green room, a (former) bar and a dungeon, not to mention the fabulously furnished laundry room and a Gazebo out in the back yard.

The lovely old house at 103 Warm Springs Avenue is the former home of Mrs. J. J. Chapman and was leased from the Catholic Church three weeks before the girls moved in. The house was taken to ease the housing problem which was causing a great deal of worry to the administration during the summer.

Things have been very busy at Chapman these past few weeks. The girls have been "roughing it" in a mild way, since they arrived. During their first weekend they helped to paint the third floor and a new fire escape is being erected at the present time. "We are very pleased with Chapman," stated Billie Swan, newly elected house president, "even though we are short of closets, drawers, and space. We don't even complain any more about the walk to the campus."

Mrs. Marguerite Gibbens, residence director, has won the hearts of her girls, who affectionately call her "Mom." Under her guidance, the girls will undertake their first project, the construction of a float for homecoming.

Two years from now a new dormitory, which is still in the drawing stages, will be completed. At this time the boys will move out of Driscoll hall into the new structure and the girls will finally get to see the inside of the boys' dormitory while they are moving in. "By that time," sighed Helen Moore, Dean of Women, "we will need another dormitory." So, until such time as other housing is available, there will be coed haunts in the haunted house of Boise College.

Freshmen to Name Representatives To AWS Friday

Elections of three freshmen representatives of Associated Women Students will be held on Friday, Sept. 24, according to Janine Talley, AWS president.

Freshman girls interested in running for an office should have petitions in Dean Helen Moore's office by Thursday, Sept. 23 at 3 p.m. Petitions must have 20 signatures of full-time women students at BC.

To qualify for the office, coeds must have a 2.0 GPA and maintain it throughout their term of office.

The election will be held in the SUB all day Friday. Only freshman girls can vote, and they must have their ID cards before they are given a ballot.

Present AWS officers include Kay Garvin, vice president; Lorette Biagne, secretary; Janet Priddy, treasurer, and Janet Steele, publicity chairman. Representatives are sophomores Carolyn Braden, Esther Brolier, and Sylvia Tibbets, and Juniors Susan Mikolasek and Ruby Keep.

Women's Service Clubs Invite Membership Bids

Coeds, would you like to join the Valkyries or the Golden Z's service clubs? If you are at least a second semester student with a 2.5 GPA or better, you may place your first and second choice applications in the Dean of Women's office on Monday, Sept. 27.

Those interested may attend the meetings; Valkyries meet on Mondays and the Golden Z's at noon on Wednesdays, both in room C of the SUB.

CHAPMAN HOUSE on Warm Springs Avenue is being used as a coed dormitory this year to help ease the housing shortage at Boise College.

The man who says it can't be done is usually interrupted by the man who is doing it.

"I" is for Image

Boise College has dropped "Junior" from its name and has added a brand new class of juniors. To take the place of the "J" however is a mythical "I" for Image.

This Image is most important to our new four-year institution of learning, for the present and in the future. What we, the students, do and say forms the image of our college to the city, the townspeople and others.

Student behavior at college functions should at all times reflect maturity and self discipline. Juvenile actions on the part of some can make it appear that the "junior" should not have been dropped from the college name. As members of the first student body of the four-year school we have an obligation to present and preserve the proper image of our school.

For the first time freshmen and sophomores have upper classmen to help maintain standards for attitudes and actions. All clubs and college organizations can help the image by requiring certain levels of behavior of all their members.

Each individual attending an activity sponsored by Boise College helps make up the big "I"—for Image. Let's prove that we are worthy of the elevation to four-year status.

Never Another Year Like This

Reviewing the start of this historic year, the confusion of registration and the problems associated with becoming a four-year college, we are amazed that things went as smoothly as they did. Everyone has his own personal complaints concerning the problems which belong to this period of transition. Because of the problems which inevitably arose, tempers sometimes flared and the atmosphere became tense. Everyone was involved, with their own problems and unaware that others were having problems too. Once we understand these problems and are able to view them in retrospect, then we can go about the business of remedying them in the future.

The headaches began for the administration long before the college even gained a four-year status, and have continued right on through the planning of the curriculum, hiring of new faculty and final execution of the program. Many of the staff spent long hours during the summer preparing for this semester. Then came registration, with more students than had been anticipated, few of whom knew what they wanted to take, mainly because they did not have available the new catalog. Even though all these problems seemed to pile up, they somehow sorted themselves out and things went better than could be expected.

In the future students and faculty alike will be able to work closer together and, hopefully, registration will be more organized.

There will never be another year like this one!

Coeds Kick-Off

When the AWS sponsored the first chalk talk for women ever given by Coach Lyle Smith, they may well have initiated a new tradition on campus. The strictly unrehearsed assembly had verve and the packed house should be the envy of the Lyceum committee, which tries to bring top speakers and entertainers to Boise College.

Whether it was the desire to meet the football squad (and they were a handsome group sitting on stage), or a wish to learn more about football, or just a desire to start participating in worthwhile school activities, is not important.

Many of the questions about the fall spectator sport of football remained unanswered because time ran out. Many coeds said they now understand many fine points of the game that had been a mystery to them.

This interest on the part of the women students, closely followed by the student rally, were bound to be noticed by the alumni and other townspeople. The new school spirit at Boise College is bound to be contagious.

Perhaps the pre-game activities will become traditional to help inaugurate the opening of the season.

WORDS WORTH REPEATING

This is a season of decision for the Boise football fans and the student body at Boise College.

Saturday night the Broncos open the 1965 gridiron war by entertaining the Columbia Basin Hawks and it will be the first game the school will have under the new four-year scholastic plan. Still rated as a junior college, BC still must face the future in the fact that athletics will not always be a two-year program.

Thus the fan backing and support of the student body will be closely watched at Coach Lyle Smith's ball club participates during the campaign. Scholastic status on a four-year basis has been accepted, now athletics must get the same acceptance.

In the past three seasons the attendance at Bronco games has dwindled to a point where only one side of the stadium could have been used to hold the crowd. But if BC has aspirations of going four-year athletically, then this season must see a substantial increase in backing . . .

Club News

Esquires

Esquires' new officers are: President, Will Sellman; vice president, Dick Kendall; treasurer, Al West, and secretary, Ed Rees. Pat Edwards will be the Student Senate representative.

The Esquires will continue sponsoring a blood drawing, and are now working on a new project. They hope to buy a Seeing Eye dog for a blind girl.

Because Jan Lundell graduated last year the Esquires are looking for a new sponsor. The girl must have at least a two-point average, and be 20 or older.

The club for ex-service men anticipates a membership of approximately 25 members. Mr. William Belknap is advisor for the group.

Young Republicans

Young Republican Chairman Jim Jones reports that this year the club is staging a "comprehensive political instruction program combined with an active social calendar." The first social event will be a discotheque mixer which is scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 29 at 9:00 p.m. in the SUB Ballroom. A second dance, featuring the Motifs, and co-chaired by Lizz Chandler and Ron Jones, is planned for Oct. 9. Both these activities are open to the public.

Y. R. club elections are scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Rodeo Club

The Boise College Rodeo Club is holding meetings every Tuesday at noon in room E of the SUB. They will be selling "foot warmers" at the home football games. Their first activity will be a Field Meet on Oct. 3 at the Highlands Stables arena. For information, attend the meetings or ask a Rodeo Club member. New officers are Gayle Allen, Doug Miller, Bernie Jestrabek, Nancy Glimp and Yo Wilhite.

Phi Rho Pi

Phi Rho Pi, the National Junior College Forensic Honor Society, will meet to elect officers Tuesday, Sept. 28 at 4 p.m. in room 212 of the library. Membership in this organization is gained through participation in the debate team or in related competitive speech programs. Several activities are planned for this year, including a trip to Texas for the nation debate meet.

Newman Club

Meetings for Catholic students will soon be held in the new Newman Center, according to Carolyn Braden, president of the Newman Club.

The new Center, directly across from Boise College campus, is nearing completion. The Newman group will use this Center for their Wednesday meetings. Theology classes will be held on Thursdays, and there will be an instruction class in the Catholic religion on Tuesday evenings. Mass will be held each noon.

Club members hope to be able to hold dedication services by mid-October, after which an increased program of activities will be developed.

Student Artist Designs Roundup Banner

BERNIE JESTRABEK

Jestrabek. "Bernie" is a Commercial Art major under the guidance of Louls Peck, department head. She has been an artist "ever since I can remember!" and prefers sign paint "because it dries so fast."

In addition to her art interests, Bernie is treasurer of the College Rodeo Club and was BJC Rodeo Queen last spring. She is a member of the Idaho Girl Rodeo Association and was All Around Cowgirl of 1964. Her other hobbies include dancing, swimming, and water-skiing. Bernie likes school (really!) and also works in the library part-time.

Her art also won honorable mention at the state fair, where she also sold a painting. Several of her works were on display at the Student Art Show this spring.

CAMPUS BEAT

Miss Doris Hoyer, recent full-time addition to the Education faculty, was missing from the campus this week. She evidently has been associating closely with her students, both at the college and at Campus School. She has the measles. Only time will tell if other members of the faculty will be absent, as Miss Hoyer was among those present at the President's reception for the faculty last Sunday.

Tripp and Trapp are members of the Vocational faculty!

An ardent Bronco fan, a downtown business man, wondered aloud recently, "I don't know how you folks have managed to keep Coach Lyle Smith in Boise all these years!"

We really appreciate the terrific food being served in the SUB, especially since our counterparts at the U of I make an occupation of griping about their vittles! A tip of the chef's hat to Phil Campbell.

Recommended Listening

"Labor, Leisure and Automation," is the topic of this week's program on the "Gateway to Ideas" series presented at 7:45 Monday evening on radio station KIDO. This will be the second program in a series of 26, sponsored by the Idaho State Library Association, and will feature Ralph Blacklund, managing editor of "Horizon Magazine," as its moderator. The series is highly recommended by Boise College's English department and library staff for all students.

A lot of students are wondering about what's in the tower atop the Administration Building. Or is it just for decoration? How about some chimes up there, to add to our academic personality?

KBJC may have remote broadcasts from the balcony in the SUB, complete with student interviews. If so, the juke box may go out of business, but it would sure save a few student dimes.

We're wondering why we don't offer courses in Chinese here and utilize the talents and background of Dr. Fung and Mr. Wu.

Library Hints . . .

Since Boise College has become a four-year institution, our library has substantially increased its selection of periodicals. The present system of display does not allow room for recent issues of all magazines on the open shelves, so if you don't see the periodical you want, check the card file located on the table with the "Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature." If the magazine is listed, but not on the open shelves, you will find it in the alphabetically arranged stacks next to the typing room.

The New York Times and certain issues of other periodicals are recorded on microfilm. The file in which the film is chronologically arranged is located next to the office of the reference librarian, as are the microfilm machines. If you are in doubt as to how to use these, ask at the main desk.

BRONCETTES PREPARE TO SWING

By JIM ROBERTS

Numerous changes have been recorded since the status of the college has been changed to four years. Some, however, have witnessed very little interest by a majority of the students. One new addition, particularly acceptable to the male set, has been the strenuous activities of the girls' drill team. After several weeks of daily tryouts, and countless sore muscles, all sacrifices were justified for 77 girls who were selected last week by their director, Mr. Hank Houst. The "Broncettes," the name finally selected by the girls, will be dressed in midnight blue costumes, with orange lining, and white boots.

Different from the typical military style of marching, the high stepping "Broncettes" will parade to jazz and swing type routines, with music provided by the band, directed by Mr. John Best.

Selected to coordinate the activities on the field, is Captain Chris Shaw. Other officers include Jamie Ladd, military lieutenant, and Jonlann Storer, dress lieutenant.

According to Houst, the girls hope to be fully costumed and drilled to perform at half-time for the next home game against Snow College on October 2. On Nov. 12-14 the "Broncettes" will perform at Everett, Wash., when the Broncos play Everett College. Following the game, two days will be spent in Seattle.

BOISE, IDAHO

With today's fashions putting extra emphasis on the legs, what could be more appropriate than pants that cover up, yet are beautiful and flattering.

Pants International by rose marie reid do just that with a new material made especially for pants. Hopsacking (a rayon acetate, and cotton fabric) holds the shape of the pants, fights wrinkles, and is comfortable for any activity. They come in colors of black, blue, gold, brown, hot pink, and beige.

Swinging tops, of the same material, come in many styles and colors to match your pants. A favorite is the long, sleeveless top with side slits. Wild patterns of embroidered yarn decorate the front to finish the "look."

Hopsacking also comes in the bolero top and the long sleeved top with the boat neck.

Pullovers with old fashioned paisley design in velour are here. Made of combed cotton, creating the illusion of velvet, they pair up with the Pants International to make a great team.

For you sweater lovers, rose marie reid has developed the International shell and tassel sweaters. Made of 100 per cent wool, they come in blue, gold, and pink.

DR. CHAFFEE SPEAKS AT FALL DINNER

UCCI (United Christian Campus Institute) held its annual fall dinner for college students Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the First Christian Church. Dr. Eugene B. Chaffee spoke on "The Development of Boise College."

Rev. Robert Gruwell, president of the Institute, says: "The UCCI is a cooperative venture by a number of local churches to establish a program adjacent to the campus for Christian education and fellowship. It has taken different forms such as content classes and breakfast forums. In each year there have been activities for students at the fellowship level and parties."

Biologists Take Trip

Dr. Donald Obee, chairman of the Life Sciences Division and Mr. H. W. Belknap, biology instructor, were the guests of Mr. Levi Mohler, Game Biologist of the State Fish and Game Department on a field trip last week above Lucky Peak dam. They inspected the bitterbush research projects, and laid the groundwork for future field trips for students majoring in Wildlife Management.

Men Vie for Title

Now is the chance for the fellows to express their beatnik tendencies and perhaps win a prize. The annual King Beard contest will begin this Friday noon when the men students will meet in the SUB to risk their rosy cheeks at the hands of the Valkyrie barbers.

Members of the Valkyries service unit will be shaving the brave men from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the SUB. An entry fee of 25 cents will be charged.

King Beard will be crowned at the pep rally during Homecoming and will receive a gift certificate from Riley's. All clubs are urged by Kay Garvin, Homecoming chairman, to have at least one candidate in the growing. If you have never been shaved by a girl, this should be quite an experience; besides, where else can you get shaved for a quarter!

Any other students interested in working on the staff should contact Carol Jensen or Advisor Mrs. Helen Thomson in the Journalism office (T-1).

Concerning deadlines, Carol emphasized that all clubs should arrange for their group picture assignments before the cold weather sets in. Each club is responsible for turning in its own copy.

A bubbling, yet business-like personality has been added to the Boise College Education Department in the person of Miss Doris Hoyer. Her sympathetic, interest and worthwhile contributions to the student teachers come from a wealth of knowledge gleaned from her years as a teacher, first in the Boise Valley and later as a supervising teacher.

When Dr. A. H. Chatburn put his plans into motion for a BJC on-campus public school in 1954, she joined the faculty at Campus School. Miss Hoyer remembers that first year when there were only five student teachers. (There were 42 last year.)

From there she became a Boise Public School supervisor along with her part-time assistance at Campus. Ill health forced her to give up her activities at Campus in 1963, but the advancement of Boise Junior College to a four-year institution brought Miss Hoyer back as a full-time instructor and a very welcome addition to the faculty.

As the state president of the Association for Supervisors and Curriculum Development, Miss Hoyer is considered the "leading light in national organization of curricular development." She is also active in PTA, NEA, IEA, and will be the advisor for the

Debate Teams Organize

College debate teams, both freshman and varsity, are organizing now and Mr. Robert Miller, debate coach, or Jim Jones may be contacted for further information.

The topic this year is: "Resolved: That Law Enforcement agencies in the United States should be given greater freedom in the investigation and prosecution of crime."

The freshman debate team will debate college teams within the state. The varsity team is scheduled to participate at the University of Oregon Forensic Tournament at Eugene, Ore., on November 12, 13. Varsity debaters at present are Jim Jones and Michael Koppes. There are openings for more members on this team. There is also a need for extemporaneous speakers, oral interpreters, impromptu speakers and oratorical speakers. Debate teams meet Tuesday or Thursday at 3 p.m.

Broncos Drop First Game to Hawks

Boise College was completely overwhelmed by the Columbia Basin Hawks in the first game of the Bronco season, 26-0.

Boise received the opening kickoff and began a march down the field with quarterback Ron Imel repeatedly giving the ball to Jim Evenson, who successively racked up 19, 15 and 8-yard runs.

A punt situation developed and the Hawks took the ball back to the 41-yard line.

Boise Gets Ball

Only managing to bring the ball about eight yards, Boise kicked again. A clipping penalty on the Hawks however gave the Broncos the ball and a pass to Barney Roesner put them past the 50 with a first down.

After an incompleting pass, Imel called a ladder roll to Vern Morse which was fumbled and although Morse recovered the ball, the Broncos sat back on their own 42-yard line. A punt and two short runs by the Hawks ended the first quarter.

The Hawks fumbled the ball to Rodney Lima, giving the home team a position on the Hawks' 12-yard line. An attempted pass and two stifled runs changed the situation, however, and Boise settled for trying for a field goal. Gary Stivers missed and the Hawks began on their own 20.

Hawks Score on Pass

Fullback Arnold Clark, a Hawk standout, broke away with the first run and picked up a quick 15 yards. With a new first down, Columbia Basin ground down to the 39 and passed. Quarterback Ray Brum completed the throw to halfback Ray Stookey, who hurried 43 yards before being brought to a halt. Obviously disgruntled, Bronco Gary Frisch charged through the Hawk line on the following play to nail Brum four yards back. Four plays later Brum lofted the ball and Don Brumback nabbed it for the Hawks' first score. Tom Jordon kicked the PAT.

Returning the kickoff, Ron Grabowski brought the ball from

COACH INTRODUCES BRONCOS

COACH SMITH identifies Jim Mahan as one of the starting Broncos at the pep rally held last Friday night in prelude to the Columbia Basin game.

An Accolade for Coach Lyle Smith

By STEVE LAWRENCE

Professional men in our modern world hold one purpose in life above all others. They will do their utmost in attempting to do a job not only well but exceedingly well. These men claim a page of history. Lyle Smith, head coach for the Boise College Broncos, has acquired success and has written an entire chapter of his success for the past 19 years into the history book.

This, his 20th year at Boise, is just another year, yet an anniversary year, in which Bronco fans and Lyle Smith fans especially may give thought and appreciation to the fine record and high standard of success he has perpetuated.

Although Coach Smith is recognized chiefly for his excellent career here at Boise, there were the earlier years; a year at Firth, Idaho, where he was the coach of everything, and two years at Moscow High School, his alma mater. Coach Smith served in the Navy during World War II until 1946. In the spring of 1946 he enrolled at the University of Idaho to complete a course in education and obtain a Master's degree.

Smith Takes Job

The fall of 1946 was Boise's lucky day. Lyle Smith, upon hearing of an opening for a coaching job at BJC, applied and was accepted. The following year, in the fall of 1947, he began his reign as commander-in-chief of one of the most outstanding football programs in junior college football.

Since 1947 Coach Smith has seen his facilities grow from poor to good. The requirement of Bronco Stadium in 1950 ended a long stretch of games played on what is now the practice field. In 1956, the gym was built, rescuing the basketball team from what is now the Auto Mechanics building. These developments came about because of past success and a bright future of the college athletic program which could be attributed to Coach Smith.

He recalls his first Potato Bowl in 1949 during his second year as head coach, and the National Junior College Athletic Association championship game played in Boise in which they defeated Tyler J.C., 22 to 0, as two of his most enjoyable memories.

"Also during the seasons we have had several rivals such as the old College of Southern Idaho which was at Albion, Idaho, and Weber College at Ogden, Utah, which always stimulates competition."

New Program Interesting

This year Boise College, previously Boise Junior College, is a four-year institution. The athletic program, however, still has junior college status. Eventually athletics will go four years, bringing different problems and new advantages.

Speculatively, Coach Smith says: "I think this will be a very interesting time. In the past we have been very fortunate to have the community support behind the team." In the past, he points out, players have enjoyed Boise College and the town and he hopes that this will be enough stimulus to draw the high caliber of athletes to Boise as in the past.

Stepping out of his thoughts of the past and into the present, Coach Smith states that he is looking forward to a 1965 football season and a team that he hopes "will size up to some of the better ones in the past."

Broncs Meet TVCC

The Broncos travel to Ontario for their first road game of the season and first encounter other than scrimmage with Treasure Valley Community College. Boise will be looking for its first victory of the 1965 season.

TVCC, a comparatively new school, began only three years ago as a four-year community college and has just this year raised an athletic program suitable for full scale competition. Just as athletes have to provide proof of their ability to compete in four-year college competition, so also does TVCC have to prove its athletic department for competition.

On October 2 the Broncos return to Boise to meet Snow College. Snow will be looking for revenge for last year's contest when Boise walked over them on Snow's home ground, 27-8.

Sept. 29 Deadline Set for Entering Intramural Program for All BC Men

By MIKE BOWEN

Once again it's time for 'RAG-TAG' or intramural football for all freshman, sophomore and junior boys attending Boise College. Sunday, Oct. 3 will officially open the season for this popular sport that is fast becoming a way to "get away from it all" on those Sunday afternoons.

Again this year there will be the 15-man roster for each squad, with a nine man team participating in each game. Each team will consist of five linemen and four backs, instead of the regular 11-man squad.

All those who are interested in playing should contact Coach Jack Perrin with a team preference listing 15 men. These names must be submitted by Wednesday, Sept. 29. Names may be entered either by teams or by individual players.

All games will be played on Sunday afternoons from one to three o'clock on the practice field directly in front of the Student Health Center. Games will last about five or six weeks, depending upon the number of teams that show up. Dress will be cut-offs. All officials will be college students enrolled in the Sports Officiating class.

The intramural program is open to all men students, Perrin said.

the 15 to the 35. After missing a pass and being caught behind the line of scrimmage twice, the Broncos called for a punt. Brown and Stookey traded runs down the field and Brown took the pigskin the ball to the Hawks a second time in the quarter. Brown and into the end zone. With 3:01 left in the half the Hawks had six more points.

After receiving the kickoff the Broncos were again shut down and forced to punt. The Hawks took over the ball on the 21-yard line and after a 49-yard pass to Ken McGahuey, the gun sounded to end the first half.

Broncos Kick Off

The ball exchanged hands several times and finally Boise sustained a drive to Columbia Basin's 22-yard line with a 50-yard run by fullback Jim Evenson. With this the quarter ended.

Boise sustained two drives for a total of 92 yards. Fumbles and misplaced aeriels hindered chances for the Broncos to score. In the fourth quarter, the Hawks, with still 14:32 minutes remaining, intercepted a pass and their Jerry Bailey ran 83 yards to claim six additional points and also picked up the PAT around end.

QUARTERBACK RON IMEL leaves grounded Hawk and heads down field looking for blockers and that distant end zone marker. The Bronco players were blanked, however.
