BOISE COLLEGE ROUNDUP

VOL. 1, NO. 7

THURSDAY, OCT. 21, 1965

BOISE, IDAHO

NINETEEN COEDS ARE SPONSORED AS CANDIDATES FOR BOISE COLLEGE HOMECOMING QUEEN FOR 1965

Two television programs will be devoted to the forthcoming Boise College Homecoming activities next week: the Bonnie Wallis program, channel 2 on Wednesday at 2:30, and on Periscope, channel 7, Thursday at 2:30.

Big Band to Play For Dance on 30th Ducats on Sale Now

A name band from California—Jerry Gray's "Band of Today"—will play for the first Homecoming celebration for four-year Boise College, Saturday, Oct. 30 in the gymnasium, following the football tilt, Kay Garvin, HC chairman, announces.

Sparkling crystal balls suspended from the gym ceiling portraying the theme, "A New Beginning—A New Dream," are being decorated by Julie Mills and members of her social committee: Loretta Blagone, Vicki Burch, Jan Young, Jeannene Cantrell, Sandy Lesh, Suzanne Zeller and Susan Clarke.

Gray's musicians are noted for their versatility and are expected to perform their own "battle of the bands," playing the "new beat" for the students, and smooth numbers for others. Special invitations have been extended to the faculty and all alumni to attend.

Tickets at $2 a couple are being sold in the SUB, Library, and downtown at Holsinger's.

The orchestra is much in demand at big college dances, and most recently played at the University of Arizona. Buck home in Hollywood, his musicians lured more than 5,000 dancers in one weekend to the Palladium.

The SUB is open nightly Monday through Tuesday from 8 to 10 p.m., and on Sunday from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

AWS Taking Orders

The traditional gold football chrysanthemums are being sold by AWS, who are taking orders in the SUB through Friday, Oct. 29. Receipts will be issued with orders, to be presented when picking up the mums at the game or the dance.

Cost of the flowers will be $1.80 (including tax), Janet Priddy, AWS treasurer, advises. Three hundred mums have been ordered this year, and the proceeds will be used for community projects and to help defray expenses of AWS social events.

Homecoming Highlights

FRI., OCT. 22—Men cast votes for Queen candidates, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Library foyer. Pie eating contestants register in SUB.

THURS., OCT. 28—Pep Rally, 7:30 in stadium; Burning of the "B", pie-eating contest, spirit jug contest and crowning of King Beard.

FRI., OCT. 29—Pep parade, lineup 11:30 a.m., parade starts at 12:05. Elections for Homecoming Queen.

SAT., OCT. 30—Float parade downtown, 11 a.m. Boise College vs. Ricks, 7:15 p.m., stadium. Dance to Jerry Gray's music following game. Crowning of Homecoming Queen.

Men to Cast Votes

The men students of Boise College will have the opportunity to cast their ballots for the girl of their choice in the preliminary elections for the coveted title of Homecoming Queen, on Friday, October 22, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the foyer of the Library. After presenting their student activity cards, the men will have to choose from the 19 candidates for their Queen. Five finalists will be selected. The final election will be held Friday, Oct. 29. The winner of the finals will not be announced until Saturday night at the Homecoming dance. Karen Ferguson, who is in charge of the selection of the Homecoming Queen, stressed the importance that all men students should be at the polls and vote for the candidate of their choice.

Preparing Floats

Work is under way on many of the floats entered in the parade, according to Will Sellman, Homecoming Parade chairman. Entries have been submitted by AWS Chairman Janine Talley; Baptist Student Union, chairman John Kunz; Delta Epsilon Chi, chairman Lane TenEyck; Driscoll Hall, chairman John Kauinono; Engineers Club, chairman Bruce Bigelow; Esquires, Dave Ackley; French Club, Pat Spesinger; German Club, Golden Z's, Janie Walters; LDS Institute, Terry Davis; Morrison Hall-Falk House, Peggy Chapel; IK's, Ron Pridmore; Newman Club, LaVonne Lange; Phi Beta Lambda, Gary Bengochea; Pi Sigma Sigma, Bill Hall; Rodeo Club, Youlanda Wilhite; Roundup, Lizz Chandler; SNEA, Pamela Hill; Student Nurses, Mariane Reed; Valkyries, Susan Bonney; Tau Alpha Pi, Carolyn Hiatt; West Hall and Chapman House, Mary Bishop and Charles Van Hise.

Speeding on the Boulevard

It can be assumed that a majority of the moving vehicles on College boulevard are coming from or going to Boise College. We are wondering if last year's speeding tickets have diminished in memories, or if illiterate individuals are driving these vehicles and cannot read. In either case, this does not excuse the excessive speed on College boulevard which can be witnessed at any time during the day.

Reduced speed is necessary for several reasons: the traffic bottleneck occurring simply because of the busy thoroughfare connecting Capitol and Broadway; secondly, the real reason for the posted area, Campus School, adjacent to the college. Driving carefully near a grade school not only is common sense, but legally we are bound by these laws. If we choose to ignore the posted areas, expensive and irritating fines, or even serious accidents may occur.

Will additional police patrols and radar be necessary to forcibly eliminate this problem—or are we responsible enough citizens (and drivers) to minimize the situation by individual efforts? Either remedy could help alleviate the present precarious situation for pedestrians of all ages on the boulevard.

Unity in Smaller Numbers

It is a privilege to be part of a mature-acting student body. Junior colleges are often referred to as immature in comparison with full four-year colleges—and we have just begun to achieve our "full" college status after beginning as a junior college.

However, our former junior college status may have helped us to achieve the student unity which is evident in campus activities and organizations. As a junior college, the participation and cooperation of everyone is still important and has a place to fill.

This student unity is not always a part of higher institutions of learning. On many campuses, the lower classmen or undergraduates are often either ignored or harassed. Neither of these attitudes seem conducive to good school spirit and cooperation.

Boise College needs the cooperation and interest of every person associated with it to successfully reach the goal of preparing men and women to help the world. Let's continue to keep and improve our attitude of unity—even making it a part of our endowment to future generations.

Have We Met?

In the center of the Boise College campus stands a tradition. It's long on good intent but short on student enthusiasm and participation.

This tradition is clearly indicated by the sign hanging over it—HELLO WALK.

These two words express an effort to create warmth and friendship among BC's student body.

A casual hello to a visitor or a bewildered freshman could make all the difference in their general outlook towards the school.

If a whole new attitude among students is needed to change the idea that greeting a fellow student is not a task but a pleasure, why not be the first? Try saying "hi" on the HELLO WALK. The extra second it takes will save a tradition and create the kind of atmosphere due Boise College.

WORDS WORTH REPEATING

If the average shoe size in the United States is 9, this does not mean that every person has a size 9 foot. Neither does the fact that the average age of a college freshman is 17 or 18 means that every youngster is ready for college immediately following high school.

There are students who attend college because they have "nothing better to do." Not surprisingly, students of this sort often bog down in the "sophomore slump"—and drop out of college altogether. Parents, understandably, have a tendency to believe that their child will do well in college if only given the chance. This, in spite of a record of poor performance in high school.

An unusually high percentage of parents who push this kind of a child often discover the term "late bloomer." They claim that their child, one who has "not achieved" in high school, is really a species of genius who has not yet shown his bud. Colleges are constantly dealing with young people. They are particularly well adept at recognizing the wide variety of late "bloomers" who apply for admission.

In general, colleges are quite suspicious of the candidate or parent who comes into the admissions office and uses the term "late bloomer" as an excuse for a poor high school record.

Actually, students who truly belong in this category are much too interested and involved in lively concerns to describe themselves in such a fashion.

In short, one of the real tests of whether a young man or young lady is ready to enter college is his or her ability to make an objective appraisal of themselves.—John C. Hoy, Wesleyan University, reprinted from Idaho Statesman.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To ALL B.C. Students:

With the coming of the annual homecoming football game, the first of Boise College's history, there are some items that should be restated in order to insure that each student fully understands some regulations which the college has set down for the benefit of all.

Some of these items are school spirit and activities on campus similar to those which transpired at the Boise-Wenatchee game. The Regulations section of the Student Handbook has two sections which bear repeating at this time. The first concerning student conduct on page 16 (paragraph A), which states, "Conduct must at all times be in keeping with the standards that identify a lady or a gentleman." Also on page 16, (paragraph B, which states in part, "Boise College does not permit the use, possession, or serving of alcoholic beverages on the campus or in any college building." This includes Bronco Stadium, too—men!

At the SUB recently a small group of students were talking about the school spirit that Boise College should have, but doesn't. They stated that there should be an official Boise College pep club complete with faculty advisors as well as officers. The pep club should be co-educational and initiate a program of student pep rallies set for a convenient time.

Why not have your club cheer with the cheerleaders and be a united section instead of individuals screaming different cheers?

Student's Name on File.

Dear Editor: (A thought conceived from "Letters to the Editor" in Boise College ROUNDUP, Oct. 14.)

I have often wondered if those people who are concerned with such trivial things as "keeping the school paper off the floor, and being acquainted with all who roam these halls of knowledge," have ever done any shouting against the noise in the library? Or are they the people making all the noise???

Signed: B. B. Iszler

P.S.: The "Z" in Iszler is also silent.

RELIGION ON CAMPUS

UCCI

Dr. Acel Chatburn, dean of faculty of Boise College, will be the speaker at the next breakfast forum on Wednesday from 6:45 a.m. to 7:45 a.m. in room C of the SUB. Dean Chatburn's topic is "From Humble Beginnings." The cost of the breakfast is 50 cents.

Officers of the Baptist Student Union have been announced by John Kunz, president; Duane Hood, program chairman; Garland Fout, enlistment chairman; Katy Hopkins, secretary, and Peggy Gladhart, social and communications chairman.

Campus Life, a Christian fellowship group for college young people, will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the home of Warren Drivers, 6708 Holiday Drive. Rev. Orvil Stiles, state director of Campus Crusades for Christ, will be the speaker.

Mr. Pat Bleter was the speaker at the last Newman club meeting. The next meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Catholic Center.

The Methodist Student Movement will hold a discussion meeting at noon on Friday in room C of the SUB. The yearbook club picture will be taken.

The new tall, dark and handsome member of the Art department faculty is Mr. Howard Huff, a BJC graduate who continued his education at the C of I (where he graduated cum laude in 1963.)

Mr. Huff taught art at Hillside Junior High last year, as well as evening classes at Boise College. Born in Missouri, he traveled extensively with his parents, but has spent his last 18 years in the northwest. His wife, the former Holly Black, also is a BJC alum.

An outgrowth of his art profession is his experimental photography, examples of which are currently on exhibit in the library, second floor. Two of the exhibit-size photographs were prize winners at the Idaho State Fair.

The artist-photographer says he chose the teaching profession in order to "help others along the way to develop their talents." "I believe that a liberal education helps an artist to be more aware of his surroundings and environment," he explained. "The old concept of an artist living in a world of his own is no longer valid."

CHECKING COMPOSITION for a photograph is Mr. Howard Huff, newest addition to the Boise College Art department. Mr. Huff has combined his hobby with art in making several experimental photographs now on display in the Library.

FACELESS STUDENTS

The following students should report to the photography laboratory, L225, to have their pictures taken for ID and/or yearbook. Mr. Carr, the photographer, will be in his office daily (except Tuesday) between 11:50 and 12:30.

Carol Jensen, Les Bois editor, says, "Each spring when the yearbooks are issued, students not pictured complain because they are not included. We are making every effort to get complete coverage for the record of this historical year."

We're all born equal, but not equal to it.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I LIKE THIS NEW MAN'S APPROACH, DEAN HOOKER."

At the Dance

Sheaths, Wool Are Coeds' Choices

Boise College coeds are exercising their independence and for the most part plan to wear casual clothes to the Homecoming dance, Julie Mills, chairman of the social committee, says. "The girls prefer to go to the game and proceed to the dance immediately afterwards."

Therefore, 'neath those warm wraps will be a variety of dresses which will be seen later at the gym. A random survey on what THEY will be wearing reveals that Janine Talley will wear a pink wool sheath; Carol Purcell, black wool; Barbara McBroom, cream wool; Marguerite Gillis, a long-sleeved white sheath.

Homecoming Chairman Kay Garvin will wear a green-gold brocade suit, and Pat Strait, two-piece cranberry wool. Sophisticated black has been chosen by HC Publicity Chairman Janie Walters, Gayle Steineck, Judy Richard, Norma Seavo, Susan Clarke and Susan Mikolasek.

STUDENTS TO SMASH CARS (LEGITIMATELY)

To help further Homecoming spirit, the DECA students are sponsoring a car smash to be held behind the student union on Thursday, Oct. 28, from 11 to 1:30. The price is 10c per smash or three smashes for a quarter. The cars are being donated by A-1 Auto, B & B Auto Supply, and Trusty Auto Parts, all of Garden City. Any part that you might chip off may be kept.

Holiday colors in Co-ordinates by Garland have arrived early at the BON MARCHE to give you plenty of time to buy them all.

Luscious sweaters with proportioned stretch pants to match are perfect for any casual affair. If you're short, tall, or average you can find a perfect fit in these pants.

The sweaters in styles of pull-overs and cardigans come in mohair and wool. Soft and dreamy describe the colors to a "T". Both the pants and sweaters come in Hazel Mist Green, Daffodil Yellow, Spray Blue, Blush Pink, Wine, Jade Green, Navy Blue, Camel Tan, and many others.

To be really "college," the fashionable coed should include a smart blazer and matching skirt ensemble in her wardrobe.

With the tailored, 3-pocket blazer, you can wear straight, A-line, pleated, and half-pleated skirts. Isn't it just like Garland to have all these skirt styles in colors to match your jacket?

A favorite of the skirts is the straight cut with two hip pockets. The pockets appear to be decorative slits but surprise everyone by being roomy packets.

QUEEN CANDIDATES' PROFILES

Boise College's loveliest—the pick of their sponsoring groups—are 19 Homecoming Queen candidates, to be voted on tomorrow by the men students from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Library foyer. Here they are, listed alphabetically by sponsors:

AWS candidate is the president, petite, vivacious Janine Talley, 5'1" with blond hair, blue eyes. She makes her own clothes, likes good music and cooking. An Education major, she hopes to teach second grade.

Baptist Student Union's candidate, Sue Barton, a brown haired, green eyed freshman, 5'7", an avid football fan, likes to swim, fish, go camping, bowl, plays the piano, cooks, sews and enjoys church activities.

Chapman House and West Hall joined forces and chose Billie Swan, freshman from Horseshoe Bend and Chapman House president. She has bright brown eyes, silky brown hair, a Liberal Arts major and will portray "Dormiene" in the forthcoming school play.

Driscoll Hall men are sponsoring Susan Clarke, another brunette with green eyes. A trim 5'7", she is a freshman representative, alternate cheerleader and interested in Life Lines. She's an Elementary Education major.

The Engineers chose sophomore Margaret Gillis, who is 5 feet, one of the shortest candidates. A blue-eyed brunette, she likes skiing on water and snow alike, is an Elementary Education major.

Esquire's First Lady is Diane Relyea, a sophomore Education major from Elko, Nev. She's 5'2" with eyes of green, is social chairman of Falk House.

Coeds at Falk House are sponsoring brunette Gall Ulrey, a freshman from Mountain Home, majoring in art, clothing and textiles. Another 5-footer, and a brunette, she is a senate representative and Falk House co-historian.

Golden Z's chose their president, Janie Walters, as their candidate. A 5'7" brown-eyed brunette, she's an education major interested in working with mentally retarded children. Janie is Homecoming publicity chairman and is a part-time telephone operator.

The Intercollegiate Knights are promoting fair, blonde and green-eyed Jan Long, who is 5'5" tall. She is a Home Economics major and her chief interests are the Homettes—and the IK's.

The Lambda Delta Pi-sponsored candidate, Kimberly Hansen, was named after a gold mine. A Borah grad, she plays violin, guitar, piano, likes folk singing. A green-eyed brunette, she's 5'2".

Morrison Hall's brunette, olive-skinned Jacky Heieren, is a Commercial Art major, hails from Lewiston. She's 5'6", is a cheerleader, an honorary member of Pi Sigs and vice president of Morrison Hall.

Newman Club queen candidate is 5'6½" ebony-haired Michele Paolletti, from Elko, Nev. A freshman Home Ec major, she is active in the Newman Club and the Homettes Club.

The Nursing Club is backing sophomore Janet Sparks, president of the group, from Pacomia, Calif. A brunette, 5'4½", she teaches Sunday School, works part-time in addition to her nursing studies, is a member of Lambda Delta Sigma.

The Pi Sigma Sigmas are sponsoring blue-eyed Kay Garvin, a 5'2½" strawberry blonde majoring in Education. A junior, she's Homecoming chairman, AWS VP, and active in Valkyries and Life Lines.

The Rodeo Club is bucking for another green-eyed blonde, Anita Williams, 5'6". An AWS representative, she is social director for the Rodeo Club. Her favorite pastime, of course, is horseback riding, then water skiing.

The ROUNDUP staff chose fellow journalist Carol Jensen, a sophomore Elementary Education major. The brown-eyed brunette is 5'8½", is soft-spoken and shy. She is editor of this year's Les Bois yearbook.

The Student Senate is backing honey-blonde, green-eyed Norene Wright, a junior English major. Always with a sunny smile, she's 5'5", is active in student government, Valkyries, Life Lines, likes horses and skiing (both kinds).

Tau Alpha Pi members are sponsoring 5'2" Jean Mingo, a dark-eyed brunette. A Dental Assistant student, she is a member of the Vocational Service Club. After school, her favorite pastime is sewing.

The Valkyries chose their president, Patty Servis as candidate. A petite 5'1", she's blonde with blue eyes, and a sophomore majoring in secretarial science. In addition to her Valkyrie duties, Patty belongs to the Newman Club.

BOISE COLLEGE PRESIDENT Dr. Eugene B. Chaffee (left) outlined the school's expansion plans to Sen. Frank Church during his visit to Washington recently. Dr. Chaffee discussed the availability of additional federal funds and enlisted the Idaho Democratic senator's assistance in accelerating growth of the Boise College, now initiating its baccalaureate program after many years as a junior college. The president attended a three-day meeting of the American Council on Education in the nation's capitol.

Play Opens Nov. 3

BC's production of Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme will be presented Nov. 3, 4, 5, and 6, at 8:00 p.m., in the Little Theater on the second floor of the library. Admission is free to BC students and faculty; all other students, 50c; adults, $1.00. John Warwick is the director.

Mesa Trampled Under Bronco Stampede 55-0

Boise Invades Dixie

With 13 returning lettermen, Dixie College will be waiting in St. George, Utah, this coming Saturday for the visiting Boise Broncos with nothing less than an upset on their minds. Combining in the effort will be starting quarterback Darwin Slade and his father, William Slade, who is starting his first year with the Rebels as head coach. This will be Darwin's second year.

Also figuring into the Rebels' hopes for another ICAC victory over the Broncos will be pass receiver Phil Tuckett. The fullback position also seems to be well represented with four big men. Returning for action against the Broncos will be McKay Christian. Darwin and Phil were responsible for the winning touchdown pass when the Rebels nailed Boise 7-2 last year at home.

This year, it seems to be anybody's game. The Rebels, of course, will be looking for an upset against the high-riding Broncos and Boise will be trying to get even for last year's contest.

MASCOT TO BE FEATURED

A white Appaloosa stallion wearing a blue "B" blanket will be featured in the Saturday morning Homecoming parade and later at the football game in the stadium. Owner Kenneth Litz will lead the real live Bronco.

Members of the Boise College Rodeo Association will provide the mounted color guard preceding the mascot.

SPORTS SCRIPT

By STEVE LAWRENCE

To whom it may concern, possibly a few of the aroused and insulted ex-Boise and Borah fans, the Boise Broncos demonstrated what might be tournament bowl form this last week when they bowled over Mesa, 55-0. As it figures up at present, and with an eye on the future, Boise Broncos are to be listed in contention for a bowl game possibility.

The possibility includes five more such impressive victories. This is assuming that Columbia Basin, which took away the opener from the Broncos, gets knocked over before their season is complete. Also to be considered is the Homecoming tilt opponent, Ricks College, a definite factor in Boise's ultimate standing.

Ricks, with a 6-0 seasonal record, is in the tying position with Boise for the ICAC league lead. Needless to say, fan support may well be a major assist in Boise College's success at that point.

Everyone enjoys Homecoming activities but a college game may also be a lot of fun. Let's begin now to think of backing our Broncos by attending the game at Homecoming and bring your enthusiasm. This will be the next home game and it looks to be the most important of the season.

By the way, for those not yet tuned in to Bronco athletics, Boise got beat by Caldwell 7-6, but good old Borah whipped Twin Falls, 33-14.

QUARTERBACKS COMPARE NOTES

BC QUARTERBACKS (from left) Henry Soles, Bill Ingram and Noah Brunty discuss technique and possible winning strategy for the upcoming Dixie contest.

Wilcox, Imel Picked Stalwarts of Team

The Boise Bronco Quarterback Picks-of-the-Week for their showings in the Wenatchee game, are quarterback Ron Imel and defensive end Jerry Wilcox. This is Jerry's second Quarterback selection of the season and the third since he came to Boise. It is Imel's first such honor of the 1965 season and the second at Boise College following his nomination for last year's Idaho Frosh encounter.

Jerry is a Forestry major and enjoys Boise College. He is waiting "to see what football brings" in the way of further schooling. His reaction to the information that he had been selected lineman of the week for the second time was a colossal "Great!" During a practice drill or even a game, one can always distinguish Jerry by his familiar exclamation after a solid contact: "Love it, love it!"

PICKS OF THE WEEK

RON IMEL

JERRY WILCOX
... outstanding lineman

Quarterback Ron Imel, an ex-Borah star, stands 6'2" and weighs in at 185 lbs. His major is physical education and he would "like to continue schooling in one of the Oregon schools." Ron is excited about Boise becoming a four-year school. Although the athletic program may slow down for a short time he thinks, "in time Boise will provide the enthusiasm and standard of athletics of a good four year school, something that Idaho needs at present."

Powderpuff Scramblers Collide in Sunday Game: IK's Win

An interview with several participants of the IK-Pi Sig Powderpuff football game indicated that their contest was the wildest and hardest fought battle in the history of football. Maybe it was. When girls flock together for any suitable reason, competition and rivalry can often be the by-word, and this was indeed no exception.

Elbows flew and shapely legs, turned into kinetic dynamos, ran and kicked until the final whistle left the Pi Sig girls going down in defeat to the IK representatives 21-6. Still vigorously aroused and eager to compete, both teams gathered eggs from nowhere, began throwing and ended up in a less congenial but exhausted heap several feet deep.

Terry Peterson from Morrison Hall led the IK girls as quarterback and secured the game with the last TD by route of the quarterback sneak. Stacy Scudder, left half, and Mary Bishop accounted for the other two scores. Norma Scavo, playing wingback at one point broke loose for a 50-yard gain and scored a touchdown, but was disqualified for a hidden tag-flag.

Joan Bouton, defensive specialist, listed successful factors for the IK girls as "our Lone Ranger Double Reverse and the best coaches ever, Jerry Remick, Adam Rita and John Kawinana."

While the Broncos are away, Borah vs. Capital High will play Friday at 8 p.m., in the stadium and Boise High vs. Nampa Saturday at 8 p.m., in a Homecoming tilt.
