Pick a Queen for the Crown

College Sponsoring Victor Borge Here; Sellout Expected

Danish musician Victor Borge, known as the "Clown Prince of the Keyboard," will present his "Comedy in Music" on Monday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m., in the Boise College gymnasium.

Admissions to the show, sponsored by the Boise College Associated Student Body, range in price from $5 to $2 and are by reserved sections rather than by reserved seats. Proceeds from the show are earmarked for the college scholarship fund. Students may obtain tickets in the Vice President's office.

BJC FIGHT SONG WRITTEN IN '40; POSSIBILITY OF CHANGE IN WORDS

THE ORANGE AND BLUE.

By HAROLD BYBEE

The present "fight song" for Boise Junior College, "Orange and Blue," was composed by a former BJC student, Eldred Renk, who attended from 1939 to 1941. In 1940, Renk, who was an amateur musician, wrote the words and music to the fight song which has stirred the Broncos on to victory and put music in the air in all the pep assemblies for the past 25 years.

Band Director John Best, who has been teaching music at the College for 19 years, said the song has served very faithfully and has been played for hundreds of Bonco touchdowns.

After leaving Boise, Renk received a Doctorate degree in languages from the University of Washington and was a professor of languages at Fresno State College and also at Monterey College. In 1961, while he was paying a visit to his old Alma Mater here in Boise, he suffered a fatal heart attack.

Homecoming Highlights

THURS, OCT. 28—Pep Rally, 7:30 in stadium: Burning of the "B", pie-eating contest, spirit jug contest and crowning of King Beard.

FRI, OCT. 29—Pep parade, line-up 11:30 a.m., parade starts at 12:05. Elections for Homecoming Queen, Library, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

SAT, OCT. 30—Float parade downtown, 11 a.m. Boise College vs. Ricka, 7:15 p.m., stadium. Dance to Jerry Gray's music following game. Crowning of Homecoming Queen.

STUDENTS KICK-OFF HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES TONIGHT

Boise College Homecoming queen will be chosen from the five finalists shown as jewels in the crown, from left: Jan Long, sponsored by the IKs; Kay Garvin, Pi Sigs; Diane Relyea, Esquires; Norene Wright, Student Senate, and Susan Clarke, Driscoll Hall. Men students with activity cards will vote from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Library foyer.

ASB Vice President Karen Ferguson reported that 550 men, representing approximately one third of the eligible voters, cast their ballots from a slate of 19 candidates last Friday.

The winner will be announced during the intermission ceremony of the Homecoming dance for students, alumni and friends, where Jerry Gray's name band from California will play. Escorted by members of the football squad, 14 ladies of the court will be introduced, followed by the four Princesses and finally, Her Majesty, the Queen, who will be crowned by Coach Lyle Smith.

Pie Eaters

A rollicking, entertaining facet of the Homecoming activities is the traditional pie-eating contest. The slurping, masticating, and gulping will take place tonight during the pep rally immediately preceding the "King Beard" judging. Patty Servis, chairman of the event, announced that 20 men were allowed to register for a nominal 25-cent fee.

Each "gourmet" will be given his pie to consume in short order. Five finalists will be selected. After the five have frantically devoured still another pie, a final winner will be determined. The lucky winner (?) will receive a gift certificate from Alexander's Men's Store.

Beard Contestants

Due to "The Outgrowth" at Boise College, razors have been abandoned, faces have gone under-cover, and after-shave lotion has been discarded.

Many sizes, shapes and textures of beards are being cultivated by the King Beard contestants. Ideas for speeding up the growth of the beards range from stretching hairs to fertilizer or vaseline.

Some non-contestants seem to be growing a beard just to go along with the rest of the gang. But for Tony Tolsma, it's a different story. He says, "I grew a beard just to be different but I decided to shave it off because after the contest started, I looked just like any other guy."

Thespians to Present Play by Moliere

By GREG MATHEWS

If you happened to stick your head into the Little Theater on the second floor of the library this week and saw students fencing, rolling on the floor, screaming and beating each other, doing a minuet, or running around in 16th century costumes, don't rush over to make an appointment with the counseling center — you weren't seeing things.

What you saw was merely a typical rehearsal for BC's upcoming production of Moliere's comedy, Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme. The play, which is being directed by Mr. Jack Warwick, is the story of a wealthy, middle-class tradesman who decides that he is going to "act like the aristocracy." Monsieur Jourdain, played by Don Hawkins, proceeds to hire dancers, musicians, philosophers, and fencing masters to teach him to appreciate the finer things in life.

Jourdain, however, is lacking in good ole horse sense, and soon becomes a dupe for clever "Monsieur le Compte," played by Mike McPheeters from Ketchum. The situation gets out of hand when Jourdain, who decides that his daughter (played by Fayonne Fenton) must marry nobility, winds up entertaining her boyfriend, disguised as the Grand Turk of some mysterious oriental country. The comedy ends with the babble of an unknown tongue and a flourish of Mamamouchi dancers imported for the occasion from Arabia (via Jourdain's own backyard).

Many of the costumes for the production have been borrowed from Buhl's Antique Festival Theater, and the set was designed by Dr. William Shankweiler of the drama department. Students participating in the technical end of the production are Toni Arnold, Dianne Relyea, Lynn Hyslop, Bill Kesgard, Cherie Marley, Ilene Reynolds, Jim Murdoch, Linda Sperry, Linda Berend and Ann Proctor.

The three-night run of Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme will begin Wednesday, Nov. 5. Curtain time is 8 p.m., in the Little Theater, with admission free to BC students. All other students will be charged 50c, and adults $1.00.

Moliere

THIS LINE-DRAWING of Moliere will be used on the cover of the programs for "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme," designed by Lisa Chandler.

MID-TERM GRADES

Students may pick up their mid-semester grades from their advisors on Thursday, Nov. 4, according to Mrs. Alice Hatton, Registrar.

What Is Homecoming?

What is homecoming? Well, it is a number of things. First and foremost, homecoming is a tradition. How or when it started is unknown, but it is here to stay.

Homecoming is a parade: it is preparing for a parade. It is clubs and dormitories preparing a float. It is the boys looking over the queen candidates and trying to choose. Homecoming is a queen.

Homecoming is a dance. It is girls trying to choose a dress to wear, and it's boys worrying about which girl to ask. It is the King Beard contest and the burning of the "B."

Homecoming is a football game and cheerleaders and pep rallies and dances and so much more. It is the team returning from a road trip and getting ready for the final practice before the big game.

Homecoming is a time when old graduates can get together and support a team comprised of boys they don't know. It is a time when the townspeople will come out and support the school and team that helps support them. Homecoming is then a time when everyone does what he can to make something special for everyone.

The beauty of homecoming is only one catch. The townspeople will not be at the pep rallies. Will they be at the dance? Will they be sitting in the cheering section? Will they be yelling their lungs out for the team? Who will?

Homecoming this year should be something special to everyone and to the school. This is the first for Boise College. It is up to us, the students, to get out and go to the pep rallies and to the dances and most of all to the game. We have to show the town and the team that we are behind them. Go to the game and support the Broncos on to a victorious homecoming.

A Bronc Mascot

According to Webster, a mascot is "any person, animal or thing supposed to bring good luck by being present," and Boise College has its first mascot this year to celebrate the advent of the four-year college. Since the symbol for BC is a "Bronco," the mascot naturally is a bronc, or horse. This dynamic equine will symbolize or personify the power and force of our rapidly growing institution in a manner not unlike the Big Ten and other four-year colleges and universities.

School spirit can be encouraged and interest aroused in our activities by this addition to our image. All students should be aware of the potential of a rallying symbol in athletics of all kinds. When Spy, as he is affectionately known, enters, give him the support and cheers you would the football team, for he symbolizes YOU, the student body of Boise College, and epitomizes the youth and optimism to be found in a college on the move, in transition toward greater feats, greater achievements, and greater students. One could say, this vital animal epitomizes the homecoming theme, A New Beginning—A New Dream!

Drama Curtain Opens New Vistas

BC's upcoming production of Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme will provide students with an opportunity that will be educational as well as entertaining. The purpose of the liberal education is, after all, to open new vistas of opportunity and to give students an idea of what life can hold for them if they but choose to use their initiative. Theatre is one of those areas into which students should delve before they consider themselves well educated.

Often students become addicted to the diversion purveyed by the mass media, and completely miss out on the wonderful feeling of total involvement accompanying a live theater production. There are thousands of people in the entertainment industry who devote their whole lives to this entertainment and art form. To them, the theater is an obsession; they eat, sleep, and drink theater. Many of these are small-time actors who could succeed in a variety of other occupations, but prefer the hard work and low salary of the stage.

Three or four weeks before a play opens, ask one of the members of the cast what his feelings about the theater are; you'll hear nothing but groans, complaints, and oaths never again to become involved. Yet, these are the same people you will see in presentation after presentation. They are, by love of the theater, possessed.

Obviously, there must be something to their devotion—you owe it to yourself to find out what that something is. Even if dramatics, as a career, is the furthest thing from your mind, knowledge of, and participation in the theater will make you a more appreciative and critical viewer. Dramatics is an important phase of your college education which you can't afford to omit.

To the press alone, checkered as it is with abuses, the world is indebted for all the triumphs which have been obtained by reason and humanity over error and oppression.—James Madison.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

As a former teacher at St. Margaret's School for Girls, and a member of Boise Junior College faculty from its beginning until my retirement as registrar, I was much interested in the ROUNDUP editorial, "College Traditions," in the Oct. 14 issue. The last class to graduate from St. Margaret's finished in June 1932 when Boise Junior College was completing its first year. I remember that St. Margaret's was out of bounds for Junior College men on the same campus!

No one knows what might have happened to those stones upon which the mottoes were carved if they had not been saved to be used on Boise College campus. I understand the administration has a plan for their use and am confident it will be carried out. That there may be some delay is understandable with so much in the way of change and growth happening at once.

Referring also to the letter in the same issue, signed by the secretary of the Esquires, Ed Rees, I remember so well performing the pleasant duty of raising the flag during the years of World War II, when men on campus were very few. It is gratifying to know that there is a patriotic group to carry on this ritual.

As I write this letter, many memories and traditions come crowding in. With them are many wishes for Boise College and its future.

Most sincerely,

Mrs. Mary T. Hershey
 Registrar Emeritus

IDAHO DELEGATE

JUDY MOSER, Boise College Home Economics major, will represent Idaho at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 - Dec. 2.

Last Chance to Apply

Deadline for scholarship application is fast approaching and Dr. H. K. Fritchman advises all who plan to apply to do so before Nov. 1. The applications, either new or renewals, will be for second semester. Dr. Fritchman's office is room 108C in the Science building, and he can be contacted there from 3 to 5 p.m. any day of the week.

Words Worth Repeating . . .

Phobias Explored—A psychologist from the University of Illinois claimed at a recent meeting of his fellows in New York that newspaper men had the highest anxiety level of any American occupational group which he had studied so far.

They were even more anxious, he said, than navy frogmen, pilots in training, and business executives.

The fear of drowning, flaming death in an air crash, and bankruptcy is less than that of sounding like an idiot in print—just as we had always thought.—Hallfax (N.S.) Chronicle-Herald.

In This Corner . . .

Salih Al-Othman and Younis Bahman have come to Boise College from Kuwait, Arabia, in the Middle East. The boys both have full scholarships. Younis is studying medicine and hopes to become a doctor. When asked about his impressions of the American people, Younis replied, "Very, very nice, kind, friendly." He likes to spend his leisure time watching TV, sleeping and reading.

Salih feels Boise College will provide him with a good background in the field of electronics, his major. With a laugh, Salih stated that he spends most of his leisure time writing letters. He is happy with the new friends he has made at Boise College and thinks Americans are "wonderful people."

Mr. Gottenberg, vice president of Boise College, is advisor for all the foreign students who attend Boise College. This year there are 15 foreign students attending here. According to Mrs. Margaret Betty, Mr. Gottenberg's secretary, the majority of the students are sponsored by the Institute of International Education, supported by parents, or living with relatives in Boise. The two Kuwait boys are sponsored by the Kuwait Student Bureau.

Mr. Alvard Kiler, Employment Counselor from the Idaho Department of Employment, will speak on "Who Needs People," at the UCCI Breakfast Forum, Wednesday, Nov. 3 from 6:45 to 7:45 in Room C of the SUB. The cost for breakfast is 50 cents.

Faculty families and friends will have a pre-game supper Saturday starting at 6 p.m. in the SUB ballroom.

CAMPUS BEAT

"Help, help, help!" was the plaintive cry coming from the college Little Theater. But students casually passed by unheeding the cry, thinking a play was in rehearsal. Finally, the cries became so insistent, our Gal Reporter Janice Williams and some others peeked in to find electrician Steve Bateman dangling from the ceiling, his ladder out of leg's reach.

Apparently the most unpopular volume in the library was discovered recently by Gene Chapman, who checked out a musty copy of Victor Hugo's Les Miserables. The last checkout date was 1931! (There are other copies of course.)

Art teacher David Oravez was overheard commenting (after looking over some student drawings): "I'm going to commit suicide!"

Right down his alley . . . a bowling ball obviously a spare came rolling down Capitol boulevard recently, and Tim DeTray, who was on foot, retrieved it after a fast downhill chase.

Any studying at Chapman house was purely accidental when in the course of one evening there was a fire down the street, two cars collided in front of the house, and a powder on the fire escape was set off by Michele Paoletti.

When 21 DECA members were offered up at a slave auction at a City Club luncheon recently, President LeRoy Larsen received top bid of $10. Club Advisor Mr. Leo Knowlton, however, was given a door prize. (His task: paint a house). Other slaves performed such duties as yard work, housecleaning, baby sitting. The club took in $111.50 on the unique fundraising project.

HOMECOMING PARADE ROUTE—SATURDAY, OCT. 30, 11 A.M.

(All floats must be in their positions by 9 A.M.)

A MASCOT for Boise College, a real live "Bronco" will be presented for the first time during the Homecoming festivities. The mascot is a big white Appaloosa stallion with flowing mane, flared nostrils and fiery eyes, named Spyteche (Spy-ee'chee). The Bronco will be in the Saturday parade following the mounted color guard sponsored by the college Bodeo Association. "Spy" is owned by Kenneth Litz, local rancher.

THE BON MARCHE
BOISE, IDAHO

With only a few days left before Homecoming, most coeds' minds are centered on what to wear to the game and the dance.

One smart outfit from the BON MARCHE is all you'll need for both events.

Doeskin by Majestic is the magic word for an eye-catching covert. In a lightweight wool, a two-piece suit with matching blouse can set you on cloud nine. The suit consists of a fitted skirt, with two decorative welt seams, or plain, and a smart jacket in both the cutaway and princess styles.

Completely lined and trimmed with small, pressed braid, the jacket adds a touch of elegance to the ensemble.

Ballamia crepe is the perfect material for your matching blouse. It comes in the simple in-or-out blouse or the long-sleeved Tom Jones style.

Dressy jumpers, in soft wool, "belong" at the Homecoming dance. With the slimming, hip-hugger belt, this jumper "swings" at any social event.

Two front wide pleats and the dollar-sized buttons fastening the belt make it a pleasing attraction for any masculine eye.

Pairing up with the jumper is a Majestic blouse in all-new material, TAJ. Light and feminine, the long-sleeved attraction comes in houndstooth, flowered and plain. The colors are unlimited.

Now that you know what to wear, be sure to wear it! Support your Homecoming game and dance!

RELIGION ON CAMPUS

The Inter Faith Council, composed of two representatives from each campus religious group, has elected the following officers: Nancy Garrett, president; Mardi Gale, vice president, and Sue Hust, secretary-treasurer. The Council will meet today at noon to make plans for their Christmas pageant.

Methodist Student Movement will meet at noon Friday in the SUB, room C. A hayride is planned for next weekend.

Campus Life will view a Moody Science film, "The Prior Claim," Friday at 8 p.m., at 201 Jefferson.

Newman Group is having a party Sunday from 7 to 10 p.m., in the Catholic Center, Carolyn Braden, president, reports.

Baptist Student Union will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in SUB ballroom, according to president John Kunz. Rev. Raymond Kearley, of Mountain Home, will present slides and movies of his New Zealand trip.

The main trouble with the future is that it keeps getting shorter and shorter.

By STEVE LAWRENCE

The big football game is at hand. The Boise Broncos will go against Ricks Junior College from Rexburg in Saturday's Homecoming classic. Although to many of the frolicking, festivity-crazy students, homecoming is a gala event to which fun is the only pre-requisite, this game, to the 40 some odd players on each team, will mean much more.

Both teams will be stepping on the gridiron Saturday with a 3-0 conference record and absolutely no desire to break their winning streaks. Every Bronco suited down will be determined to conquer. Is there going to be the substantial representative student support in Bronco stadium required to push this worthy cause? This game is what Homecoming is all about and if you do not attend, you indeed have not attended Homecoming.

Last week Boise College was voted by the coaches of the National Junior College Athletic Association to be in 7th position in the national poll. Ricks College is in the number nine spot.

PICKS OF THE WEEK

JOHN GRANBY

SECURING POSITIONS as last week's Quarterback selections, are end John Granby, voted outstanding lineman, and halfback Vern Morse, shown at right in action, voted outstanding back for the Dixie game. Granby, coming from Talent, Oregon, accredits "the depth in the freshmen this year" with a major portion of the Bronco success. Vern Morse, from Borah two years ago, thinks "we should probably be able to take Ricks" this week."

VERN MORSE

Broncos Nail Dixie For Fifth Victory

The Broncos, traveling again last week, went to St. George, Utah to tangle with the Dixie Rebels and returned home victorious, 21-13. The victory was not so important in just defeating the Rebels, it was important because it sends Boise into their Homecoming encounter with Ricks College with a 3-0 conference record. Ricks also will be coming into the game with a 3-0 record for conference play and a 7-0 record in season play.

The weather was sultry and the atmosphere tense as Dixie and Boise jostled each other up and down the field. Broncos Evenson and O'Shea put Boise on the scoreboard twice but the standout Bronco scorer of the game was Merle Lords, who picked up a quarterback fumble by Dixie's Darwin Slade and ran from about their 45-yard line into the end zone for six. Gary Stivers booted the additional three points with three successful conversions.

Bowling Averages Climb

The Boise College bowling class is now in full swing with approximately 200 students participating weekly. High flying Jim Jacobsen topped this week's bowlers with a 213 game for the high honors of the day. Steve Farden copped second place rating with a 193 game, followed closely by Gary Ward's 191.

The female students have been improving their waistlines as well as their scores with Sandi Ferguson heading the list of top three with a 192 mark. Lois Legarreta and Barbara Avery followed closely with a 176 and 175, respectively.

Teams are now being picked for bowling class for the rest of the semester. The new students will have a handicap average to aid in the competition. W. A. Jones, instructor, explained.
