First Homecoming for Boise College

HOMECOMING

Pick a Queen for the Crown

College Sponsoring Victor Borge Here; Sellout Expected

Danish musician Victor Borge, known as the "Clown Prince of the Keyboard," will present his "Comedy in Music" on Monday, Nov. 8 at 8 p.m., in the Boise College gymnasium.

Admission to the show, sponsored by the Boise College Associated Student Body, ranges in price from $2 to $2 and are by reserved sections rather than by reserved seats. Proceeds from the shows are earmarked for the college scholarship fund. Students may obtain tickets in the Vice President's office.

BOJC FIGHT SONG WRITTEN IN '40; POSSIBILITY OF CHANGE IN WORDS

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

The present "fight song" for Boise Junior College, "Orange and Blue," was written in 1940 by a former BJJC student, Eldred Rask, who attended from 1939 to 1941. In 1940, Rask, who was an amateur musitician, wrote the words and music to the fight song which has reflected the spirit of a four-year institution since its first yoiling. The winter will be announced during the determination ceremony of the Homecoming dance for students, alumni and friends, where Jerry Gray's name band from California will play. Escorting members of the football squad, 14 ladies of the court will be introduced, followed by the four princesses and finally, Her Majesty, the Queen, who will be crowned by Coach Lyle Smith.

Thespians to Present Play by Moliere

BY GREG MATTHEWS

If you happened to stick your head into the Little Theater on the second floor of the library this week and saw students fencing, rolling on the floor, screaming and beating each other, doing a minuet, or running around in 18th century costumes, don't rush out to make an appointment with the counseling center -- you weren't seeing things.

What you saw was merely a typical rehearsal for BC's upcoming production of Moliere's comedy, "La Bourgeoise Goyinthomme." The play, which is being directed by Mr. Jack Wawruck, is the story of a wealthy, middle-class tradesman who decides that he is going to "act like the aristocracy." Moliere's "Joueur," played by Don Hawkins, proceeds to hire dancers, musicians, philosophers, and fencing masters to teach him to appreciate the finer things in life.

Joujon, however, is lacking in good old horse sense, and soon becomes a dupe for clever "Monsieur le Comte," played by Mike McFetridge from Ketchum. The situation gets out of hand when Joujon, who decides that his daughter (played by Fayonne Fenston) must marry nobility, winds up in courtship with an uppity cadgey -- you weren't seeing things.

The comedy ends with the battle of an unidentified tongue and a flourish of Moliere's dexterous importation for the occasion from Arban's (via Jourjon) chains and a duel to the death between Joujon and the Count.

The three-morning run of "La Bourgeoise Goyinthomme" will begin Wednesday, Nov. 9, at 7:30 p.m., in the Little Theater, with admission fee for BC students.

Some non-contestants seem to be growing a beard just to go along with the rest of the gang. But for Tony Tolsma, it's a different story. He says, "I grew a beard just to be different but I decided to shave it off because after the contest started, I looked just like any other guy."

Homecoming Highlights

THURSD, OCT. 18--Pop Rally, 7:30 on stadium: announcing "B-J.C. tradition," and crowning of King Beard.

FBII, OCT. 19--Pop parade, starts 11:30 a.m., parade starts at 12:00. Elections for Homecoming Queen, King, Junior, Senior, on Library, 2 p.m.

SAT, OCT. 23--Float parade downtown, 11 a.m. Boise College vs. Idaho, 1:15 p.m., stadium.

Boise College Homecoming Queen will be chosen from the five finalists shown as jewels in the crown, from left: Jan Long, sponsored by the D.C.; Kay Garvin, Pi Sigma; Deanna Reynolds, Esquire; Norma Wright, Student Senate, and Susan Clarke, Delta Chi Hall. Men students with activity cards will vote from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Library foyer.

ASS' V.P. President Karen Ferguson reported that 550 men, representing approximately one third of the eligible voters, cast their ballots from a slate of 19 candidates finalist. The winner will be announced during the determination ceremony of the Homecoming dance for students, alumni and friends, where Jerry Gray's name band from California will play. Escorting members of the football squad, 14 ladies of the court will be introduced, followed by the four princesses and finally, Her Majesty, the Queen, who will be crowned by Coach Lyle Smith.

Pie Eaters

A rollicking, entertaining feature of the Homecoming activities is the traditional pie-eating contest. The eating, measuring, and gulping will take place tonight during the pep rally to be held for the new school. It has been suggested by the student council that a contest be held for composers to write in new school song that would reflect the spirit of a four-year institution.

Here are the words:

Hold that pie for Boise Junior College Broncos, we're counting hard on you:

Fight for tradition and your Alma Mater,

Fight for Orange and Blue.

Come on, keep fighting.

Post them up, Boise.

Stand and stare at the crown,

Keep your stand up,

For glory of B-J.C.

STUDENTS KICK-OFF HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES TONIGHT

Boise College Homecoming will be kicked off tonight (Oct. 28) with a pep rally in the stadium beginning at 7:30. The rally will include the popular "Pop Parade," and the announcement of the Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming King and Queen candidates will be announced at the pep rally.

Mid-Term Grades

Students may pick up their mid-term grades from their advisors on Thursday, Nov. 4, according to Mrs. Alice Hatton, Registrar.

Mid-Term Grades

The mid-term grade is a letter grade earned during the first half of the semester and is a student's most recent evaluation of his work. It is an important factor in determining eligibility for honors, scholarships, and in some cases, academic status.

The mid-term grade is typically calculated after about half of the semester's coursework has been completed. It reflects the student's performance in each course during that period. To calculate the mid-term grade, the student's grades in each course are multiplied by the number of credits the course carries, and then summed. The result is divided by the total number of credits to obtain the mid-term grade.

Mid-Term Grade Guidelines

1. Calculate the number of credits for each course.
2. Multiply each grade by the number of credits for the course.
3. Sum all the products from step 2.
4. Calculate the total number of credits for all courses.
5. Divide the sum from step 3 by the total number of credits from step 4.

Mid-Term Grades are important because they

1. Affect eligibility for honors and scholarships.
2. Determine academic status.

Some students may experience a drop in their mid-term grades compared to their cumulative GPA. This can be due to a variety of factors, such as difficulty in a particular course, unexpected personal circumstances, or changes in academic goals. It is important to review and understand the mid-term grades to make informed decisions about academic plans.

Mid-Term Grades can be used as a tool for self-assessment and reflection. They provide insight into areas where a student may need additional support or resources. By reviewing mid-term grades, students can identify strengths and areas for improvement.

Mid-Term Grades can also be used as a basis for taking action. If a student is not satisfied with their mid-term grades, they may consider seeking help or resources, such as tutoring, study groups, or academic advising. Alternatively, if a student is satisfied with their mid-term grades, they may set goals and plans for continued success.

Mid-Term Grades are not the final grades for the semester. They are intended to provide a snapshot of a student's performance halfway through the semester. The final grades, which are based on the student's overall performance for the entire semester, will be released after the semester concludes.

Mid-Term Grades can be a valuable tool for students to use in their academic planning and decision-making. They provide an opportunity to reflect on their progress, identify areas for improvement, and take action to support their academic success.
What Is Homecoming?
What is homecoming? Well, it is a number of things. First and foremost, homecoming is a tradition. How or when it started is unknown, but it is here to stay.

It is a time set aside for a parade; it is preparing for a parade. It is clubs and dormitories preparing a float. It is the boys looking over the queen candidates and trying to choose. Homecoming is a question.

Homecoming is a date. It is a girls trying to choose a dress to wear. It is boys trying to think of something to wear and interesting it to a girl. It is the King Ring contest and the burning of the "B".

Homecoming is a football game and cheerleaders and pep rallies and band playing and new uniforms and new equipment. There is much more. It is the team performing, returning from a trip and getting ready for the final practice before the big game.

Homecoming is a time when old graduates can get together and support the team and talk about how things were in their day. It is the townswomen going out to support the team and help support them. Homecoming is then a time when everyone does the things they would like to do.

The townswomen will not be at the pep rallies. Will they be at the dance? Will they be sitting in the cheer section? Will they be yelling their lungs out for the team? Who will?

Homecoming this year should be something special to everyone and to the Boise College mascot. I would like to see a first for Boise College this year, up to some standards, to get out and go and the pep rallies and to the dances and most of all to the game. We have to show the town and the team that we are behind them. Go to the game and support the Broncos on to a victorious homecoming.

A Bronco Mascot
According to Webster, a mascot is "any animal, plant or thing supposed to bring good luck by being present," and Boise College has its first mascot this year to celebrate the advent of the four-year college. Since the symbol for BC is a "Bronco," the mascot naturally is epitomizes the homecoming theme, A New Beginning — A New Dream!

Judy Monier, Boise College Homecoming major, will be representing Idaho at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 29 — Dec. 1.

Lost Chance to Apply
Boise State's academic application schedule is fast approaching and Dr. H. K. Phillips advises all who plan to transfer to Boise State before Nov. 1. The applications, either now or in the future, must be postmarked by second semester, Dr. Phillips' office is room 102C, Science Building, and he can be contacted from 3 to 5 p.m. any day of the week.

Words Worth
Repeating

Boise State's academic advisor, Dr. A. M. Skolnik, was chosen as one of the members of the last visit's students who toured the college. He said, "The Boise State College is a good place to come to work, and it has a lot of big plans for the future. It has a lot of potential for growth and development."

In this corner...

Vice President N. E. Gotlieb gives advice to students. "I believe that students should be encouraged to use their initiative. Theatre

Some call her memory, and some tradition; and her voice is sweet, with deep mysterious accents—George Eliot.

Homecoming to Decide Conference Leader

Broncos Take on Ricks Saturday in Homecoming Football Classic

BY STEVE LAWRENCE

The big football game is at hand. The Boise Broncos will go against Ricks Junior College from Bar-sburg in Saturday's Homecoming classic. Although many of the following, fecundity-stry

dents, homecoming is a gala event to which fans is the only pre-requsite game; to the 40 some odd players on each team, will mean much more.

Each team will be stepping onto the gridiron Saturday with a 3-0 conference record and absolutely no desire to break their winning streaks. Every bronco suited down will be determined to conquer. Is there going to be the substantial representative student support in Bronco stadium required to push this worthy cause? This game is what Homecoming is all about and if you do not attend, you indeed have not attended Homecoming.

Last week Boise College was voted by the coaches of the National Junior College Athletic Association to be in 7th position in the national poll. Ricks College is in the number nine slot.

Broncos Nail Dixie

For Fifth Victory

The Broncos, traveling again last week, went to St. George, Utah to tang with the Dixie Rebels and returned home victorious, 21-13. The victory was no so important in just defeating the Rebels, it was important because it sends Boise into their Homecoming counter with Ricks College with a 3-0 conference record. Ricks also will be coming into the game with a 3-0 record for conference play and a 7-0 record in season play.

The weather was sunny and the atmosphere tense as Dixie and Boise jostled each other up and down the field. Bronco Evenson and O'Shea put Boise on the scoreboard twice but the standout

Bronco scorer of the game was Merle Lord, who picked up a quarterback fumble by Dixie's Louie Slaight and ran from about their 45-yard line into the end zone for six. Gary Silvera brought the additional three points with three successful conversions.
