Three Cheers For Our Band

By BARBARA FINE

The band's on the field again.
Forward March! One — Two — One — Two!
Look! There's Mr. Best running up and down the field — checking — always checking. You're out of sync, Ron. Guide right, Greg! Answering the questions: Do we do a military about face, Mr. Best?

MOTHER OF 9 IS SO FAR COLLEGE’S OLDEST ALUMNA

A 75-year-old mother of nine children has been found in the oldest alumna search for Boise College's Homecoming celebration.

"She’s the oldest alumna so far," declared Jim Cockrell, "Our search is still continuing.
Named was Mrs. Violet McChesney, 1903 graduate of the then Boise Junior College.
One of Mrs. McChesney’s children (her ninth) is a medical doctor and her eighth child is a nurse—physician—a Ph. D.

FIFTH WEEK OF THE FALL SPORTS SEASON

Out of the thirteen, five girls will be chosen by the male voters of BC to run in the final election to be held on Oct. 13, at which time the queen and her four-member court will be voted upon.

Running for Homecoming Queen candidate from the Tau Alpha Pi Business Club is Becky Ackley, who is the current president. Becky is 19 years old and a sophomore at BC. Her major is Business Administration.

Gloria McLachlan is the Circle K Service Club's candidate for queen. A member of the first graduating class of BC, Gloria is a Business Education major and is 21 years of age. Her many activities include: Valkyries President, Life Lines Publicity, former Pi Sig First Lady, State of Idaho Future Business Leader for 1966, member of Homecoming committee, and member of the Inter-Faith Council.

Also a sophomore at Boise College, Carol Purcell will be sponsored by the Boise College Rodeo Association. Carol is a Business Education major and is a candidate for the BC Rodeo Team. Known as the "unknown lesser known," Carol's inclusion in the contest is due to her desire to "be a red neck girl." Carol's activities include member of the Inter-Faith Council, and member of the Inter-Faith Council.

Audrey Cloninger, an Art Major at BC, is running for Homecoming Queen as a candidate of the Young Democrats. Audrey is a sophomore and 19 years old. She is a member of Valkyries and secretary of the Y.D.S. Audrey is a member of the Inter-Faith Council, and member of the Inter-Faith Council.

Miss Boise College, Gloria McLachlan, is also running for the honor of being queen. Gloria is a Liberal Arts major and a sophomore at BC. She is a member of Valkyries and Newman Club. Gloria is sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights.

Newman Club representative in the contest is Kathy James, who is a sophomore at BC. Kathy is a graduate of Boise High and an active member of the Newman Club.

A History major, Nancy Glimp, will be sponsored by the Boise College Esquire Association on campus. She is a junior and 22 years of age. Her activities include member of BCETA and corresponding secretary for the Esquire Club.

The only language major is Sharon Greathouse, who is a Spanish major, sponsored by the Spanish Club. She is a junior, and a sophomore at BC. Sharon has participated in the Spanish plays and is a part-time coed reporter on the Statesman.

West Hall will sponsor Michele Paolletti for Homecoming Queen. She is a sophomore and 19 years old. She is a member of the Inter-Faith Council, and member of the Inter-Faith Council.

Boise College's Yes Queen, Lea Grijal, is also a candidate for queen. She is backed by the Esquire Club, and is an education major at BC.

The BC First Lady Patty Byrne is one of the three candidates for queen. Sponsored by the Pi Sig, she is a sophomore and a pre-medic major.

DECA candidate for queen is Jan Long, who is a sophomore at BC and is majoring in Fashion Merchandising. She is the current Dorchen for the Intercollegiate Knights.

Announcement of the five finalists will be on Friday, Oct. 14 at 7:00 p.m. at the pep rally in Bronco Stadium.

Mysteries still bedevils death

On the morning of September 18, 1961, the United Nations' secretary general, Dag Hammarskjöld, died in a plane crash in Zambia. The investigation into the cause of the crash has never been conclusively resolved.

The accident occurred when the plane, a Douglas DC-6B, crashed near Ndola, Zambia. Hammarskjöld, who was on his way to the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development in Lusaka, died in the crash.

The crash site was investigated by a United Nations Commission, and a report was released in 1963. The commission found evidence of a fire, but could not determine its cause. The report also noted that the plane had flown close to another plane, and that there may have been smoke or fire from the other plane.

The investigation was prolonged by many factors, including political tensions and the lack of cooperation from some of the involved parties. The report was never fully accepted by all parties involved, and the case remains unresolved.

In the years since the crash, there have been numerous theories and speculations about what may have caused the plane to crash. Some of these theories include pilot error, mechanical failure, or even sabotage.

The crash of Hammarskjöld's plane is still a mystery, and the case has never been closed to the satisfaction of all parties involved. The United Nations investigation was never able to fully resolve the many questions surrounding the crash, and the case remains unsolved.

The crash of Hammarskjöld's plane is a reminder of the risks of air travel, and the importance of investigating and resolving such tragedies. The case remains a mystery, and the memory of Dag Hammarskjöld lives on as a symbol of the dangers and challenges of international diplomacy.
First Vessel Ever Designed To Mine Diamonds off West Coast of Africa

BY OMER ANDERSON
North American Newspaper Alliance

THE HAGUE—A Dutch shipyard is building the first vessel ever designed for the volume mining of diamonds off the west coast of Africa.

This vessel, which is called the "Diamond Princess," is being built by the Vard Engineers of Stavanger, Norway, under a contract with the Jantzen Corporation of New York.

The vessel is designed to operate in the waters off the coast of Africa, where the Jantzen Corporation has been granted a lease for the mining of diamonds.

The vessel will be equipped with the latest in diamond mining technology, including submersible vehicles and underwater cameras.

The vessel is expected to be completed by the end of the year and will begin operations in early 2023.

Make Sure You Park in the Right Place

The parking area inside the administration building is narrow. South of Temporary Building 1, will be designated for motorized staff and cycle parking only, effective Oct. 3. Robert D. Baker, administrative assistant to Vice-President W. L. Gill, announced Friday.

Visitors violating the rules will be ticketed, said Baker. He said the area will be marked by signs and yellow lines.

Concerning the roadway north and south in front of the student union building, Baker added.

This area must be kept open for fire trucks. At night and during weekends, especially during dances, the area is congested.

Students will vigilantly enforce all rules to ensure student safety.

The Broncos did it again—this time running all over the field in demolishing Snow College in our first ICAC Conference game.

Although Grover Lloyd (injured with a back injury) was unable to play, Jeff Doeg put up a great effort and was voted back of the week by the Boise Broncos. Broncos at their meeting Monday, along with Larry Ah- lin, best lineman.

Time the Broncs started early, not waiting until the second half. Quarterback Percy Goss started it all with a pass to halfback Sandy Green for 35 yards and our first TD. This was the first of five TDs.

On our second TD in the second quarter, Jeff Doeg ran from the 3-yard line. In the second half, it was all Broncs with the exception of the one Bower catch kill in the third period. The Broncs scored early in the third on a series of runs climax ed by a four-yard plunge by halfback Dennis Walker.

The fourth quarter was nothing but Broncs: Squibb had big gains for nine yards and another touchdown, and Doeg two 20-yard kicks for the final TD.

Gary Givens, the Broncos kick artist, proved his worth by completing all five of the PATS.

Again our defense was outstanding and our offense is beginning polished.

The Broncs came out of the snow game very good as far as injuries were concerned, although halfback Pat Williams had a strain above the knee, and halfback Dennis Walsh was out as well. Also Jim Bianchi suffered a hip pointer.

This week the Broncos meet Treasure Valley College.

Have you ever seen Snow College? No. Well, let's see, the people in the hand are now, Mr. that is the type of guy you can—well, you know—the type of guy you can talk to. So you will be able to tell a friend of those times when you're expecting—so don't be afraid. You will never get testing that way.

But all of a sudden you're proud that you attend Boise College—you're proud that you're supporting the team—you even think about cornel things—like, I'm lucky to be able to attend school or... isn't it great to be an American—there's a country but that's the way you feel every day you play the Star-Spangled Banner.

So many. Pick up those feet. Rewards don't always come in the form of material things—but who cares. Look here comes Mr. Best again. Better concentrate. Our Two—One—Two—One!
