The proposed integration of Boise College with the state's system of higher education was the main topic of discussion last week when Boise College's Board of Trustees met with Ada County officials and representatives in the Student Union Building.

The meeting was prompted by a letter from Ada County commissioners, who were interested in learning about the future of the college and what the state Board of Higher Education intended to do about it. The meeting included the following agenda items:

- A brief introduction to the college and its role in the community.
- A discussion of the college's future plans and goals.
- An overview of the state Board of Higher Education's policies and initiatives related to higher education.
- A collaborative dialogue between the college and representatives from Ada County.

The meeting was well-attended, with representatives from the Ada County commissioners, the college's administration, and other stakeholders in attendance. The college administration expressed their commitment to working closely with the county officials to ensure a positive outcome for both institutions.

The meeting concluded with a strong sense of partnership and mutual understanding between the college and Ada County officials, highlighting the importance of collaboration in the realm of higher education.
EDITORIAL COMMENT
Are You Selfish Enough to Try 'Umph?'

Be selfish. You must be selfish. A man's time is his most precious possession. If you are not selfish in your use of time, there is more time and less work for others. If you are selfish, you are better able to help yourself and others.

In every case we have the power to decide what will happen next. Why not decide to be selfish and take control of your time? Your selfishness will enable you to make better use of your time and, in turn, help others.

FRANKLIN, Lee, Jackson's Birthdays Honored This Week

Benjamin Franklin, Robert F. Lee, and Stonewall Jackson, though honored this week, as we note the days of their birth, they died as men of war. Their legacies are a testament to their individual concern for a great document, The Constitution of the United States.

Old Ben Franklin honored over the convention that gave us this honored law. When it was finally completed, we have had the privilege of seeing the Constitution. It is the great American tradition.

We find ourselves in good company if we have the privilege of having had our lapses. We have had lapses, and we are grateful that we have not had lapses. The Constitution is the great American tradition.

On the day of Lee's birthday, we are reminded of the great American tradition. His purpose was clear as he advised the mother of a young southern lady, "To raise her son to be an American." We are grateful that we have had the privilege of having had our lapses. The Constitution is the great American tradition.

A few words in the Constitution was written, his wife wrote to a friend: "My husband has wept tears of joy when he heard of this revered law. When it was finally completed, he is reputed to have said, "I will keep it." His last official act, only a few weeks before his death, was to draw up a plan for the liberation of slavery.

This same question of slavery exploded into the conflict which was the cause of Jackson's death. He exclaimed that for the good of the country he would like to see the Union, but would like to see the Union with the Confederate forces: "With all my devotion to the Union and the Southern states, I am firmly convinced that the Union cannot be preserved."

But in the end, as he wrote, "I hope that my poor services may never be needed, I hope I may never see the day when the Union will be dissolved." He was a true soldier, loved and admired by all who knew him. He was a true soldier, loved and admired by all who knew him. He was a true soldier, loved and admired by all who knew him. A Moscow emporium is currently putting on show Nikita Krushchev's collection of old watches. It has no works. It's empty. And for a long time, no one knew how to fill the empty spaces. When, in a rage, he would take off his watch, bank it furiously on his desk, and say, "I have done nothing wrong!" everyone knew and in his heyday, Krushchev used to make diplomats tremble with fear. When he died, he left behind a legacy that will be remembered for generations to come.

The Constitution of the United States is a great document. One of the passengers on the Clipper was a young woman, Miss Veneta Montagu, the daughter of the Venetia Montagu, the great British soldier, who was a cousin of Mrs. Churchill and an admirer of Winston Churchill.

Churchill's humor would have been a heritage of his to our generation, the former Prime Minister. His humor was a great source of comfort to us all. It is no better to have a sense of humor, but it is vital to have a sense of humor.

In the late 19th century, Winston Churchill's humor was so powerful that it even moved the King of Spain to laughter.

A list of the old Air Force games is quite good, replied "Par).* "To win and correct scores or put my name in the record book I don't care about it.*

In the January meeting of the Interclub and Social Committee the record was opened up and it was found that the Interclub had accepted the only air game that the Debs have been prisoners for four years.

After the war Col. Mengel was present in the Post as the head of Air Force's gymnastics board. After that he was in charge of the Interclub and Social Committee at the post.

Col. Mengel was a man of originality and had a keen eye for young people.

The Interclub and Social Committee of the Debs are distributed by the Interclub's head at the post.

The BC Broncos on the Road

Well, fellow students, first of all let me say: welcome back to school. I hope you had a long and enjoyable vacation. While we were away skiing and resting after last semester, the Bronco basketball team was on the road. And on the road it was, traveling all the way from here to Spokane, Wash., and then into Utah last week and this week.

The Broncos opened the ICAC Conference last Saturday against the Snow Badgers in Ephraim, Utah, losing to the score of 71-69. Although shooting 33% by points in the second half, the Broncos rallied to bring the score to within one hundred.

The starting during the Christmas holidays went like this: Wendall Hart, guard; Renee Ruth, guard; Bill O’Tea, forward.

Loveless, guard; Renee Ruth, guard; Bill O’Tea, forward.

BC TO HOST GLOBETROTTERS
On February 23, Washington's birthday, at 8 p.m., in the Boise Gymnasium, the Idaho State College Bronco basketball team will play a spectacular exhibition game against Washington.

This is the fourth game of a tour for the exciting team, Dave Wright, president at right, is one of the newest players. In his first season as a Trotter last year, he scored three field goals from Phoenix, Arizona, with the machine, a well-trained dog and a brand campaign. He is even better this season with a year of experience under his belt.

At the signing of Wright, the late coach of the Globetrotters, Abe Saperstein, said for the youth who all the requisites he was looking for and placed confidence in Wright's athletic ability to quickly adjust to a new system. He played at Oklahoma State.

Wright is a skillful floor man, mean and well and is a defensive ace.

There's no telling how far he can go in Trotter tags.

As an added attraction on this eventful evening, the immortal Harlem Globetrotters of basketball will be with the Trotters. This will truly be an evening worth attending.
