BOISE, IDAHO

Dr. Hibbs to lecture on 'life on other worlds'

Do intelligent beings exist somewhere else in the universe? Dr. L. Albert Hibbs, Senior Staff Scientist of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory and NBC's Science Editor, will discuss this question on April 14 at 8:15 p.m., in the Music auditorium. Dr. Hibbs will present his lecture, "Life On Other Worlds," under the auspices of the Lyceum Committee at no charge to the student body of the college.

Trained at the California Institute of Technology as a theoretical physicist, Dr. Hibbs has devoted his scientific career to the missile and space programs. As one of the men primarily responsible for the country's first satellites and space probes, he directed the creation of the television cameras which gave us our first close look at the moon and the instruments which made our first close observations of neighboring planets. While deeply involved with the technical part of the space program, Dr. Hibbs has worked closely with school boards and civic groups to help spread public understanding of science and engineering.

For the past few years Dr. Hibbs has appeared as the host on NBC's award-winning educational television program "EXPLORING." The National Broadcasting Company has made his Science Editor, and he can be heard weekly describing the latest scientific events on his radio program, "WORLD OF SCIENCE."

As a Senior Staff Scientist of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, he continues his work in space technology as well as consulting with the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Part of his time is devoted to teaching at the California Institute of Technology, where he holds the position of Lecturer in Government.

Dr. Hibbs has published more than 50 articles on subjects ranging from structural engineering to elementary education, and his book, "QUANTUM MECHANICS AND PATH INTEGRALS," co-authored with Nobel laureate Richard Feynman, was published in the fall of 1965.

Last foreign film to be shown at BC April 13

"Last Year at Marienbad," a movie that Time magazine described as "not a movie in the accepted sense of the word . . . (but) the most monstrously elaborate enigma ever conceived in terms of cinema" is the last foreign film scheduled for this academic year. It will be shown April 13 at 8:00 p.m. in S106.

This French film which has been described as one of the most demanding films in many years won the Golden Bear award at the Venice Film Festival. The director, Alain Resnais, has broken with all former tradition of cinema chronology in telling his story; the events, as they are portrayed, are not only shown as they happened, but, also as the characters would have liked them to happen. The past is fused with the present and the future, and real scenes with those imaginary ones in the minds of the characters.

The New York Times warns the viewer, "Be prepared for an experience such as you've never had from watching a film . . . when you stagger away from it, you will feel you have delighted in (or suffered) a unique and intense experience."

Dianne Norris wins Miss BC title

By PAM LYDA

Boise Collegians are honoring a new queen now, in the 5'11", 35-25-35, 102-pound form of Dianne Elizabeth Norris, who was named "Miss Boise College of 1967." Dianne, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Norris of Boise, received her crown from the outgoing "Miss Boise College of 1966," Gloria McLachlan (assisted by Acting President W. L. Gottenberg) in the concluding moments of the fourth annual pageant, which was held in the BC gymnasium last Saturday evening (April 8).

The brown-haired, green-eyed, olive-skinned freshman besides receiving a $250 scholarship from BC, has now earned the right of representing the college in the June "Miss Idaho" contest, the winner of which will enter the "Miss America" pageant. Dianne is a medical technology major and a Bronco cheerleader.

A modeling skit, which consisted of Dianne "dressing up and dressing down" in pink garments which she herself sewed, constituted her talent presentation. Her props were charts relating events in a busy college girl's day, and a large cardboard clock face. She proceeded, in turn, to form a luncheon date suit, a campus, a dinner and a cocktail dress and an evening gown from one basic, sleeveless, pink sheath. Appearances in a pink swimsuit and a white crepe evening gown, plus her lively, smooth answers to the questions posed by Lou Dunn of the four finalists, "Should girls be drafted?" and "To what do you attribute the rising divorce rate?" further attributed to Miss Norris' victory.

First runner-up for the title, is raven-haired, 5'3" Joyce Lynn Mitchell, who impressively executed a skillful, fast-moving baton twirling act to the tune of "Let the Drums Beat On." Nineteen-year-old Joyce, who is a BC Band drum majorette, will assume the "Miss BC" title if the winner is unable to participate.

Second runner-up, and recipient of the $250 Golden Z and IK-sponsored talent award is Kristeen Ann Tomning, a brunette, 5'2" singer. Her marvelous, professional vocal renditions of the melodies "I Wish You Love," and "This Is My Song," earned profuse applause of the discriminating audience.

Pixieish 5'11" brunette Catherine Jane Wentz secured the third runner-up position. She flawlessly performed a piano solo of the classic "Clair de Lune." Cathy and the other finalists are all from Boise. Earning the "Miss Congeniality" trophy was brunette Gayle Marie Meeklenively of Sheridan, Wyo., who at 5'11" was the tallest of the 14 contestants.

Providing background music as well as pure entertainment during the evening were the 3B's (Beethoven, Bach and Brahms), otherwise known as Steve Smith (on piano), Bill Riggs and Bob Miller, and organist Mrs. Charles Kennedy. Would-be lulls were also presented by Jamie Freeman, accompanied by piano player Donna Hutchins, who tooted a saxophone solo of "Somewhere My Love," and the Scarboroughs (Joyce Strange, Fayonne Fenton, and Peggy Gladhart) sang the folk songs, "Scarborough Fair," and "Little Gray Mare." Miss McLachlan's traditional farewell speech was also a highlight of the affair.

Escorting the contestants were IK members Skip Davidson, Dave Gardner, Vontress Cockrum, Doug Dingeldein, Rich Ostragorsky, Bob Slew, Jim Stoehr, Kim Biggerstaff, Joe Hertling, John Edney, Paul Curtis, Larry Prescott, Mark Wildman and Steve Jensen.

Two mad mod British plays to be produced by Shankweiler

To quote the producer of the spring plays, they are "Mad Mod," and that means anything goes. This spring, two plays, "The Public Eye" and "The Private Ear," will be performed instead of the usual one. Both are contemporary British plays of a humorous vein.

In "The Public Eye," Lynda Callen portrays Belinda; Dave L. Colwell, Julian, and John Eichmann, Charles.

In "The Private Ear," Ted is played by George Borchers, Dooreen by Opal Cooper and Tchiak by Duane Hood.

The sets, executed by John Poulson, are "wild," carrying out the "Mad Mod" idea. John Poulson also produced the set for "King Lear."

The plays will be shown from April 18 through April 22 at 8:15 p.m. in the Library Little Theater at Boise College. All seats are to be reserved in advance through the Humanities Division office. Boise College students can get tickets free with their ID and for non-Boise College students the charge is $1.25.

Both plays are under the direction of Dr. William Shankweiler.

Tau Alpha Pi Hobo Marchers to collect for scholarships

Tau Alpha Pi's annual Hobo March will begin at 8:00 a.m., Friday, April 21 and end that afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. About 100 students of the Vocational-Technical Division will dress as bums and canvass the streets in an attempt to collect money from the citizens of Boise for the club's scholarship loan fund.

The goal this year has been set at $1,800-$300 over last year's goal.

After the march, the students will meet at Stuenberg Park to be judged for best moocher, worst moocher, ugliest, etc. Prizes solicited from Boise merchants are given to the winners. During the judging the hoboers enjoy a good old fashioned "Hobo Jungle" feed or Mulligan Stew and refreshments.

The "King of the Road" dance will be held on Saturday, April 22, at which time the winning bums are presented to the college students. The Moguls, of Eugene, Ore., will provide the music for the dance.

Accompanying the Hobo March this year was a beard contest of which there were 36 entrants. The winner of the beard contest wins the title of "King of the Road."

DIANNE NORRIS, after being crowned Miss Boise College at the annual pageant held in the gym April 8, walks down the runway carrying the traditional roses and her trophy.

BOISE COLLEGE STUDENTS:
 Loyalty to an institution has its roots in participation and involvement in activities of that institution. It has increasingly come to my attention the number of capable persons on the Boise College Campus, who are interested and willing to contribute to the college scene. As Student Body Vice President, it is my aim to establish lines of communication between the student body and its chosen representatives. Any and all interested parties can make themselves known, together with their suggestions simply by filling out this small form and turning it in to the ASB office in the SUB or directly to me.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

In regard to Jim Jones' column, "Out of My Head," in the last Roundup, all that can be said is that yes, he certainly is. Anyone so demoted that he must lie about the activities of the election board and specifically about the out-going vice president, just for his own glorification and that of his shaggy-headed friends, certainly should not be allowed to write for a newspaper which is read by so many people outside Boise College. BC students know Jones for exactly what he is but other people who take enough interest in our school to read our paper have no way of knowing that what he said was untrue. Obviously that never should have been allowed to go to press.

We would also like to add that the people who ran in this election solely on the amount of mud they could sling rather than their own merits (as if they had any) should ask themselves just how many free hours they spent working for Boise College the past year. If this past year's officers had been in office only for the gratitude of the students or their own glorification it was a wasted year. It's a little painful to have spent hundreds of hours working for a student body, a portion of which can see you as nothing more than a "clique."

The fact that 12 out of 15 points of the LAPers program had already been accomplished this year shows how hard they had worked and how much they knew about student government. It was extremely gratifying to see our students place these irresponsible, irrational children in their place—at the bottom in the race for every office.

The out-going ASB officers would like to thank the remainder of the student body for all their cooperation and support this year. It's unfortunate that the close-working relationship of the executive council had to be misinterpreted at the end of our administration as a "clique" (such an empty, meaningless word) and used as campaign material.

We would also like to extend our congratulations to the newly-elected administration and wish them a very successful term in office.

William K. Ilett

 Susan G. Mikolasek

Dear Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the students and candidates who participated in the last student body elections. The record turn-out indicates that you students are very interested in the activities of the school and are desirous of being part of these activities. The Student Body offices are very challenging positions, and we will do our best to fulfill the duties and responsibilities that they will entail.

The student body can look forward to 1967 and 1968 as the era of the new look for Boise College. With your cooperation and help we can fulfill the tremendous potential of Boise College.

Sincerely,
 Ernie Weber
 Bob Christopher
 Julie Booker
 Gordon Pirrong

Dear Editor:

The Student body election two weeks ago was probably the most controversial and interesting in Boise College annals. The emotional impact permeated the entire campus, culminating in the so-called "meet the candidate assembly."

However, the election fostered more than verbal promiscuity and name calling. It set new precedents in student government by the bousvement of outdated ideas and misconceptions.

It is my opinion that Boise College profited greatly by the election. The government which evolved will no doubt reflect more student attitudes and interests. Ernie Weber and most of the other newly-elected officers are honest, dedicated individuals, seeking to do the best job they can for Boise College.

As for the past, no ASB government can be free from imperfections, blight and scandalum magnatum. However, credit must be given to Bill Ilett and the other ex-officers. The effort and dedication these people exhibited is truly admirable.

Dr. Sibley, anthropologist, to speak on cultural change

Dr. Willis E. Sibley, noted economic anthropologist who has dealt widely with the problems of developing nations, will deliver a public address on "Automation, Computers and Cultural Change in America," at Boise College April 20 at 2:30 p.m. in the school's auditorium.

An associate professor of anthropology at Washington State University, Dr. Sibley has done much of his research in the Philippines. He was a Fulbright grantee there, and his doctoral dissertation was on the social organization of a central Philippine settlement.

IMPULSE

Spring Impulse to feature lyrical and love poems

Humorous satire, suitable for autumn, seems out of place in spring; lyrical and love poems characterize this issue. Yet, the violent, serious satire of militancy formed in Weinert's "War God," does have its place. This poem subtly captures the blaring, deceptive beauty of war. Immediately following and revealing this beauty as intrinsically destructive are some remarkable photos of Hiroshima victims as they look even now. Too few people are aware of this living proof of the horror of the A-bomb. Has this evidence been repressed? We have taken the opportunity to reveal it.

Mr. Tracy Thompson, faculty advisor for Impulse, has said he hopes to improve the quality of the magazine with each issue. From the opening poem, "The Seagull," which may not be merely a good poem, but a great one, the best Impulse has ever featured, the issue excels. It is vibrant and green with spring. Some of the best student art work is reproduced, so that visually, also, Impulse is better than ever.

Impulse will be available by April 25.

Golden Z's
 Golden Z initiation ceremonies will be conducted on Thursday evening, April 15, in the SUB ballroom. The ranks of the women's service club are swelled to 48 with the addition of the 22 new members, who are: Pat Turner (pledge chairman), Teresa Thompson, Susan Shore, Karen Schwartz, Su Lin Randles, Joy Peirce, Janet Oney, Jeanne Myers, Cheryl Magin, Jarie Jackson, Jeannette Howard, Roni Hardman, Chris Emery, Linda Eichelberger, Linda Coe, Janie Call, Priscilla Burns, Marcia Brandberry, Janice Brenna, Gay Lynn Anderson, Linda Allford and Marilyn Adams. Highlight of the ceremony will be the presentation of membership pins to the pledges by their "Big Sister" sponsors. Refreshments, including a special "welcome" cake, are slated to be served to the Z's and parents of the new members.

Among the duties and services performed by the pledges were: assisting at basketball game concession sales, wearing posters advertising campus events, aiding faculty members, helping produce the "Miss Boise College" pageant and conducting a cherry tart sale to help finance the club's services. Major service project of the group was the construction of flannel boards for mentally retarded adolescents, under the auspices of the Ada County Mental Health Association. Guiding them in these activities was Susan Hartzell, pledge captain.

DECA
 DECA officers and members represented the college at the three-day state leadership conference with market-related contests, held in Twin Falls March 30-April 1.

The contests included sales presentation, decision-making in a store operation, chapter marketing improvement, job interviewer, personnel decision making, radio spots, job interviewee, individual marketing improvement, speech, and presentation of training manual for new employees.

The contests concluded Friday afternoon with a dinner and entertainment by all the colleges—Boise College, North Idaho Junior College, Coeur d'Alene; Lewis and Clark Normal School, Lewiston; College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls; and Idaho State University, Pocatello.

The final draft of the constitution was adopted Saturday during a business meeting. The constitutional committee made up of Boise College students Warren Jones, Bill Schaffer, Julie Long, Dwight Sharp, Charlotte Wilkerson and Scott English received special recognition at the awards banquet held Saturday night with Governor Don Samuelson participating as the featured speaker.

Boise College took four first place awards: those presented to Warren Jones, sales presentation; Bryce Smith, store operation decision making; Charlotte Duvall, radio spot, and Scott English, job interviewer.

Y. A. F.
 Jim Harris and Mike Heyrend attended the Northwest Regional Young Americans for Freedom convention in Corvallis, Oregon, April 7 and 8.

According to Harris, the Idaho state chairman of YAF, "this conference was very beneficial.

Pozo-Seco Singers to give concert

The Spring Formal, free to the entire BC student body, will be held in honor of graduating seniors, May 12 in the Boise Hotel, with music by John Morgan.

It was decided by a recent poll that the formal would be called a Spring Formal even though it is held to honor graduating students. It was also decided through the poll to make it formal, though both long and short formals will be in order.

The Pozo-Seco Singers will provide entertainment at 8:30, before the dance and during intermission. The group has been called "Three of the country's most exciting performers." Songs like "Time" and "I'll Be Gone" certainly attest to their talent. The trio—Lofton Kline, Donnie Williams, and Susan Taylor—record on the Columbia label. Their debut album featured "Guantanamo."

They instituted changes and programs, which were and still are to the benefit of the students. The students of Boise College owe a great deal to the previous administration. A student government, which must administer in a period of transition, is indeed faced with many problems.

It is my hope that, as the student body develops a greater sense of awareness, the student government also matures and reflects their growth.

'Explosion in English' next Thursday here

Dr. John C. Gerber, nationally renowned University of Iowa English department chairman, will deliver a major address titled "Explosion in English" April 20 at 8 p.m., in Boise College's Music auditorium.

"This will be of particular interest to teachers of English—public school educators as well as those employed in colleges—so they are urged to attend this lecture," said Prof. J. Roy Schwartz, head of the college's English department.

Dr. Gerber is author of the Introduction to Nathaniel Hawthorne's world-famous "The Scarlet Letter" (Modern Library editions) and Henry James' classic, "The Ambassadors." He is chairman of the Harper and Row editorial board entrusted with a new soon to be published authoritative edition of Mark Twain.

His other publications include "The Teaching of College English" (general editor); editor of "Writer's Resource Book"; "Speaker's Resource Book," and "Toward Better Writing." He is editorial advisor for Scott Foresman 9th and 10th grade composition texts, and member of the editorial boards of American Quarterly, Philological Quarterly (advisory), and College English.

Dr. Gerber's talk will be part of the Distinguished Lecture Program sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English. Joint sponsors of his Boise talk are the Idaho Education Association and Boise College.

"This is a rare opportunity to hear so distinguished a scholar," said Prof. Schwartz. "We invite the general public as well as educators and hope that teachers will encourage their students to attend. A prime aim of the council is to strengthen the teaching of English in non-urban school districts. Representation from these areas would be beneficial as well."

The title of Miss Boise College Rodeo is currently held by Miss Rosemary Vassar who used this title to enter the Miss Rodeo Idaho contest last fall, which she won. The six will be judged on personality and appearance Thursday at a tea at which the judges of the contest will be present. Each girl will also ride each night of the rodeo and will at this time be judged on horsemanship and general appearance on a horse. Contestants will be asked to ride the same reigning pattern used in the Miss Rodeo Idaho contest. This involves riding the horse at a walk, trot, and lope, executing a figure eight, slide stopping, backing up and quarter turns. Contestants will also ride around the barrels in the cloverleaf pattern.

The winner will be crowned Saturday night after the rodeo. Both the new queen and the runner-up will receive beautiful trophy buckles donated by local business men.

A rural, handwoven look is exuded by HALPERN'S white, 100 per cent cotton co-ordinates for young juniors. Wide strips of cotton lace decorate the majority of this "Mexican Tuck" line's items, such as a long sleeved collarless, midly blouse which sports a vertical lace strip on each sleeve, and a ruffled midriff. Lace is also apparent on a long-sleeved blouse, a sleeveless shell, stovepipe pants, walking shorts, and a boat-necked, three-quarter length, sleeved shift. Only the ribbed cotton sheath skirt is unadorned.

DELL JUNIOR PETITES feature purple-on-white, or white-on-purple pin-striped, bonded knit ensembles in its summer line. Among them are a double-breasted, hip-length, sleeveless top, the collar of which is white-on-purple vertically striped, while purple-on-white characterizes the blouse itself. A long-waisted, sleeveless dress in this permanent press group contains the white-on-purple striped pattern midriff, while the opposite pattern is employed in the remainder of the garment. White-on-purple striped capris, and a solid lavender skirt, plus a white "mod" cap complete the Dell co-ordinate collection.

GORDON MARX of California has also created breezy summer co-ordinates for the petite girls. A pink or light green and white checkered pattern is utilized in this line, which combines a combed cotton vest-type top, adorned by a lace ruffled collar and solid lime or rose buttons. One may wear this style or a long-sleeved, wrap-around blouse with either the pink or green and white checkered shorts, skirts or slacks (a thin pink or green belt accompanies the slacks and shorts). A checkered suit, which includes a long-waisted, belted, double-breasted jacket, and a pleated skirt is a stylish campus outfit. By PAMELA LYDA Fashion Reporter

The luau will be held from 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m., followed with a dance from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Garbed in island wear, BC students and faculty will sit down to a buffet-style luau featuring roast pig, chicken long rice, Lomi salmon, coconuts, pineapples, and other island fruits. Dinner guests will also learn the art of eating poi.

A luau wouldn't be complete without Hawaiian music and dancing, which will be provided by Edward Ho and Mrs. Gordon Jim, who are both natives of Hawaii and live in Boise. They will be assisted by the Hui-O-Hawaii club members.

The audience will participate in the dancing and honors will be given to the best dressed boy and girl and the best dressed couple.

Following the luau, couples will dance to the music of The Disinheritance until midnight. During the dance, a half hour will be reserved for Hawaiian singing and dancing.

Tickets will go on sale Monday, April 17 at $3 per person for the dinner and dance at the break and at noon in the SUB foyer.

An authentic Hawaiian cooking pit will be dug behind the SUB, where the pigs will be roasted beginning at 4 a.m., Saturday morning. The traditional ceremony of removing the prepared meat will take place at 4 p.m. that afternoon and the public is invited to observe the event.

Co-chairmen of the luau are Mel Sunada and John Kauinana. The club's faculty advisors are Roger Allen and Roger Walters.

Committee members are Leland Pestana and Paul Nakayama, decorations; Cheryl Inafuku, Stan Sakai, publicity; John Kauinana, Roy Inouye, food preparations; Lloyd Wong, Adam Rita, tickets; and Garrett Kondo, entertainment.

IK duke, duchess to be installed

The Golden Plume Ball will be the setting for the installation of this year's IK duke, Dave Gardner, and duchess, Sandy Barte, by last year's royalty, Stan Jonasson and Jan Long. It will be given in the SUB ballroom April 15 from 9 to 12 p.m., with music by the Rebels.

The IK's will attend a dinner before the ball at the Thunderbird.

Diamond record now stands 4 wins, 5 losses

Bronco baseball off to a roaring start

By BILL WINKLER
Roundup Sports Editor

The Broncos' 1967 baseball season has gotten off to a roaring start with the record now standing at four wins and five losses. As this is being written the Broncos play TVCC on the 11th of April and Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa on Friday, April 14.

On Saturday the Broncos will travel to Ontario for a contest against TVCC and the 18th will find them in Caldwell for a contest against the College of Idaho, returning home on the 19th for another contest against C of I. The weekend of the 21st and 22nd finds Ricks College playing here on the home field. The game Saturday the 22nd will be a double-header.

Last Saturday the Broncos split a double-header against ISU. The Broncos won the first game 4-3 in extra innings and lost the nightcap 12-3. In the first game Warren Meador held the visitors hitless for the first six innings before giving up a double in the seventh. During this time he struck out nine batters and the complete side in the second frame.

The first Bronco hit of the day came from Lauren Messinger in the second inning but he was caught trying to steal third. Meador received the second Bronco hit in the fifth but also failed to score.

The seventh inning found the score 0-0 and the game went into extra-innings. Meador tired in the eighth and was relieved by Joe Schmitt. The ISU team picked up three runs in their half of the eighth.

Coming in trailing, Terry Squibb grounded out and Rod Chester walked. Jeff Drapp also walked and Hal Zimmerman drove in the first run of the evening for the locals. Dave Ball then doubled, scoring two more, and Jim Rogers slammed in the Broncos' winning run with a single.

The second game was 5-5 going into the fifth inning, which proved to be the Broncos' disastrous inning. Thirteen ISU batters came up and produced 10 runs.

There is a lot of baseball to be played this week and the Broncos are hoping to get out of the losing bracket and start a winning streak.

RAPID RIDERS RALLY

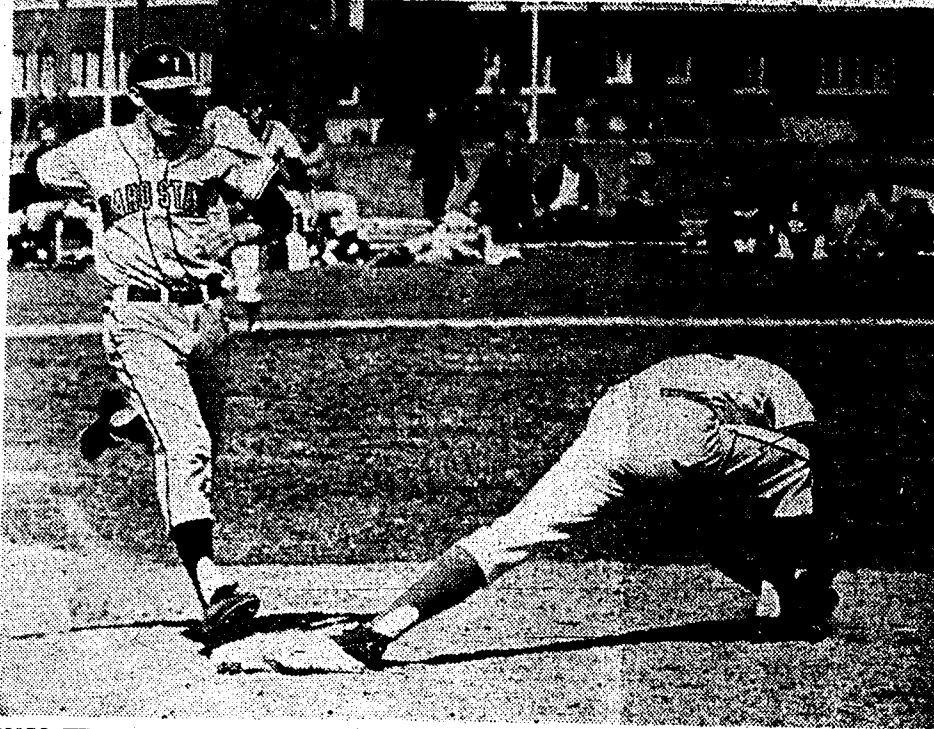

That annual Test of Courage, the Raft Race, has been scheduled by the Pi Sigs for Sunday, April 23.

If beset with ambitions to explore uncharted regions of the Boise River, to tease death in a frail craft while being bounced about on dizzying currents, then enter your ship with the Pi Sigs.

The picnic served by friendly natives at the end of the voyage (Ann Morrison) is guaranteed to restore all casualties.

Beware of little expenses; a small leak will sink a great ship.

Quarrels never could last long, small leak will sink a great ship.

BRONCO FIRST BASEMAN Hal Zimmerman picks off Idaho State's Leo Knudson in the opening game last Saturday. The throw was low but Hal dug it out of the dirt for the out. The Broncos went on to win the first game, 4-3, in extra innings but were defeated in the nightcap, 12-3.

In its first serious track meet of the season, the Broncos placed second against a powerful Whitman College. Whitman scored 70 points, Boise 52, Ricks 46, C of I 31, Northwest Nazarene 29, Treasure Valley 20 and Eastern Oregon 10.

The Broncos placed first in the 120' highs with Cafferty jumping 14.9, they had four seconds in the 100-yard dash and 220 dash, 440 relay and the shot put, and placed third in the 440 intermediate hurdles, 220 dash, mile medley relay, discus and pole vault.
