BOISE COLLEGE ROUNDUP

VOL. 5, NO. 1

BOISE, IDAHO

BC BEGINS THIRD YEAR OF FOUR-YEAR CURRICULUM

Boise College begins its third year as a full 4-year college. Pre-registration figures indicate there will be about 3,700 students enrolled on a full time basis. The freshman class last year was larger than either the University of Idaho or Idaho State University, and this situation is expected to continue in the years ahead. The Staff and Faculty of the College have been increased in order to serve the large student body the college is attracting.

Boise College began as a private church-supported junior college in 1932. In 1939, the Legislature allowed it to form a taxing district in Ada County, and it became a public institution. In 1965, the Legislature granted the college permission to become a four-year school, and the enrollment took a 40% jump in the fall of 1965, and another 22% leap in the fall of 1966. Boise College now has nearly double the full time students of three years ago.

President's Welcome

WELCOME to Boise College, the college which is on the grow!

This College needs young men and women who are seriously preparing themselves for today's world instead of sitting around trying to escape from it. Boise College welcomes the "C" student who has real determination, and the "B" student with leadership potential, as well as the "A" student with concerns that are wider than his books and classes.

We welcome students with open minds who like to think and to think not in slogans but in concepts.

Remember that success breeds success. Failure sometimes dampens desire. Make a personal commitment to stick to it.

Make college count.

JOHN B. BARNES
Boise College President

Registration Starts Today With Week of Activities

Registration week is packed with new experiences for the engineering student. There is much to do and absorb, and the list of things that must be done is long.

A day-by-day outline of the week beginning Monday, Aug. 21, finds a Freshman Orientation meeting at 8 a.m., in the gym. President John Barnes will be there, along with other top officials of the college to go over procedures, requirements and to answer questions. Pre-registration counseling for all students is Monday and Tuesday.

Monday evening, all freshmen are to gather on the north side of the Administration building for a student orientation and counseling session. There will be 200 sophomores to help new students get further acquainted with Boise College and for advice in personal matters.

Tuesday evening, at the old Student Union, a mixer will enable all students to meet each other and dance. The music starts at 9 p.m.

Registration for upper classmen starts Wednesday. In the evening, a tubing party down the Boise River to Julia Davis Park is planned, culminating in a wiener roast. Pull on your grubbies and meet at the Barber bridge at 6:30.

Registration will be completed for upperclassmen Thursday, and Freshmen will begin to go through the lines in the gymnasium. The President's Reception highlights the evening at the Student Center. Dr. John Barnes will meet students individually, along with principal members of the faculty and administration.

Friday sees the completion of freshman registration and an opportunity to relax that evening at a dance in the old Student Union. Music will be provided by The Quirks.

For those who can and wish to go to night classes, Saturday is the time for registration, also at the gymnasium. Otherwise, come to the Student Center to see the hit folk rock group, the "Travelers 3," well known on college campuses throughout the country. Tickets can be obtained at the door, and the show starts at 8:15.

The "Travelers 3" will climax registration week with a folk-rock concert in the ballroom of the new Student Center. The group is a

THE TRAVELERS THREE, a folk-rock quartet from the University of Oregon, will climax registration week this Saturday with a concert at 9 p.m., in the ballroom of the new Student Center on campus. Members of the group are, from left, Peto Apo, lead guitar and vocalist from Hawaii; Charlie Oyama, guitar player, also of Hawaii; Mike Botts, drummer from Sacramento, Calif., and Joe Lannanno, bassist, also of Sacramento. Tickets will be available at the door and the dance is open to all Boise College students and faculty, according to ASB officers.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS for 1967-68 are, from left, Van Heffner, junior; Diane Norris, head cheerleader and sophomore; Opal Cooper, junior, and Dan Nottage, sophomore. They will lead the student body in cheering on the football and basketball teams during the fall and winter seasons. Joining the four cheerleaders will be six new song leaders, who will be selected by members of the Senate in September.

BRONCO LETTERMEN RETURN FOR PRE-SEASON TRAINING

The Boise College Broncos, '66 National Junior College football champs, go into pre-season training Aug. 21, with an excellent holdover of material from last year's squad, according to Head Coach Lyle Smith. However, he indicated the success of this year's team will depend to a large extent on the new men coming in to fill the gaps left from graduation losses. The record last year was nine wins, one loss, a mark for this or any year's team to shoot at.

"This year's schedule is as tough as any we have played," says Smith, "and we'll get our baptism early against the always tough Columbia Basin team in our first game, Sept. 16." The Broncos have a win, a tie, and two losses to Columbia Basin in the past four years. "This will be our last opportunity to even the score with them," Smith stated.

The Broncos have 18 returning lettermen, and Smith cited quarterbacks Terry Squibb of Caldwell, Perry Gosset of Boise and Harold Zimmerman of Parma as contenders for that slot. Center Terry Baldwin of Boise is expected to get plenty of action up front. At offensive end, Smith has Merlin Lords of Emmett, and at guard, Steve Svitek is returning after a year in the service. Fullbacks Pat Williams of Jerome and Dave Toney of Boise are second-year men.

Although the squad has a month of practice, there will only be one-a-day workouts during registration week. Smith says he will again use a form of the wing-T offense, a combination that has produced bowl-bound teams for BC in years past.

This is the last year the Broncos play in junior college ranks, because the schedules have been adjusted to bring them into competition with four-year schools beginning in the fall of 1968. Application has already been made to the Big Sky Conference for membership, starting in 1970. The application will be considered this fall when the conference holds its annual meeting.

The schedule for the Broncos shows these games at home: Sept. 16, Columbia Basin; Sept. 30, Snow College; Oct. 7, Treasure Valley Community College; Oct. 28, Ricks College; Nov. 4, San Diego College; Nov. 18, Wenatchee College.

Games away are: Sept. 23, Everett Junior College, Everett, Wn.; Oct. 14, Mesa College, Grand Junction, Colo.; Oct. 21, Dixie College, St. George, Utah; Nov. 11, Yakima Valley College, Yakima, Wash.

quartet, but started out as a trio, hence the oddity of numbers. They are as versatile on the concert stage, in supper clubs, the lounges of Las Vegas, or on the county fair circuit.

They have been around since 1959, when the group was formed at the University of Oregon. Individually, the members of the group are Pete Apo, lead guitar and vocalist; Mike Botts, drummer; bassist Joe Lamanno, and 12-string guitar player, Charlie Oyama.

Their music is sprinkled with jazz, ragtime, even country western, but their primary purpose is to entertain, and they are well known for the quality of their wit and humor along with their musical abilities.

The music starts at 9 p.m., Saturday in the ballroom of the Student Center, and tickets will be available at the door.
