BOISE COLLEGE ROUNDUP

VOLUME 5, NO. 6

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1967

BOISE, IDAHO

NO, IT ISN'T IMPOSSIBLE

STUDENT SENATE

The ASB office of Boise College has released this year's meeting schedule for the Student Senate. All meetings will take place on the second Thursday of every month, in the student ballroom of the SUB. All representatives of the various classes and clubs are urged to attend. Meetings will convene at 7 p.m., on the scheduled days.

Special Assembly, Lectures Scheduled During 'Marriage-go-round' Week

A special assembly has been arranged for students of Boise College as a coordinated part of annual "Marriage-go-round Week" which is being planned by the Ada County Mental Health Association's Marriage Institute. This Lyceum will be from 8:45-9:35 a.m., October 19, and held in the Liberal Arts Building in Room 106. It will be open to all students with an authorized "Extended Break" making it possible for them to attend.

Sociology and psychology classes are making special plans and assignments for the Lyceum and instructors of some of these classes solicited suggestions from the students who chose the topic for the planned lecture, which will be "What Is A Normal Marriage?"

Dr. Herb Fowler, M.D., teaching psychiatrist from the University of Utah Medical School, will be addressing the students and will also conduct a question and answer period following the lecture. Dr. Fowler will be in Boise as featured speaker at many other functions of the "Marriage-Go-Round" throughout the week including three night public seminars held adjacent to the college in the First Christian Church on October 17, 18 and 19. All students are invited free to these seminars.

Student leaders will participate in the Lyceum with Boise College Student Body President Ernie Weber opening the assembly and making introductions. Janice Welsh of BC is preparing posters to promote the event.

Dr. David Torbet, chairman of the Psychology department, Boise College, is heading up the plans for the college's participation in the "Marriage-Go-Round." Other college faculty members who are participating in various ways in the program are: Dr. John Phillips, chairman of the Division of Social Sciences; Mrs. Patricia Dorman, Sociology; L. Wardell Larson, Psychology; Robert Corwin, Sociology; Mrs. Irene Wilcox, Department of Social Work and Welfare; Dr. William Bronson, professor of Psychology, and Dr. Marcus Collins, professor of Sociology.

BC Student Loans Are Now Available

Three types of student loans are available at Boise College. The National Student Defense Loan is given to the good student with financial need. Education majors use the loan to pay for their education and upon graduating and teaching five years must repay only one-half of the loan.

The $1000 Student Aid Fund loan is available through certain banks and is processed through Boise College. If the student's parents earn less than $15,000, the federal government pays the interest on the loan.

The Boise College short term loan is the third type. The $150 loan is available through the college to deserving students who are a few dollars short of paying their own way. No interest is charged on the loan but it must be repaid before the semester is finished.

The National Defense Student loan applications should be picked up at Dr. McCauslin's office three or four months prior to the loan but the U.S.A.F. loan applications must be picked up at the bank and returned to Dr. McCauslin's office for final processing. The short term BC loan should be picked up a week in advance at the college.

Esquires Begin Project For BC Memorial Hall

By KATHY FITZPATRICK
Roundup Club Editor

Final plans are now being made for a memorial mall to connect the Liberal Arts Building and the Library. The Boise College Esquires, sponsors of the project, have embarked upon a plan to raise $17,350 to build the massive walkway in memory of Idaho men and women who have given their lives in service for their country. Construction is scheduled to begin sometime near the beginning of this coming year and is hoped to be completed by next May.

The project is compatible with the master plan for construction which has already been started with the addition of the Student Union Building, as well as other new buildings on campus.

Plans for the mall call for a five-foot high diamond-shaped fountain in front of the Liberal Arts Building, consisting of two layers. The lower portion will have a diameter of five feet with benches around it and set-in colored lights. Wide walkways will lead from the fountain to the Library, the Liberal Arts Building and the Music Hall. Six-foot wide concrete planters will divide the walkways in half.

A special feature of the construction will be a memorial flag pole, which will be located approximately where the "Hello Walk" sign is located now. The flagpole will be dedicated to a former veteran and Boise College professor, Dr. Robert Jones, who was killed in an accident several years ago.

Funds for the project are being raised by donations from local civic organizations, as well as from various fund raising activities. These may include concerts with guest performers.

The project was started last February. The chairmen include Larry Dresser, over-all chairman; Kent Everill and John Poulson, finance chairmen.

Poetry Contest Open For Upperclassmen

A poetry contest sponsored by the National Poetry Press is now available to Boise College students. Any junior or senior student, wishing to enter must submit the manuscript to the offices of the National Poetry Press, 3210 Selby Ave., Los Angeles 34, California.

There is no limitation as to the form or the theme, however, shorter works are preferred by the board of judges because of the space limitations.

Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet, and on it must be the name of the author and the student's address, as well as the name of the college the student attends. Manuscripts must be submitted by November 5.

TAU ALPHA PI SWEETHEARTS

VICKI USTICK, right, is the new sweetheart of Tau Alpha Pi and Janice Johnson is her first attendant. The girls were chosen for the titles at the club's annual pledge party held last weekend at Robie Creek. A dental assistant major, Vicki is a native of Jerome and is a green-eyed brunette, standing 5'6" tall. Tau Alpha Pi is a service club for vocational-technical students.

Circle K Members Elect Sweetheart

The Circle K Service Club recently elected Susie Johnson as its 1967-68 Sweetheart. Susie is the president of Associated Women Students and also belongs to the Life Lines. Majoring in elementary education, she hopes someday to

Is Marriage Really Necessary?

There are ideas that have been kicking around in the minds of a few individuals and lately many of these notions, right or wrong, have come about. The following is a typical case.

Robert H. Rimmer is a businessman and self-proclaimed sociologist. He has recently written a novel dealing with the advisability of college students of the opposite sexes to live together without the "added chore" of marriage vows.

Rimmer has used the excuse that certain "extracurricular" activities are taking place on the side anyway so why not accept and everybody be happy. The author views this as sort of a Utopia and portrays several examples in his book of students openly "playing house" on certain campuses without the normal condemnation from parents or teachers.

Nowadays many things in all walks of life are being accepted because of the rapid change in our way of living and the different values and practices that seem to go along with it. Religion, politics and society as a whole have dealt with problems and rapidly come to what seems a logical but many times immoral conclusion.

Countless educated men, like Rimmer, have given their blessings to actions which are undeniably wrong but seem to be the only reasonable answer when the facts are presented.

It's a tense and complicated world and the temptation is here more than ever to come up with far-out statements, notions, or outward actions. This is an era when keeping your "cool" is needed the most. In a very short time most of us will be making a home for a family and ourselves. Some may be called to different paths but the question remains the same. What kind of a world do I want my family to live in? What type of world do I want to enjoy?

An environment plays a major role in shaping the personality and outlook on life for the individual. It is up to you to create that environment for yourselves and loved ones in the difficult times that confront you now and the more pronounced challenges that lie in the years ahead.—Bob Fontaine.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I'd like to ask several questions of the student body of Boise College.

1. How many students know the proper etiquette of showing respect for the national flag while it is being hoisted or lowered?
2. How many of the students show respect for the national flag while it is being hoisted or lowered?

As Keeper-of-the-Flag for the Esquire Club of Boise College, chairman of the Color Guard for the Esquires, and the person responsible for hoisting the colors in the morning at Boise College, I'd like to say that I have yet to see any member of the student body show respect for the flag during the hoisting of the colors in the morning.

Realizing that some of the student body may not know the etiquette of respect for the flag during the hoisting or lowering of the colors, I'd like to quote from

Sec. 5, Public Law 829: "During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in a review, all persons, present should face the flag, stand at attention and salute. . . . men should remove the hat, with the right hand holding it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Men without hats should salute in the same manner. Aliens should stand at attention. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes."

Now that the student body has been informed, let's see a little more respect shown for the flag. After all, it's your flag, too.

Sincerely yours,
 Caruso J. Bongiovi, Jr.

Apply Now for Scholarships
 Dean of Student Personnel Services, Dr. J. A. McCauslin, announced applications for scholarships must be picked up by Oct. 15 from Pauline Hinman, T-1, and returned by November 1 to be processed.

VALKYRIES NAME NEW CLUB PLEDGES

The following girls have been selected to pledge the Valkyries: freshman, Sue Mandeville; sophomores, Lynda Baril, Lina Blacketter, Carol Boyack, Kathy Brown, Karen Butts, Cheryl Ellison, Kathy Goade, Jeane Link, Colleen Maloney, Margo Robison, Chris Stoker, Janice Wain, Sharon Welch; and junior, Barbara Nelson.

The girls will go through six weeks of pledging at which time they will become full-fledged Valkyries.

COWPOKES PLAN DANCE

A dance, sponsored by the Boise College Rodeo Association, will be held on Saturday, from 9:30 to 12 midnight at the Student Union.

Featured will be the music of the Baroques. Dress is casual schoolwear. The admission is $1.35, with proceeds going to help the Rodeo Association sponsor a rodeo team in intercollegiate rodeos.

CURRENT EXHIBIT

Now showing in the Liberal Arts Mall is a collection of non-objective "constructions" by Signe Nelson. The exhibit will be up through October.

The Score Is . . .

By RON OLIVER
 Roundup Political Editor

I took a swim around the campus last week, hoping to find what it has worthy of appreciation.

A thorough investigation revealed that the entire layout, from the newest grass to the newest building, was a blurry blob. However, a subsequent investigation fruitfully disclosed that my glasses were covered from head to foot with a measurable layer of aqua.

I proceeded to consider the matter, arriving at two hypotheses. Perhaps, in passing, I had shed a few tears on behalf (or something) of our library. But second thoughts could not produce any reason why this should be so.

Overruling the former theory, I thought perhaps I had run astray of a sprinkler. Diligent study of the area revealed a bit of moisture on the grass, but not sufficient to cause the problem. I then noticed that someone (probably a hermit from an asphalt jungle) must be attempting to produce a fine crop of sidewalk.

I proceeded to philosophize on why this should be so, relying on my own watering experience. It became obvious that the only way to thoroughly water the lawn is to allow the water to lap over onto the sidewalk.

Also, the campus being the size it is and the time of day being an important factor, as well as the temperature of both air and ground in irrigation procedure, I realized (the obvious conclusion follows) that 3 p.m. is the only time in the entire day that the lawn around the library may be watered by sprinkling.

This conclusion was reached after rejecting the ridiculous assumption that the irrigating could be done between 5 and 6:30 p.m., when few people are on campus.

While dwelling on these thoughts I noticed a lazy girl (to my way of thinking such people are all wet), who could not get up the gumption to walk all the way to the U and back around to the library, in hopes of reaching her class. Instead, she dashed down the sidewalk; the sprinklers were brilliantly coordinated so that if one did not hit her, she would be shot down by the other.

As for myself, I hope it will not be thought disloyal of me if I walked across the grass; after spending eight hours literally on my feet (much of it running), I did not feel up to the long walk. Would you?

Boise College Men's Dormitory

CHAFFEE HALL SECTION

BOISE COLLEGE ROUNDUP

THURSDAY, OCT. 5, 1967

Chaffee Hall Dedication Scheduled At 4 P.M.

Thursday, October 5, the Boise College Men's Dormitory will be formally dedicated. The new dorm has a capacity of 300 students and was constructed by the R. W. Luekenga Construction Company, Inc., of Nampa, with Hummel, Hummel, Jones & Schawver architects designing the building.

The men's dorm was part of a massive school construction program this past summer which also saw the new student union and liberal arts buildings completed. The money for this project, which also included an addition to the science building, was given to the college on a 40-year loan grant to be paid in part by the students' dormitory and student union fees. The cost of the whole affair is totaled at four million dollars.

The men's dorm is located behind the girls' dormitory and consists of two three-story wings. Connecting these two wings is the house mother's apartment. Each wing was built to accompany 150 men with parking space for cars constructed in the rear.

The lobby and halls are carpeted, decorated and furnished in much the same way as the new Student Union building.

BC HOSTS TVCC SATURDAY, OCT. 7

By RANDY McCOWAN
Roundup Sports Writer

Saturday, the Boise College Broncos play host to the Treasure Valley Community College Chukars. Since the founding of Treasure Valley, they have an 0-2 record against Boise College and would like to gain a victory before the Broncos move to a four-year status next year.

The Chukars, under the leadership of Coach Gary Farnsworth, won their first three games by impressive scores.

Coach Lyle Smith anticipates it will be the toughest game to date. "This is about the best team Treasure Valley has ever had. They have a big line and good speed. It is a well balanced team and we will be their prime targets."

In their last game, the Chukars used a 6-3-2 defense. They ran their offense out of an unbalanced T formation with quarterback Bill Guffey, a fine passer, at the controls. The main target will be Randy Nelson, the split end. The tailback, Brice Huddleson, will handle some of the running chores.

Coach Smith has Terry Squibb, last week's outstanding back, at the controls for the Broncos. The outstanding lineman last week was Russ Kenning.

"Puddin" Grayson, Dennis Pool-ey and George Saphire, who were injured in the Snow College contest, will see light workouts and possibly no action this week in an attempt to prepare for the road trip next Friday to Grand Junction, Colo.

Broncos Take Wings

Eleven members of the Flying Broncos, Inc., under the direction of advisor Wayne White, recently flew three planes to Logan, Utah, to attend a flying seminar at Utah State University.

BC Broncos Melt Snow In First ICAC Tussle

By ART GALUS
Roundup Sports Editor

Boise College dogsledged five players through the Snow College defense Saturday to grab a 35-6 win in the Broncos' first ICAC game.

After a fumble recovery by Steve Svitak on the Snow one, quarterback Jerry Squibb called the right combination to send himself through for the six. Tim Powers converted the first of five extra points in the high scoring game.

After a 44-yard pass in the second quarter to "Puddin" Grayson terminated on the Snow 2-yard line, Terry Squibb busted a shot to Jim Bianchi for the TD. Later, with less than a minute left in the first half, Jeff Drapp slipped between the Snow Flakes to bring the lighted board up to 21-0.

The Badgers kicked off to the Broncos to open the third period, and after a 73-yard march that threatened to stall on the Snow 2-yard line, Pat Williams broke in from the one to bind it at 28-0.

Gary Powell, freshman and former local prep star, replaced Squibb at quarterback when the veteran tired in the fourth quarter and picked up Boise's last marker on a 10-yard plunge.

Snow College's lone TD came in the final period on a pass from the Bronco 10. Then the BC defense strengthened and the PAT kick was blocked.

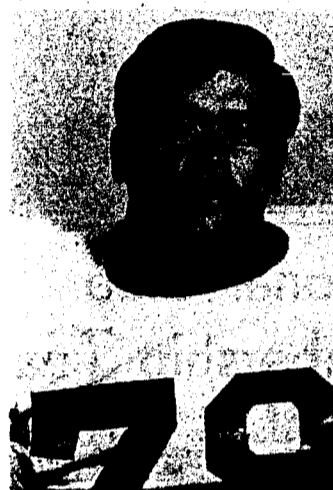

Snow was held to a mere 14 yards in the first half and 27 in the second while BC rushed for a total of 247 yards. Pat Williams was the head ground gainer for the Broncos with 56 yards in 14 carries.

In the late fourth quarter Snow intercepted a Powell pass on the goal line to return it to the Boise 36. But as play resumed the Broncos' Steve Forrey snagged a Badger pass to return the ball to BC.
