Students of Four Institutions Get Library Privileges

All students registered at Boise College, the University of Idaho, Idaho State University, and Lewiston-Clarkston Normal Schools, now have full student library privileges at all four institutions. This has been made possible through the newly-organized Idaho Council of Academic Librarians.

For further service, a telephoto network has been set up for the purpose of transmitting requested library materials as well as messages more quickly. This will improve the inter-library loan services and coordination of regulations governing the loans. The telephoto links the two universities, Boise College, Boise public and Twin Falls public libraries to the Idaho State Library.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The Boise State University's foreign affairs club, Dr. Robert A. Scalapino, told an estimated audience of 250 Boise College students Thursday, that isolation is still the answer to the prevention of another world war and "the United States must continue to discontinue and contain Chinese expansionism."

Scalapino, a member of the U.S. Department of State's Advisory Panels on China and on East Asia and Pacific Affairs, discussed the American position in the future regarding Southeast Asia as part of the college's lecture series sponsored by the Boise College Lyceum Committee.

Scalapino said the United States policy in Asia over the last 20 years was one of punishment and reform. He cited Japan as an example of a country defeated in a total war by America and yet in 1964, according to a Japanese news poll, the people listed the United States as the country they respected the most of the world powers.

He added the Japanese lost Communist China, the Soviet Union and Korea as the most distrusted countries of the world. He concluded the students had Japan looking toward China into a war that lasted over a decade.

Scalapino stated: "Our capacity over the last 17 years to influence Chinese philosophy is very limited. China is in its present turmoil, the Chi- nese Party was damaged by cultural evolution as two-thirds of the party office were purged as yet obsolete."

"A political crisis does exist," he said, "the battle in China is a universal battle of the peasants vs. professors."

Chairman Moe Tao, ex-time of the Red Chinese communist party and "Molots" today view the United States as "public enemy number one or two," Scalapino said. He predicted more pragmatic types will come to power in the communist countries, men closer to Hirohito and Kenyngh rather than Lenin and Stalin.

"In South and Southeast Asia, we have reached a new height of realism, decision and maturity in this country. Today the states in Vietnam and far beyond the 15 million people in Vietnam, but all of Asia."

"The outcome of the war hinges on three factors: capacities of South of China itself, preoccupation with new situations, tensions and ambivalence of the northern domination of this movement; and the response of the United States." Scalapino called for a "setting together of a workable combination of non-communists" to combat the rise in Vietnam.

He questioned the students: Can America keep their cool? Can we play the game?"

TEA TO BE GIVEN BY SERVICE CLUBS

A preferred tea for Golden Z, one of the service clubs will be held Jan. 31 in the Sunnih Ballroom from 4 to 6 p.m.

All interested girls who have attended BC for one semester and who are full-time students are encouraged to attend. The proceeds will be given to Easter Seals.

The proceeds of both clubs will give information and application forms to those attending.

BOWLDEN AND OLSLEN TO BE HONORED WITH $100 AND $25 SCHOLARSHIPS

Two Boise College sophomores have received separate scholarships for their efforts in creating a new seal, to be used by the college when it comes under state supervision in 1969.

Bob Christopher, chairman of the seal-selection committee, said Bowlden and Leon Olson were awarded $100 and $25 respectively for submitting the winning seal and slogan.

Bowlden, a commercial art major, submitted the winning seal. He said he worked on the design for about a week. He added that he received valuable assistance from his instructor in commercial art, Army Show.

"I included the traditional symbols of the college on the seal," he said, "the tree, the Boise River, the restored Episcopal church." Bowlden said he plans to finish his senior and junior years at Boise. He then wants to go to school for a year in California. His major field of interest is commercial art.

Leon Olson received her recognition this week when the college awarded her $25. She is a student teacher in grades 7-12."

THESE GIFTS FROM SPAIN are displayed by Isabel Ellis, from left, to her brother, John Ellis. Other gift items are an oil painting of the Alhambra and a picture of a Moorish tower of the cathedral in Seville. A pair of hand-knitted hosebands with the figure of St. George and Sancho Panza, who are both dead and alive, were made by Miguel de Cervantes, a Spanish novelist; and a Spanish fan.
Hello Sign Kidnapped!

No score and five years ago our students brought forth upon this campus a tradition, coined in friendship and dedicated to the tale of acquiring friendships with students...

The tradition, a long, cement slab crowned with a wrought-iron sign, was lovingly titled THE HELLO WALK. Since its dedication, tribulations of wind, rain, and snow, only to be separated because of a dastardly act—the sign was stolen by a group of students. The new sign was hung but the old spark just wasn't there anymore. The campus "love affair" with the original sign was too strong to break.

After brooding over the situation for months, concerned students lifted their chins, wiped their eyes waiting for the echo. - Don Gardner

I'm a busy man, a hurried man. I have no chance to stop and wonder, sir, if you would, good sir. Give me the time of day?

Old man, where, what time have you?

I've only time to drink.

That time, Old fellow, is running out, sir. I am sickened by partment will not.

I want the time for me.

That time, young man, that's for me! The time to eat our lunch, that time, Old man, that's for me! The time to vote; ,

I want to vote myself.

I want to vote myself.

I've only time to drink.

What time have you today?

I wonder, sir. I wonder if you would, good sir, I wonder if you would, good sir.

I want the time for me.

But changing times are here, Old buddy, How is that prevailing?Phi Beta Lambda, the organization for all business and business education majors, will hold a meeting this Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock, in the President's Dining Room, in the Student Union Building.

There will be a short business meeting to include making plans for the convention which will be held at the Boise College, beginning March 16. Members of the Boise College chapter will act on the program of events for this event.

The guest speaker will be Miss Florence Hintz, the Placement Director at the Boise College.

All business and business education students are urged to attend this meeting. If you haven't yet joined Phi Beta Lambda, memberships are still available.

There will be a blood drawing this Thursday in the west end of the ballroom in the SUB. It is scheduled for 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.
Exec Council Introduced to Knap; Senate Approves Building Program

The Executive Council met Jan. 17 in the ASB offices where it was formally introduced to new Head Coach Tony Knap. The coach commented on the fact that it is fortunate for students to be “involved.” Following Knap’s brief words, Dwane Kern, college Business Manager, announced that the athletic fee would be raised to $10 from $10 and that the student budget would not be used for athletics starting next fall.

There was also discussion on financing new band uniforms, planting soft drink machines in the on the many aspects of modern college, and election arrangements. Ernie Weber and management met to select mailing lists without its approval.

At the Senate meeting Jan. 18, the student representatives approved by 40 to 1 the building program submitted by Dr. Barnum. The students also accepted a proposal to request changes in the SUB hours. Now the Snack Bar will open at 7:15, but on Sunday it will close at 10:30 p.m. instead of 12 p.m., except on special occasions. Saturday hours are 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 9:30, with the same exception. On Sunday, it opens at 4:30 and closes at 10 p.m.

The Student Body President announced the appointment of Bob Harkins as chairman of Boise College’s part in the National College’s Presidential Primary.
