Students of Boise State College
Dedication Scheduled For Memorial Mall

The official dedication of the Esquire Memorial Mall will be held Tuesday from noon to 1:30 p.m. in the center of the Boise State College campus with a full military salute.

The mall area and fountain will be dedicated in memory of the Idaho men and women, who have given their lives in the service of our country. Art Aarnoth, dedication chairman, explained, "The objective of this dedication is to commemorate those men and women, to honor the heritage they have given us, and to rekindle the responsibility we as citizens and as a nation owe that heritage."

The ceremony will begin with the presentation of colors by a four-member guard from each branch of the service, Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force, followed by the national anthem, played by the Boise State College Band under the direction of Mel Shelton.

Father Perry W. Dodds, editor of the Idaho Register, will give the invocation and the benediction.

Guest speakers will be Dr. John D. Barnes, president of Boise State College; the Honorable Frank F. Church, senior senator from Idaho; General James S. Brooks, and the Rev. Dwight Williams, pastor of the Hillview Methodist Church.

In accordance with the spirit of the dedication, the memorial monument will be unveiled by Mrs. Anthony Bellamy, who recently accepted the Silver Star medal awarded posthumously to her husband, the late Major Anthony Bellamy, for his valorous service in Vietnam.

The military ceremony also will include a rifle salute and a Air National Guard fly-by, which consists of F-102 jet fighters flying over the mall area in honor of the Memorial Mall.

The dedication will end appropriately with the BSC Band playing taps.

WILL YOU HELP KATHY B R I D G E S

To Prolong The Life of Teen
by Kathy Sheehan

At this very moment a young girl is staggering along a tightrope between life and death.

At the age of eight, Kathy had a case of strep-throat. But this wasn't any normal type of strep-throat. Of all the 35 types, she came into contact with the very rare type that causes acute glomerulonephritis.

According to Kathy's doctor, H.A.P. Meyers, "only about one out of every ten thousand victims infected by this type of strep-throat develop acute glomerulonephritis."

But Kathy has the cromic form. Here again, "only one out of every thousand patients of acute glomerulonephritis develop the cromic form."

Before being stricken by this disease, this cute blue-eyed blond weighed 110 pounds. Now she has shranked to a mere 69 or 70 pounds. Now at 15 years of age she has lost the function of both her kidneys.

Kathy has been under the care of specialists in Denver, Portland, and Boise. She is now ranked one on the list of transplant patients in Denver. She has moved from sixth place to first in six months. The Kidney Typing Center at U.C.L.A. is currently searching for the right type of kidney for Kathy's transplant.

Kathy must have at least three treatments with the kidney machine each week. Each "try" costs $150, thus one week's bills are $450 or more.

Kathy's transplant will cost anywhere from $15,000 to $25,000. The Bridges family has already paid out about $21,000 in medical bills alone.

The burden for the Bridges family is breaking them financially. Although they have objected to acceptance of "charity," it has now reached the stage where outside help is necessary to help pay the bills.

A Kathy Bridges Fund has been organized under Floyd Hodges as chairman. Initially started by the Trailer Coach Association, consisting of mobile home manufacturers, interest has aroused several community groups to the band wagon.

Several events have brought in money for Kathy. Her sophomore classmate at Bishop Kelly High School sponsored a powder puff football game in her honor. Also an adult dance was held at the school.

"At this point the fund has collected $5,000. A mere drop in the bucket," stated Floyd Hodges. "The Bridges family has sacrificed greatly to help Kathy. Their burden has become too heavy to carry it by themselves... they need your help!"

Contributions may be mailed to Floyd Hodges, Kathy Bridges Fund, 1990 Suncrest Drive, Boise, Idaho 83705.
The day before last, the pre-talks came back but Saturday night when Bunter Keaton, Kathryn McGuire, and Harry Langdon once again played to a "sold-out" house. The pantomime ang II King Supreme and its subjects were the punch-lines of the performance.

The movie-goers were pleasantly shocked to find that a hundred of actors could not only hold their attention without verbal usage, but also "tickle" their funny-bones.

Harry Langdon in Soldier was first to appear. The theme though somewhat lacking was quite funny. Amusingly, dual roles were played by the three leads through the film, proving perhaps that they did not restrict themselves to Harly Mills, in Paten Trap.

The pantomimical comedy was timeless. The film itself was dated distinctly in its making, setting and mostly in all of the melodramatic approach used in the word cards and acting.

The plot has been used many times before, successfully. Bunter Keaton and Kathryn McGuire in The Navigator were the mainstays of the entire film. Without their acting abilities the film would have fallen apart. Buster Keaton was however the better actor of the two, and luckily the emphasis was on him.

Kathryn McGuire's parts were mostly of a telepathic in unusual situations. As the title suggests the movie takes place aboard a ship. THE NAVIGATOR.

The interest is raised in that the exactness of the sea voyage, and the KM pampered children of everyday life who are essentially all picture stars, were suddenly launched into the wide of the seas where their dreams of wealth and solve all their problems, and, of course, the boy eventually won the heart of the restless girl.

The film is a good story on the excellent piano playing of Mrs. Keaton. But without it the film would be definitely lacking.

IF THE NAME FITS, wear it...
Boise State College cheerleader, Patience Thoreson has been getting extra looks and chuckles the past few weeks. Her name, embroidered on the sleeve of her cheerleading sweater, seems to sum up the attitude needed by a college cheerleader with a leg in a cast during the football season. A freshman at BSC, Patience is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Thoreson of Boise.

Second Quarter Splurge
By Broncos Blanks Savages

by Glenn Draper.

After a scoreless first quarter the Boise State Broncos exploded for 17 points in the second quarter, but Saturday night at Bronco Stadium and went on to post a 20-0 win over the Eastern Washington State Savages.

A small crowd of 4,300 braved the chilly autumn evening in witnessing the Broncos register their second win of the season. The loss was the second for the Savages and it marked the first time they have been shut out in some three years.

Freshman Eric Guthrie came in on the second quarter to start the Broncos rolling as he replaced Tony Maher in the clear on a scoring serial that covered 83 yards. Gary Stivers who kicked two field goals and a pair of extra points in the contest converted to make it 7-0.

After a fumble recovery by Boise's Val Garrison at Eastern's 17 yard line, Stivers again came on to booh his first field goal from the 37 to give the Broncos a 10-0 margin.

GUTHRIE SCORES SECOND
Guthrie got the second Bronco touchdown with 2:45 left in the quarter as Steve Stvrak pounced on another Eastern fumble. He scrambled untouchable third right of goal.

Stivers kicked his second field goal of the night and fourth this season with 4:47 showing on the clock in the third quarter. This one was from 27 yards away. He narrowly missed a third try from 50 yards out early in the contest.

The savage Bronco defense stymied Eastern's offense and allowed them only 123 total yards in the contest. Eastern got only as close as the 25-yard line to scoring but again was stopped cold by the rugged defense.

11 was a punting duel throughout the game between Eastern's Ed Fisher and Boise's Val Garrison. Fisher kicked 14 times and Garrison 11 times for a grand total of 25. The Broncos had 16 first downs while the Savages could manage only 7.

Larry Smith did most of the work for the home club as he carried the football 17 yards for 106 yards. Fullback Pat Williams drove for 41 yards on 13 carries.

Eastern's workhorse was halfback Rick Hardie as he picked up a mere 37 yards in 19 trips.

All-American end, Dave Svendsen of Eastern, was held to 71 yards in 9 receptions.
