2-6-1969

Arbiter, February 6

Students of Boise State College

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
Moliere Comedy To Open Friday

When John Warwick's actors take to the boards with "Tartuffe" Friday night in the Subal Theater, they will bring to the audience a satirical attack on extremes that is as legitimate today as when Moliere wrote it some 400 years ago. Tastes may have changed, but human nature has not.

Tartuffe's intricate plot is typical of Moliere. Orgon, the head of the household, has taken Tartuffe into his home, believing that he is an impoverished "holy man." Perelle, the maid, fully approves of Tartuffe, but the rest of the family know he is a hypocrite.

When Orgon decides to make his daughter, Mariane, marry Tartuffe, although he had promised her to Valere, Donine, the maid leads the family against the proposed marriage. Orgon's wife, Elmire, tries to dissuade Tartuffe who replies by trying to seduce her. Dams, their son overhauds the proposition and tells the whole story to Orgon who refuses to doubt Tartuffe's virtue and banishes Damis as a traitor from the house.

In his anger at his insolvent family, Orgon signs a deed giving his house and all possessions including his daughter's hand to Tartuffe. Cleante, Elmire's brother confronts Tartuffe and learns that he will take all Orgon's gifts. Elmire devises a plan to reveal Tartuffe's nature and while Orgon is hidden, she and Tartuffe's wife, Elmire's cousin, Valere, come to the house, but it is too late to regain Orgon's trust. Tartuffe is thrown out of the house.

Tartuffe's wit and wisdom is as applicable to us today as it was to the French of the 17th Century. Moliere's play has been extremely popular since it was banned from the stage by Louis XIV due to its theme of religious hypocrisy. The Subal Players are emphasizing all extremes—religious, social, immoral.

The production is presented on specially designed stage with a fountain and garden and female statues that come to life to dance. New music and lighting effects enhance and embellish the play. Tartuffe opens Feb. 7 and runs every night but Mondays until Feb. 22. Call 385-1382 any day from 8:30 for reservations, or go to box office at the theater.

Board OK's BSC Bonds

The State Board of Education approved the sale of $5.4 million in bonds to finance construction at Boise State College last Tuesday.

A new stadium, vocational-technical building, physical education-swimming pool building will be constructed from the funds from the 25-year bond issue.

A $50 per semester building fee for each full-time BSC student will be used to pay off the bonds.

Interest rate of the bonds is to be 5.94626 percent.

Project bids are likely to be opened late this spring. Buildings are scheduled to be completed in time for 1970 fall classes.

Other firms making bids for the bonds were: Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.; Bank of the Commonwealth; A. C. Huston, Shokey, Erley and Co.; and A. G. Becker and Co. Inc.

Dan, Kalman and Quaid, Inc.; Goldman, Sachs and Co.; Torlakson and Weeks-Henril Pump; Boyes and Dean, Witter and Company, Inc. also made bids.

TEKES Produce "A Mini-Splendored Thing"

Mini-Madness Dance Friday Night
9 p.m. - 1 a.m.

PRESIDENTS from Idaho colleges and universities, from left, Ken Meacham, Idaho College; Larry Craig, University of Idaho; and Dyke Nally, Boise State, met over the last week as executive board members of the newly-formed Idaho Student Government Association. Craig as temporary chairman of the nine member board conducted sessions for two days and made plans for an April meeting at Idaho State University. Other schools represented were NNC, C of I, SU, Lewis-Clark State and CSI.

Youth Concert Set For This Saturday

The Boise State College Symphony, under the direction of John Best, will present the annual Youth Concert on Feb. 9, at 4 p.m., in the South Junior High Auditorium. A delegation of state legislators headed by Governor Don Samuelson toured the new facilities at the state prison site Feb. 4, and the state executive commented on the Vocational program at the penitentiary.

The 41 inmates registered in the program and the delegates heard Samuelson say that he hoped that an emphasis would be made on vocational education in the early stages of public schooling instead of needing it in a prison system.

The men enrolled in the program are being trained in Farm Equipment Management, small appliance and refrigeration, repair, and chef school. The instruction is being carried on at the Suburb Near North. Sons of the Farmers School, Sons of the Chefs School.

Youth Concert Set For This Saturday

The Boise State College Symphony, under the direction of John Best, will present the annual Youth Concert on Feb. 9, at 4 p.m., in the South Junior High Auditorium. A delegation of state legislators headed by Governor Don Samuelson toured the new facilities at the state prison site Feb. 4, and the state executive commented on the Vocational program at the penitentiary.

The 41 inmates registered in the program and the delegates heard Samuelson say that he hoped that an emphasis would be made on vocational education in the early stages of public schooling instead of needing it in a prison system.

The men enrolled in the program are being trained in Farm Equipment Management, small appliance and refrigeration, repair, and chef school. The instruction is being carried on at the Suburb Near North. Sons of the Farmers School, Sons of the Chefs School.

"Take My Hand" is the theme of the annual Sweethearts Ball to be held from 9-30 to 1 a.m. Feb. 15 in the Student Union Ballroom.

Pink and white decorations along with a fountain, and cakes of dry ice shall add to the lighting effects enlarge and embellish the play. Tartuffe into his home, believing that he is an impoverished "holy man." Perelle, the maid, fully approves of Tartuffe, but the rest of the family know he is a hypocrite.

When Orgon decides to make his daughter, Mariane, marry Tartuffe, although he had promised her to Valere, Donine, the maid leads the family against the proposed marriage. Orgon's wife, Elmire, tries to dissuade Tartuffe who replies by trying to seduce her. Dams, their son overhauds the proposition and tells the whole story to Orgon who refuses to doubt Tartuffe's virtue and banishes Damis as a traitor from the house.

In his anger at his insolvent family, Orgon signs a deed giving his house and all possessions including his daughter's hand to Tartuffe. Cleante, Elmire's brother confronts Tartuffe and learns that he will take all Orgon's gifts. Elmire devises a plan to reveal Tartuffe's nature and while Orgon is hidden, she and Tartuffe's wife, Elmire's cousin, Valere, come to the house, but it is too late to regain Orgon's trust. Tartuffe is thrown out of the house.

Tartuffe's wit and wisdom is as applicable to us today as it was to the French of the 17th Century. Moliere's play has been extremely popular since it was banned from the stage by Louis XIV due to its theme of religious hypocrisy. The Subal Players are emphasizing all extremes—religious, social, immoral.

The production is presented on specially designed stage with a fountain and garden and female statues that come to life to dance. New music and lighting effects enhance and embellish the play. Tartuffe opens Feb. 7 and runs every night but Mondays until Feb. 22. Call 385-1382 any day from 8:30 for reservations, or go to box office at the theater.

Board OK's BSC Bonds

The State Board of Education approved the sale of $5.4 million in bonds to finance construction at Boise State College last Tuesday.

A new stadium, vocational-technical building, physical education-swimming pool building will be constructed from the funds from the 25-year bond issue.

A $50 per semester building fee for each full-time BSC student will be used to pay off the bonds.

Interest rate of the bonds is to be 5.94626 percent.

Project bids are likely to be opened late this spring. Buildings are scheduled to be completed in time for 1970 fall classes.

Other firms making bids for the bonds were: Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc.; Bank of the Commonwealth; A. C. Huston, Shokey, Erley and Co.; and A. G. Becker and Co. Inc.

Dan, Kalman and Quaid, Inc.; Goldman, Sachs and Co.; Torlakson and Weeks-Henril Pump; Boyes and Dean, Witter and Company, Inc. also made bids.

TEKES Produce "A Mini-Splendored Thing"

Mini-Madness Dance Friday Night
9 p.m. - 1 a.m.

PRESIDENTS from Idaho colleges and universities, from left, Ken Meacham, Idaho College; Larry Craig, University of Idaho; and Dyke Nally, Boise State, met over the last week as executive board members of the newly-formed Idaho Student Government Association. Craig as temporary chairman of the nine member board conducted sessions for two days and made plans for an April meeting at Idaho State University. Other schools represented were NNC, C of I, SU, Lewis-Clark State and CSI.

Youth Concert Set For This Saturday

The Boise State College Symphony, under the direction of John Best, will present the annual Youth Concert on Feb. 9, at 4 p.m., in the South Junior High Auditorium. A delegation of state legislators headed by Governor Don Samuelson toured the new facilities at the state prison site Feb. 4, and the state executive commented on the Vocational program at the penitentiary.

The 41 inmates registered in the program and the delegates heard Samuelson say that he hoped that an emphasis would be made on vocational education in the early stages of public schooling instead of needing it in a prison system.

The men enrolled in the program are being trained in Farm Equipment Management, small appliance and refrigeration, repair, and chef school. The instruction is being carried on at the Suburb Near North. Sons of the Farmers School, Sons of the Chefs School.

"Take My Hand" is the theme of the annual Sweethearts Ball to be held from 9-30 to 1 a.m. Feb. 15 in the Student Union Ballroom.

Pink and white decorations along with a fountain, and cakes of dry ice shall add to the wanderland deco. The "King of Hearts" and two princes will be crowned during intermission. Balloting for the ten finalists will occur the day prior to the dance.

Judy Crosby, BSC junior, will sing the theme song when the king is announced.

Student tickets for the girl-ask-boy formal dance are $2.

Faculty tickets will be sold for $1 per couple.

Committee workers are: Decorations, Kathy Brown; Invitations, Donna Stephens; Tickets, Mary Wyller; Programs and Publicity, Carol Stewart; Refreshments and Crown Bearers, Jane Jackson; Music, Chris Peterson; Elections, Jim Cato; Crown, Julie Long; Costumes and Pictures, Lynnette Brown.

Women students are needed to help decorate the afternoon of Feb. 15 after 1 p.m. in the SUB Ballroom.

Associated Women Students are sponsoring the dance.
In the matter of semester schedules, the Boise State administration has shown respect for the opinions and desires of a majority of the college students and faculty.

Student Opinion Counts

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

Now that two more politically group-gained groups have made their way known on campus combined with the column "Art Galus last week" and "8 Ball," and further discussions this last week brings out a very definite problem, that of definition and purpose.

We need to define a few basic terms. The word "liberal" (analogous with left), conservative (right), and neutral, should be clarified. Among groups whether it right or left or possibly middle of the fence there is a lack of understanding. Some English teachers would even re-defined freedom, one of the main goals of all these organizations. The question is not as impossible as it may seem, there is a solution, at least locally.

It would be in form of a debate between the five political groups. YAF, YAFIM, SDS facsimile, if it exists or the Young Democrats, if they still remain active in the area. The debate would have been expressed in the writing of their organizations and what their purposes are.

The administration found the word morally reprehensible that affiliations with organizations such as IDA violate the spirit and purpose of the university as an institution for the continuation of human intelligence.

Also, many, including a faculty committee which released its report in June, 1968, criticized the IDA affiliation on the grounds that Columbia became a member as a result of a unilateral action by the administration and the trustees without consulting students and faculty. Indeed, it was eight years before the tie became known to the University community.

Finally, the administration had failed to institute any sort of procedures which would guarantee students' rights to due process. Ultimate justice was invested in the hands of the administrative judge to sentences and alter punishments. This was the same in 1967 when Kirk altered the punishments meted out by a student-faculty panel.

Another issue developed as a result of these proceedings. The hearings of this panel were open. But the hearings, as they dragged on for two weeks, proved to be disastrous for the administration, and when students next year demanded an open hearing the administration declared an end.

One any given issue, whether it be the construction of a new gym or public park land or the affiliation of the University with some outside group, there was something inherently wrong with the method and process by which the action was taken, and most often something was done procedurally wrong under the guise of freedom. But decisions, these decisions, were made instead from self-serving and perhaps from archaic or faulty decision-making processes. They were decisions of men who had never been in the field of students and townspeople and legislators.

It is important that all club representatives submit a copy of their action to the SUB for a club to function in the framework of the College.

The next meeting will be held on the campus, Wed, 18, in the SUB, West Ballroom.

Gregory L. Pichler
Representative
School of Arts and Sciences

Insult To Intelligence?

Dear Editor,

I was brought to my attention that there are several students in political science who need answering concerning the course of study. The students, approximately three weeks ago there was a meeting between members of the College of Idaho and the administration. This meeting was called merely to discuss several questions that the maintenance personnel deserved answered. Supposedly, the meeting accomplished very little. After the meeting, one individual said, "It was an insult to our intelligence." I do not believe it only as good as its parts, therefore I feel that the maintenance personnel should be informed what they think they believe and what they think they believe and what they think they believe.

Pick Your Own Brand

Dear Editor,

In the Jan. 23 edition of the Arbiter, there appeared a letter to the editor from Michele Frazier. On time for the week of Jan. 30, 1969, edition, there appeared an article in Behind the Scenes about the Students for a Democratic Society. I, as an undecided person in the middle, would like to comment on both of them.

Any person that calls himself American should be informed of all the movements going on in the United States. Here, I'm sure you know the principles and beliefs behind both the YAF and SDS. The Young Americans for Freedom, and the Young Students for a Democratic Society. A person has fully examined both and should understand the meaning of the word to make an intelligent decision—this is the only way to make a just decision. Because of this, I suggest that the YAF and SDS have a public debate.

Dear Editor,

The Boise State College and Public Library announce the latest Berryman column to the people of the area. The whole is only as good as its parts, therefore I feel that the Boise State Library should be informed what they think they believe in the College of Idaho, because of the truthfulness of the questions that the maintenance personnel deserve answered.

The students should like answers to the following questions:

1. Who pays our salaries?
2. Who classifies our jobs?
3. Do we come under the jurisdiction of the State Personnel Commission?

Students of the maintenance personnel were assured they would "benefit" by staying in the College of Idaho, because of the statistics of the students represented in this report. I, as an undecided person in the middle, would like to comment on both of them.

Mary Ellen Roney

Near Brooks

Valuable Asset To Us And The College

To The Editor:

There seems to be two important issues raised in the above paragraph concerning the present administrators of the Student Union Building by the administration. If this was the only decision of this type made by the administration, we could perhaps consider it an unfortunate mistake. It is in fact, however, but one of a number of similar administrative decisions that have been made by various student organizations. Indeed, it was eight years before the ties became known to the University community.

Clayton Tinley

Boise State College Arbiter

February 6, 1969

Boise State College Arbiter

Newspaper Records

Two new phonograph records have been presented to the BSC library by Columbia Records Company, according to Robert L. McDowell, technical services librarian.

Among the records are various symphonies, including works by Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Debussy, and others. The records are available at the circulation desk and may be played in the library music room.

SONNY B - THE ARBITER

"This is our business... we can do it right."

Howard Wright  Editor

Jan Williams  Advisory Editor

Barbara Gillette  Managing Editor

Charles Anding  Assistant Editor

Bob Darby  Production Manager

Frank Carr  Photographers

Established May 1, 1968 as an independent, non-profit organization.

Boise State College, Public Library, Boise State College, Boise, Idaho 83725.

Page 2
These Boots Are Made For...?

By Ken Jewell

It seems strange, that in the popular flair for fashion, there are still some rigid guidelines about what shouldn’t be worn. Until the arrival of The Great Snowstorm, I had concluded that the more outlandish a person’s apparel, the “fashionable” he must be. This seems, however, not to be the case.

Being over-ambitious, unable to communicate with the younger students, I was rather on my own when it came to choosing appropriate footwear. I was more concerned about comfort, and yet be rakish enough to be allowed on campus. I began to notice a wide variety of winter wear that had been laced with a touch of rheumatism in my left shoulder, had taught a great deal of the students to wear galoshes. By the end of the semester, I had placed them after last year’s thaw. I reached in, grabbed them and in wild abandon, forced my frozen toes into my galoshes!

...and it froze! Incidentally, somewhat later, I was snapped back to reality when a large wedge of snow melted and fell from a tree, completely filling my unsuspecting left galosh. I soon became too preoccupied with my own problems to pay any heed to the younger group of widely-laughing students that had gathered around me. If the truth were known, they probably had stopped to get a first-hand look at what they would call “mod” footwear. However, they were trying to conceal this interest with attempts to convey the idea that I was not “in fashion”.

(Cnt. From Page 1, Col. 1)

“cram course” basis by Boise State. The Cultural Anthropology class is short of text books for this semester. The Publishing company is out of these books. Anyone not taking the course this semester possessing the book Anthropology Study of Man by Hofel is asked to contact Miss Cox, Extension 569.

Dental Students Distribute Kits

Dental Health Week is Feb. 2-8.

By the end of this week, over 2,000 students will have been contacted and given dental kits from the Crest Company.

The project, in cooperation with the Dental Health Department of the Idaho Department of Health, is being carried out by the Idaho Dental Assistants. A number of working dental assistants are also helping in the oral hygiene program.

DENTAL ASSISTANTS, from left, Shirley Martinez and Gad Brad Soderberg shown with coed Miss Cox, CBA. college instructor in dental assisting, showing the sample dental kit.

...fashionable snowshoes?

...Go West, Young Man! Footwear that was kept his feet dry, because wet feet cause stabbing shoulder pain.

Armed with the knowledge that the affliction might also engulf my right shoulder (which would impair my right arm, hand, fingers, and note taking), I hurried directly to the trunk of my car. With a nervous hand, I opened the trunk lid, and then breathed a shallow sigh of relief. They were right there where I had placed them after last year’s thaw. I reached in, grabbed them and in wild abandon, forced my frozen toes into my galoshes!

Within the hour, I could feel the weight on my once badly-frozen toes. For the remainder of that afternoon, I became rather light headed at the pleasure of warm feet. This, of course, was the direct result of striking up an old friendship with my galoshes. After aimlessly wandering about the campus for a time, I threw all restraint to the wind. I reached down, and with a devil-may-care attitude, and unbuckled all three metal straps on each galosh.

Unfortunately, somewhat later, I was snapped back to reality when a large wedge of snow melted and fell from a tree, completely filling my unsuspecting left galosh. I soon became too preoccupied with my own problems to pay any heed to the younger group of widely-laughing students that had gathered around me. If the truth were known, they probably had stopped to get a first-hand look at what they would call “mod” footwear. However, they were trying to conceal this interest with attempts to convey the idea that I was not “in fashion”.

Handwritten Notes

[Handwritten notes are present, but the content is not legible due to handwriting style and quality.]

By Ken Jewell

It seems strange, that in the popular flair for fashion, there are still some rigid guidelines about what shouldn’t be worn. Until the arrival of The Great Snowstorm, I had concluded that the more outlandish a person’s apparel, the “fashionable” he must be. This seems, however, not to be the case.

Being over-ambitious, unable to communicate with the younger students, I was rather on my own when it came to choosing appropriate footwear. I was more concerned about comfort, and yet be rakish enough to be allowed on campus. I began to notice a wide variety of winter wear that had been laced with a touch of rheumatism in my left shoulder, had taught a great deal of the students to wear galoshes. By the end of the semester, I had placed them after last year’s thaw. I reached in, grabbed them and in wild abandon, forced my frozen toes into my galoshes!

...and it froze! Incidentally, somewhat later, I was snapped back to reality when a large wedge of snow melted and fell from a tree, completely filling my unsuspecting left galosh. I soon became too preoccupied with my own problems to pay any heed to the younger group of widely-laughing students that had gathered around me. If the truth were known, they probably had stopped to get a first-hand look at what they would call “mod” footwear. However, they were trying to conceal this interest with attempts to convey the idea that I was not “in fashion”.

(Cnt. From Page 1, Col. 1)

“cram course” basis by Boise State. The Cultural Anthropology class is short of text books for this semester. The Publishing company is out of these books. Anyone not taking the course this semester possessing the book Anthropology Study of Man by Hofel is asked to contact Miss Cox, Extension 569.

Dental Students Distribute Kits

Dental Health Week is Feb. 2-8.

By the end of this week, over 2,000 students will have been contacted and given dental kits from the Crest Company.

The project, in cooperation with the Dental Health Department of the Idaho Department of Health, is being carried out by the Idaho Dental Assistants. A number of working dental assistants are also helping in the oral hygiene program.

DENTAL ASSISTANTS, from left, Shirley Martinez and Gad Brad Soderberg shown with coed Miss Cox, CBA. college instructor in dental assisting, showing the sample dental kit.

...fashionable snowshoes?

...Go West, Young Man! Footwear that was kept his feet dry, because wet feet cause stabbing shoulder pain.

Armed with the knowledge that the affliction might also engulf my right shoulder (which would impair my right arm, hand, fingers, and note taking), I hurried directly to the trunk of my car. With a nervous hand, I opened the trunk lid, and then breathed a shallow sigh of relief. They were right there where I had placed them after last year’s thaw. I reached in, grabbed them and in wild abandon, forced my frozen toes into my galoshes!

Within the hour, I could feel the weight on my once badly-frozen toes. For the remainder of that afternoon, I became rather light headed at the pleasure of warm feet. This, of course, was the direct result of striking up an old friendship with my galoshes. After aimlessly wandering about the campus for a time, I threw all restraint to the wind. I reached down, and with a devil-may-care attitude, and unbuckled all three metal straps on each galosh.

Unfortunately, somewhat later, I was snapped back to reality when a large wedge of snow melted and fell from a tree, completely filling my unsuspecting left galosh. I soon became too preoccupied with my own problems to pay any heed to the younger group of widely-laughing students that had gathered around me. If the truth were known, they probably had stopped to get a first-hand look at what they would call “mod” footwear. However, they were trying to conceal this interest with attempts to convey the idea that I was not “in fashion”.

Handwritten Notes

[Handwritten notes are present, but the content is not legible due to handwriting style and quality.]

By Ken Jewell

It seems strange, that in the popular flair for fashion, there are still some rigid guidelines about what shouldn’t be worn. Until the arrival of The Great Snowstorm, I had concluded that the more outlandish a person’s apparel, the “fashionable” he must be. This seems, however, not to be the case.

Being over-ambitious, unable to communicate with the younger students, I was rather on my own when it came to choosing appropriate footwear. I was more concerned about comfort, and yet be rakish enough to be allowed on campus. I began to notice a wide variety of winter wear that had been laced with a touch of rheumatism in my left shoulder, had taught a great deal of the students to wear galoshes. By the end of the semester, I had placed them after last year’s thaw. I reached in, grabbed them and in wild abandon, forced my frozen toes into my galoshes!

Within the hour, I could feel the weight on my once badly-frozen toes. For the remainder of that afternoon, I became rather light headed at the pleasure of warm feet. This, of course, was the direct result of striking up an old friendship with my galoshes. After aimlessly wandering about the campus for a time, I threw all restraint to the wind. I reached down, and with a devil-may-care attitude, and unbuckled all three metal straps on each galosh.

Unfortunately, somewhat later, I was snapped back to reality when a large wedge of snow melted and fell from a tree, completely filling my unsuspecting left galosh. I soon became too preoccupied with my own problems to pay any heed to the younger group of widely-laughing students that had gathered around me. If the truth were known, they probably had stopped to get a first-hand look at what they would call “mod” footwear. However, they were trying to conceal this interest with attempts to convey the idea that I was not “in fashion”.

(Cnt. From Page 1, Col. 1)

“cram course” basis by Boise State. The Cultural Anthropology class is short of text books for this semester. The Publishing company is out of these books. Anyone not taking the course this semester possessing the book Anthropology Study of Man by Hofel is asked to contact Miss Cox, Extension 569.
Wrestling Team Takes To Road

The Boise State College wrestling team, with a 3-6 meet record this season, begins a four-meet-in-six-days schedule, all of them on the road, as the Bronco wrestlers travel to Rexburg, Pocatello, Caldwell, and Ontario.

Thursday, it's the second meeting of the year between BSC and Rick's College. In a meet earlier in the season at Boise, the Vikings downed the Broncos, 22-16. On Friday evening, Boise State invades the powerful Big Sky Idaho State Bengals, who had six champions in the BSC Invitational Tournament in Mid-December.

On Saturday afternoon, Coach Ray Lewis' grapplers travel to Caldwell for a dual meet with the College of Idaho Coyotes—the first of two meetings this season. Next Tuesday, Feb. 11, Boise State is at Ontario to meet Treasure Valley Community College. The Chukars will be seeking revenge for their 25-11 loss to the Broncos in January.

The next home meet for Boise State will be Friday, Feb. 14 against Coeur d'Alene. The Wildcats drubbed the Broncos in Ogden, 33-5, in mid-January. The BSC-Weber State meet will begin at 5:30, and serve as a preliminary to the BSC-Hiram Scott College Friday night Basketball game.

Final Game Tickets Ready

Athletic Publicity Director Don Liebendorfer Jr., announced today that tickets for all remaining home basketball games may be picked up at the Student Union Information booth from 9:30 until 2:00 each day until Friday February 14. Students only, bring your spring semester activity card when they pick up their tickets.

The Broncos are in action at home, Monday, February 10 against the Westerm Parsons before facing Hiram Scott for a pair of encounters February 14 and 15. Boise closes out the 1968-69 home schedule Friday, February 21 against the American Athletic Unions. American Athletes in Action.

HAPPY HOUR

Boise Unitarian-Universalist FELLOWSHIP meets Sunday 6:00 p.m., at the YMCA

Boise Hut HAPPY HOUR Friday 4 to 6 p.m.

Coors S.15 a Glass S.75 a Pitcher

"The World's Finest Hamburbers"

Boise State College Arbiter

February 6, 1969

Wrestling Team Takes To Road

Takes To Road

The Boise State College wrestling team, with a 3-6 meet record this season, begins a four-meet-in-six-days schedule, all of them on the road, as the Bronco wrestlers travel to Rexburg, Pocatello, Caldwell, and Ontario.

Thursday, it's the second meeting of the year between BSC and Rick's College. In a meet earlier in the season at Boise, the Vikings downed the Broncos, 22-16. On Friday evening, Boise State invades the powerful Big Sky Idaho State Bengals, who had six champions in the BSC Invitational Tournament in Mid-December.

On Saturday afternoon, Coach Ray Lewis' grapplers travel to Caldwell for a dual meet with the College of Idaho Coyotes—the first of two meetings this season. Next Tuesday, Feb. 11, Boise State is at Ontario to meet Treasure Valley Community College. The Chukars will be seeking revenge for their 25-11 loss to the Broncos in January.

The next home meet for Boise State will be Friday, Feb. 14 against Coeur d'Alene. The Wildcats drubbed the Broncos in Ogden, 33-5, in mid-January. The BSC-Weber State meet will begin at 5:30, and serve as a preliminary to the BSC-Hiram Scott College Friday night Basketball game.

Final Game Tickets Ready

Athletic Publicity Director Don Liebendorfer Jr., announced today that tickets for all remaining home basketball games may be picked up at the Student Union Information booth from 9:30 until 2:00 each day until Friday February 14. Students only, bring your spring semester activity card when they pick up their tickets.

The Broncos are in action at home, Monday, February 10 against the Westerm Parsons before facing Hiram Scott for a pair of encounters February 14 and 15. Boise closes out the 1968-69 home schedule Friday, February 21 against the American Athletic Unions. American Athletes in Action.

HAPPY HOUR

Boise Unitarian-Universalist FELLOWSHIP meets Sunday 6:00 p.m., at the YMCA

Boise Hut HAPPY HOUR Friday 4 to 6 p.m.

Coors S.15 a Glass S.75 a Pitcher

"The World's Finest Hamburbers"

Boise State College Arbiter

February 6, 1969

Wrestling Team Takes To Road

Takes To Road

The Boise State College wrestling team, with a 3-6 meet record this season, begins a four-meet-in-six-days schedule, all of them on the road, as the Bronco wrestlers travel to Rexburg, Pocatello, Caldwell, and Ontario.

Thursday, it's the second meeting of the year between BSC and Rick's College. In a meet earlier in the season at Boise, the Vikings downed the Broncos, 22-16. On Friday evening, Boise State invades the powerful Big Sky Idaho State Bengals, who had six champions in the BSC Invitational Tournament in Mid-December.

On Saturday afternoon, Coach Ray Lewis' grapplers travel to Caldwell for a dual meet with the College of Idaho Coyotes—the first of two meetings this season. Next Tuesday, Feb. 11, Boise State is at Ontario to meet Treasure Valley Community College. The Chukars will be seeking revenge for their 25-11 loss to the Broncos in January.

The next home meet for Boise State will be Friday, Feb. 14 against Coeur d'Alene. The Wildcats drubbed the Broncos in Ogden, 33-5, in mid-January. The BSC-Weber State meet will begin at 5:30, and serve as a preliminary to the BSC-Hiram Scott College Friday night Basketball game.

Final Game Tickets Ready

Athletic Publicity Director Don Liebendorfer Jr., announced today that tickets for all remaining home basketball games may be picked up at the Student Union Information booth from 9:30 until 2:00 each day until Friday February 14. Students only, bring your spring semester activity card when they pick up their tickets.

The Broncos are in action at home, Monday, February 10 against the Westerm Parsons before facing Hiram Scott for a pair of encounters February 14 and 15. Boise closes out the 1968-69 home schedule Friday, February 21 against the American Athletic Unions. American Athletes in Action.

HAPPY HOUR

Boise Unitarian-Universalist FELLOWSHIP meets Sunday 6:00 p.m., at the YMCA

Boise Hut HAPPY HOUR Friday 4 to 6 p.m.

Coors S.15 a Glass S.75 a Pitcher

"The World's Finest Hamburbers"

Boise State College Arbiter

February 6, 1969

Wrestling Team Takes To Road

Takes To Road

The Boise State College wrestling team, with a 3-6 meet record this season, begins a four-meet-in-six-days schedule, all of them on the road, as the Bronco wrestlers travel to Rexburg, Pocatello, Caldwell, and Ontario.

Thursday, it's the second meeting of the year between BSC and Rick's College. In a meet earlier in the season at Boise, the Vikings downed the Broncos, 22-16. On Friday evening, Boise State invades the powerful Big Sky Idaho State Bengals, who had six champions in the BSC Invitational Tournament in Mid-December.

On Saturday afternoon, Coach Ray Lewis' grapplers travel to Caldwell for a dual meet with the College of Idaho Coyotes—the first of two meetings this season. Next Tuesday, Feb. 11, Boise State is at Ontario to meet Treasure Valley Community College. The Chukars will be seeking revenge for their 25-11 loss to the Broncos in January.

The next home meet for Boise State will be Friday, Feb. 14 against Coeur d'Alene. The Wildcats drubbed the Broncos in Ogden, 33-5, in mid-January. The BSC-Weber State meet will begin at 5:30, and serve as a preliminary to the BSC-Hiram Scott College Friday night Basketball game.

Final Game Tickets Ready

Athletic Publicity Director Don Liebendorfer Jr., announced today that tickets for all remaining home basketball games may be picked up at the Student Union Information booth from 9:30 until 2:00 each day until Friday February 14. Students only, bring your spring semester activity card when they pick up their tickets.

The Broncos are in action at home, Monday, February 10 against the Westerm Parsons before facing Hiram Scott for a pair of encounters February 14 and 15. Boise closes out the 1968-69 home schedule Friday, February 21 against the American Athletic Unions. American Athletes in Action.

HAPPY HOUR

Boise Unitarian-Universalist FELLOWSHIP meets Sunday 6:00 p.m., at the YMCA

Boise Hut HAPPY HOUR Friday 4 to 6 p.m.

Coors S.15 a Glass S.75 a Pitcher

"The World's Finest Hamburbers"

Boise State College Arbiter

February 6, 1969

Wrestling Team Takes To Road

Takes To Road

The Boise State College wrestling team, with a 3-6 meet record this season, begins a four-meet-in-six-days schedule, all of them on the road, as the Bronco wrestlers travel to Rexburg, Pocatello, Caldwell, and Ontario.

Thursday, it's the second meeting of the year between BSC and Rick's College. In a meet earlier in the season at Boise, the Vikings downed the Broncos, 22-16. On Friday evening, Boise State invades the powerful Big Sky Idaho State Bengals, who had six champions in the BSC Invitational Tournament in Mid-December.

On Saturday afternoon, Coach Ray Lewis' grapplers travel to Caldwell for a dual meet with the College of Idaho Coyotes—the first of two meetings this season. Next Tuesday, Feb. 11, Boise State is at Ontario to meet Treasure Valley Community College. The Chukars will be seeking revenge for their 25-11 loss to the Broncos in January.

The next home meet for Boise State will be Friday, Feb. 14 against Coeur d'Alene. The Wildcats drubbed the Broncos in Ogden, 33-5, in mid-January. The BSC-Weber State meet will begin at 5:30, and serve as a preliminary to the BSC-Hiram Scott College Friday night Basketball game.

Final Game Tickets Ready

Athletic Publicity Director Don Liebendorfer Jr., announced today that tickets for all remaining home basketball games may be picked up at the Student Union Information booth from 9:30 until 2:00 each day until Friday February 14. Students only, bring your spring semester activity card when they pick up their tickets.

The Broncos are in action at home, Monday, February 10 against the Westerm Parsons before facing Hiram Scott for a pair of encounters February 14 and 15. Boise closes out the 1968-69 home schedule Friday, February 21 against the American Athletic Unions. American Athletes in Action.