Frank Church... Viet Nam war causes generation gap

The America of my boyhood was a poor America. My earliest memories were of the depression, but I still can't recall anyone who didn't believe in the future. He said that today there is no depression and there is no scramble to keep "meat and potatoes" on the table.

The younger generation cannot add quantity, they add quality. He also said that most of today's young people want to change the country gradually and only a small minority want violent change. "When conduct sinks to the level of 'slapping your own ass,' then the country becomes unblack. That is what is happening now in our schools." The Senator said that the American public does not view foreign situations differently also.

"The younger generation can't see how China is fighting. All they know is that Viet Nam has nothing to do with American society. They see Viet Nam as a civil war that we shouldn't be in," Senator Church stated.

He said that Church also said that the younger generation cannot use war because the American people are being tested. They feel the older generation is drafting them into a war they don't believe in and shouldn't be made to fight in.

"I believe that the President will start in motion a dialogue between our two countries," he answered. He also felt that the troop lift had set in motion a series of decisions on either side which might possibly enable more Americans to visit China and more Chinese to visit America.

Senator Church also stated that there might be a modest amount of trade started between the two countries. However, he stated the result of this would be fairly insignificant and would not come about as a result of the President's first trip to Peking. He said that the United States is formally committed to the defense of Taiwan.

Senator Church also said that the U.S. is formally committed to the "political" defense of Taiwan. The Senator stated that "both Mao Tse-tung and Chiang Kai Shik of Taiwan belong to China, their only disagreement is who is the government of China."

It is for this reason that it will be hard to establish normal ties and exchange ambassadors with China. It is in this problem which will have to be resolved before the ties can be established.

He was optimistic that this could be done, however.

"Another important question asked of the Senator was whether or not the air force would be left in Viet Nam to fight after the ground forces were out and if Congress could do anything about it."

"The answer is yes," the Senator stated. "Congress has the power to bring about this if it can maintain a majority of the vote in both houses." He felt that it would be a grave mistake to leave an American residual force in Viet Nam after the main forces were out.

Editor:

It has just come to my attention that the BSC Campus is being extremely discriminatory against a certain group of students.

Are you aware that there is virtually no place on this campus where a student may sit, study, and either smoke a cigarette or drink a cup of coffee. This situation is discriminatory against those poor students who suffer from these terrible addictions and/or preferences.

Perhaps the appearance of something about this situation in print might better the sympathies of our “kind” administration—something might even be done about it!

P.S. Thank you for humoring me in your opening issue.
ED. NOTE: The following editorial has been written in response to the University of Idaho's "home" game scheduled Sept. 11 in Bronco Stadium.

"Imagination plus" and a sense of humor is all you need to enjoy the U. of I.-BSC game scheduled in Bronco Stadium... Moscow's own "University of Idaho South" (U.I.S.).

Concerned with maintaining a balanced home-away from home playing schedule, athletic leaders from both colleges have gone all out to ensure Moscow a "home away from home".

In an attempt to authenticate this "creative" event, Tony Knap's Broncos will spend the night of Sept. 10 at Hotel Boise. Boarding Huey's Airlines the morning of the game, the Broncos will travel all the way to University of Idaho South's stadium for the evening battle. Knap anticipates some problems with air sickness, but says he is taking all necessary precautions to minimize the problem.

As visitors to the U. Of I. S. stadium, the Broncos are limited by the Big Sky ruling as to the number of men that can be suited up, while the Vandals will be in full playing force for the game.

Knap expects a rough game since opposing teams are always noted for being toughest on their home turf. Lighting for evening games and unfamiliar turf always present a problem for visiting teams. However, Knap says the Vandals' astroturf resembles the turf his team is accustomed to, so he foresees little problem in this respect.

BSC's Broncos expect a large following to the game, reserving 4000-plus tickets, while the Vandals are questioning the enthusiasm of their fans for a "home" game. Moscow requested only 1000 tickets.

It should be an interesting battle, so pack your suitcases and go to the game.

You don't have to buy a round trip ticket, and besides, we might run all over the Vandals on their own turf.

Public service and educational broadcasting television is coming to the Boise area in the next few months through Boise State College’s new KAAD television station, channel 6.

KAID will be the first station dedicated to public service broadcasting—non-commercial and educational—in the Boise area. Its signal will cover about the same area as the two local commercial stations.

The BSC station will join KGBL at Idaho State University, Pocatello, and KUID at the University of Idaho, Moscow, now in service.

Educational television (ETV) here will begin in January according to Jack Schaeffer, Director of Educational Television at BSC. The facility will be housed in the newly-finished library learning center.

Schaeffer, who was from Denver where he was Director of Programming for Channel 6, the ETV station supported by the public school system there. He was also the Manager for the Rocky Mountain Public Broadcasting Network.

In an interview, Schaeffer explained what type of programming will be aired on KAAD, when it will be in full color line production, where and when it will be interconnected with other stations in the Rocky Mountain Region, and the broadcast potential.

There are at present 20 ETV stations in the United States. KAAD will be an affiliate of the Public Broadcasting Service (PBS) which provides video tape programs to be used on the Boise State station. PBS operates the ETV network.

In January KAAD will present programs through this service 20 hours per week. The remainder would be made up by tape, film and local programs. The station will operate four hours per day, six days per week.

PBS programs will include "The Electric Company" a children’s reading program, and "Same Street."

Schaeffer said the station would try to have a balanced schedule of programs as the whole spectrum of political and cultural programs are available to ETV.

Programs such as "The Electric Company" originate in New York and tapes of them are sent to each public service station, Pocatello and Boise included.

KAID will not have to broadcast in this manner for long. Between October 25 of this year and January of 1973, KAAD-TV will be interconnected with other stations in the Rocky Mountain Region to become a member of Rocky Mountain free broadcast network.

Through this interconnect system, free programs are transmitted from New York to Denver. They are then delayed on tape for two hours to take in the time zone difference, and are finally rebroadcast from Denver to points in the Rocky Mountain area.

Interconnection will also link KAAD, KGBL and KUID in a statewide free television service network.

Schaeffer said the Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) has negotiated with American Telephone and Telegraph (AT&T) to construct lines for the public service interconnect.

He added that the Federal Communications Commission has encouraged AT&T to establish a special rate for the line cost.

An interconnection system is under consideration especially since the State Board of Education, which holds the licenses for KAAD, KGBL and KUID, has recently approved a resolution endorsing a proposal to place an educational satellite in orbit over the Rocky Mountain area.

Schaeffer said the satellite would encompass 500 points with 152 counties in Idaho alone. The satellite would serve on eight-state region.

When in operation the satellite would send a signal down to the public broadcast stations which then have an urgent signal for broadcast available material to the public.

Each channel for education would be available three hours per day for the Rocky Mountain region.

Once an interconnect system is set up free television productions could originate locally from each public service broadcast station. Local programs could then be exchanged by tape for broadcast to the rest of the state.

Proposed are both instructional and public service programs. The instructional programs may at some later date be prepared for grades one through twelve. And eventually there may be multiple channels for programs produced by the three stations at Idaho’s institutions of higher learning.

These multiple channels would only be available to the college and university campus. The public would receive the one general channel.

But for now with KAAD’s operating budget of between $50,000 and $100,000 programming is put in the beginning stage.

Schaeffer said the potential exposure on the Treasure Valley alone may be as high as 240,000 persons, with 100,000 to 600,000 listeners.

With two color studio cameras and two mono tape machines full color capability is possible.

The director added he saw to the Boise area because of the tremendous potential available for public service broadcasting.

With an initial staff of four or five employees, Schaeffer hopes to promote quality production for a strong station through the interconnect system.

Youth Fare offered for European travel

Now any student can independently earn his or her resort, hotel, or similar job in Europe. A few weeks work at a board plus a wage more than pay for the new $165 round-trip Youth Fare being offered by the scheduled airlines. Apoint more works on the job earns money for traveling around Europe before returning home.

Thousands of paying student jobs are available in Switzerland, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. Neither previous working experience nor knowledge of a foreign language are required for most jobs. However, to make certain every student gets off to a good start on their job the Student Overseas Services (SOS) provides job orientation in Europe. Jobs immediately available include resort, hotel, restaurant, farm and sales work. Jobs almost always pay free room and board in addition to a standard wage.

Jobs, work permits, visas and other necessary working papers are issued to students on a first-come, first-served basis. Although thousands of jobs are immediately available, applications should be submitted far enough in advance to allow SOS ample time to obtain the necessary working papers and permits. Any student may obtain an application form, job listings, and the SOS Handbook on earning a trip to Europe by only sending their name, address, name of educational institution, and $1. (for addressing, handling, and all mail postage from Europe) to SOS-Student Overseas Services, Box 5173, Santa Barbara, California 93108.

France—Factory jobs available during the summer. Good wages, relatively short hours and shift work allow time off to visit Paris, Amsterdam and other nearby cities. Grape picking work available during late summer months in wine regions. Free room and board, wages, and free wine are provided. Some child care work available throughout the year. Camp counseling available during the summer months. Other jobs are available to students having some knowledge of French.

Switzerland—Restaurant, hotel, restaurant, cafe, and farm jobs available throughout the year. Free room and board plus a standard Swiss wage always provided. Jobs are located throughout the country from lakeside summer resorts and Alpine winter ski resorts to hotel restaurants, and other jobs in the cities. (As in the U.S., Swiss law requires that job and work permits be obtained before entering the country.)

Germany—Restaurant, hotel, restaurant, guide and other related jobs available in and near the Munich area during the 1972 Olympics to students bringing sleeping bags and willing to deep under the snows (because of the housing shortage). Wages are paid and free board, bathing and other facilities are provided. Other resort work and factory, farm, hotel, forestry and construction work available throughout the year. While the jobs are immediately available, allow several weeks for obtaining your work permit.

Spain, Italy and Germany—Direct selling jobs selling English china and French crystal are available in these countries. All on the job training in Germany, assignment to other countries later. All work in English language. Commissions only are paid and for the past two years students have averaged about $400-$450 per month.

ARBITER INTERVIEW...

Bullington cites faculty as 'unique'

There may be some sparkling scenes in this youthful and attractive faculty and the age of this institution, according to Dr. Richard Bullington, executive vice-president of BSC.

In an Arbiter interview last week Bullington stated that many of the younger students applying to BSC have the forward moving qualities and energies that are necessary in order that the faculty can keep pace with the rapid rate of growth on this campus.

Boise College does have a more youthful faculty than most other institutions in the area and, according to Bullington, there has been an overwhelming number of younger applicants making the recruiting department chairman.

Bullington, an alumnus of the University of Alabama, sees the "faculty motivation here unique in comparison to many other institutions." He then said:

"The faculty members of this institution are charged with the responsibility of teaching the student—that is their only responsibility."

"There is no administrative pressure pushing the faculty to produce essays (published documents, papers, etc.) that supposedly add to the prestige of the institution. The faculty members are directed toward the student because the extra pressure upon the faculty cause both the student and institution to suffer over lack of concern and concentration of the teachers," said Bullington.

According to Bullington BSC has a hard-working faculty board reviewing procedures and recommending changes to the directors.

"However, all recommendations are carefully studied to assure that they are well-motivated," he said.

"We've probably approved more major changes in curriculum and faculty policies in the last three years than most institutions make in 15 years," he said.

"In each of the academic schools we're striving to improve the educational environment," he said, "and add sophistication and quality to what we already offer the student."

Bullington added that there are options available that allow students to pursue other learning methods different from the regular lecture/curriculum work.

"We're trying new types of methodology in classrooms involving some rather unique team-teaching, independent study and credit by examination," he added.

"The executive vice-president predicts the rapid rate of growth BSC has experienced since 1968 will be stabilized in 1972 or 1973."

"We'll then probably reach a plateau and experience a more normal increase of about 5 to 10 percent per year," he said.

"Evaluating an academic environment that is conducive to learning and will offer a meaningful experience to students, is what Dr. Bullington sees as his personal philosophy of higher education."

"To my knowledge, all administrators, faculty and personnel on this campus have the primary purpose of serving the students and offering as sound an education as possible," he added.

"Colleges need to offer students the opportunity to think on a serious level and to challenge and stimulate their educational appetites."

"The BSC campus offers not only educational experiences, but social experiences as well. These social and academic principles benefit and reinforce each other to provide a well rounded background to the students," Bullington said.

The former Alabama graduate holds a doctorate and masters from the same university.

He is a former high school teacher and principal and was also associated with Arizona State University in 1961.

Bullington is also a former Air Force director of training and a past principal of elementary schools.

He became associated with Boise College in 1968. "There are an abundance of energies and challenges here," and a superb future for BSC cannot be denied," Bullington added.

St. PAULS NEWMAN CENTER
Students may get credit for introductory classes by taking the College Level Examination program tests. The tests will be administered by the BSC Counseling and Guidance Center in the basement of the Administration Building.

The first CLEP test will be given Saturday, September 18, at 8:30 a.m. Interested persons should make application in the counseling Center as soon as possible.

The tests will be given "regularly, about once a month at least," said Dr. Dave Torbet, head of Counseling and Guidance.

Roving Reporter

The Roving Reporter asked BSC students what they thought about their IBM ID’s.

Gerald L. Carter, Senior, Accounting:

Impractical, perishable and an odd shape to put in one’s pocket handily.

Wesley H. Towle, Senior, Marketing:

I don’t like the new ones. I just left mine at home because I hate to fold it up and put it in my wallet. The old ones don’t bend or tear. Whose idea was it for those anyway?

Pat Johnston, Freshman, Math-Secondary Education:

I’m a freshman now, so I don’t really know about the old cards. It seems satisfactory for what it’s meant for. I haven’t had to use mine yet. I wonder why they didn’t put it in a form like the old one.

Charlene Vining, Sophomore, Medical Records:

I think they should have the old ones. The new ones are harder to put in pockets. I think they’re making a big mistake. More people will have ID cards stolen or just taken or lost.

Barbi Schovanec, Sophomore, Dental Hygiene:

I prefer last year’s. I haven’t used my new card yet, no.

Boise veteran harriers return with new men to open season

Take a slight young man running ten miles a season, a hundred or more miles a week, and you have the beginning of a cross-country runner. Entering their second year with this ancient sport at the BSC Conference, Boise State College will have five returning veterans. Among these runners is Harry Oddy, holder of the BSC cross-country record. Included with Oddy are Herb Glauner, Al Connell, Bob Stainton, and Jim Berwold.

The Broncos also picked up some fine freshmen runners with Bob Walker, Steve Kneal, Jim Gicker all from Oregon, Jeff Day.

BSC Cross-Country Record

Idaho, and Dave Montague from California. BSC should also get a good showing from Jon Laut, a junior college transfer from Spokane, Washington.

The Conference's first meet will be against Chico State Sept. 25 in Arcata, California at 11:00. The runners will go a distance of four miles over various types of terrain. Each team may enter six contestants. The winner of the race will be given one point. As the runners come in they are given a position according to how they placed. The team with the lowest score will win the meet.

Boise finished fifth last year in the conference, but Coach Ray Lewis feels that this year, BSC will finish much higher with a chance at the championship.

Sports Shorts

From those who prefer a racket sport, tennis will be introduced on Sept. 21 and will boast both doubles and singles. All students interested in the above intramural sports should start signing up immediately. The Intramural Office (in the Gym before Sept. 15).

Getting later this semester will be basketball, croquet, track, bowling, table tennis, croquet, and bridge will be available as soon as the gym area is completed in the College Union Building.

Intramurals will be open all day Saturday and will be closed for the University of Idaho game in the Boise Bowl Sept. 11.

In preparation for the University of Idaho game in the Boise Bowl Sept. 11, Tony Smith will be coaching the Boise State College intramural sports program.

Guthrie will provide the Boise State College's intramural sports program. Guthrie went on to explain that this year's program will be expanded beyond last year's new emphasis on intramural sports. A new committee will be formed to consider and approve all intramural sports, and play all intramural games. This committee consists of the following individuals, if not used, could not be carried forward year to year.

All matters discussed at the council were not on the negative, or "official" side. The group discussed the possibility of a post-season basketball tournament, which could possibly be used to alleviate some of the financial problems that exist and there was also an optimistic discussion of future expansion of the present eight-member structure.

The next major conference meeting scheduled, which includes Presidents, Athletic Directors and Business Managers, will be for November 22 and 23 in Boise.

The conference will be the last of the year. In Nov. 15 the WIAA will select its president. Business Manager Jasmine Vassal will have his selection named before this meeting.

Lamina as Vice-president, Gayne Van Wassenhuise, as intramural manager, is in charge of scheduling the teams. Publicity will be handled by Mrs. Mortensen and Karen Price will be the Secretary-treasurer. Vassal will have the team for all the games for the awards at the end of this year. A student will be given for sportsmanship, the best team in all sports, and others. The winning teams will have their names placed on a plate in the trophy case along with a trophy.
Dear Dr. Dodson,

What do you think a well-adjusted person should be like? By this I mean someone who is really healthy psychologically.

Wondering

Clinical psychology and related fields have long been preoccupied with "abnormality" and "mental illness." Only recently has much attention been paid to defining characteristics of optimal emotional adjustment.

Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, Selective Service Director, said: "Few incoming freshmen students are likely to be inducted in the near future because of the student deferral program."

The Selective Service System today like so many people, faces changes on undergraduate student deferments. College students who were enrolled full-time in the 1970-71 academic year will be eligible for student deferments in the 1971-72 school year if they continue to make satisfactory progress in their programs of study, according to the Selective Service officials said. However, young men who entered school for the first time this summer and those who entered college this fall do not qualify for student deferments.

The Selective Service Act is passed by Congress. The House and Senate enacted the bill and final Senate action is expected this month.

Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, Selective Service Director, said: "Few incoming freshmen students are likely to be inducted in the near future because of the student deferral program."

"If the pending Selective Service legislation does not result in a registration," Dr. Tarr said, "it would not guarantee that a registrant's deferment would be extended indefinitely."

Prospective teachers are being invited to teach school which may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the different test days announced today by Educational Testing Service. The non-profit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 13, 1971, January 29, April 8, and July 15, 1972. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the National Teacher Examinations. The school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are listed in an NTF leaflet entitled "Scope Users" which may be obtained by writing to ETS.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the National Teacher Examinations which measure their professional preparation, general background and a Teaching Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

The "Bulletin of Information for Candidates" contains a list of test centers, and information about the examinations, as well as a Registration Form. Forms may be obtained from college placement officers, school administrators, or directly from National Teacher Examination Service, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08543.

Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, Selective Service Director, said: "Few incoming freshmen students are likely to be inducted in the near future because of the student deferral program."

Prospective teachers are being invited to teach school which may take the National Teacher Examinations on any of the different test days announced today by Educational Testing Service. The non-profit, educational organization which prepares and administers this testing program.

New dates for the testing of prospective teachers are: November 13, 1971, January 29, April 8, and July 15, 1972. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers and by several states for certification or licensing of teachers. Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take the National Teacher Examinations. The school systems and state departments of education which use the examination results are listed in an NTF leaflet entitled "Scope Users" which may be obtained by writing to ETS.

On each full day of testing, prospective teachers may take the National Teacher Examinations which measure their professional preparation, general background and a Teaching Area Examination which measures their mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which examinations to take and on which dates they should be taken.

Wages & Salaries

No employer shall pay and no employer shall receive a wage, salary, or other form of compensation at a rate higher than that paid or received in effect during the base period, nor shall any person or entity agree to or receive in payment of wages, salaries, or other form of compensation higher than those permitted under the Executive Order or this regulation. Such remuneration shall be based upon substantial number of actual transactions for services of like or similar nature.

Deferred wage or salary increases which were negotiated or take effect in the future, cost-of-living increases built into wage contracts, or provided by management, and routine grade increases not in effect on or before August 14, 1971, are not permitted. Regardless of any right or contract hereunder or otherwise existing, no change or adjustment shall be made in rates of wages, salaries, or other forms of compensation whether by retroactive increase or otherwise.

Question: Are future cost-of-living increases built into wage contracts or provided by management exempt?
Answer: No.

Question: Does the wage freeze apply to all employers regardless of the number of employees?
Answer: No.

Question: How will wages and salaries be determined for new jobs?
Answer: Wages will be determined on the basis of comparable jobs within the affected business or firm. If no comparables exist within such centers, such scales will be determined on the basis of comparable jobs in nearby firms.

Question: Does the freeze terminate bargaining for wage changes during the 90-day period with understanding that they cannot take effect until the federal government permits?
Answer: The freeze does not terminate bargaining for wage changes during the 90-day period. However, no wage increase can go into effect during the period of the freeze.

Question: If a salary increase was granted and the employee actually performed under the new rate prior to August 15, 1971, can that employee be paid at the higher rate if the pay raise is after August 15?
Answer: Yes.

Question: How does the freeze affect people who work on commission or piece rate?
Answer: The commission or piece rate cannot be increased due to the existing base period.

Question: What is the definition of 'wages and salaries'?
Answer: As used in the Executive Order, the term 'wages and salaries' includes all forms of remuneration or compensation to employees by their employers, including but not limited to:
- Vacation and holiday pay;
- Parental, parental and supplemental unemployment insurance benefits;
- Shift differential and other pay differentials;
- Employer contributions to retirement or other traditional defined benefit plans;
- Employers contributions to group life, health, and other benefits for employees.

Question: May a scheduled pay raise which is dependent upon completion of certain educational requirements be paid during the freeze?
Answer: Yes, where the employer is willing to certify that an agreement was in existence that provided for increases in pay dependent on the employer's completing educational requirements for specific job levels, the pay raise can be increased because it is a bona fide promotion. For example, a teacher, who has been awarded a Master's degree can receive the increment which is normally given if the effective date of the teacher's contract is after August 14, the increment must be reduced for that year that was granted last year.

Question: How many teachers have reached a new agreement on pay scales, and into effect until September 1, may teachers receive the pay increase?
Answer: No.

Question: Can an employer increase the number of days allowed for personal purposes such as in summer?
Answer: No.

Question: May professional athletes who had entered into new contracts prior to the freeze, negotiate contracts during the 90-day period which call for increases in salary to cover their services during the freeze?
Answer: No.

Students petition admission charge to U. of I.-BSC game

Dr. Barnes...

The University of Idaho-BSC game on September 11 in Bronco Stadium is technically a home game for the University of Idaho. It was scheduled here at the request of the Athletic Director and President of the University of Idaho because their new stadium could not be ready in time for that game. The game is therefore an extra game not originally included in the activity ticket of the Boise State students.

BSC students pay for the games that they see in the stadium during the regular season of scheduled events, and in charging a $1.00 admission price for a reserved seat for a student we are writing a ticket price which is actually below that which students pay to see other games.

"After the Athletic Director of the two schools met and worked out a detailed rental agreement, I contacted Mr. Edwright, President of the Associated Students, to relay to him the decisions reached by those persons. Mr. Edwright indicated that the $1.00 price was certainly reasonable and that it would enable many more students to see the game than could have traveled to Moscow. After seeing with Mr. Edwright, the rental agreement was consummated with the President of the University of Idaho. When tickets went on sale last week over 1,000 students purchased tickets in a four-hour period."

"If the U of I-Boise State game had been moved to Boise State as a part of our regular home game series, Boise State students would have gained admission to this game by virtue of the activity ticket, but in this case it is a University of Idaho home game played in Boise. In the fall of 1972 the University of Idaho will again play Boise State at Bronco Stadium. That game will of course, be on the home game schedule and BSC students will be admitted with their ID card."
