4-12-1972

Arbiter, April 12

Students of Boise State College

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
bottom of a student and administrative reaction concern BSC. Student Coordinator Stanton Tate's recent threatened job changes was exposed at last Tuesday's meeting with BSC President Dr. John Barnes.

Speaking to a record-breaking turnout, Barnes defended the administration's position on what has become a controversial issue on the Boise campus and within the local community.

After receiving notification from Barnes that his job as coordinator of student relations was to be dissolved and that he would have to accept the position of assistant to the Dean of Men, Tate called for student support in a meeting last Monday in order that the issue be given a fair and open hearing.

On Tuesday, Barnes staged a rapt at his weekly cap session. Using 14 points, Barnes attempted to explain what he called his side of the story. All interested students, faculty and administrators are traditionally invited to attend these sessions, however, Barnes did ask that Tate leave the meeting so as to provide Barnes equal time to present his views.

At the students' request, Tate stayed only briefly at the session and he indicated that he had not planned to attend as, until several students called him during the meeting indicating that he should be present to defend himself against some of Barnes' stronger allegations. He couldn't do so then, but speaking to a small group of students later in the day, he was able to explain in detail his position on the issue.

Tate first came to BSC in February of 1971. At that time, Barnes stated, the college was ordinarily not hiring any new personnel. "We took him on in this area of the country shortly after he lost his position with the state," Barnes said.

Several students in attendance at the meeting "try to make Tate look bad," through rather vague references to Tate's losing that position. "During the years I worked as a juvenile court judge in McCall, I experienced the strong support of the parents in the area. I won the Probate Judge election there, but just recently was written up in the Juvenile Court Journal. I lost just recently became a juvenile court judge," Tate said. "The position was changed from an elective post to an appointment to a lawyer. There certainly is no reason for a mystery concerning this fact," said Tate.

Barnes stated that he already had seven other persons reporting directly to him, and adding one more made the burden on him and his office even heavier. "I haven't the time to hold his (Tate's) hand," he said.

"Tate has written to me and we have communicated only on occasional occasions, but he's never approached me concerning any student welfare issues. He's not only come to me with his own personal problems and those issues he's discussed with my office have dealt with his own placement," Barnes said.

Tate's reply was as follows: "Last fall when I requested that Barnes allow me to report to me directly, and as an officer of the dean of students, he requested me that I be contacted only in emergency situations, and rightly so. It's a very busy man, I realize, and should not have to be bothered with every little detail. That's why he has various administrators to handle the bulk of minor matters. I made an attempt out to bother him except in emergencies, at his request. The dean could have brought up issues concerning student problems, times I ran, and my work has always been done without a problem.

"My view has sometimes been at odds with Dean C. Wilson and Dean Henley. With all my potentials in this area, I am not necessarily difficult to accept working in a new job proposed as assistant to the Dean of Men. It was my understanding from Barnes that I would return and work directly under the new dean of students. This was an opportunity I was impressed to digest, and I intend to pursue this goal. "Barnes has stated that he will be creating no new jobs and may not be replacing many of the vacated positions for next year. But he is in fact dissolving my office and creating a new one, that of assistant to the Dean of Men, which has never before been occupied or needed," Tate said.

Barnes contends that Tate has offered the students and press the lame excuse that his office is impervious to change. "It is unfair to say he has not been asked to leave," Barnes said. "Students have not been moved to request that Barnes allow me to report directly to him, for student services. I have always been alive to the need for an assistant to Tate. I have been asked to do this job, and I will continue to do it.

Tate is a graduate of the Principals' Institute. He is an ordained Episcopal minister who is one of approximately 1000 who are earning their living literally. He must work with Lynn Renten, an English instructor, with the full benefit of the college. Barnes stated that he has had no significant reaction from Barnes.

Tate wants to work in student services, but he must do so literally. He must work with any organization, partnership. This area has made no significant changes in the last five years, it needs change, but it needs tight song and order organization first. "Tate has not recommended anything that would have been of benefit to the student body at BSC. He has come to me only about those things that would be of benefit to Tate. He does not even try to communicate with the dean of men and the dean of women," Barnes said.

"Almost all universities have a Dean of Students, a Director of Student Activities and a Director of Religious organizations," Barnes said. "It is at the University of Iowa, where I graduated, and where you can earn a graduate degree or doctorate. BSC is just the beginning in this area.

There is a definite need here for inter-departmental studies in religious education, the separate department.

"If there is any instruction in religion, any religion, as a personal service which helps develop their own philosophy of life. The religious class I teach is one of the best attended on campus. I have had positive reaction from it. Tate said. Barnes explained Tate's job change. "He has a 1972-1973 contract which he must sign by the 25th of April. The only major difference is that he will no longer report to the president. The current situation has ruined organization in the student services department. I made an exception for Tate, but the concept is not philosophically feasible. It has caused a physical breakdown of communications within the department.

"Everyone would like to report directly to the president, for status, dignity, or some such matter. This seems particularly true in student services, but effective communication is best served if everyone in the departments report to the various deans of those departments.

"Tate has not recommended anything that would have been of benefit to the student body at BSC. He has come to me only about those things that would be of benefit to Tate. He does not even try to communicate with the dean of men and the dean of women," Barnes said. "I have certain ideas and ideals which I consider to be important to the needs and potentials of the students and the college. Therefore, I want to be in a position at the college to help the students and the college and the future is a major goal."

"My work has always been directed towards the administration of the students and their problems, and not the separate department.
As We See It

as a form of student support is an administrator who enjoys a unique status among students.

The first half of the current BSC yearbook makes a nice photograph album, and I suspect that at least a few of the people in the pictures will look back with pride shortly after this next week. The deadline for the BSC editor is Thursday, although much smaller on the bookshelf than former yearbooks, will last a few months before falling apart, if it's not handled too often.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

As We See It

There is a definite need for an effective ombudsman operating on the BSC campus. A man who is responsive to student needs, effective in counseling and guidance and accepted and trusted by the students he is to serve. A new Dean of Students, an $18,000 expenditure, would not be necessary if an ombudsman who met these qualifications, was free to operate without unnecessary administrative interference within the present student personnel department.

Such an ombudsman is Stan Tate. Who could be better qualified for this position than the present co-ordinator of student relations? He already has cultivated a great deal of student support and the college.

Yet BSC President Dr. John Barnes is trying to stifle Tate in inadequate and ineffective position under the dean of men. One would wonder why this controversy has to be!

It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happened so surely some good has been done this past year... compared to previous administrations.

It's too early to write a story I would have to work with the administration on the campus more. I have asked them to be more factually accurate and to try to get to the bottom of the facts. But why try to paint a picture of what is happening? I would prefer to have the people on the campus more... and that is not over more of the editor's column. It is time Barnes recognized Tate's potential and encouraged him in these operations which most benefit students and the college.

Helen Christensen, Harr Brillouin

Dear Editor, I could not sit idly by without saying something. I have been reading the Arbiter, every issue has been prior to and following the ASBRC Elections.

Many things have been said about people in these last few issues (one, I'm all for freedom of the press). But little has been said about, and anything good that has happen...
The student government and the student press

The following is reprinted with the permission of Dwight Jensen. It was originally broadcast by KBOI radio on April 7.

One thing that bothers a reporter from time to time is why we hire people to do our reporting. It is one of those things that are too small. Old-time editors weren't ever that bright. But we were, so we don't want to think about it. It's like the story of Merriman Smith, the White House correspondent for the Press International. He was a successful reporter in his middle fifties covering the Kennedy assassination and having to run here and run there, someone asked him why such an old man was even bothering with such a physically difficult story as a Presidential trip, and he answered, "Because nobody else would do it!"

But getting away from the vanity and nonsense, it is a matter of concern to a serious reporter about how new young reporters are being trained. A lot of people probably assume that reporters come from schools of journalism and work on their college newspapers. But in many cases college newspapers are not good training grounds, not for newspaper reporters and not even for newspaper readers.

This comes to mind because I've been informed—news travels even to Idaho Falls—that the student body president-elect at Boise State College plans to dump the newspaper editor. I've only seen two or three copies of the ARBITER. and couldn't begin to give a critical evaluation of it, but either it's a good paper or a bad paper is not the point. The point is that in this day and age, when America's college students are demanding that they be put on the same level as adults, when they are demanding that they be given the vote and the right to drink rye whiskey and rock candy even without the rock candy, when they are demanding freedom from administrators, freedom from parents, and freedom from flunking out, and when they are demanding, vigorously and properly, their full constitutional rights, they are also demanding a government-controlled college press.

So some students are even demanding a government-controlled public press. A number of college students believe government at the federal level should step in and exercise more control over what is put on radio and television, even into newspapers. But primarily, they expect their student government to control their student newspaper. And student government is quite willing to do it. After all, student government on American campuses has precious little else to do. Student government has no real power, and student government officials are not responsible to the electorate because 999 times out of a thousand they're not going to reflect anyway. And the students know this. Only about ten percent of any given student body votes in student body elections, which is partly the usual fault that college-age people have toward anything that doesn't directly affect them that day, such as food or a place to park, but is partly the fact that even a college student recognizes Nowhereville when he crosses into the city limits.

Meanwhile, the student drive for independence combined with the student's natural disdain for starting anywhere except at the top have combined to make most college newspapers not worth reading. This is because they contain little or no news, and what there is is not well handled. Most college newspaper writers aren't shamed to report the news. They are there to give the world the benefit of their splendid opinions. If they can, they will write columnist or editorial writer, great. If not, they'll write their opinions into the news columns. They call this advocacy journalism, which is Latin for, I don't know how to write a story, but I know what I believe. Today. And their drive for independence has resulted in faculty advisors being declared persons non grata, so no one is around to help the youngsters find out what journalism is all about.

The new student body president tells me he is getting rid of the editor because the editor cannot control his staff. Asking a college student to control the staff of a college newspaper is like asking a kid with a pony cart to control six buses of Missouri mules the first time they've been harnessed in the spring.

Anyway, college students learn to read a government-controlled press that is short on news and checkful of opinion. So they come to believe that if the press is, or ought to be, government-controlled, and that its contents are unreliable. There must be another way.

Dwight WM. Jensen

The student press and the student government

Reprinting Dwight Jensen given me, as editor of the ARBITER, an opportunity to express views of mine on the hiring and firing of student editors. I firmly believe that the student body president or some representative of the general student body should have the authority to hire and fire student editors.

Under the present system the student body president appoints editors and the Senate is told go give its consent to the appointment. To fire an editor, the pres ident only has to present a letter showing cause to the student Senate. The Senate cannot stop the firing. It would be an improvement in the system if the Senate were given the final word on diploma- sal, as it has with appoint- ment, but this is only a minor point.

The important fact is that the students pay for both the ARBITER and the annual. Because they pay for them, they own them. Anyone who owns something has the right to exercise control of it. And it seems to me that the most realistic way for over 9,000 students to exercise that control is through their elected officials.

I turned in my resignation to the Senate during the special meeting held on Wednesday. I did not do it with a grudge. I have offered to continue putting out the paper until a successor is chosen, and I will be willing to help that successor get started on the paper if he or she desires.

As for next year, I plan to remain involved in student government and in committees. I have applied for other positions and if I am one of those positions I will work, and I hope I get the chance. I feel compelled to thank Mr. Jensen for his comments, and I must agree with his comments about student press staff members who only want to write opinion and not straight news. And his forty rule analogy is not far from wrong, even if it is not too complimentary. But I still must say that the students own the ARBITER and should control it.

LARRY HAIGHT
STUDENTS, STAFF AND FACULTY MAY SUBMIT THEIR APPLICATIONS FOR CONSIDERATION IN BOISE STATE COLLEGE'S LEGAL INSTITUTE EDUCATIONAL COLD-DRILL, 1972-73 ISSUE. ALLAPPLI CATIONS SHOULD BE SUBMITTED IN XEROX COPY AS WE CANNOT RETURN THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT XEROS COPY. JACOBS, 201.

VISTA and Peace Corps are looking for physical education, social science, education, nursing, and liberal arts graduates to serve in the United States and in 53 countries abroad.

Both programs are in new-income areas and both maintain the goals of training people to help themselves.

Kitty Wykopp, a Peace Corps volunteer in Iran from 1968-70, and Eric Thompson, who served in Upper Volta, West Africa one term in the College Union through Friday, April 21, spoke about the Peace Corps-VISTA volunteer programs.

The State of Idaho is offering a new work experience program in Idaho State Government to residents between their junior and senior years of high school university. These students are called "Career Volunteers." The "Career" positions are open to students in any major field, but preference will be given to students with an interest in economics, law, or political science training. Placement will be on a first-come basis, and students will be paid at $250 each month. Applicants should be high school seniors or high school graduates.

William Kunster, Chicago, Seven attorney, will address Boise State College students Monday, April 17, at 8:00 p.m. in the College Union Ballroom. Admission is $1.00 for the general public and free to students with I.D. cards.

A social hour will follow the lecture.

Kunster has also defended the Black Panthers, the Chicago Seven and the Hargreen brothers.

The author of Beyond a Reasonable Doubt, and Deep in My Heart, Mr. Kunster is Associate Professor of Law at the New York University Law School which is in conjunction with the campus Law School and forms the basis of his speech.

The Pops Concert Committee would like to ask the students of Boise State better so they are funding the foundation. They would like to see the CARPENTERS come to Boise State.

Please list five groups that you would like to see the committee try to get for performances on the Boise State College Campus.

Please turn in this article to the Archbishop after your comments.

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE TO BE HEARD ON WHAT YOU WANT TO SPARK!

Democratic Party Presidential selection procedure

The first step for Idahoans in the selection of the Democratic Candidates for President will be held at 8:00 p.m. Monday, April 17, 1972 in Ada County Democratic Executive Committee, an Alabamian in New England will be elected delegate for the November election, to participate in the nominating caucuses.

A participant needs only to sign a statement to become a Democrat. Smith added. The district executive committee delegates will be chosen to attend the state delegate selection to be held on June 19, 1972. At that state meeting, delegates will be picked to go to the party's national convention in Miami Beach in July.

Democratic legislative district chairmen will provide their committee delegates for the November election with separate caucus meetings in each legislative district. The reappointment plan passed by the 1971 legislature.

The Ada County District, chairs, and their meeting places are:

Chairman, Ballroom, Boise

Dist. 15 (generally the Boise Bench area and East Boise, South of Warm Springs Ave.) Byron Johnson, Chairman; Capitol City Room, Boise Hotel.

Dist. 16 (generally West Boise and Garden City) Carol Humphrey, Chairman; Stephen's Parish Hall, 2206 N. Cole Rd.

Dist. 17 (generally North Boise and East Boise, north of Warm Springs Ave.) Glenn Santer, Chairman; Immanuel United Methodist Church, 14th & Yamuna

Dist. 19 (generally Meridian, Kuna, Meridian County) Sara Rivington, Temporary Chairman; Legion Rd. Meridian.

Information about the national procedure and the new district boundaries is available by contacting the Ada County Democratic Executive Committee (Room 422-Idaho Building, Phone 241, 6514). Smith extended an invitation to all Democrats interested in open government to attend in that their voices can be heard.

Princeton develops new teacher education test

How much effort did students put into the course? And were students interested in how they would be evaluated? The ETS questionnaire also includes questions about a student's reasons for taking the course and the grade he expects to receive. In addition, an instructor or a free to include questions of his own to learn more about factors unique to his particular class. The questionnaire results are reported for each class, group, not for individual students.

The Explore Club has presented to the Boise State College Library a complete file of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces of World War I. This rare collection will be housed in the rare book room.

Family Special: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Shakes - 4/$1.00

ACRITICAL DEFAULT DRIVE IN SHARP'S ARCTIC CIRCLE 1232 BROADWAY BOISE, IDAHO

TAKE ADVANTAGE of your Group Purchase Program thru the T I R E CORRAL 5606 Fairview 345-8855

STUDENTS & FACULTY ONLY

How much effort did students put into the course? And were students interested in how they would be evaluated? The ETS questionnaire also includes questions about a student's reasons for taking the course and the grade he expects to receive. In addition, an instructor or a free to include questions of his own to learn more about factors unique to his particular class. The questionnaire results are reported for each class, group, not for individual students.

The Explore Club has presented to the Boise State College Library a complete file of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces of World War I. This rare collection will be housed in the rare book room.

Family Special: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Shakes - 4/$1.00

ACRITICAL DEFAULT DRIVE IN SHARP'S ARCTIC CIRCLE 1232 BROADWAY BOISE, IDAHO

TAKE ADVANTAGE of your Group Purchase Program thru the T I R E CORRAL 5606 Fairview 345-8855

STUDENTS & FACULTY ONLY

How much effort did students put into the course? And were students interested in how they would be evaluated? The ETS questionnaire also includes questions about a student's reasons for taking the course and the grade he expects to receive. In addition, an instructor or a free to include questions of his own to learn more about factors unique to his particular class. The questionnaire results are reported for each class, group, not for individual students.

The Explore Club has presented to the Boise State College Library a complete file of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces of World War I. This rare collection will be housed in the rare book room.

Family Special: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Shakes - 4/$1.00

ACRITICAL DEFAULT DRIVE IN SHARP'S ARCTIC CIRCLE 1232 BROADWAY BOISE, IDAHO

TAKE ADVANTAGE of your Group Purchase Program thru the T I R E CORRAL 5606 Fairview 345-8855

STUDENTS & FACULTY ONLY

How much effort did students put into the course? And were students interested in how they would be evaluated? The ETS questionnaire also includes questions about a student's reasons for taking the course and the grade he expects to receive. In addition, an instructor or a free to include questions of his own to learn more about factors unique to his particular class. The questionnaire results are reported for each class, group, not for individual students.

The Explore Club has presented to the Boise State College Library a complete file of the Stars and Stripes, the official newspaper of the American Expeditionary Forces of World War I. This rare collection will be housed in the rare book room.
Law and Order Symposium

Monday
10:00-4:00-Film-Law & Order in Big Four
2:00-4:00-Panel discussion on Penal Reform
Smack Bar:
Members of panel:
1. Robert Arneson-Director of Law Enforcement
2. Glen Jeffes-Associate Administrator of state penitentiary
3. Inmate of state penitentiary
8:00-10:00-William Kunstler, Ball Room

Tuesday
10:00-4:00-Film, Angela Davis: Portrait of a Revolutionary in Big Four
2:00-4:00-Panel Discussion on Values of Dissent in a Political System.
Members of panel:
1. John Runft-Constitutional Lawyer
2. Sara Hutzendorf-One World Crusade
4. Charles Smith-John Birch Society

American Negro
8:00-10:00-Pat Paulsen
Music festival

Compositions by several Boise State College students will be premiered during the upcoming "Contemporary Festival of Music" being presented by the BSC Department of Music March 15-16th. The theme of this year’s festival, now in its second consecutive year, is "Music of Our Time." Since the great majority of compositions performed in concert remind recital come from the "standard" literature and well-known composer, there is little call for the talented student-composer to demonstrate his art. By performing these student compositions, we are offering an order to music which more probably would remain unplayed and unheard. In addition to the support lent to the student, performance of these works gives emphasis to the scope and sphere of the creative arts here on campus.

Compositions were selected by a committee of students and a vacancy adviser on the basis of individuality of idea, form, and musical treatment. The committee has chosen the following composers and their compositions to be performed at the upcoming festival:

Richard J. Beaver-Piano Suite No. 1 and Monor Prelude and Diversity
Gary Paul Khaustner-Sex Sally, Dick, and Jane
Cathy Portnache-Suite for Two Violins
Patrick Schroeder-^*Pubo Suite No. 1
Mark Wilson-Siciliana and March

Also to be performed is a composition by Ramon Vanderpool entitled Clarinet Fugue. Vanderpool is a composition student of Dr. C. Griffin Bratt and is a student at N.C.

Tri-Delt scholarship

Susan Earl, Service Projects Chairman of Delta Delta Delta sorority, has announced that Pat Murray is the recipient of the Joan E. Richardson Memorial Scholarship. The scholarship amounts to $1000.

Murray will be entered in the Delta Delta Delta National Scholarship competition. The national scholarship is $1000.

Murray is a junior majoring in Office Administration and Business Education.

Pat Paulsen for President

"Pat Paulsen Looks At the 70's," a lecture as current as tomorrow's headlines, will be delivered by the famed humorist at Boise State College on April 18.

The lecture, which is described as an analytical look at the major problems affecting mankind in the next decade, will deal with such issues as the sexual revolution, drugs, astrology, religion, ecology, and politics. Each subject will be supplemented with motion picture film and other visual aids.

Paulsen's appearance at BSC is part of a national college and university lecture tour which will take the former presidential candidate to more than 100 campuses throughout the country.

This is Paulsen's first national tour since his narrow defeat in the 1968 presidential derby and is considered by many political pundits to be the forerunner of a full-fledged campaign for the 1972 nomination by his straight talking American Government (STAG) Party.

Paulsen, who is particularly able to articulate and communicate with young adults, believes that his sudden rise to popularity began with his "public service editorials" he used to deliver on the Smothers Bros. Comedy Hour, which drew up to 15,000 fan letters a week.

"I did 14 of these pieces," he said recently, "and as they were nearing an end, we realized that we would have to think up something new. It was about then the presidential race started happening and I decided to run for the highest office in the land. It was only a natural extension of what I'd been doing."

Paulsen's campaign, which almost all political observers agree was the most unique in the nation's history, took him on a tour of 43 states in eight months in search of "votes." He estimates that he received some 200,000 to 300,000 write-in votes in figures which astounded leaders in both national parties.

With the election 결과, President Nixon, recognizing the formidable opponent he had had, graciously saw to it that, when passing out the new Administration's inaugural license plates, Pat's was designated No. 6000. (President Nixon's was only No. 1.)

In his lecture series, Pat will disclose his future political plans in his typical non-political fashion. But whether or not he runs again, Pat Paulsen is one politician who has the facility of making the public laugh with him—out at him as seems to be the case with some of our more prominent national leaders.
Roving Reporter

QUESTION: The Student Health Center has requested an additional $3.50 increase for the expansion of its services. Would you be in favor of the proposed increase in student fees to cover this increase?

Steve Pyle, Freshman, Criminology
I am against the increase because I don’t use the Student Health Center. I don’t know how many people use the center, but I doubt if the number is too high.

Lynsh Manship, Freshman, General
I don’t use any of the services that the health center offers so I personally think it’s a waste of money.

Ken Wernhoff, Freshman, Gen. Business
I don’t know how other kids feel, but I don’t have much use for the Health Center and I really wouldn’t be in favor of an increase.

Karen Price, Sophomore, Physical Therapy
I really don’t know how much the center is used by the students. If a study can show that there is a need for expansion then I would be more than willing to pay the $3.50. If there isn’t a need then perhaps the money could be used elsewhere.

Cathy McNeil, Graduate
Student health fees are not exorbitant but fees for the same services elsewhere are. How far would $3.50 take you in just one trip to the doctor’s office? The facilities available are inadequate but the urgency for improving them is something one can’t appreciate until one needs them, and then, of course, it’s too late.

Karen Price, Sophomore, Physical Therapy
I really don’t know how much the center is used by the students. If a study can show that there is a need for expansion then I would be more than willing to pay the $3.50. If there isn’t a need then perhaps the money could be used elsewhere.

Kris Wemhoff, Freshman, Gen. Business
I don’t know how many people use the center, but I doubt if the number is too high.

Gloria Fastabend, Senior, History
Yes. This fee is needed to bring the Health Services up to a level in which more service can be given. It will make the school less dependent on the community hospitals, and the expansion will make the center much more convenient and practical.

Murray Clements, Senior, Education
An increase would be favorable since the already existing facility is in need of many improvements. The first and most important improvement was made by the school which was hiring a qualified doctor, on call at all times of the day. Now it would be feasible that the students could contribute to the improvement as well as become aware of the services that are offered—by posting hours open, services offered, etc.
The 44th Annual Academy Awards

by Wolfe Dutit

Holding the world renowned silent-film star Charlie Chaplin for its final crown tiara, the motion picture academy's award presentation this week was a visually stunning, enjoyable event. And will it should be. A craft, a perfected medium, the motion picture suffers artists in a way that a painting, a book, a sculpture cannot. It deserves tribute, solely on artistic and professional merit.

The French Connection produced by Philip D'Antoni was the picture of the year. Winning five coveted awards, it included: best actor (Gene Hackman), best screenplay (Keenan Wynn), best editing (Jerry Greenberg), best foreign language film of the year (Le Camion), and best music adaptation (John McCallum and David Hildyard). Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The picture produced and distributed by Carolco Pictures, the motion picture academy's award presentation this week was a visually stunning, enjoyable event. And will it should be. A craft, a perfected medium, the motion picture suffers artists in a way that a painting, a book, a sculpture cannot. It deserves tribute, solely on artistic and professional merit.

The French Connection produced by Philip D'Antoni was the picture of the year. Winning five coveted awards, it included: best actor (Gene Hackman), best screenplay (Keenan Wynn), best editing (Jerry Greenberg), best foreign language film of the year (Le Camion), and best music adaptation (John McCallum and David Hildyard). Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The one and only Tennessee Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The one and only Tennessee Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The one and only Tennessee Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The one and only Tennessee Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The one and only Tennessee Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

Best supporting actor award went to Ben Johnson in "The Last Picture Show." Best supporting actress award was given to Claire Bloom in "A Man for All Seasons," directed by Sidney Lumet. It was the most dis-jointed, incohesive story ever presented a one-hour preface to the big event.

The one and only Tennessee Williams, who for over a decade was a formidable playwright on stage expertise did the best job of buy-back 'our POW's, his clown image was over-burdened. He did manage to come through on Award's night with a loose, hastily prepared script and presented a one-hour preface to the big event.
Environmental protection

The economic impact of environmental protection will be discussed in the Idaho Academy of Sciences meeting. The symposium will be on the first day of the two-day Academy annual meeting.

Participants in the symposium will be Wallace N. Cory, Boise Cascade Corporation; Dr. Ceci E. Johnson, Riverside City College, Riverside, California; and Dr. Robert Zeller, University of Idaho, Moscow.

Dr. Cory, who works in environmental protection for Boise Cascade, was named the Outstanding Young Professional Engineer in Idaho by the American Society of Professional Engineers. He will speak on "Quality Environment and a Viable Economy." Dr. Johnson, professor of sociology at Riverside City College, is the author of "Rice: The Evolution of an Agriculture." The symposium will be at 2 p.m. in Room 206 of the Boise State College.

Dr. Zeller, director of the Idaho State University's Environmental Protection Agency, will talk on "Current and Projected Trends in Federal Environmental Programs and Policies Related to the Cost of a Clean Environment." Dr. Zeller will be the speaker at a buffet dinner in the College Union building. The first night of the Idaho Academy of Science. His dinner speech is entitled "Environmental Protection: A Biologist Comments on the Environment." His address is entitled "A Biologist Comments on the Environment."

Dr. Zeller, director for District of Idaho, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, will talk on "Current and Projected Trends in Federal Environmental Programs and Policies Related to the Cost of a Clean Environment." Dr. Zeller will be the speaker at a buffet dinner in the College Union building. The first night of the Idaho Academy of Science. His dinner speech is entitled "Environmental Protection: A Biologist Comments on the Environment."

Program Chairman Dr. Monte Wilson and Dr. Robert Jone said the welcoming address at the symposium will be given by Dr. John B. Barnes, President of Boise State College.

Environmental intelligence

It is an insult to Indian intelligence to have the white man running their affairs," said A. Lehman Brightman, president of the United States National Congress of American Indians. "We have a species Youth March 29 sponsored by the American Indian Movement, the editor and publisher of the militant Indian newspaper "Wayah" and a graduate of the University of Southern California at Berkeley.

The United National Indians was established three years ago by Brightman to unite Indians. The only Indian organization prior to the U.S. was the National Congress of American Indians, an organization which, according to Brightman would "Make the NAACP look like the NAACP in its infancy." Brightman said that Indian children are losing their own culture. He said that the traditional image of the non-Indian Indian is not necessarily true. "The Indian is the greatest freeloader the world has ever known. The blood of Indians runs through every inch of this land. We started militarism, by wiping out everyone else."

The history taught in U.S. schools is not American history at all, according to Brightman. It is European history taught under the guise of U.S. history. The reason for this is that Indians, who have a history, are seldom mentioned. "The fact that Columbus discovered America is the biggest farce," Brightman said. "He was not the first person. We have a history of our own." Brightman stressed, "Education, Brightman insisted, is the way to get ahead in the modern world. You can't fight with bows and arrows and tomahawks anymore." You can't do a lot more with pencils and pens.

Brightman said that one of the biggest problems is the Bureau of Indian Affairs. "All of the BIA personnel are non-Indians. According to Brightman, "The commissioner is appointed by the President, and we have no say in it."

He cited an example Louisamma, the present commissioner of the BIA. "He knows a lot about coffee, but little about the needs of Indians." Brightman said that since the post of commissioner is a presidential appointment, everyone in the administration takes office, the BIA gets a new commissioner every four to eight years. Brightman said that the BIA teaches mental genocide." Brightman said that the BIA, even its own employees, have no real idea how many Indians they have. "We give out a cent of the BIA's budget" went to administration last year, Brightman said. "We told the department that $10,000 was spent back last year. Brightman added, "I am trying to make the BIA realize that the BIA is a resource of common laborers out of the Indian reservations. They teach a mechanized office when we need doctors and lawyers," he then added, "There are only 20 Indian Ph.D.'s in the United States."

Brightman said that the BIA teaches mental genocide. Brightman said that the BIA is a resource of common laborers out of the Indian reservations. They teach a mechanized office when we need doctors and lawyers. There are only 20 Indian Ph.D.'s in the United States.

Lehman Brightman
Varsity grid crew routs Alums 54 -26 in second annual spring pigskin test

by Bill Michels

Despite the efforts of assistant Dr. Bellington, Boise State College Vice-President, and a blocking play which involved the entire Alumni team on the final drive, the Varsity squad trampled the Alums to the tune of 54-26 in the second annual Alumni-Varsity football game last Saturday.

Tony Knapp’s Varsity crew proved that it is able, in substitution for long hours of practice, to assemble a 34-11 half in the first down with a slight stretch of the rules.

The Alums, who were coached by Dee Pharr and his Borah staff, climbed onto the scoreboard early in the second half when Larry Smith went around outside for a 10-yard sweep and scampered in for the TD.

The Alums, at one point, were faced with a fourth and 40 situation and Dr. Bellington in to punt. Instead of punting, Bellington kicked it in and squid downhill for the first down.

The good doctor was giddily tackled after an exceptional run and secured the needed yardage for the first down with a slight stretch of the rules.

The Alums managed their last touchdown with seven seconds remaining when Charlie Fields ran 60 yards with the marker, the whole Alumni squad coming off the bench and blocking for him.

The varsity alternated Jim Mildellhill, Allan Lee and Ron Aistle at the quarterback slot, and the Alums went with Ebrigt, Hal Zimmerman and Eric Guthrie.

The Bronco Varsity looked quite polished for so early in the year and exhibited considerable potential in their running game. Aistle showed great running plays, scrambling out of impossible situations and turning them into first down triumphs. This scrambling quarterback will be worth keeping an eye on.

The varsity’s ground game had some new names in it which should be popping up more frequently as time goes by. Clint McKinnery and Chester Gray (the Gray Ghost) handled out a big share of the yardage and it looks like they will be vying for top spots on this year’s team.

---

Boise keglers place 4th, 5th in tourney

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.

Boise State keglers recently held and placed fourth and fifth in the National Bowling Team Championship Tournament held at the Cosmopolitan Lanes in Boise last week.

The competition lasted three days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—with six hours of bowling a day.

First place in the men’s competition went to Colorado State University with 14,200 points. They came in second for the tourney with a 9 to 6 record. Second place was taken by the University of California at Davis with 14,092 points. That team also had a 9 to 6 margin.

Third place was taken by Fort Hays Kansas with 13,529 points. BSC followed with fourth place. Other schools entered were San Jose State in fifth and Clarion State from Pennsylvania in sixth place.

High game for the men went to Bob Roy from CSU with 289 and 1705 in a three game series.
Boise State keglers, first in nation to host collegiate dreams

In little old Boise all of his dreams and ambitions blossomed forth into reality, and the result can best be described by Kehler himself—"It was fantastic!"

To those of us who sometimes had the idea of America's best having a tournament here in Boise, it was impressive. And the results weren't disappointing—two series and one near perfect game, a 289. According to Kehler, all the teams bowled very well, with Colorado State winning the men's and Oklahoma State winning the women's titles.

Assembled here were regional winners from all over the nation, and all the fun came from New York. Not all of the 53 regions were represented, but enough were to wet Kehler's appetite and set his planning in motion for next year. "We will probably have a sponsor next time, and that will help with the finances," he said. "Many of the squads couldn't raise the money for the trip. With the extra funds provided by a sponsor such as Brunswick or King Louie, more teams could afford the trip, and Kehler's dream of a true national roll-off would be true."

Helping with this year's affair and cited for special effort by Mr. Kehler were the BSC bowling team, Governor Andrus, John Barnes, Commerce and Development officer Lloyd Howes, and all the news media. Said Kehler, "All the cooperation we got was just tremendous, and we can't say enough in praise of all those that helped."

Kehler and his right hand "bowl" Cathy Gapsa, "will haven't come down," but when they do there will be no resting on their laurels from last week's successful tournament. Instead, Kehler will be in his office counting, figuring, and planning for next year. And well he should be, because next season BSC will not be just one, but two national tournaments. Under Kehler's direction, the team bowling championships will repeat, and the prestigious national tournament will be held here after the eastern tournament. Two prestigious tournaments for Boise State is a pretty ambitious task, but the man behind it all is pretty ambitious too.

Women's softball a team opens play with 33-1 victory over CSI

Boise's womens softball team opened its active season last weekend in Twin Falls beating College of Southern Idaho 10-1 and Idaho State 15-4. In the season opener against CSI, the Bronco bowlers suffered no strike-outs and enjoyed 12 walks. Under the pitching of Chris Hamilton, Penny Gillaspy and Jane Van Vason, seven CSI opponents were struck out.

Scoring by innings was: BSC 10, CSI 0, fourth to sixth, 28 to 0; fifth to seventh, 28 to 0; sixth totaling 33 to 0.

Hitting for the Bronco squad were Terry Handren, single; Debbie Gaythwaite, two doubles, a single and a home run; Toni Turnbull, a triple; Penny Gillaspy, five singles and a double; Chris Hamilton, two singles, Chris Riedman, one single and one double; Delia Kunut, one double and two singles; Mary McCord, a single; Cindy Gardner, a single; Pam Stevens, two doubles; Harri Andrews, a double; and Jane Van Vason, a single.

Interactions after the CSI game the Bronco squad met 138 BSC, surounded five hits, eleven strike outs and four walks. The Bengals gave up ten hits, twelve walks and 119 Idaho Street

Boise State keglers, first in nation to host collegiate dreams

by Terry Burke

Last year the CUB Game Room manager Kent Kehler had a dream. He wanted to get all of the nation's top bowling teams together and have a grand tournament in Boise. It would be number one in America. It was an ambitious dream for Kehler because he was a pioneer—never before had all the top teams gotten together after the regional tournaments. But Kehler was curious. He wanted to know if there were any national champions in one spot to see who was the best.

And last weekend in Boise, Kehler and ambition bloomed forth into reality, and the result can best be described by Kehler himself—"It was fantastic!"

To those of us who sometimes had the idea of America's best having a tournament here in Boise, it was impressive. And the results weren't disappointing—two series and one near perfect game, a 289. According to Kehler, all the teams bowled very well, with Colorado State winning the men's and Oklahoma State winning the women's titles.

Assembled here were regional winners from all over the nation, and all the fun came from New York. Not all of the 53 regions were represented, but enough were to wet Kehler's appetite and set his planning in motion for next year. "We will probably have a sponsor next time, and that will help with the finances," he said. "Many of the squads couldn't raise the money for the trip. With the extra funds provided by a sponsor such as Brunswick or King Louie, more teams could afford the trip, and Kehler's dream of a true national roll-off would be true."

Helping with this year's affair and cited for special effort by Mr. Kehler were the BSC bowling team, Governor Andrus, John Barnes, Commerce and Development officer Lloyd Howes, and all the news media. Said Kehler, "All the cooperation we got was just tremendous, and we can't say enough in praise of all those that helped."

Kehler and his right hand "bowl" Cathy Gapsa, "will haven't come down," but when they do there will be no resting on their laurels from last week's successful tournament. Instead, Kehler will be in his office counting, figuring, and planning for next year. And well he should be, because next season BSC will not be just one, but two national tournaments. Under Kehler's direction, the team bowling championships will repeat, and the prestigious national tournament will be held here after the eastern tournament. Two prestigious tournaments for Boise State is a pretty ambitious task, but the man behind it all is pretty ambitious too.

Women's softball a team opens play with 33-1 victory over CSI

Boise's womens softball team opened its active season last weekend in Twin Falls beating College of Southern Idaho 10-1 and Idaho State 15-4. In the season opener against CSI, the Bronco bowlers suffered no strike-outs and enjoyed 12 walks. Under the pitching of Chris Hamilton, Penny Gillaspy and Jane Van Vason, seven CSI opponents were struck out.

Scoring by innings was: BSC 10, CSI 0, fourth to sixth, 28 to 0; fifth to seventh, 28 to 0; sixth totaling 33 to 0.

Hitting for the Bronco squad were Terry Handren, single; Debbie Gaythwaite, two doubles, a single and a home run; Toni Turnbull, a triple; Penny Gillaspy, five singles and a double; Chris Hamilton, two singles, Chris Riedman, one single and one double; Delia Kunut, one double and two singles; Mary McCord, a single; Cindy Gardner, a single; Pam Stevens, two doubles; Harri Andrews, a double; and Jane Van Vason, a single.

Interactions after the CSI game the Bronco squad met 138 BSC, surounded five hits, eleven strike outs and four walks. The Bengals gave up ten hits, twelve walks and 119 Idaho Street
Barnes, Tate disagree on job placement

Barnes relayed this statement in an article last Tuesday in the Idaho STATESMAN. But that same Tuesday during the rap session, Barnes said that he didn't believe student petitions are a valid picture of student reaction.

"Students many times don't fully realize what they are signing. Letters from students on certain issues are much more useful and I consider them to be usually written by informed circulating petitions on this issue. He will not acknowledge them. Him," said Barnes. "At my last occasions to attempt to help result in, etc."

One, since I've discussed freely. He would much rather remain at support with."

Another more recent occasion also demonstrates this fact, Tate contends.

"For my experience and in my own opinion, my work at BSC has been a major activity. First, for students, I will attend student senate meetings. I believe in working as a liaison between the two organizations."

Concerning reaction of students and Tate, Barnes stated it had been running about half-and-half.

"Some students have been so encouraged and many others understood the problem, and I know many encouraged me and others were well."

"The student reaction has been overwhelming opposition," Tate stated. "Barnes' moving me into the Wilkinson is Buns under these conditions would truly provide an opportunity to discuss this issue.

"I would welcome the opportunity to discuss this issue with the students in front of the students. This complete process which now exists will gain nothing for Barnes. Some students are waiting for Barnes for reaction to this suggestion.

"Will under Wilkinson if he is forced to resign and Barnes moving out with the Dean of Men if it's wrong. I can only be a special assistant to the Dean of Men is all the president will ask me to do those things I think are needed. The well-being of BSC, and if I am not satisfied with the results, I will stay at BSC in a new position.

"This comes to my greatest regret will be that with the addition of only through Wilkinson's statement, this issue will be satisfactorily in this situation. However, BSC is a part of the Idaho STATEMAN."