Les Bois editor faces problem of yearbooks

One of Jerry Bittick's first duties as Editor of the Les Bois has been to figure out what to do with the left over books from last year. As recently as January 1 there were still 1900 yearbooks in storage.

Since the Les Bois has been revived Bittick has been preparing to mail out 1100 books to last year's graduates. He said the mailing arrangement was made last year so "graduates are expecting their books to be mailed to them." He has quoted students who don't receive another...last year's individual pictures in yearbooks to assure that graduates...Doug Shanholz reported that...the last year's graduates. He said the says he will...is prepared to use...In this year's Les Bois, He will be... he received yearbooks using the 1300 earlier photos...for 30 additional seats. Another controversial project...to be discussed is the Campus Drive closure plan. This is to be...

State Board OK's tenure policy

The State Board of Education (Regents) unanimously approved the proposed legislation granting university status to BSC. Legislation is passed the new initials BSU will be effective by July. Also approved was the Board's controversial tenure reform policy which must be implemented by July 1. The revised policy is an attempt to be more responsive to student needs and involves students in the competency review and granting of tenure processes. Dismal procedures are absent from the policy due to a recommendation by the regents for further legal clarification. The policy will be...receives final approval.

Also approved by the Board for legislative proposal is a $218,000 increase in state taxes for a total of $833,333 for Olympic Tennis Center athletic programs at the three major state institutions of higher learning. Budgets for intercollegiate athletic expenditures will serve as ceilings for athletic budgets. The University will have the lowest budget of $704,353. Idaho State will be limited at $722,941, while Boise State will be allowed $754,055. The new program will use these general fund monies to make up the difference between athletic revenue and expenditures. Due to the quantity of gate receipts and donations, Boise State will require $222,000 of tax money to maintain its program. ISU will receive $338,214, and Idaho $274,055. However, the new appropriation could be canceled if the institutions must meet certain requirements in return.

1. Recent tax increases have been limited to $25,000.
2. Athletic budgets must be...the same way as institutional budgets.
3. The number of athletic scholarships will be frozen at the current Big Sky limit.
4. Full-time football coaches will be eliminated that athletic facilities will be frozen immediately.
5. All excess monies in the revenue bond accounts for athletic facilities will be frozen immediately.
6. Finally (and about time) the state of Idaho will in attendance. The winners in the various competitions will be offered the privilege to attend Boise State for the 74-75 year.
Spring registration lacks long lines

Last week 10,000 people filed through the BSC Gym to register for spring classes. Usually registration at BSC is marked by long, long lines, followed by more long lines. This time, however, the most noticeable thing about registration was the lack of lines.

Explanations as to why this registration session ran so smoothly are unlimited. Nearly everyone has his own opinion about what contributed most to the operation. Some people credit an increase in the amount of time devoted to registration. They claim that spreading people out over a longer period of time reduces frustration, and allows more time for individual attention.

One official attributed the success to the fact that most people had registered here before and now understand the system.

Still others credit the weather with keeping away long lines and resulting in a steady flow of people instead of a steady stream. Whatever the cause, the results are perfectly clear. This was one of the most pleasant registration sessions in recent years. Everyone associated with the program should be congratulated.

It is rather ironic that this particular registration session should have run so smoothly. For the past several months work has been progressing on a proposal to replace the current system with an automated system of advanced registration. A survey conducted during the fall semester showed that an overwhelming majority of students and faculty favored an advanced registration system.

Now, after such a successful registration session, the future of the advanced registration system seems to be a little darker. The report of the committee which has been studying the question was presented to the College's Executive Council Tuesday. The report received what has been described as a "cool" reception. The Executive Council referred the report to the faculty and student senators for their consideration.

If the committee's recommendation to go ahead with the advanced registration system receives the support it is expected to, the proposal will certainly be adopted.

If, however, the proposal is discarded or postponed because of this one successful registration session, students may well find themselves standing back in long, long lines next fall.

Student accuses profs of needless expense

Editor, the Arbirter:

I went to buy my books today, and I was simply shocked at how much I spent. I know you're supposed to buy your books before classes begin, but I waited until I went to class. And it's a dead sure bet that I'll get them wrong. I'm not saying that the people who work in the Bookstore are trying to cheat me out of my money, but I am saying that these books won't be worth the money I spent. I'm telling you, you can buy a funny feeling that the professors don't want us to really see these books. They just make us buy them for no reason at all. A lot of us students just don't have the money for all these books.

And another thing. The high cost of books is simply appalling. Why, I had to pay nearly $40 for books this semester. Now don't get me wrong; I'm not saying that those books weren't worth the money I spent. I'm telling you, you can buy a funny feeling that the professors don't want us to really see these books. They just make us buy them for no reason at all. A lot of us students just don't have the money for all these books.

WASHINGTON — The Federal Energy Tax increase now appears to be an investigation into oil profits.

Rather than wait for the results of the tax law, Congress has decided to conduct its own investigation. We have talked to sources inside the big oil industry who are eager to be heard out of corporate papers which were never intended to be read outside of euphemistic suits. Here are our findings:

The oil companies definitely have squeezed higher profits for themselves from the oil shortage. For example, the Persian Gulf countries have increased their income by doubling the taxes and royalties from three dollars to seven dollars a barrel.

The oil companies, however, are permitted to charge off these payments, dollar for dollar, against their U.S. taxes. Then the companies add the foreign tax to the price of the oil. In other words, the consumers really pay the overseas taxes, but the companies take credit for it on their U.S. returns.

The oil companies have also used the foreign tax to cut back some of the products that aren't too profitable. The oil industry produces around 3,000 different products, some of them vital to other industries. Now the oil companies are channelling available oil into the products that make the most money for them.

The majors are also closing their less profitable stations and putting the squeeze on independently-owned stations. This means the oil shortage will wind up increasing the profits that the big companies get from their retail outlets.

So far, the oil shortage has been a bonanza for most companies. Only their customers are hurting.

DELICATE STAGE: The Arab-Israeli talks have now reached a crucial juncture. The Israelis have offered to pull back about 18 miles from the Suez Canal into the Sinai mountain passes. In return, they want the canal reopened and the towns along its banks restored. This would be a major victory for the Israelis, against a renewed Egyptian attack.

The Egyptians, however, have refused any "partisan" deal.

They will accept the Israeli offer only if a permanent ceasefire is guaranteed for total Israeli withdrawal from Egyptian lands. The Egyptians want the political situation that existed before that 1967 war.

Israel Defense Minister Moshe Dayan has accused the Egyptians of turning the situation into a war. "I don't understand the Egyptian position," Dayan said. "They just want to win."

WATERGATE WHIRLPOOL: Some old and some new government agencies have been caught in the Watergate whirlpool. The central Intelligence Agency became a cover for laundering campaign cash in Mexico. The former FBI director had used his position to influence an inquiry into evidence in his fireplace. The Secret Service has been censured for millions of dollars worth of improprieties on President Nixon's private homes.

But the agency which has been hurt the most — and the one that can least afford it — is the Internal Revenue Service. The American painters of a rosy future on the honor system. We suffer in silence on the assumption everyone else is buying the same.

Over the past year, however, we have learned that the IRS got away with paying less taxes than the average working family. Anyone else who claims to have paid off his taxes with huge deductions probably has been subjected to a thorough audit. Yet all Nixon received was a Suggestion.
Senate approves $12,000 for 1974 annuals

Last spring the ASBSC senate voted to refrain from producing a 1973-74 edition of the Boise State yearbook, the Les Bois. At that time members of the senate, faced with severe budget restrictions, felt such action was the best course open to them. Public support for the yearbook was at an all time low. The previous year, 1971-72, the Editor of the Les Bois, Richard Tackman, had experimented with a radically new yearbook format. To say that most BSC students were not pleased with his approach would be an understatement of monumental proportions. The Les Bois was received so poorly that only half of the $4,000 copies were picked up by students. The remaining 2,000 copies were reportedly destroyed.

This year, after the first semester had almost passed, many students began clamoring for a yearbook. In response to their wishes, ASB President Doug Shanholmz started the ball rolling for a 73-74 yearbook. His efforts ended in success last month when the senate approved a budget of $12,000 for the Les Bois. As the newly revived yearbook began to take shape, the Arbiter staff decided to check up on the success of last year's yearbook. In doing so, it became increasingly apparent that the 72-73 yearbook has been received as poorly as the "notorious" 71-72 edition. Only one half of the 4,000 yearbooks have been claimed by the students who paid for them. Translated into dollars, that means around $18,000 of the student money is setting idle in a warehouse.

But that is not the worst of it. Plans are now underway to mail over a thousand copies of the books to last year's winners. Late fees
The burn, the shaft, or whatever you will
by Katrina Brown
Pay up, and keep paying, it's the story of our lives. To even get in the door at registration one has to make sure that library and parking fees from the previous semester are paid. After gaining entrance to the gym and filling out all the forms, he pays, shell out nearly $200 in assorted fees, plus another dollar to reserve a parking spot in the parking lot. "Then there's the books...

And if you weren't fortunate enough to have cash on hand the day you registered, or you weren't able to make it to the bank by then, don't expect to get off easy. According to the spring semester class schedule "NO CREDIT OR DEFERRED PAYMENTS WILL BE AUTHORIZED." The penalty for paying late, even though it involves no extra work for computer or human, is five dollars ($5.00).

At least that's what they charged me last Monday, January 14, when I went to the cashier's office to pay my fees. The cashier informed me this was traditional policy and that she had been asked to pay such a fee before, and I've paid after registration before a grace period of grace is allowed in paying the $5.00 late fee. Indeed, reference to this period of grace is made in the same paragraph to which Dean of Admissions, Guy Hunt, referred me when he tried to justify the cashier's charging me the $5.00 late fee:

"If a student does not pay his registration costs in full at this time (station 7) his registration packet will be retained by the cashier. If payment is full in full is not received within one (1) day of registration, his packet will be returned to the Admissions Office where it will be stripped and class cards released for drop-add use. Students desiring to register after this time must reacquire class cards and pay a late fee."

Proposed initiative insures appearance

At an executive meeting of the Idaho College Republicans last Saturday, it was decided to prepare an initiative for a presidential preference primary to coincide with Oregon's primary date. Representatives from Boise State and the University of Idaho's CR's will present the initiative to the Idaho legislature which would bring a voice to Idaho voters in the national conventions. National Presidential Candidates will enter the state to campaign prior to the Idaho-Oregon primaries enabling Idaho residents to get a closer picture of the national race.

The Idaho College Republicans plan to implement the initiative action which if approved would be brought to the ballot in the November elections as a petition or referendum. A number of signatures will be required for the initiative prior to the election and will be gathered by the CR's of Idaho.

TKE's plan ski trip

Todd Koppes Epsilon Fraternity is planning their Second Annual Winter Fling at Bogus Basin Ski Area. The event is scheduled for February 12, Lincoln's birthday. Price of the ticket includes transportation to the area, night skiing, reduced rental fees on equipment, dinner, and a dance with live music. There will be several contests for skiers to compete in such as an obstacle race and a hot dog competition to be judged by ski instructors from Boise and Salt Lake.

Tickets will be available at the Sub. Information booth next week. As only 500 tickets are available it would be wise to purchase them as soon as possible. Price of the ticket is $6.00, which includes everything. Door prizes of ski equipment will be given away by local merchants at the dance and to contest winners.

Senate meets new year

with four committees

The first student senate meeting of the new semester was full of decisive action. The senate established four committees, and issued three directives.

- Treasurer Tom Moore presented the above financial statement to the senate. He said that he plans to present a statement monthly, and that "Financially, things look pretty good for us right now."

The senate, hoping to avoid the budget hassles of last year, has set dates for budget hearings. They will be determining budget priorities at the January 29 meeting.

Jon Rand told the senate that student government has been operating illegally for years. He was told by an attorney that the ASB constitution requires that all students serving in student government must have a GPA of 2.25. Rand said,"If this was enforced, a hell of a lot of people would be cut out of student government involvement."

The senate approved Doug Shanholtz’s three appointments to student government positions. Owen Krahn is the new Public Relations Director for the ASBSC. Bruce McCain was appointed to the Curriculum Committee, and Lloyd Herold to the Academic Standards Committee.

During the discussion to approve the appointment Ron Ellsworth said that he heard "through the grapevine" that it would be a mistake to approve McCain’s appointment. When asked, he knew of no other reason to deny the appointment.

Greg Brown was the only senator to not make it back from winter break. Shanholtz is now looking for a replacement for the resigning Business senator.
Registration to change at Boise State College

by Ron Wilper

The newest line in front of the gym at registration may be a thing of the past if the executive council accepts a recommendation to proceed with development of an advanced registration system at Boise State.

A twelve page report was submitted to the council by the ad hoc registration committee headed by Dr. Charles Davis. The committee was formed at the request of the executive council in October 1972.

The committee studied student and faculty opinion and evaluated proposed advantages of the new system. According to Dr. Davis, "The new system would be a great thing for Boise State College."

Dr. Davis said an advanced registration system would allow the administration to get to what the students want ‑ they wouldn't be herded around like cattle anymore."

Dr. Richard E. Bullington, Executive Vice President said, "Under an advanced registration system the student would know his schedule prior to the start of the next semester. He wouldn't have to cut down on a great deal of confusion and schedule changing during registration. Another advantage of the proposed new system would be that advisors before filling out their schedules. In a two day period we just can't advise 10,000 students," Bullington said.

Robert Davis and Bullington indicated that they are very much in favor of the new advanced system. "The committee has worked hard," Davis said, "Now we have a good solid base to build on." But, he added, "Unless it's carefully prepared we could be damn sorry."

Dr. Bullington feels that Boise State should, "make the change now before we're a huge institution of higher learning."

He said the executive council would investigate very thoroughly before the new system could sensibly be implemented.

The report said it would be at least Fall 1975 before the system could conceivably be ready but, at Dr. Bullington pointed out, there's no guarantee that the executive council will agree to the new system at all. "If not," he said, "we'll reiterate on revising the present system."

Self-defense at YWCA

A discovery of the high incidence of rape ‑ about one per week ‑ in Boise has prompted the Boise YWCA to offer a course in self-defense and sexual morality.

Incidence of rape ‑ about one per week ‑ in Boise has prompted the Boise YWCA to offer a course in self-defense and sexual morality.

The course will begin January 21, and will be held every Monday night from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for the next five weeks. The six lessons cost $10 and will be held at Room 109 of the YWCA, 720 Washington Street.

Robert Rudrine, instructor, advises participants to dress in pants and other loose clothing. Women may register the first period. All registrations may be handled at Student Personnel Services Office, Room 117 ‑ Administration Building. We would like to make final selections by January 31, 1974.

Havent you had enough of big brother government offering paternalism with one hand while screwing you with the other?

EXAMPLE: Wage/price controls were implemented with the naive hope that they would force wages and prices downward. All controls have done is create shortages, unemployment, black markets and destroyed your basic right to negotiate the wage for which you are willing to work and the price for which you are willing to sell your product.

EXAMPLE: The Watergate revelations provide Americans with dramatic proof of Lord Acton's axiom, "Power tends to corrupt: absolute power corrupts absolutely." The massive concentration of political and economic power in the government has turned America's Republican form of government into a squalid national oligarchy. Given the situation it is unlikely that Watergate will have a lasting influence on the commercial activity that is damaging our society.

WE HATE TO BE AN "I TOLD YOU SO" BUT Young Americans for Freedom had the economic wisdom to oppose wage/price controls from the outset. Since our inception in 1960 we have been involved in the constant battle to preserve our liberty by staving off demands for more governmental control over our personal lives.

The Foreign Films committee presents Seven Samurai (The Magnificent Seven) Friday, January 18 at 8:00 p.m. in LA 106. Admission is FREE!

Foreign Films shows

'The Seven Samurai'

The BSC foreign film committee would like to welcome the students back to another good year for foreign films. We start the spring term with SEVEN SAMURAI (THE MAGNIFICENT SEVEN). Winner of the Venice Film Festival, SEVEN SAMURAI is one of the greatest films in the career of Akira Kurosawa. It is a successful blending of elements from American westerns and gangster films into the classic Japanese samurai movie. In a sense, SEVEN SAMURAI may be considered the definitive "eastern-western". This epic tale however, is more than an exciting adventure film. It is also a moving and compassionate drama of men fighting to protect their way of life, no matter what compromises they may have to make.

This film will be playing this Friday, January 18, 8:00 p.m., in LA 106. "It is not only director Kurosawa's most vital picture, it is also perhaps the best Japanese film ever made."

Music Department continues series

The Music Department of Boise State College has announced the continuation of their Faculty Recital Series following the semester break. This fourth recital of the series will feature George Thomason, guitar, and Daniel Russell, piano. Mr. Russell is an Assistant Professor of Music, and teaches conducting and directs several of the BSC vocal ensembles. Mr. Thomason serves as a Special Lecturer in Guitar, a position he also holds at the College of Idaho and Northwest Nazarene College.

Mr. Thomason will be joined by Susan Norrell, flute, William Huo- vola, and John Best, cello, in a performance of Schubert's GUITAR QUARTET, OP. 21.

This recital will be held in the Music Auditorium on Friday evening, Jan. 18, at 8:15 p.m. Season tickets will be honored, and single admissions may be purchased at the door.

Governor Andrus recommends academic gains in State of the State speech

In his State of the State message Monday, Governor Andrus called for a reappraisal of the significance of higher education and recommended "substantial gains in both the academic and physical needs of our college and university campuses."

Andrus also introduced a proposal to combine the resources of Oregon State University, Washington State University and the University of Idaho in order to establish a School of Veterinary Medicine. He said his joint effort would ease the shortage of veterinarians in the field at a fraction of the cost.

The implementation of a state-financed scholarship program for higher education was urged by Andrus. Initially the program would provide twenty-five $1,500 scholarships each year for four years, and ultimately reach a maximum of 100 scholarships. Recipients would be selected on the basis of academic ability only, and scholarships could be used at any accredited Idaho institution of higher learning.

In public education, Andrus asked for an increase in state aid, $120,000, at 8:15 p.m. The cast of limited attendance BSC students, Elizabeth Streiff, Cheryl Hurte, Barbara Martin, and Rod Jones, Sally Greiner, a graduate of Utah State University, heads production is made possible by Andrea Parenteau, a 1973 graduate of BSC's Theatre Arts Dept. Technical supervisor and set designer is Randy Krawi, and Bill Reid has created the lights and sound for the production.

Trunk theatre play- 'Riders to the Sea'

Theatre in a Trunk's third production of the season, "Riders to the Sea" by John Millington Synge, will be presented in the Student Union Lookout January 17-20, at 8:15 p.m. The cast of limited attendance BSC students, Elizabeth Streiff, Cheryl Hurte, Barbara Martin, and Rod Jones, Sally Greiner, a graduate of Utah State University, heads the cast in the role of Maury. Other actors include Jon Sharratt, Andy Milhan, Steve Phelan and Len Sharratt. The play is directed by Andrea Parenteau, a 1973 graduate of BSC's Theatre Arts Dept. Technical supervisor and set designer is Randy Krawi, and Bill Reid has created the lights and sound for the production.

CREATIVE VARIETY FOR THOSE
END OF THE MONTH FOOD BLUES

By Frances Brown

Here are some main dishes to add variety to your cooking:

BARBECUED RIBS

1½ lbs. country-style ribs (pork) or beef short ribs. Arrange the ribs in a shallow pan. Bake for 1 hour at 325 degrees F. Drain liquid from the ribs; turn the ribs and bake 45 minutes longer. Bake any additional fat from the pan and then pour the following barbecue sauce over the ribs and roast for an additional half-hour.

SAUCE

1 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 Tbsp. cider vinegar
2 Tbsp. brown sugar
1 tsp. dry mustard

Cook the sliced onions in a tablespoon of fat until tender but not brown; add other ingredients and cook for a few minutes until well blended. Set aside sauce and reheat when the ribs are ready to be basted with the sauce. A couple of times during the final roasting, spoon or baste the sauce from the pan over the tops of the ribs. A tossed green salad and crusty French bread will make a meal with these ribs.

SLIM PICKINS' SPECIAL

⅛ lb. frankfurters, cut diagonally in ⅛ inch slices
2 medium potatoes, cooked, sliced, diced
⅛ cup finely chopped onion
⅛ cup drained canned peas
1 can (10¾ oz.) condensed celery soup
3/4 cup milk

BSC HASH

1 lb. frozen hash-brown potatoes
12 oz. can corned beef
1 small onion diced (⅛ cup)
1 tsp. salt
dash of pepper
2 Tbsp. diced green pepper

Heat skillet with 3 Tbsp. of fat;
add potatoes, green pepper, onion, salt and pepper and fry at medium heat, stirring the mixture over with a spatula frequently so that it cooks and browns evenly.
When the potatoes are almost done (this will take at least 20 minutes), open the can of corned beef, breaking it up with a fork into small pieces and add it to the potato mixture. Pour milk over the mixture and cover tightly.
Cooking over a very low heat for 15 minutes. Uncover, increase the heat and cook a few minutes longer until crusty on the bottom.
Lenae from the skillet with a spatula and serve. (3 to 4 servings)

For a complete dinner, serve a coleslaw salad, diced pickles, and a gelatin fruit salad.

MEAT LOAF

2 lbs. ground beef
½ cups soft bread crumbs
⅓ cup milk

1 envelope dry onion soup mix
2 eggs
1 can (4 oz.) mushroom stems & pieces (drained)
½ cup cup parish
1 tsp. salt

Pour milk over bread crumbs.
Add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pack into 9¾-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. for at least an hour.
Medium-sized baking potatoes
may be baked at the same time (can be tested by pricking with a fork for doneness).

Women cagers introduced

The women's varsity basketball team travels to Eastern Oregon State College Saturday to open up the 1974-75 season. Game time is set for 2:00 pm.

Connie Thorogood, the BSC women's coach says her players are "working real hard and look very good."

Three seniors return for the Crusaders. Penny Gillap, Jayne Vast, Wassenhowe and Ginger Waters will form the starting nucleus.

This year the coeds will have two women over 6-0 who will alternate at the center position. Betty Will (6-2) and Elaine Godfrey (6-1) are both freshmen and will particularly amaze the women on the boards.

The team has no juniors, but four sophomores will bolster the ranks. DeAnne Brower, a transfer from Idaho State, will be joined by returnees Cindy Frelick, Connie Coulier and Maureen Hirai. Rounding out the team are freshmen Kendra Faden, Elaine Elliott and Rosie Brower.

Thorogood decided Northwest Nazarene College will be the strongest in local competition while Rick's College is the biggest threat in tournament action.

"We have a lot of outstanding people and it looks as though this is going to be our best year ever," Thorogood said.

BSC Colts meet the Treasure Valley Community College Chuckers today at 5:45 pm.

According to freshman basketball coach Mike Montgomery, "TVCC really hustles and can do a lot of different things."

The Colts, who have won their last three games in a row, lost Rip Walker to an ankle injury. Walker is expected to be out for at least two weeks.

Because of the injury, Montgomery will reorganize the defense for the TVCC game.

"We will use Kevin Humphrey at the low post position and Ed Chontos at the high post in order to make up for the loss of Walker," Montgomery said.

Chris Binder and Kip Newell teamed up for 20 and 17 points respectively to take the College of Idaho 74-59 last Thursday. Then Ed Chontos picked up 19 points the next night which saw four Colts individu\alk figures to pace the BSC squad to an 85-81 victory over Northwest Nazarene College in Nampa. Binder was hot on the nets in that game for 14 points, Randy Haynes added 13 and Kip Newell rounded out the double figures with 12.

The next meeting with the Crusader Jayvees saw the 'Colts' victory with a total of 17 points. Binder had another good night with 15 points, but it was Chontos, the 6-8 forward from Hobart, Indiana who carried the Colts to the victory with a total of 17 points.

Binder is a 6-3 guard from Ontario, Oregon. The Colts are 4-2 on the season.

Judoists place high in tourney

Three BSC students placed first in a judo tournament January 12 at the Boise Valley Judo Club in Caldwell, Idaho.

Those places were earned by John Gregory — lightweight Brown and Black Belt division, Tom Hauser — heavyweight senior White Belt division, and Don Davis — heavyweight Brown and Black Belt division.

The Judo team is currently preparing for the Northwest Collegiate Judo Championship to be held at BSC March 9.
Loggers play in BSC gym tonight

For the first time in over two weeks, the Boise State Bronco basketball team steps out of league action when they host the University of Puget Sound Loggers Thursday, January 17, at 8 pm.

Boise State now has a 7-5 season record and are 3-1 in the Big Sky after last weekend. On Thursday they defeated Northern Arizona 73-65 and Saturday dropped a 66-49 decision to Weber State.

Coach Don Zech's Loggers came to Boise with a 5-9 record and one of those wins was over a Big Sky school. They beat Montana 59-58 in Tucson. Their most recent win was over George Fox 81-65.

"Puget Sound has some fine players back and they have always played well against us," commented Bronco head coach Bus Connor. The veterans on the Logger team are junior Fred Cain and senior Sam May. Cain is the team's leading scorer at 15.9 ppg and pulling down five rebounds per game to lead the squad.

One of the biggest helps to the Loggers this year has been the play of freshman center David Johnson. Johnson is averaging 11.8 ppg and pulling down five rebounds per encounter.

Connor said that he will start Terry Miller and Clyde Dickey at the guards for the Broncos with George Wilson and Maurice Buckingham at forwards. Pat Hoke and Jim Keyes will be working that week for the starting center spot.

Commenting on the recent Big Sky road trip, Connor said, "Basically we did what we set out to do — split on the road. In other years that would be a great accomplishment, but six of the eight conference games this past week were won by the visiting school.

"We played well enough against Northern Arizona to win and played well at times against Weber State. We had out chances in the first half, but we just couldn't capitalize on those chances," he said.

"Clyde Dickey had a great effort against Weber State," Connor added. "Right into the end of the game he was working hard," Connor said. George Wilson had also nine chances of getting in from the field for the Weber State game.

In a preliminary game Thursday night, the Boise State Coits will meet Treasure Valley Community College at 5:45 pm. The Coits, 6-2 on the year, will have three straight games last week.

Strong Athletes in Action squad challenges Boise State Friday

What could be the best competition of the year is on deck for the Boise State wrestling team when they host Athletes in Action Friday night at 7:30 pm in the Bronco gym.

Boise State is now 4-1 in dual meet competition after defeating Weber State 25-14 last Saturday at the Bronco gym. In Action is 7-2 on the year.

It will be a full night of wrestling in the Bronco gym. Athletes in Action will have a dual from 5 pm to 6 pm followed by three matches at the same time from 6 pm until 7:30 pm.

Boise High of Boise will wrestle Pocatello, Capital of Boise will go against Highland High School and Boise State's senior team will face the College of Idaho. All of those matches will be run at the same time in the gym.

The Boise State first team will then face Athletes in Action at 7:30 pm.

"Athletes in Action will be the strongest team we will meet this year," commented Bronco mat wrestling head coach Moe Staley. "They have three All-Americans, two East and West team now, but before they split up into two teams, they just lost one dual meet in six years."

"There will be three or four national champions, right now, on this team. Gene Davis, the coach, was on the U.S. Olympic team. He will be wrestling at 150 lbs. for them," Young said.

AIA compiled an 11-1 record last year, losing only to Oklahoma State, 18-17 at Stillwater.

Wrestling for the Broncos against AIA this Friday will be: 118-Jack Seren; 126-to be determined; 134-Tom Harrington; 142-Jeff Howell; 150-Dan Warren or Randy Watson; 158-Dave Chandler; 167-Greg Leonard; 177-Rory Swanson (BSC) pin Kim Peterson in the third period.

Boise, with the pin, floored the Wildcats at last Saturday night to prove their dominance in the Big Sky wrestling.

Peterson was on top of Bittick on a couple of occasions but couldn't dislodge the BSC sophomore as he rolled on to his eighth straight pin.

Two valuable decisions came out of Jeff Howell at 142 and Rory Needs at 177 helped the Broncos. They won 16-2 and 15-1 respectively.

BSC shares second place in conference, split pair on road with NAU and Weber Splitting a pair of games on the road last weekend dropped the Boise State cagers into a second place tie with Gonzaga in the Big Sky Conference standings.

BSC drubbed the Northern Arizona University Aztecs 73-65 in Flagstaff, then had the tables turned on Saturday night when defending league champion Weber State held off the Broncos 66-49 in Ogden, Utah.

Coach Bittick of Idaho State University leads the conference with a perfect 4-0 season mark while BSC and Gonzaga are each 3-1. Weber State and Montana State are even at 2-2 thus far and Montana and Idaho both have 1-3 records. NAU holds down the cellar spot with an 0-4 showing.

Boise State edged out Hawaii, LSU and Canisius. The Wildcats, suffering from a little bit of fan abuse because of the defeat, got back on the track and derailed the Broncos 66-49 Saturday night.

"It was a must game for them," said assistant BSC coach But Golden, "and they won."

Boise State ran the same offense against Weber as they did against NAU. "They (Weber) are a better team than NAU," Golden commented. "They jumped higher and we did get more rebounds."

Northern Arizona had foul trouble which sent guards Nate Payne and Emerson Gordon to the bench along with Keith Middleton. Before the night was over, the Aztecs were whistled for 32 infractions as compared with only 13 for BSC.

George Wilson, a junior college transfer from St. Louis, Mo., scored 13 points in the first half to give BSC a 41-31 halftime lead.

Freshman guard, Terry Miller converted eight of nine from the line and 13 in 32 attempts as compared with Wilson's 5-for-13. NAU had 30 of 69 for 43 percent.

SORDING: Miller 19, Wilson 17, Dickey 13, Hoke 11, Croett 5, Keyes 4, Buckingham 3.

BOISE STATE 142-Jeff Howell (BSC) dec. Reed Swenson 6-2

Coach Conerly said that he would look to the loss, got back on the track and derailed the Broncos 66-49 Saturday night.

Boise State is 81-65.

"Boise had Weber to a cold 29 percent from the field in the first half, but the Broncos gave up the 15-17 from behind the arc which put them behind 27-23 at halftime. Wilson had another good night from the field and hit 19 points to even Steve Flemming's performance for the host team."

SORDING: Wilson 17, Dickey 19, Hoke 14, Croett 10, Crockett 4; Buckingham, Miller and Frazier 2.

The BSC hoopsters have put three points on the national scene recently when statistics on field goals came out last week. Rated seventh in that department, the Broncos edged out Hawaii, LSU and Canisius.

Boise is enjoying a .522 percent from the field while North Carolina, New Mexico, Notre Dame, Maryland, Wisconsin and UNC Charlotte top the list of the best in the country.

Boise State baseball meeting slated, intramurals begin Varisty baseball will have a meeting for those interested in playing for Boise State this spring. Head coach Ross Vaughn announced the time will be 7 pm, Thursday, January 18. Tryouts will be held at the end of the month and the lineup, consisting of two men and two women will play their matches in the SUB.
