Students eagerly awaiting the final vote come of the Senate vote deciding the name change from Boise State College to Boise State University. The Senate voted in favor of the name change 32-2.

State legislature OK’s BSC university status

A gallery packed with Boise State students watched nervously last Friday as the State Senate debated and finally passed, 32-2, Senate Bill 1280 changing the name of BSC to Boise State University. The bill will go before the House sometime this week. The bill was moved to the floor of the Senate after the committee, the first reading dispensed with earlier in the afternoon because of a motion by Phil Burt, R-Weiser. But, he reminded his fellow senators that not only the students in the gallery, but also the students driving the rotunda, were anxiously awaiting the legislator's decision.

A bill to increase the maximum penalty for possession, sale, or manufacture of controlled substances and narcotics has been introduced in the Idaho State Senate. The bill, Senate Bill 1319, would provide for a maximum penalty of life imprisonment and a $25,000 fine.

The bill was introduced by Senator Dane Watkins of Idaho Falls to “prevent Idaho from becoming a drug haven.” He mentioned similar penalties for possession and sale in New York as a possible cause for an influx of "pushers into Idaho."

Among its other provisions, the bill would make the possession of marijuana a felony with a maximum penalty of three years and $10,000.

The bill will be considered by the Senate Judiciary and Rules Committee this week and could move to the floor of the Senate by Friday of this week or the early part of next week.

New York recently passed a law which is almost identical to the bill introduced by Senator Watkins. The New York law was the first time in several years that penalties for possession of controlled substances have been increased by any state.
Harsher drug penalties questioned

The effort made by the Idaho State Senator from Idaho Falls, Dane Watkins, to tighten up our drug control laws is certainly noteworthy. However, after reading the bill he has offered, one is left with several questions:

Over the past few years, law enforcement agencies have shown increasing reluctance to seek out and arrest marijuana users. Once arrested, the violators are usually prosecuted in a "we don't like this but we have to do it" manner. Many prosecuting attorneys and police officials have openly supported liberalization of marijuana penalties. Considering this attitude, one wonders whether Senator Watkins objective is to encourage stricter drug law enforcement or to discourage.

Senator Watkins explained in his statement of purpose which accompanied the bill that the legislation would have no financial impact on the state. With the increased penalty and the stigma of a felony conviction hanging over them, fewer people will be willing to enter guilty pleas. With more people demanding trials, the cost of administering the drug laws will surely increase.

Fox questions day-light savings time's worth

Editor, the Arbiter: I guess by now you've noticed how dark it is in the morning. This is because of the new time we're on. I would like to know just one thing. What good does it do?

It seems to me they have everything mixed up. During the winter when it's cold, I like to get up and go to school with the sun shining. It's a long walk from the Tower to the Liberal Arts Building and with the sun up it seems later than 7-40.

But they say it will help conserve energy. I don't see how. All the electricity we use in the evening, we'll use in the morning. I think there's another idea too. About all those poor grade-school kids who have to walk to school in the dark. I think people should have some consideration for them. I could be wrong. It was wrong according to Miss, Mrs., Mr. Box?) But I don't see what good day-light savings time is doing.

One of the required courses to graduate in sociology is Senior Seminar. I have no complaints with any of the other requirements in the field nor do the professors who teach the courses including Social Research which Dr. Dorman also teaches. However, I do have a complaint about Senior Seminar which is a two unit course. Dr. Dorman, the professor, greeted us (the students) our first class of the semester with "Welcome to the Torture Chamber." She then proceeded to tell us of the voluminous work that she "required" to complete the course.

In three different class periods various students challenged and questioned the rationale of some of her "demands." The numerous complaints centered not on what she wanted us to learn but on the amount and the way she wanted it presented. The culmination of these discussions resulted in a few token changes which resulted in the same amount of work. She stated from a student's point of view means quantity and not quality learning. Her final comment in regard to the matter was: "While participatory democracy is fine in theory it is not very useful in practice. You should understand that participation is not a very useful strategy."

One of the greatest teachers I ever had said, "Unless the student supposes, the teacher there is no learning." If we do not claim to know as much as you. Dr. Dorman, I can say with confidence that you do not have all the right answers. Can we share our knowledge, wisdom and experience and find a solution to our "required" two unit course (which is Sociology)? I do not think they are desirous of. They are interested in knowing your feelings on matters especially those specifically relating to Boise State.

I have the names, Boise addresses and phone numbers, and home addresses and home numbers of all the members of the legislature. If you would care to request a representative, contact me, and I will supply you with the necessary information.

My office phone is 385-1547. The office is on the west side of the first floor of the SUB, in the ASBO offices.

Sincerely,
Joni Rand, Director

Dorman's torture chamber

An open letter to Dr. Patricia Dorman:

What does a teacher do when a teacher requests too much work for a course? Let me explain, but first a little about my background.

I resigned from a $10,000 a year job to return to college to continue studying. I will finally be graduating this spring. I'm 29 years old and my husband and I have been married for 8 years. While attending BSU I have received "A's" in all of my classes last year. Fuel costs skyrocketed 20 per cent. Interest rates hit new heights, with banks charging 10 to 15 per cent. And prices are expected to continue to so this year.

The oil shortage has forced layoffs in the air, automobile, petrochemical, and tourist industries. This has caused a climax reaction, which could boost unemployment to seven per cent by this year. It even seems to me to be overstated for those who keep such things.

The inestimable result will be a drop in personal income, a pick up in interest and inflation, a drive to cut back in purchases. All these factors add up to a recession and depression, incredibly, at the same time.

The Senate, however, was the first of two hurdles in the achievement of our ultimate goal. We must now go to the House of Representatives and seek final approval. The vote, Grossman probably will be the latter part of this week.

I am talking with the Senate and Representatives, I find that they are interested in hearing Boise State. If you would care to request a representative, contact me, and I will supply you with the necessary information.

My office phone is 385-1547. The office is on the west side of the first floor of the SUB, in the ASBO offices.

Sincerely,
Joni Rand, Director
Boise State University Library

WASHINGTON—Politics is an uncertain science. But our own public studies indicate that the Republicans may be actually wiped out at the polls this year. Environmentalist groups, like Sen. Barry Goldwater, are predicting that Watergate will cost the GOP about five per cent loss in November. The only way the voters will register a protest against Nixon is to vote against the Republican candidates for Congress.

But the greatest threat to the GOP is the economic outlook. Food costs shot up 19 per cent last year. Fuel costs skyrocketed 20 per cent. Interest rates hit new heights, with banks charging 10 to 15 per cent. And prices are expected to continue to so this year.

The oil shortage has forced layoffs in the air, automobile, petrochemical, and tourist industries. This has caused a climax reaction, which could boost unemployment to seven per cent by this year. It even seems to me to be overstated for those who keep such things.
Few concerned people show to discuss parking problems

Wednesday, January 23, there was a meeting of a few concerned people to discuss the infamous BSC traffic rules and parking "problem". Regrettably, those people who seemed at first to be the most interested, neglected to show up. Those who were present finally received some answers and a few more questions from the "powers that be."

Present at the meeting were Dennis Parry, Senator from the School of Arts and Sciences and a temporary member of the Apellate Traffic Court, Mark Welch also a Senator from Arts and Sciences and a temporary member of the Traffic Court, Cher Himrod, member of the Traffic Court, Mr. Gordon Phillips, Coordinator of Administrative Services, his assistant Ms. Vonda Nielsen, and Vice President of Financial Affairs, Mr. Roger Green.

Mr. Green began by discussing the question of legality of the whole traffic mess. He said that a statement issued by previous state Attorney General James Hargis indicated that BSC does have the authority to decide on a system of parking regulations. He did concide that there is some question about the legality of holding up registration for sale of decals it seems just barely cover the cost of the operation with the last fiscal year bringing in close to $15,000. Expenses include payment of the Traffic Control Officer (there is only one at the present time and his salary is fixed by the State Personnel Commission) and the printing of parking decals and the parking regulation pamphlet. Last year there was $1,200 left over to begin this fiscal year. This does not include the salaries of either Mr. Phillips or Ms. Nielsen. Currently Mr. Phillips is looking for another traffic control officer on the work study program.

It seems that the change in policy must come through either or both the Faculty and Student Senates. Now it is up to you, the students and faculty to approach the problems sensibly and unsympathetically. Any solution must be a workable compromise.

Activities scheduled for groups

A wide range of activities is being planned for the month of February by numerous organizations on the Boise State campus.

Alpha Chi Omega social chairman Shasta Cason said the Alpha Chi’s will hold their annual Valentine’s party on February 13. Shana Norsen was installed as the new president of that organization on February 4.

Dana Bell, president of Alpha Kappa Pi, said they plan to hold a poker tournament at 8 p.m. on February 10 to raise funds for Leukemia research.

Alpha Phi’s annual fundraising event, the 2nd annual winter fling, will be held on February 12. The Alpha Phi’s will also plan an exchange with the local community later in the month.

February 12th tickets $60
March 3rd. An invitational show. The collection was designed to present some of the exciting things that are happening with fabrics and textiles in the hands of creative craftsmen.

The techniques may sound familiar (crocheted, woven, knitted, quilted, knotted, dyed, batik, printed, etc.), but they are secondary to the concepts they are used to express. The art fabric has become in the past few years an important area in the art field, as this exhibition clearly demonstrates. Highly individualistic work, competence, and color keynote the show. As for the objects, they range from those as truly practical and useful as a handwoven blanket or a knotted lace scarf, to such fantasies as "Flip Airlines," an assemblage of stitched and stuffed fine knotted design.
Channel 4 presents classics from 40's and 50's on KAID

Movie buffs, the time has come for you to gather round, your trusty 1941 radio, and get comfortable with a bowl of popcorn and your favorite beverage nearby and tune the channel to 4. It's 7 pm and time for CLASSIC FILM FESTIVAL hosted by Bob Patterson. These are the movies from the 40's and 50's - movies you may not remember much about, but your parents will.

Gene Tierney and Dana Andrews star in the story of a haunting woman, "Laura" on February 12. Otto Preminger produced and directed this billiant mystery which stars Vincent Price, Clifton Webb and Judith Anderson.

Bogart fans will enjoy "Casablanca" on February 19. Humphrey Bogart, Ingrid Bergman, Peter Lorre, Paul Henreid and Claude Rains take major roles in this film set in Nazi Europe during World War II. The eternal triangle with the added attraction of the building set the stage for "Blood and Sand" seen on Channel 4 February 26. This movie won an academy award for Best Supporting Actor in this film take off rising roles in this movie to be seen February 9.

The dashing hero of many an adventure film, Errol Flynn stars in "Captain Blood" scheduled for February 16. This is the story of rebellion, slave trade, piracy and of course, love, with Olivia de Havilland, Basil Rathbone and J. Carroll Nash.

It is hardly possible to do justice in a synopsis to the action, excitement and thrill of THE FIGHTING 69th on February 23. But in essence it is the story of the 69th regiment of the Rainbow Division, whose record for heroism is part of our national tradition. Jimmy Cagney, Pat O'Brien, George Brent and Allan Hale make out the cast. Time for these films is 10 pm Saturdays.

So you can see, movies are better than ever on KAID-TV.

Guest lecturer to speak on black history

Professor Roy V. Smith of San Jose State University will be a guest on campus on February 12, 1974, in honor of Black History Week. Professor Smith, who has taught in the black studies department at San Jose for four years, will give a lecture at 7:30 pm in the Big Four room of the Student Union. His topic will be "A New Perspective on History." Professor Smith will be hosted by the department of history and the honors program can count on the lecture as fulfilling the credit.

Greece and Italy study tour for three hours credit at BSC

Here is the perfect way to mix study with pleasure. On June 14, 1974, Mr. Andrew B. Schoedinger, Instructor of Philosophy at BSC and Ms. Blossom Schlaeger, Advanced Humanities instructor at Borah High School will leave with 30 students for a study tour of Greece and Italy.

The group will be based in Athens. From there an archetypical tour is scheduled. It will include visits to Tripolis, Sparta, Olymipa, Argina, Itea, Delphi and Ossios Lucas.

Also the week we will spent sailing the Aegean Sea. Visits to Crete, Santorini, Rhodes, Egean, Delos and Myconos are on the agenda. This cruise will also include a stopover in Istanbul. All in all, the group will spend three weeks in Greece.

The fourth week will be spent in Italy. The majority of time will be divided between Rome and Florence. The trip from Rome to Florence will include visits to Spoleto, Assisi, Perugia, and Arezzo.

In addition to touring historical sites and visiting theatres and other cultural spots, the group will meet daily for lecture-discussion sessions. Participating students will be expected to maintain a journal-notebook of their experiences. The emphasis will be on philosophy, history, literature, and art. Philosophy credit will be given at BSC under Special Topics. Ancient Greek Philosophy (PY-297).

Total cost for each student, including all transportation (excluding tours), hotels, meals, and admission to points of interest will be $1495. This price does not include the tuition expense at BSC.

Selection of students must be made by March 10. Those students interested in this rewarding way to satisfy a portion of the Humanities requirement at BSC please contact Mr. Schoedinger (LA-106C, telephone 385-1474).

The night before, at the Dickson Center, Boise State fans gathered to watch the Boise State basketball team take on Idaho State. The game was crucial for both teams, with Boise State looking to regain confidence after a recent loss, and Idaho State aiming to break into the conference tournament. The atmosphere was electric, with fans packed into the seats and the noise level reaching a peak.

Boise State survived a late comeback attempt by the Idaho State Bengals, clinging to a 44-42 win. The game was a seesaw battle, with neither team able to maintain a significant lead. Boise State had the ball with 0.5 seconds left, but a missed shot from Joe Keyes sealed the victory for the Broncos.

Boise State fans were jubilant, with many reporting that the game had been a turning point for the season. The victory was particularly sweet for Bryan Hales, who had been on the team for four years and had never been to the NCAA tournament.

Boise State's victory was a testament to the team's resilience and determination. The Broncos played with heart and intensity, and their hard work paid off in the end. The team's next test will be against Utah State, and fans are already eagerly anticipating the match.

Gymnasts still reign

Boise State University gymnasts had a successful weekend at the College Gymnastics Invitational in Missoula, Montana. The women's team placed 11th overall, with the men's team finishing 14th.

The women's team was led by senior Rebecca Doan, who won the vault and uneven bars. Junior Ginger Sylvester placed second on the floor exercise and third on the balance beam. The men's team was led by freshman Ben Barden, who won the floor exercise and was third on the pommel horse.

The Boise State gymnastics program continues to be a competitive force in the region, with athletes performing at a high level on a consistent basis. The team's hard work and dedication are evident in their performances, and fans can look forward to more exciting events in the future.

Zags, Vandals ahead

The Boise State women's basketball team faced off against Idaho State on Saturday night, and the game was a thrilling contest. Boise State emerged victorious with a 44-42 win, propelling them into second place in the Big Sky Conference.

The game was closely contested, with both teams putting up a solid fight. Boise State's defense was particularly strong, holding Idaho State to just 42 points. The Broncos were led by senior Jacob Keyes, who scored 14 points and grabbed 11 rebounds.

The men's basketball team also had a successful weekend, with a 44-42 win over Idaho State. The game was a hard-fought contest, with both teams putting up a solid fight. Boise State's defense was particularly strong, holding Idaho State to just 42 points. The Broncos were led by senior Jacob Keyes, who scored 14 points and grabbed 11 rebounds.

Skiers thwarted

Montana State, led by Tim Anell, outscored all contenders in the First Annual Northern University Ski Meet at Flagstaff.

Anell was named the top skier of the meet by winning the final slalom in 424.52 seconds and tying for first in the regular slalom with Larry Brooks of New Mexico with a time of 60.51 seconds.

Boise was sixth all around, beating out only Westminster of Utah.

Women clout Idaho schools to earn title

I was especially pleased with the women's B team," praised variety women's cage coach Connie Thorngren.

The Boise State B squad clobbered Ricks 73-22, Idaho State 74-39 and Ricks (C) 64-44 to win the Style Championship in their division.

The A squad also won the championship in its division by bombing the College of Idaho 84-48, Northwest Nazarene College 60-40 and Ricks 59-42.

Penny Gillipsy was named the outstanding player of the Style Tournament with an average of 22 points per game.

Colts travel to north Idaho for cage battles

The Colts will be on the road Feb. 8 and 9 with Idaho and North Idaho College.

The BSC jayvies were clobbered last Friday night in a preliminary to the varsity game by Ricks College 79-66.

Five Vikings, led by Vern Benson with 18, hit double figures as Chris Binder and Kit Newell had 16 and 14 respectively for BSC.

Grapplers stun foes in conference dual victories

by Tony McLean

Boise State's strong wrestling team clobbered Idaho State 27-12 Friday and then Weber State Saturday by 36-11 to make the drive leading all scorers with 18, hit double figures as Chris Binder and Kit Newell had 16 and 14 respectively for BSC.

Win over Weber State brought the Bronco's dual meet mark to 9-1, the only loss coming at the hands of Brigham Young University.

Against ISU, the Bengals showed strength by winning the first three weights, including one over defending Big Sky champ Tom Harrington by Straight. BSC then won the next six decisions.

142 - Jeff Howell dec. 12-2
150 - Randy Watson dec. 12-1
167 - Greg Leonard dec. 14-12
177 - Rory Needs dec. 10-0
190 - Vance Casperson dec. 10-3
285 - Mark Bittick - forfeit

In the win over Weber State, Bittick scored a pin as did Howell and Needs.

126 - Hatten dec. 7-4
134 - Harrington - forfeit
142 - Howell - pin
158 - Chandler dec. 12-2
167 - Leonard dec. 904
177 - Needs - pin
190 - Casperson - draw 4-4
285 - Bittick - pin

Mark Hatten, on top for BSC, won 7-6 against Weber State.

Synchronized swim added to PE Department

Ann Gibson has been fighting a losing battle since 1963, but continues to stove for support in synchronized swimming, a new course recently added to the physical education department.

The one-credit class was one of the few PE courses not to get swamped during registration. No doubt some students passed it up because they didn't know what it was all about.

"I think that is possible," said Gibson, "since the ten people I have in my class now, knew something about it when they registered. But I am willing to instruct people without previous experience - that's what it's all about."

Synchronized swimming is not to be confused with the art of water ballet, however. The latter is the showy form of underwater stunts in formation, usually with costumes.

A recognized Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) sport, synchronized swimming is a comparative sport, similar to free exercise in gymnastics. It is restricted by rules and guidelines set forth by the AAU.

Brigham Young, Utah, Arizona and other Western Athletic Conference schools have had synchro swimming as a part of their athletic program for many years and compete regularly.

Like diving competition, synchro swimmers are graded on a 0-10 scale; 10 being perfection and 0 being not acceptable.

Mrs. Ann Gibson is doing this as a volunteer simply because she has tried in vain so long and is satisfied with seeing some headway made. When asked if she was a special lecturer, Gibson replied, "No, I don't know what my title is. The class is under Jean Boyles' name."

Gibson will instruct again next semester and hopes more people will be aware and interested in synchro swimming. Give yourselves a boost out there, readen, get involved in something new and challenging. Show Mrs. Gibson synchro swimming is not a losing battle in Boise or anywhere else.
