ACT statement eliminated, full-time status scholarship basis

Financial need will no longer be a consideration in awarding academic scholarships at BSC. The Faculty Senate, in their February 7 meeting, voted to discontinue use of the ACT Family Financial Statement wherever possible. This was done at the recommendation of the Faculty Scholarship Awards Committee, created by the Senate to establish guidelines for "the fair and equitable distribution of institutional scholarship monies."

This will make scholarships "in the true sense of the word" a reality at BSC, according to William Belknap, chairman of the Scholarship Awards Committee. He explained to the senate that in the past, BSC has been tied to federal scholarship money, and federal regulations for its distribution. The feeling now, however, is that institutional monies are sufficient to support a scholarship program.

Since the guidelines for some scholarships specify that a student's financial need be considered, this change in procedure applies only to institutional scholarships. These are funded from within the college. For example, $3 from every $178 paid at registration is used to support these scholarships.

Student funding of these scholarships became an issue when the committee's second proposal to distribute money on the basis of full-time enrollment in each department was presented.

Senator Giles Maloof said this proposal did not make adequate provision for the Graduate School, and suggested that scholarship monies be awarded to the Graduate School "on the basis of the number of program graduate students graduating this spring to the Graduate School "on the basis of the number of program graduate students carried on the graduate school record at the time of the allocation."

Another senator protested that most graduate students are only taking six credits per semester. It would not be fair, he said, to give them scholarships paid for by full-time students. Senator Willa Barnes, who sponsored both of the Scholarship committee's proposals, stressed that any formula devised for distributing scholarship monies should be based on full-time enrollment "consistent with the payment of full-time fees."

Senator Maloof said that his proposal was justified because "graduate students have been paying taxes longer and will be in a position to affect the political process sooner." His amendment was defeated.

On Friday Governor Cecil Andrus will sign into law a bill granting University status to Boise State. To commemorate the event, Andrus will hold a ceremony on campus. The bill signing will be at 12:15 pm in the SUB Ballroom.

Last week the House amended and approved the measure creating Boise State University upon signature by the Governor. The Senate, who had earlier passed the unamended bill before an audience of 300 Boise State students, approved the amendment on Thursday.

The amendment provides for students graduating this spring to graduate with "university" on their diplomas. The bill before the House would have gone into effect July 1, 1974. The bill passed the Senate with almost no opposition, but met some resistance in the House of Representatives.

Barnes abides PSP decision

President Barnes has promised to abide by the decision the Faculty Senate makes today regarding his President's Scholarship Program.

If approved, PSP, now being referred to at the Experimental Advanced Placement Program, will allow gifted students to bypass institutional requirements and graduate in three years.

According to Barnes and PSP sponsor Bill Mech, innovative programs like this, which allow the gifted students more flexibility in their choice of curriculum, will stop the Idaho "brain drain."

The senate meeting, open to everyone, will begin at 2:30 pm today in the Student Senate Chambers on the second floor of the SUB. Senate Chairman Frank Stark has announced that anyone wishing to speak to the motion should submit a written request to him prior to the meeting.

Here we go again

About this time each year dozens of Boise State students announce that they are planning to seek election to a student senator or senator position. Each year the aspiring officials proclaim the same commitments at their presentations and sound the same wording. And, at the end of their year, many of them leave office without having achieved their objectives.

To their places move a new crop of officials who usually support the same ideals as they had, and when the end of their term rolls around, can claim about the same results.

There are however a few exceptions to this pattern. A few people do achieve a lot after their first year. Some say on... and put what they have learned to good use. The longer they are involved with student affairs the more knowledge they have and more useful they become.

As a rule however, most student senators will not return for a second term. It is largely the result of this annual flow of talent and experience that has caused the ineffectiveness that has always been a part of student government.

It is beginning to appear that this year will not be significantly different from past years. A number of senators have announced that they are going to run for the Vice President or President's office, but most will probably drop out of student affairs altogether. And with them will go the knowledge and experience that would enable them to make significant contributions to the welfare of Boise State students. And in their place will come a new crop of...

Barnes takes exception to editorial

Editor, the Arbiter:

Your editorial last week seems to leave the impression that calm tranquility is an ideal on a college campus and, frankly, I doubt that this institution or any other ever has such tranquility or desires it. Any time an institution involves students, faculty, administrators, alumni, Board members, Legislatures, and others in its decision making, it can rarely expect major decisions to be made in a tranquil environment.

Debate, in fact, is highly desirable on a modern college campus so long as the debate can deal with principles and policies as opposed to personalities.

I believe that you misunderstood the State Board's action on two matters. First of all, the Board did not disapprove our tenure-recommendations. They accepted the tenure recommendations fully and, in fact, made a decision at the Board meeting to more specifically indicate that all students and faculty who would be engaged in tenure review and tenure evaluation decisions. If you will recall, we asked that such a percentage be stated rather than leave it up to the institutions to determine what constituted an equitable ratio of faculty to students. You also misunderstood the Board's statement regarding the Board's role in the review process for academically superior students. The Board was not asked to direct or to participate in the process, provided the method at some point in the faculty structure approval is received for the broad concept, a faculty committee will be assigned the responsibility to develop the details for implementing the idea. About 161 institutions nationally have such programs and they vary a great deal in nature. Once the whole debate focuses on the merits of the concept and the details of how the concept could be implemented, another innovative opportunity for students will be presented at Boise State. This institution has a unique leader in independent study, for undergraduates, in internships for the State legislators, and for graduate students, in the CLEP exams, and in other opportunities for students to participate in the institution at their own rate and follow some of their own interests. None of these kinds of experiments are achieved without debate and debate and debate can be an improved opportunity for students to learn.

Cordially,

John B. Barnes

Editor, the Arbiter:

I read in the Arbiter where they're going to make Boise State into a university. I think this is really neat.

I first came to BSC because it was cheaper than ISU or the U of I. Also, I didn't like ISU because it is in the winter. The U of I has to many hills to climb. So, I decided to come to BSC.

And I'm really glad I did. Now that they're changing it, I'll be able to take the same classes at the U of I and the U of I without having to pay more money. And from what

Student support pot bill

Editor, the Arbiter,

Last week the staff took it upon themselves to find out whether there were people on campus who were in favor of the Senate Bill 1319 sponsored by Senator Watkins to make possession of marijuana a felony. They said that they were unable to find anyone who was willing to admit that they favor this measure.

This may sever my chances for political relationship with the students of this institution, but I for one am in favor of this bill. I can't find any analogy to make anyone opposed to my idea for those who are wrong, but I also am not in my views. Perhaps the innocent-eyed conservatives such as I who in our ivory towers cannot condone the use of illegal substances.

Opposition to Scholar Program

Editor, the Arbiter,

Open letter to Barnes, Mech and the rest of the Ivory Tower Set:

Dear Sirs,

After considerable study of the President's Scholars Program I am not prepared to accept the requests of students and faculty who would be engaged in tenure review and tenure evaluation decisions. If you will recall, we asked that such a percentage be stated rather than leave it up to the institutions to determine what constituted an equitable ratio of faculty to students. Student raps

Editor, the Arbiter,

I was disappointed to see that even though the Arbiter came out on Feb. 14 this week the staff did not think it wise to wish the paper's readers and supporters a "Happy Valentine's Day." It seems to me there are enough opportunities to wish people well, and none should be ignored.

Applications for RA's, ARA's due March 15

The Office of Student Residential Life announced this week that the deadline for applying for Resident Advisor and Assistant Resident Advisor is March 15. Applications may be obtained in Room 110 of the Administration Building.

The Resident Advisor and Assistant Resident Advisor's responsibilities include counseling students, refereeing, and serving as a liaison between various campus services and assisting new students in their orientation on campus. They are to know each resident on their floor or wing so they can recognize individuals who may need special help with personal problems, study skills, work load and educational plans. They are also concerned about eliminating distractions during study hours, protecting students' property, hall property, and roommates, as well as assisting each resident with adjustment problems.

The Resident Advisor position is open to students of sophomore or higher class standing. The Assistant Resident Advisor position is open to persons of second semester freshman or higher standing. Both positions require a $200 GPA. Renumeration for a Resident Advisor is room and board and a stipend of $25 a month. Assistant Resident Advisors receive their room free. All interested persons are encouraged to apply and invited to attend.

BSU debaters take second

Boise State's three-year domination of the sweepstakes trophy in the Intermountain Speech and Debate Conference Tournament has been broken by Idaho State University of Pocatello. The recently completed tournament was held on the Boise State campus.

The tournament determined the Idaho State champions in a variety of competitive speaking events and the best team overall. Boise State took second among the eight Idaho teams competing. Six out-of-state schools also competed.

Participating Idaho schools in addition to BSC and ISU included North Idaho College, Coeur d'Alene; Ricks College, Rexburg; Lewis-Clark State College, Lewiston; University of Idaho, Moscow; College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls; and Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa.

Graduation applications due March 1

If you are planning to graduate in May, applications must be completed and filed with the Registrar by March 1. Applications are available in the bookstore. A fee of $5.15 is required with the submission of the application. The fee covers the cost of the graduation certificate, folder, and reception.

A fee of $4.95 is also required to cover the cost of cap and gown rental, for those participating in Commencement exercises, May 19, at 2:00 p.m. in the Bronco Stadium. This fee is due by March 30th, and can be paid in the Bookstore.

For further assistance phone the registrar's office, 385-1532, or Rod McKuen in '73 cold-drill '74.

Any interested student is urged to contact Dr. Pat Bieter in Room 218-D of the library as soon as possible.

Openings still available for Spain campus program

Although the final deadline for enrollment in the Spain campus program was February 15th, there are still a few days left for anyone still interested in signing up.

According to Dr. Pat Bieter, BSC's history professor and faculty organizer for the program, 60 students have already enrolled on a first come, first served basis. A ten-day extension has been added to the deadline to accommodate last minute enrollment of 200 students who had been originally planned to include classes, faculty, and students. The program is designed to "give students an opportunity to live in, study, and interact with a culture somewhat different from our own." The campus will be located in the center of the Spanish town of Oviedo and will be comprised of BSC faculty members specializing in history, literature, politics, and business.

Boise State students are involved in 'Fiddler On The Roof'

by John Elliott

There have been few plays written in the last millennium, or so, that give to an audience the true thrill of life that FIDDLER ON THE ROOF has given. A musical-drama which opened in New York, and later became the longest running musical on Broadway, FIDDLER is the story of oppressed people and their struggles to survive.

Set in Czarist Russia, the music projects the era and the trends of that time in a way that mere words cannot. The Boise, Idaho production of this classic musical promises to be a venture of love from the artists to the community. The production involves people from all walks of life, be they rich, poor, old or young, the people are the show and the show is the life of the art they are striving to generate.

Several former and present Boise State students are working in this production, and at the risk of sounding categoric here is a list: David Kinmer, Mark Teledo, Pat Boyington, Pat Nance, Cecily Tippery, Bea Eichmann, John Eichmann, Cory Rowland, Sam Johnson, Patrie Braasfield, Jim Bottoms, Judy Roberts, Lily

Nurses to get-together

March 1, 1974

The Department of Nursing is planning a get-together for graduates on Friday, March 1st from 4:00 to 6:00 pm in the Nez Perce room of the SUB. It will be a casual drop-in affair— a chance to meet and chat with Dr. JoAn Peters, Head of the Department of Nursing, and especially an opportunity to hear about the new Baccalaureate nursing program which has been funded by the Kellogg Foundation. You will also discuss the Baccalaureate Program plans from 5:00 to 5:30 pm.

Chosen but once and cherished forever, your engagement and wedding rings will reflect your love in their brilliance and beauty. Happily you can choose Keepsake with complete confidence, because the guarantee assures perfect clarity, precise cut and fine, white color. There is no finer diamond ring.
Recipes with ‘musical fruit’

Here are some recipes with ‘musical fruit’ from the film ‘Ten Days That Shook the World’.

Baked Bean Chowder

2 cups chicken broth
1 small onion, chopped
1/2 cups canned tomatoes
1 lb. can baked beans, in tomato sauce
2 cups water
1 medium potato, diced
Fry diced bacon until light brown, add chopped onion and summer 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and season with salt and pepper to taste. Simmer gently one hour. Serve hot.

Shake the World Soup

Wash and soak overnight in a large kettle, 1 pound dried beans (green peas, great northern or navy) in water to cover. Next morning, add water to make 5 quarts. Simmer 2 hours with some meat on it (a meaty, sizable ham hock may be substituted). Simmer about 2 hours or until beans begin to mush. Add 3 medium potatoes which have been cooked and mashed each chopped onion and celery, and 2 cloves minced garlic. Simmer 1 hour longer. Serve with salt and pepper. Makes about 7 quarts.

Russian movies presented February 22 at Boise State

On Friday, February 22, Boise State will have the rare opportunity to view two of Russia’s revered masters of the cinema. In 1927, Sergei Eisenstein and Vassilii Pudovkin were commissioned by their government to make films commemorating the 10th anniversary of the October Revolution. The Film Forum Committee is pleased to be able to present both of these works for the audience’s comparisons of style, technique, themes and content.

Pudovkin’s. The End of St. Petersburg, is primarily concerned with emotional content. He focuses on the individual who personifies the masses. The events center around a family; thus being a more personal light revealing the cataclysmic events affecting the people with whom we are involved.

In Eisenstein’s, Ten Days That Shook the World, the epic of the masses evokes an almost mythical quality of the Russian Revolution. Eisenstein’s editing is as brilliant here as in the Odessa Steps sequence of Peterkin. Highly expressive and elaborate symbolism communicate abstract political thought, in Eisenstein’s intellectual cinema.

While this film was being shot the breach between Stalin and Trotsky resulted in the latter’s exile. The release of the film was delayed five months while Eisenstein was forced to change history by editing Trotsky out of the Revolution. This was only one of many difficulties which Eisenstein would encounter with the government throughout his career.

See both of these cinema classics, February 22, at 8:00 pm in LA 106 at a no admission charge.}

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VETERANS OF BOISE STATE COLLEGE

I know the difficulties and hardships encountered by many veterans in trying to cope with rising education and living costs. While these costs face all students, perhaps they weigh heaviest on the veteran. I feel that the Congress must conduct a re-evaluation of present education and readjustment benefits as they meet current employment demands. As a member of the Senate Veterans Committee, I hope to assist in this. What changes, if any, should be made to the current education assistance programs? Should they include: extension of the delimiting date to the present “GI Bill.”

Helping the veteran in his transition from military to gainful civilian life is as valid today as it was after World War II. As the needs of our country change, so also do the needs of our veterans change, and the veteran’s educational assistance programs must reflect such changes. I feel that the Congress must conduct a re-evaluation of present education and adjustment benefits as they meet current employment and veterans needs. As a member of the Senate Veterans Committee, I hope to assist in this. What changes, if any, should be made to the current education assistance programs? Should they include: extension of the delimiting date, or establishment of an additional extension period, or extension of entitlement, increase in the veteran’s education assistance program? All these items are to be evaluated later this spring when the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee opens hearings on the veterans education bills: S. 147, S. 2784, S. 2786, and S. 2789.

Fair and just legislation can only be reached after allowing for all divergent facts and opinions to be aired in hearings open to everyone. You, who have served and risked your lives in the cause of freedom, are entitled to a hearing on your concerns.

Sincerely,

James A. McClure
United States Senator

Broncos steal show, but lose game to U of I Vandals

by Tony McLean

The Broncos stole the show, but lost the game Friday night 53-51 to the Idaho Vandals. Boise ousted the visiting U of I, earning numerous standing ovations from the crowd of 4,003 for remarkable playmaking and good defense.

Most of the Bronco heroes came in the first half when the home team led by as much as 12-4 early in the game. Idaho finally caught up at 21-21 with 5:40 left from Wayne Indiana made a free throw. The Broncos went on to take a 33-31 intermission lead. Idaho came roaring back the second half with the scoring of guards Art Blackwell (17) and Henry Harris (14). Rick Nelson took down a game-winning 12 rebounds to aid the Vandals. The Vandals took a 3-33 edge at one point, but was as far as they could get before BSC came back again.

With paramount-pressure and tension on both sides, George Wilson missed a free shot 30 seconds left on the clock and the score 51-51. He was fouled, but missed "the first shot of one of the situation. Pat Hoke picked up the rebound. The 6.7 sophomore's attempt was blocked by 6-7 Steve Ton. Tyrone Fitzgerald picked up the ball for Idaho.

Harris tied a jumper with three seconds remaining and missed. Referees declared that Wilson committed an infraction - giving Harris two free shots from the charity stripe.

Harris converted both. Boise blazed the ball down to Dickey at mid-court where the 6-3 senior from Ft. Wayne, Indiana made a gallant try for the basket. The shot bounced hard off the rim and Idaho continued to live up to its spoiler role.

"I thought we played very well," said BSC coach head coach Bus Connor. Hoke probably had his best game as the Richland, Wash. star led the Blue and Orange with 14 points. Dickey, Terry Miller and George Wilson all added eight points apiece.

BSC: Miller 8, Dickey 8, McIlhenny 2, Costrell 6, Swanson 1, Wilson 8, Hoke 14, Keys 4, IDAHO: Blackwell 17, Harris 14, Ton 8, Weist 6, Nelson 5, Davis 3.

Halftime score: BSC 33 Idaho 31

Total fouls: Idaho 17 BSC 10

Fouled out: None Technicals: Burt Golden, BSC Ait: 4,003

"We led the whole game," said Colts head coach Mike Montgomery, "before Heath made a 30-foot jump shot to tie it up."

The desperation shot gave the Holstein IS, Bither S, Grady 4, Bronco lead swelled by 23 with 22 . 1 (1:00

Wrestlers slate dual match with Washington State

'Boon' grapplers trek to Pullman: Washington for a dual meet Thursday, February 21st before returning home for arduous practices in preparation for the Big Sky Conference championships here in Boise.

Boise State beat WSU last year in a dual and coach Mike Young feels Boise should take it again this year.

Dinello also won the Beehive Invitational in his weight. The Beehive was won by Boise State earlier this season.
The Boise State Bulldogs beat the Gonzaga Bulldogs in a game held in the Boise gym Saturday night. BSC now has a 73-66 victory over the Bulldogs in the final home game of the season. The game was a close one, but BSC managed to hold on and secure the win.

Halftime Score: BSC 39, Gonzaga 34

BSC led in the first half, scoring 39 points to Gonzaga's 34. In the second half, Gonzaga managed to tie the game at one point, but BSC pulled ahead and held on to win, scoring 34 points to Gonzaga's 33.

BSC's leading scorer was Nate Young, who scored 20 points. Gonzaga's leading scorer was Ryan Ferrin, who scored 18 points.

The Boise State defense held Gonzaga to only 13 points in the second half. BSC's defense was led by Mike Christensen, who had 15 rebounds and 10 assists.

The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams playing well. Gonzaga was led by Ryan Ferrin, who scored 18 points. BSC was led by Nate Young, who scored 20 points.

The win is a morale booster for BSC, who are currently in the thick of the conference race. The game was played in front of a sold-out crowd of over 10,000 fans, who were cheering on both teams.
