Last month an article appeared on the front page of the Arbiter concerning an announced increase in the fine for parking in a "fire lane". The week before, Dr. Barnes had requested approval from the State Board of Education to increase the fine in order to eliminate what was described as a dangerous situation. The Board was assured that the "fire lane" was necessary to insure safety. Having been thus assured, the Board

State Auditor's Office report substantiates financial misconduct by Boise State officials

The Idaho Legislative Auditor's Office released a report Monday substantiating allegations of improper financial procedures and other questionable conduct on the part of BSU officials.

The report of the special audit which was present to the Legislature's joint Finance-Appropriations Committee, by auditor Clyde Koonez, will now be sent to the State Board of Education and the Attorney General's office for their consideration and possible action.

The special audit was conducted in response to charges by a former Boise State employee, William Monagle. Monagle was employed at the institution as an internal auditor until he was dismissed for "falsification of his civil service record."

The 24 page report submitted by Kooney dealt with nearly fifty specific charges including eight incidences of alleged financial improprieties, the largest of which concerned the unauthorized diversion of $129,000 from a student fee supported bond issue to remodel the Administration

The report also contained six specific recommendations for preventing the re-occurance of the improprieties.

In response to the report, BSU President John Barnes said that than enrichment.

"where the institution has erred, I Club. wish you to know that, as president, I assure all responsibility." Dr. Barnes also expressed support for the recommendations put forth by the auditor.

the allegations Among discussed in the report were:

-Misrepresentation of two "storage rooms" in the BSU football stadium. The rooms are shown as storage rooms on the plans for the stadium, but have been carpeted and paneled and are being used by the President's BSU students.

-Payment of illegal travel allowances to three BSU officials.

-Financial operations of the Bronco Athletic Association being conducted without proper control by the BSU business office. The BAA's practice of selling tickets at $500 for two 50-yard line season tickets was also questioned.

-Improvements and repairs being done at the President's home by state employees and meeting a total of four during spring break, the Ad Hoc Committee on the President's Scholars Program has completed a preliminary progress report. According to Dr. Robert Sims, committee member, the report contains merely "rough outlines of the directions in which we will be going.".

The Ad Hoc Committee has been referring to PSP as the "time-shortened degree program," indicating their decision to concentrate on acceleration rather.

i ne committee worked againşt times, including an all-day session a deadline in order that Dr. Barnes would be able to use the reports to respond to the State Board of Education at the their - April -4 meeting. As ordered by the Board, he also used it to seek input from the other institution of higher , learning in Idaho.

> Richard Bullington, Dr. executive vice- president, presented the report to the Statewide Cirriculum Committee, composed of academic vice-presidents from state colleges and universities, yesterday.

voted to allow the requested increase.

But, instead of the crackdown that Dr. Barnes had indicated was necessary, the "fire lane" was painted over the following day and since has been used as a narrow parking lot.

When questioned concerning the status of the "fire lane", a BSU official explained that it had been learned that the City Fire Department had no interest in maintaining a "fire lane".

It therefore appears that until the a decision is made as to who established the "fire lane" and why it is needed, no fine will be issued

Results of March 14, 15 ASBSU primary elections

The ASB primary elections were held March 14 and 15. The results showed that Jon Rand and Kit Christensen will be the two presidential candidates on next weeks general election ballot.

Christensen, who received 434 of the 1,005 votes cast for president was an easy winner over second place Jon Rand with 259. Rand had a close race with Bob Hoppie who fell 13 votes short. Nance was the fourth -Use of University funds to candidate on the ballot and received 66 votes.

> The results of the vice presidential race were similar to those of the presidential with only six votes separating second and third place,

> Dave Ward received 452 votes and a place on the general ballot. Huck Hovey will be the second name of the ballot as he hardly beat out Jon Ellsworth 234 votes to 228.

Wes Scrivner's s tiffest. competition for treasurer came from write-in candidate Scott Whipple who received four votes. Scrivner was unopposed in the race with the exception of 53 write-in votes for various individuals.

From the School of Arts and Sciences the election for Senators went as follows: Kristi Kitchen, 203; Doug Gochnour, 192; Alexis Smith, 184; and John Frazier, received a substantial number of votes: Milton Smith, 22; Bob Stevenson, 9; John Steppe, 8 and Margo Hansen, 5.

According to election rules, there must be eight names on the general ballot to fill the four senate seats. This means that if the four top write-ins meet eligibility requirements their names will appear on the ballot.

Eight names will also appear on the general ballot to fill four senate seats from the School of Business. Six of the eight names were on the primary ballot. They are: Jim Crawford, 161; Dan Roberts, 152; Scott Harmon, 145; Jerry Nielson, 120; Chet Pipkin, 103 and Donald Hay, 87. The other two candidates will be picked from 31 write-ins.

Two senate seats will be filled from the School of Education. Claudia Swanson who received 90 votes and June Boucher with 72 otes will both appear on the general ballot. Berry Hope and Kendra Falen each received two write in votes and will also be on the ballot.

The School of Health Sciences has one senate seat to fill. Vicky Kirby ran unopposed and captured 29 votes in that race and write-in Randy Lee received two votes.

The same situation exists in Vo-Tech with Kenneth Butler running unopposed and receiving 98 votes. Two write-in candidates, Randy Gile and Bob O'Brien

Barnes on the spot

A lot of people have been watching and talking about Boise State President John Barnes during the past few months. Dr. Barnes has not only attracted the attention of the students and faculty of BSU, but also that of a good many influencial people around the state.

It seems that hardly a day passes without some new controversy developing, someone publicly attacking Barnes, or a news article proclaiming Barnes' villainy.

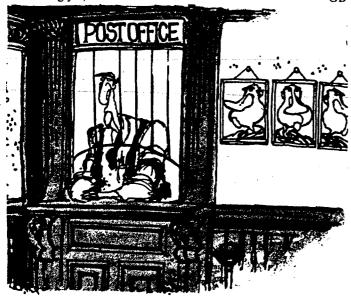

Among the most recent examples of his troubles has been the Legislative Auditor's report released this week, and the public chastising received by Barnes at the hands of the State Board of Education over the President's Scholars Program. Barnes has also been criticized for a letter he wrote to Governor Andrus expressing his concern over a proposal to prohibit any state employee from receiving a higher salary than that paid the Governor. Barnes pointed out in his letter that university presidents in some neighboring states are paid more than their counterparts in Idaho. The letter has generated a certain amount of animosity among some state officials, and legislators.

This, however, does not mean that everyone following these developments is convinced that Dr. Barnes is a villain. There are many people who would take issue with his critics, and, indeed, express support for Dr. Barnes and his

There is one fact, however, that critics and non-critics alike can agree upon. Dr. Barnes is a man caught in a spotlight. Every move he makes will be closely scrutinized.

Unfortunately, when a person is under such close scrutiny, minor stumbles are sometimes mistaken for major blunders. It would be unfortunate if, because of this intense public scrutiny, Dr. Barnes should be treated unjustly for a minor discrepancy.

Many of the accusations and criticism leveled against Dr. Barnes have been petty. They should be recognized as such and dealt with accordingly. Some of the accusations and criticisms are significant. These should also be recognized; aggresively pursued and, once proven, dealt

Voting requirements oppressing

Editor, the Arbiter:

I have been informed that I cannot vote because I do not have my activity ticket or student I.D. card.

I feel that current student voting requirements are oppressing in that they discourage students from voting. How many students bring their ID cards and activity tickets to school every day?

I would like to propose a better voting system which would encourage students to vote rather than discourage them as the present system does.

I would propose that there would be a series of polling places available to the students alphabetically. The students name, etc. would be on a list of the person in charge of the polling place. When a student voted his name would be checked off on

This improvement in our current voting procedures would encourage a better student voting turnout.

Coed ponders

Dear editor, the Arbiter:

As I was walking across the Boise State campus yesterday morning I noticed the sun was rising over the SUB. I didn't think much about it until I got back to the Towers that evening and saw the sun setting over Ann Morrison Park. What I want to know is how does the sun get over to the SUB again without going back across

Detente falling apart

The WASHINGTON Russian-American detente is becoming dangerously frayed. Secret intelligence reports warnthat the Soviets believe Secretary of State Henry Kissinger is trying to diminish their influence in the Middle East.

Suddenly, Moscow radio has started attacking Kissinger in its Arabic broadcasts. The same broadcasts warn the Arabs that all the United States really cares about is oil and that it will do nothing to curb Israel as long as it can get Arab oil.

Intelligence reports also claim that the Kremlin has brought pressure on Syria not to go to Washington for peace talks. Instead, the Kremlin wants the talks held in Geneva where its own Middle East negotiator has been waiting.

Russia not only wants a voice in the peace talks but is preparing to sabotage any agreement Kissinger works out unless Soviet interests are fully Chicom Kidnap Manual: The recent revolutionary...kidnappings; have been linked by the Central Intelligence Agency to Red China and North Korea Strictly speaking, the kidnappings weren't Peking and ordered by Pyongyang. But both countries have furnished guerilla instructors who have encouraged political kidnappings.

The kidnapping idea is found in guerrilla manuals, which the instructors have written. This is a tactic that the Chinese Communists used in their own struggle for power. At one point, they even kidnapped rival leader Chiang Kar-shek and held him for political ransom.

The Chinese manuals have become available in the United States and extracts have been printed in underground newspapers. The kidnapping of Patricia Hearst by the Symbionese Liberation Army (SLA), for example, appears to be taken right out of a Chinese text. The manual even suggests that the kidnap victim should be ransomed for food to feed the poor.

A Human Tragedy: Behind the Watergate headlines is a trage human story. Two dozen of President Nixon's closest associates have been ruined. They have either pleaded guilty or have been indicted for crimes. Yet not one has been accused of committing a crime for his own benefit. They committed the of Richard Nixon. As their reward, most of them have now been cut off from the White House. Some have gone to prison. Others are going through or preparing for agonizing trials.

Watergate crimes for the benefit

Remember how John Mitchell. the former attorney general, used to puff calmly on his pipe and assert the need for "preventive detention" and "no-knock" laws? Now he hides out not only from the press but from his friends. He lives alone in a Manhattan hotel under an assumed name. The few who have access to him say he drinks too much. He has lost his good name, his livelihood and his wife.

His successor, Richard Kleindienst, has passed the prosecutors' lie detector tests and is maintaining a stoic public image. But in private, he has been devastated by the Watergate wreckage and the damage it has done to the nation. His friends have walked into his office and have found the man in tears.

G. Gordon Liddy, the former White House undercover man, invited his superiors to hire gunmen to shoot him down in the streets. When this offer was declined, he went to jail, lips scaled, for a 20-year sentence.

Bernard Barker, the leader of the Watergate crew, came out of prison with his face partially paralyzed. Charles Colson, the combative presidential assistant, has turned to Christ.

Others also are now broken and harassed men. The human toll has tragic.

Administration criticized on parking situation at BSU

Editor, the Arbiter:

I have been a student at BSU since September, 1973, and I am finally getting around to publicly expressing my opinion of the parking situation on campus. I think it STINKS! I adamantly criticize the administration of BSU for their outrageously biased designations of parking spaces and their lack of foresightedness to this problem long ago.

As far as I am concerned, faculty, and administrators, students are all equal at BSU-there should be no favoritisms. The administrators and faculty are salaried employees of BSU-they DO NOT pay to attend BSU or to use it's facilities. We, the students, DO PAY our way through college, and we are expected to sit back and take whatever leftovers the administrators care to throw in our direction. Without us, those faculty members would not have their jobs. But, on the other hand, without the faculty we would not have BSU.

I am ashamed and disgusted to think that an accredited school, of this size and importance to it's community, has such a complete Bunni Fux lack of organization and planning.

The administration is, seemingly, disregardful of the needs and wishes of the supporting community, although they are CONSCIOUS of the problems, I cannot understand why the highly educated administrators at BSU lacked the common sense and foresightedness indicating a potential parking problem long before this.

I strongly recommend that the planners at BSU (if there ARE any) get on the ball and start allocating funds, planning parking lots adjacent to building, and building them immediately. Until they do solve this problem (after all, that's what they are paid for) I suggest that parking be "open" for students and faculty alike. After all, the majority of the faculty is not "aged or disabled" to the point of being considered handicapped. They have two feet just like the rest of us.

It is as equally important that students he on time to class as faculty. So, why in the hell should faculty be given preference over choice parking spaces? BSU's administrational statistical norm of, "We're up here and you're down there" STINKS!

Barnes subject of Faculty survey

The Faculty Senate recently conducted a survey among department chairmen to determine faculty reaction to the recent "Barnes Reprimand" by the State Board of Education. The purpose of the survey was to determine if the Faculty Senate should officially respond to the incident, and if so, what the thrust of the statement should be.

The survey was initiated because Senate Chairman Frank Stark received several phone calls after the State Board meeting requesting that the Faculty Senate take, some action. Several faculty expressed the opinion that the public censure of Barnes was inappropriate, and one question on the survey was "Do you feel the treatment was fully justified-please list as many interpretations as possible."

The Arbiter asked Stark about a rumor—that half his callers... wanted the Senate to put pressure on the governor to fire Benoit, and the other half wanted Barnes fired. Stark replied that "by my recollection" no one mentioned the firing of Barnes, but one or two did suggest "at least censuring Benoit."

The results of the survey were appraised by the Committee on Committees, who found the results "inconclusive." The matter was therefore dropped by the Faculty Senate.

Academic Grievance Board:

Editors note-The author of the following article has encountered a great deal of difficulty in his attempt to make use of the normal channels of appeal as established by the institution. The point in question is not the validity of his complaint, but rather the effectiveness of the appeals system as he sees it.

by Bob Stevenson

The BSU catalog advertises to the prospective student that he can expect a fine education from an accredited and praiseworthy institution. The University is touted as being primarily interested in the student's own educational needs and interests. The BSU catalog bears down on the promise to enrich and diversify the student's mind according to his own abilities and ideals, and not to impoverish and stereotype his mind according to the whims and convictions of his various instructors-to-be.

The BSU catalog acknowledges, by subtle implication, that human error is possible and probable, both from the point of view of the student and his instructor. Anticipating the possibility of student maltreatment in any degree, it promises him inviolate access to an Academic Grievance Board for the purpose of redress of his grievances, and suggests that this Academic Grievance Board will render an unbiased judgement from which there can be no subsequent appeal.

These claims promising fair play and a sense of student importance, equity and dignity are praiseworthy and proper, but the claims and promises are as hollow as an empty lard bucket hung on an outhouse door. There is an Academic Grievance Board all right, but most of its members do not seem to consider their duties important enough to bear in mind the subsequent responsibilities.

The Board is chaired by the Vice-President of the ASBSU. The present incumbent is a person who, in this writer's opinion, is not qualified by attitude or ability to handle such a position of trust and unbiased responsibility. This claim can be verified by unimpeachable documentation,

This writer has been trying for months - to go through the proper channels in order to be heard by the AGB. Certain faculty

Science and Department of BSU have bent over backwards to halt or slow down the progress of this attempt.

The Vice-President of the ASBSU compounded the slow down by "losing" the original grievance document put into his trust. After six weeks of waiting for word from him, this writer approached him to inquire about the unexplained delay. The Vice-President offered, as an explanation, the excuse of having "lost" the original document. When an exact copy of the document was given him in place of the original, two more weeks passed without word. Upon subsequent inquiry concerning a higher authority, and subject to this new delay, the Vice-President personal jeopardy in the event of informed me that the document an unjust decision which can be was "too long," and therefore proven. "unacceptable."

At this time the document was shortened substantially and, naturally, much weakened. The Vice-President then submitted the grievance document to the Board.

The AGB considered the shortened version of the grievance document and arbitrarily decided not to hold the required hearing. Required? You bet REQUIRED! When a petition for redress is submitted to the Board concerning a grief, they MUST hear that grievance. This is a guarnatee to the students of BSU to which the catalog will attest. Since the AGB is the BSU student's only authoritative recourse for redress within the institution, the requirement is justified. Otherwise, the BSU student, in point of fact, has no recourse whatever at BSU.

The student of BSU is misled if he believes the AGB to be his last alternative for redress. The Constitution of the United States guarantees everyone (including the lowly student) his RIGHT to petition for redress - AND BE HEARD. It also guarantees him due process to the extent of the law. The student who knuckles under to institutional and bureaucratic bias and prejudice > including President Barnes. All agree that a shafting has taken place. One of the administrative officials (not Dr. Barnes) proposes that he will recommend a disbanding and discontinuance of the AGB as far as student participation is concerned. I heartily endorse his proposal. This writer further endorses the proposal unless the faculty members who are appointed shall be forthwith made accountable to

Even if a student lost in court, he would have the satisfaction of having cost the offending instructor or institution at least a minimum of trouble and attorney's fees for the privilege of shafting him. If a student has to go down, let him go down swinging.

There is also the alternative of an ombudsman program. Such a program has been researched, formulated and proposed by Rex. Leonard, a proposal which this writer is pleased to strongly endorse. This writer intends to prepare a full and accurate report of Mr. Leonard's propósal, and it hoped that subsequent enlightenment concerning his selfless and praiseworthy work will soon be available in the

This is your key to unprecedented calculating capacity. Only Hewlett-Packard offers it.

It lets you "speak" to your calculator with total consistency, because it lets you load data into a 4-Register Stack. This means: (1) you always enter and process your data the same way, no matter what your problem; (2) you don't have to re-enter data; (3) you can see all intermediate data

Our HP-45 is one of two pre-programmed scientific pocket-sized computer calculators with this key. That's one reason it's the most powerful pre-programmed pocket-sized scientific computer calculator. Here are three of many others:

1. It's pre-programmed to handle 44 arithmetic, trigonometric and logarithmic functions and data manipulation operations beyond the basic four $(+, -, \times, +)$.

2. It lets you store nine constants in its nine Addressable Memory-Registers, and it gives you a "Last X" Register for error correction or multiple operations on the same number. 3. It displays up to 10 significant digits in either fixed-decimal or scientific notation and automatically positions the decimal point throughbut its 200-decade range.

Our HP-35 is the other. It handles 22 functions, has one Addressable Memory Register and also displays up to 10 digits in either fixed-decimal or scientific notation. It's the second most powerful pre-programmed pocket-sized scientific computer calculator.

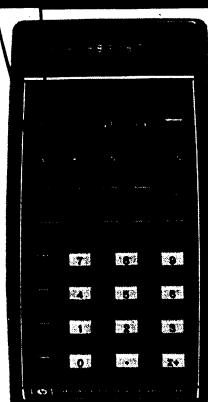

Both of these exceptional instruments are on display now. If you're looking for unprecedented calculating capacity for your money, by all means see and test them.

Theatre in a Trunk initiates fund drive

by John Elliott

When a group of people think that it is time to grow and the facilties they are confined in do not serve their purpose, then it is time for those people to seek out other possibilities. This is just what the Theatre in a Trunk group is doing.

The campaign to raise ten thousand dollars was kicked off Sunday, March 17 at the home of former Boise Philharmonic Maestro Matys Abas. Randy Krawl, Producer-Director of the fledgling theatre, asked those in attendance to dig deep and help Artistic-Professionalism to get its start here in Boise.

Mr. Krawl was speaking to an august crowd when he made the statement that all interested theatre patrons might interested in the next production of the theatre. The socially relevant comedy, YOU KNOW I CAN'T-HEAR YOU WHEN THE WATER'S RUNNING, brought genuine interest from an attentive

The party atmosphere was held in tact, despite the plea for funds, when BSU prominent, Steve Marker, joined with Rod Jones in a scene from Beckett's classic play, WAITING FOR GODOT.

"Any donation would be welcome," said Krawl, "We have found ourselves in need of facilities, and this is the best way to go about it. We hope that those of you who love the theatre will help us in our campaign to raise the necessary funds."

If you wish to help Theatre in a Trunk you may obtain information by calling the Trunk's headquarters at 345-1567 or by getting in touch with any Theatre in a Trunk member.

so favorably that I decided to take it seriously.

In a three day period that ran from Thursday through Saturday, I received a total of 49 telephone calls, mostly girls just curious as to why I put the ad in the paper. I did, however, have 14 girls offer me sexual relations over the phone.

I had four prostitutes call and their prices ranged from $15 to $50 a trick. On the most part they tended to be very shy and didn't start quoting prices until we got down to the nitty gritty.

Two married women followed up on the ad. One of the womensaid that her husband just didn't satisfy her physical needs and and was looking for a younger lover. The other married woman said that she was just looking for a friend because she could no longer communicate with her husband. She did go on to say though that there was no reason if things worked out why we could not have a completely rewarding relationship.

I think the wildest call I received was from a girl who said that if we did have sex together (and she did offer) the only way she could truly enjoy it was if she wore black nylon hose and garder

A United Airlines stewardess picked up a copy of the Arbiter at the airport and gave me a call. She said that she had been a social worker before becoming a stewardess and would like to get together with me and talk sometime.

I had two men call Friday night, one turned out to be a homosexual and the other was a gentleman who wanted to run an ad like mine if my results were favorable.

A bit of old England in your back yard

by John Elliott

You come up over a long and in which students are given mountainous drive to a summit that overlooks a valley where time has apparently stopped. You may have the feeling that you have passed the barrier of this realm of reality and passed into the pages of James Hilton's world of Shangrila. Laid out in front of you is an ageless valley clothed ingreen; a gentle river meanders its way lazily through the valley toward the Pacific Ocean, and you know it doesn't care whether or not it even arrives. "

Winding down the highway, the valley swallows you, and passes you into a fantasy city dressed in Elizabethan finery. This is Ashland. A city of 14,400 people, in the Oregon mountains. What makes this sleepy village a Mecca for theatre lovers from around the world?

The dream of a theatre in Ashland is an old dream. The began with introduction of medicine shows and Chatauqua acts which visited the town during the first quarter of this century. The excitement of live theatre in whatever form available excited the citizens, but it was not until 1935 that the first stage was built. The small repetorie theatre continued to grow, until 1940 when a fire backstage destroyed the costumes. That year the company performed the plays without the aid of period dress having to resort to modern apparel. Except for the war years the theatre has been open for performances continuously from 1935. The present outdoor facility was built in 1947, and is modeled after the Fortune Theatre rather than Shakespeare's Globe, Plays to be presented at this theatre are not picked according to their popularity, but rather as showcase productions in which to best display their company's talents. The excellence of the production this reporter witnessed proved the point. THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE, by William Saroyan, was a delight. Inspired acting, direction, and picture-book settings brought to life the everyday characters that inhabit this play.

TIME OF YOUR LIFE, set in a deals with ordinary occurances in a highly dramatic, extremely entertaining manner. The central characters of Tom, Joe, and Kitty bring out the fears and highlights of human existence aided by the presence of stray individuals emphasizing the plight of modern man.

The theatre's company of 150 are devoted and highly trained individuals who live their art. though some of the people in residence at Ashland receive scholarship miney, there are those who work for the experience without any monetary reward. The central company is picked from 800 applications from around the U.S. and foreign countries.

Though the theatre is of primary concern at Ashland, the people at the festival offer other services, there are tours of the back-stage areas and discussions offered after the performances, and tours of Oregon high schools. opportunities to participate in demonstrations and workshops.

A six-week course in Renassiance studies is offered each summer.

To those who desire to return to the earth, to seek out reasons to live and to those who just need to sit and dream, Ashland offers a place to gently get it together. The season of plays this summer begins June 15 and ends September 15. The Bill of Faire this summer includes TWELFTH NIGHT, ANDRONICUS, HAMLET, TWO GENTLEMEN OF VERONA, TIME OF YOUR LIFE, and WAITING FOR GODOT. The Shakespearean Theatre in Ashland, Oregon is modeled after the old Globe Theatre in Stratford-on-Avon, where Shakespeare's play's were first presented. It is a striking example of Tutor

Music continues through break

by Frances Brown

Music knows no "spring break" and there were two noteworthy musical events for the enjoyment of the public.

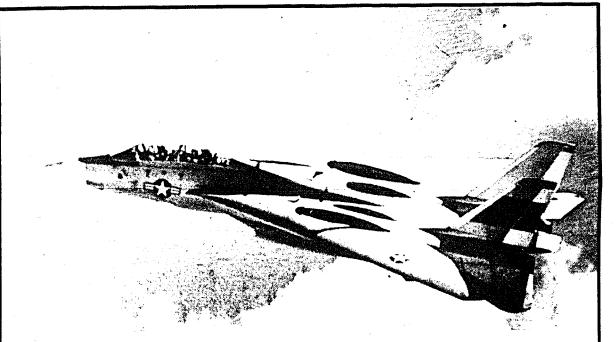

March 19, Barbara Shook, a tormer Boisean, performed as guest violinist with the Boise Philharmonic. She performed the technically difficult Paganini Concerto in D Major. Paganini was one of those super-talented artists who was not sufficiently challenged by the violin music available in his day. So he composed music to satisfy his desires and need,

According to Daniel Stern, the guest conductor, Paganini's compositions are beyond the reach of most violinists. However, Barbara did achieve some beautiful lyrical passages and her tone was good and Boise can take exceptional pride in the falent and skill of its local artist. Barbara is a full-time member of the Houston Symphony.

Firday, March 22, the Boise Choristers performed on campus in MD-111. The program represented a variety of musical cultures. Eight selections from Pergolesi's "Stabat Mater" was the most challenging part of the program.

During the intermission, three high school artists performed. Dot Larson thowed excellent training and expression in her numbers on the harp. Carol Ann Floyd performed Ballade No. 1 by Chopin with eloquent touch that vividly portrayed the story of the composition. John Davis played Garantelle by David Popper on the cello and his interpretation was indicative of his skill and artistry.

There is no dearth of musical expression in Boise, whatever the desire may be. Music is well supported in the school system with choruses and band. Privately, there are bands and orchestras of many diverse national backgrounds. There are private adult choruses like the Boise Choisters, the Elks' Gleemen, the Madrigals, to name just a few.

Train for the Navy's sky now.

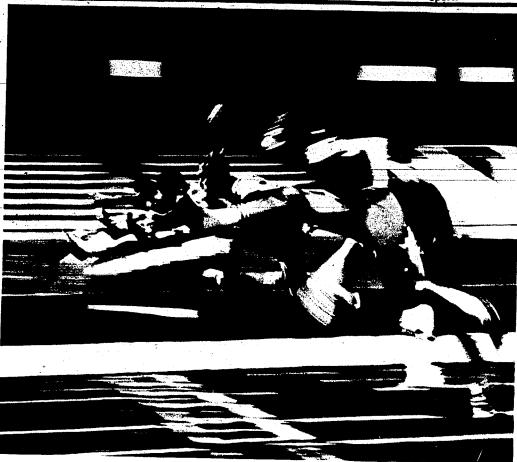

If you qualify, you can sign up for Navy flight training while you're still in college and be assured of the program you want.

Our AOC Program (if you want to be a Pilot) or our NFOC Program (if you want to be a Flight Officer) can get you into the Navy sky for an exciting, challenging career.

Boise State University's track team sets three new school records and ties another in a double dual meet against Washington State and the University of Idaho last weekend.

First annual Bronco Invitational Track and Field Field Meet at Bronco Stadium

Over 500 participants including elementary, junior high, high school and collegiate entries will take part in the first annual Bronco Invitational Track and Field Meet Saturday, March 30 in Bronco Stadium.

The meet, which begins at 9 am, will also feature former Olympic, NCAA and AAU competitors. Those are Dr. Tommie Lee White, hurdler; Ralph Mann, hurdler; Reynaldo Brown, high jump and Frank Rock, pole vault.

There will be 17 boys high school teams taking part as will 11 girls high school teams. There will also be 13 colleges at the Invitational.

"The reason for the Broncos Invitational is to promote track and field in the Boise valley," commented Bronco track and field coach Ed Jacoby. "We have the weather and fine facilities for such a meet."

"I'm sure that it will take a few years to develop the open section of the meet but the high school teams we have entered are as good as any found anywhere," Jacoby said.

expect the meet to grow even bigger into a two or three-day affair. I want to add a decathlon and more women's events in the future," he said.

Boise State University's track and field team set three new school marks and tied another in a double-dual meet against Washington State and the University of Idaho last weekend.

Getting a new school mark in the steeplechase was Bob Walker with a time of 9:01.2 while Sam Jenkins set a new record in the 220 with a time of 21.3 seconds. The third record was set by Ken Carter in the high hurdles with a time of 14.4.

Boise State's 440 relay team tied the school record of 41.7.

Members of the team were Karl pass Kelly. Bartell, Sam Jenkins, Rolly Woolsey and Ken Carter.

Triple jumper Gerry Bell had four jumps over 49-feet in the meet, his best series of leaps this

In the double-dual last weekend in Pullman, BSU beat Idaho 87-70 and lost to Washington State,

The Martin Relay track meet in Walla Walla, Washington proved that the Bronco track squad will be a definate power to contend with this year. The Broncos captured the meet with a 60% point margin of victory.

Although the track meet was more than a relay meet, the relays proved to be most of the excitement.

In the distance medly Larry Stark started out well, posting a good lead after 440 yards after which he passed off to Howard Hockenberry who added to the strong Bronco lead.

After finishing 880 yards, Howard passed the batton to Jeff Kelly. As Kelly was going into the back stretch the third man from Northwest Nazarine College caught up to him and was able to

By the time that Kelly passed off to Jim Bonnell the Broncos were definately in trouble with NNC leading the pace. Bonnell had one mile to catch the leader and as each 440 yards lapsed Bonnell steadily closed the distance between himself and NNC untill the last stretch when Bonnell got into the lead to win the race in 10:34.5, 2.1 seconds ahead of NNC.

Another exciting event was the 880, relay that started with Karl Bartell establishing the Broncos in the lead after the first 220 yards. It was at that point that the great mistake occured, something went wrong on the pass and instead of the batton going directly into the hand of Rolly Woolsey it hit the ground. By the time Woolsey recovered the batton the Broncos were in last place. Putting everything he had into a 220 yard sprint Woolsey was able to catch the end of the pack and make a beautiful pass to Larry Stark who pulled into first place.

The pass to Jenkins was good as Sam Jenkins widened the Bronco margin of victory to finish in first place only 2 seconds off the meet record.

BSU baseball team opens Boise Classic tournament March 28, 29, and 30

After playing 12 varsity games in nine days, Boise State University's baseball team will have just a few days of rest before taking part in the annual Boise Classic baseball tournament, March 28-29-30.

A total of eight teams will take part in the slugfest which will be held on four baseball diamonds around the Boise area. Other teams in the tourney include Big Sky schools Idaho, Idaho State, Weber State and Gonzaga. Non-Big Sky schools are Northwest Nazarene, Lewis-Clark State and the College of Idaho.

The Broncos now 8-6 on the year open the tourney on Thursday with a game with the Idaho State Bengals at 1 pm on the Bronco diamond. Boise State swept a three-game series with the Bengals last week but Bronco coach Ross Baughn knows that the Bengals can be very tough.

"Idaho State has a fine baseball team. Those games where we beat them were their first counting ones of the year and I'm sure that they'll remember that we came from behind each time to beat

Boise State's second game will be Thursday afternoon at 4 pm at Borah High School facing the College of Idaho. The Coyotes have fallen to the Broncos the three times the teams have met. Friday the Broncos open at 2 pm at Borah High against the Weber State Wildcats. Their last game on Friday will be at 5 pm at Rodeo Park in Nampa against the Idaho Vandals.

The Vandals can hit the ball, according to coach Vaughn. Idaho defeated Brigham Young in the recent Banana Belt tournament but their big question marks are pitching and defense, Vaughn

The Boise Classic favorites, the Gonzaga Bulldogs, will be the challenge for the Broncos on Saturday at 10 am on the Boise State field. The Bulldogs won the Banana Belt tournament and are expected to field an excellent team. The last game of the three-day affair for Boise State will be against Lewis-Clark State at 12:30 pm at Borah High School.

Coach Vaughn is undecided about his starting pitchers for the Classic, but has set the majority of the rest of his team. Starting at first will be Vic Wells with Mike Guindon at second and Gary Allen at third. Starting at shortstop will be Greg Frederick.

In the outfield will be Bob Papworth in left with Dan Armitage in center. Either Bob Murray or Kurt Marostica will be the starter in right field. Catching will be Bruce Bergquist.

Boise State will have just one match this week when they face the College of Idaho and NNC at Warm Springs, Friday, March 29. The top four golfers in this match will be Rodwell, Keith Ayres, Steve Farris and Don Towery. The
