5-9-2005

Arbiter, May 9

Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
Congratulations!

Today is your day.
You're off to Great Places!
You're off and away!

You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself any direction you choose.

You're on your own.
And you know what you know.
And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go.

From Dr. Seuss's "Oh, the Places You'll Go!"

Good luck graduates!
English professor wins faculty award
[detailed tenure for not publishing enough]

BY BETH LOPERY

Assistant English professor Leah Johnson earned the Outstanding Faculty Member of the Year award on April 26. The award is given to the member of the English department and comes after Johnson had been denied tenure for a second time by Boise State University, meaning that she will not be allowed to teach at the university past next fall.

Johnson has been teaching at Boise State University for 10 years. She received her bachelor's degree in English from Northern Illinois University and her master's degree in English from the University of Nebraska.

Johnson said she is looking forward to spending more time with her two children, ages 9 and 11, and hopes to travel more in the future.

Johnson's research interests include modern and contemporary literature, specifically the works of James Joyce and Virginia Woolf.

The Arbiter also conducted an interview with Johnson about her experiences with the tenure process.

Johnson said that the process of applying for tenure can be challenging, but it is important for faculty members to continue to grow and develop as scholars.

Johnson said she is grateful for the support of her colleagues and the students she has worked with over the years.

In addition to her teaching duties, Johnson has also served on various committees at Boise State University, including the English Department's Tenure Committee.

Johnson said she is looking forward to the future and hopes to continue to make contributions to the field of English literature.

The Arbiter also spoke with Johnson about her future plans, including plans to travel more and to continue her research into modern and contemporary literature.

Johnson said she is excited to be able to focus on her research and to continue to grow as a scholar and teacher.

The Arbiter also conducted an interview with Johnson about her experiences with the tenure process.

Johnson said she is grateful for the support of her colleagues and the students she has worked with over the years.

In addition to her teaching duties, Johnson has also served on various committees at Boise State University, including the English Department's Tenure Committee.

Johnson said she is looking forward to the future and hopes to continue to make contributions to the field of English literature.

The Arbiter also spoke with Johnson about her future plans, including plans to travel more and to continue her research into modern and contemporary literature.

Johnson said she is excited to be able to focus on her research and to continue to grow as a scholar and teacher.
At last: She walks the line

BY PAMELA BOMMARITO

For some time, Pamela Bommarito was an accomplished senior in the Anthropology Department. She was not only a student, but also a mother of two children. Bommarito eventually graduated, and her journey towards graduation was not an easy one. She had to balance her studies with the responsibilities of raising two children, which was not an easy task.

Bommarito said she is not sure if she wants to continue her studies further, but she is definitely not going to stop learning. She has learned a lot from her studies, and she feels that the knowledge she has gained will be beneficial to her in the future.

Bommarito is anything but your average student. She has been working hard to achieve her goals, and she has received many accolades for her accomplishments. She is a role model for other students, and she is an inspiration to those who are struggling to achieve their goals.

Bommarito said that she is looking forward to the future, and she is excited about the opportunities that lie ahead. She is planning to use the knowledge she has gained from her studies to make a difference in the world.

In conclusion, Bommarito is a true example of what can be achieved through hard work and determination. She is a testament to the fact that anything is possible if one is willing to put in the effort. She is a true inspiration to us all, and we can learn a lot from her story.
Accountability and ethics in student government

BY SCOTT BOWERS
Guest Opinion

This March 26, the Boise State University Board of Trustees announced that Boise State University Student Body President Mike Roche had been fired due to a conflict of interest.

Roche, who served as Boise State's Student Body President for three years, was fired after it was revealed that he had accepted $1,760 in kickbacks from an Idaho Republican Party official. The kickbacks were given to Roche in exchange for his assistance in obtaining a job for the party official.

Roche's resignation comes after a series of scandals that have rocked the university in recent months. In addition to the Roche scandal, the university has also been under fire for its handling of the sexual assault and harassment on campus.

The firing of Roche is a welcome development, but it is only a Band-Aid to the larger problem of corruption in student government.

In recent years, student government organizations across the country have been plagued by corruption and abuse of power. The scandal at Boise State is just the latest in a long line of scandals that have rocked student government organizations.

The firing of Roche is a step in the right direction, but more needs to be done to ensure that student government organizations are held accountable for their actions.

In the meantime, students and faculty must remain vigilant in watching over their government officials to ensure that they are acting in the best interests of the students and the university.
Students flock to Taco Bell Arena as SPRING GETS FLUNGED

BY TROY ESTVOLE

Another sold-out year is always in the bag; all that remains is "Taco Week." And before that festival kicks off, guitar strummers took to the Taco Bell Arena and took advantage of the Student Programs Board's Dead Week, needed because the main event didn't have enough time to prepare.

Boobie Nation, Easy Thyme, Amigo Wille, The Cheezy Lover, Raining Lane, and Reel Big Fish as well as animated crowd-d starter B-Skye gave the nightly energized audience a variety of music to enjoy.

Merriment filled up the student arena. The crowd, which started to the day present, filled a third of the arena's floor area as the music, with additional energy from the crowd, filled the arena. The end-doors around the arena were open, and people were seen trying to get a better view.

Hurricane Rod, the band that ended the event, played a farewell set, but it had the same dessert as the first set. There was an energy to the crowd, but it was a bit of a heavy tone, and there were cross-media of every kind.

The Spring Fling represents a sort of last hurrah for the student body before they return to the classroom. There was no mention of next year's event.

Overall, this year's Spring Fling would have been better attended. A larger turnout should come next year, though it would have been considered a success. Though there were probably more kids from both schools than actual Boise State enrolees, it was a decent-sized crowd with some energy.

Boja Fresh hosts fundraiser for Hispanic scholarships

Boja Fresh, a Boise State student, recently announced that they would be hosting a large fundraiser to help raise money for scholarships in the Hispanic community. The event, which was held on campus, featured a variety of food and drinks and was a huge success.

The proceeds from the event will be donated to the Boise State University Foundation, which will then distribute the funds to students in need. The organizers of the event are very proud of the turnout and are excited to see how much money was raised.

Company of Fools brings Chekhov play to Boise State

Company of Fools, a professional theater company based in Boise, Idaho, will be performing a play by Anton Chekhov at Boise State University's Morrison Center for the Performing Arts on May 19-22. The play, "Uncle Vanya," is a classic of Russian literature and is considered one of Chekhov's greatest works.

The Company of Fools is a highly respected theater company and is known for their excellent productions. The play will be performed by a talented cast of actors, and the production is sure to be a highlight of Boise State's spring season.

Tickets can be purchased by calling 426-1494 or by visiting the company's website. The company is also seeking donations to help support their upcoming productions, and they are always grateful for any support they can get.
1. WHAT ARE YOU LOOKING FORWARD TO THIS SUMMER?

Michelle Severe
Senior
Health Info Management
1. I’m going to California for two weeks after graduation and then going to summer school.
2. I exercise and do plates. If that doesn’t work, I cry endlessly.

Venus & Serena
Junior
Criminal Justice & Surgical Tech
1. I’ll be working full time and taking a road trip to Canada where we’re legal to drink, EH!
2. Joke around in our pajamas and drink coffee.

Stephanie Kneefel
Sophomore
Computer Science
1. Starting a family and long walks on the beach.
2. Save as my first answer.

Clayton Karlreit
Freshman
Construction Management
1. Heading to North Carolina and checking out the east coast!
2. Study a bit and then have a couple drinks. Mix a drink to help you think!

2. HOW DO YOU RELIEVE THE STRESS OF FINALS?

BY JUSTIN PAESCU
Culture Writer
Boise is currently hiding two quite unique poets, both going solo. Thon:as Paul has been recording poems for some time with a blues twist while "Back Home From Age 17" has more punk rock feel to it. "God Loves a Drunk" is very much on the other hand.

Brandon's poetry is vivid in its sexual imagery yet evokes some kind of mechanical, unfeeling emotion in its listeners. We recommend checking it out. Whether you're prepared or not. There's a lot of talk condemning our consumer-based culture as机械和unfeeling, comparing it to fake love and failed human relationships. Thomas and Brandon are working up a small Northwest tour in mid-May with a wrap-up show on Friday, May 13 at the Kulture Klatsch in Boise.

Poet, musician team up for unique entertainment

Only oneiled. Did you hear the good news? If we bring our current Boise State University to the Boise to up we get premium prices. We didn't think that's been news. Lat get the going to gather and head on our other class. Coupon good for $2.00 off purchases of $10.00 or more.

Up to $3,000.00 Per Semester for Full-Time Students!!!
- Montgomery GI Bill
- State Tuition Assistance
- Montgomery GI Bill Kicker
- Cash Bonuses
- Student Loan Repayment Program}

BY JUSTIN PAESCUC
Culture Writer
Boise is currently hiding two poets, both going solo. Thomas Paul has been recording poems for some time with a blues twist while "Back Home From Age 17" has more punk rock feel to it. "God Loves a Drunk" is very much on the other hand.

Brandon's poetry is vivid in its sexual imagery yet evokes some kind of mechanical, unfeeling emotion in its listeners. We recommend checking it out. Whether you're prepared or not. There's a lot of talk condemning our consumer-based culture as mechanical and unfeeling, comparing it to fake love and failed human relationships. Thomas and Brandon are working up a small Northwest tour in mid-May with a wrap-up show on Friday, May 13 at the Kulture Klatsch in Boise.

Poet, musician team up for unique entertainment

Only oneiled. Did you hear the good news? If we bring our current Boise State University to the Boise to up we get premium prices. We didn't think that's been news. Lat get the going to gather and head on our other class. Coupon good for $2.00 off purchases of $10.00 or more.
Local band releases impressive debut album

BY JUSTIN PRESCOTT

It is, of course, tempting to compare local band The Invasion to bands with their metalic, lead-lime salt guitars and soaring vocals. The heat goes on and on, but none compare more than Backlund's and the guys from the next city over. They're not so sure that the music couldn't be mistaken for Backlund's due to a shared stylistic bent, but they keep an eye out all the same.

The invasion/ballad of the shipwrecked soul, with live harmonizing, acoustic guitar, and bluesy shuffle is a "Carmody" (a bit of local history) sure to win some fans. They have been performing in the local area for a number of years now, and have established a following in the area. The album is good, in a word. It is well produced and the songs that were preceded by a "high profile show."

Although slow, it became the band that the shipwrecked soul. The music was well produced and the songs, as they spun, were commendable. It was refreshing, but the band was not as well produced and one step ahead of most bands today. It was not the infernal soul of a group of the same names, and in the center, what was the name of the soul.

Some might remember them from one of Murphy's guess. ICB hosts an interdisciplinary student who now until June they are hosting the exhibition. It was a popular card game that the little brick building. A unique Christmas religious place in a place familiar to customers and tourists who have been selling a popular card game for the Hemingway Center.

IBP

Tiger Army blasts the Big Easy, lead singer arrested

BY ELYSE GERSON

Tiger Army blasted the crowd at the Big Easy last Saturday with a punk-driven show, ending with lead singer for the band, Nick 13 being arrested. The band played through songs from one of their albums with a fan sitting with "Jackass" signed as a gate pass. A nursery was presented a plaque for his kindness. They have been playing at clubs in the area for a number of years now, and have established a following in the area.

The band played through songs from one of their albums, with a fan sitting with "Jackass" signed as a gate pass. A nursery was presented a plaque for his kindness. They have been playing at clubs in the area for a number of years now, and have established a following in the area. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played.

Mark Ehler could not comment on the details surrounding 13's arrest. They returned 10 minutes after and continued the show, playing even harder than they did before. The results were still well received by the audience. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played.

The Hemingway Center and its exhibits... The Hemingway Center and its exhibits... The Hemingway Center and its exhibits... The Hemingway Center and its exhibits...

Oral History Collection with interviews and more, such as original stories made into books.

The Hemingway Center also has a popular card game called "Jackass", for which the band was named after his book. The band is well known for being involved in the 1980s, his friendship with the notorious Mark Twain's editor, the Trusky was asked to be the editor of the Hemingway Series, a series of publications on the West, and led the center. The center also sponsors an annual book sale and hosts the annual "Hemingway Awards". It is a popular card game that the little brick building.

When It's Time to Relax...

This new apartment community offers everything you need, a convenient, for a lot less than you'd expect.

Stinging at $549

373-7744

856 W. Fairview Ave

Brewers

6928 W. State • Boise, Idaho 83703 (208) 855-0526

Brewers

Career Center Services

- Career Planning
- Major Exploration
- Job-Search Advising
- Internship Information
- Interview Training
- Job Listings
- Resume & Cover-Letter Assistance

Web Site: CareerCenter.boisestate.edu

- 8580 S. Vista Ave. Boise Idaho 83706

10% OFF w/ Valid Student ID

MAY 09 2005

culture

310 Days - Pool, Darts, Games, Entertainment

When It's Time to Relax...

Tiger Army blasted the crowd at the Big Easy last Saturday with a punk-driven show, ending with lead singer for the band, Nick 13 being arrested. The band played through songs from one of their albums with a fan sitting with "Jackass" signed as a gate pass. A nursery was presented a plaque for his kindness. They have been playing at clubs in the area for a number of years now, and have established a following in the area.

The band played through songs from one of their albums, with a fan sitting with "Jackass" signed as a gate pass. A nursery was presented a plaque for his kindness. They have been playing at clubs in the area for a number of years now, and have established a following in the area. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played.

Mark Ehler could not comment on the details surrounding 13's arrest. They returned 10 minutes after and continued the show, playing even harder than they did before. The results were still well received by the audience. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played. The audience seemed to enjoy the show, and many of them were singing along to the songs played.
Local athletes make it big here in their own backyard

BY SHRWN RSHBY
Sports Writer

Over the past five years, Boise State athletics have produced a number of very successful athletes after their college careers end. Some of these athletes have more in common with each other than some might have noticed, because they are locals. For quite some time now, Boise State has been able to hold some of the State's best high school athletes.

There have been a number of players from Boise area high schools in sports after they completed their college careers on the 16th.

Boise State has had a number of players from Boise area high schools in sports after they completed their college careers on the 16th.

Abe Jackson played basketball for the Bishop Kelly Knights, where he became a very well known high school athlete. After graduating from Bishop Kelly in 1998, Abe joined former basketball coach Rod Jensen's roster. While playing at Boise State, Abe set Boise State records for three-point shooting, averaging 49.2%. He played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Abe is one of the most popular Broncos. Boise State enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Abe played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock Forsey where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock was a walk-on for the Broncos while playing football for the Centennial Patriots by Boise State, University of Idaho, University of Utah, and the University of Oregon. Besides becoming a native, he ended up choosing BSU and later earned a scholarship spot on the team.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock was a walk-on for the Broncos while playing football for the Centennial Patriots by Boise State, University of Idaho, University of Utah, and the University of Oregon. Besides becoming a native, he ended up choosing BSU and later earned a scholarship spot on the team.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Being a local athlete does have its disadvantages, according to Boise State right end Sherm Blaser. "I drop a pass or do something I wasn't supposed to do, everyone is going to be waiting for me, and ask me why I didn't make the catch," Boise State tight end Sherm Blaser said in practice in front of the Boise State media at Bronco Stadium.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Being a local athlete does have its disadvantages, according to Boise State right end Sherm Blaser. "I drop a pass or do something I wasn't supposed to do, everyone is going to be waiting for me, and ask me why I didn't make the catch," Boise State tight end Sherm Blaser said in practice in front of the Boise State media at Bronco Stadium.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Being a local athlete does have its disadvantages, according to Boise State right end Sherm Blaser. "I drop a pass or do something I wasn't supposed to do, everyone is going to be waiting for me, and ask me why I didn't make the catch," Boise State tight end Sherm Blaser said in practice in front of the Boise State media at Bronco Stadium.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Being a local athlete does have its disadvantages, according to Boise State right end Sherm Blaser. "I drop a pass or do something I wasn't supposed to do, everyone is going to be waiting for me, and ask me why I didn't make the catch," Boise State tight end Sherm Blaser said in practice in front of the Boise State media at Bronco Stadium.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Being a local athlete does have its disadvantages, according to Boise State right end Sherm Blaser. "I drop a pass or do something I wasn't supposed to do, everyone is going to be waiting for me, and ask me why I didn't make the catch," Boise State tight end Sherm Blaser said in practice in front of the Boise State media at Bronco Stadium.

During his senior year at BSU, Brock led the nation in touchdowns, a record that ranks second in NCAA history behind Barry Sanders. The Chicago Bears drafted Brock where he played one season before heading to the Dolphins and, more recently, he signed with the Redskins. Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.

Arguably one of the most popular Broncos, Brock Forsey enjoyed a great deal of success while playing for the Boise State Broncos. After his years at BSU, Brock played professional basketball in France, before deciding to return home and complete his degree.
The Department of Public Policy and Administration congratulates the following students who have earned their Master of Public Administration degree.

Erin Albiston	Michael Miklish
Marilyn Allen	Kevin Mullin
Cecil Cross	Fred Nolan
Kesler Ernest	Monte Prow
Susan Hadley	Kathryn Quick
Ray Hansen	Stephanie Raddatz
Steven Hasson	Misti Rutledge
Amanda Hoffman	Donald Shaff
Lynn Humphrey	Julie Swanson
Kristi Lowder	Josh Witbeck

Congratulations
MPA Graduates!

Josh Dillon
Heather Hanks
Licet Medina
David Rasmussen
Kristen Salo

CONGRADUATION!

To the Students, Faculty, Staff, and Students at Large.

THANK YOU!

THE DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

CONGRATULATES

Ryne K. MCDaniel
Christian F. Robine
Derrick T. Snow

JONATHAN D. BUTTERFIELD
DEAN D. CAMP
CHARLES M. HOBBS
TIMOTHY R. KURTZ

CONGRATULATIONS

Arielle Anderson
Susan Barger
Daniel Christian
Eileen Dohman
Chas Hall
Charan Hovrath
Jonathan Landy
Jason McFarlane
Kelie Mundick
Katie O'Sullivan
Shari Robinson
Jordan Spindler

Carissa Bunn
DeanCamp
BreannaCruse
HeatherFarber
Rosa Hartley
Jared Hoskins
Benjamin Merritt
Luke Mccullough
Erin Nelson
Heidi Pederson
Zachary Rowland

Zachary Bello
Dean Camp
Candice Crawford
Elliott Farber
Bret Hartley
Dirk Johnson
Ryan MacFarlane
Tara Monroe
Brand Nevan
Zachary Rowland
Andrew Welton

We wish you the Very Best!

The Department of Political Science

CONGRATULATIONS

2005 MSW GRADUATES!

Leah Bicaitisi-Shell
Joshua Boldt
Diana Chang
Tia Conyers
Jalil Doh
Maci Dourif
Rodney Duncan
Julia Goves
Ryan Hall

Dravish Messenger
Kareena Naidoo
Melissa Pulver
Shannon Phillips
Shawn Reed
Edna Rodion
Clarke Seiler
Wesley Cing
Jessica Webber

MAY YOUR JOURNEY LEAD TO THE DESTINATION OF YOUR DREAMS!

FACULTY AND STAFF OF THE S.O.S.I.
HONORS COLLEGE
Boise State University
Congratulations 2005 Graduates

Stephanie Mae Augsburger, Psychology, Honors
Christopher S. Blanchard, Social Sciences, Distinguished Honors
Kristina K. Carrier, Communication, Distinguished Honors
David Mark Collinge, Spanish, Distinguished Honors
Joshua D. Dillon, English Writing Emphasis, Honors
Melody Sky Elder, BFA Visual Art, Distinguished Honors
Hannah Marie Ferber, Political Science, Distinguished Honors
Heather M. Gribble, Graphic Design, Distinguished Honors
Megan M. Jensen, BFA Printmaking, Distinguished Honors
Wendi Kay Mercer, Chemistry, Distinguished Honors
Carolyn Deanne Michaud, Communication, Honors
Nicholas Biellert, Early Childhood Studies, Distinguished Honors
Carly Dawn Schneider, Health Sciences Studies, Distinguished Honors
Roger W. Vershade, Theatre Arts & English, Distinguished Honors
Sara Ellen Wert, Athletic Training, Distinguished Honors

Phil, Mike, Leslie, Maria, Fred, Ann, Richard, Ann, Gordon, Genny, Vicky, Yurek, Echo, Kayla, Kevin, Monica, Geoffrey, Carole, Tracy, and Diane...

...along with Apha, Will, Anton, Tennessee, Henrik, Caryl, Arthur, Samuel, Lillian, Eric, Edward, Tina, Tony, Euphides, August, August, Sean, Landon, Marguerite, Athol, Eugene, Eugene, Jean, Jean Baptiste, Bernard, Seneca, Maria, Bertolt, Luigi, Nrazoske, Wolfe, and Sam, say:

Congratulations to the 2005 Theatre Arts Graduates!
Men's tennis hosting first two rounds of NCAA tourney
PLAY BEGINS FRIDAY

Boise State 2005 Record: 30-7
The Broncos - Boise, Idaho
WCC Record: 6-1
Current Team Rankings: 31

The Broncos are co-captained by Greg Patton, Boise State's head coach, who was named WCC Coach of the Year in 2005. The Bronco head coach was Todd Clark.

Boise State 2005 Record: 30-7
The Broncos - Boise, Idaho
WCC Record: 6-1
Current Team Rankings: 31

The Broncos are co-captained by Greg Patton, Boise State's head coach, who was named WCC Coach of the Year in 2005. The Bronco head coach was Todd Clark.

Boise State 2005 Record: 30-7
The Broncos - Boise, Idaho
WCC Record: 6-1
Current Team Rankings: 31

The Broncos are co-captained by Greg Patton, Boise State's head coach, who was named WCC Coach of the Year in 2005. The Bronco head coach was Todd Clark.

Boise State 2005 Record: 30-7
The Broncos - Boise, Idaho
WCC Record: 6-1
Current Team Rankings: 31

The Broncos are co-captained by Greg Patton, Boise State's head coach, who was named WCC Coach of the Year in 2005. The Bronco head coach was Todd Clark.

Boise State 2005 Record: 30-7
The Broncos - Boise, Idaho
WCC Record: 6-1
Current Team Rankings: 31

The Broncos are co-captained by Greg Patton, Boise State's head coach, who was named WCC Coach of the Year in 2005. The Bronco head coach was Todd Clark.