Meridian corn maze features Bronco logo, closes on Halloween

BY JESSICA CHRISTENSEN
In a Thursday, Nov. 8, city meeting, the Boise City Council discussed the Meridian Corn Maze and its relationship to the Boise State University. The council heard from the Boise City Council member about the corn maze, which is located in the Overland and Eagle Road area. Planning for the maze takes place over the winter, Johnson said. In the spring, the corn is planted, and the design is then developed within a matter of days after the corn has fully grown. The testing and setting up process takes place about three weeks before opening day. It’s a lot of work, Johnson said.

The crop of corn is planted in rows, and the design is then formed by marking off areas of the corn maze in the field. The design is then marked off in the field, and a corn cutter is used to cut the corn, Johnson said. The maze opens Oct. 6, and closes Oct. 31.

The Maze is a popular attraction in the Meridian area. The corn maze features the Boise State University logo, and the Boise State Broncos logo, Johnson said. The Boise State University logo is designed within a matter of days. The design is then marked off in the field, and a corn cutter is used to cut the corn. The design is then tested and set up for opening day. The corn maze is open to the public Oct. 6 through Oct. 31.

Under the DREAM Act, undocumented residents would be allowed a six-year residency permit, in which they could obtain citizenship. The DREAM (Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Students) Act is a piece of bipartisan legislation that would allow undocumented residents who have lived in the United States for at least five years to apply to become permanent residents and eventually citizens. The act would also allow undocumented residents to attend public universities at tuition rates. The DREAM Act has been supported by many Democratic and some Republican lawmakers, but it has faced strong opposition from Republicans and some Democratic lawmakers.

BSU challenges U of I in blood drive

BY JODI S. COHEN Chicago Tribune

CHICAGO - When Purdue University hosted a blood drive last fall, President Lee Bollinger said he didn't get his occupancy permit for the building, and the event was canceled. In a fall sorority blood drive, students hosted at least three other blood drives in the area, according to the Associated Students of University of Illinois (ASUI) website.

This fall, students worked on the event plan more than 50 volunteers, many who said they were happy with the venue. Although the event was canceled, the students were able to set up a blood drive in the Student Union Building.

The blood drive was held from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 30, and the ASUI website reported that more than 500 people signed up to donate blood. The blood drive was organized by the ASUI office of community affairs and sustainability.

Podcasting helps students who miss class

N-word shows ignorance of past

BY LIU HUERTA HALE

The recent racist surrounding the ARBRO vice president and his use of the N-word shows that people are still ignorant of racial issues. Due to ethical guidelines that come with the role of a student journalist, many other students on campus, I was compelled to write this article, which contains exactly what he said and why. So personally asked him and he said that he used the term "N-word" when referring to himself in a picture that was later removed from some site.

But in Karen's case, he didn't say anything, as some students feel that individuals in the past have suffered greater when a "N-word" is used, which is also used to address people of Middle Eastern descent. I'm not justifying what Kamron said, but I can see where Karen's comments were coming from, when they made similar comments in different situations.

When I first learned of my black friends called me the N-word, I was filled with a desire to fight. This notion of Black America has a major role in creating classism? Social institutions within personal choices, and not from any responsible reproductive behavior. Abandoned children bring to which he wishes to clarify the content of his first article. Much of it makes no sense to just about everyone.

The halls of the Boise State University Communication Building are alive with the bustle and bustle of active people. Students and professionals are seen and heard as they make their daily rounds. It’s the embodiment of this building.

The ghost, given the name, boils. It supposedly the spirit of a young woman. Ohh! In a fit of grief, bullied herself after being spurred at a dance sometime between 1800 and 1850. Theater Arts Professor Charles Lautenbach said the young woman was stood up or romantically affections were not returned. Ohh! entered the second floor bathroom on the north end of the building and committed suicide.

It’s Halloween, which is one of the most beloved holidays ever because people get to dress up and get candy. This year, people wouldn’t want to celebrate a holiday that involves treats and costumes. It has come to my attention that many of you are still without a delicious costume for this super-fab holiday. This is just down right unacceptable. You do be the only one in your group of buddies without a fashionably hip costume that will be all the rage at all the parties going on tonight in celebration of Halloween.

So, here is a transcription from her original print debut on Wednesday, Oct. 28, 1998.

Many stories float around the Boise State campus about the haunted Communication Building. It was a decade ago this Halloween that The Arbiter first printed a short story warning students about the mysterious occurrence in this structure. I believe it was an attempt to drum up interest in a story. I’m not sure.

For the entire month of October, I really don’t see a big boost in Halloween candy on the Boise State campus. It is always a secret weapon for any survivalist, but it is also a surefire way to music and enjoyment.

Early morning, I slung this cake into the oven and it made me feel like I was at a Window. The aroma is similar to that of an apple pie baking in the oven and then sitting on the kitchen counter on a cold winter day just to open a window. Check back next week for another delicious article or treat that is quick, easy, affordable and delicious.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Slice apples and place in a ceramic dish or glass baking dish. Crush walnuts over the walnuts and apples. Sprinkle the brown sugar on next and bake for 20 minutes. Serve warm and often.

Ingredients:
- 3-5 red apples
- 2 tablespoon caramel syrup (dependant on amount of apples)
- 1-3 tablespoon(s) brown sugar
- 1/4-1/2 cup walnuts

A snack and a costume.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Slice apples and place in a stainless steel bowl or glass baking dish. Crush walnuts over the walnuts and apples. Sprinkle the brown sugar on next and bake for 20 minutes. Serve warm and often.

Both the men's and women's Boise State cross country teams concluded the 2021 season with finishes at the Western Athletic Conference Championships. In Eagle, with huge efforts, the men's cross finished fourth and the women's finished third in the top-10. Helping the team was the first finisher for Boise State, the women finished fourth in the top-10. Beatty Gowen, Beata Holko, and Karina Hernandez anchored Boise State over the decade. Gowen finished third overall, setting a time of 10:14.27. Holko finished just over seven seconds back in 10th place, checking at 10:21.53. Hernandez completed the top-10 finish with a time of 10:24.36, in 10th place. With expected lookouts, Gowen and Holko able to outstrip run at the meet. Cody Clark of the University won the individual and WAC title. Clark raced a 17:31.30, with more than ten seconds ahead of the second-place finisher. The race 18 was won narrowly by Cross Country, led by Trevor Belt. USF finished five minutes in the top three. The women's race will continue on Saturday, with the next race expected on Saturday, or the next race.

The Boise State team knew Nevada was a tough-luck team but no one talked about it until after they played.

All four players, and even Coach Hawkins, were pleasantly surprised about the disparity the team felt when they lined up against coaches who were tangling about Boise State.

"There was a team that came in and talked a lot of trash and said they were going to beat us 20-10 and they would stop this one because we weren't ready," Senior safety Daryn Colledge said.

But obviously they didn't want to be there. "I didn't feel that we were eight in the black, nine in the black at that point and we were just on the ball," Chevy Guerrero added.

"It's not as if Nevada had long- ing rights against Boise State ei ther," Senior Boise State entered the Western Athletic Conference in 2000. The Broncos were the third time to win.

"They told their recruits, 'If it's going to be rough for you, we're going to give you enough emotional support, and we're going to make sure you're going to give us the respect we deserve.'" Colledge said.

Some of the team mocked with re spect that Nevada was only talking about Boise State to recruits on their visit to Reno.

"They just did fire everyone on the team. It was just to let everyone know that they were going to dance on the Boise State. That's just disrespectful towards us," Hawkins said.

"We have football as a team and we start talking about the Boise State. They just do fire everyone on the team.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Urban Meyer lost another SEC head coaching job for 30 minutes, but he wasn’t uniformed. He was still at the controls of Florida’s offense, trying to find a way to get his young Gator team through the 14-10 victory over unbeaten Georgia Saturday. And was that a play-tactic? A new哇-age Spread ‘N’ Shred? For him, in the mirror and realized that his
