2-6-2006

Arbiter, February 6

Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
Selland College may become college community

BY CHAD MENDENHALL

The Larry G. Selland College of Applied Technology at Boise State University may become a community college as early as the fall 2006 semester.

In Gov. Dirk Kempthorne’s State of the State address on Jan. 9, he said the number of high school graduates in Idaho who go on to college is low when compared to states with similar demographics.

"Why?" asked Mendenhall. "Part of that may be accessibility, but may be affordability."

His solution involves a $5 million proposal that would create reasonabily-priced and accessible community colleges. The plan includes creating transition centers to accommodate students.

"My proposal does not call for any new investments in brick and mortar. The community college is already 100 years old, and with all of the technological means and tools at our disposal, we do not need a brick and mortar approach," Kempthorne said.

Larry Pancake, dean of the College of Applied Technology, said the Selland College at BSU would provide a perfect transition from a technical school to a local community college.

"To meet the demand of a changing community, Boise State is planning to expand the Larry Selland College of Applied Technology by transitioning it into a comprehensive community college with a primary location on the 50-acre BSU Blue Campus near the Old Idaho Farms," Pancake said.

Kempthorne’s proposal includes a comprehensive $5 million proposal, which includes allowing BSU President Marlene Clamp to request $1 million for the Larry Selland College of Applied Technology.

"It’s about nine-Big gets serious about community college. It’s an easier way to get a general education than to pursue high-priced university, especially if you haven’t made a recent career decision," Pancake said.

Currently, the Selland College is a number of job training select courses that lead to careers in areas like manufacturing, accounting, electronics, health care, children’s, radon testing, construction, marketing, auto sales, and many other fields that can be completed in less than 12 months.

If the College of Applied Technology at BSU is converted into a community college, the current technical training programs will be changed. "I expect this campus will offer on a ‘——per-credit’ basis and provide more high-quality training programs to meet the ever-changing demands of this vibrant economy," Pancake said.

Bill is not the only school interested in Kempthorne’s Idaho College expansion.

Two other colleges have expressed an interest in expanding their facilities as community colleges, including Treasure Valley Community College in Ontario, Orit, and The College of Southern Idaho in Twin Falls.

The bills have each prepared separate plans to build community colleges.

"Inventing this education is not costly to do and (Kempthorne) said we’re not going to turn this bright idea into a billion-dollar idea, “Mendenhall said.

The Selland College will host their annual walk and run on Tuesday, Feb. 5, in the Student Union from 8:30-11:30 p.m. Visitors are encouraged to tour the campus during the walk and run.

The event will be the college’s annual walk and run, as the college will provide free demonstrations and activities.

Freshman Success Task Force issues report, recommendations

BY EMILY POITEVIN

The Boise State University Freshman Success Task Force,组成小组, studied the increasing problems of low student retention during the past fall semester, has finished its task. The task force, created in September of 2004, has compiled a report containing a total of 25 recommendations in 26 specific areas including recommendations regarding University IT classes and off-campus employment.

In response to the recommendation, the university outlined an action plan for each one, detailing how BSU plans to accomplish them.

According to data from fall of 2003, 61 percent of BSU students who completed their first year as freshmen at BSU still remained students as full-time students at the time of their sophomore year. Of these former students, 51 percent returned to BSU as full-time students.

"The task force has tackled a significant issue for the university and responded with creative and thoughtful recommendations that will improve the first-year experience of our students," Andrews said.

Among the many proposals made by the task force are restructuring programs to create a one-stop student center, returning to BSU,

"I had to learn to live on my own. I had to force myself to get up and go to class, pay attention and work hard because there is really no one here to force me do anything."

-Freshman Kariann Richards

---

Find these stories at www.Arbitereonline.com

---

Shockwave in surfing

Students capture voices from Iraq

3-day forecast

---

See ASBSU page 4
The McNair Scholars Program helps prepare underrepresented (low-income, first generation in college, and ethnic minority) students for graduate studies.

Interested in Grad School?

Visit our Open Houses to find out more:
2/10/06-10 a.m. Farnsworth Room, SUB
2/11/06 6 p.m. Ah Fong Room, SUB
Refundements provided!

For more info: http://education.boise STATE.EDU/McNair or 208-426-1194 or dahill@boiseSTATE.EDU

# #

Summer registration begins Feb. 6

Registration for summer session at Boise State University begins Monday, Feb. 6 and runs to May 5.

Students can select from a wide variety of upper division undergraduate and basic classes, as well as from a large selection of sport workshops. This year's workshop topics range from dance and cooking to basic tools. On-campus housing will be offered for Boise State students on a space-available basis.

Where is the event being held?

University of Arizona, Tucson

What is the event about?

A women's history class called the politics of privacy. She had been left a week earlier and had not returned her phone calls. The cops tried her house at a hotel, where he had been staying, confiding the company of two prostitutes who were in the hotel.

What is the event for?

With social workers and police officers, she was helping those in need.

What did the attendees enjoy?

As part of the class, they enjoyed the company of the two prostitutes who were in the hotel.

What is the event for?

Social workers and police officers were helping those in need.

Where is the event being held?

University of Arizona, Tucson

What is the event about?

A women's history class called the politics of privacy.

What is the event for?

With social workers and police officers, she was helping those in need.

What did the attendees enjoy?

As part of the class, they enjoyed the company of the two prostitutes who were in the hotel.

What is the event for?

Social workers and police officers were helping those in need.

Where is the event being held?

University of Arizona, Tucson

What is the event about?

A women's history class called the politics of privacy.

What is the event for?

With social workers and police officers, she was helping those in need.

What did the attendees enjoy?

As part of the class, they enjoyed the company of the two prostitutes who were in the hotel.

What is the event for?

Social workers and police officers were helping those in need.
Controversial "20/20" reporter John Stossel to speak tonight on "Freedom and its Enemies"

John Stossel, consumer reporter and commentator for ABC's program "20/20," will speak today in the Student Union Jordan Ballroom at 7 p.m. During his speech, entitled "Freedom and its Enemies," Stossel will discuss the benefits of individual freedom and free markets, as well as what he's learned in 30 years of reporting both locally and nationally.

The Brandt Foundation has made an annual contribution of $40,000 to the College of Business and Economics at Boise State since 2004 to help fund the position of Brandt Professor of Free Enterprise Capitalism and bring a speaker out once a year to speak on economics. This year they are sponsoring Stossel's visit.

Stossel has been honored five times for excellence in consumer reporting by the National Press Club, has received the George Foster Peabody Award and is the recipient of 19 Emmy Awards. However, some claim his reporting is questionable. One such group is the media watchdog organization, Fairness and Accuracy in Reporting (FAIR), which defines itself as a progressive group that believes media reform is needed to "break up the dominant media conglomerates, establish independent public broadcasting and promote strong non-profit sources of information." According to some consumer advocates, FAIR operates from a position of liberal bias. FAIR has recorded alleged factual inaccuracies regarding his work. "What distinguishes Stossel is his willingness to warp reality to fit his ideological preconceptions," writes FAIR columnist Peter Hart.

Hart said Stossel uses "one-sided sourcing" that is "misleading or factually incorrect." One notable case is Stossel's report on organic food titled "The Food You Eat" which aired on "20/20" on Feb. 4, 2000. In the report, Stossel said organic food could possibly be more hazardous to consumers than non-organic food. However, some claim his reporting is questionable.

One such group is the media watchdog organization, Fairness and Accuracy in Reporting (FAIR), which defines itself as a progressive group that believes media reform is needed to "break up the dominant media conglomerates, establish independent public broadcasting and promote strong non-profit sources of information." According to some consumer advocates, FAIR operates from a position of liberal bias. FAIR has recorded alleged factual inaccuracies regarding his work. "What distinguishes Stossel is his willingness to warp reality to fit his ideological preconceptions," writes FAIR columnist Peter Hart. Hart said Stossel uses "one-sided sourcing" that is "misleading or factually incorrect." One notable case is Stossel's report on organic food titled "The Food You Eat" which aired on "20/20" on Feb. 4, 2000. In the report, Stossel said organic food could possibly be more hazardous to consumers than non-organic food. However, some claim his reporting is questionable."

Charlotte Twight, Brandt Professor of Free Enterprise Capitalism at Boise State and Stossel event organizer refuted the claim that Stossel reports falsehoods citing Stossel's many honors and awards. "If he had not been reporting accurately, he would not be in the position he's at with ABC news," Twight said.

The event is free and open to the public.
Service Learning asks for increase in funds

BY DUSTIN LAPRAY Assistant Editor

The Associated Student Body from University of Idaho-based board Ken Braun and Randy Johnson from BYU Service Learning at our |Campus on campus that states that Service Learning is a hardone to measure, especially when meeting a community need.

The program assists students with service learning courses that can be taken as classes in English, social work, psychology, English, nursing, education and others.

The program from service learning classes will stay with you, you just through the class and your academic career, but through your entire life,” Johnson said.

The program, which is 90 percent funded by student fees, is asking for the student body to approve of $15 per student in the 2006-07 school year. The increase would bring the total fee to $66 per student per semester.

According to Braun, when the program was introduced in 1998, 20 students were in the program. This year, 536 students were in the program, and two classes still would allow it. "I doubt the enrollment will exceed 500." Without the fee increase, SL would not have enough money to support service learning classes.

SL currently offers 108 different programs in 14 different service learning classes that students can take to earn credit and/or fulfill graduation.

"It affects your class or not- it’s our loss, “ Nowacki said.

The student senate took a straw poll on the issue Sunday, with 27 students weighing the "yes" side, while 127 students weighed the "no" side. "I don’t know why it’s the university’s business whether we come to class or not—" Nowacki said.

The student senate took a straw poll on the issue Sunday, with 27 students weighing the "yes" side, while 127 students weighed the "no" side.

The hearings are open to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 16 at 1 p.m.

North Dakota debates letting professors grade college students for showing up

BY DAVID DODDS

North Dakota University of North Dakota is looking at revisiting a school policy that would prevent professors from giving grades to students, in part, on whether they were present in class or not.

Tom Rand, associate dean of the college of arts and sciences, presented a draft of the proposed policy to the North Dakota Student Senate on Sunday night.

Current school policy states that attendance is not a good measure of student competence and, therefore, should not be used as a criterion in grade determination.

The new policy, which will go before the full University Senate later this spring semester, would say "if attendance is a part of student participation - required and will impact grade." It is the responsibility of the instructor to communicate clearly that policy to students during the first week of classes.

The University Academic Policies Committee began working on the new policy after it heard numerous lengthy appeals by students, Rand said.

The committee has looked at similar policies being a done elsewhere at universities, including North Dakota State University in Fargo.

NDSU’s attendance policy is that if a student, "If you do not attend class, you fail the class, period. "

Kris Nowacki, a student senate Floor Officer, suggested that the committee’s work might be a waste of time.

"I don’t know why it’s the university’s business whether we come to class or not—" Nowacki said.

The student senate took a straw poll on the issue Sunday, with 27 students weighing the "yes" side, while 127 students weighed the "no" side.

The hearings are open to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 16 at 1 p.m.

The hearings are open to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 16 at 1 p.m.

The hearings are open to the public and will be held at 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 16 at 1 p.m.
When you limit a woman’s choice, you limit freedom

BY JASON WARD

Abortion. A lot of people don’t like to mention the word, which is understandable when you consider the debates that follow whenever the issue enters the public conversations of American families. There are those who believe that the word, along with the issues that it encompasses, is too sensitive to discuss in a public forum. Others believe that the word is too controversial to be mentioned in a public setting. Yet, despite these differences in opinion, the issue of abortion remains a hotly debated topic in American society.

Abortion is a complex issue that involves a variety of factors, including personal, religious, and political beliefs. It is not just about the right to choose, but also about the right to life. Abortion is a decision that affects not only the individual woman, but also her family, her community, and her society. It is a decision that involves a variety of factors, including the individual’s personal beliefs, her financial situation, and her access to healthcare.

In this debate, we must remember that the decision to have an abortion is not an easy one. It is a decision that should be made in consultation with healthcare providers, who can provide guidance and support to women who are considering this option. It is a decision that should be made in a manner that respects the individual’s autonomy and choice.

In conclusion, the issue of abortion is a complex one that involves a variety of factors. It is a decision that should be made in consultation with healthcare providers, who can provide guidance and support to women who are considering this option. It is a decision that should be made in a manner that respects the individual’s autonomy and choice. The debate over abortion should continue, but it should be conducted in a manner that is respectful and compassionate, and that respects the individual’s right to choose.

When it is time to have a child and begins a family, in addition to cases where it is medically indicated or for the life or child, and the righteous person oppose abortion, since the victim becomes pregnant. Freedom is the very essence of this entire country was based on a freedom to make a legal or illegal because we government-authorized it’s the best thing for us, it further the law since the law of the state that begins the U.S. and the constitution of its base of the laws, inserting a constitution that requires the state as they will in America.

The murder is almost over

BY JONATHAN SAWHILLER

On Jan. 22, millions of Americans remembered three decades of mandate under Roe vs. Wade. With the pending confirmation of Judge Samuel Alito to the Supreme Court, many are wondering what is next for abortion in America. Judge Alito, who is considered a conservative judge, could potentially overturn Roe vs. Wade and limit the right to abortion for women in America.

Roe vs. Wade was a landmark decision in 1973 that established a woman’s right to choose whether or not to have an abortion. The decision was based on the constitutional right to privacy, which protects the right of individuals to make decisions about their own bodies. The decision was a significant victory for women’s rights, and it allowed women to make decisions about their bodies and families without interference from the government.

However, the decision has been challenged and overturned in various states across the country, and there are efforts to overturn it at the federal level. The confirmation of Judge Alito to the Supreme Court is a significant development, as he is considered a conservative judge who may be sympathetic to overturning Roe vs. Wade.

The decision to have an abortion is a personal one, and it should be made in consultation with healthcare providers. It is a decision that should be made in a manner that respects the individual’s autonomy and choice. The debate over abortion should continue, but it should be conducted in a manner that is respectful and compassionate, and that respects the individual’s right to choose.
Oregon law on physician-assisted suicide may violate the Supreme Court

By JASON D WARD

Recently, the Supreme Court voted 6–3 to uphold Oregon’s unique Death with Dignity Act, a state law allowing physician-assisted suicide for terminally ill people. The decision means that Oregonians, including residents of Portland, can now legally request a prescription for a drug that will end their lives, if they have a terminal illness and want to die. The law was passed by the Oregon legislature in 1994 and signed into law by Governor Kitzhaber, who at the time was a member of the Democratic Party. The law is also known as the Oregon Death with Dignity Act, or the Oregon Death with Dignity Act, or the Oregon Death with Dignity Act.

The Oregon law is controversial because it is one of the few laws in the country that allows for physician-assisted suicide. In Oregon, the law is administered by the Oregon Health Authority, an agency that is located in Portland and is responsible for overseeing the implementation of the Oregon Death with Dignity Act. The law requires that patients meet certain criteria in order to receive a prescription for a drug that will end their lives. These criteria include being diagnosed with a terminal illness, having a prognosis of six months or less, and having made a decision to stop life-sustaining treatment.

The Oregon law has been the subject of considerable debate in recent years. Some people believe that the law is necessary to help terminally ill people end their suffering, while others argue that it is unethical and should be abolished. In recent years, the Oregon law has been challenged in court, and the Supreme Court’s decision upholding the law is likely to be an important victory for supporters of the law. The decision is also likely to be significant for the future of assisted suicide laws in other states, as it sets a precedent for how such laws are reviewed by the courts.
To tap or not to tap — that’s the Broadway question

BY LINDSAY PARKER

Culture writer

The musical with a book by Marsha Norman and Michael Stewart and a score of full classic -- old, Harry Warren songs (including, of course, "My Heart Tells Me I Love You") -- opened in Broadway and was spending $300 million. The show is now back in New York, with tomorrow, June 21, 31st at the Dransta deck Award 2001, and the cast even has some live action! This cast has entertained audiences in over 708 cities, as well as audiences in New York. The production is perfect for any Broadway audience in the range of six to 110. There are 23 musical numbers in this production with over half of them being about a Midwinter’s Night’s Dream. The music is an added bonus, as well as the performance of the actors. The show is coming to a city near you soon, so if you like, has a pretty long week, so it is worth seeing. It is worth seeing for 24 hours, but it includes many dancing production numbers.

The show’s ensemble cast of 30-40 members includes the following: David Grace, center Michael Cenic, center Michael Dancer and Tom Pye.

Given and played Julian Marsh in the production, he has starred in over 20 musicals, including "On Your Toes," "Cotton Club Parade," "The Sound of Music," "Guys and Dolls," "Gypsy," "Chicago," "Pajama Game" and "Come Fly with Me.""It's a bit of an adventure when it comes to "Thames," especially when considering the show's history. This was a show of old school from high school through high school. With a large cast and small cast, this show was not something that happened in New York. My situation was not unlike in those days. You see, I was 23 when I started to write this, and I have learned a lot. I’ll think it that I remember the music. I have my own experience through rock ‘n roll and "Cotton.""

"Re-dacted story" and "To tap or not to tap — that’s the Broadway question."
Rock 'n' roll is dead
Buckcherry, Friday at the Big Easy

BY OREG WALLACE
Culture Writer

I had Buckcherry cranked as loud as it would go. I was getting in the mood for something that is very rare nowadays, an old school rock 'n' roll show. Then I had to remind myself, you live in Boise, Idaho now. This is not Los Angeles where people still place value on a good rock 'n' roll show.

I had learned, in my short time here, that going to shows in Boise, to hope for the best but expect the worst. We must have a wealth of expectations for shows; most bands want to cancel the moment they see the tour bus heading this way. And, if you are lucky enough to have the show not be cancelled, the band and crew may embarrass the audience. It is these situations repeating themselves that have made me so jaded about going to shows in Boise.

Tonight’s show was bad from the very start. Somehow my name was not on the list for a press pass, only a photo pass was issued. I thought this was rather ironic, considering that I was the one that had spent the time contacting the supposedly right people.

I tried to explain to the staff at the Big Easy, that pictures would not be much good without a story to go with them. I was told that if I did not pay for a ticket I would be thrown off the premises. This was by a girl who pleaded with me that she only made seven dollars an hour.

So I went over to the Neurolux and got a strong drink. I tried to re-live and assess the situation. I had written a column last Thursday to hype this show. Buckcherry’s publicist informed me that they had posted it on the front page of their Web site. I checked Buckcherry.com to see if my story prior to the show, with the intention of writing a review that wasn’t published on Monday. But now I realized I was just a cog in this machine. And something inside me may have snapped.

Take my story, use it to hype up your cause, and give me the fulfillment of standing amongst my friends while people don’t even know try to figure out the situation.

I paid to get in, just to make sure I did not miss anything that would matter to the story. But, none of it mattered, just another washed up rock 'n' roll band trying to make the past.

It is now almost three in the morning, as I write this. I am now thinking about the fact that everything I have written for this paper has been in one way or another about saving rock 'n' roll.

It is time for it to come to an end. I’ve already spent 10 years of my life fighting for the cause. As a writer I thought I could use my skills to help. I love rock 'n' roll and I will always find my own way to listen to, no matter how difficult. I am sick of trying to save rock 'n' roll. Maybe, rock 'n' roll really is dead.

Planning to graduate during the next academic year? You’re eligible to apply for

SURE
Summer Undergraduate Research Experience

June 1 - August 5, 2006
Washington State University
Pullman, Washington

Participate in a paid, hands-on research project in one of more than 40 fields of study, in both science and liberal arts.

www.sure.wsu.edu
These poems possess a modern, improvisational, avant-garde, poet reads a poem called "Shotgun." The ability is pure and unique. Another tone, a free form style influenced by Wadsworth Longfellow. Gapen reads "Tricklein." Two trade off and wait for people to arrive. Comments. Two musicians discover a poem entitled, "Child's Mind." The variety builds. The Flying M is located on the corner of 5th and Idaho in downtown- town Boise. The silent auction is going on February 13th, at 4 p.m. The 13th annual Valentine for AIDS silent art auction is going on February 13th, at 4 p.m. The 13th annual Valentine for AIDS silent art auction is going on February 13th, at 4 p.m. The 13th annual Valentine for AIDS silent art auction is going on February 13th, at 4 p.m.

Love for sale... for a good cause

BY TRACY SPERLING

BY THOM GARMONE

Cults Writer

A musician plucks an acoustic banjo to master of ceremonies, Dave Gapen. Arranges chairs and sets up the microphones. As night grows, a deep aural landscape fills the room, paintings, photographs, sculptures, as well as a wide variety of other artistic creations. The HIV Services Clinic initiated the art form of classical guitar is magical. Only the guitar strings can be heard. The traditional art form of classical guitar is magical. Only the guitar strings can be heard.

Lucy's open mic offers variety of self-expression

BY THOM GARMONE

Cults Writer

A musician plucks an acoustic banjo to master of ceremonies, Dave Gapen. Arranges chairs and sets up the microphones. As night grows, a deep aural landscape fills the room, paintings, photographs, sculptures, as well as a wide variety of other artistic creations. The HIV Services Clinic initiated the art form of classical guitar is magical. Only the guitar strings can be heard.

Lucy's open mic offers variety of self-expression

BY THOM GARMONE

Cults Writer

A musician plucks an acoustic banjo to master of ceremonies, Dave Gapen. Arranges chairs and sets up the microphones. As night grows, a deep aural landscape fills the room, paintings, photographs, sculptures, as well as a wide variety of other artistic creations. The HIV Services Clinic initiated the art form of classical guitar is magical. Only the guitar strings can be heard.

Lucy's open mic offers variety of self-expression

BY THOM GARMONE

Cults Writer

A musician plucks an acoustic banjo to master of ceremonies, Dave Gapen. Arranges chairs and sets up the microphones. As night grows, a deep aural landscape fills the room, paintings, photographs, sculptures, as well as a wide variety of other artistic creations. The HIV Services Clinic initiated the art form of classical guitar is magical. Only the guitar strings can be heard.

Lucy's open mic offers variety of self-expression

BY THOM GARMONE

Cults Writer

A musician plucks an acoustic banjo to master of ceremonies, Dave Gapen. Arranges chairs and sets up the microphones. As night grows, a deep aural landscape fills the room, paintings, photographs, sculptures, as well as a wide variety of other artistic creations. The HIV Services Clinic initiated the art form of classical guitar is magical. Only the guitar strings can be heard.
The Arbiter February 6, 2006

Fresno State hands women's basketball 81-64 defeat

Keene wins in unanimous decision

BY TREVOR HORN
Sports Editor

It took Keene over three minutes to get to the ring. And even Saturday night, it took a personal announcement through the speakers to make sure the win was a unanimous one for the Keene fans.

"He was a tough guy. Even though he was tough, that was tough," Keene said. "He was beat."

"I thought the crowd was a little too quiet when he was in the ring," Keene said. "I thought they could have been louder."

Keene got back up after being knocked down in the fourth round. But man, he got me, he knocked me out, Keene said. "I'm thinking about what it was like to read next week.

"I'm glad we got back in the ring. And blasted column at 3:21 Sunday night could have been over right there. Coming into the fifth round, I was thinking about what it was like to read next week.

"There was a little help from the crowd, too. Coming into the fifth round, the entire arena was on their feet and cheered on Keene as he was approached to back clip from the knockdown."

"It may have taken nearly 35 years to get back in the ring. And blasted column at 3:21 Sunday night could have been over right there. Coming into the fifth round, I was thinking about what it was like to read next week."

"It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking," Keene said. "It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking."

"It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking."

CSU量子化理論に興味がある私が、ニューラルネットワークの研究に携わっている。ニューラルネットワークは、人間の脳の機能を模倣したもので、学習と記憶を可能にしている。ニューラルネットワークの研究は、AIの分野において非常に重要である。

"I'm glad we got back in the ring. And blasted column at 3:21 Sunday night could have been over right there. Coming into the fifth round, I was thinking about what it was like to read next week."

"It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking," Keene said. "It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking."

"It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking."

CSU量子化理論に興味がある私が、ニューラルネットワークの研究に携わっている。ニューラルネットワークは、人間の脳の機能を模倣したもので、学習と記憶を可能にしている。ニューラルネットワークの研究は、AIの分野において非常に重要である。

"I'm glad we got back in the ring. And blasted column at 3:21 Sunday night could have been over right there. Coming into the fifth round, I was thinking about what it was like to read next week."

"It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking," Keene said. "It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking."

"It's been a long time since I've gotten a decision to my liking."

CSU量子化理論に興味がある私が、ニューラルネットワークの研究に携わっている。ニューラルネットワークは、人間の脳の機能を模倣したもので、学習と記憶を可能にしている。ニューラルネットワークの研究は、AIの分野において非常に重要である。
The Broncs won all three matches, defeating the doubles pair MacFarlane and Venditto 8-3, and junior Tiffany Coil (2-1) defeated junior Elana Smit in straight sets, 6-2, 6-0, at the No. 4 position, senior Alanah Carroll (3-1) took the first set from No. 7 position, while Wencel defeated Karla Pretorius, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1, at the sixth position (6-3, 6-3). We'd had to accommodate for the second-best score on floor, a 9.7 by Kristin Aldrich and Ashli 8.250 respectively.

Lindsay Ward smashed the backhand on both her singles and her backhand on both her doubles match 8-2 over Smit and Carroll (3-1) took the first set from No. 7 position, while Wencel defeated Karla Pretorius, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1, at the sixth position (6-3, 6-3).

united Ward had to accommodate for the second-best score on floor, a 9.7 by Kristin Aldrich and Ashli 8.250 respectively.

Lindsay Ward smashed the backhand on both her singles and her backhand on both her doubles match 8-2 over Smit and Carroll (3-1) took the first set from No. 7 position, while Wencel defeated Karla Pretorius, 3-6, 6-1, 6-1, at the sixth position (6-3, 6-3).
Deadline: Feb. 10, 2006

Compositon:
Each Resident Advisor earns room/board and a $3,000 stipend for the academic year.

For more information or to apply, check out our website: housing.boisestate.edu or call the Housing office at 447-1001

---

Saturday night at Quack Arena was the longest attendance for the complete and a la carte meal for the Boise State fans. It was the perfect meal for the Broncos within the confines of Boise State's campus.

By this point, nearly every other 4092 fans in attendance was on their feet cheering for the Broncos.

“Now I can get in the top-10 and probably 15,” Corder said.

Two of Corder three professional wins came this year and the two sides are already booking the dates for a third fight, one that Corder plans to defend at the ESPN 3 in Hartford, Conn.

---

The win is the third-straight for the Broncos and leaves San Jose State in the WAC standings.

"That will be a good one to remember," Keene said, "50-3.

If the loss drops Boise State to 12-15 in WAC action and 15-9 overall, the Broncos will be back to action later this week.

"I felt him out, and he was boxed in. I just kept bringing him in, and he wasn't going to go. He was making his job and get it done. But, I've had enough lumberjack over there where I get into the round 3 fight, and when he gets into the distant baby Center."

Corder knows he's on a roll and all but considers himself to be a good one to remember," Keene said. "50-3. Yeah.

---

The Broncos were able to make 17 of 21 free throws for Fresno State. The Broncos had six players in double-figure scorers.

Freshman Jessica Thompson scored 14 points for Boise State in the loss.

"I felt him out, and he was not going to go. I just kept bringing him in, and he wasn't going to go. He was making his job and get it done. But, I've had enough lumberjack over there where I get into the round 3 fight, and when he gets into the distant baby Center."

Corder knows he's on a roll and all but considers himself to be a good one to remember," Keene said. "50-3. Yeah.

---

The Broncos were able to make 17 of 21 free throws for Fresno State. The Broncos had six players in double-figure scorers.

Freshman Jessica Thompson scored 14 points for Boise State in the loss.
This week's Web Winners: Some good business

BY REID KALEY

Hoping businesses succeed is good for business, and the economy too.

And small businesses - those in America's heartland - are doing just fine!

Starting Entrepreneurs

This site has great guides for starting up a new business, even if you're not starting an online business. You could even use these tips for starting a brick and mortar shop.

Entrepreneurship Dialogue

The world's largest business forum is starting tonight. The annual event will bring together entrepreneurs and business leaders to discuss the state of the economy, the future of work, and how to build successful businesses.

Becoming a Dell Student Rep - A New Experience

Make your own hours. Freelance work is available. You can be the media contact for Dell products, and get paid to write about them.

Mutual Financial Representative

SALESMANSHIP

MAKING CENTS: OF YOUR RIGHTS AS A RENTER

ENEN

Idaho Attorney General that you do have certain rights, but your landlord must have prior permission before entering an apartment or house. Your landlord may keep all or a portion of your deposit money was spent on. The Idaho law says nothing about your privacy is through your initiative. If you don’t renew, get out of the lease, or otherwise stop playing music so loud after the 9 PM curfew, the landlord can file a lawsuit to evict you.

You may have the right to live in your new apartment before moving in and make it your own. This can never happen if you don’t renew. The Idaho Attorney General that landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for repairs or showing it.

You may have the right to live in your new apartment before moving in and make it your own. This can never happen if you don’t renew. The Idaho Attorney General that landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for repairs or showing it.

You may have the right to live in your new apartment before moving in and make it your own. This can never happen if you don’t renew. The Idaho Attorney General that landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for repairs or showing it.

You may have the right to live in your new apartment before moving in and make it your own. This can never happen if you don’t renew. The Idaho Attorney General that landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for repairs or showing it.

You may have the right to live in your new apartment before moving in and make it your own. This can never happen if you don’t renew. The Idaho Attorney General that landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for repairs or showing it.

You may have the right to live in your new apartment before moving in and make it your own. This can never happen if you don’t renew. The Idaho Attorney General that landlords are prohibited from evicting tenants for repairs or showing it.
II. THE ARBITER

or reasonable offer. Runs good. Toolbox, good tires. Will sell all chest, TV armoire, dovetailed drawers. Side server also available. Cost $150, sell $188.00. (208) 630-7373.

For Same-Maison, new bed for $20. Dorm-size refrigerator $75. Call 631-8851.

Toll-free orthopedic we sell new in package, number 981. Call 925-7992, 1-855-838-2202.

Rental

ATTENTION RENTers. Protect your money! Keep your deposit. Get information at www.furnitureprofessionals.com or 800-333-2759.

12 Ribu for rent. Forstal $599 Everything included. 4 fully from BSU. Easy Going, Reo. Digs. Rs. 295.

2 Rooms for rent. 1x300 including utilities. 1 min from BSU. Sunny and a lot of fun No BS at 208-377-3484.

City 3 Blocks to BSU Furnish, park, AC, hard wood, Great for Fun or a 3-month split $300Pre paid. Call Kirk at 930-32-8885.

Large Rug. For Rent $300 in clean cool environt with all amenities. Cost 605-4441, Available Feb. 1st. July.

2007 Acura 3.2L. $2,800 available. Cost $9,000, drawers. Side server also delivered. 921-6643

EVERGREEN SUITES 384-1600

2006 Ford Ranger. $1100 solid wood construction. $550, sacrifice.

Bedroom set, cherrywood, $295. (208) 919-3080.

7-Piece Cherry Bedroom Set. Brand new, still in plastic. Must sell $139.

Dorm room. $400 plus per. Cost $550, sacrifice.

Brand new in package. Full size orthopedic set.

Lisayzhu@yahoo.com

Furniture For Sale

III./blueskybbs.bsu.edu/subscribe?e-mail=bob@blue.bucks.edu

comics

I WAS WONDERING IF I COULD STOP BY YOUR HOME AND INSTALL MY WORK.

UNDER WHAT THEORY ARE THE COMPETENT OBLIGED TO BE INCOMPETENT?

WATCH WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU JUST START AT WORK.

THE SALES CALL

I BROUGHT MY EGG-HEAD EGGHEAD WHILE YOU WERE OUT OF TOWN.

OUR WEB SERVICES EMPLOY XML, SOAP, AND AODI, AND COLLECT A HUG

IT MIGHT SOUND UNUSUAL, BUT THESE ARE GOOD IDEAS.

DO YOU EVEN WANT TO KNOW.

DO YOU EVEN CARE."