3-13-2006

Arbiter, March 13

Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
BY SARA BANHISON

Over 2,000 students turned out to vote on Wednesday and Thursday to elect Wyatt Parks and Molly George as the 2006-2007 Associated Students of Boise State University president and vice president.

The unofficial results of the ASBSU election were announced at noon Friday at the Brim Stage in the Student Union.

"Results are unofficial until they are approved by the ASBSU leadership," said ASBSU Election Board Advisor Holly Grow and current ASBSU Vice President Tim Easter announced the results.

According to Grow, over 13 percent of the Boise State student body voted in the election, the highest voter turnout since 1998. Last year, 5.4 percent of the student body voted in the election.

According to the unofficial results provided by the ASBSU Election Board, Parks and George received 751 votes.

"We are proud of this turnout," Parks said. "The elections are over and we've got to get the wheels turning.

Current ASBSU President Joe Holladay was in attendance during the announcement.

"It was a surprise," Holladay said. "I thought Tim [Flaherty] would win. I'm really happy for Wyatt. I think he has the vision, the ideas, the heart and the leadership." Holladay said he has attended many debates this year, but for the first time he has actually voted in the elections.

"I'm just proud of the turnout," Clark said. "This year, we had some great candidates, great turnouts, great campaigns." Robert Ornstein and Bethany Heintz received 395 votes.

"It was a surprise," Heintz said beside him. "They were a good example of something else, worth thinking about.

The results of the ASBSU senate race were also announced.

A majority of 78 percent, 21 votes, was the difference between the implementation of the plus/minus grading system on campus and the status quo. Results, however, are not final until certified.

Holladay announced a tie for the eighth seat at-large between Stephanie Heath and Sierra Edgers. Grow said the winner of the eighth seat will be decided by a lottery at the March 14 ASBSU Senate meeting at 6 p.m.

The winners of the seven other at-large Senate seats are as follows in order of the number of votes received: Craig Howard, Cyndi Blue, Amy Ornstein, Kayla Davis, Terry Golden, Jonathan LeFever and Dennis Teach.

Katie Rogers was the lone seat for the College of Arts and Science. Craig Wilson won the uncontested seat for the College of Education.

Write-in candidates Jeffery Dart was the lone candidate for the College of Applied Technology. Dennis Grow was the uncontested seat for the College of Engineering.

Write-in candidates were the unmaintained seat for the College of Business and Economics.

Craig Howard was the uncontested seat for the College of Social Sciences and Public Affairs. Ryan Cooper won the uncontested seat for the College of Health Sciences.

"We had such a great turnout," Grow said. "I think we have such a great seat for the Graduate College. This year, with so many choices, we have so many people to choose from," Grow said.

--Lauren Brookes

The unofficial ASBSU Senate election results at a legislative meeting in the Forum.

MEXICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES conference features talk on Latino military recruitment

BY ROGER MILLER

Monday and Tuesday of last week marked the sixth annual conference of the University of California, Los Angeles, Mexican American Studies Conference at Boise State.

The conference entitled "National History: National Future" (Our History, Our Future) included educational talks and a discussion by keynote speaker Professor Hugo Maturana.

Maturana, a professor of Spanish and Chicana/Latina Literatures at the University of California - Los Angeles, gave a presentation in the Student Union Building.

The discussion focused on the history of military recruitment tactics in schools among minority communities and the historical context of military recruitment in the United States.

According to the ad, he misses eating "Tacos, carne asada" and listening to oldies. "This ad is a good example of nationalism, rather than American patriotism," said Maturana.

Maturana discussed military recruitment tactics in schools among minority communities and the historical context of military recruitment in the United States.

The conference also announced a tie for the eighth seat at-large between Stephanie Heath and Sierra Edgers. Grow said the winner of the eighth seat will be decided by a lottery at the March 14 ASBSU Senate meeting at 6 p.m.

The winners of the seven other at-large Senate seats are as follows in order of the number of votes received: Craig Howard, Cyndi Blue, Amy Ornstein, Kayla Davis, Terry Golden, Jonathan LeFever and Dennis Teach.

Katie Rogers was the lone seat for the College of Arts and Science. Craig Wilson won the uncontested seat for the College of Education.

Write-in candidates Jeffery Dart was the lone candidate for the College of Applied Technology. Dennis Grow was the uncontested seat for the College of Engineering.

Write-in candidates were the unmaintained seat for the College of Business and Economics.

Craig Howard was the uncontested seat for the College of Social Sciences and Public Affairs. Ryan Cooper won the uncontested seat for the College of Health Sciences.

"We had such a great turnout," Grow said. "I think we have such a great seat for the Graduate College. This year, with so many choices, we have so many people to choose from," Grow said.
A revived debate on abortion in Europe

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia – The abortion debate in Europe – long thought to be settled in favor of liberal abortion laws – has been rekindled by the annexation crisis of the European Union. Slovakia, a country where illegal abortion is still prevalent, has witnessed a resurgence of the issue in the wake of the annexation of territory on its eastern border.

There are concerns that the annexation of the territory could lead to a tightening of abortion laws in Slovakia, which currently allow for the procedure under certain conditions. The debate is expected to continue as the state prepares to ratify the new annexation treaty, which is subject to approval by the European Parliament.

Local experts and activists have called for a reevaluation of the abortion laws, arguing that they should be expanded to accommodate the needs of women in the area. The issue is likely to become more pressing as the number of women seeking abortions increases in the region.

International journalist Hadani Dimars to speak

International journalist Hadani Dimars will present the keynote address for Boise State’s Women’s History Month. Dimars, author of the book “Dancing in the No Fly Zone: Women from the Women’s Center will answer questions and have a book signing after the lecture.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m., and the event is free and open to the public.

For more information please contact the Women’s Center at 208-426-2408.

Two women from the 116th to speak at Boise State

Two female soldiers from the National Guard’s 116th Brigade will speak at 7 p.m., March 16, in the Student Union Jordan Ballroom at Boise State. The women will talk about their deployment to Iraq and their experiences in the war-torn region. Their words will open the panel discussion.

The event, part of Women’s History Month at Boise State, is free and open to the public.

What’s happening in the world?

You don’t look decessed to me, ma’am

A woman in Des Moines, Iowa, faked her own death to get out of paying fines for traffic violations, according to a police report. The woman, identified only as S, was interviewed by the police after she was found dead in her apartment.

The police report said that S had faked her own death two months earlier, and that she was found dead on the same day. The police report also said that S had been charged with a crime and was in jail at the time of her death.

But, then again, it could be a short circuit

A man in New Haven, Conn., was killed when his car was hit by a train. The man, identified as J, was driving his car through a railroad crossing at a speed of 40-45 mph. He was killed when the train hit his car.

The accident occurred at 2:03 p.m. on Thursday, March 12. The man was driving his car through a railroad crossing at a speed of 40-45 mph. He was killed when the train hit his car.

For more information please contact the Connecticut State Police at 203-757-4500.
Right now if somebody is a transgender student or employee, there is nothing preventing a service provider from harassing the person.

Mike Esposito  Professional Staff Senate President

Computers can relieve tax headache

BY LHNN BU

Height matters: Information services

April 15th seems an eternity away, but to many, it will be another reason to wake up early and start their taxes. And for others, they may be finding themselves filing taxes for the first time with little knowledge as to how the process works.

With taxes being the most frequent reason to visit the IRS, the agency is doing everything it can to encourage electronic filing. IRS media relations specialist, Gloria A. Sutton, said:

"The IRS is taking new measures to encourage electronic filing. And relax - the days of stimu- lated paper filing are over. Now, you can file your tax form electronically from the comfort of your home."

"With paper filing, a lot of people make mistakes, write their Social Security Number incorrectly or forget to sign their return. The IRS emphasized that electronic files are far less likely to make mistakes, write their Social Security Number incorrectly or forget to sign their return. The IRS emphasized that electronic files are far less likely to make mistakes, write their Social Security Number incorrectly or forget to sign their return."

"These measures have been put in place to be filed and processed by the IRS, which can significantly delay the refund."

"The IRS checks the math for you and makes sure you don't forget anything," Sutton said. "It's virtually error-free."

"And don't worry about losing the envelope. The IRS offers electronic filing services on its Web site. "You can also have your refund directly deposited into your ac- count," Sutton said.

"At least once, you can have the refund back in your bank account. That's the half the time it takes to get a paper check."

"For people who still want to use the traditional paper method to file their tax return, there are many free tax assistance sites in your community. But call the IRS to find out where they are located.

"But with taxes on the minds of many Americans, that means there are plenty of people who want to take advantage of naive filers. Sutton warned.htm 1st timers about "phishing," a type of identity theft. "If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is."
Recipe of the week: Oatmeal walnut banana bread

BY AMBER FUGER
Culture Writer

Continuing the baking trend from last week, but with what I would consider a classic twist. A banana bread with a twist! Oatmeal and bananas happen to be two of my favorite treats, so adding them to my beloved banana bread seemed like a good idea. To mix the recipe up a bit, I added a healthy and delicious twist to the classic banana bread.

The family recipe on my family’s side calls for shortening, I am not a big fan of shortening as it adds a lot of unhealthy fats to the recipe, so I decided to use an alternative ingredient. I used coconut oil instead, which not only makes for a healthy alternative, but also adds moisture to the bread.

Ingredients:
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp baking powder
- 1 tbs baking soda
- 1/2 tsp salt
- 1/2 cup coconut oil
- 1/3 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 ripe bananas
- 1/2 cup oatmeal
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 tbsp vanilla extract
- A few drops of food coloring

Instructions:
1. Preheat oven to 350°F (175°C).
2. Grease a 9x5 inch loaf pan with cooking spray.
3. In a large mixing bowl, combine the flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt.
4. In another bowl, beat the coconut oil and sugar until light and fluffy. Add the egg and beat until well combined.
5. Mash the bananas in a separate bowl and then add them to the egg mixture.
6. Add the dry ingredients to the wet ingredients and mix until just combined.
7. Gently fold in the oatmeal and walnuts.
8. Transfer the batter to the prepared loaf pan and smooth the top.
9. Bake for 45-50 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean.
10. Allow the bread to cool in the pan for 10 minutes, then transfer to a wire rack to cool completely.

Serve warm with a cup of coffee or tea. Enjoy!
See things from a new ‘Vantage Point’

BY THOM GARZONE
Culture Writer

Earlier this month, at the Boise Art Museum, as you entered, you were captivated by the silent awe that led you to an extraordinary photographic exhibit, “Vantage Point: Selections from the Gary Bettis Collection.”

“Vantage Point” is a collection of photographic works, that in one fell, consumed 20 years, a significant feat.

Bettis, a local collector, contributed 89 works by 58 various artists to the Boise Art Museum in 2001. To say the least, this exhibit is a vast example of photographs, consisting of rural and environmental scenes. Just as you enter, there’s a collage of images of New York City’s Brooklyn Bridge and the Chrysler Building, just to name a couple of familiar sights.

One striking photograph is of a farmhouse amid a patch of trees with a road running past it. It’s titled, “H racially Ivy, Newberry, Madamewasset, 1984.” Another example of the photographs is one of a quarry taken by Edward Burtynsky, capturing a sense of industrial development. One piece is a snowy landscape in a cliff (land) formed in the course of mining, titled, “Sedimentary Whulen Falls” by artist Pierre Huyghehaud. There’s another photograph that instantaneously reminds you of show- ing a slender yet tall tree in between two walls of a cliff by photographer Terry Toedtemer titled, “Chasm Oak Tree, Wasco County, 1991.”

Other photographic works were also by Sally Gall and her “Glencoe, 1992” and another photo with an agricultural theme called “Plowed Field, 1984.” The photographer in “Vantage Point” is entirely in black and white.

It’s said that color limits the photographer and this is certainly the intention with this exhibit. Unfortunately, the exhibit ended on Mid Glamorgan, 1984. So it’s too late to gaze at this illustrious demonstration of artistic impact. But there are plenty of other exhibits currently showing that make just as much of an impact, if not more.

Another example of the photo- exhibit is one of a qu...
Glenn Williams shares student imagination

BY ARBITER STAFF

Artists can make meaning out of the meaningless. No matter the medium—from lyrics to behaviors—an action can suggest an underlying meaning, all while begging us to see our own nature and take in their view.

The right approach, says former art student Stewart Benitez, had the propensity to open their minds and absorb the spirit of an artist's work.

Williams shared the story of his life as a sculptor, spoke for an audience of Boise State students and faculty, and provided an impetus to their passions to rapt audience members, reflecting on both the celebrations, mourning, strife, and joy of life that students experienced. His work provides insight into his- memories and experiences, the foundation for all of his pieces.

Williams said this piece exemplifies the philosophy that a panel of jurors selects the particular piece of artwork. The jurors submit pieces from 35 artists, send in a slide of each piece, and loads them into a carousel that is given to the jurors.

As the work carries a strong personal statement, the audience member can attach to and identify with the piece and further analyze the meaning that it holds.
Controversial Muhammad cartoons stir freedom of speech debate

By RO ALVARADO-PARKER

The Arbiter

Freedom of speech is not really about saying what you want to say whenever you want to say it, without having to add into it the way the cartoons linked the prophet to terrorism, when tensions in that area have been high since 9/11.

Free speech may insult and offend, but it is absolutely fundamental to the well-being of a democratic state.

BY ROALVARADO-PARKER

Opinion Writer

Freedom of speech is not really about saying what you want to say whenever you want to say it, without having to add into it the way the cartoons linked the prophet to terrorism, when tensions in that area have been high since 9/11.

Free speech may insult and offend, but it is absolutely fundamental to the well-being of a democratic state.

By ROALVARADO-PARKER

Opinion Writer

Freedom of speech is not really about saying what you want to say whenever you want to say it, without having to add into it the way the cartoons linked the prophet to terrorism, when tensions in that area have been high since 9/11.

Free speech may insult and offend, but it is absolutely fundamental to the well-being of a democratic state.
Marching Madness

By Dustin Larrpy

Sports Columnist

It’s madness, baby!

With college basketball leaders and all sports fans to pay their respects for the College Basketball Athletic Association, the annual tournament is underway.

This year, the tournament was dominated by upsets and Cinderella stories. One team that stands out is—whoever they are.

As you know, many experts predicted a few upsets in the first round. However, the majority of the games were competitive, and the tournament continued to showcase the talent and athleticism of college basketball players.

More than 100 schools have hosted basketball tournaments, with 15 teams making the tournament. It is a time for college basketball fans to come together to watch games and cheer on their favorite teams.

These 34 teams are selected by a committee of experts who review conference records, tournament performances, and other factors to determine the participants.

The 16 teams, known as the Final Four, are determined during the selection process. These teams are selected based on their conference records, tournament performances, and other factors.

The Final Four consists of the four teams that advance to the championship game. These teams are selected based on their conference records, tournament performances, and other factors.

The championship game is held in a neutral location and is broadcasted on national television.
With two victories over the weekend, the Boise State University men’s tennis team improved to 10-3 overall and 2-0 in dual matches at home. The first win was over Montana Friday, at the No.2 doubles position. The second win was a 7-0 victory over Lewis-Clark State at the No. 3 position. The match was a historic one for only the third time this spring, seniors Hadley MacFarlane and Fernando Freitas at the No. 3 position. After losing the first set 6-3, 6-4, the Broncos were defeated Marko Baishak at the No. 2 position. The match went on to take a 1-0 lead into singles competition. Mackova continued her dominance in singles matches, winning 29-16 and 29-14. Freshman Mackenna Resende at the No.1 position, put up a good fight against Loza, won the second set 6-2, 6-4, at the fourth position. After losing the first set 4-6, 4-6, at the first position. The Broncos won 4-0 to improve their season record to 4-0. Boise State University women’s tennis extended their win streak to 11-0 by defeating Texas A&M 6-1 on Saturday, at the No. 1 doubles position. This was the Broncos’ fourth point, thus clinching the defeat of Spencer at the No.3 position. After dropping the first set 6-2, and breaking the ninth game of the second set to take a 5-4 lead. With the defeat of Spencer, the Broncos improved their season record to 17-5. Men’s tennis extends win streak with two victories over the week-end, improved to 10-3 overall and 2-0 in dual matches at home. The first win was over Montana Friday, at the No.2 doubles position. The second win was a 7-0 victory over Lewis-Clark State at the No. 3 position. The match was a historic one for only the third time this spring, seniors Hadley MacFarlane and Fernando Freitas at the No. 3 position. After losing the first set 6-3, 6-4, the Broncos were defeated Marko Baishak at the No. 2 position. The match went on to take a 1-0 lead into singles competition. Mackova continued her dominance in singles matches, winning 29-16 and 29-14. Freshman Mackenna Resende at the No.1 position, put up a good fight against Loza, won the second set 6-2, 6-4, at the fourth position. After losing the first set 4-6, 4-6, at the first position. The Broncos won 4-0 to improve their season record to 4-0. Boise State University women’s tennis extended their win streak to 11-0 by defeating Texas A&M 6-1 on Saturday, at the No. 1 doubles position. This was the Broncos’ fourth point, thus clinching the defeat of Spencer at the No.3 position. After dropping the first set 6-2, and breaking the ninth game of the second set to take a 5-4 lead. With the defeat of Spencer, the Broncos improved their season record to 17-5. Men’s tennis extends win streak with two victories over the weekend, improved to 10-3 overall and 2-0 in dual matches at home. The first win was over Montana Friday, at the No.2 doubles position. The second win was a 7-0 victory over Lewis-Clark State at the No. 3 position. The match was a historic one for only the third time this spring, seniors Hadley MacFarlane and Fernando Freitas at the No. 3 position. After losing the first set 6-3, 6-4, the Broncos were defeated Marko Baishak at the No. 2 position. The match went on to take a 1-0 lead into singles competition. Mackova continued her dominance in singles matches, winning 29-16 and 29-14. Freshman Mackenna Resende at the No.1 position, put up a good fight against Loza, won the second set 6-2, 6-4, at the fourth position. After losing the first set 4-6, 4-6, at the first position. The Broncos won 4-0 to improve their season record to 4-0. Boise State University women’s tennis extended their win streak to 11-0 by defeating Texas A&M 6-1 on Saturday, at the No. 1 doubles position. This was the Broncos’ fourth point, thus clinching the defeat of Spencer at the No.3 position. After dropping the first set 6-2, and breaking the ninth game of the second set to take a 5-4 lead. With the defeat of Spencer, the Broncos improved their season record to 17-5. Men’s tennis extends win streak with two victories over the weekend, improved to 10-3 overall and 2-0 in dual matches at home. The first win was over Montana Friday, at the No.2 doubles position. The second win was a 7-0 victory over Lewis-Clark State at the No. 3 position. The match was a historic one for only the third time this spring, seniors Hadley MacFarlane and Fernando Freitas at the No. 3 position. After losing the first set 6-3, 6-4, the Broncos were defeated Marko Baishak at the No. 2 position. The match went on to take a 1-0 lead into singles competition. Mackova continued her dominance in singles matches, winning 29-16 and 29-14. Freshman Mackenna Resende at the No.1 position, put up a good fight against Loza, won the second set 6-2, 6-4, at the fourth position. After losing the first set 4-6, 4-6, at the first position. The Broncos won 4-0 to improve their season record to 4-0. Boise State University women’s tennis extended their win streak to 11-0 by defeating Texas A&M 6-1 on Saturday, at the No. 1 doubles position. This was the Broncos’ fourth point, thus clinching the defeat of Spencer at the No.3 position. After dropping the first set 6-2, and breaking the ninth game of the second set to take a 5-4 lead. With the defeat of Spencer, the Broncos improved their season record to 17-5.
Cherrington takes last shot at nationals, Sherfey aims at first

BY DUSTIN LARPER
Account Services

Cherrington, a 157-pound university wrestler, will compete in the NCAA national championshhip tournament this week in Oklahoma City. He will be accompanied by his coaches to compete in the crowning competition of the season.

Greg Sherfey will also compete, and he is the man to watch in the 149-pound weight class.

Sherfey takes first trip to NCAA's

Sherfey, a 149-pound freshman, said he is excited to be able to compete in the NCAA tournament this week. He has been looking forward to this opportunity for quite some time.

"This is my last time," Sherfey said. "I'm going to make the most of it."

Cherrington, on the other hand, is making his fourth trip to the NCAA tournament. He has been to the NCAA's three times before this, but he feels more confident this year.

"I've been there before," Cherrington said. "I know what to expect." Sherfey said he wrestles with a "passionate" style.

"I try to make them wrestle at my pace," Sherfey said. "I want to wrestle at a higher pace than most people. I wear them down and leave it up to technique after that." Cherrington said. "If I keep wrestling how I've been wrestling I can get far. I'm confident that I'll be on the podium." Sherfey aims to place high in the tournament.

Cherrington said he wrestles with a "heart" and "soul" style.

"I'm pretty confident," Cherrington said. "I think I can do the best within myself, as well as put my best effort on the mat for the team." Sherfey said he is confident in his abilities as well.

"I'm going to the point. Five Boise State University wrestlers will compete in the NCAA national championships this week in Oklahoma City," Cherrington said. "The five guys we've got going can win some matches and they expect themselves to win some matches. Right now it's more mental than anything, getting the mindset. They've done the work. They're in good shape."

The Broncos have bled and sweat, their sweat and toil has paid off. The five Boise State University wrestlers are now ready to compete in the NCAA national championships.

"I'm going to the point. Five Boise State University wrestlers will compete in the NCAA national championships this week in Oklahoma City," Cherrington said. "The five guys we've got going can win some matches and they expect themselves to win some matches. Right now it's more mental than anything, getting the mindset. They've done the work. They're in good shape."

The Broncos have bled and sweat, their sweat and toil has paid off. The five Boise State University wrestlers are now ready to compete in the NCAA national championships.

"I'm going to the point. Five Boise State University wrestlers will compete in the NCAA national championships this week in Oklahoma City," Cherrington said. "The five guys we've got going can win some matches and they expect themselves to win some matches. Right now it's more mental than anything, getting the mindset. They've done the work. They're in good shape."

The Broncos have bled and sweat, their sweat and toil has paid off. The five Boise State University wrestlers are now ready to compete in the NCAA national championships.

"I'm going to the point. Five Boise State University wrestlers will compete in the NCAA national championships this week in Oklahoma City," Cherrington said. "The five guys we've got going can win some matches and they expect themselves to win some matches. Right now it's more mental than anything, getting the mindset. They've done the work. They're in good shape."

The Broncos have bled and sweat, their sweat and toil has paid off. The five Boise State University wrestlers are now ready to compete in the NCAA national championships.
It's important, however, to not make sure you're getting the right questions.

Only a 2002, you've got a problem, knowledge of any accidents or maintenance problems.

Avoid buying a car you saw in the classified section. From which means you don't want it. The car is probably one that 'just cause,' they're not happy to give it to you. The history report provides negotiation tool.

Why are you selling it? This question can help you know each other and the program's advantages and reservation. The participant companies represent hold reserved spaces, they will give them an opportunity to know each other and the program's advantages and reservation. The participant companies represent hold reserved spaces, they will give them an opportunity to know each other and the program's advantages and reservation. The participant Companies represent hold reserved spaces, they will give them an opportunity to know each other and the program's advantages and reservation.

Another joint decision was the curriculum. He also said that the university brings in other businesses provides both students and the companies involved with a pool of resources.

Smith said the program is not only beneficial to the participants and the companies but also the community and our clients.

Smith said he believes that this program will help to improve the skill level of professionals at this level may not network with each other. Another joint decision was the curriculum. According to Smith, this program will help to improve the skill level of professionals at this level may not network with each other. Another joint decision was the curriculum. According to Smith, this program will help to improve the skill level of professionals at this level may not network with each other.

BY MICHAEI MCLAUGHLIN

Boise State introduces Idaho's first executive MBA program

BY SARA BAHNSON

Business & Tech Columnist

Making cents of: Buying a used car

BY TRACY MCALPINE

SUKODA

To play: Complete the grid so that every row, column and 3x3 box contains the digits 1 to 9. There is no guessing or math involved, just use logic to solve.
Come one come all. To receive survey night. Free entry, Pizza, the Conerstone Shorts
April 29th. For more info
Need ride to Coachella, @412-7124.
$390. Call 888-1464
London. Mother Pearl. 371-2138 Garden City
Ashleigh Pillar top dress, size 2, still in plastic, warranty.
Cost $9,000, solid wood construction.
Sleigh bed, 2 nightstands, or part. Cost $10,000, sell with drawers. Will sell all 4-4-4 Truck w/Shell, V6,
1991 Nissan SEExt/Cab
168k miles, New Brakes.
WWW.WFOSKISANDGEAR.COM
FREE PAIR 'AK SKIS
snl7
CONTRt>.CT
ERK! THAT LOOK
WE Ct>.NCELED OUR
THE ARBITER OPINION!
MONEY.

_ WOt' _ THt>.THOU-
;8" TO DIE. THt>.T ONE SAYS
_ ST>.ND EXPRESSIONS THt>.T :;,
DIE OF NATURt>.L CAUSES,
PREFERt>.BL Y SOON.

20 Leg cramp
32 Luxurious
23 Military tribute
39 Operatic
47 Counting
46 Undercover
45 Repossesed
3905 Alpine St. Boise
83705

Tribune Information Services.
Distributed by Knight Ridder-
Tribune Media Services, Inc.
(C)2006 Tribune Media Services, Inc.

3/13/06

Saturn's Puzle Solved

51 "Viva Las
52 "This Island
54 Do figure 8's-
56 Brings into 59 Always
61 Traffic tie-up
63 Knotts or
67 Confused
69 Countless
70 De-floored
71 Give up the ghost
72 "This is a fact!
73 Grand slam
74 Perfect
d downward.
75 Great minds
77 "Nautilus"
79 Do you think so?
80 "Lord of the Rings"
81 Woman of the year
83 Have you been on the boat they're leaving?
84 Merman
85 "Viva Las
87 "This Island"
89 Daydreamer 400 abo 208-860-4584.
See it at www.
Furniture For Sale
Deliver. 921-6643.

$350. (208) 919-3080.
Mattress, king pillow-top
skeleor, leather pockets, amith balls, ace.

4 Be very hungry
5 Writer Vidal
9 Painter
10 Hebrew
11 Lofty poem
13 NBC classic
17 Scintilla
19 Cigarette
21 Theater section
26 Supper
27" to bed ...
31 Concise
34 Cut back
35 Fiasco
36 Bungee
down. Have you ever been there?
37 Downpour
39 Symbolic story
40 Male
41 Tidelands
42 Lament
43 Riddle
44 Captain of the cruise ship
45 Repossesed musical
46 ".W.
47 Counting
48 Table
49 Part of the 50 "This is a fact!
51 "Nautilus"
52 "This Island"
53 Part of the
54 Do figure 8's-
55 Do figure 8's-
56 Brings into 59 Always
61 Traffic tie-up
63 Knotts or
67 Confused
69 Countless
70 De-floored
71 Give up the ghost
72 "This is a fact!
73 Grand slam
74 Perfect
d downward.
75 Great minds
77 "Nautilus"
79 Do you think so?
80 "Lord of the Rings"
81 Woman of the year
84 Merman
85 "Viva Las
87 "This Island"
89 Daydreamer 400 abo 208-860-4584.
See it at www.
Furniture For Sale
Deliver. 921-6643.

$350. (208) 919-3080.
Mattress, king pillow-top
skeleor, leather pockets, amith balls, ace.

4 Be very hungry
5 Writer Vidal
9 Painter
10 Hebrew
11 Lofty poem
13 NBC classic
17 Scintilla
19 Cigarette
21 Theater section
26 Supper
27" to bed ...
31 Concise
34 Cut back
35 Fiasco
36 Bungee
down. Have you ever been there?
37 Downpour
39 Symbolic story
40 Male
41 Tidelands
42 Lament
43 Riddle
44 Captain of the cruise ship
45 Repossesed musical
46 ".W.
47 Counting
48 Table
49 Part of the 50 "This is a fact!
51 "Nautilus"
52 "This Island"
53 Part of the
54 Do figure 8's-
55 Do figure 8's-
56 Brings into 59 Always
61 Traffic tie-up
63 Knotts or
67 Confused
69 Countless
70 De-floored
71 Give up the ghost
72 "This is a fact!
73 Grand slam
74 Perfect
d downward.
75 Great minds
77 "Nautilus"
79 Do you think so?
80 "Lord of the Rings"
81 Woman of the year
84 Merman
85 "Viva Las
87 "This Island"
89 Daydreamer 400 abo 208-860-4584.
See it at www.
Furniture For Sale
Deliver. 921-6643.

$350. (208) 919-3080.
Mattress, king pillow-top
skeleor, leather pockets, amith balls, ace.

4 Be very hungry
5 Writer Vidal
9 Painter
10 Hebrew
11 Lofty poem
13 NBC classic
17 Scintilla
19 Cigarette
21 Theater section
26 Supper
27" to bed ...
31 Concise
34 Cut back
35 Fiasco
36 Bungee
down. Have you ever been there?
37 Downpour
39 Symbolic story
40 Male
41 Tidelands
42 Lament
43 Riddle
44 Captain of the cruise ship
45 Repossesed musical
46 ".W.
47 Counting
48 Table
49 Part of the 50 "This is a fact!
51 "Nautilus"
52 "This Island"
53 Part of the
54 Do figure 8's-
55 Do figure 8's-
56 Brings into 59 Always
61 Traffic tie-up
63 Knotts or
67 Confused
69 Countless
70 De-floored
71 Give up the ghost
72 "This is a fact!
73 Grand slam
74 Perfect
d downward.
75 Great minds
77 "Nautilus"
79 Do you think so?
80 "Lord of the Rings"
81 Woman of the year
84 Merman
85 "Viva Las
87 "This Island"
89 Daydreamer 400 abo 208-860-4584.
See it at www.
Furniture For Sale
Deliver. 921-6643.