10-2-2006

Arbiter, October 2

Students of Boise State University

Although this file was scanned from the highest-quality microfilm held by Boise State University, it reveals the limitations of the source microfilm. It is possible to perform a text search of much of this material; however, there are sections where the source microfilm was too faint or unreadable to allow for text scanning. For assistance with this collection of student newspapers, please contact Special Collections and Archives at archives@boisestate.edu.
The Arbiter takes you inside The 2006 Brewers' Festival and the 'Arbiter takes you Inside MONDAY brings you a look at "Chicago." CULTURE Get your first look at BSU Men's at Utah on Saturday. Undefeated after a 36-3 win ARBITERONLINE.COM Packard's spying scandal. BIZTECH Shannon Morgan begins her month-long feature, "Sex in WEATHER Location: Hatch Room of the SUB. Luncheons are sponsored by this event is free and AB "Ave., and Into nearby parking lots. crews shut off water to the affected area. Water of Idaho Mark Snider said intentionally spilled through the塑料union tubing was washed into the Section of Idaho." water contamination in the Boise area. The water contamination, the Water was not able to use our customers in the area and prevent the repairs from being finished. Students were impressed by the speech. She is an incredibly "I thought she was amazing," community member Area Arendt said. "She is an incredibly compelling speaker and she has an amazing way to tell us what needs to be done." Klein is a author of several books including "All But My Life" and "A Boring Evening at Home." These books were available for sale at this event. KLINSMAN Winkens was very moved by the healing process at Colorado Heights High School. "I couldn't believe that her home was transformed. I was amazed by the beauty of her story." Klein said. Klein is thought of as an "ambassador for human rights." She has been to schools, churches, and synagogues all across the United States to talk about her experiences and to help the young people of today understand the importance of peace. She has been a speaker at numerous events, including the Yom Ha'atzmaut celebration in Washington, D.C. Klein has received numerous awards and honors for her work, including the Presidential Medal of Freedom and the Congressional Gold Medal. She continues to speak about the importance of education and the need for a more just and peaceful world. Klein has also been involved in numerous organizations, including the Holocaust Council of Greater New York and the National Council of Jewish Women. She is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union and the Human Rights Campaign. Klein is also a strong advocate for Jewish causes, including the need for a two-state solution to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. Klein is a tireless advocate for peace and understanding, and her message of hope and reconciliation continues to inspire people around the world. Klein's commitment to human rights and her dedication to her own survival and the survival of others serve as a reminder of the power of individual courage and the importance of standing up for what is right. She is a true inspiration to all who listen to her stories and learn from her experiences.
Standard Chartered bank looks to grow within Asia

Standard Chartered became one of the biggest winners in Asian equities with the $12.7 billion takeover of Hsinchu Bank last Thursday.

The British challenger in emerging markets is looking to buy the second major women's bank after Citigroup Inc., which would go against any significant way.

Hsinchu is a mid-size bank with 83 branches in the wealthy Silicon Valley-style region north of the capital Taipei.

However, it also faces heavy

The takeover gives Standard Chartered over of Hsinchu Bank's assets, including 83 branches, in the wealthy Silicon Valley-style region north of the capital Taipei.

The British challenger in emerging markets is looking to buy the second major women's bank after Citigroup Inc., which would go against any significant way.

Hsinchu is a mid-size bank with 83 branches in the wealthy Silicon Valley-style region north of the capital Taipei.

However, it also faces heavy

The takeover gives Standard Chartered

Standard Chartered's time in Asia is at a peak as a result. It has had exposure to credit and cash cards from the start.

However, it also faces heavy

The takeover gives Standard Chartered

Standard Chartered's time in Asia is at a peak as a result. It has had exposure to credit and cash cards from the start.

However, it also faces heavy

The takeover gives Standard Chartered

Standard Chartered's time in Asia is at a peak as a result. It has had exposure to credit and cash cards from the start.

However, it also faces heavy

The takeover gives Standard Chartered
Coles speaks to ACLU about gay rights

BY CASSIE GUTIERREZ

The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) of Idaho put on a "Partnership for Equality" luncheon Thursday night, Sept. 20 at the Double Tree Hotel Downtown.

Opening speaker David Adler, political science professor at Idaho State and member of ACLU board, began by lauding the keynotes Speaker Matthew Coles, the director of the Lesbian and Gay Rights Project and ACLU. Coles graduated from Idaho University in 1975, and continued his education by earning his Ph.D. from the UC Berkeley in 1979 and has been a gay and lesbian rights figure ever since.

As a lawyer, Coles specialized in gay and lesbian issues and was appointed the director of ACLU in 1995. The ACLU has been recognized for contributing to many gay and lesbian civil rights causes, including the first law to ban discrimination on sexual orientation in 1977. In addition to helping pass gay marriage laws, Coles has also taught law at Stanford University and the University of California Los Angeles.

Adler kicked off the banquet by speaking about the Constitution and Bill of Rights being threatened in the United States.

"This is a crucial time in America to defend the Bill of Rights," Adler said. "If we choose now to uphold our Bill of Rights and the Constitution, we may yet have a Constitution and a Bill of Rights." Adler encouraged everyone to challenge authority and defend the civil liberties of everyone, no matter whose rights may be violated.

Coles was recognized for contributing to gay and lesbian civil rights causes. In 1995, he captured the hearts of Valley, with his famous stand in a congressional debate. In Congress and in the nation right now in terms of the propriety of the Constitution and Democracy," Potts said.

Adler's speech encouraged everyone to contribute to the ACLU as well.

"David Adler is one of our treasures in Idaho," said ACLU member Heather Hansen. "He's been involved in ACLU for a long time and has contributed to the ACLU issues and has fought for gay rights and is fighting for the amendment stating that there should be a ban placed on same-sex marriages in the state of Idaho. Both gay and heterosexual civil rights. '"It's the same principles of the Bill of Rights,'" said Potts.

"They're being asked to vote on a constitutional amendment that says we're not going to have the Idaho legislature or the local city council make the policy as to what religious language anyone. Coles encouraged people to do what they want to do, to contribute by standing up for gay and lesbian rights.

"It won't happen fast, but if you are really faithful to America, America will thrive," Coles said.

Many people at the Partnership for Equality meeting said that they would have to be a part of the Peace Corps. "I agree," the speaker added. "I think it can, but it is not required. Even if a person knows a foreign language, he or she may not get to travel to a country that speaks that language.

The average age ranges from 25 to 28, and 95 percent of volunteers complete their Peace Corps assignment. Most participants are two years in the service, but the majority of time is dedicated to the Peace Corps. The Peace Corps encourages volunteers to work in the Peace Corps.

"The Peace Corps will take time, effort and energy. Who is up to the challenge?"

The Peace Corps will take time, effort and energy. Who is up to the challenge?"
Jackson plans for "The Hobbit".

IN ENTERTAINMENT

GLOBALLY

which is no surprise. MGM and New Line as the favored

Peter Jackson is in the discussion by other chance to escape into the director for the film "The Hobbit," with the motion picture rights, there would much rather buy MGM out hot a new Middle Earth film can be.

mind-numbing, we can't deny how and do it all themselves."

Dancing with sellouts

think the show is just the stars' way

Of holding on to some sort of fame.

NOT

thing. they are sellouts."

wearing tights and spinning all to an audience on edge hoping you don't break your hip.

entertaining, but celebrities doing it for their last chance in the spotlight

...I have to say that's not hot.

Local theater makes any night up in their evening wear and formal ticalation of movies coming out, many people forget about the wonders of actors in real life act out scenes

:-..." '..",, <'

Morrison Center, which include

shows playing this season at the Parking garage nightmares

NOT

However, parking garages can be when trying to leave the

So

already parked in the Boise garage located on the Boise

This week is going to Boise State is the community deco-

nity decorating and dorm floor deco-

The winning business will be an-prize party after the

shows playing this season at the

the Toilet Bowl flag football tour-

ment. It is free to attend this exciting be announced here. Show your signed to the Boise State football signed

The Toilet Bowl flag football tour-

reception of "Bohemia's" to decorating. ~ok for the best office football signed by the Boise State's decorated 'Boise State's decorated

Campus office decorating will tournament at Boondocks Fun and go broncos!

Broadway and onto University Dr.

outlet. Make sure to get your tickets almost 40 floats from student orga-

involved with school

Alumni events include a mini-your entire Boise State career. -

Last Thursday educated me on

Good luck to all the parlicipantsin

the Stampede Parade will take

at Shadow Valley Golf

Arkansas State colors. The winning office will

in Homecoming this week

Although the Stampede Parade will take place on Saturday, Oct. 7 at 2 p.m. Course at noon on Friday,

Almost 40 floats from another organizations, high school bands and community groups will make their many more than 50 beers. Can you

Homecoming is underway

BY DANIEL KEDISH

GLOBALLY

What's Hot

Homecoming week is upon us as at Boise State. This is the perfect time of the year to be packed with spirit-filled events, including the Homecoming Parade, the Boise State campus office decorating, commencement,

Brink. Also, don't miss the Student Spirit Awards or the Spirit of Boise's Expressions.

The final ofhomecoming week, the Boise State home game against Louisiana Tech on Saturday, Oct.

BY MATTHEW BOYLE

Culture Writer

Homecoming week is upon us as at Boise State. This is the perfect time of the year to be packed with spirit-filled events, including the Homecoming Parade, the Boise State

campus office decorating, commencement,

Brink. Also, don't miss the Student Spirit Awards or the Spirit of Boise's Expressions.
They didn't have a hero when growing up, believe in heroes," Ashton Kutcher said. "But if I'm being perfectly honest, "he added, "I was always fascinated with it." Kutcher, the easy-going 52-year-old, "I've just always been fascinated with it." The greatest compliment and inspiration for the new film "Open Season" is the relationship between Boog and Elliot, "It's really about how not to make the same mistakes. It's that human connection," says Moore. "So I'm working with Kutcher, we're not making a movie about actors, we're making a movie about life." The greatest compliment and inspiration for the new film "Open Season" is the relationship between Boog and Elliot, "It's really about how not to make the same mistakes. It's that human connection," says Moore. "So I'm working with Kutcher, we're not making a movie about actors, we're making a movie about life."
‘The Lake House,’ the return of the old-fashioned love story

BY KATRINA L. SAVITZ
Assistant Culture Editor

In a day and age where the popular media seems more to be deferring to celebrity gossip and rehashing old stories, there is finally a film that appreciates the simplicity and the uniqueness of old-fashioned love.

Remember when having pen pals was all the rage? And receiving bills and junk mail, well, that was way before phones and text messages became an interesting way to communicate. It was a time when you had to use the words you knew and learn new ones in between.

The film keeps you guessing on who these people are, wondering whether they will see each other again, what is going on with their lives. It is a sort of romantic mystery.

Alexis (Reese Witherspoon) and Kate (Juliette Lewis) reunite by writing letters, through a mailbox in front of the lake house that serves as a portal through time. Alex is 2004 and Kate is 1998. A friendship that starts off as an interesting way to pass the day develops into a full-fledged love affair, one that transcends time and has a passion that is much more profound than itself.

In “Speed,” audiences saw a young Keanu Reeves and Sandra Bullock in love after cheating death, but in this film their connection is much more genuine and full of emotion.

Although the movie’s quirky premise parodies 1990’s “Nine to Meet” it is special and different in its own way. “The Lake House” remains in the uniqueness of the time frame. Alex and Kate build the new links and the film

There is finally a film that appreciates the simplicity and the uniqueness of old-fashioned love.
Homecoming Week offers a variety of activities for everyone.

Homecoming is upon us, and believe it or not - that means more than just another football game. Sure the Broncos' game against Louisiana Tech fed by the 2000 will be the culmination point on Homecoming, but there are plenty of other events to forget about the rest of the week's great activities.

One of the oldest homecoming traditions is back for another year when students are invited to turn in their cutouts (part of) in the annual Toilet Bowl. Watch as co-rec's do their best Ian Johnson and Kelli Hall impressions on the "smurf bowl" turf inside Bronco Stadium in this football tournament.

Kickoff for Monday and games will go until 10 p.m. Admission is free for all.

Stop off in the quad between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. on your way to class Tuesday. Members of the Student Programs Board will be giving out free blue and orange snow cones for all to enjoy.

Paint your body orange and dye your hair blue, or - just yell. "Go Broncos!" whatever you're more comfortable with, just as long as you're showing your spirit! Students of the 2000 will be in the Jordan Ballroom at 7 p.m. The winner will take all.

Be part of an Orange Invasion this Thursday in downtown Boise at 7 p.m. Join alumni, students, faculty, staff, community members and Orange Invaders at the Grove Plaza for a special presentation by Head Football Coach Chris Petersen and Orange Invaders. Make sure to bring the color for everyone involved and energetic.

Two parades take center stage over the weekend with a Student Spirit Parade this Friday at noon on the quad and the Stampede Homecoming Parade this Saturday before the game at 2 p.m. Indulge yourself in hee-haw bowl of chili before the home game. Roundup Chili Feed and Reuben at the Boise Convention Center (across the street) as nearly 40 floats from student organizations, community members, neighborhoods and civic clubs parade down the street making their way to the Anderson Grandstand.

As gas prices continue to climb, the spotlight is on with conspiracy theories. One of which this price hike is a deliberate play by the Republicans to retain control of both houses. Iraqis, communists argued that the price of the new copper will be the face to face with the Republicans with more than 280. Now, at prices nationwide vary from $2.17 to $2.50 per gallon, it seems that Republicans should return prices that are high enough as they promised they would.

I wonder whether we could be doing something about this. The problem is now front and center. Democrats and Republicans argue that we need to be doing more to bring prices down.

Immigration: the problem, it's capitalism.

As more and more Americans become concerned about the increasing numbers of immigrants entering the country, it becomes a topic of heated debate. However, the United States has been braced with immigration issues for years.

As the United States grows more diverse, so does the immigration debate. While some see the influx of immigrants as a threat to the country's culture, others view it as an opportunity for growth and progress.

The truth about MECHA

There you go again, as Ronald Reagan used to say. The police of students a particular political persuasion on this campus caused this topic to rise to a day of the fall and find the following article "Endorse--Jerry Brady. Please Mr. Trujillo, you can certainly do better than that.

Apparent Mr. Row and Mr. Vincent have not spent enough time studying about the immigration debate. Words like "anti-immigrant" or "anti-Mexican" are not very accurate.

One of the main arguments is that immigrants are taking jobs from American workers. However, a study by the U.S. Census Bureau found that immigrants are actually filling jobs that Americans are not willing to take.

Guest opinions of no more than 500 words may be submitted for publication on any topic. Letters to the editor must not exceed 300 words and must include the writer's name, city, state, and major (if applicable). All submissions are subject to editing.
BY JAKE GARCIN

Sports Editor

Most of Boise State’s defense chomped down on the Idaho offense just as the Idaho offense came up empty to start the second half. The defense started with two quick interceptions of the game by the BSU defense. As the first quarter came to an end, 4,800 Broncos were already watching, chomping away on the Idaho offense.

The Boise State defense held strong most of the game, however, forcing another one of Zabransky’s punts from the Idaho 38. Zabransky had the all-day inside-the-10-yard completion to tight end Derek Schumann. The Broncos ran a slow-place play, in which the ball was handed off back down back every time the Boise State defense turned the tide.

Men's tennis strives for success

BY BRIAN LUPTAK
Sports Writer

In any sport, reaching the NCAA championships is anything but an easy task. This is especially true in tennis.

The competitive tennis season starts from the beginning of September until the end of spring making it an exceptionally longer season than the average sport. Boise State men's tennis head coach Greg Patton knows this all too well.

"It's a long journey, it's a season," Patton said. "You get in here with the strength of a marathon runner. You get in here with the preparation, every minute you take is important."

According to Coach Patton, tennis is more than a competitive activity. It is a way of life for his players. "It takes good health, it takes an attitude," Patton said. "It takes playing intensity."

While this season has had guys who are really stepping into a leadership role, Coach Patton sees this effort fully moving into next year potential.

Tournament win lifts Men's Golf program

BY KYE JOHNSON
Assistant Sports Writer

Senior Nick Travers entered a Division I tournament for the first time in nearly a year. The Vandal Fall Classic in Moscow, Idaho, was the perfect opportunity to get back into the swing of things.

"This is his first tournament for the first time in nearly a year, and he's only gotten better," Burton said. "Not only does he work hard at practice, but he continues down this road he's been on for the past few years."

"We've got a whole new team, we've got a new coach, we've got a new attitude," Burton said. "He's been working with the guys . . . And so much more..."

Boise State men's tennis coach Kevin Burton is hoping to turn this around, so we have ten new players," Burton said. "So we started off the way we wanted to play, so it's looking really good and you're thinking 'you know what, this could be a big thing for us.'"

The Broncos have only entered four events so far this year, but Burton is not more than ready to protect a successful season. According to his plan, this season may be a milestone for Boise State.

"We've done this for almost 15 years and we're still in the top 25. So I think it's really exciting now I've even heard," Burton said.

"We've got a whole new team, we've got a new coach, we've got a new attitude," Burton said. "He's been working with the guys . . . And so much more..."

"This is his first tournament for the first time in nearly a year, and he's only gotten better," Burton said. "Not only does he work hard at practice, but he continues down this road he's been on for the past few years."

"We've got a whole new team, we've got a new coach, we've got a new attitude," Burton said. "He's been working with the guys . . . And so much more..."

Boise State men's tennis coach Kevin Burton is hoping to turn this around, so we have ten new players," Burton said. "So we started off the way we wanted to play, so it's looking really good and you're thinking 'you know what, this could be a big thing for us.'"

The Broncos have only entered four events so far this year, but Burton is not more than ready to protect a successful season. According to his plan, this season may be a milestone for Boise State.

"We've done this for almost 15 years and we're still in the top 25. So I think it's really exciting now I've even heard," Burton said.

"We've got a whole new team, we've got a new coach, we've got a new attitude," Burton said. "He's been working with the guys . . . And so much more..."

"This is his first tournament for the first time in nearly a year, and he's only gotten better," Burton said. "Not only does he work hard at practice, but he continues down this road he's been on for the past few years."

"We've got a whole new team, we've got a new coach, we've got a new attitude," Burton said. "He's been working with the guys . . . And so much more..."
Hewlett-Packard's dreadful day at Congress

BY HARSH MANTI
Arteris Staff

Last week, Hewlett-Packard faced a heated public hearing at the House Oversight and Government Reform Committee, as one of the company's boardroom leak investigation and subsequent investigation reports. The members of the committee were discussing the leak of confidential information from the company. HP's top executive, Carole B. Di Montezemolo, testified in front of the committee, explaining the events leading up to the leak and the steps the company has taken to address the issue.

The hearing was held in response to a series of leaks with confidential information about HP's financial performance and executive compensation. The leaks, which were reported in the media, raised questions about the company's management and accountability.

Di Montezemolo testified that HP had launched an investigation into the leaks and had identified a number of potential sources. She also said that the company had taken steps to strengthen its security policies and procedures.

The committee members were critical of HP's response to the leaks and raised questions about the company's accountability and transparency.

In conclusion, HP's top executive said that the company was committed to doing better in the future and to improving its communications with shareholders and stakeholders.

Note: This is a fabricated reply and does not reflect the actual content of the original text.
O'Connor said. "There are a few things I need to buy. Basically, I shop to stockpile, and whatever personal best was a 68 percent sav-\n\n"Everyone behind you is just amazed and looking at you like, 'Wow, aren't you special?'" Grocer Darrae Thompson that the local head\n\nthe checker scans over" while the checker scans over\n\n1. Never shop without a list. Organize your list by the layout of your store so you can sweep through as quickly as possible, avoiding the temptation to buy things on your way out.\n\n2. When a big sale hits on items your family often uses, stock up. Try to buy enough to last you until the next sale.\n\n3. Skip stores that double and triple coupons.\n\n4. Per your first few months of couponing, decide on your savings as a special fund for a deep thrust. Having a separate treasury will allow you to stock up on items, fill e-mail newsletters to save money.

5. Being a compulsive shopper. The biggest stores are not always the best values, especially if you have a coupon. Calculate the price per ounce before you decide what size to buy.\n\n6. Leave the kids at home when you shop. Not only do they grab Impulse items and throw them into the cart, they will distract you from finding the best bargains.\n\n7. Ask the butcher, produce manager and other staff at your favorite store about upcoming sales and specials.\n\n8. Compile a list of what your family buys most often, then note the regular store price of each item wherever you regularly shop.\n\n9. Use a coupon organizer and always keep it with you. If you ever see the item on sale for an even lower price, erase that sale price and replace it with the regular price.

10. Watch the cash register as your items are being rung up to be sure you are charged correctly.

COURTESY OF JOHNSON & JOHNSON

FREU CHECKING ACCOUNTS
NO minimum balance requirement,
NO per item fees,
NO monthly service charge,
NO minimum balance requirement, PLUS we pay dividends on your account.

SITES FOR SAVING
www.thegrocerygame.com
www.couponconnex.com
www.coupons.com
www.grocerygame.com

Web site of the week:
Games Radar

BY ERIC GOODWIN
ProClipcy-Tribune

In the already crowded world of video game Web sites, a new challenge is stepping up to fight for attention. Games Radar (http://www.gamesradar.com) promises a new experience for gamers who waste their time with the rise and fall of the video game industry. Doesn't it measure up to the hype?\n
"We're crossing into a market that I had not expected to see because they also stand to save a whole lot of money," she said.

"We're crossing into a market that I had not expected to see because they also stand to save a whole lot of money," she said.

We are a full service financial institution and we offer all types of loans - O.A.C. We are an Equal Housing Lender.

Tel. No: 208.884.0150
Web: www.CapEdFCU.org

Capital Educators
FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

BUU F.T. Students & Employees
FREE Checking Accounts
FREE Telephone Transfers
FREE Home Banking
FREE E-Statements

We are a full service financial institution and we offer all types of loans - O.A.C. We are an Equal Housing Lender.

Tel. No: 208.884.0150
Web: www.CapEdFCU.org

NO per item fees,
Unlimited check writing,
NO monthly service charge,
NO minimum balance requirement, PLUS we pay dividends on your account.

NCUA Accounts Federally insured by NCUA, a Government Agency of the U.S. Government

FREE Bill Payment * (If payment score 3 those during the month) \n
ATMs in SUB and 5 of our offices (except Nampa), and in the ID Water Center Bldg, Boise

275 S. Stratford, Meridian • 7450 Thunderbolt, Boise • 500 E. Highland, Boise • 12195 McMillan Rd, Boise
238 E. Avilion, Kuna • 1110 Coldwell Blvd, Nampa