Students, Let’s All Support Our Cheerleaders and Team

What are you doing to make B.C. athletic teams a success? Are you helping them win in the open field? If you have a football game season a chance to win a game, you're doing your best.

Do you believe a football game won by the team alone? It takes a team's effort, strength, and quick action to win a game. But that doesn’t mean we have to do it all. We still need to get your support and encouragement.

Pep might be compared to Cola—it takes a lot to satisfy. Do you think that the cheerleaders can do it on the average? We take a lot of pep out of our own. We're as much a part of the team as the players.

Perhaps when you hear your cheer in a cheer you feel self-conscious. Maybe it sounds funny. If you have trouble with these, it’s because you can’t feel your own voice or you don’t feel your own voice.

If you can’t do it yourself, you can’t do it anywhere. If you can’t do it anywhere, you can’t do it yourself. If you can’t do it yourself, you can’t do it anywhere.

You said, “I know what the team needs.” But how about how to make sure the team gets it?

Now that we have a lot of pep, how are we going to use it? A waste of pep is a waste of time. If each and every one of you is going to do your part, we can add on to the power of our team.

If we have water power of pep and a couple of us playing our part, we can be a team. It takes the whole team to make it an actual asset to our eleven grunting and puffing Broncs.

Small Schools Advantageous

Most of us are very glad that there is a Junior College here in Boise. If there were no one else here, we would have no school at all.

And yet, we know that there are schools throughout the country that are unable to attend an institution of higher learning. Junior Colleges much smaller than ours are able to attain the same level of the larger institutions, according to statistics gathered.

Why is this? Perhaps the reason is that there are no large schools for our educational purposes. Most of the students here at B.C. can gain much more from the small school experience than from the larger programs.

If you are going to attend a school on the theory that a large school is better, you are not being realistic. Here we have a school that is based on a small school.

To sum it up, we can cheer with the team, for the opposing team, for everything. We can do it, we have to do it, and we enjoy watching the best game they know how, and we enjoy watching the best game they know how.

B.J. C. Football Season a Success?

Do you think they will make the Olympic Games this year? It’s hard to say. We can only wait and see how they do.

The team has enjoyed playing the best game they know how, and we’re glad they did.

When he penalizes us, but he is doing his best. Maybe he knows more about the game than we do. Maybe he’s trying to help us win.

Who are in there fighting for us? Instead of having several little cheerleaders, we have a waterfall of power and a couple of specialists.

We can double our money the next time we play. We can double our money the next time we play.

Are you going to help them win or not? If you’re excited enough about the game, you can help them win. Maybe you just want to help you.

In his daily writing notes, “I wish I could make them understand. But, gee, handwriting is surely great.

A lot of sweet romancing. Yeah, just ask Bob Gill and some of his pals. They know all about it.

Well Marc was very mad at the team. What could have been the matter?

He’s noticed some that was what it was supposed to be. Bad luck! Why not carry for their books? Carrying them is a way of being a part of the team.

B. J. C. Students

The conduct of the new students is not quite up to the normal standards of some of us who have been here for a few years.

We are happy to see our fellows getting along, and getting along with their studies. However, we must all be reminded of the importance of good citizenship.

If you are going to attend a school on the theory that a large school is better, you are not being realistic. Here we have a school that is based on a small school.

There are many students here who have wonderful ideas and talents. It is unfortunate that we have not enough resources to help them fully.

Pianist Travels In Europe Extensively

Attending B.J.C. this year is one of Boise's most outstanding pianists, Ted Alexander, who is taking a course in music under James L. Strachan. He visited the Aegean and his maiden tour of concert halls in Europe included some travel in Tunisia. He then sailed down the Nile river where crocodile hunting was a fascinating sport. From there he traveled through the Black sea to Turkey and on to the Elks' ballroom, consistent with its first fall meeting on Saturday night with the reception was moved this year from black satin bloomers to dresses.

College Enrollees Slowly Increase

With the arrival of seven more students to the halls of Boise Junior College within the last week the enrollment has climbed to 350, the largest in the history of the college. Mr. Tom Thirlkill, Boise Hi's favorite football star, enrolled early last week. He was welcomed with open arms by the Broncos squad. Harry Jacoby, coach, plans to use Thirlkill in a guard position.

Wooden Hi leaders and Boise Hi have also enrolled. They are Gage Lien and Junior Peterson. Other new students include Pauline Baxter, Octavia Bossert, Mary Maxine Pitts, Everett O'Neil and Muri Fritschel.

OLD AIRPORT CHOSEN FOR B.J. C. CAMPUS

Boise students may be attending a new Boise Junior College campus at the site of the old airport, sometime in the near future.

Mayor James L. Strachan announced.

President Eugene Chaffee states that the site is "the best we have in view." He visualizes a new Boise Junior College which would, in 1944, be educating more than 1000 students.

The college board of regents, as well as the city council, have agreed that if money is invested in a campus and buildings, the institution will pay for itself in a very short order.

Right in Ideal

Mayor Strachan stated the purpose: "The site is ideal. It is bordered by two arterial highways, is near the university, composed of high school seniors, and discuss topics of interest. The Tri-Y club is a new organization, composed of high school girls who are interested in getting acquainted with old Boise students. The last meeting was held at 7:30 p.m., at the Y. W. C.A. All college girls are invited to come and make our club an active, in- teresting and educational social affair.

The last meeting was held October 4, with Gloria Kirlie in charge. Connie Herzinger was appointed chairman for a masquerade party, November 1. Election of officers will take place at the next meeting, October 18.

Here we are in another year of our fantastic lives that we are beginning with an optimistic yearbook. With a much larger student body, and consequently our possibilities are much more going on, we can ex-pect a really good book.

The book will not be average but a real good book.
