Roundup

Student Body of Boise Junior College
As another mark of distinction in its first year, Boise Junior College has been chosen by the Civil Aeronautics Association to train pilots for its competitive flying. President Eugene Charles made the announcement at the installation of the work at B.J.C. last summer and received authority to inaugurate the school. Eighty young men will be trained in Idaho, 30 at the state university, 20 at the southern branch at Pocatello, and 10 each at the Lewiston Junior College and the Boise Junior College.

This course will consist of training in both the school work and actual flying. There will be from 35 to 50 actual flying hours of both ideal and solo work. Included in the 72 hours of ground school study will be courses in practical air navigation, civil aviation regulations, history of aviation, theory of flight, meteorology, aircraft, aircraft power plants, air craft instruments, airport traffic, procedure and physiography.

Under this plan each cadet pilot is required to be present at all meetings to cover the expenses at B.J.C. in their ground work training, and the student is also expected to undertake the required insurance and medical examinations.

The U.S. government has recommended that sophomore students be admitted the second year. This assures that they be between 18 and 25 years of age. The Boise Junior College students will be selected within the next few days.

B.J.C. VALKYRIES TO BE ENLARGED

The Valkyries, B.J.C. service organization, will increase its membership to 25, announced Betty J. Kroeger, president. The Valkyrie name comes from a deep consideration, and after several meetings it was decided to elaborate. Even after the organization of the club, the membership has increased five times. It now includes eight sophomores and seven freshmen. However, for the first time in the history of the school, the enrollment has more than doubled. The membership, according to the club, has increased in the last few weeks with Elks and at various meetings.

The distribution of the club includes: Betty J. Kroeger of the Boise Junior College, chairman; Julia Behrens, secretary; Doris Heintz, treasurer; and Dorothy Jean Quaile, co-chairman.

American Association of University Women is sponsoring Professor Beattie as a community service volunteer.

Dancing Class Is Sponsored by Clubs

Do you want to be the life of the ball? Would you like to enjoy a fashionable social success?

The Boise Junior College girls are looking forward to the week when they entered the Boise high school gym last Friday to receive the Valkyries' Stag Club, a new organization of the young men who are the future of the school.

For the first time in its history, the Boise Junior College will have a full symphony orchestra, supplemented in a few weeks by local Boise residents, Mr. James J. Strachan, director, announced. Complete orchestration has been added to the personnel of the orchestra to be played by the orchestra.

The committee for the stunt was composed of the following: Helen Caine, Betty Taylor and Oneta Stanton. The committee was to urge your friends, support your team.

Boise Featured In Christian Monitor

Boise, metropolitan for Idaho's rapidly growing population, gained nation-wide recognition when the October 19 issue of the Christian Monitor carried a two-page spread of stories on Boise, telling of its state affairs, arts and literature. The Boise church school was also featured.

History of Boise Junior College is given in one of the stories. Another article told of the Boise tourist trade which is attracted by the gold mines of Idaho and the land of America. The fact that the Boise flying field links this city with the rest of the nation was stated in another story.

The state house and the depot and Howard Plaste gardens were found in the other story.

A story was also carried on the Boise Junior College Woman's Council, which as the Boise campus was expected to be double in the near future. The attendance of Boise was emphasized, and in the annual W.C.A. memory day, November 4. The Boise is featured in the Christian Monitor.
Common Courtesy is Badly Needed in Assemblies
Students, we must pay more attention to what goes on in our assemblies, the announcements minutely. If an announcement is being made, someone one doubtlessly is interested. If it does not apply to us personally, let's give the other fellow what interested is the chance to hear. It may mean a lot to him.

We know that if there is an announcement we particularly want to hear, and someone is creating an uproar which prevents from hearing it, it might be well to consider the possibility of getting to be quiet while we are listening, we must extend to him the same courtesy.

I'm most assured in the place of the person before the student body in an assembly. No matter how good a performer he is, he may be a little out of practice today. He doesn't belong to this world. He doesn't like to take your time unless he has some reason, so give him a chance. It's just common courtesy.

Cooperation Is Needed
Now about a little cooperation on the paper, students! It's your paper; it's a student paper or staffs. Be so kind as to let it have entirely up to them to get your paper out on Friday. It's a hard job—much harder than you think. It's a hard job and every one of you could assist in having your paper out on time. In many ways the first day, you do know of anyone who would like to put in and ad in the paper? If you do, don't fail to notify the ad manager or any staff member. In the second place, how about some copy? You are the ones who make the news so why not write it up especially? We want your opinions, ideas, news. How about writing a letter to reporter? Feature material is always needed and there is much of it around the school. If a friend of yours makes a bright saying in class, why not write it down? It's always a good idea, and it's nice feeling to see one's own words in print.

In conclusion, students, if you want this paper continued, let's have a little more cooperation.

From Apple Ducking to Dancing
Here it is, almost Halloween again, oh! The memories it brings back! We remember when we used to fill a tub with water, and duck for apples. We remember when we used to tie a little string around each apple hanging from a string. We won prizes for these feats and were we ever proud of ourselves! In the first place, do you know of anyone who would like to put in an ad in the paper? If you do, don't fail to notify the ad manager or any staff member. In the second place, how about some copy? We know he is just pouting 'cause he shot down couldn't be expected to tell him much.

B. J. C. ONE ACT PLAYS A SUCCESS

By B. J. C.

Amid the guffaws and groans of Doris Vining's screaming, Morton Holly'sitterting that the audience was spread out, and the inaccurate pistol fire, the three short plays of the evening! last week to an enthusiastic capacity audience.

The school spirit was admirably represented by Cornelia Herzinger, Betty Reddoch, Dorothy Barbour and Rosemary Reed, whose cackling gossip was interrupted in the first play by UThe Moving Finger," but got a few laughs. The boys were in the clutches of Don Bergquist, Allen Freeman, Bob Dewey and Dwain Modot (the Talavarian army), which in turn was given the only pitched battle in history by Bob Cole, who killed anything before view. Things got well under way.

Of course, no story of the plays would be complete without mentioning Jean Raimondi. "Fate," Griflifin's and his short skit on "How I Wrote My Act," a satire on silence.

Miss Dale Whittemore, after a three-weeks' absence, is still calling everybody by their play names. Isn't that silly?

Caldwell Game Tonight

Caldwellites will shiver in their boots when the Bronze stampede comes to town. The Bosseans will send good citizens of Caldwell scurrying for cover. And when we turn loose our football team against their eleven, certain massacres will result—I hope. We can be pleased for it anyway.

Speaking of things we hope, we might add that we hope no Boiseans will arrive feet first. To be sure that we shelled out, let's start early and not hurry too. We won't have to. We'll just tip, don't we win a way over. Pep and broken bones don't mix.

We must get there in good condition with lots of pep, turn the Idaho on and make a racket that will blow the roof off. None of this moldering about. Give it everything you've got! We'll see you there.

Art Appreciation Class

Bob's Galleria

Conan Mathews' art appreciation class is appreciating art from the front lines these days. Last week the boys examined a few of the newer artists. Mr. Mathews lectured and the students examined and discussed the different pieces exhibited. One picture was a very good example of cubism; another, called "Duck Decay," decayed a few duckey remarks but was justified as being modern art.

The art class plans to make regular visits to the gallery in connection with this course.

Hallow'een Masquerade
November 1 will be the date of the Hallow'een masquerade for the Tri-Y girls at the T. W. C. A. at 2 p.m., announced Connie Herzinger, general chairman. Every girl that comes "decked up" will be announced and the best costume receives a prize. Any girl that is interested in being announced must give the names of three members who should be chosen at the party to become initiated.

This is the first meeting of his group. Mr. Mitchell is B. J. C.'s general chairman. Every girl that is interested in joining, are cordially invited to attend. The fee will be 10 cents, a special price for Tri-Y members. All girls planning on going must give the 40 cents to Connie Herzinger by Saturday noon.

Debutos De Kampa Soo
The Boise Junior College debate team will make a trip to Saint Paul where they will compete with the College of Idaho and the Nampa High School. When they return from this trip, the regular team of sophomore members will be initiated.

Mr. Adkisson will coach the team and Eleanor Ray will be manager.

Halloween Dance Successful

No chance to dance and romance came for the second time last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Boise art gallery. Every man had two hours in which to do so, kind of the same thing, unless P. I. should try.

Thanks to the Holmes Electric company we were able to secure an excellent radio device which provided the music.

Beattie To Speak

Professor Arthur H. Beattie, associate professor of French at the University of Idaho, will speak to the Association of Foreign Language Teachers during the Idaho Educational Association meeting in Boise, October 27-28. His subject will be "Problems of the Foreign Language Teacher."

The American Association of University Women will sponsor a lecture in Boise Junior College gymnasium by Professor Beattie Friday afternoon. October 30. His subject will be "Charmed Magic Cigarettes," which deals with symbolisms in modern foreign poetry.

The public is invited.

Professor Beattie defines symbolism in poetry as an appeal in a musical nature directly to the emotions rather than the intelligence of the reader. This is a definite trend in modern foreign poetry of today.

Students Enjoy Free Dance

Students of B. J. C. enjoyed a free dance Tuesday, October 17, at the Boise Junior College dance palace. Not only was the dance very well attended, but the students showed they were capable of being refined men and women. It was the nicest group of people your reporter has ever seen on a dance floor.

Sitting at the table stipping copies of which were generously do- nated by Bob Holman, we saw—Mr. Wilmann checking-to checking with Miss Hunter—Miss Herzinger and Mr. Faught dancing well together. And speaking of swings, Mr. Lough and Boise Ursula can really show us how it is done. For the reasons. Way is variable. Bye, boys, with coos. Others were seen Mr. Coleman, Mr. Robinson and Laura Reynolds, to say nothing of countless others.

B. J. C. Club Makes Money on Programs

The B. J. C. club under the leadership of Doris Bartel, sold programs at the University of Idaho football game Saturday afternoon.

They sold 475 programs for a profit of $17.50—enough to go to the Boise art gallery, for the best costume receives a prize. Any girl that is interested in being announced must give the names of three members who should be chosen at the party to become initiated.

Chat With Idaho Vandals

By POP CURTIS and LEANDER MARTZ

Charles "Chuck" Atkinson is the only married man on the Vandals. "Chuck" came from Pocatello, where he played two years with the southern branch. He plays halfback and he saw some action in the game with Utah. He says that it was hard to play against their own system. "Chuck" is studying to be an athletic director.

Gordon "Glen" Price is the captain of the Vandals. He is from Ogden, Utah, and is active in three major sports—football, basketball and baseball. He is also studying to be an athletic director.

I solo "Babe" Cassia plays center on the Vandals team. He is not the starting center but he was in a large part of the Utah game. I solo is from Pocatello, where he played football for southern branch. When questioned about the outcome of the game, he remarked: "We have a good ball club but we didn't play together and we wore not clicking that day."

Valkyrie Book Sale
Termed Successful

A book shop sponsored by the Valkyries and under the management of Helen Marr Archibald, proved to be a very satisfactory way in which to transact used books. The store, an annual project of the Valkyries, makes it possible for many students to buy second-hand books thus saving the expense of new ones. It provided a profit of 10 cents per book for the organization and also enabled second-year and graduate students to sell their books. This fall the store handled approximately 200 books. It is hoped that the store will, in the years to come, be a regular medium of exchange of books, drawing sets, and all school supplies.

Forensic Club Assembly

The Forensic Club of B.J.C. plans to sponsor a discussion assembly this coming Wednesday upon the subject of neutrality and how it may best be preserved. Eleanor Ivey and Gene Frazier will start the meeting by each briefly presenting an outline of the discussion. Students are asked to participate in this discussion.
