Student Body of Boise Junior College
A Message From The President

"The recent election demonstrates with added force the desire of the Boise community to have a junior college second to none. Boise Junior College, the greatest single addition to the life of this city in recent years, stands as a perpetual monument to the energy and foresight of the people of Boise."

It had been a slow and at times discouraging process building this institution from an idea in the minds of a few to a reality. Each step was made possible because of the outpouring of faith, effort, and cooperation of a gradually increasing number of friends and benefactors.

To Mr. Walter E. York and his election committee of over 300, the students and faculty owe an eternal debt of gratitude.

Ann Outnumber Women

Had you known that since the Boise Junior College started in fall 1932 there have been more men than the women? 1932-33 men 60, women 32; 1933-34 men 52, women 35; 1934-35 men 122, women 75; 1935-36 men 236, women 177.

Marchants Cooperate

Boise merchants had a very co-operative spirit during the Broncs' looming season. Two stores displayed windows with photos of the Boise college team — Sib Klett's Spinning Goods and C.C. Anderson Co. This was a great up in getting the citizens of Boise into the homecoming spirit.

Rennie's Roundup of Fashion News

That B Cuba dance was a nice dance, wasn't it? Everyone looked so smartly dressed, and all the girls looked so lovely and happy. It was certainly a most enjoyable evening. Chairman Bennett gave us a very nice speech at the dinner, and they all agreed that the dance was a big success. So let's look forward to next year's dance.

By Ferdinand

Well, here I am stirring the bull again.

- Ed is really getting into the spirit of the back yard riding and everything. Even, Ed isn't it fun.

- What's this we hear about Deets Anderson and a blond sophomore? But, Deets, we heard it from a reliable source and it's true.

- Ferdinand has noticed that B. C. girls have been wearing their hair in bobs for the past week. Oool Bob's debutantes have had to do with anything to do with Ed? Everett, of course, has had his corns springing in the air.

Do we have to settle for a couple of people just forgetting the whole thing? Ah, now Ed and Bobby, what about the quality justifies its existence. We have more people, higher standards, more scholarships, and we have more Dick's Ducks.

All these things have been left out in the old buildings. With new buildings and new equipment, we are looking forward to the school's improving every year in every way. The expense of building a school is well worth it. Meanwhile, we will do our best to make B. C. a fine junior college in itself. Not only will we have the team to thank for this, but also an enthusiastic and hard working student body. Ferdinand has helped us put our best foot forward in the legislature and this year was certainly the year to do it. Ferdinand is coming to Boise for its 25th anniversary and it's time to think now.

B. J. C. Alumni Are the School's Best and Most Convincing Advertisement

Alumni are important to a school, if for no other reason than as an advertisement. If a person looks at the alumni of a school he can tell more or less the degree of efficiency prevailing there. Like a manufacturing plant, college is dependent upon its alumni for an unusually successful young man and he knows if he is from a school that produces successful alumni.

Podunk College you think, "Hum, just the place for me." However, some certainly do carry the school justice. They are widely scattered and in many different walks of life. This being the case, any section of the alumni association can be a convincing pointer to anyone trying to decide what school to attend.

Let's Be Thankful for Two Thanksgivings

The latest invention to add to the comfort and convenience of the modern American is the double Thanksgiving. This year's event seems to be proof of the advisability of a junior college in itself. Not only the quantity, but the quality justifies its existence. We have more people, higher standards, more scholarships, and we have more Dick's Ducks.

All these things have been left out in the old buildings. With new buildings and new equipment, we are looking forward to the school's improving every year in every way. The expense of building a school is well worth it. Meanwhile, we will do our best to make B. C. a fine junior college in itself. Not only will we have the team to thank for this, but also an enthusiastic and hard working student body. Ferdinand has helped us put our best foot forward in the legislature and this year was certainly the year to do it. Ferdinand is coming to Boise for its 25th anniversary and it's time to think now.

A Flare and Greater Junior College

Some alumni of Boise showed that they think we are worth digging into their pocketsbooks for, so it is up to us to make their investment pay returns. This year's event seems too sure of a benefit from this situation. In the first place we can be thankful that we are at present participating in no European war. And in the second place we are going to be a hunter instead of a pansy. We can think of each year as bringing a greater benefit to our alma mater.

Let Us Then Be Thankful

Even if the circumstances are not so favorable, there is still much to be thankful for. We have many things for which we can be thankful to have. The best way to express our gratitude is to express it to those who deserve our thanks. The first of these is our school. Our school has given us an opportunity to learn, to grow, and to succeed. It has been our home away from home, and it has been our family. We are thankful for everything that our school has given us.

B. J. C. Graduates

Many of the alumni of B. J. C. are doing wonderful things in the world. They are making a difference in their communities, and they are making a difference in the world. They are leaders, and they are change makers. They are doing things that are important, and they are doing things that are right. They are doing things that are good, and they are doing things that are beautiful.

B. J. C. Alumni

The alumni of B. J. C. are the school's best and most convincing advertisement. They are the ones who know the school best, and they are the ones who can best speak for it. They are the ones who can best show the world what B. J. C. is all about.

Future Returns Home for Holiday Vacation

Bill Baugh, an A. D. graduate of B. J. C., is selling type writers for the Remington Rand National Sales. Bill is very happy to return home for the holidays, and he is looking forward to seeing his family and friends.

Football Season is Termed Successful

By Orle Dudley

No season for the greater part of the student body of B. J. C. has been more successful than this year's football season. Mr. C. W. Erretti, the head coach, has the talent to make a winner out of any team. And this year's team has done just that.

Inquisitive Reporter Investigates Names

Smith, the most common name in the world, is also the most frequent name in Boise Junior College. Last names that are four Smiths, namely Elias, DeForest, Frank, Harriet, and Bill, none of whom are related.

Your four classmates possess the last name of Robeline and Martin. Jeanette, Mary, Dorothy and Bill have been enrolled from the Marion family and only the latter two from the same. The Robeline claim John, Elmer, and Mary, all of whom belong to different kin.

You can independently use one of the familiar name, Brown, Ed- ward, known to his associates as "papa," from Idaho. The Greens have only two students to their credit, Barbara and Callen Fur- man, but are not related. The Jones hold their own with three, Lloyd, Patricia and Stanley.

There are three each of Baker, Bush, Collins, Matthews, Peterson, and Smither. There are two each of students possessing the last name of Anderson, Armstrong, Baxter, Campbell, Clark, Cole, Davis, Evans, Harris, Jacobs, McDonald, Reynolds and Hewitt. Joe and the Jones are the only students of any sort who are not related, but the Jones hold their own with three, Lloyd, Patricia and Stanley.

There are several students who have the same last names but spell it differently. Eugene Frasier and Ralph Fraser are among them. Ginger spells her last name "Ginger," while James prefers his spelled "Jimmie." Jackie Miller spells her last name with an "a," while Harry Miller likes his best with an "e." The story would not, of course, be just another "Story," but all the same the spelling to the students' tastes.

Junior College possesses five sets of brothers, four pairs of sisters and seven combinations of brother and sister. The brothers of the school are Monroe and Ter- rel Carver, John and James Gray, Alan and Robert Hugo, John and James Pease, Reed and Woodrow Peterson. Sisters who attend Jun- ior College together are Emma Jane and Bernice Heiser, Jane and Phyllis McQueen, and Betty and Ruth Williams.

A brother and a sister of the family include Zona and Rock- eth Bybee, Gayle and Oake Hoover, Clarence and Frances Washburn, Bernice and Art Boy, Miriam and Bob Vernon, Rita and Walter Weber, and Tom and Virginia Wilson.

Jeanette Guthman Enjoys Hobbies

1939—That was the year Mrs. Powers was on leave and Harriet Crane from Eugene substituted for her, the year Helen Mayer Ferrer was dramatic coach and B. J. C. produced in all its glory "Petticoat Fever."

Jeanette Guthman was the other woman in "Petticoat Fever" and loved it. She is still loving (B. J. C.) even though she didn't get to be a student—she should have had one but someone slipped up and she was gone too late.

She remembers very well how "Petticoat Fever" filled the whole class of the year that Mrs. Christoff decided to give his "all" to the college in spite of the fact that it was his last year.

But that's all past—since then she has held three jobs, and in her own words "between typewriter, air rifle and sheep—I'll do them." All this motion repre- sents the duties of Rwel Greenacre As- sociation for which she now works.

Jeanette is still enlisting in a bit of school in Conlin Mathes night art class and being a helpful angel to the first year French stu- dents. Art and French are hobbies for her and very good she is at them too, but her real passion is her collection of fine phonograph records.

She is as enthusiastic as anybody about the school's new location—her heart's still with B. J. C.
Bravos Victorious In Final Battle of Gridiron Season

The Lewiston Normal homecoming festivities were rather notable by students and teachers who witnessed the B.C. gridiron in the 20 to 7 defeat they dealt the Idaho Normal Indians, Armistice Day.

The first half ended in a draw 12-12, but the boys had been pushing each other around over the field, and were able to reach pay dirt only once. A pass from Bob Rodgers to Bob Mitchell, who was on the 40 yard line, set the boys in scoring position. A short distance later, they were in the end zone. On the next play "Skipper" Harrington, through a hole, cut away from the secondary, and went over for the first score. Varsity minus one, linebackers, and extra point.

Loggers Tie Bears

The Loggers came back in a hurry and were seen in Briscoe territory, but were being held on the 30 yard line. They took to the air and on the second attempt completed a pass which put them on the two-yard line. A plunge through center followed by a powerful effort put the ball on the goal in the rest of the first half.

In the middle of the third quarter another scoring punch was started by Harrington and finally led to the Lewiston 15. Two plays failed to gain the needed, so Bob Mitchell threw another pass in the end zone, who jumped high in the air to keep a Logger from knocking down.

Dashing Dorothy

During that aerial display the point and the Boise Bronces then led, 14 to 7. In the fourth quarter, Ross's passing arm picked out Chester for a 26 yard gain and put the ball on Lewiston's 20 yard line. Good interference by Brown, Ross then threw a pass which safety Pete Kill opened the way for Lee Harrington in a false reverse through center and a cut around the left side for the final touchdown. The kick was blocked. Final score, 20 to 7.

Clos Triumvirate Over Mitchell

A triumphal smile spread over the face of B.C.'s education head, Mr. O. D. Cole, when he returned from a deer hunting trip during the latter part of the season. Mr. Mitchell, was a wee bit down at the mouth. It seems that the boys had a dispute over which was the best way to bag a deer, and decided a practical demonstration would settle the question. Mr. Mitchell came out on the little end of the deal. Mr. Cole proved that the best hunting is done by climbing directly to the top of the ridge and quietly slipping down to pass of the slope which have not been disturbed by other hunters.

Students Should Use College Library Only

Attention, students of B.C. If you have a required reading go to your own library and NOT to Carney's. Now, all required books will be transferred from the state library to the college library. The requests are made through the library department, Mrs. Reifeld.

The students, as well as the faculty, may make requests to Mr. Reifeld, and he will get the books ready.

The Library system is set up to help the students and serve all equal educational families to get the required books. Each student who requests the college library for references, but educational reading can be obtained, with a card, from the College.

Jacoby Regime Brings...Good Luck to Broncs

B.C. C. Broncs end their gridiron season successfully by worsting the Lewiston Normal Indians, 20 to 7, at Lewiston on Armistice Day.

The records of the game and the good support given the team by thendered students, prove this was one of the most successful seasons in the history of the college for the Boise gridiron, in the opinion of college officials.

Two years ago B.C. C. went through the football season without a win. Last year, they won two and lost four games, scoring points to the equal opposition 125. This year the Broncs won four games in the season, scoring 170 points to their opponents 46.

The mention blissed this advancement in Boise college football, in Coach Harry Jacoby. Coming to Boise Junior College at the beginning of football season a year ago, Jacoby was at the bottom of the ladder, because of the previous season which produced no football wins.

As coach, he started from scratch and built a team. He has gained support for B.C. C. that gained support of the townpeople of Boise, as well as that of the school itself.

Students Go Hunting

Many of B.C. C. 's students go out on their 'trusty rifles and shoot, this season to test their hunting skills. Most of the students who went deer hunting would leave Friday after school and return home Sunday, so they would not miss any school. Although deer season closed November 5th, a special area was held open around Lewiston for the additional week. Quite a number of students were lucky in their deer hunting efforts.

Most of our minnow students had a fairly good luck, shooting pheasants and ducks, and many students went out every day to hunt the feathered folk. Duck season closes December 5th, and the season on upland birds closed November 15.

College Produces Good Teachers

B.C. C. teachers, training students make good. The records show.

With a check on Norman Adkison, head of education department, shows that 19 of the class of '23 graduates, five now have teaching positions, two are continuing their education at universities, two are married and one has returned to his home in Craig because of a death in the family.

Vilmer Sturms, former A. B. president, holds the only title offered by the Boise public school system. She is teaching the first grade at Park school.

Rossmomh Willett has the B. A. degree. Her county. Jane Drake is at McGregor, Idaho; Barbara Barber teaches at Newell, Wallace.

Wealth of Material Spurs Basketball Season Hopes

Getting The Go-Round
By A. GOGGETT

Wayne Story — A tall dark lad with a sly, keen expression, is his name. He was a wicked game of football without a field, which made his big, powerful frame for Elston now that his hand is hurt.

John Hogan — Graduate of St. Yerena's Academy. Has played one year at Saint Clare College. Came girl when he has his picture taken, for he minus three front teeth. And you can hear that great Irish voice.

Woodsy Peterson — A graduate from Boise high school. is always seen with his Irish pal, "Keely." His favorite sport outside of football is hunting.

After known to some B. J. C. studen tants, while attending the University of Idaho. Burton Williams of '37, star guard on the basketball team, punched the time clock at a grocery store in Idaho City.

Wedding bells have rung for John Orbas, '35, who is now married to the former Maxine Patterson, who works for Swift and Company.

B. A. graduate of last year, Miss Leach believes that her present job is the most interesting experience in her life. Miss Leach was very popular among her fellow students. She was an active member of the Val tette, her two years. One B. J. C., being vice president and treasurer her second year. Music was also on her program. She was in the cappella choir, girls' trio and girls' ensemble. The Le Boys received her talents of typist for her freshman year and sophomore editor last year. She was also a member of the student tribunal and from the student council.

Miss Leach's school days were climaxed by being elected "Campus Queen" by the B. J. C. club last spring.

Athletes Occupied

What has happened to former athletes of B. J. C.? Records show that their successes are a pride to Boise Junior College.

Karl Kord, who attended in 1934 and '35, is now taking business and law at the University of Idaho. Kari played guard on the football team and was once representative on the student council.

Don Stephens, former football captain and quarterback is now living in McCall, Idaho. Don attended B. J. C. from 1935 to 1938. Howard of the class of '37 is taking Business Administration at the University of Idaho.

Burton Williams of '37, star guard on the basketball team, punched the time clock at a grocery store in Idaho City.

F. J. C. alumni, four of the most outstanding are the brothers, Harold, Elliot, Virgil and Hadley. They are graduates of U. S. High School and were prominent students while attending B. J. C.

Harold, junior college student in 1937-39, is now in Philadelphia, Penna. in a music school in Philadelphia, working as a music student in the Drexel Institute. He is taking a four-year course in music and is majoring in opera outside of football.

Virgil and Hadley are perhaps known to some B. J. C. students, both having graduated in '39.

Virgil is in Santa Monica, Calif., where he is enrolled in a course in aviation. Hadley, also '39 graduate, is at San Diego, receiving training as a naval machinist for the air service.

Francis Bernard Given Fellowship at Juilliard

Latest honor, of a considerable string of honors, to be won by Francis Barnard of Boise, former pupil of Mrs. Lucille Tavey Fowler of the B. J. C. school of music, is a scholarship in the opera division of the Juilliard Graduate School of Music in New York.

News of the award reached Mrs. Fowler recently. Mr. Barnard last September was awarded a fellowship in the Juilliard school.

At a national festival in Chicago during his senior year in Boise high school, Mr. Barnard's singing won him a scholarship at the Cin cinnati Conservatory of Music. Then he has sung in a num er of churches, in light opera, civic organizations and on the radio.

Mr. Barnard was the first Idaho student to be awarded a fellowship at the Juilliard school. He is now singing for its Thomas church in New York.
