The new assembly hall-building is now taking definite forms. The WPA, under Mr. A. B. E.Fansler, has been pouring the concrete for the exterior walls this week and expects to be out of doors for the Thanksgiving. The new building will be erected on the present site and be ready for use in the spring. The building will not only house music, offer quarters for play production, and provide an auditorium for the student body of the Junior College, but will likewise furnish the students with beautiful, ade­quate quarters for the social func­tions of the college. A kitchen ad­dition is planned to be added to the auditorium building and trimmed in stone.

ELECTIONS

FUTURE TEACHERS

Phyllis McQueen was elected president of the Boise chapter of the Future Teachers of America at the recent meeting held Octo­ber 28. Betty Jean Quality was chosen vice president, and Mary Chadwick secretary.

This organization will be affili­ated with the State and National Educational Association and will receive the publications of both societies. The fee is $2 per year. Projects and activities will be determined by the local organiza­tion for the benefit of its members.

Assemblies Will Feature Two Books

The next assembly will feature two books and is under the management of Mrs. Walter Good.

Roundup To Feature Books

For the purpose of furthering interest in reading from our well­supplied library here at B. J. C. the Roundup is planning a book each week. They are to be found on the information desk in the library.

These books are choice selec­tions and have been chosen on the reference," said Mrs. Mary T. Bed­ford, librarian.

The first two books for this pur­pose are: " Abe Lincoln in Illinois," by Robert Sherwood, and "Collect­ed Poems of Bar/Tanbush."

Swimming Attracts Athletic Students

Swimming classes at the Y.M. C.A. have attracted many Boise Junior College girls. The class is a substitute for physical education and is under the management of Mrs. Walter Good. She is assisted by Jean Abbey in the morning class, Mrs. Eleanor Snow in the noon class, and Maxine Prout and Mary Elizabeth Hunter in the evening class.

Pep Is Displayed

That the people of Boise are standing firmly behind the Boise Junior College football team was demonstrated at the annual fall "bonfire" night as the B. J. C.-College of Idaho game.

All the students, not only those who had been most involved in the college and the Louisiana, were well filled in spite of the rain, which saturated the game and the cold wind that blew across the field. The city's adult population today also out in good numbers.

Movie of the Week

Cecil B. De Mille's "Northwest Mounted Police" in technicolor with Betty Cooper and Florence Carroll.
CONFIDENTLY.

Now that students are beginning to find out that the final test is today and that they will do work after getting their mid-term grades, life has slackened here at school. And, yes, it's stood down to a great deal and, of course, there are some new ones: Jim Thomas and Carol Burnham, Merv. Edwards, James Pease and Meryl Lough. And, by the way, we have two teachers (who's not steady-goers, however): are: Alba Devlin and Art Tulland, Jim Shaw and Jean Roberts, and Jeanne Gilmore and Jim Given, as well.

We hear that Emma Lucy is coming home to see Ed. Brown. A real thrill, for to her classmates she is rather happy about the whole thing.

Kenny Spencer, what's this I hear about you and Rita. And, say, keep your eyes open and shut well big Bob Simmons.

They say that Jim Hughes kicks for go long years of courses, so, Ruth Frenken, while Tucker Calkins just can't seem to find a girl at all. Betty McDonald and Tom Collins seem to be hitting off pretty well.

Now that Angie Madrietta and Joanne Gray, genuine interest in the opposite sex will have to be restrained a bit.

Pardon me, but I'm a very personal letter to Johnnie Grey, don't read it.

The whole club?

So many girls around here that we don't need to worry, don't see why you don't get liberal and take them out.

D. O. F. Incidentally, how many of you know that Frank Sandner is going steady with Margaret Schweritz, a high school senior, in her senior year at more college.

That beautiful locked Jane Anderson is wearing wax and her hair down to her waist. The beauty and the beast.

That is all for this week, laddies, except to say that Homcoming is so much fun it should hapen every other week.

One is the wakes of the week season happened when Napoleon got stuck, jerked, John Ertter, rti Weber and brLzen ganz didn't want to ruin their faces and so they took themselves off and helped push the car out, with their feet. In that cold, cold mud, ask Chuck Link to tell you about his experience in the mind benders, or Warren Brown.

Jeanette Gilmore has started out on a right foot. Many of the lad who has asked about her. Miss Snepou would be glad to introduce you to her for a nominal fee.

Some girls just don't look very well in the same clothes don't care how bad. Honestly, have you ever seen anything as good as Pat Robertson? On the other hand, Rachel Cowes, Jean Roberts and Kay look good all the same.

Congratulations, gals, we're proud of your good spirit, and that gives us all of you.

Who, for goodness sakes, is "Mistel Webb"?

Here's wishing you good luck, Bronco, and wishing all a happy holiday (?) and a spot on the game of the week. The only news this time next week Bess will be enlightened about a great many things.

NUMBER HEREBY.

DARELL PARENT - Likes a game of Monopoly this middle of the night and raid the refrigerator. When he's fed up, stuffed himself he waddles back to bed and has some sweet dreams.

TUCKER CAWKINS and ART TULLAND -Mechanics by trade. They love Frank Sandner's ad and papers and we had it together all time. To our surprise it was the plan and it would actually give you a real original.

"POP" CURTIS - Girls, here's your man. "Pop" can wash and dry dishes with the best of them. Really makes them shine. This is because of his three years experience. "Pop" can cook a meal that would make anyonemouth water.

FRANK SANDNER - Business man, promoter and advertiser are the three words that fit this man in Brains. He has as many idea as Major Hoople and, just like the sayer, Brains sets out to put these brains through into action. When he's fed up, hasn't a penny yet and would make your profit out of this.

HOMECOMING seems to be taking all the time for the students this week. Everyone is riding down the hallways, either making posters, getting advertising, making plans, getting stories, and many other things. The stunts should be very good this year, with a larger student body. Remember the stunts last year? And the rally afterwards? The college really displayed some pep during Homecoming last year, but there should be more pep this year. And that also brings me to the question of the organization. From the looks of pale faces around school, well, I don't know. Anyway, so much for Homecoming.

The biggest stunt of the week takes place in the Student Union room. It has been announced that the music box might be dismantled from the room, and many men and women are petitioning their studies to dance in the room, and none are even cutting classes. The Student Union room, and especially the music box, so that's not a good out of good. If we have students, let's attend to them first, and then we'll think of ourselves.

PATERONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS! We all want a college paper, we need advertisers, so therefore we must patronize our advertisers! We can't expect our advertisers to advertise without securing any results. I thought this was illustrated very well in our last paper. The Living, and the Brick, and the Brick Attack, give a free lubrication for the first prize, and a wash and vacuum for the second, for the closest score on three football games. What was the result? Only 16 ballots were cast. You patronize our advertisers better than that. This is not the case. Some of the other advertisers said they haven't seen a college student patronize their names since school started. Let's notice who our advertisers are from now on, and pay them a trubine by patronizing them. Students should remember the value of goods, while others are lamenting over the beta they lost. Well, it was a big fight while it lasted, but too much mud-mingling for me.

The Camera Club is quite a joke. In fact, there doesn't seem to be any. What's the matter? Aren't there enough camera fans around to fill the B.J.C. to organize a club?

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS ATTENTION STUDENTS! Once more we urge you to patronize your advertisers. Without patronizing your advertisers we cannot get advertisements. Without advertisements we cannot publish a college paper.

A good example may be illustrated by the last advertisement of the week. We give the correct score of three games played last week would receive a free lubrication for the prize first, and a washing job for the second prize. Only 16 ballots were cast.

This is not only true of the Zivic Brothers, but many other advertisers give the same reason. It's time we, first consider who is advertisers in the Roundup and buy our goods there.

Clubs

The question for debate this year has been chosen. The Debate Club announces that it is, "Remodeled, the Western Hemisphere without Unity." A list of hostesses for each hour of each day has been chosen. The refreshments and the door of the girls' lounge. This project is sponsored by the Zivic Brothers. Girls from the A. W. C. have been chosen as hostesses.

Between October 28 and 21, the Zivic Brothers are given for the English refugee women and children. This clothing was turned over to the National Army to be sent to England.

The Junior College will be represented in the forget-me-not sale this year. Jean Roberts is general chairman for the sale in the Junior College.

Each year the "E.F." Cubes sponsor and put on the football banquet. So far this year they have had one project towards raising funds for the banquet. This was our carpet party, which was very successful indeed.

A. W. COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Hostesses of the women's lounge, chosen by the students, were: Maryanne Wood, Ruth Bagley, Elizabeth Wilson, Betty LouThamm, Beth Pais, Mary Peck, Jeanne Schoeder, Mary Perry, Marie Ketchen, Harriet Wiss, Jean Sorenson, Dorothy Montgomery, Winifred Butler, Jolene Leggat and Kathy Jones.

Girls decided to provide Kleenex and aspirin for the women's lounge, and the question of hand lotion discussion was made.

Nancy Fairchild explained her athletic program.

The publicity committee was appointed. Its members are: Carolyn Heimer, Jolene Leggat, Betty Paterson and Connie Hershinger.

Laura Reynolds was appointed stunt night chairman, with Betty Taylor and Charlotte Gans as her assistants.

The B.J.C. homecoming ribbons are an A.W. concession.
FOOTBALL MEN KEEP FIGURES

Many of you students refer to football players as big, husky fellows. Do you know that during the process of rigid training, players who are overweight lose that weight and players that are underweight put on some weight.

Here are some weights showing players who have lost weight and players who have gained:

“Whine, ya mean swell?” But don’t howl too much, girls, because those things are call whiners aren’t so pleasant either. No kidding, though, some of these little cowgirls look mighty cute in their riding habits! I notice that our bunk helper in the form of the Student Union room seems to be full of many happy couple dancing—joke—and believe it or not, studying.

This week of course we all know is Homecoming week on the Bruin range. This brings up the Homecoming football game between the Broncos and Loggers from Lewiston Normal.

Lewiston Normal has a very good team, but have played up and down football all season. Their material this year is green and this might account for the fact that their games have been undecided. One of the Loggers is a former B.J.C. player, Lew Saxton; many of last year’s students remember him. As far as predictions go, I wouldn’t say too much except the Broncos are at full strength, they are at home and we all know that they are a great football club. The Loggers are green, have been up against the tough teams and they are away from home; therefore, I say B.J.C. is in for a real battle.

Before closing my little heart to heart talk may I say just a few words in regard to attitude toward the Student Union room. It has been rumored that certain members of the faculty are forming a petition against dancing in the room during school hours. The reason given is because the students are cutting classes and are late to their classes. I took a personal survey the other day during one of the most crowded periods of the B.U.R. I found that only three of the whole group were cutting class. I am not denying these persons, but I merely want to say the students aren’t as bad as one might think. But nevertheless, students, let’s leave the room at five minutes past the hour so we have five minutes to get to class. Also, let’s skip our classes, at least, don’t come to the B. U. R., because this may prohibit our use of this fine idea. Don’t forget, we must back President Chaffee to the hilt!

Just in contract I couldn’t help but notice the difference in school spirit between B.J.C. and the C. of I. Last year at Caldwell, B.J.C was represented by over 300 loyal fans. And the C. of I. fans remember that an inspired B J.C. eleven almost upset the Coyote den. But now we think of that only three of the whole group were cutting class. I am not defending these persons, but I merely want to say the students aren’t as bad as one might think. But nevertheless, students, let’s leave the room at five minutes past the hour so we have five minutes to get to class. Also, let’s skip our classes, at least, don’t come to the B. U.
