Associated Students of Boise Junior College
Valkyries Sponsor Victory Loan Dance

Friday, November 16, Boise Junior College will support the Victory Loan Drive with the Valkyries sponsoring a victory loan dance from 9 to 12 o'clock in the college assembly hall. The dance will be open to the public and admission will be by war stamps.

A Goven orchestra will furnish the music for the semi-formal dance.

Bonds can be bought during the evening from junior college minute Mals.

General chairman for the affair is Lois Willy and she will be assisted by the following committees:

music, Gall Coffin and Jean Barber; decorations, Thelma Stuart, Maxine Gross, Jane Jones, and Katie Zupan; programs, Frances Gibbons and Judy Rose; publicity, Dolores Hochstrasser and Virginia Wheelock; posters and patronesses, Mary Reidel; intermission, Eileen Brewster and Ruth Sandmeyer; admission, Edith Mays and Grace Patrick; clean-up, all Valkyrie members.

Valkyries are giving the Victory Loan Dance for the purpose of compounding and adding to the Eighth War Loan Drive. Therefore, B. J. C. students should be loyal to their school (and at the same time, they would be loyal to their country) and plan to buy their bonds and stamps for this drive at our dance. B. J. C. Minute Maids will be glad to sell them to you at any time during the evening. Buy Bonds.

MONDAY DECLARED HOLIDAY

Monday, November 12, has been declared a legal holiday in Idaho by Governor Gusetti, since Armistice Day falls on Sunday this year. There will be no school Monday.

Post War Improvement Program Begins Here

B. J. C.'s campus will get its face lifted now according to an announcement today by President Eugene B. Chaffee.

In the long-awaited post-war development program, a comprehensive program of improvement will begin this month and will be completed within a few months. President Chaffee said.

The campus grounds will be levelled and landscaped west almost to Capitol Boulevard. The surface will be covered with rich topsoil to be hauled in from the desert.

Second in the list of improvements to be made soon is a combined operation of dredging the Boise river bank and spreading of the gravel on the present driveway along the river bank. In this operation the levee along the river will be raised and widened, making a four-lane highway.

To assure abundant shrubbery for landscaping, the College has purchased the NHS Nursery. Shrubbery for the lawn drive will include spruce, sage, lilac, elderberry, and dogwood.

The contemplated improvements are being handled through cooperation of the College and the City

Gail Coffin's Team Wins Lyceum Contest

Gail Coffin's team was the winner of the Lyceum ticket selling contest, having sold 58 tickets. All the members of this team will be treated to an ice-cream soda.

Members of this team are Gail Coffin, Ruth Kornor, Fred Reich, Fred Griffin, Senia Bloomstrand, Maryjo Jordon, and Frances Gibbons.

Other team captains were Elvira Chaney, Sherrn Coffin, Doris Marie Craven, Betty Morris, Bruce Leiser, Judy Ward, and Barbara Dronkin.

A recent survey of drugstores in Boise shows a heavy purchase of ingredients used in making "Mickey Finn". Vitamen supplies have shrunk amazingly these last few days. Clearly, this is due to the fact that the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance is tonight!

Don't worry if your man is little and scrappy, girl. It will cost you much less when he's put on the scales and weighed. For the first hundred pounds of masculinity the charge is zero. After that, its a cent for every pound.

If you should get tired and thirsty after chasing your man around the floor, you can stop at the bar where refreshments will be served.

Working to make this the most gala affair that Dogpatch has seen for years are Maxine Gross as general chairman, Frances Gibbons, head of the Decoration Committee, Judy Rose and Lois Willy, co-chairmen of the entertainment committee and Bill Mathisen, is in charge of publicity.

Many females have been heard to say they are taking no chances on being left "manless" and have been so unoriginal as to say "All is fair in love, war and Sadie Hawkins' Day Dance."

A great many of the fugitives from Dogpatch are wearing costumes to school today, and some of the gals are carrying lassos. One girl was discovered with a bottle of glue which she was spreading on the floor, then waiting for a man to come along. This is only one of many successful strategies employed by the women.

Some of the boys are steering clear of all the girls efforts. But most of them are stumbling, falling down, and pretending that they have broken their leg. All of which is "confusing", no doubt—but "moozing".

The student body of B. J. C. join the faculty in expressing their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. John R. Eidelson during their recent bereavement.

FORMER STUDENT TELLS OF OKINAWA TYphoon

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Saxton of Boise received the following letter from Ensign Walter W. Saxton who is now on Okinawa. Enns. Saxton joined the Navy V-12 in the fall of 1942. This program permitted him to graduate from Boise Junior College in 1943. He is with the 101st Construction camp on Okinawa and writes the following regarding the recent typhoon:

Dear Folks:

No doubt you have had radio reports of the typhoon damage here a couple of days ago. A typhoon isn’t like a twister, it is a strong steady monodirectional wind, and things collapse or are blown away by a strong steady force. There are gusts which cause a beating effect, some of the gusts were approximately 150 knots. Trees and bushes can stand that type of wind, but the only structures that will take it are concrete and steel ones . . . the island is now in about the same shape it was five months ago, except for the roads which were mutilated only slightly in comparison to buildings. Our camp lost all its tents and about half the few vehicles. Quonset huts, though, were hit worst appeared a mass of twisted wreckage a conglomeration of arched ribs and corrugated sheeting. We have spent the last two days supervising the destruction (if one can destroy a totally demolished building) of our former enlisted men’s galley and mess buildings. I have been living on K-rations till today. The typhoon reached its peak about 1500 last Tuesday and held a better than 100 knot wind for three hours. Most of us were huddled under the cover of a hill upwind from all structures. When the wind finally changed direction and we knew the center had passed and was receding we decided to go back to the huts. We figured if they stood the peak they would be safe for the rest of the night. These Quonsets, the B. O. Q., are tied down by three cables slung over each and anchored on both sides. That’s all that kept them from blowing away.

With luck we will be out of here before too long. I have no heart in my work when I know that soon a wind will blow it down and it will be all to do over again.

By this time,
Walter

Mac’s Madness

By MAC

It’s a strange thing, but have you noticed that 90% of all the girls in this school are divided into two types? I mean of course, the Lefties, and the Righties. And if that is too deep I’ll explain further—Those who have diamonds on their right hand and none who have diamonds on their left hand! (Simple wasn’t it?)

Some discouraging people say there is a reason for such a distinction, but to me—Well, a “rock” is just a “rock”, especially if it glitter! (My last name is Houser, just call me “Goldie”)

But to get back to the gleamimg subject, we have first on display, a lady, Norine Johnson. No further comments needed!

And I had my trumpets out the other day and heard the “word” being passed around—seems as if Shirley Fowles has joined the ranks of Lefties.

And I don’t know if this is official or not, but I think Barbara Lewis is a confirmed Leftie in good standing. Don’t tell anyone, maybe he’s a SECRET!

Sorry to say, the Righties seem to have majority in numbers. So put on your dark glasses and a smile (discreetly) and stand by the hands of Carolyn Bisenius, Sally Bult, and Lois Perkins. Remember DISCREETLY!

On this one you don’t have to be so discreet. In fact I certainly wasn’t, I just stared. Not naming names or anything like that but have you noticed Eleanor Ann Griffin’s?

At this point I was so blinded I had to quit this important survey. So if I missed any glammers, please call any time and flash the news.
Orchids and Onions

Orchids to those students that persist in parking in the spaces that are provided for the office and faculty.

Onions to Mrs. Fisher for her serving refreshments to the faculty chaperoones at the dances.

Onions to the students that have been cast in "Junior Miss" but fail to show up at the noon rehearsals.

Onions to Betty Smith for her willingness to do a favor for almost any one at any time.

In a grammar class the other day, the teacher wrote on the board: "Pauline Davis."

Girls Tell All About "Dream Man"

The question today is: What is your dream man like?

Mary Krushold: "He walks in the rain, smokes a pipe and writes poetry."

Doris Foster: "He has brown eyes and hair, and always smokes Prince Albert in his pipe."

Dee Cather: "Oh, anything that he can walk.

Jo Ann Sullivan: "I don't dream."

Edna Hamby: "Dark complexion—not good looking—brains aren't a necessity—that's him. Of course, I would settle for a blonde."

Yvonne Cleverly: "Tall and blondes and I already have him."

Blenda Lindstad: "The nosey type—tall, and he has to like horses."

Shirley Whiteley: "Tall enough so that I won't feel if I like: short enough so that I don't have to wear them. He must have curly hair, big blue eyes, next to the dress and dancer. He doesn't have to have many brains—just some. And he must appreciate my jokes.

Senia Bloomstrand: "I carry him in my wallet all the time."

Beth Reynolds: "He has curly hair, he's intelligent, he's a sailor—and he's home."

Editors note: Fashions in men have changed since grandmother's day. The girls used to sigh. "He must know more than I do." Now they say, "He can't know more than I do—it's impossible."

Knights' Directory Now at Printers

The Intercollegiate Knights' student directory is now in the hands of the printers, and should be ready for sale to the students in about two weeks," stated Bill Woods the editor for the annual directory. The booklet will sell for twenty-five cents each. It contains the names of addressees of the student body, faculty and custodians.

WILLIAM'S WIT

Reader: "Do you make all these jokes yourself?"

Editor: "Yes—out of my head."

Reader: "You must be.

Time tells on a man—especially a good time.

Gazing Into The 8-Ball

Now that Halloween is over and all of the girls have taken off their masks... Hallovcon has discovered that Phyllis Short is most charming... At the Halloween dance, we are not quite sure what anyone did, because the costumes were so fancy; we didn't know who was who... We did notice Joan Archer and Donald Dougherty being very aloof during intermission... as they carried on their own private little card game... Dan Smith and some of the boys had their party at Wards... what does Wards have the Student Union doesn't have boys????... Sally Bell's party was nice too... but where was the food????

Chuck Mac Namer... (We don't know anything about him, but it seems he doesn't like the paper unless his name is in it)... Harge Jordan, wasn't even embarrassed as she walked down the halls with her lipstick smeared... in fact she was singing, "he kiss me once, he kiss me twice."

This week we think it would be timely to nominate Lois Perkins and Dot Humphries as J. C.'s own LOST WEEKEND girls... what were you looking for under that piano Lois?... And we offer our deepest sympathy to poor Bill Onweiler... it seems that he is madly in love with the beautiful Sally Belt but he is so flustered when she walks by that he can only sigh... "It's those great big eyes", he says...

Who was Bill Fowler talking about when he said "shea j'es the cutest 'illie thing'... Nanette Wood maybe... another girl who loves a southern accent is Ruth Konnor... Charlie King's drawings seems to appeal to her... or is it just the drawl???

Though I've known her all my life I think that I shall never know just what she means when she signs her letters, "As ever."

In the Art Department, Thursday, was an exhibit of silk screen work and water colors which had come here from the Amache Relocation Center in Colorado. They were brought here by Mr. Haight of the War Relocation Authority who showed a moving picture of the Japanese-Americans, and discussed their problems of relocation with the Sociology class.

A well-known gambler died. His funeral was well attended by his professional friends. In the eulogy the speaker asserted: "Spike is not dead. He only sleeps."

From the rear of the chapel came these interrupting words: "I have $10 here that says he's dead."

BRONCS STEAMING UP FOR BIG BASKETBALL SEASON

WOMEN AT BAT

By EILEEN MORRIS

Interest has been lagging the past week but after going from one Volley Ball game to the other I found the 2:00 o’clock class on Monday very much interested. Ellen Lou Iversen told me after class that she didn’t know which she was most interested in: volleyball in her end of the gym or boy’s basketball in the other end. She was especially interested in Jim Thompson’s lovely figure. She just couldn’t keep her eyes off him. She has worked so hard in that gym class that someone asked her to go on Sadie Hawkin’s Day and she couldn’t make up her mind. If she had been a present at the Boise High School Auditorium, and which is sponsored by the Eighth War Loan Drive.

Miss Perkins will portray the leading role of “Gussie.” The comedy is said to be as amusing as “See Here, Private Hargrove!” and so promises to be entertaining for everyone.

JUNIOR COLLEGE STUDENTS TAKE PART IN PLAY

Three Boise Junior College students, Lois Perkins, Dorothy Humphrey, and Doris Marie Craven will take part in the three-act comedy, “Gussie,” which will be presented in Boise November 9 at the Boise High School Auditorium, and which is sponsored by the Eighth War Loan Drive.

Miss Perkins will portray the leading role of “Gussie.”

The comedy is said to be as amusing as “See Here, Private Hargrove!” and so promises to be entertaining for everyone.

IS NEW STUDENTS ENROLL...

According to the records of the Registrar, Mrs. Mary Hershey, fifteen students have enrolled in B. J. C. in the last three weeks. They are the following: Harold Anderson, Neva Alexander, Herbert Holt, Ray Dunn, Walker Edens, Chester Hosac, Jack Pliam, George Ritchey, Paul Roslock, Robert Smith, James Wagner, William Wise, and Willard Overgaard.

“Oh, dear,” she explained, “I’ve missed you so much.” Then she raised the revolver and fired again.

STUDENT OF THE WEEK

By Jim Thompson

With an almost complete schedule lined up, B. J. C. takes to the field for another interscholastic sport, Basketball, which officially started Tuesday November 6th, and was greeted with much enthusiasm. Approximately 15 men have turned out, most of them rusty from a years layoff, however Coach Warner is confident that with the help of the boys he can line up a team worthy of the record of previous Junior College teams.

The only returning letterman is last year’s team captain, Aurelius Buckner, who raked in about 500 the team’s points.

When asked what he thought of this years team he said, “We’re going to have a crackerjack ball club!” Several others that show promise are Bob Craft, Bill Burkhalter, Jim Wheelock, and Marty Wilson. Some of the boys have already defeated the Gowen Field team in an unofficial game.

The schedule to date includes College of Idaho, University of Idaho (both branches), Ricks College, and our greatest opponents the Nampa Nazarenes. The first game is scheduled for Dec. 3, here, with the College of Idaho.

Then there was the young man who took his girl to the beach and told her shabby stories so he wouldn’t have to rent a beach umbrella.

W. C. Fields was suffering from one of his daily hangovers.

“Say I fix you a Bromo Seltzer?” suggested the waiter.

“Yes gods, no!” shouted Fields, “I couldn’t stand the noise.”
