CARLOCK AND HOCHSTRASSER
CO-EDITORS OF B.J.C. ROUNDUP

Mathisen Becomes
Business Manager

Dolores Mathisen and Marilyn Carlock will be co-editors of The Roundup next term. It became known at the last Press Club meeting when they were unanimously elected.

Likewise, Bill Mathisen, editor during the past term, succeeding Bill Prescott, who asked to be relieved of the job because of the press of his other work.

Dolores is a sophomore and is interested in newspaper work as a career. She is a graduate of Boise High School and is reporting news for the Statesman. She has worked efficiently as managing editor of the Roundup during the fall term.

Marilyn, a graduate of Emmett High School, is a freshman and has been feature editor of The Roundup during the fall term. She had journalistic experience while in high school, serving a semester as editor of the Emmett High School paper.

Mathisen, also a freshman and a graduate of Nampa High School, was business manager of the school paper there, before coming to B. J. C. He is a major in business and is interested especially in advertising.

DECORATORS BUSY ON TREE

The Christmas tree in the main hall will be decorated by the Valkyries. Decorations have been donated by the students. Decorators will be interrupted for the pot luck dinner at six after which they will spend the remainder of the evening finishing the tree.

MERRY
CHRISTMAS

NEW YEAR

BSU LIBRARY
UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES
THE SAME OLD PHRASE

There are thousands of editorials on Christmas about this time of year. They will discuss the end of the war, the atomic bomb and endless other things.

Therefore it seems appropriate for the Roundup to be brief and to the point and tell its readers that everything which should be said is included in the good old stereotyped but hearty phrase addressed to the whole world, "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year".

LET'S ACCENTUATE THE POSITIVE

Gather 'round me, everybody, while I preach some on the attitude of doing right. Mainly, this idea of smoking in the administration building. We have nothing against your smoking in general. After all, most of you are old enough to think for yourselves. But, we are more than interested in where you smoke.

In past years, it has been the custom for no one to smoke in the main building. If this goes on, soon the halls will be cluttered with butts, and somebody might even start smoking in the classroom. Then too, someone may be allergic to the smell of smoke and tobacco.

This matter is solely up to us students, it's up to us to do something about it. If anyone has any suggestion regarding this matter, please take it up with the student council. So let's "accentuate the positive", namely confining the smoking to the union, and "eliminate the negative", and you all know what I mean by that. And remember, there's no "Mister in-between" to mess with in this matter.

LET'S FACE THE FACT

The Roundup isn't as good a paper as you would like it to be, is it? You can think of a lot of ways it could be better, can't you, B. J. C. men and women?

Do you think it would be in order for the Roundup to confess its sins and ask your forgiveness and promise to do better next term? The Roundup isn't going to do any such thing. Who do you think the Roundup is, anyway?

You pay for it. You (those of you who want to) write it and edit it, and sell advertising for it. It's just as good as your interest in it. It doesn't write itself, you know. Who, we repeat, do you think the Roundup is? It's you.

We guess that's all we had to say—except that we aren't complaining, not at all. We're just stating a fact we thought might interest you.

WANTA DATE?

What annoys you most when you're on a date with a boy? We asked some of the "girls".

Senta Bloomstrand answered briefly and to the point. "Alcohol holds me up," she stated.

Betty Smith wasn't exactly sure. "I don't like to have him talk about other girls he's been out with very well, but I really don't know what annoys me most."

Jean Carson: "Well it's annoying to have him flirt with another girl when he's out with me!"

Jean Young: "I hate to have him get a sudden interest in the scenery to clean up and stop talking to me."

Virginia Kohout: "I like dates, but why do fellows have to get serious?"

Katie Zupan rolled her eyes upward. "Hi, Ha, Ha, Ha," she commented.

Helen Jester: "I went out with a future farmer once. All he could talk about was cows. He bored me to tears."

Alice Gohn: "The very worst thing is to have him talk about himself all the time."

Eileen Brewster: "When the fellow walks on the wrong side of the sidewalk, that's bad."

Betty Jo Jackson: "I hate to see a boy talk and laugh and try to attract all of the attention."

WANT A DATE? CALL HER UP!

Are you "hard-up" for telephone numbers? If you're looking for a cute little blonde, you might try 3582-W. That couldn't be called a wrong number.

Or do you prefer brunettes? In that case, it would be hard to choose between 8835 and 2568-5. However, don't call 1026-M or 3221-J. They seem to be pretty well occupied— and with each other. And now, girls—are you looking for the number of a personality boy; one who's quite well known? You might call 3168-W. Of course, you might be too late—1477-M may have called first.

Are you having trouble with your Spanish? If you need any help on your homework, boys call 5028-H; girls, look up 5251-K. Or, if you don't like any of these (how could you help it) you might try buying a Inter-collegiate Knight's directory and looking up some for yourself.

Gazing Into The 8-Ball

Barry Holloway's departure left many little girls most unhappy...and also talking with southern strings. . . . But you can brush up on your accent gals (that is if Sally Belt doesn't mind) cause that Georgia boy, Cork Fowler is back... Not so easily cheered is Pauline Brearley... her daughter after a two years stay is leaving... "Pricoe isn't too far away, Polly. In the coming and going departament we mustn't forget Beth Reynolds' glow... Stanton is coming out to J. C. next semester...

We have noticed that Kenny Chilton is looking better of late. Kenny might have known that she wouldn't stay in Spokane forever. How about letting us in on the latest activities of "Dangerous Dan" girls... There must be something to top the report that he took Katy Zupan home at 8 A. M.

Now that rehearsals for the play "Junior Miss" are over, their practises are said to have been quite strenuous. (Some people have suggested changing the name to "London Bridge.") The girl that writes thousands of words a minute in shorthand and then combs her hair while the others asleep, had best be careful or she may find herself with no hair to comb... Do you know what we mean...

The most interesting thing noted this week was Fred Reich calling Marilyn Runten out of class to ask her for a date.

You have heard about those boys who have a routine of running out of gas haven't you... well it really happened to Ralph Schriber and Norene Johnson... they had to walk all the way home... (what were you doing so far away anyhow)... Something new in dancing is advocated by Louise Gridler... turn on the radio in the car and dance on the highway she says... or how to get killed in 6 easy lessons...

Will You Get What You Want

"I'm Christmas morning. All the kiddies stockings are arranged in a row on the mantel bulging with things the children have requested. Here's a stocking that is bursting its seams! And no wonder! Inside is a 1945 Convertible Cadillac—belonging to Marilyn Runten—anyway, it's in her stocking.

Look at this stocking! It's moving! It's alive! Let's peek into it. Why, there's a brunette—and he's clutching Mary Kenny's letter to Santa in his hand. It says, "Dear Santa, send me a brunette. P. S. I think men are wonderful!"

On to the next—what could be in Chuck Graham's stocking? Well, of all things! A club to beat away the girls.

There's Joe Foster's stocking. Now what could she have asked for? An automatic letter-writing machine! Now, all she'll have to do is put those letters from Jim and Skip and Sid. etc, in one slot and out come answers! Sharp!

And Barbara Bronkin's stocking contains a certain little man she's wanted for a long time.

Alice Uda looks woefully into her empty stocking, takes out her request marked "Impossible. He can't get away from the University of Ohio."

So—another Christmas goes by. All you didn't receive what you wanted—try being better children next year.

VETERANS MEET

Two veterans met in the hall. Into the eyes of one came a vague light. "My name is ----," he said. "Haven't I seen you around some place?" "You may have," said the other veteran. "My name is Charlie."

WOMEN AT BAT

Last week yours truly was too busy (or too lazy) to put forth a column but this week there must be a column or our able editor, Mathisen will be plenty burned up. Can't blame him of course.

The barn dance last Friday was a success. Ask anyone who was there. The hay, saddles, harnesses, and saw horses scattered over the auditorium made a fine atmosphere and at intermission adjourned to the Student Union for cokes and doughnuts. We must also mention the real live horse which made its entrance about intermission time. Now I've seen everything.

I'd like to take this time and space to thank all those people who helped with the Barn Dance. You did a fine Job.

The W. A. A. has been practicing up on their basketball techniques. As yet they are a little rusty but we feel sure that the rust can be removed. The executive board will meet sometime this week to plan an organized practice.

A new game - combination soccer and basketball - is being enjoyed by the regular girls gym classes these days. All of the girls who have played it say it's loads of fun.

The athletic character this week is the shortest gal in school. Small blue eyed and curly tailed, Mary Helen Rounds. She's always willing to help. You can see her friendly smile and hear her friendly "Hi!" wherever you may meet her dashing to and fro from classes.

Mary Helen is a quickie on the basketball and volleyball courts and shows promise of being one of our star players. If you haven't met this person you'll find her at the basketball games. She's the little girl with the big voice leading the yell's. Most of us know Mary Helen so I don't have to give her any more praise. You'll agree that she is a swell person.
