Roundup, September 20

Associated Students of Boise Junior College
We begin another year at Boise Junior College with the largest enrollment in our history. Our facilities are taxed to the limit with an enrollment double that of last fall. Our faculty has likewise been asked to accommodate this exceptional growth.

We know that such an increase will bring about growing pains. Our hope is to alleviate such pains by a ready conference between faculty and students. It has always been a source of pride at Boise Junior College that administration and faculty are readily accessible to the student and to his problems. We mean to maintain that accessibility in spite of our increase in numbers. If your school work is not producing the results you want, do not hesitate to discuss such difficulties with your faculty counselor or the administrative officers of the college.

If you take advantage of three and other opportunities offered at Boise Junior College this year, you will have a better year for each of you.

EUGENE R. CHAFFEE, President.

WITHDRAWALS REMINDER
Students are reminded by the Business Department that all class changes or alterations in the courses in which the students are registered must be made through the registrar's office. Students who drop courses or fail to report to classes in which they are registered may receive a grade of "F" in that class.

Press Club Meets Wednesday Noon
All students who are interested in writing for, or working on the staff of the school publications should meet with the Press Club at the first meeting of the year Wednesday noon. Meeting will be held in room 101 in the administration building, at which time officers and committees will be chosen for the coming year.

A program for the year's activities will be proposed and students will be assigned to social activity groups as well as to publication work, but any student who wishes to learn the work of the Press Club is invited to learn of the Press Club is invited to learn of the organization meeting.

Faculty Up
The faculty of the Journalism department was increased 100 percent this year with the addition of Miss Margaret Schmithals, former editor of the school newspaper and feature copy supervisor on both the Record and the Idaho Daily. Mr. Wrennstrom will instruct in Journalism and will supervise the making and business management of both publications.

STUART CHASE
To Headline Lyceum Program
ACTIVITIES
With the overwhelming influx of new students, B. J. C.'s organizations are due to get a big boost in membership this year. Old members and the clubs extended invitations to new students who felt that they want to join for dates of organizational meetings on the bulletin board in the main hall.

B. J. C. Signs STUART CHASE
To headline Lyceum program
Heading the list of brilliant entertainers and lecturers who will appear on the Junior College Lyceum series this year, Stuart Chase will arrive Monday, April 28 for a number of speaking engagements. Program material has been arranged, beginning with the Melody Makers, Saturday, October 7 and including Ernst Wolfe, tenor on Friday and Saturday, November 7; Miriam Marmelstein, Friday, February 7; and the Ritz Trumpetmen, brass ensemble on Friday, April 28.

Students will have the opportunity to see all of the numbers, admission will be by activity ticket. A few ticket will be sold to townpeople. Stuart Chase, lecturer, will meet with the Forum Club at 6:00 o'clock Monday.

Chase's background is as American as his thinking. He was born in New Hampshire of an old New England family. He was educated in the public schools of Newton, Mass., then the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and from there to Harvard, receiving his degree in 1910.

After college he joined the accounting firm of his father, Harvey S. Chase, in Newton, Mass., then the Massachusetts accounting and engineering firm of his father, Harvey S. Chase, in Newton, Mass., then the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and from there to Harvard, receiving his degree in 1910.

For other programs appearing on the Junior College Lyceum will be, Thursday, November 6, the Melody Makers; Saturday, October 29, and including Ernst Wolfe, tenor on Friday and Saturday, November 7; Miriam Marmelstein, Friday, February 7; and the Ritz Trumpetmen, brass ensemble on Friday, April 28.

Simple Simon and The Ivory Tower

The mature professor and the young Freshman have many things in common. For one thing, they have a remarkable similarity in their laughter, and, while it may not always be quite so obvious, they probably share the same understanding of life.

One may have known the fabulous characters of history through the medium of education; the other through the intimate contacts of living. Perhaps while the one has suffered intellectual rebuffs, the other has felt the bitter defeat of social life.

But the similarity ends in the fundamental concepts of understanding. The novice knows the general abstract scheme of things; the scholar knows the detailed, concrete pattern.

No man is wise who has not learned from other men, and, theoretically at least, that is why we go to college. The instructors here do not expect us to grow as we know...they seek happiness in much the same manner as you or I.

But they have the instruments and tools and techniques to obtain that happiness, and are willing to give them to us. Are we ready to receive them?

The Roundup, as always, welcomes criticism through letters to the Editor...in fact even before the appearance of the first issue of the year, several gripe letters were received and we are happy to announce that such letters will be printed if statements in the letters are verifiable as facts, and if letters bear the signature of the sender. Names will be withheld from publication at the request of the sender, but the letters must remain on file for future reference. Letters submitted late after deadline hour will be held for future publication. Students may submit letters by handing them to any journalism student, staff member, to Miss Sinclair, or to Mr. Wennstrom.

Union open every night that there is an activity on the campus as well as on the weekends. It is a place where we can relax, have some food, and socialize with friends. The Union is a great place to hang out and meet new people.

Letters submitted later than deadline hour will be held for future publication. Students may submit letters by handing them to any journalism student, staff member, to Miss Sinclair, or to Mr. Wennstrom.

GRIPE LINE FORMS TO THE RIGHT

The Roundup has always been the forum for expressing student opinions. This year, the gripe line will be even more active than in the past. Students are encouraged to submit their grievances and comments to the Roundup, and the editors will ensure that all letters are published fairly and impartially. The gripe line is a way for students to express their concerns and feelings about campus issues, and the Roundup will do its best to address them.

Letters to the Editor should be submitted on a regular basis to ensure that all issues are addressed. The Roundup editors will work to make sure that all letters are published in a timely manner. The gripe line is an important part of the Roundup's mission to serve as a platform for student expression.

The Roundup also welcomes constructive criticism of its own work. Students are encouraged to provide feedback on the Roundup's content, style, and overall effectiveness. The Roundup editors will take all feedback into consideration as they work to improve the newspaper.

Man...Oh Men

Boise Junior College, to be known this season as "girls' college," has the largest enrollment of men in its history, males outnumbering females at least three to one, and according to some reports, even more. This unusual situation has caused varied sentiments and brought comments from students new and old. The standpoint of the man on the street, (in the hall, that is) is to review some of these.

In light of the situation, it is apparent that the gents are all working harder than their fairer counterparts. The men have taken up positions with the fastest "Workers."

Student Council Open for Business
Harry Rowe, president of the Associated Women, said at the weekly meeting of the Student Council last evening in the Boise Junior College, is preparing for a wide expansion of its services this year by adding more films and admitting more members to the music department. The executive council of the library has approved $400 of the fund for the purchase of a new piano. The Executive Board will be on hand to present their claims for a share of the student funds with which to carry on their activities for the year.

Musician's Will Warble
And Toot at B. J. C.
A musical program running the full range of activities from a small voice ensemble to a full chorus of a contemplated 75 voices is planned for B. J. C., according to Mr. Griff. Mr. Griff emphasized that there are still openings in the choir, and that the music department will welcome any students who are "musical" that does not mean be a musician trained in the choir. Tyroes are being conducted at the audition, and interested in the choir will meet on Monday and Thursday at 4:30, Mr. Griff said. To add to the music excitement and spirit of the football season, Mr. Carroll Wetter of the music department will direct a pep band, and has planned at least a state-wide trip for the organization. The band is fairly well instrumented, except for clarinets, of which there is a definite need, Mr. Griff said. A daily and a dance, plus music at the first football game, etc., will be included.

Student Council Officers
The officers of the Associated Women's Council are Gene Skogefield, vice president; Roy Sullivan, treasurer; and Mrs. Agnes Coopersmith, private secretary to the Council.

necessity movement, and regards the sensational press which he believes discriminated many valuable points in that theory.

Later he helped start the Labor Bureau in New York, a non-profit organization which gives technical advice to labor unions. While known for his ability to analyze economic trends and political issues with informal humor, he holds twists of phrase and rare insight. Stuart Chase understands both the value and the limitations of statistics. To him economics is not so much a science of figures and trend curves as it is a human process by which people obtain a living from the earth — a living luxurious or frugal as the case may be.

THE MELODY MAIDS — Four Violins and Piano

A quintet of talented young women present a concert of brilliant, sensitizing music on four violins and a piano. Their program is replete with a number of classics with a lift that will please all listeners.

Some of the more modern compositions, as well as light opera, and the best in the modern style of writing. These four violinists are well established on both the “T” formation used by most colleges this year, and a plan.
