Council Holds Poor Meeting Attendance at Fault

Meet the FACULTY
To an outsider, any college is just a group of buildings set aside for the purpose of perpetuating the world's knowledge. However, those who have become a part of a school, it is soon apparent that this idea is erroneous. A college is made up of very real people and we would like to use this space every week to introduce one or two of them to our readers who are newcomers to B. J. C.

This week the spotlight falls on Dr. Joseph (Doc) Spulnik, the little man who runs the Chemistry Department. Busy in his duties, he finds time to be the kind of father every kid wants to the one parent who seems to be around when there is homework to be finished. He finds himself in the neighborhood, whatever happens to be in the neighborhood. Perhaps he spends some time reading the B. J. C., but he is more interested in what freshmen students are making of golf in this instance.

Frosh Politics Plot Hits Snag
Political shenanigans, a seemingly necessary bagatelle in democratic form of government, have and will be a part of B. J. C. for the near future.
It has been said in a democracy where man prides himself on the highest amount of freedom, that the higher and greater the state or unit of organization becomes, the smaller is the amount of individual liberty enjoyed by its members. So for doubt exists as to the truth of such a statement, let the following be presented in support of this.

The truth of such a statement, let the doubting one observe the greatest amount of freedom, that, the higher B J launched himself into the stream of campus life here, freedom and privileges were abundant. It was a simple matter of having more freedom, space, and privileges needed, but then time and growth, these despoilers of youth, began to function. As the enrollment rose, more and more floor space. Smoking in the Administration Building (always frowned upon) was definitely huge.

In student government meetings, there were enough butt buckets to last an eternity. Smoking in the Administration Building (always frowned upon) was definitely huge. It has been said in a democracy where man prides himself on the highest amount of freedom, that the higher and greater the state or unit of organization becomes, the smaller is the amount of individual liberty enjoyed by its members. So for doubt exists as to the truth of such a statement, let the following be presented in support of this.

In the past year, an observer at the school, set and determined purpose to fit unconsciously, and considerations and nominations might well have said, "Look to the future; the school year; he's a business man, good at his job, and he's going to do it with a lot of enthusiasm."

This is the reason for growth, as it is the abuse of privileges that accompany growth. It is also apparent that if each of us is more conscious of the use of the privileges we possess, a considerable amount of growth can be made with the barest minimum of curtailment of freedom.

This is to be accomplished it is going to require more consideration of our fellows from each of us. So please use the butt buckets, be considerate in your car, and use them! when you start to make their job easier, inform the president that war born: "Is this trip necessary?"

Neophyte Nominations Nabbled

If the freshmen nominations for class officers held last Thursday, February 23rd, no! only one hundred of your classmates were present at the nominations. Why? The officers were there. Where are the other 375?

Ninety percent of the class attended, a smaller percentage than any other group, four persons nominated each other. One name was added to the bulletin board. That is because 79 percent of you were not there. Except for a few of these few who are new, it looks as though 79 percent of the Fresh class doesn't care what happens to their school government.

It is hoped that some of the candidates nominated have ability. If so, the freshmen will be thankful. They will be able to guide those lacking in leadership.

Look to the future school year: to the games, plays, dances, and social activities of the other year. These are the officers of the student executive council. They are the ones who will be running the student body of tomorrow, if of tomorrow, if chosen by the student body.

Ask yourselves, the Lyceum and numerous other events for which the Waves, who is all out for sports, will be there. What do you want to see happen? What do you want to see happen?

The Student Council consists of officers of the student body, the Freshmen, sophomores, and representatives, of freshmen, and the representatives of three members. This group meets as often as we deem necessary for the welfare of the school. The three Tomato representatives sit on an evening and discuss on school policy and the spending of school funds, have no term.

We feel that since they are nominated and are elected by the student body on the same basis as the other members of the Council and since they have embarked on the roll of regular probation, and see that the students abide by them, they should have a vote in what these rules shall be.

To give them the vote requires an amendment to the school constitution and organization amended by a majority of the student body voting for the proposed amendment by secret ballot.

In the near future, the date on which the students were notified to vote for or against the amendment will be announced and food and drink provided for the voting. Please take part. The purpose of this article is to explain just why the council has thought it necessary to amend the Constitution and to give the students a chance to favor or against it, opinion, either pro or con, on the proposed amendment.

Gov't Tribunal Strengthened

Since B. J. has grown so much in the past year, it has been upon necessary to establish a new administration.

There are a few major regulations that must be adhered to. New students coming in this fall, walking on the grass, must fast and drinking at the gates, strictly forbidden. It is realized that those regulations that are coarsely broken unconsciously, and considerations and nominations have been made by the Tribunal. First offenders will be warned on probation, and second offenders caught after that,

Men's Fashions

... are not too apparent at postwar B. J. C. One finds it quite impossible to walk into his Bow ties look great-on Frank Sinatra. Consequently no Herculean task of writing this uniformity exists in the styles of garments adorning the B. J. C. males. Plaid shirts and jeans appear to be quite in order, and an occasional suit may be seen around the campus. When one thinks of formal college dances, his thoughts turn to suits and ties in the way of masculine attire. It is in a formal, then of course the name speaks for itself. Rough-house means levis, plaid shirts, shorts or anything available that won't necessarily have to go to the cleaners the following day for renovation. Sweaters and slacks are great for coke dates—or cleaning the furnace. To each his own...

We are not recommending that the J. C. students lower themselves to California standards, but levis and plaid shirts are the uniform form of the day at Stanford, Cal., and other schools in the Golden State. Contrary to popular opinion, California clothes and tastes do not necessarily include "Willie the mascot" twirling his toilet train at the corner of Hollywood and Vine. How ties look great—on Frank Sinatra.

Shortly before undertaking the Herculean task of writing this article, we contacted our mutual friend Hyman Shapiro, manager of an exclusive men's store, in an effort to obtain up-to-the-minute information concerning men's fashions. Hyman's attempts to arti-
Broncos Lose FIRST GRID CLASH To Albion

Boise Junior College's return to gridiron glories was after a four-year layover in 1940, with a 7-0 defeat at the hands of the Albion Panthers in last Friday night's contest. The outcome of the game was won by Wes Bell, flashy Albion halfback, early in the first quarter on a wide sweep.

Boise won the toss and elected to receive. On the second play Don Burgener's quick kick was blocked on the Boise 25-yard line, and a hard charging Albion line recovered to place them in scoring position. Two plays later Bell made the touchdown dash to score standing up. Tacklers had chances to pull him down. The try for point was blocked on the Broncs own 20-

Field Hockey Added to Girls Sports Agenda

Women have added girls field hockey in the line of sports for the girls of B. J. C. The preceding years sports such as archery, swimming, basketball, volleyball and baseball were played; but this year teams, bowling and field hockey have been added to the list.

Field hockey seems to be the center of attention. Because there are so many girls who want to participate in this game. Coach Margaret Schmidt announced that a team will be organized and will play other colleges. This team has won the last two games and is looking for another.

Women at Bat

Looking for something to do? Want to relax? If so, come out for the dancing class that the W. A. A. is sponsoring this term.

Don't be a wall flower just because you feel you don't want to participate in sports. Join in and have fun! The women's sports department apeke is the center of attraction because there are many girls who feel that they have missed out on sports.

Field hockey is one of the sports that will be added this term, and girls are already excited about it. The W. A. A. officers are working hard to make sure that girls have a good time.

Women Get New Sports Classes

Once again the fall season of sports gain momentum and in the women's sports department approximately 132 freshman and sophomore girls are signed up for the various activities.

Field hockey is being reinstated as a major fall sport. So far four girls enrolled in the class that met twice a week. Miss Schmittlin, our energetic instructor from Wisconsin, is planning to get up a hockey team which will practice from 4:15 to 5:15 Monday and Wednesday. The future will tell whether these games with the Idaho State and a possible game with the East State will come to fruition.

Some of the girls have played field hockey before, interest is high and Coach Schmidt expects to have a good team on the field.

Valkyries Dine

Due to the vacation created by Bethel Reynolds, Claireline Carlson, Shirla Gimp, and Barbara Broken, three new sophomore members were elected to replace them at the Valkyrie meeting last Thursday. The new members, Jean Carlson, Shirley Gimp, and Beth Holman were traditionally introduced at the meeting.

The Valkyries have been a fixture on the Boise Junior College campus for many years, and are now beginning to get their foothold in the college community.

Grid Games

The School's athletic programs are now in full swing with the return of grid games.

The Backfield

B. J. C.'s first grid game was held Saturday, September 20, in the auditorium. Dean Conen Mathews announced that the game would be played against the Idaho College of Idaho on school day, and there is a possibility of playing the West State for other competitive games, she added.

Although some of the girls have played football before, interest is high and Coach Schmidt expects to have a good team on the field.

The women's sports department is planning to add more sports to the already extensive list of activities. Women's basketball, volleyball, and archery are some of the new sports that are being considered.

For the girls who are aspiring to be marketed, the women's sports department is offering archery lessons. The new members, Jean Carlson, Shirley Gimp, and Beth Holman, were traditionally introduced at the meeting.

A tennis class is held each Tuesday and Thursday at 11 in the gym. Fundamentals of tennis are being taught and later will be put into practice at the Julie Davis tennis courts. Swimming meets each Monday and Wednesday from 2 to 4 o'clock at the T. & W. A. swimming pool. The boys have signed up for the class, either as advanced or novice swimmers. Bowling for the first time is being offered as an instructed activity. Twenty girls will begin the new activity.

A dinner on Sunday at the Bamboo Gardens, the new pledges of the W. A. A. were traditionally introduced at the meeting.

The W. A. A. hopes to have a good team for the upcoming season. The council stated their business from the president to the chairman.
