VETS' MAIL BAG

The Veterans administration has started an intensive reinstatement campaign directed toward the 260,000 veterans in the Pacific Northwest who have allowed their GI insurance to lapse. D. M. Shute, VA deputy administrator for the Northwest branch area, stated that lapsed policies represent $2,340,000,000 of potential economic security to these veterans and their dependents, and he urged veterans to reinstate as soon as possible.

"We are the ones to admit that many veterans have had legitimate gripes regarding the service they have been receiving on their insurance," Shute said, "but we promise that during this campaign new reinstatements will be given special handling and priority treatment."

The insurance drive, which will continue until May 1 on a national scale, is intended to bring home to every veteran the value of his NSLI policy and to answer any questions he may have about it.

Life insurance underwriters associations, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, AVC Amvets, labor groups, government agencies and civic organizations are cooperating with the VA in the campaign.

James P. Gilligan has taken over the duties of Zoology instructor in the Science Dept. He is a native of Kansas and attended school at Washburn College, Topeka, Kan., then did graduate work at the University of Michigan. During the summer of 1941 he was employed as Ranger-Naturalist in the National Park Service, Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado and became acquainted with our Science Dept head, Dr. Oboe.

Following that summer Gilligan enlisted in the Air Corp doing photographic intelligence work. At the time of discharge he held the rank of Major. Once again a civilian, he was employed by the Fish and Wildlife Service as manager of the Valentine Game refuge in northern Nebraska. Mr. Gilligan's favorite hobby is photography and he spends much of his free time snapping the shutter. B.J.C. is indeed fortunate to have Mr. Gilligan on its faculty staff.

FOCUSING THE NEWS

On the disreputable show to low students at the end of the year, Mr. Weber, who is chair for the closing number.

For a change, on the other hand, who are supposing it off the grass during the crucial part of any young life.

On all the delightful games, and lack of energy at the dance but Friday night, no writer caught cold looking expansion of unexpected excitement that I'll teach him to dance.

In the finals, Albion's team of Lloyd Drury and Gene Hall won first place, with two teams from Weber tying for second honors. Jay Hillman said, commenting on the debates, "I have never seen better sportsmanship in any kind of contest than was displayed by the fellows there." The other members of the teams seconded these sentiments.

BRONCOS SPLIT SERIES WITH RICKS

Broncos started strong Monday night in the first game, 44-30, but came out on the short end of a 43-40 score Tuesday evening to split the game series with the Compton-bound Ricks College.

Ricks took the lead with two points. Bever, of the Broncs, dropped in a free throw to start and can be marked as a man certain to make the scoring for Jr. College and B. J. C. Broncs increased the lead on the job of coaching on the part of Silvers, and hit the basket for B. J. C. Roundup.

The first half ended evenly for both sides, 19-19.

B.J.C. took the lead, scoring on the tip off, B. J. C.'s didn't keep the lead for long, as Ricks had a determined team and came right back to keep in the game.

In the middle of the last period the Broncos started pulling away with the help of Miles, who was never headed, going on to win their sixth straight victory which gave them 21 victories for the season, Pritchett and Owens, making the best record Boise Jr. College has had for several years.

Monday night's game was sparked by individual highlights. Bever turned in one of the best defensive games seen in Boise High School gym this season, while at the same time picking up 6 points for the Boise school. Pritchett likewise set team marks for several baskets with a bit of nice ball handling as he encountered few fouls. Bever took the ball through with his hook shot to count for 3 points, which was his for the evening.

Coach Smith commented that he was pleased with the way the boys handled the ball.

Second Game

Tuesday night was a different story though. It didn't look that way at half time when the game was tied up at 21 all. Just two points higher than the previous nights half-time score.

The score changed hands several times the first half and continued on that way until midway in the second stanza when the home team dropped behind and couldn't take the gap to a few very points several times in the closing minutes of play.

Regardless of every effort the Boise squad made they couldn't regain the lead and the second game ended in a 48-30 Pritchett was high again with 17 points.

JR. BRONCOS DOWN

N.N.C. Jayvees, 40-17

Saturday night in a preliminary game at the Boise High Gym, the Northwest Nazarene Jayvees 40-17 in a game that started slow with Jr. Collective boys trailing 2-0 at the end of the first period that was played with four quarters.

Boise came back to trail only 8-13 at half time. It wasn't until late in the third period that "Jake's" squad took over the lead after tying the score at 17 all. Once they went on to run up the score while at the same time holding the opposition to check so that they didn't sink another bucket.

Tate and Holden worked the backboards at both ends of the floor, scoring with 16 and 8 points respectively for high honors.

Even the home fans joined in the action. Call, Braefield, BCISION, Oaks and Alexander started the noise.
