Celebrate Success!

President's Message

As we begin a new school year, we are excited to welcome everyone back! This year's theme is "Celebrate Success!" We want you to celebrate all your successes; professional, personal, big, and small. Your success could be finishing a big project at work or finally planting your flowers, whatever you do you are now a step ahead of where you were.

I was looking under the "Get Motivated" section of Reddit and found an interesting post. It talked about how "anything worth doing is worth doing poorly," a quote by G.K. Chesterton. The person who posted this went on to explain how they took this quote. Some examples they used were brushing your teeth for 30 seconds is better than not brushing them at all when two minutes seems impossible, how standing on your porch for a few minutes outside is worth it after being inside for several days. Basically, what it comes down to is "how anything worth doing is worth doing poorly because doing it poorly is better than not doing it at all."

No matter how small your success is, make sure to celebrate it!

Meet the New Board for FY 23/24*President—Kenzie Long

I received my AA in Health Science from CWI and am currently working towards my BS in Interdisciplinary Professional Studies with certificates in Conflict Management and Leadership/Human Relations. I have been with Boise State's Department of Public Safety since December 2021. I enjoy spending my time with friends and family as well as my animals.

Co-President Elect—Shelly Doty

Shelly Doty began at Boise State in Albertsons Library in August of 1990, and is currently the head of Access Services in the library. She has been active in AOP since about 2012, from positions of Keynoter editor to president. Prior to her involvement in AOP she was an active board member of the Association of Classified employees for about ten years, from senator to president. During her time at Boise State she has also raised three beautiful daughters, has two absolutely wonderful grandchildren and a great son-in-law (along with numerous grandpets). Ask her anything about the library and it's resources, AOP or working at Boise State!

Co-President Elect—Angela Roberts

I have been at Boise State for almost seven years working as an Administrative Assistant in eCampus, but just switched to the Executive Staff Specialist for Extended Studies. I am excited to be more involved with AOP this year and share great opportunities for professional development, get to know each of you more, and share in your achievements.

Vice President—Brenda Baker

Brenda Baker received her M.A. in Communications from Washington State University in Pullman and has spent more than twenty years serving and supporting students from kindergarten through graduate school. Her professional experience in education encompasses admissions, communication, operations, marketing, budget management, and executive assistant duties. She currently supports 68 doctoral students and has the pleasure of working with numerous faculty--on our main campus and downtown--in Boise State's robust, interdisciplinary Computing PhD program. Last fall, Brenda relocated from Seattle and is delighted to call Boise "home." When she's not working, you'll find her painting, baking or planning her next Disney trip.

Secretary—Demi Hoff

Hello! My name is Demi Hoff and I have been with Boise State's Social Work department for a little over a year now and recently became a Discussion Group leader for UF 100. I graduated from Boise State back in 2017 with a Bachelors in Psychology and Family Studies. I've attended AOP events during my last year with Boise State and I am excited to officially join the team. Outside of work I enjoy spending time with my small family, baking, and traveling.

Treasurer—Crystal Galea'i

Crystal Galea'i was born and raised in Nampa, Idaho and feels blessed to live close to many supportive family members and friends. She has been married for fifteen years and has three amazing sons. Her oldest is thirteen and the twins are almost twelve. They keep her extremely busy as they are all involved in sports and love to be outdoors. Crystal is starting her 2nd year at Boise State and has thoroughly enjoyed building relationships with her coworkers. Some of her passions include: Biblical studies, party planning/decorating, suicide prevention awareness, listening to podcasts/audiobooks, photography, drinking coffee and camping in Idaho's beautiful mountains. She is looking forward to learning more about the financial side of AOP and being involved in the events that take place throughout the year.

Immediate Past President—Kim Wilcox

Kim Wilcox graduated in 2016 from Boise State University with a BA in Theatre Arts, design. Her career background includes office management and supervision, event management, building client relationships, and customer support and service. She is an accomplished vocal musician and studied dance and movement for over a decade. Kim loves to spend her free time with her family and friends.

Member Representatives—Katy Lightfield, Marianne Ledford, Maggie Dart, & Sam Davidson

Katy Lightfield— Katy Lightfield has spent career in the public, non-profit, and private sector. She currently works in OIT Business with Boise State University. She is working on her BA in Interdisciplinary Professional Studies. Katy is a native Idahoan and Priest Lake is her favorite place. She loves spending time with her family, the outdoors, and traveling.

Marianne Ledford - Hi! My name is Marianne Ledford and I have been at Boise State for 5 years in the Office of Continuous Improvement. I've been involved informally with AOP off and on over that time - attending events and helping out where I can. Very excited to officially be a part of AOP this year! When I'm not working, I enjoy gardening, reading, road trips and devoting many long hours striving to keep my dogs in the lifestyle to which they've become accustomed.

Maggie Dart— Hi, I am Maggie Dart. I am a Management Assistant at University Advancement. I will be graduating in the spring with a bachelor's degree in Engineering with a minor in Environmental Studies. In my free time, I like playing disc golf and going on hikes with my husband and daughter.

Sam Davidson - I work in the School of Social Work at Boise State as a management assistant. I graduated from Boise State in 2015 with a BA in communication, and I am currently enrolled in the PMBA graduate program. I enjoyed attending all the AOP events last year, and as a new board member, I am looking forward to working with the rest of the board and AOP members to make our events this year fun and productive.

My Goals - Let the battle begin!

By Angie Roberts

I have been encouraged to make goals since I was young. I recall every few months in my church youth group, lessons to encourage us to set more goals. They were mainly small tasks with dates to finish within a few months with an occasional longer time period. I hated doing them, but liked the idea of getting a reward at the end (this was always some type of nice jewelry or figurine). While I knew they were good for me and helped me start some good habits, I didn't really understand what potential they can have if I truly took the time consider what I want to become and how these goals would get me there.

I still cringe when January rolls around and time for performance evaluations roll around. Hearing the word "SMART" goals really gets my anxiety going. In my mind it wastes a lot of time to try to worry about if my goals are Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, and Time-bound. I just want to list a quick statement and be on my way!

I get it, without proper planning and execution, you don't usually advance very far. I also have to say, as Kenzie pointed out, any step forward is something.

I have found, usually the harder the battle, the sweeter the success. As we are inspired to "Celebrate Success" let's remember "No matter how small your success is, make sure to celebrate it!"

As you set those goals, add a celebration of some type to each of them and let's make it sweet.

NAEOP Conference Highlights

Keynote Speaker

By Angie Roberts

It was a privilege to meet so many great people and presenters at the recent NAEOP conference in Omaha. One of the presenters I would like to focus on is the Keynote speaker, Dean Jacobs.

7 Wonders - 7 Lessons. Dean is a traveler, photographer, author, and speaker who hopes to inspire others to see that “on the other side of the wall of fear, is a whole new world to be explored.” He tied seven great experiences during his travels to questions we can ask ourselves as inspiration to look beyond our fears and feed our dreams. He asked “where does generosity show up in your life?”, “where does gratitude show up in your life?”; then continued on with dignity, curiosity, humility, respect, and kindness. Finishing with asking where family/community show up in our lives. What are each of us doing to make our families and communities be a better place by letting our fears go and turning them into goals of hope for making a better world. If these attributes are not showing up in my life very much, maybe I need to take a deeper look into what fears are holding me back. I probably won’t ever become a world traveler, but I can and should be sharing these attributes in my local community. If you would like to learn more about Dean, his website is www.deanjacobs.org.

A few Breakout sessions

A quick note about some of the breakout sessions I attended:

Sex Trafficking ... It Happens in Nebraska and It Can Happen in Your State - Paul Yates. As this is definitely become an issue around the world, it has me looking at what I can do to help in our state. Here are just a few Idaho resources: <https://apps.itd.idaho.gov/apps/pr/summit/20201008HumanTrafficking.pdf> , <https://www.dhs.gov/blue-campaign/community-leaders>.

Photography using your Mobile Device -John Keller . Soooo much information in so little time. Perhaps I can practice and learn enough to share in our spring PD event. One free app the presenter shared that goes beyond the basics your phone provides - Snapseed.

Lighting the Fire of Communication-Debbie Wade. FIRE—F: First eye contact, Find common ground, Figure out question being asked. I: Ignite a spark - do something, Interest - show some, Ignore distraction. R: Red hot - be the best, Rekindle - if communication dies down, Repeat as necessary. E: Excel in listening, Explain again if needed, Excitement.
