Associated Students of Boise Junior College
Let's All Go Driving

One of the most interesting and beneficial courses available to students of Boise Junior College this year is the course in Driver Training instructed by Mr. Alvin J. Ritter. Furnished with such equipment as training films, Hess record judgmental test and a large number of vision records by the Idaho Division of the American Automobile Association, this course has been a very enthusiastic course in automobile driving and traffic safety. It is easier to realize the real situation of the consequences of the course when faced with the facts of an automobile traveling at the speed of only 15 miles per hour. Editors Have Eyes, Too

It is true that to be an editor of a paper, it helps to have some compensating factors, such as an ear for news and a knack for writing. Some of the luckier ones have eyes also. I just wish enough to place myself in that category.
I was very proud to hear Dean Mathews elaborate on the problem we have on our hands of the artists at school who are too poor to buy paper, and so therefore have to rely on using the desks and buildings in its stead. At this rate the books buildings are being constructed around school haven't a chance of surviving the test, for they are made purely of brick.
We must remember that this is a college to be proud of; one who would strive to preserve, not to destroy. Many of us can recall what the old Junior College building looked like, and how proud we were when this new college was constructed. And we are all just as proud of it at this time, and that is why I am asking you now to think twice before you act.

One more problem has been bothering me this last week which I would like to put before you before I close for the week. As for myself, and I am sure you feel the same way, I am very proud of the beauty of our campus. However, in spite of the fact that thousands of feet of good, solid sidewalks were constructed at the same time this school was built, to be used by the students to get between the various academic buildings, I find that most of this is being done on the sidewalks there and not on any of the other sidewalks.

It’s All Yours

The Roundup is the publication of the student-body of Boise Junior College. These columns are open to all members of that student-body. It is your privilege to be heard on any and all matters concerning to the welfare of the school or any group in the school. However, with the privilege of being heard there is also a need of a duty—to support the publication of your student paper in any manner in which you may be capable.

Contributions are solicited from every possible source; the more contributions that are submitted, the better your paper will be.

You can be sure that any contributions or letters of good taste will be given proper attention.

Advertising Counts

Going over the results of the recent advertising campaign which we launched this week, we were startled to find that most of the advertising space in our paper was purchased with the idea of "charity" in mind. Advertisements pay for a large percentage of the cost of publication of our paper. Therefore, we should get behind the advertisers and show them it can be a paying proposition. Patronage of YOG, the student of BJC, is the only way in which this can be accomplished.

Follow the Leader

"See you tonight at the Union," I heard one fellow exclaim this afternoon. That was well and good, but the fellow he was talking to didn't catch on. I'm afraid. Well, here goes the explanation: Every Friday evening at 7:30, the Student Union and Boise Junior College will have a meeting to see how all fellow fellows and gal's coming on tonight and getting acquainted. "See you tonight at the Union."

Women's Athletics

The W. A. A. has started a sport program with emphasis on field hockey. All girls interested are invited to come out for field hockey. The team practices every Wednesday evening from 4 to 6, following a general W. A. A. meeting.

In December B. J. C. will send the hockey team to Portland, where they will enter the Northwest Hockey Conference. Competitors from the University of Oregon, the University of Washington, and the University of British Columbia will be there.

Officials of the W. A. A. this year are: President, Charlotte Graham; vice-president-treasurer, Jean Max; secretary, Dorothy Williams; sports manager, Dolores Tschider; social chairman, Edna Central and friend, Mrs. Schmitt.

Bronco Ski Club Meets

Tuesday evening at 7:30 John Burley yesterday, where they opened with the largest enrollment of the season. B. J. C. Eleven opened with the largest squad and a greater line-up than ever before. The Aldron eleven, New Mexico and Arizona are teams will be seeing action for the first time on college gridirons.

Many players just out of high school are giving the second year a chance to see what it's all about. Several men from service teams will be seeing action for the first time on college gridirons.

Five states, Idaho, Utah, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona are represented on the Bronco squad as well as 12 Idaho towns and cities.

Fielding a larger than average eleven, although somewhat reduced by injuries, the B. J. C. club traveled to B. J. C. field yesterday, where they held a light workout. Arriving in Rexburg today, the team will be in top condition for their initial pigskin tussle.

from the 50 Yard Line

By keeping a high score everywhere this year, undoubtedly conquered some tough teams in the season. Bicks, Carsons, Albidon, Lewiston and the Idaho from towns present a formidable array for any team, but there is no doubt that B. J. C. will emerge with a team to be proud of.

During the current grid season the Bronco will clash twice with the Albidon eleven. STEC seems to be suffering from the early season aimed of too little practice, dropping a 114-10 contest to the College of Idaho. The noted "four-leaf clover" from Albidon didn't meet too true in their first encounter of the season.

But the time era and probably will make great improvements on the Albidon squad. It will be a vast and efficient and smoother clicking ball side that finds the Bronco home on the home field October 10.

The noted sports forecaster, Paul C. E. Williamson, has lined the B. J. C. Eleven third among the nation's leading junior college teams. But it could be to the surprise of many everything any of the Bronco squad.

Every player out there knows that B. J. C. leads the list.

Game Recalled

by Old Timer

ter about five or six men had been replaced because of injury. It was a rough game... never had it, you know.

The philanthropist red din of military victors faded away, as the crowd roused back into the ruling of the winning rectin of score... and then the door had swung away, Charlie replaced his pipe and smoked a thought in his usual gesture of fins and carefully memsured his next words.

"As I recollected it was tough
but, that was a long time ago, back in 1920 I believe, or maybe it was 92. I sure. I went in as a sub and did most of the pass passing. And we had quite a day of it. Can't remember the score, but it does matter much, the important thing was that it probably the first game ever played in Idaho, at least in this city."

Charlie ambled during your entire life time.
