I. K. Convention

The Intercollegiate Knights Regional Convention was held December 6, in the B. J. C. Student Union.

Drew Walker, chairman of region four and duke of the Golden Plume chapter, presented at the meeting which was scheduled for 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Representations from Idaho State College, the College of Pocatello, Southern Idaho College of Education at Albia, the College of Idaho at Caldwell, and Boise Junior College attended the convention.

Wendell Crouch, National Editor of the "Roundtable," official organ of the I. K. organization, was present at the meeting.

Ideas and problems concerning the various functions of campus organizations were discussed. The report for the coming months. Also, at these meetings are made plans for the national convention.

This regional convention is held every year during the first semester to help plan for the coming months.

The Intercollegiate Knights organization consists of more than twenty-five students, members of two chapters, who are located on the notebooks and in the main hall of the university.

For the first time in the history of the I. K. organization, the convention is being held in Boise.

For the last ten years, the convention has been held in the old city hall until Friday and the play which was presented was not a repeat of any past performance.

An outstanding job all the way. Dan Le- Van and Lowell Russell did very well and so did the rest of the cast.

The spund of "curtain going up" will be presented again by the I. K. chapter.

"Lost Horizon" Plays 2 Nights

The sound of "curtain going up" for the first time in the history of the B. J. C. drama society was heard on Saturday.

The many people who worked on the show, from the production of Friday night and at the end of the show gathered Friday night and it is this friendship from the war this assembly which was broadcast in the show, as an audition followed.

"I'm just the person sitting across the aisle from you and someone you didn't know you enjoyed having someone come up out of the blue and say hello" (continued on page 6)

Quiet - Room Room
In the future, it is planned that the students employed in the Roundup will be moved to the main campus in the Student Union building, and it is expected that the present location of the Roundup will be taken over by the staff of the new paper. The new location will be in the old room where the Roundup is now located.

Veterans to Get Deduction
Veteran students at Boise Junior College were advised this week by the Veterans' Administration that they should expect small deductions in their December and January subsistence checks due to the extended Christmas holidays. The deduction is to be made from the subsistence checks only if the veteran has been on active duty for 90 days or more in the current year.

QUIZ

A. Card Playing Or Studying In Main Lounge From 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.
B. Executive Council

Anyone understanding and obeying these simple rules should see no reason why so many tables are occupied by card-playing and studying, and why so many rules for the period set aside for lunch only. If this group would only lift their eyes above their “no-smoking” signs but hands the students holding their trays of hot hungriness and hungering for a place to sit and eat. There is no excuse for this existing problem. However, the tables are not ready for it, and it is a simple one.

The executive council requests the sincerest effort on the part of the students to stay away from these few convenient stops, such as STOP playing cards and studying at this specific period of time. GIVE up the tables and shall the students to the tables that the students are with standing with trays in their hands.

The manager of the Union is a man with a veritable well of anyone searching for something. In the room about 9x25 feet. This is the last no excuse for this existing problem. However, the tables are not ready for it, and it is a simple one.

Open Your Eyes!
If you haven’t noticed the fences, open your eyes for a change. It is too bad that these eyes seem to be put upon as beautified a campus as B. J. C. People of the college level of attainment should realize that when the grass starts to be worn it is time to change the next and final step will be undertaken by the administration.

Marion Seefield

Miss Marion Seefield, a speaker in a recent music recital, recently had her student contact with the International Club to discuss with them plans for a World Student Service Fund drive. She displayed interest in using the college music department to solicit funds for the union, and with the help of the members set tentative plans for this year. The scheduled drive will take some time after Christmas vacation. Students are requested to contribute during the drive to the thesis fund for the scholarship purposes.

What Shall I Do After College?

"What shall I do after college?" has been the question of many students. There are many possible solutions to this problem. Some students have found ideal jobs in business or industry. Others have begun their own businesses. Still others have chosen to continue their education.

Fashions - By Faye SPELIS

The Christmas holidays are coming with them this year, more interesting fashions. In other words, modern girls will be having plenty of fun with skating and cross-country skiing as well as with regular winter formal.

The L.A. dance brought this only just right to date. Black seemed to be the all-purpose color and it is very trim in evening wear. Actually Ella Gilbert had a black cape dress. The dress had long sleeves and the cape was ground out of the black gold sequin vogue of black and pink.

Nelle Fay has a stunning formal that comes out of the Spanish ballet tradition. Her dress is striking red chiffon and the shoes have that rich tone of Spanishsole.

The very lovely Dianas of the golden pineapple futi, Kay Lawson, saw a beautiful accordion-skirted, flaxen red chiffon dress. Her estimators also had on very formal. Beverly Hays wore black traction-gown and the full skirt so was a complete with complicated on-

An equal amount of ribbons and pearls clung to her front was seen by Anne Gregor. Charlotte Gruian was in white and the skirt was of fine feet. Peary Dr. B. is on an all white formal. Nearly eight panels are alternated in color.

The boudoir length skirt dress does not seem to be formal as formal dresses. Possibly it will be the answer to that one that seemed to be expected to start next year and "Chains" will be to wear it.

There have seemed to have taken most every student's mind into the hop- plnta'ag of Thanksgiving soundings and our wonderful need for Christmas. (Which, incidentally, will need after completing next week's load.)

The past two weeks have made many high-schools and the tell all, and certainly among the most outstanding were the "Last Hurrahs" productions. Congratulations to all and the directing staff. It was a grand job and everyone enjoyed it too.

It's too bad our Roundup didn't get the Little Rose Bowl game, especially when all of our talented teams, including Chaffee Junior College, lost.

Sailing has come the last insinuation again with week-end in the hills, name student light suits and all the rest of the good old scene.

Some of B. J. C.'s more accomplished alumni are: Fred Brown, Tom Burbridge, Noel Boc, Dr. Oake and Dr. de Nevitt. They make thos of those who are just learning to ski just this little bit.
